

Ye Chen 3651

Chapter 3651

At that moment, the door of the next room pushed open, and a sturdy man with a bare upper body cursed angrily: "Are you f*cking looking for death? Why are you knocking in the early morning? If you don't believe me, I'll smash your brains out!"

Faced with this typical cowboy style bearded man, Smith could only apologise, "Sorry, sorry, I'll keep my voice down, I'll keep my voice down"

The burly man pointed at him and said through clenched teeth, "Keep your voice down? From now on, if you make any more noise, I'll beat the sh*t out of you!"

Smith kept his mouth shut and kept reaching out to salute with a coy expression.

The other man let him go and turned around and went back to his room.

Smith had no choice but to sit cross-legged at Wei Liang's door, muttering in his mind, "I can't knock and call, but I can sit here and wait for Wei Liang, right? I don't believe Wei Liang can avoid me and not come out for breakfast? This is the twenty-second f*cking floor, and he certainly can't climb through the window to escape"

With his mind made up, Smith sat and waited at the door of Wei Liang's room, not daring to let up even though his stomach was rumbling with hunger.

In the meantime, while he sat, he kept calling Wei Liang with his mobile phone, but what a pity, no matter how he called the other party, the phone was always switched off.

During this time he also asked the hotel attendant to call Wei Liang's guest room, but the response he received was still no answer.

Smith waited until noon, when Wei Liang's plane finally landed at Jinling Airport in the night.

There was a 12-hour time difference between the two places, so it was already 12am in Jinling.

After landing, Wei Liang immediately turned on his mobile phone. He wanted to send a message to Ye Chen, but once he thought about the late hour, he didn't bother.

Just before the plane stopped, his mobile phone suddenly rang, and the call, it was from Smith.

At this time, Smith had been sitting at the door of Wei Liang's room for four hours and had made hundreds of phone calls, but was completely unaware that Wei Liang had already returned to China, ten thousand miles away.

Wei Liang picked up the phone and asked in a cold tone, "Mr. Smith, why are you calling me again?"

Smith stood up with a start and said excitedly, "Mr. Wei, Mr. Wei I'm sorry! I apologise for everything I did and said before, I am now at the door of your room, please open the door and let me say sorry to you face to face!"

At this moment, Smith was already prepared, once Wei Liang opened the door to his room, he himself would first kneel down to him without saying a word.

Wei Liang was surprised at this point and asked, "What room door?"

Smith said off the cuff: "It's your room door, Hilton Hotel 2208, I'm at the door, I've been waiting for you at the door all morning, Mr. Wei, please open the door, let me apologize to you face to face!"

Wei Liang smiled and said, "But I'm not at the Hilton Hotel, I've already gone back to China."

"What?!" Smith was dumbfounded and said offhandedly, "Mr. Wei you better not joke with me, didn't you just come to America? Why are you back in China again?"

Wei Liang grinned and said, "I was going to the United States on business, and I mainly wanted to ask Mr. Smith to help me solve the problem of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical's difficulty in listing its drugs in the United States, but as you know, you rejected me. I'll just have to come back to my boss to resume my duties."

"No" Smith thought Wei Liang was playing a trick on him and said quickly, "Mr Wei, I know you must be particularly angry with me in your heart, and I do feel a million apologies! You are right, I am indeed a frog at the bottom of the well, I have now realised my own mistakes, I have no problem with you beating me up or scolding me, I just beg you not to treat me like this kind of person and give me a chance to correct my mistakes"

Chapter 3652

Hearing the sincerity of Smith's apology, Wei Liang put away his smile and said seriously, "Mr. Smith, although I am very dissatisfied with you, there is no need to lie to you, I have indeed returned to China, can't you hear that I still have the sound of a plane engine here? The plane I was on has just landed and hasn't stopped yet."

After saying that, Wei Liang put the phone close to the window, and Smith on the other end of the phone immediately heard the sound of the engine whistling.

When Smith heard the sound of the engine on the other end of the phone, combined with the complete lack of any movement in the room in front of him, Smith immediately realised that Wei Liang had really left.

In this instant, his emotions completely collapsed and he covered his head and lamented, "Mr. Wei you how come you left without saying hello, at least at least give me a chance to confess to you ah"

"Repentance is not necessary." Wei Liang said indifferently, "We have different cultures, different backgrounds, different personalities, different cultivation, and even more different insights, so you have nothing to confess to me, that's all, I'm getting off the plane."

Smith panicked and hurriedly said, "Mr Wei Mr Wei! Don't hang up the phone in a hurry, I have one more thing I want to beg you, please you must help me ah"

Wei Liang asked rhetorically, "What is it?"

Smith was busy saying, "It's that Jiu Xuan Recycle Pill, my son finished using a box yesterday and it worked very well, so I want to beg you to give me some more"

"No way." Wei Liang said seriously, "The Nine Xuan Reclaiming Pills are very precious, I kindly gave you two boxes before and you didn't want them, and I only kept one box for you completely because your son was too pitiful, so it's impossible to have more to give you."

Smith slapped himself so hard that the snap startled Wei Liang on this side of the phone.

Afterwards, Smith hurriedly said, "Mr. Wei, it was me who was insensitive! I beg you to sell me some more, just name a price, no matter how much it is, I will go and think of something."

Wei Liang laughed, "Mr. Smith, what kind of joke are you playing with me? In your eyes, isn't the Jiu Xuan Recycle Pill just a trivial product?"

"It has nothing, no clear ingredients, no clear pharmacokinetics, not to mention a comprehensive clinical trial report, there is no way such a drug can be sold in the US!"

"I gave you a box before and I believe I have already inadvertently broken the relevant regulations of your country, so I have been deeply ashamed all the way back, so how could I possibly sell you such a trivial product again now? Wouldn't I be knowingly breaking the law?"

"And a law-abiding citizen like me, how could I possibly do something that knows the law and breaks it!"

Saying that, Wei Liang asked him again, "Mr. Smith, you wouldn't be fishing for law enforcement, would you?"

When Smith heard this, his heart felt worse than if he had eaten sh*t.

He knew that what Wei Liang had said were all the things he had said to Wei Liang before.

Now, Wei Liang used these to refute him, and every word was like a big mouth slapping his dog face.

The extreme shame and embarrassment made him feel only a burning sensation on his face, and the searing temperature made his eyelids open a little.

What pride he had, it had been f*cking destroyed.

Even the last vestiges of his face were now completely shattered by this tit for tat.

He had never been humiliated like this before in his life, but when he thought about it, he knew: "This is not a f*cking humiliation, this is a complete humiliation of myself"

He was so depressed that for the sake of his son, he could only say, "Mr Wei I was wrong everything was my fault! It's because I'm blind, I'm sitting on the fence, I don't know any better"

Chapter 3653

"In short, I'm a piece of sh*t, you have a lot of grace, don't treat me like such trash, I just ask you to give my son a chance to survive for the sake of his cancer, he's only 12 years old"

Wei Liang said seriously, "Mr. Smith, there are millions of children with cancer in this world, and many of them are younger than your son, and your son, at the moment, is the only one who has received the Jiu

Xuan Zai Zai Pill, so I think you should be grateful and contented! Countless children like your son can only die in pain because they cannot be effectively treated, compared to your son, who is already too lucky.”

Smith also knew very well in his heart that the box of Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills given by Wei Liang had already made his son much better and his life would last at least two to three months or even longer, which was already very lucky.

But for any parent, such times must be insatiable.

He had exhausted all the means of Western technology before, and now that he had finally come across a miracle medicine that had a chance of curing his son completely, how could he possibly give up?

Even if it killed him, he would still have to get this medicine so that his son’s life could be prolonged.

Although there are great differences between Eastern and Western cultures, when it comes to affection, it is largely the same, especially when it comes to parents’ selfless devotion to their children.

Therefore, he hurriedly said, “Mr Wei, don’t you want this medicine to be marketed in the United States? I will help you speed it up! I can issue a special approval order today to allow this drug to come in first for small-scale supply to designated medical institutions! At that time, we will add the actual results of its use to the public, and I believe it will definitely trigger a worldwide shock, and Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical will then definitely become famous worldwide quickly, and then, Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical will definitely leap to become the most famous pharmaceutical company in the world

He originally thought that as long as this point was thrown out, Wei Liang would definitely agree to it immediately.

After all, this was Wei Liang’s biggest demand, and the reason he had travelled all the way to the United States was to solve this problem.

And this was a problem that he himself could completely help him solve.

As the head of the FDA, this right is still available to him.

What’s more, this drug was indeed miraculous, and if he himself made an exception to introduce it into the United States quickly, he would definitely gain the praise and pursuit of people all over the country.

However, Smith did not expect that Wei Liang said in a flat tone, “Sorry Mr. Smith, our boss has changed his mind and will not put this drug on the market in the US for the time being, because the production of this drug is extremely limited and we are still ready to tighten it up, so I appreciate your kindness, but things will not be necessary.”

After saying that, Wei Liang added, “Mr. Smith, I’m a bit tired after flying for more than ten hours, so I’ll stop talking to you for now, goodbye.”

As soon as the words left his mouth, Wei Liang hung up the phone straight away.

At this moment, the resentment squeezed in Wei Liang’s heart was finally swept away.

Previously, in front of Smith, he had been questioned and humiliated by him in a thousand ways, and he had been holding his anger in his heart.

Now, when he thought of Smith's desperation at the other end of the phone, his heart ached.

Thinking of this, he also couldn't help but mutter, "To say that it's Master Ye who should be the one to fix people, to beat me to death, I couldn't think of this set of play think that Smith must be worse than dead!"

Chapter 3654

Smith was indeed having a hard time.

Wei Liang's veiled humiliation just now had trampled his self-esteem to nothing.

But even so, he hadn't been able to get any more of the Jiu Xuan Reclamation Pills.

Face did not matter, but the safety of his son's life was the most important.

So Smith immediately made the decision to leave for China and kowtow before Wei Liang to get the medicine back.

He immediately got up and left the hotel, and at the same time called his wife and said, "Jenny, Wei Liang went back to China last night, take care of Jimmy, I'll go home and get my passport and go to China to see him!"

Jenny said, "Don't worry, the reason he went back last night must be to avoid you, if you go to the door this morning, they won't see you."

"What about" said Smith, blaming himself immensely, "If I don't go and beg him, Jimmy will be even less likely to get the follow-up medicine"

Jenny blurted out, "How could you be so stupid Think about it, what exactly did he come all the way to America to find you for?"

Smith was busy saying, "He wants me to help him speed up the launch of the drug in the US"

Jenny immediately said, "Then you should help him to finish the matter first, and then go to see him, so that you can also be considered somewhat sincere, otherwise, if I were him, I would never see you again after being angered by your so arrogant attitude before!"

Smith then came back to his senses and said off the top of his head, "I see what you mean, I'll go to the FDA and give them a special approval for the Jiu Xuan Stomach San before!"

That was a relief to Jenny.

Smith asked her, "How's Jimmy's condition?"

Jenny spoke up, "Stable, but not getting any better, and the doctors say that if the tumour doesn't continue to work without the special medicine, it's likely to come back."

Smith knew in his heart of hearts that treating cancer was not like building a building, even if work stopped halfway, progress would only stall and not regress.

Rather, treating cancer is like storing water in a pool that is constantly flowing.

Only if the rate of water storage is greater than the rate of water flow can we ensure that people live.

If the accumulation of water suddenly stops, the water in the pool must be getting smaller and smaller.

So, Smith said anxiously, "I'll go to the FDA now and get my business done first, then I'll book the earliest flight to China!"

"Good!" Jenny instructed, "Honey, for Jimmy's sake, you must do everything you can to get that Mr. Wei to promise you and give you some more medicine!"

"I know" Smith responded and said, "Don't worry, I'll do my best to get it."

After hanging up the phone, Smith immediately drove then headed to the FDA headquarters where he worked.

Giving the green light to Jiu Xuan Stomach San was not a difficult task for him.

Although the FDA claimed to be a very neutral and impartial scientific research agency, they actually had a lot of unseemly grey dealings.

Over the years, the FDA has been selectively lax on a number of drugs and medical devices, either by pharmaceutical companies controlled by big money or by companies with inextricable ties to the FDA.

In Smith's capacity, he has no problem letting go of sensitive prescription drugs, let alone over-the-counter drugs like Jiu Xuan Gastric San, which are so common that they can be sold in pharmacies at will.

The only reason he had held off on approving it was because he was resistant to traditional Eastern medicine, and always felt that it was all dross.

But now, he couldn't care less about that.

No matter whether Jiu Xuan Stomach San was good or bad, he had to pass the approval process for Jiu Xuan Stomach San immediately, as a gesture of goodwill to Wei Liang.

Only then would he have a chance to get back on Wei Liang's bandwagon.

At this juncture, the Jiu Xuan Zai Zhan Pills were extremely meaningful to him.

In the smallest sense, it could save his son's life.

On a larger scale, it could become a hero to the American medical system.

After all, whoever introduced this miraculous and potent medicine to the United States would be the object of the people's gratitude.

So, the Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pill, he was determined to win.

Chapter 3655

As he was driving to the FDA, the video of Jimmy taking the Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills last night, as well as the information on Pet-CT, were all submitted to the US Department of Health and Human Services by the Mayo Centre.

In the United States, the FDA, also known as the Food and Drug Administration, is a relatively independent agency that was established under the direct authority of the US Congress and is the highest law enforcement agency in the field of food and drug.

Hospitals in the US, however, are not under the control of the FDA. All hospitals, whether public or private, are under the US Department of Health.

What happened last night was, after all, an unprecedented miracle in the field of cancer treatment, and the Mayo Centre naturally had to report this to their higher authorities in a timely manner.

The head of the hospital system at the Ministry of Health, after reading all the information submitted by the Mayo Centre, spilled coffee all over his keyboard without realising it.

He ran into the Minister's office in a panic and blurted out, "Your Excellency, the Mayo Centre has sent word that a Chinese pharmaceutical company has discovered an effective cure for cancer! The drug has been monitored by them and its effectiveness surpasses all known cancer treatments today!"

"What?" Health and Human Services Minister Roderick said in amazement, "There is such a thing?"

"It's true!" The man in charge said in a hurry, "I've read the information, and if you just looked at the results, you'd even think that Jesus had had an apparition!"

The minister immediately said, "Bring your computer here and report back to me carefully! Also I want to see all the relevant information!"

An hour later.

The Minister of Health placed the call directly to Smith's mobile phone.

Just half an hour ago, Smith had just finished processing the approval documents for Jiu Xuan Stomach San and stamped all the relevant documents with the seal of approval.

After finishing all this, he immediately asked his secretary to book a flight to China for himself.

The nearest flight was due to leave in two and a half hours, so Smith immediately went home to get his passport and hurried to the airport before he could visit his son in hospital.

Just as he was sitting down on the plane, he suddenly received a call from the Minister of Health.

Looking at the message on the caller ID, he couldn't help but be a little surprised.

Although he and the Ministry of Health were both medical-related departments, they only partially overlapped with each other, so they did not communicate much on a regular basis.

When the Minister of Health called at this time, he immediately realised that it must have something to do with the Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills.

So he hurriedly picked up the phone and asked, "Mr Rogers, what do you want to see me about?"

The other party asked in an excited and eager tone, "Smith, I heard that you got the Jiu Xuan Zhen Zhen Pills?"

Smith was not surprised at all and replied directly, "Yes, a Chinese pharmaceutical company brought me a sample, and someone from the Mayo Centre reported the situation to you?"

The Secretary of Health said hurriedly, "The situation has now reached the White House! The White House handlers have instructed that this drug must be introduced to the American market, no matter what, and the sooner the better! Do you have a rough timeframe?"

Smith froze and asked offhandedly, "Mr Rogers, I'm not surprised that this news reached you, how did it get to the White House so quickly?"

The Health Minister said, "The White House opened a special line for us three years ago, and we were asked to report to the White House as soon as there was any breakthrough in several of the major diseases with the highest mortality rates."

Having said that, he then hurriedly asked, "Smith, I have organized experts to look at the records of the Mayo Center, that drug is indeed too amazing, if it is introduced into the U.S., it would mean a great deal to us, when exactly can it come in, how to price it after it comes in, do you have a plan in mind for all this?"

Smith said awkwardly, "It's not up to me now, it's up to Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals, I'm on a plane right now and I'm going to go to China to have a good talk with them."

The Minister of Health said, "Then you must find a way to meet with the head of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals and ask him how much he can pay to transfer the patent of this drug! As long as he is willing to transfer the technology, let him pay whatever price he wants!"

Smith said in amazement, "If this drug can really be mass produced, then I am afraid that its market prospect is at least hundreds of billions of dollars in sales a year, and I am afraid that anyone who has such a patent would not be willing to transfer it"

The Minister of Health said seriously, "Price you let him feel free to open, the White House is not afraid of his price, but afraid that he will not sell!"

Chapter 3656

The fact that the White House wanted a patent for the Jiu Xuan Zhen Zhen Pills was, in Smith's view, both unexpected and logical.

Once the health department had reported such information to the White House, there was no way they would let go of this great opportunity.

However, it was not up to them to decide whether they could get their hands on the patent or not.

This kind of medicine was like a super money printing machine, and anyone with a little foresight would not be able to sell the patent.

But Smith did not throw cold water on the other side either, but agreed readily, saying, "After I meet the person in charge of the other side, I will try to push this matter forward."

Saying that, Smith added, "However, I'm afraid I can't handle such a big matter by myself, should the White House send a few negotiators over?"

The Minister of Health immediately denied, "It's not good for the White House to step in directly on such matters, word will get out that the White House is intent on controlling the medical field, and once all the governments of the world start getting involved, this matter will not be able to move forward."

The other party instructed: "You go over there this time, first probe the other party privately, if the other party is interested in making an offer, only the money is more, I will call the person in charge of Johnson and Johnson, and let them step in to buy the patent."

Smith was secretly staggered, thinking, "The White House is indeed very good at operating this kind of thing, they learned about this first and then tried to pick the fruit off for a top big company like Johnson & Johnson to eat, once Johnson & Johnson got the patent for this top drug, wouldn't that take flight?"

At this time, the other party continued to exhort him, "Smith, must do everything possible to push this matter to the ground, once the patent is successfully spent in the United States, Johnson & Johnson will take out at least a few percentage points of sales a year to punctuate the relationships involved, including you and me, this is a huge cake!"

Smith could not help but feel a shudder in his heart.

Once this drug has a chance to be fully marketed, it will easily generate US$100 billion in sales a year, and if a few percent is given out, it will be at least several billion dollars.

If the billions of dollars were to be used to make connections, I'm afraid that even if I were to take a small cut, it would have to be calculated in billions.

Thinking of this, he was excited and said, "I will do my best to make this happen!"

The other party replied with satisfaction and added, "Smith, the White House has instructions that if the patent for this medicine cannot be returned, the formula must also be deciphered, but the seven pills you got before were all eaten by your son, leaving no samples behind, so you must get some more of the Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills back this time."

Smith asked in surprise, "If we can't get a patent license, we'll just crack the other side's formula, which must be a devastating blow to the credibility of our entire pharmaceutical patent system, isn't it too risky to do so?"

"What are you afraid of." The other party did not care, "We will certainly not do this kind of thing ourselves, when the time comes, after we have cracked the formula, we will give it to the Indian pharmaceutical company we hold to produce it, anyway, India does not recognize pharmaceutical patents."

Smith instantly understood the other party's intention.

If you can't buy it openly, you can steal it secretly.

After stealing it, put it into production in India, so that it could again avoid legal risks.

India's generic drugs had always been globally famous, and the reason why they could blatantly copy all kinds of drugs was because the country's law did not recognise pharmaceutical patents, so this kind of thing was not illegal in India.

Smith was more than a little resistant to this strategy in his mind.

He came from an academic background, after all, and had as much respect for pharmaceutical patents as an author has for copyright.

To involve him in the piracy of pharmaceutical patents would be tantamount to asking an author who has been in the business for many years and who possesses a deep affection for creativity to engage in plagiarism.

He really did not want to get involved in this kind of thing.

So, he could only cope with the situation, "I understand, I will try to find a way to facilitate the patent matter, and I will let you know the first time there is news."

The other party didn't say much and instructed, "Contact me first when you have any news."

"Good."

.....

At noon the following day, Yanjing time, the flight Smith took landed in the largest city in southeast China, Zhonghai.

Chapter 3657

Immediately afterwards, he did not have time to do any resting, so he transferred directly from Zhonghai to the high-speed train and arrived in Jinling.

Once he arrived in Jinling, he immediately took a taxi to Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical's headquarters in Jinling, but he did not contact Wei Liang during this process.

Because he was afraid that Wei Liang would not be willing to meet him, he planned to visit Wei Liang directly when he arrived at Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals.

After nearly twenty hours of travel, Smith finally arrived at Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals at 6pm.

As soon as he arrived at the entrance of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals, he was stopped by the security guard at the gate because he did not have a pa*s card.

So he could only say to the security guard in fluent Chinese, "Hello, my name is James Smith, I have come from the United States to visit your General Manager Wei Liang Wei, please inform me."

The security guard picked up the intercom and reported the situation to the head of security in the office building.

The message was then pa*sed through the layers, and was finally relayed to Wei Liang by his secretary.

Once he heard that Smith had arrived at the factory gate, Wei Liang couldn't help but laugh out loud.

Projecting from this point in time, Smith had chased him all the way over by plane within a few hours after learning that he had returned to China.

Remembering Ye Chen's previous instructions, he smiled and said to his secretary, "You tell the security guard to tell that Smith that my status is rather sensitive now and I can't casually meet anyone with interests related to the pharmaceutical field, so if he really wants to see me, he needs to make an appointment through Master Hong Wu of Tian Xiang House."

The secretary did not hesitate to instruct this matter down.

Soon, Smith got the news from the security guard's mouth.

He had clearly arrived at the door of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical, but it turned out that Wei Liang had to ask him to go through a third party to make an appointment to meet, which made Smith realize at once that Wei Liang was taking revenge on himself.

One was to get back at himself for his previous arrogance, and the other was to get back at himself for also asking him to book a meeting through a PR company before.

He was tempted to ask Wei Liang for a favour and try to meet with him first, so he could only pick up his mobile phone and call Wei Liang again.

But Wei Liang's phone had long since been firewalled, and no calls could be made to anyone other than acquaintances he had added to his whitelist.

At this time, Wei Liang called Hong Wu, and as soon as he came up, he said with a smile, "Master Hong Wu, this is Wei Liang, Master Ye asked me to introduce you to a good deal!"

Hong Wu asked curiously, "Master Ye asked you to introduce a deal to me? What kind of deal?"

Wei Liang smiled, "Someone wants to meet me, but Grandmaster Ye asked me to put up a good fight and ask the person to go to you first to help ask me out for a meal, you will then charge him a broker's fee, and don't worry about the rest."

Hong Wu laughed, "Holy sh*t, there's such a good thing! Then how much is the right amount of brokerage fee for me to charge him?"

Wei Liang said, "Master Ye has said for you to charge him five million."

"What did you say?!" After hearing this, Hong Wu's jaw dropped to the ground in shock and he blurted out, "You want to pay five million for a dinner date?"

Wei Liang laughed, "Yes, five million dollars, and that's in US dollars."

"Five million dollars?!" Hong Wu's jaw dropped as he listened and said offhandedly, "Good man Wei Liang you've made a good living now to have a meal with you this price is more expensive than Warren Buffett!"

Wei Liang said modestly, "Master Wu you don't make fun of me, the reason why I quoted such a high price is entirely because of Master Ye's ability, as you know, I just work for Master Ye, just foxes and tigers"

Hong Wu nodded and busily said, "I understand, wait for me to give Master Ye a call and ask him exactly what he has ordered."

"Good!"

Chapter 3658

After Ye Chen rushed back from the Middle East last night, he didn't leave the house all day today.

As it happened to be Saturday, Xiao Churan did not go to the office, so the couple reorganised the family's small vegetable garden.

His mother-in-law, Ma Lan, was also on crutches, but because her legs were not convenient, she could not help much.

The two of them worked all day until it was dark before they finally got the garden ready.

Xiao Churan picked some fresh bean curd and offered to make Ye Chen a bean curd noodle stew.

She was a southern girl who didn't know how to make this kind of northern noodle dish, but she had only found other people's tutorials on short video platforms, and the beans in her own garden had just ripened, so she thought she would show Ye Chen how to make it.

So, Xiao Churan dragged her mother Ma Lan with her to work in the kitchen, while Ye Chen stayed in the small vegetable garden, putting together the tools for the day.

At this time, Hong Wu's phone call came.

As soon as the call came through, Hong Wu spoke respectfully, "Master Ye, I heard from Wei Liang that you've introduced me to an agency job?"

"Yes." Ye Chen smiled, "Did he tell you?"

"Said" Hong Wu smiled heatedly and said, "He said it was a foreigner who wanted to invite him to dinner, then asked me to be an intermediary and charge that foreigner five million dollars, saying that he was afraid that he remembered it wrongly, so he came to confirm it with you."

Ye Chen casually laughed, "He didn't remember wrong, when that foreigner finds you, you tell him that he wants to ask Wei Liang to dinner, first take five million dollars to you."

Hong Wu was surprised and said, "You really want five million dollars, huh? The other party won't think that I'm here to rip people off, right?"

Ye Chen laughed, "It's fine, just tell him that the offer is five million dollars today, and then it will increase by one million dollars every day that pa*ses, and let him think about it himself."

Hong Wu guessed from Ye Chen's tone of voice that Ye Chen was definitely going to fix someone again, so he hurriedly said, "Okay Master Ye, I remember, I will transfer it to you as soon as the other party pays."

Ye Chen said, "No need, you and Wei Liang can split this money in half each, consider it as pocket money."

Hong Wu hurriedly said, "How can I do that I, Hong Wu, owe my life to you, Master Ye, I can't take anyone's money but yours"

Ye Chen laughed: "You are my subordinate, if you don't take my money, whose money can you take?"

With one sentence, the question caused Hong Wu to be at a loss for how to answer.

Ye Chen said casually at this time, "You two usually worry a lot, so this money is a small token of appreciation for you guys, so there is no need to be polite with me."

Hong Wu hurriedly said gratefully, "I understand, thank you Master Ye!"

Ye Chen gave a hint and instructed him again, "Once the other party has paid, you should arrange his accommodation in the meantime, and put him in the Buckingham Palace Hotel."

Hong Wu asked, "Master Ye, what if he doesn't pay today?"

Ye Chen smiled and said, "No, he will definitely pay today."

Hong Wu then said, "Okay Master Ye, then I will make the arrangements."

.....

On the other hand, Smith spent time at the entrance of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical until it was dark, but he couldn't get Wei Liang's phone number through.

With no choice but to drag his exhausted body, he could only stop a taxi again and ask the other party to take him to that Tian Xiang House that the security guards talked about.

After arriving at the Tian Xiang Mansion, he explained his intention and was invited to the top floor of the Tian Xiang Mansion by the waiter who greeted him at the entrance.

The top floor of the Tian Xiang Mansion was also extremely well-decorated like the private rooms below.

However, the top floor is Hong Wu's personal turf, and his tea room alone, which is mainly for drinking tea, is nearly 100 square metres, with extremely luxurious surroundings and conditions that cannot be compared to a dog farm.

Hong Wu usually treats this place as his own office, and he stays here as long as he is not away on business.

Smith was brought to Hong Wu's tea room and as soon as he saw the jaded Hong Wu, he hurried up to him and said politely, "Hello Mr. Hong! My name is James Smith, from Washington, USA!"

Hong Wu shook his hand and invited him to sit down across the sea of tea, smiling, "Mr. Smith please sit down, try some of our Chinese tea!"

Smith hurriedly sat down and took the tea handed over by Hong Wu, not bothering to taste it, he said impatiently, "Mr. Hong, I would like to ask you to help me make an appointment with Wei Liang, the president of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals, I wonder if it's convenient for you?"

Chapter 3659

Hong Wu said with a smile, "Convenient! Of course it's convenient! As long as the public relations fee is in place, I will make the appointment for you immediately, and when the time comes, it will be in my diamond box at the Tian Xiang House, which is absolutely prestigious!"

Smith was delighted, but when he thought that Hong Wu must charge a fee, he asked tentatively, "Mr. Hong, I wonder what the PR fee is?"

Hong Wu smiled heatedly, looking at Smith like a butcher looking at a lamb to be slaughtered, and said with a smirk, "The PR fee for asking Mr. Wei out for dinner is five million dollars a time!"

"How much?!"

Smith was so scared that he almost didn't sit still.

Five million dollars?! This price is too outrageous, isn't it?!

The PR firm he was working with had previously quoted Wei Liang only US$50,000.

How could Wei Liang raise the price a hundred times when he arrived in China?

He had spent so much of his savings on his child's medical treatment, how could he afford to spend as much as US$5 million?

Thinking of this, he cried and said, "Mr. Hong, I'm not going to lie to you, my financial situation is nowhere near as privileged as you think, let alone five million dollars, even fifty thousand dollars, I might even have some difficulties now"

Hong Wu shrugged his shoulders and said helplessly, "Then there is no way Mr. Smith, five million is a bite price, there is no room for any concessions, and I'm not going to hide from you, from now on, every day that passes, this price will go up one million, that is to say, if you have not paid by 12 o'clock this evening, then after 12 o'clock, it will be six million dollars."

Smith felt a pounding in his head.

He thought to himself, "Wei Liang's vengeance is too strong, isn't it? Even if I did do something wrong, there's no need to just increase the PR fee by a hundred times, right?"

Seeing that he was silent, Hong Wu took out a card of his own and handed it to him, saying indifferently, "Mr Smith can think about it and call me when he's ready."

Smith knew that Hong Wu was giving an expulsion order, so it was no good to stay here any longer, so he could only say helplessly, "Mr. Hong, I will discuss this with my family and contact you first when there are results."

Coming out of Tian Xiang House, Smith had mixed feelings in his heart.

The more he hit a wall in China, the more he felt extreme regret for the way he had treated Wei Liang in the first place.

However, regrets aside, he knew very well that he could never just give up at the moment.

Therefore, the only way was to meet with Wei Liang first through this Hong Wu.

But the cost of this meeting was indeed incredibly high, US$5 million, which was completely out of his reach.

Just when he was at a loss, he suddenly remembered that the Ministry of Health had said hello to him earlier, so he immediately picked up his mobile phone and called the other party back.

As soon as the call came through, the person on the other end couldn't wait to ask, "Smith, have you seen the head of the drug company?"

Smith sighed, "Not yet, their head said that the meeting needed to go through a middleman, and that middleman, asked for a five million dollar brokerage fee"

"Five million?!" The other party, dumbfounded, blurted out, "Are they crazy? Do they really think dollars can fall from the sky?"

Smith said helplessly, "That's their attitude now, there's nothing else I can do, and I can't get this much money out, if you can settle this fee for me, then I'll meet with the person in charge of them again, if you can't, then there's nothing I can do."

There was a moment of silence on the other end of the line, Smith could hear the sound of gritting teeth, and then he heard the other side say angrily, "D*mn it! Five million for five million! It's coming out of our Ministry of Health budget!"

Chapter 3660

The Minister of Health's words brought a complete sigh of relief to Smith.

If he really had to take the five million, he would definitely not be able to do so.

So, he immediately went back to Tian Xiang House, asked Hong Wu for the account number and immediately fed it back to the Minister of Health, and before long, five million dollars was wired to Hong Wu's account.

Looking at the arrival information prompted by the bank, Hong Wu looked dumbfounded.

He really didn't think that it would be so easy to make money these days.

He had only poured a cup of tea for the other party and said a few words, and the other party hadn't even taken a sip of the tea, and the five million dollars had arrived in such a muddled manner.

And it was half of it.

Smith couldn't wait to ask him after he was sure he had received the money, "Mr. Hong, may I ask when I can meet with Mr. Wei?"

Hong Wu looked at the time and spoke, "You see it is not early now, today is definitely not the right day, why don't you go back to the hotel first and wait for the notice, I will call you after I have fixed the time with Mr. Wei."

Smith was busy asking, "Then can we be sure tomorrow?"

Hong Wu smiled and said, "That's not up to me, let's see what time Mr Wei has after I communicate with him."

After saying that, Hong Wu asked him, "Mr. Smith is in such a hurry to get here, I guess he hasn't bothered to book a hotel yet?"

Smith had a bitterness in his heart.

He hadn't even bothered to eat a bite of food since he got off the plane, not to mention booking a hotel.

But he couldn't complain to Hong Wu, so he said with a dry smile, "I've been in a hurry since I got off the plane, so I haven't bothered to book a hotel yet."

Hong Wu nodded and smiled, "In that case, I will arrange for you to stay at the best Buckingham Palace Hotel in Jinling first, and then I will make an appointment with Mr Wei, and I will tell you first when the time is fixed."

Saying that, Hong Wu said very considerately, "You are alone in Jinling, it is more or less inconvenient as you are not familiar with the place, so why not leave it to me to make the arrangements."

There was nothing else Smith could do but nod and agree, saying, "Then I'll be grateful to Mr. Hong."

Hong Wu smiled and said, "Mr. Smith is too polite, you are also my big client, there is no need to be so polite about such a small matter."

After saying that, he hurriedly greeted a junior and arranged, "You drive Mr. Smith to Buckingham Palace, I will make a call to Mr. Chen at Buckingham Palace to make the arrangements."

The junior brother nodded hastily and turned to Smith and said, "Hello Mr Smith, please follow me."

Smith remembered something and hurriedly said to Hong Wu, "Mr. Hong, please help tell Mr. Wei that I have already approved the listing of Jiu Xuan Stomach San in the US, the FDA will soon send a return receipt letter to Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical, when you get the return receipt letter, you can officially list it in the US, I hope this news will make him happy. "

Hong Wu said with a smile, "Don't worry don't worry, I will definitely convey this news to Mr. Wei."

Smith breathed a sigh of relief, before he thanked Hong Wu and followed that junior to leave the Tian Xiang House.

On this side, Hong Wu also hurried to report the situation to Ye Chen.

So, he called Ye Chen, and as soon as he came up, he hurriedly reported, "Master Ye, that Smith has already credited my account with five million dollars!"

Ye Chen said in surprise, "Called so quickly?"

“Right.” Hong Wu laughed, “He said he had to think about it, but it was less than an hour before or after, and the money arrived.”

Hearing that Smith had painfully paid five million dollars into Hong Wu’s account, Ye Chen knew that there must be a powerful external force behind Smith in this matter.
