

Ye Chen 3681

Chapter 3681

After this statement was made, the dust finally settled on the public opinion discussion on why rich people could not participate in the trial of Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills.

In order to ensure that there was as little as possible of a situation where the patient had passed the review and the person was no longer there, Ye Chen asked Wei Liang to have all the reviews done within a week, and at the same time the big list was to be published, and a week later, the selected hundred patients were to be allowed to start taking the Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills.

Immediately afterwards, another big news suddenly came out from the Gulf of Aden, which had been unsettled in recent times.

A number of pirate forces in the Gulf of Aden were mobilised and hijacked six cargo ships at noon that day.

The news spread and shocked the world!

Including Ye Chen, who was in China, received the news from the major news media at the first time.

The way pirates hijack cargo ships in the Gulf of Aden is very simple and brutal, nothing more than using speedboats to intercept slow-moving cargo ships, using a variety of weapons to deter each other to give up resistance, and then board the ship to control all the crew, and then drive the ship to their home base, waiting for the owner to get money to ransom them.

This time, when they hijacked several other ships, they were met with resistance from the international security personnel and there were casualties on both sides.

However, the hijacking of the Xinglong was the only one that went extremely smoothly.

There was little resistance from the Xinglong, except for a few crew members who used high-pressure water jets to spray a token amount of water.

The pirates then boarded the cargo ship and were delighted to find that the owner of the Xinglong was too stingy to even hire security personnel for the ship.

So, gleefully, they took control of the entire ship's crew of several dozen.

Immediately afterwards, the Xinglong began to change course and headed for their home base.

As soon as the ship had turned, the pirates were eager to report the news of the successful hijacking to their leader.

When the leader heard that he had successfully hijacked a cargo ship with nearly 20,000 containers, he was overjoyed and felt that he had caught a big fish.

So he immediately released a message to the public, claiming that he had hijacked the Xinglong and called out to the owner of the Xinglong, demanding that the owner pay them a ransom of US$10 million.

They had no idea who the owner of the Xing Long was.

However, according to their experience, if they announced the ship's information to the public, the owner would come to them immediately.

As in the past, once the owner confirms that the ship has been hijacked, he will immediately communicate with the leader of the pirate group, asking them not to harm the crew on the one hand, and bargaining over the price on the other.

The pirates can afford to delay the hijacking, but the shipowner cannot.

Nowadays, shipping prices are so high that a trip can earn as much as $100 million. If a hijacking causes a delay, not only will the ship's revenue be lost, but the owner will also have to pay for the loss.

Sometimes the losses incurred in a day's delay can exceed several million dollars.

But what the pirate leader did not expect was that the Isu shipping company from China did not contact them first.

On the contrary, Ye Chen was the first to receive a call from He Zhiqiu.

As soon as the call came through, she said somewhat nervously, "Mr. Ye, our ship has been hijacked!"

"Yes." Ye Chen smiled faintly, "I saw the news."

He Zhiqiu said anxiously, "The hijackers have put out a ransom demand of ten million dollars, I haven't given them a reply yet, didn't you just arrange for the Man Long Temple to escort the ship? This ship just fed back eight hours ago that soldiers from the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple had already boarded the ship, how could this still happen"

Ye Chen laughed, "This is the request I set for the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple."

"Ah?" He Zhiqiu froze and asked offhandedly, "Why?"

Ye Chen laughed, "Don't worry for now, the ship will definitely be fine, and as for why, you will soon know."

Chapter 3682

Meanwhile, the pirate leader who had hijacked the Xinglong waited for more than an hour at the base camp, but did not receive any response from the Isu Shipping Line.

This indifferent attitude of the Isu Shipping Line was the first time he had encountered it in his twenty years of piracy.

Moreover, in his twenty years as a pirate, it was the first time he had seized a ship of such a large tonnage and was ignored by the owner, which immediately made him lose patience.

He paced back and forth in his command, cursing under his breath, "Is this Isuzu Shipping scared out of his wits? If not, why isn't he responding to my request even now?"

A soldier with an AK next to him spoke up, "Boss, I guess they want to stall for a while so they can bargain later."

“Bargaining?” The pirate leader sneered disdainfully, “This is a big ship, nearly 20,000 containers full of goodies bound for Europe, there’s no telling how many goodies are in it, they won’t be able to cut the price! If they don’t pay, I’ll open all 20,000 containers!”

The soldier said awkwardly, “Boss, we only have one crane at the dock, it can only lift one container at a time, how can we get all 20,000+ containers down

The pirate leader laughed, “It’s not that simple? When the time comes, we’ll just open the boxes at sea! The valuable things will stay and throw the boxes into the sea, and as for those that are not valuable, just throw them into the sea with the goods!”

The soldier said excitedly, “So many chests, I wonder if we can open any good things!”

The pirate leader sneered, “Don’t worry, there will be plenty of goodies, maybe even a batch of Porsche sports cars!”

Another soldier next to him said hurriedly, “Boss, that ship is going from China to Europe, but Porsches are made in Europe, so there is almost no chance that there are Porsches on that ship.”

The pirate leader slapped him across the face and cursed, “D*mn it, I told you to talk too much! You’re the only one who knows more, aren’t you?”

The soldier who had been slapped immediately took a few steps back and lowered his head with an aggrieved expression.

At this time, the Xing Long, which had been hijacked by his men, suddenly sent a message through the radio.

On the radio, a strange man spoke, “Which one is Badr? Tell him to talk to me.”

The pirate leader was suddenly stunned and frowned, “What man is speaking?!”

One of the communications men guarding the radio shook his head blankly and said, “It seems to be coming from that Chinese freighter that we are kidnapping and it doesn’t sound like one of ours

“Sh*t!” The pirate leader Badr instantly cursed in anger, “Have a few of their brains been eaten by dogs? Why did they reveal my name to the others?”

As he said that, he had already walked to the radio, reached for the intercom, and coldly questioned, “Is this the first time you guys have kidnapped a ship? Why did you let a hostage talk directly to me?!”

A cold laugh came from the other end of the radio, and then the other party said in a tone of complete authority, “I want to inform you that eight of your men have been controlled by the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, and two of them have been killed by us because of their obstinacy, and the remaining six of them, you must ransom them immediately with six million dollars, otherwise, you will be responsible for the consequences!”

“What?!” Badr was dumbfounded and then cursed angrily, “Who the hell are you? How dare you make a move against one of my men, I think you are tired of living, aren’t you?!”

The other party said coldly, "As I said, I am from the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, I know Somalia is very backward, but you haven't even heard of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, have you?"

Only then did Badr come back to his senses, and his heart shook.

He didn't expect that the famous Dragon Palace in the mercenary world would have anything to do with the cargo ship he had hijacked, and he subconsciously asked, "What does it have to do with your Dragon Palace if I'm doing my business?"

The other party said in a cold voice, "The Ten Thousand Dragons Temple has now officially started to conduct armed escorts in the Gulf of Aden, if your people dare to lay hands on the cargo ships escorted by the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, then our Ten Thousand Dragons Temple will never be soft!"

Chapter 3683

"D*mn it!" Badr, who had never been threatened by anyone in his twenty years of service, was furious and cursed through gritted teeth, "I don't care if you are the Dragon Palace or some other mercenary organisation, the Gulf of Aden is my territory, I have been here for twenty years and no one has ever dared to talk to me like that! If you don't release my men from now on, I will kill all the people on board any cargo ship escorted by your Dragon Palace!"

Balder was not afraid of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple.

That was because he was a warlord in the Gulf of Aden, with his own army and his own base.

He had thousands of men, dozens of ships, and every soldier was heavily armed, so he was already a ceiling in the region.

He was not afraid of the North Russian convoy, not to mention the Ten Thousand Dragons. Two years ago, the North Russian convoy sank three of his speedboats, and since then he has taken revenge on the North Russian merchant ships.

Apart from the fear of his men encountering warships at sea, he really had nothing to fear. The North Russian escorts were fighting so fiercely, but they could only wander around in the high seas, not daring to enter territorial waters, so he felt that he had nothing to fear as long as he stayed on the coastline.

At this moment, the soldier of the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons on the other end of the communication system spoke very seriously, "I give you three seconds to retract what you just said and apologise for what you just said, otherwise, the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons will immediately declare war on you!"

"D*mn it!" Balder cursed through gritted teeth, "You think I'm afraid of you? Just you wait! From now on, anyone who dares to hire you to escort them will be asking for death! I'm going to have a f*cking killing spree in the Gulf of Aden, and as long as you dare to show up in the Gulf of Aden, I'll kill all of you!"

"Good!" The Ten Thousand Dragons Hall soldier said indifferently, "You will pay for what you just said."

With that, he simply hung up the phone.

Balder's eyes turned red with anger, clenched his fists and cursed, "D*mn it! How dare a mercenary shout at me! You may still be a player in other places, but in the Gulf of Aden, you don't mean a f*cking thing!"

With that, he immediately said to the soldier beside him, "Send out a warning to all shipping companies around the world that if any ship dares to hire a Dragon Palace escort, I, Balder, will kill them all!"

The soldier said with some concern, "Boss, there are tens of thousands of trained mercenaries in the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons alone, isn't it too impulsive to just declare war on them?"

Balder kicked him to the ground, then stepped forward again and stepped on his face, pulled out his pistol and pointed it at his head, roaring, "What the f*ck are you talking about here? Are you in command here or am I?!"

The soldier turned pale with fear and hastily begged for mercy, "Boss it's my nosiness please don't take it personally with me, I'll go and issue a warning!"

Balder lifted his foot and stomped down hard on his chest, followed immediately by the sound of broken ribs.

The soldier rolled around in pain, while Balder looked at the others around him with a grim look on his face and said, "You all think I'm out of my depth and that's why I've declared war with the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, don't you?"

The crowd instantly lowered their heads, and no one dared to look him in the eye head-on.

Balder snorted coldly at this time and said with a look of contempt, "You bunch of trash, you don't know what strategy means! If I'm afraid of him today, word will get out and the reputation of the Dragon Palace as an armed escort in the Gulf of Aden will be a hit, and then all ship owners will rush to hire them to escort their ships. Do we just go around when we see the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple?"

Seeing that none of them dared to speak, Balder said in a cold voice full of arrogance, "The reason why I officially declared war with the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple and put out the word to kill all ships that hire them is to make all ship owners turn away from the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple! "

"He is very powerful in the mercenary field, but in the Gulf of Aden, there is no place for them to play!"

"Even if they are powerful, they can't sail a warship, so what do I have to fear? As long as I can make the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple unprofitable in the Gulf of Aden, this bunch of profit-oriented mercenaries of theirs will naturally withdraw of their own accord!"

Chapter 3684

Soon the world of shipping received a very shocking message.

The pirate organisation known as the “Black Shark” had publicly warned that it would not allow any shipping company to cooperate with the Dragon Palace in armed escorts, otherwise it would take extreme measures to retaliate.

When this news came out, the first thing that shocked the entire shipping sector was: I never thought that such a powerful and famous mercenary organisation as the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons would start to get involved in armed escorts!

Moreover, from the news released by Black Shark, it seemed that the two sides had already formed a feud.

Ten minutes later, the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple also issued a brief statement, which consisted of eight simple words: “God will kill God, Buddha will kill Buddha!”

The entire shipping sector was shocked.

It was the first time ever that a mercenary organisation had been involved in armed escorts.

Moreover, the reputation of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple was indeed great.

Companies, ship owners and practitioners in the shipping sector could not wait to see who would have the last laugh between these two parties.

Meanwhile, in the waters of the Gulf of Aden, the Xing Long is running at full throttle, heading towards the Red Sea.

A few soldiers from the Dragon Palace on board had already taken the six disarmed pirates onto the deck.

The six pirates did not realise that they were in trouble, but instead they looked defiant, staring at each other as if they were ready to fight the soldiers.

One of them said arrogantly while holding his head in his hands, “If you have any sense, you will let us go immediately, or else we will make you pay a more painful price! It’s not that no convoy has ever captured us before, but none of them have dared to do anything to us either!”

What the pirate said was basically true.

In the Gulf of Aden, pirates were a very difficult problem for those convoys.

The UN has given convoys the right to protect merchant fleets, so they generally just drive them away rather than kill them all.

There is also an awkward reason for this; if they fight too hard, the pirates will retaliate against their own merchant ships, and the convoys are after all too limited in size to protect every merchant ship in time.

Moreover, if they capture the pirates, they face the embarrassing situation of having no law enforcement power and no way to enforce the law. After all, no matter to any of the countries that went to the Gulf of Aden to escort the pirates, they have no law enforcement power against the pirates in the Gulf of Aden because they are far away from their homeland.

So, if they are the ones who capture the pirates, the basic operation is to find a time to dock and release the people.

It was for this reason that these pirates felt emboldened and had no fear that the soldiers of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple would dare to do anything to them.

However, they had underestimated the determination of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple.

When Wan Bu Jun had received orders from Ye Chen to carry out an armed escort, he had already conveyed Ye Chen's request to everyone that since it was an armed escort, it must be fought with fame and style.

Therefore, they had made all the preparations long ago and had also prepared a special gift for these pirates with great care.

After driving these six pirates to the deck, the captain of this escort squad of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, then said to the six, "Given that your bosses are not willing to pay ransom for you, we are releasing you on the spot in a humanitarian spirit, hoping that you will reflect on yourselves and change your ways from this moment on!"

Chapter 3685

The pirate who had previously threatened the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple immediately laughed out loud and said mockingly, "I thought you had some great ability, but you still have to release us honestly!"

The captain of the Dragon Palace smiled slightly and said, "If we don't let you go, should we still keep you on board to eat our food and drink our fresh water? I tell you, our supplies will not be fed to you even if they are fed to dogs."

With that, he greeted one of his men at his side, "Put the lifeboats down and tell them to get lost!"

Several pirates looked at each other, their expressions all a little smug.

As far as they were concerned, they were not only the masters of the Gulf of Aden, but they also carried an aura that no one dared to mess with.

Every time they came out to rob a merchant ship, if they failed, they would go back, if they succeeded, they would exchange it for money, and even if they were caught, the other side would have to let them go honestly.

At this moment, a crane next to the side of the ship immediately placed a dangling lifeboat onto the side of the ship.

The junior captain of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall said to the six men, "Hurry up and get your a*s'es up there!"

The six men bristled and one by one they got on board.

Once the six pirates were on board, they were all completely relieved, and the expressions on their faces when they looked at the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple were all vaguely gloomy and hostile, as if they were still very unconvinced.

Their current thoughts were simple: as soon as they left this place, they would immediately pilot this lifeboat, rush back to their home base, and wait for the next roll-up.

As for being captured, they simply did not care.

Who hadn't been captured before when they were pirates in the Gulf of Aden? It was just that every time they were captured, they were put back intact.

The Wan Long Temple's junior captain looked at them and said indifferently, "I would have been tempted to put you on the spot, but on humanitarian grounds, I'll let you live"

Just as he said this, several pirates pouted their mouths one by one, with a look of disdain and contempt.

Every time they were captured and then released, the other side had to say almost the exact same thing, and they had long since stopped taking it seriously; in their opinion, the reason the gang didn't dare to kill themselves was that they were afraid of reprisals from their own organization.

In other words, it was obvious that they were afraid in their hearts, but they still had to pretend to let them go, which made them despise them greatly in their hearts.

But at this moment, the junior captain of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple smiled oddly and spoke, "To use the old Chinese saying, we are considered to have not fought each other, so before we leave, I will fire my gun to send you off, just as a celebration."

"Firing a gun to celebrate?" Several pirates looked at each other, could not understand what the other party said the firing of a gun to celebrate what it means, the field of pirates, it seems that there is no such rule.

At that moment, the captain of the Dragon Palace raised the assault rifle in his hand and fired more than twenty shots at the lifeboat!

The pirates thought that the other party was deliberately trying to kill them, so they all ran and cried out in fear on the lifeboat.

But when the gunfire stopped, they slowly opened their eyes and realised that no one had been shot!

Just as they were breathing a sigh of relief, they suddenly realised that the bullets from the other side had made dozens of holes in the bottom of the lifeboat, and had completely smashed the engine at the rear of the lifeboat into scrap metal!

The captain of the Dragon Palace, after the bullet had finished, said to the six pirates in a serious voice: "When you go back, you must change your mind and become a new man!"

One of them shouted in a panic, "Damn it! You son of a b*tch! You're not firing a gun to send us off, you're trying to get us killed by deliberately shooting the ship and breaking the engine!"

Chapter 3686

The Wan Long Temple's junior captain said with a serious face, "What kind of words are you talking about? You came here to rob the cargo ship we were escorting, and we didn't kill you, we even gave you a lifeboat, and you're saying that I'm intent on getting you killed? You don't even think about it, even if we sold you six scum, you wouldn't be worth this lifeboat!"

The pirate cried out angrily, "Then be a good man and at least leave an engine so we can drive back to base!"

The young captain laughed and said, "It's okay, I see this your base, it's only a hundred nautical miles, row and row and row, just go back."

"Paddle back" the pirate broke down and cried out in protest, "Even if we do paddle back, it will take at least a few days! We have no food or water, how can we get back alive"

The young captain asked with a surprised look on his face, "Aren't you pirates? The pirates are still afraid of running out of food and water at sea? There are so many merchant ships coming and going in the Gulf of Aden, so if you lack anything, just go ahead and grab it!"

Hearing this, the pirates' faces were full of despair.

Their weapons had all been seized, and they had lost a rope to climb the ship.

At that moment, the captain of the Dragon Palace said, "All right, it's getting late, it's time to get going."

With that, he ordered his subordinates around him, "Release the lifeboats!"

His subordinates immediately activated the lift and the lifeboats began to descend slowly from the side of the ship.

The pirates were no longer as arrogant as they had been, and they were all crying as if they were dying.

The leader of the group saw the lifeboats being lowered continuously and shouted in fear: "Brother, give us some fresh water or we really can't hold on"

The young captain leaned over the boat's side fence and said with a grin, "I think it's more realistic for you to pray to God to give you a rain."

The man looked around at the sky, the entire sky over the Gulf of Aden could be described as clear blue sea and cloudless, at this rate, there might not be rain for a week.

At that moment, the captain pulled out a pistol from his waist and fired several shots with great precision, hitting the rope dangling from the lifeboat.

Immediately afterwards, the rope snapped and the lifeboat plummeted several metres over the side of the ship, crashing to the surface.

The six men screamed like mad as the lifeboat crashed heavily into the sea with a loud bang, and the bullet holes that had been pierced by the gun spewed out a straight column of water due to the pressure.

The six men were also thrown to the ground and some even fell into the sea.

Some of them fell into the sea and never came back up, while the remaining men on board, after desperately trying to steady the ship, began to desperately splash water outwards with their hands, and some even used their hands and feet to try to plug the twenty or so bullet holes in the bottom of the ship.

At this point, the junior captain of the Ten Thousand Dragon Temple remembered something and asked the subordinate beside him, "Oh yes, there are no life jackets in the boat, are there?"

The other party replied, "Don't worry, Captain, there are life jackets, but they are all poked and prodded in advance, and they can't blow up even if they are exhausted."

As for the compressed biscuits, we did leave some for them, but the more they eat, the thirstier they get, so I guess it's better to have them than not."

The captain gave a thumbs up and exclaimed, "Well done!"

As soon as the men in the lifeboat saw that there was no hope of plugging the leak, the leader of the group shouted, "Look for the emergency kit! There must be an emergency box in a lifeboat like this! There might be life jackets, food and water!"

Immediately, the group found the emergency box hidden under the deck from the stern of the lifeboat.

Chapter 3687

They then rummaged around in a frenzy of joy and pulled out a whole dozen bottles of water, as well as a dozen packs of compressed biscuits and a few unblown life jackets.

The men were overjoyed at the sight of these supplies!

They first grabbed a life jacket and immediately put it on their bodies and started blowing through the air vent on their shoulders.

However, no matter how much they blew, the life jackets did not change, it was like a thin layer of plastic vest stuck to their bodies.

Just as everyone was looking at each other, one man cursed in despair, "f*ck, the life jackets are all torn up! They're leaking everywhere!"

The man at the head of the group broke down, "It looks like these bds had planned this!"

With that, he looked at the bottled water and compressed biscuits and lamented, "Count on this gang to have some last conscience and leave us some food and water, save it and maybe we can get back alive"

Saying this, he picked up a bottle of water with the intention of taking a sip, and when he gently twisted it, he found that there was no damping at all, and his heart thumped.

When he carefully took a sip with his mouth, he immediately threw the water into the sea, spitting under his breath while cursing, "Blah, blah, blah, f*ck! I can't believe it's seawater! What kind of devils are these people!"

The others, not believing in evil, hurriedly opened all the remaining water one by one and tasted it.

They were furious and cursed under their breath, but when they looked down they realised that the ship had been filled with seawater and that if they continued like this, the ship would certainly sink.

So they had to fight for their lives, using their hands to throw the water from the cabin outwards.

The pirate at the head of the group, who didn't look like a pirate at this moment, couldn't stop crying as he poured water over the ship, and cursed under his breath: "These D*mned bds from the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple don't have any f*cking humanitarian spirit! Don't they know that pirates are human beings too! Pirates have human rights too!"

A pirate across the street blurted out, "Everyone go faster, or the ship will really sink!"

By now, the Xinglong was getting farther and farther away.

At first everyone could still see the lifeboat, with a few pirates frantically splashing water outwards, but as the distance got further and further away, the lifeboat disappeared into the sea level.

That captain of the Ten Thousand Dragon Temple instructed the subordinate beside him at this time, "Post the video you just took on the internet."

"Yes Captain!"

A video, soon after, exploded on video sites around the world.

The video was released by the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, and it recorded the entire process of how the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall had just disposed of these pirates.

Within an hour of its release, the video had been viewed by more than 100 million netizens, received millions of likes and hundreds of thousands of comments on the internet.

Although the practice of the Dragon Temple was a bit cruel and even mixed with some dark humour, the vast majority of netizens around the world, with the exception of a very few holy mothers who protested against the inhumane practice of the Dragon Temple in the comments section, praised them for what they had done!

These people have done so much evil, hijacking merchant ships from all over the world all year round, and with such an arrogant attitude that they have long since become the public enemy of all people on a global scale.

However, due to some special reasons, no one has been able to liquidate them in any real sense.

Special political reasons account for a large part of this.

However, none of this was a problem for the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple.

Because the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons is a mercenary organisation, international law cannot form a constraint on them, either.

To put it bluntly, mercenary organisations and pirate organisations are, in the international arena, both typical extra-legal fanatics.

The battle between two extra-legal fanatics is a complete and utter hard fight!

Chapter 3688

Soon, as the video became a huge hit, the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple also became an object of passionate pursuit by netizens around the world.

Many people who previously had little or no feeling for the mercenary organisation, or even some antipathy, were at this point also ignited by the actions of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple and praised it.

This instantly allowed the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall to gain a large wave of passerby fans, and also allowed their reputation to rise rapidly.

On the internet, there was even a collective association of many netizens.

They pleaded with the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple to be able to wipe out these rampaging pirates, so that pirates, a group that should have disappeared from civilised society a long time ago, could be completely retired from the stage of history.

In the past decades, pirates have been repeatedly banned in the Gulf of Aden, which is the choke point for sea transport, and there is no other alternative, so the world can do nothing about these pirates.

However, the performance of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple today has given many people hope.

Ye Chen originally thought that it would take at least a year or two to allow the Ten Thousand Dragon Temple to gradually clear its name.

But today's gushing praise for the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall on the internet made him realise that it was actually very simple for the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall to clear its name, all it needed to do was to find a ten evil villains as a stepping stone and step on his corpse to rise to the top.

Now, there was a good opportunity right in front of him.

As long as the initial battle between the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple and the pirates was fought beautifully, it would be enough to send the reputation of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple skyrocketing.

At this moment, Badr, who was in the main camp, did not know that he had already become the first stepping stone for the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons.

When he saw that video released by the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, he was instantly enraged.

He could not wait to send all the speedboats he had to seek revenge on this cargo ship.

However, for pirates like them, trying to find a specific ship in the vast ocean was almost an impossible task.

Furious, he immediately had his men announce to the public that from now on, he would be at odds with the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, and at the same time, he also transferred his anger to the owner of the Xinglong.

He immediately issued a public statement, demanding that the owner of the Xinglong, the Chinese company Isuzu Shipping, pay him US$50 million in cash.

At the same time, he also issued a harsh statement that the Isu Shipping Line must permanently abandon the armed escort service of the Ten Thousand Dragon Temple.

Otherwise, it would ambush all Isu Shipping's ships in the Gulf of Aden and make Isu Shipping pay a terrible price!

He even let it be known that any ship owner or shipping company that dared to cooperate with the Ten Thousand Dragons Palace in the future would be subject to his endless retaliation.

Once this statement was issued, public opinion was in an uproar.

No one thought that a pirate leader could be so arrogant as to not only make an enemy of the Dragon Palace, but even take revenge on a shipping company for doing so.

But to everyone's surprise, Isu Shipping did not take Badr seriously at all.

They even publicly announced that all the armed escort services of Isu Shipping had been entrusted exclusively to Wan Long Temple, and that every cargo ship of Isu Shipping passing through the Gulf of Aden would be provided with armed escort by Wan Long Temple in future.

This announcement also made the world appreciate the tough attitude of the Isu Shipping Line.

Badr was furious and immediately called out that he would make the Isu Shipping Line pay the heaviest price and that it would never be able to set foot in the Gulf of Aden.

Just as Badr's announcement was released, Wan Bajun called Ye Chen and said, "Mr. Ye, I have just seen the announcement made by the pirate group, these people are used to roaming around in the Gulf of Aden and really don't know what they are doing.

Chapter 3690

In order to maintain his image in the minds of his men and his position in the Gulf of Aden, Badr immediately gathered his men together and held a mobilisation meeting.

Originally, the group of shrimps and crab soldiers under him all looked a little apprehensive after hearing that their boss had declared war with the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple.

They also knew their own weight, and if they really had to fight the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, people like them would not have even the slightest chance of winning.

The other side is the top mercenary who has been in the battlefield for a long time, but they are just a hanger-on pirate who hasn't even practiced their marksmanship properly and can only hold an AK47 and blast at the target blindly.

However, Badr was able to sit at the head of the pirate group, he still has two skills, he spoke to these illiterate pirates, from the evening until dark.

In order to stir up their deepest anger, he even took the initiative to use his own movie-watching projection equipment to play the video uploaded by the Ten Thousand Dragon Temple on a loop to all his men, finally succeeding in igniting the anger of all of them.

He then immediately incited, "If we don't drive the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple out of the Gulf of Aden, then in the future our brothers, and even ourselves, may suffer the same fate, and at that time, there will be no room for us to survive in our Gulf of Aden! Are you willing to give up such a good deal as piracy and paddle a canoe to the sea to fish?"

A crowd of men immediately shouted their reluctance.

Because they had long been accustomed to piracy as a quick and risk-free occupation, they were naturally unwilling to find another way to make a living.

After all, in a place like Somalia, it is much more difficult to make money than to go out to sea and rob.

If they were to go back to being farmers or fishermen, they would rather fight each other with their guns.

Seeing that his men were motivated, Badr immediately gave the order and said in a loud voice: "Tonight, we will prepare our boats and weapons, and tomorrow morning, we will attack with all our troops! We will search the Gulf of Aden for the cargo ships of the Isu Navigation! No matter what, we must seize one!"

His second-in-command couldn't help but say, "Boss, the soldiers of the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons are extremely strong in single combat, I'm afraid it will be difficult for us to take down the cargo ship they are escorting!"

Badr said coldly, "I know that the soldiers of the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons are very strong individually, but they certainly don't have too many men to allocate to each freighter, so our men, after spotting the Isuzu Shipping's freighter, don't act rashly, but report the coordinates and address immediately, and after the other speedboats have gone to reinforce them, join forces to hijack this one!"

If we don't bring down the Dragon Palace and the Isu Shipping Line this time, it will only become more and more difficult for us in the future as the reputation of the Dragon Palace continues to grow in the Gulf of Aden. "

The second leader hurriedly asked him, "Boss, what do you plan to do with the Isu Shipping's freighter?"

Badr said with a gloomy look on his face, "After we seize the ship, we'll kill all the crew on board and throw them into the sea, along with the soldiers from the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons! We'll also take a video of the whole thing and post it on the internet, I want the whole world to know what happens when you P*ss us off!"

As for the hijacked ships, we will offer 100 million dollars to the Isuzu Shipping Line to buy them back, and if they don't pay, we will unload the valuable things on board and sink them!"

Then, Badr continued, "If the Isu Shipping Line honestly hands over the $100 million, we'll give each of our brothers $30,000 at that time! If any ship steals the top prize, one hundred thousand each!"

Thirty thousand dollars is an astronomical sum for Somali pirates.

The bulk of the money is taken by the leaders of the pirates and the top bra*s, and what is given to them is only a few times higher than the local average.

It's a few times higher than the local average, but it's only a few thousand dollars a year per person.
