

Ye Chen 3612

Chapter 3612

“Spring Return Pill?!”

Hearing these three words, Fei Jianzhong’s entire body was stunned for a few seconds and asked tentatively, “What is this? A medicine?”

“Yes!” Lai Qinghua said, “The Spring Return Pill is a medicine, a divine pill immortal pill that incorporates a great divine power.”

Feeling a little absurd, Fei Jianzhong asked him rhetorically, “Then what company is this medicine from? What are the ingredients? What is the principle of the drug? What are the pharmacokinetics and clinical trial reports?”

Lai explained, “There is no company, the ingredients are unknown, and the principle of the drug is not something that someone of my level can understand, and as for the pharmacokinetics and clinical trials, there is even less.”

Speaking of this, Lai Qinghua said, “By the way, for pharmacokinetics, I can tell you through my personal feelings, after this miracle drug enters your body, you will feel like time is turning back in your body, allowing you to find the kind of state your body was in ten years ago, or even twenty years ago.”

“As for clinical trials, I am an example of a clinical trial.”

When Fei Jianzhong heard this, he felt more and more that this matter was too mysterious to be true, and immediately said in exasperation, “Lai Qinghua, Lai Qinghua, you have nothing better to do than to make fun of me. I am over ninety years old! You told me to find the elixir? Do you think I haven’t read the Journey to the West?”

Lai Qinghua said smilingly, “How do you know there are no immortal pills in this world?”

Fei Jianzhong said discontentedly, “Isn’t the so-called immortal elixir just some mythological stories and legends recorded in feudal superstition? Do you think I’m a three-year-old child who believes in these

When I took it, the feeling of being transformed into a new person was engraved in my bones! If you want to be like me and find a chance to prolong your life, the only thing that can help you is the Spring Return Pill. As for the medical research you have invested in, I can tell you clearly that although they are very useful to society, they are no longer useful to you.

When Lai Qinghua said this, Fei Jianzhong was momentarily speechless at the other end of the phone.

How could he not be clear about the latter part of what Lai Qinghua said.

Human brain research was being done by many rich people all over the world, including those young tycoons in the internet industry, who also hoped to achieve immortality of consciousness by interconnecting the human brain with computers, but there had not been any real breakthrough in this field so far.

As for organ transplants, global medicine has developed for so many years, and although the level of organ transplants has been greatly improved, a human being is not like a car or a machine where every part can be replaced, so even if organs can be kept young by constant transplants, the brain, bones, blood vessels, nerves, all of these, cannot be completely replaced.

Therefore, organ transplants can save a patient's life when one or more organs become diseased, but they can hardly prolong the patient's life.

What can a 100 year old body do with a 20 year old heart?

It is likely that the blood vessels throughout the body have long since reached the end of their useful life and have become extremely weak.

It is likely that just one slightly violent beating of the heart will cause a brain haemorrhage and rapid death.

So, this route is also currently not feasible.

As for cryonics, it's even more bullsh*t.

There is simply no certainty that a person can be successfully revived after years of freezing.

This option is tantamount to putting the unknown on hold and leaving it to the future.

If there is a way to resurrect him in the future, he will be awakened from the freeze.

If there is no way to revive him in the future, then he may remain frozen until the end of the world.

It was precisely because of the multiple directions in which he had invested that there had been no substantial breakthroughs, that Fei Jianzhong was even more eager for Lai Qinghua's chance.

Only, how could he have imagined that Lai Qinghua's secret would sound so ridiculous?

However, the tone of Lai Qinghua's voice did not sound like he was joking at all, so he looked at it squarely and asked seriously, "Qinghua, you and I have been close friends for many years, let me just ask you one question, is this really true?"

Chapter 3613

Lai Qinghua said with unshakable certainty, "It is really true!"

Fei Jianzhong fell into deep doubt and muttered, "How is this possible no medicine can achieve this effect"

Lai Qing Hua said, "I think this might be the wisdom left behind by the old ancestors."

Fei Jianzhong said seriously, "Qinghua, I'm not going to lie, I really don't quite believe it"

Said Fei Jianzhong and hurriedly explained, "I have invested in a lot of pharmaceutical industries over the years, and I really do have a deep understanding of this business, and there is one thing that I feel extremely deeply about, and that is that Chinese medicine is way too much behind Western medicine!"

“Other than that, Chinese medicine has developed for so many years, but it is unable to detect and treat tumours in the body, and the diagnosis of cancer all over the world relies on modern medical imaging technology and in vivo testing.

“I have used every means to verify all the Chinese doctors who say they can cure cancer, and they have all proved to be liars.”

“And organ transplants, the whole of Chinese medicine is completely devoid of any system and knowledge related to organ transplants, the only information I can find on ‘organ transplants’ is still the mythical story of Judge Lu giving Zhu Er Dan a new heart and his wife a new head on Liao Zhai Zhiyi

“So now you’re telling me that there’s a miracle drug that can make people twenty years younger when taken, I really just can’t figure it out

Lai Qing Hua listened patiently and then asked him, “Jianzhong, you have always believed in the I Ching and Bagua left behind by the old ancestors, why do you prefer not to believe in the medical arts left behind by the old ancestors?”

Fei Jianzhong said awkwardly, “I believe in the I Ching Ba Gua because I have a master like you by my side, I have benefited a lot from you in my life, as a personal beneficiary, I naturally believe in the I Ching Ba Gua, but the medical arts of the old ancestors I am not going to lie to you, I have not had any personal experience that convinces me

Lai Qing Hua smiled faintly and said, “So, I said this is a heavenly chance, the Spring Return Dan is not a mundane product, not anyone who wants it can get it, whether you believe in the Spring Return Dan or not, it doesn’t really matter, what matters is whether you have a destiny with the Spring Return Dan, otherwise even if you believe in it, but you don’t have a destiny with it, you are still begging for it.”

Fei Jianzhong was busy saying, “It’s just that! Better to kill a mistake than to let it go! Qing Hua, I want to know, how can I get this Spring Return Pill?”

As for where and how to find the Spring Return Pill, I can’t help you at all, it’s all up to you.”

Fei Jianzhong asked, “Qing Hua, can you please divine my fortune again to see if I have a destiny with this Spring Return Pill or not?”

Lai Qing Hua laughed lightly and said, “I can’t tell this.”

Fei Jianzhong was surprised and asked, “Is there anything in heaven and earth that you, Lai Qinghua, cannot calculate?”

Lai Qinghua said seriously, “I can’t calculate anything that is higher than me.”

Fei Jianzhong said, “No, you said before that your destiny is that anaconda and I am that tortoise, we are both Xuanwu, but neither of us is bigger than the other, so my destiny is not higher than yours.”

Lai Qing Hua laughed blandly, “It’s not that you’re taller than me, it’s that Hui Chun Dan is taller than me.”

“Grrrr!” Fei Jianzhong couldn’t help but burst out a foul mouth and gritted his teeth, “Fine! Then I’ll arrange for someone to make a trip back to China to see if I can feel out information about the Spring Returning Dan!”

Chapter 3614

At the same time, the cathedral of the Nordic capital, Ossuary.

Helena, dressed in the robes of a holy white empress, stood before the Archbishop in the presence of the world and began the solemn and sacred coronation ceremony.

The aged Archbishop invited Helena to the throne in the centre of the cathedral dais, where many men and women dressed in courtly garb and carrying sceptres stood in orderly rows.

The important players in the Nordic Kingdom, such as the Chancellor, the President of the Heraldry and the Minister of Ceremonies, also took the stage in grand costume.

These people took to the stage and stood in the four directions of the church, east, west, north and south.

At this point, the Archbishop recited the prayer with the Bible in his hand and then asked them one by one: “Gentlemen, I hereby solemnly present to you Helena Alexander Iliad, our new Queen, to whom you will from this moment on give your allegiance and serve, do you wish to do so?”

Without hesitation, the crowd nodded and replied solemnly, “I do!”

The Archbishop turned to Helena, who was sitting in the centre of the room, and asked her, “Do you solemnly and solemnly promise to take an oath that you will rule over all the kingdoms of Northern Europe and all the people on them?”

With a solemn face Helena said, “I do!”

The Archbishop nodded and asked her again, “Do you then wish to do all that is in your power and ability, that law and justice, in all your judgments, may be mercifully carried out?”

Again Helena said solemnly, “I do!”

The Archbishop asked again, “Are you willing, then, to do all in your power and ability to maintain the law of God and the teaching of the Gospel? Are you willing, to the best of your ability and strength, to uphold the doctrines established by law and the powers conferred by law on bishops and clergy?”

Without hesitation, Helena blurted out, “I am willing to comply with all these demands and to do all that I can to fulfil all my promises, so help me God!”

The Archbishop himself then placed a brilliant crown on her head and handed her a sceptre made from the tusks of a narwhal.

At the same time, four other attendants carefully draped a magnificent golden robe over her shoulders.

Having done so, the Archbishop said respectfully, “Your Majesty, you are now the new Queen of the Nordic Kingdom, may God bless you and may God bless Northern Europe!”

A thunderous applause erupted from the floor.

At this point, Helena's coronation ceremony had officially ended.

From this moment on, she officially became the new Nordic Queen, while the old Queen on the stage, who had just spared no effort to promote the Spring Return Pill, had also officially bid farewell to her position as Queen.

On the stage, Helena, like the stars, was not only radiant, but also beautiful.

With her sceptre in her hand and a smile on her face, she carried herself with a total dignity and dignity that was very much at odds with her age, which was in her twenties.

It was also this breezy and calm performance that won her the goodwill of almost everyone.

At this moment, Ye Chen, sitting in Song Wanting's office, finished watching all the live streams, then he smiled heartily and exited the live streaming software, then sent a message to Helena, the content was simple, only two words: "Congratulations."

At the same time, he also received a message from Lai Qing Hua, in which Lai Qing Hua said that he had already informed some of his old friends, as well as some big clients he had worked with, about the Spring Return Pill, and that the news of the Spring Return Pill had now started to spread within the top circles in the United States, waiting to ferment.

Ye Chen replied with a thank you.

Just after the message was sent, he received another message from Helena replying, asking him, "Mr Ye, did I perform okay just now?"

Ye Chen replied, "The performance was perfect."

Helena asked again, "Then did you see my brooch?"

Ye Chen replied, "Yes, it was beautiful."

Helena replied, "This brooch, which was left by my grandmother, happens to be in the shape of a leaf, which matches your surname, and as for the letters on it, I glued them on by hand myself with broken diamonds."

Ye Chen had to say back, "Thank you, you have a heart."

Then, Ye Chen digressed and asked her, "Is your coronation all done?"

Helena said, "Not yet, there will be a banquet soon, but the banquet is not open to the public, so there will be no live media coverage."

Chapter 3615

Saying that, Helena sent another message, "By the way Mr. Ye, Grandma has already advertised the Spring Return Pill in the guests, they are acting very fanatical, they all seem to be very eager for the Spring Return Pill."

Ye Chen smiled heartily, this was the effect he was looking for.

This time, he wanted to cut an unprecedented amount of leeks, and the top rich people in Europe and America were the best targets.

As long as the publicity for them was in place and they were attracted to China, they would then definitely splash out money for bidding on the Spring Return Pill.

Ye Chen and Helena exchanged a few more pleasantries on WeChat before Helena went to the banquet, while Ye Chen, seeing that it was also 6pm, said to Song Wanting and Chen Zekai: "The overseas promotion of the Spring Return Pill has already begun, and I believe that many people will be frantically searching for news about the Spring Return Pill in the coming period of time. This matter should be kept secret from the public as much as possible, so that they don't get involved prematurely."

Song Wanting and Chen Zekai hastily agreed to do so.

Ye Chen said to the two of them, "I have other things to do these days, so I'll have to ask you two to push the auction forward as soon as possible."

Song Wanting busily said, "Master Ye don't worry, Wanting will do her best!"

Seeing that Ye Chen was leaving, Chen Zekai spoke up and asked, "Where are you going, Young Master? Let me see you off!"

Ye Chen nodded slightly and said, "Good."

After saying that, he said to Song Wanting, "Wanting, we'll leave first, call if there's anything."

"Okay Master Ye, I'll see you off."

Once he got into Richard Chen's car, Ye Chen said to him, "Old Chen, you can take me home."

"Okay Young Master." Chen Zekai drove away from the Song Group.

When Ye Chen remembered the matter of the Ten Thousand Dragon Temple, he said to Chen Zekai, "Old Chen, have the Concorde come over tomorrow night, I plan to go to the Middle East."

Chen Zekai hurriedly asked, "Young Master, is it about those captives from the Ten Thousand Dragon Temple, and the base?"

"Right." Ye Chen nodded and said, "Just asking for the captives and the land, the other party will definitely not agree easily, and many details of this will have to be mediated face to face."

Chen Zekai then said, "Then I will accompany you there when the time comes!"

"No need." Ye Chen instructed, "The negotiation should be very quick, it will take a few hours to fly over, a few more hours to finish the negotiation, and a few hours to return, so you don't need to come with me, just concentrate on the auction during this period, go back today and close all the room reservations for the rest of the month until the end of the month, and double refund the orders already booked Then start preparing the venue, make sure that the security work and the security checks are done properly, on the day of the auction, no one other than the guests can be mixed in, and no one can be allowed to bring any filming equipment into the venue, make sure that the privacy and mystery of this auction is guaranteed.”

For the top wealthy group in this world, apart from some bad brains who bounce around all day, most of them don't like to show their faces too much.

Even when they participate in auctions and auction collections worth hundreds of millions of dollars, they never reveal their identities, and they always participate in auctions by telephone consignment, so that no one else can know who they are except the auction house.

It was because privacy could be extremely well protected that these tycoons were keen to buy their collections at those top auctions.

This time, in order to reinforce the scarcity of the Spring Return Pill, and to eliminate any proxy auction as well as the practice of selling it, Ye Chen required everyone to buy it in person and take it on the spot.

Therefore, he would have to do a good job of keeping this group of rich people private, otherwise, it would definitely give them a very bad buying experience.

Since we are cutting the leeks, of course we have to make them feel at home while cutting them well!

Chapter 3616

This night, the three words Spring Return Pill caused a huge earthquake and sensation in the top wealthy circles in Europe and America.

The next day, Ye Chen received a message from Wan Bajun early in the morning.

He had already taken care of the three forward bases along the northern coast of the Gulf of Aden.

The reason why the efficiency could be so fast had a lot to do with Wan Long Temple's connections in the Middle East over the years as well as their fame.

Although they had just experienced a big defeat some time ago, it was widely rumoured that they had eaten half of the Ye family, so in the eyes of the outside world, not only was their strength still not to be underestimated, but it had even increased from before.

The Middle East is more war-torn, so these countries, too, are willing to have a good relationship with a mercenary organisation like the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, so that not only can they avoid having the Temple stand against them in the future, but they also have the opportunity to have the Temple stand beside them when they are in danger.

Moreover, Wan Bajun also used his connections to purchase a batch of weapons and equipment that had just been retired from active service, including three former Soviet-made helicopters that had had their weapons systems removed, directly from Saudi Arabia at an extremely low cabbage price.

In this way, it became easy to airlift armed escorts directly from the coastal bases to board the ships.

The Wan Breaking Army had stationed 300 soldiers of the Wan Long Temple at these three forward bases and were able to officially start escorting the ships with immediate effect.

When Ye Chen heard this news, he was naturally very happy, and he immediately gave Wan Bajun He Zhiqiu's contact details, telling him to contact He Zhiqiu directly.

From now on, all ships of the Isu Shipping Line pa*sing through the Gulf of Aden will be provided with armed escort work by the Wan Long Temple.

The good news had just come from Wan Bajun's side, and after Ye Chen had just delivered Xiao Churan to the company, Wei Liang also called him.

Once the call came through, Wei Liang said respectfully, "Master Ye, after nearly twenty hours of continuous trial production, our team has successfully produced the Nine Mysterious Liver Protective Tablets, and the Solid Gold Life Renewing Pill, which you want to use as the base medicine for the Nine Mysterious Reconstruction Pills, has also been trial produced."

The location of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical's Jinling factory was in the suburbs, closer to the Champs-Elysees Hot Spring Villa, so Ye Chen immediately said, "Wei Liang, you can drive over there now, I'm heading over there as well, you should wait for me for a while when you arrive."

"Good!" Wei Liang said without hesitation, "Master Ye, then I'll set off right now!"

Ye Chen drove straight outside the city, and an hour later, he finally arrived at the Champs-Elysees Spa Villa.

At this moment, Wei Liang was waiting at the entrance of the spa villa with two very high-end mobile thermal boxes.

When Ye Chen got out of the car, he greeted Wei Liang directly, "Go, go in and talk."

After saying that, he used his fingerprints to open the villa door and took Wei Liang directly into the interior of the villa.

As for Ma Lan, her legs were still weak, so it was impossible for her to run here alone, so it was perfect for Ye Chen to refine medicine here.

When he arrived at the villa, Wei Liang hurriedly opened the two mobile thermal boxes, and then handed Ye Chen two brick-sized, black-coloured medicinal mud with a temperature of around zero degrees, and said respectfully, "Master Ye, these are the medicinal mud we have made, take a look."

The prescriptions Ye Chen provided basically needed to be autoclaved in a reactor and then purified in a centrifuge.

The purified essence of the medicine is this black and richly scented medicinal mud.

For some pills, the puree is basically rolled directly into pills of different sizes, such as Wuji Baifeng Pills and Liu Wei Dihuang Pills.

If the medicine tastes too bitter, the clay is usually dried first, and then the production line is applied and the medicine is wrapped with a sugar coating to make tablets, such as the most common Vitamin C Yin Qiao tablets and Huang Lian Shang Qing tablets.

Ye Chen took some of each of the two medicinal purees, crushed them on his fingertips and smelled them, nodded his head in satisfaction and said, "Both of these medicines are well made, remember to give a red packet to the team working overtime later."

Chapter 3617

Wei Liang breathed a sigh of relief and was busy saying, "Don't worry, I'll give everyone a red packet when I get back"

Saying that, he added: "By the way Master Ye, the cost of this medicine, Solid Gold Life Renewing San, is really too high, it's all precious herbs, just to try out this piece of medicinal clay, nearly 100,000 yuan of herbs were used"

Ye Chen nodded and said seriously, "This kind of great tonic type of medicine, the requirements of the herbs themselves are very high, the cost must be high, in the future if this kind of medicine is brought to the market, I'm afraid that it will be just like the Angong Niu Huang Pill, only those rich people can afford it."

Wei Liang sighed, "This is the law of business and also the reality, just like those luxury cars that can easily cost millions, the cost of materials and brand value is piled up there, itself is for the rich, ordinary people simply do not have the opportunity."

Ye Chen sighed: "It is indeed the law of business, there is not much that can be done about that."

Saying that, Ye Chen also said to Wei Liang: "Wei Liang, this medicine, Solid Gold Life Renewing Pill, you also try to make a batch out first, as a kind of high-end great tonic medicine of our Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical into the market, as for the price, naturally, it should be set higher, the domestic retail price should be more than ten times the estimated total cost, and abroad should be more than twenty times."

"After production, we can first give a trial to some high-end customers to see their reaction, and if they have a very urgent demand for this medicine, then the price can also rise appropriately again."

This point was not because Ye Chen was black-hearted, but the selling price of high-end medicines, itself, had an extremely high premium component, especially high-end tonic medicines, which were even more ridiculously expensive.

Although the popularity of wormwood had dropped a lot over the years, the price had not dropped at all, and a gram of high-end wormwood was more expensive than gold.

As for things like ginseng and deer antler, it was the same.

Wei Liang naturally understood this business logic and said to Ye Chen without hesitation, "Don't worry, Master Ye, I will immediately start making a batch of samples first after I return."

He said, "Right, Master Ye, I suggest that we do not make this kind of tonic medicine into a medicine, but rather into a health product, as the censorship system for health products is much more relaxed in countries around the world. That way there will be a bit more freedom."

Ye Chen nodded, "Let's do as you say."

Wei Liang asked him, “Master Ye, what should we call this health product?”

Ye Chen thought about it and said out of the blue, “Let’s call it Jiu Xuan Solid Gold San! Make capsules after thoroughly drying and powdering the medicinal clay, and market it as a high-end health product.”

Speaking of this, Ye Chen instructed him again, “But let’s not cooperate with any pharmacies as well as supermarket outlets, after all, our product must be the best in its category, plus Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical now has a notable reputation, there is absolutely no need to rely on other people’s sales channels.”

“Letting others sell for us would not only take away our profits, it would also bring us management risks.”

“Just like certain well-known liquors that are called national liquors, it’s not enough for distributors to increase prices in all kinds of ways, the market is also flooded with a large number of counterfeit goods, and many people sell both real and fake, making a mess of the market.”

“1499 a bottle of liquor is already expensive, but as a result, it is still not available at all, and if you want to buy it, you have to pay double the price, this unhealthy model is almost entirely due to dealer speculation, so we are directly cutting out dealers and only doing direct marketing!”

“When the time comes, we will open an online flagship shop, so that all users can order from online, and in the future, when there are more varieties, we can also open our direct shops offline, so that we can ensure stable prices at the end and eliminate counterfeit goods!”

Wei Liang said without a second thought, “Okay Master Ye, I will immediately start working on the official flagship shop online!”

Chapter 3618

The old marketing model is something that Ye Chen has always abhorred. Not only is there a lot of marketing problems with that well-known liquor, but even the model of traditional car 4S shops has been criticized.

As we all know, many 4S shops do not sell cars at all according to the rules, popular models have to add tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands of dollars on top of the guide price, and occasionally there are unscrupulous 4S shops to transport damaged cars, accident cars packaged as new cars for sale to the public, the pit of consumers suffering.

The reason for this is that this dealership model is the result.

In the past, transportation, logistics and sales channels are relatively primitive, so the vast majority of goods are using this dealership model, but now with the continuous development of the Internet, the rise of online shopping, the dealership model has gradually faced elimination.

Nowadays, when people buy clothes, mobile phones and daily necessities online, they basically buy them directly from official flagship shops online.

Some of the more well-known health products have also mostly adopted this model.

This kind of online direct operation is a relatively better guarantee for consumers in terms of quality, after-sales service, price and service.

Therefore, Ye Chen also hoped that Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical could set up its own direct business model, so that in the future, in the face of more and more single products and higher and higher sales, the interests of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical itself, as well as consumers, could be guaranteed.

Afterwards, Ye Chen said to Wei Liang, “You sit in the living room for a while, I’ll go to my room and mix the blood dispersing and heart saving pills into the medicinal clay, after you’re done, you take it back and start encapsulating it immediately, you can bring it directly to the United States once the encapsulation is done.”

“Okay, Master Ye!”

Immediately afterwards, Ye Chen took the Solid Gold Life-Saving Pill Mud and went to the room upstairs.

He estimated the weight of the clay and felt that such a large piece of clay could make at least 5,000 pills, so he directly took out five Blood Dissipating Heart Saving Pills and melted them together with this piece of clay.

Although the Blood Dissipation and Heart Salvation Pill is not as effective as the Revive Pill, which can bring back the dead and even rejuvenate the body by a decade or two, it is still very effective in terms of healing alone.

When his father-in-law, Xiao Changkun, was paraplegic, Ye Chen was cured directly after using only half of the Blood Dispersing and Heart Saving Pill, which showed that its healing effect was not much worse than that of the Spring Return Pill.

However, the efficacy of the Spring Return Pill in prolonging life is much stronger than it.

When Gu Yanzhong was on the verge of death from pancreatic cancer, he could have been cured if he had taken a Blood Dissipation Pill, but if he had only taken the Blood Dissipation Pill, he would have been cured, but his body would still have been in a very weak state and would have needed a long time to recover.

On the other hand, the Spring Return Pill could not only cure his cancer, but also allow his body to recover completely, even returning to the state it was in ten years ago at once, so the effect was naturally much better than the Blood Dissipation and Heart Saving Pill.

However, Ye Chen was not going to melt the Spring Return Pill into the Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pill. Now that this medicine had been fused with the Blood Dissipation and Heart Saving Pill, it could completely sustain the life of cancer patients and gradually control the development of cancer until it was cured.

After Ye Chen had refined the clay, he gave it to Wei Liang and instructed him, “This clay can be made into at least 5,000 Nine-Xuan Reclaiming Pills, so you can divide it into 4,900 pills, and according to the dose of seven pills per box, you can make exactly 700 boxes, and then you can leave 20 boxes for each of the three countries, namely the United States, Germany and Britain.”

“For the rest, you will run a trial drug program in China in the name of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical, and screen 100 cancer patients with the most difficult family situations and the most serious illnesses, and distribute it to them as a trial drug for free.”

Speaking of this, Ye Chen also admonished him, “When the trial drug is done, make sure to gather them together for a comprehensive clinical record, and then use scientific means to record their daily changes, all in accordance with the way of the regular international pharmaceutical companies, and then give each of them 100,000 yuan for their hard work after everyone has completed the trial drug.”

Wei Liang was well aware that the trials of special drugs at this stage were of great concern to patients and their families, and many patients would sign up for trials as soon as new drugs were available, fearing that they would not be able to catch up, while the trials would at most be free of charge, and few would pay, and even if they did, they would only give a token amount of money for their travel expenses.

However, he was also clear that the reason why Ye Chen wanted to choose the patients with the most difficult family situations and the most serious illnesses as trial drugs was not really to use them for clinical experiments, after all, this had long been tested, with excellent efficacy and without any toxic side effects.

In doing so, Ye Chen was just trying to do something good and provide a chance of new life for those seriously ill patients whose families were in difficulty.

So, without thinking, he said, “Master Ye, I will immediately start the production and packaging today, and try to take the earliest flight to the United States tomorrow to meet with the person in charge of importing drugs there.”

Ye Chen nodded and said, “My business plane has just returned, so when you are ready, you can take it directly to the United States.”

Wei Liang immediately said, “Then I will go back and prepare now, and I can leave in the afternoon, so that I can arrive in Washington tomorrow afternoon local time, I will make an appointment with the person in charge there in advance, and meet with him once I arrive in Washington.”

Ye Chen asked him, “Are you sure you can meet the key person in charge?”

Wei Liang was busy saying, “There are a few PR companies over in the US, specialising in helping major companies to PR public officials in the US, mainly responsible for matchmaking, allowing companies to meet with the relevant people themselves, the results of the talks have nothing to do with him, as long as they are paid the appropriate PR fees, they can get the appropriate people out for a meal.”

Ye Chen nodded and said, “OK, let’s do that then, let’s get the medicine to the key people first, the rest is up to them.”

Wei Liang said with some concern, “Master Ye, there is definitely nothing wrong with delivering the medicine to them, but I am afraid that this will not be able to attract their attention, and the American side is already somewhat contemptuous of Eastern medicines, there is even a possibility that just after I have finished eating with him on my side, he will throw the medicine I gave him into the bin when he leaves the restaurant door

Ye Chen seriously said: “But if you let you go through the conventional process will be more trouble, you need to first carry out a lot of clinical testing, and then submit all the information together to them for review, and the review may also need to queue, which may be a year or two of time passed, we do not have time to toss so much, so we can only surprise.”

The first thing you need to do is to give a few boxes to the other side and see how they feel about it. If they choose to ignore our medicine, then you should find a celebrity in the US who has been diagnosed with cancer and find a way to send our medicine to him for trial. ”

“In short you go this time, if you can’t get their official attention, then find a way to get their private attention.”

Chapter 3620

Wei Liang took the clay that Ye Chen had refined the Blood Dispersing and Heart Saving Pill and brought it back to Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals, and that afternoon, he used the clay to produce a full seven hundred boxes of Jiu Xuan Reclamation Pills.

Afterwards, he took out twenty boxes from it and locked the rest into the safe.

Immediately afterwards, he instructed his inner circle to start posting a call for volunteers to test the new anti-cancer drug in China, asking these volunteers to provide a description of their family situation, as well as their real cases, for review.

According to Wei Liang’s plan, he intended to take a week to collect applicants, and then select the most suitable 100 people from these applicants, and invite them all to Jinling at that time to focus on drug trials.

He said it was a drug trial, but in his heart he knew very well that it was actually Ye Chen giving a hundred people, or a hundred families, a chance to be reborn.

After making these arrangements, he rushed to the airport with twenty boxes of Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills and hurriedly left for the United States.

The moment the plane took off, Wei Liang’s heart was still somewhat nervous.

He didn’t know the effects of these Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills yet, so he didn’t know if he could complete the task that Ye Chen had explained to him during his trip to the United States.

But he could never have dreamed that these twenty boxes of Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills would make waves in the United States.

The same night that Wei Liang left for the United States, the Ye family’s Concorde airliner also quietly flew into Jinling, preparing in advance for Ye Chen’s trip to the Middle East.

In order to solve all the problems with the captives and bases of the Wanlong Temple in one step, Ye Chen not only agreed with Wan Breaking Army to meet at the airport in Beirut, the capital of Lebanon, early tomorrow morning, but also made contact with Hamid in advance.

He first told Hamid to be ready to provide a venue for negotiations, and then called the now highly promoted leader of the government army, Saeed.

Said was now a national hero and a decorated man.

The bloodless capture of 15,000 soldiers from the Temple of Ten Thousand Dragons had made him famous.

In addition to this, he has been promoted within the government army and now has a bright future.

However, he was now worried about the 15,000 soldiers of the Ten Thousand Dragons.

The number of prisoners was far beyond the capacity of their prison system, so they had to build a makeshift prison in a mountainous area on the outskirts of the countryside, using marching tents and barbed wire to hold the soldiers of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple there.

However, feeding these 15,000 soldiers was a huge burden for them and it cost a lot of money just to feed them every day.

On top of that, maintaining this makeshift prison also required a huge amount of manpower and resources, adding to the already somewhat stretched government forces.

They had originally wanted to talk to Wan Bajun to see if they could get Wan Long Temple to pay a sum of compensation and then hurry up and take these 15,000 prisoners away, but during this period of time, he, Wan Bajun, was either busy seeking revenge on the Ye family, or kneeling on Ye Ling Mountain to repent, or busy with his parents' funeral and the whitewashing mission arranged by Ye Chen, so they were unable to get in touch with Wan Bajun at all.

Just when he did not know what to do with the 15,000 captives, a phone call came from Ye Chen.

Said only knew Ye Chen's surname as Ye, but did not know that Ye Chen was a member of the Ye family, so he did not think much of it when he received a call from Ye Chen and asked him very politely, "How come Mr Ye has time to call me?"

Ye Chen smiled, "Mr. Said, I'm calling to communicate with you about the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall."

"The Ten Thousand Dragons Hall?" Saiyid instantly became excited and hurriedly asked, "Mr. Ye, do you have any good suggestions regarding the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall? I'm not going to lie, these 15,000 captives have now got me in a tizzy"

Ye Chen smiled, "I just want to communicate with you to settle this matter once and for all, do you see if you have time tomorrow? If your time is OK, we'll meet at Hamid's base and talk about this matter properly."
