

Ye Chen 3701

Chapter 3701

Four boxes were left for Smith's son, Jimmy, and the rest had to be used for reverse research and development, in addition to being distributed to the four patients the White House had slipped in earlier.

It was already stretched to the limit.

Now, the envoy was taking ten boxes for strategic supplies, leaving him with very little left.

Mr. Rogers couldn't help but complain to the envoy, "Mr. Envoy, Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical's control over this medicine is extremely strict, not only does it not release a single cent to the public, even their 100-person trial in China is completely closed, just like the medicine we give to patients in the base, every pill has to be eaten with our own eyes. Under such circumstances, once these twenty boxes of Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills are used up, I'm afraid it won't be that easy for us to get our hands on them again!"

The ambassador said seriously, "The top brass asked me to set aside ten boxes as a strategic reserve for the same reason, in case our top brass need this medicine one day."

Rogers said helplessly, "But we can't just take away so much at once. At this rate, we'll be out of this medicine in a few days at most"

The special envoy said unquestionably, "Mr. Rogers, your side of the difficulty, you find your own way to overcome, really can not, can first terminate your clinical trials, so that you can save most of the Jiu Xuan rejuvenation pill."

Although there were many great and powerful people in the White House, the special envoy only served the highest level of the White House.

And those few patients who were participating in the trial were not the relatives of the highest level, so the highest level's idea was also very simple, while this medicine was still available, first to save a backhand for themselves as well, as for other people's relatives, it was only logical to give up when they had no choice.

ROGERS' head was as big as a bucket for a moment.

The ambassador did not bother to pay attention to his difficulties and said coldly, "Mr. Rutgers, because this medicine is now a strategic material of the highest level, if you do not give it to me immediately, I can authorise the FBI to arrest you for the crime of threatening homeland security!"

ROGERS knew that the other party was not joking.

Once this was defined as the highest level, it was about homeland security, and if he disobeyed the order, then his career would be considered over.

So, he dared not disobey the order brought by the envoy, and could only take out ten boxes from the remaining Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills and hand them over to the envoy.

After receiving the pills, the ambassador immediately left the base in a helicopter gunship, and Rogers could only call the clinicians and ask them to stop the medication for the other four patients with immediate effect, and to reserve another box of pills for Smith's son, Jimmy, and to stop his medication if he did not receive additional Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills after taking this box.

Word of this soon reached Smith's ears.

When he heard about it, he immediately rushed into Rutgers' office and yelled at him, "Rutgers! Didn't you say you had four boxes of pills reserved for my son? Why did the doctor just say he was going to be ready for his regular chemotherapy drugs when he finished the last box?"

Rogers said helplessly, "Smith, I don't want to break my word, but the special envoy from the White House just took ten boxes of Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills from me, and now those ten boxes of pills have become the highest level of strategic supplies, so I don't need to explain to you what that means, do I?"

When Smith heard these words, he was like a deflated ball.

He understood very well what ROGERS meant, in this situation, neither of them had any right to say anything, they could only obey orders.

Rogers sighed at this time and spoke, "Now we can only hope for Junpei Nakamura, if he can reverse the development of the Jiu Xuan Recycle Pill in Jinling, all the problems will be solved!"

Chapter 3702

Things are not going well for Junpei Nakamura at the moment, who has high hopes.

After settling down temporarily in Jinling, he has spent the last two days collecting environmental specimens of Jinling, the air, soil, floating dust and water sources have all been the subject of his research.

He even got some of the river water, lake water, tap water and even mountain spring water in Jinling and took turns to conduct various studies in the villa.

But as he studied and studied, he became increasingly convinced that not only was there nothing outstanding about the environment in Jinling, but that it was worse than Washington.

The rest of his team felt the same way.

Although Jinling is the ancient capital of the Six Dynasties, it is not a very good environment.

The air is not as polluted, but it's not much better, and it's a typical river valley, surrounded by mountains on three sides and a river on the other, so the air is not too good.

In addition, the rapid pace of urbanisation and the large population will inevitably reduce the vegetation and greenery, and the pressure on the environment is also very high.

On the contrary, the United States has a population of more than 300 million, but the land area is not bad compared to China, and compared to China, it is also a typical wide area with a small population density, so the pressure on the environment is naturally less.

The United States, an old imperialist country, started to move heavy polluters to foreign countries decades ago, leaving other people's homes in a pandemonium while their own are still green.

It was because the environment in Jinling was not as good as Washington's in every respect that Nakamura could not understand how Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical could produce such an epoch-making medicine as the Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pill here.

Just as he was caught up in the confusion, he received a phone call from Rutgers.

As soon as the call came through, Rogers asked him, "Nakamura, have you made any progress with your research in Jinling?"

Nakamura Junpei was busy saying, "Mr Rogers, we have nothing definite for the moment, please give us a little more time!"

Rutgers blurted out, "Time is short now, you have to find a way to speed up the progress a little!"

Nakamura Junpei said somewhat feebly, "Mr. Rogers, we have analysed the environmental situation of Jinling in the past two days and found nothing special, we have ordered a batch of raw materials from a local herbal supplier and will proceed to try out the product in the next two days to see if there will be any breakthrough."

Saying that, Nakamura Junpei added, "I'm planning to visit the vicinity of Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical tomorrow and try to extract some environmental samples to analyse back."

"Good." Rutgers instructed, "Make sure to speed things up, I'll enlist an official plane for you in advance, and once you have the samples out there, have someone bring them back to Washington immediately!"

Meanwhile.

After Ye Chen fixed the details of the Spring Return Pill auction with Richard Chen and Song Wanting, he asked Richard Chen to drive himself back to Townsend One.

On the way back, Wei Liang called Ye Chen and respectfully reported, "Master Ye, to report to you, in the last two days, there have been many expatriates wanting to meet with me."

Ye Chen smiled and asked him, "What kind of people are they?"

Wei Liang explained, "Some of them are representatives from various countries and major pharmaceutical companies, they want to talk to us about the introduction of drugs, or cooperation with drug agents. "

Saying that, Wei Liang added: "At present, there are nearly a hundred countries that want to introduce the Jiu Xuan Recycle Pill, and there are more than thirty that have sent their representatives to Jinling."

Ye Chen smiled faintly and spoke, "All those who approached you about introducing or acting as agents, all of them should be rejected directly. As for those rich people who want to buy the medicine privately, you tell us that we will not open this mouth for the time being."

Wei Liang added: "Right, Master Ye, Smith from the United States also called, saying that the FDA wants to purchase another batch of Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills at the previous price, or the price can go up a bit, do you think we can give them back?"

Ye Chen sneered, "The FDA wants to purchase the Jiu Xuan Recycle Pills, I'm afraid that their reverse R&D has hit a bottleneck."

Saying that, Ye Chen instructed, "Wei Liang, from now on, except for the batch of Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pills given to domestic patients for free, the rest are all sealed up, no matter how much money you give, you will not sell them, not even one."

Wei Liang immediately said, "Okay Master Ye, then I will reply to them one by one."

Chapter 3703

Ye Chen gave a hmp and asked him again, "Right Wei Liang, have the people from the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall found anything unusual near the Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical?"

"Yes!" Wei Liang busily said, "In the past two days, they have already locked in a few suspicious subjects one after another, they have secretly kept an eye on each other, they said, according to the observation those few suspicious subjects should be well-trained agents, they are waiting for the time to be ripe, when the time comes, they will directly catch and secretly send the people to Hong Wu."

"Good." Ye Chen instructed, "You should be more careful lately, it's best to stay at Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals and don't go anywhere for the time being."

Wei Liang hurriedly said, "Okay Master Ye!"

.....

The next day early in the morning.

Nakamura Junpei dressed himself as a morning jogger and ran all the way from his residence to Jiu Xuan Pharmaceutical.

And just as he was on his way to Jiu Xuan Pharmaceuticals, Song Wanting released the news to the public that Ji Qing Tang would be holding an auction in Jin Ling in twenty days' time, and at the same time, she also announced the information of the collections that would be put up for auction at the auction.

In addition to some celebrity paintings and antique porcelain, there was also an item called the "Spring Return Pill".

Ji Qing Tang did not explain much about the "Spring Return Pill", only that it was an ancient Chinese miracle medicine with excellent medicinal effects.

When the news broke, it did not cause much of a ripple in Jinling or at home.

The public in China has long been accustomed to all kinds of pills and pills.

For example, the An Gong Niu Huang Pill, which had been the subject of much speculation before, was sold for hundreds of thousands of dollars a piece.

Then there was the recent global explosion of the Jiu Xuan Zai Zai Pill, which was even more priceless.

The public thought that the Spring Return Pill was probably just some kind of pill left over from many years ago, and that it might be more of a collector's item than its medicinal value.

However, the very few who knew about the Spring Return Pill were not very shocked by the news.

For example, Qin Gang, Wang Zhenggang and even Li Tailai, who had auctioned a Spring Return Pill, all knew that the pill was made by Grandmaster Ye Chen Ye, and also knew that even Hong Wu had taken a Spring Return Pill, so now that Grandmaster Ye had taken out one or two Spring Return Pills to hold an auction, it was not really big news to them.

However, the news was like a thunderstorm in the upper class society of Europe and America, ten thousand miles away, making everyone ecstatic!

Over the past few days, they had been hearing about the miraculous effects of the Spring Return Pill, and many of them had been asking around for news of it.

Among them was Fei Jianzhong, a wealthy Chinese man from the United States.

Fei Jianzhong had sent a team around Yanjing many days ago to inquire about the Spring Return Pill, but had come up empty-handed.

Now that the news of the Spring Return Pill going up for auction suddenly came out from Jinling, Fei Jianzhong did not hesitate and immediately had his private jet prepared and planned to fly to Jinling at the first opportunity.

And at this time, Jiqing Hall made another announcement that shocked the world.

Jiqing Hall required that all those who wanted to participate in this auction must cooperate with the capital verification, and only buyers with assets confirmed to be over RMB10 billion were eligible to register.

And, just because you sign up doesn't mean you'll be cleared!

This is because Jiqingtang has said that the top two hundred people with the most capital will eventually be selected from the qualified applicants.

Only these two hundred people will be qualified to come to this auction in Jinling!

Auctions of this kind have existed for hundreds and thousands of years around the world, and everyone has long been used to them, but this is the first time everyone has heard of an auction with such high requirements for participants!

Apart from the few who knew the value of the Spring Return Pill, everyone else felt that Jiqing Hall must be crazy, thinking that it must have deliberately staged such an outrageous stunt to maliciously hype the event.

Seeing that the internet was full of curses against Ji Qing Tang, Ye Chen was relieved.

What he wanted was this kind of perception difference.

Let ordinary people treat Ji Qing Tang as a joke, and let the really rich people treat Ji Qing Tang as their father.

It was also this difference in perception that made the netizens spew Ji Qing Tang furiously when the registration platform for Ji Qing Tang went online for just two hours and the number of registrations exceeded 500!

Chapter 3704

The entry threshold for Jiqing Hall is ten billion RMB, which translates to roughly US$1.6 billion.

This may sound like a lot, but in reality, just from the explicit figures that can be counted, there are nearly three thousand wealthy people around the world who have assets in excess of this amount.

On top of that, there is no telling how many invisible tycoons who never announce their assets to the public.

Therefore, Ye Chen was not surprised at all that five hundred people had signed up in two hours.

However, Ma Lan and Xiao Changkun at home, because of the news of this auction, began to use a rare nose eye out of anger.

When Ma Lan saw the news feed on her mobile phone, she cursed almost without thinking, "This Ji Qing Tang must have been kicked in the head by a donkey! It's a bullshit auction that requires a $10 billion asset threshold for registration. Who would dare to be so arrogant?"

In his heart, Xiao Changkun had actually always had some shadow over Jiqing Hall.

When he first missed breaking that vase at Jiqing Hall, it almost didn't scare him out of his heart.

It was so hard to dump the pot on Ye Chen and try to run away, but he was even caught and slapped several times, so he was in as much of a mess as he wanted to be.

So, immediately after he found out about the news, he said with an annoyed look on his face, "What the f*ck Jiqing Hall, I think they are just here to speculate! I've been in the antique industry in Jinling for so many years, do I not know the standard of Ji Qing Tang? Even Poly in China is hundreds of times better than Christie's and Sotheby's, not to mention the top auction houses."

Xiao Changkun continued with disdain, "People at Sotheby's and Christie's never dare to make a big fuss about their auctions, they only have to pay a deposit of one million to participate, but a mere Jiqing Hall dares to set a threshold of ten billion."

Ma Lan nodded and asked with narrowed eyes, "Eh, do you think it could be because there is something special about this Spring Return Pill?"

Xiao Changkun brushed aside his mouth, "What could be so special about it? Can it be that eating it will make you immortal? I think it's more like ascending to heaven! Even if it's the An Gong Niu Huang Pill, isn't it only a few hundred thousand dollars a pill? I think they're just trying to hype it up! This Jiqing Hall has been fiddling around for so many years without making any noise, so they probably want to use some dirty tricks to get some attention this time."

Ma Lan agreed and said, "You're right, I guess it's just like that former netizen called Sister What's-her-name, who shamelessly said her IQ was unmatched in the first 300 years and the next 300 years, but now she's still gone abroad to do nail art for others?"

Xiao Changkun said with a smile, "I thought that Song Wanting was really capable, but I didn't expect that she would come up with such a cheap trick, it's really a shocker."

As he said that, he asked Ye Chen, "Right Ye Chen, don't you know Song Wanting quite well? Previously, she and Bao Fu Gui partnered up for an auction and sent you an invitation, so she didn't consult you about this?"

Ye Chen said smilingly, "I don't have any business dealings with Miss Song, so there's no need for her to consult me."

Xiao Changkun said with a serious face, "Aren't you the Master Ye that these rich people in Jinling are talking about? Before they make any decisions, don't they ask you to tell their fortunes and check their feng shui? I remember that before anyone bought a house, didn't they have to ask you to look at it?"

Speaking of this, Xiao Changkun exclaimed and said offhandedly, "Crap Ye Chen you're not going to be a lightning storm, are you?"

When Ma Lan heard this, she also asked nervously and hurriedly, "Good son-in-law, are you really thunderstruck?! Then will there be people who will pay millions to hire you to look at feng shui in the future?"

When Ye Chen saw their nervousness, he shook his head helplessly and laughed, saying, "My main business now is feng shui reading, and as you know, feng shui reading is basically looking at physical objects, ancestral graves, houses and office sites.

Xiao Changkun smacked his lips, nodded and said, "That's true"

Saying that, he was too busy to ask again, "Right Ye Chen, go back and ask Song Wanting if this auction is a hype gimmick or if it's really going to be done, if it's really going to be done, see if you can ask her for an invitation or something, I'm going to go and see which fools will actually come to it then."

Ye Chen said casually, "I guess it's just a hype gimmick, dad, so don't pay attention to it, instead, how is your calligraphy and painting a*sociation side lately?"

"Very good!" Xiao Changkun said with great enthusiasm, "Our calligraphy and painting a*sociation has become more and more influential in the city, and we will soon join hands with the city to organize a series of cultural promotion activities."

When Ma Lan heard this, she was immediately overjoyed and said, "Xiao Changkun, you are going to Korea for an exchange?"

Xiao Changkun thought that Ma Lan was trying to mock his lack of qualifications, so he subconsciously asked her in return, "What? Can't you do it? I am at least the Vice President of the a*sociation, the second in command!"

Chapter 3705

“Yes, yes, yes.” Ma Lan smiled and said, “Now that you’ve really made your mark, if you go to Korea, can you take me with you? I’ve never been abroad before in my life!”

Xiao Changkun said, “Don’t you dare! I’m going to represent the Calligraphy and Painting a*sociation to have a cultural exchange with the Koreans. It’s a cultural exchange between people of culture, what’s the point of following you? If you don’t know, you’ll think I’m deliberately taking my family on a publicly funded trip!”

When Ma Lan heard this, she said with discontent, “Aren’t you the vice president? You’re already the second in command, and you can’t bring your daughter-in-law with you when you go out on an exchange?”

Xiao Changkun said to himself, “I wouldn’t take you with me if I could! I’m not f*cking crazy

But on his lips, he said in a serious manner, “This exchange is not organized by our calligraphy and painting a*sociation, it is organized by the city, when each cultural field will send two or three representatives, we will form an exchange group to charter a plane together, no one can bring their family members.”

As soon as Ye Chen heard this, he couldn’t help but ask him, “Right dad, is that senior citizen university going?”

Xiao Changkun said casually, “Yes, this time it’s mainly a cultural exchange at the middle-aged and elderly level.”

Ye Chen immediately understood, if the senior citizen university also went, then with Han Meiqing’s education, temperament and appearance, she must also be a representative of the senior citizen university.

Under such circumstances, beating his old husband to death, there was no way he would take his mother-in-law there.

Ma Lan did not hear the hidden message in their conversation, and hearing Xiao Changkun say so, although he was a bit resentful, he did not insist much.

Xiao Changkun stood up at this time and spoke, “It’s getting late, I have to go to the a*sociation.”

After saying that, he hurriedly left the villa and drove away.

Ma Lan felt uncomfortable in her heart, she always felt that she had disliked Xiao Changkun for half of her life, but she did not expect that Xiao Changkun was getting better and better now, the difference was like a big mountain pressing down.

She cautiously asked Ye Chen: “Good son-in-law, do you think mum can also start some kind of elderly business?”

Ye Chen was slightly stunned and then asked her, “Mom, what do you want to do?”

Ma Lan sighed: “Hey, I can’t say, but I think your father is flourishing in the Calligraphy and Painting a*sociation, and it’s not a good thing for me to stay idle at home

Ye Chen laughed: "Your leg hasn't been healing well."

Ma Lan said: "It's almost ready I've been bored at home for too long and I want to find something to do"

Ye Chen thought about it and said casually, "Why don't you go dancing in the square when you have nothing to do? I see a lot of old men and women dancing all day long, some teams have uniform costumes, the old men and women in there look particularly spirited."

Ma Lan waved her hand, "Dancing is a pastime, but it can't be a career! Unless there is a square dance association in the city, let me be a vice president or something"

Ye Chen smiled twice and said, "I can't really say about that, but don't be in too much of a hurry, it's not too late to study it after your legs and feet are completely healed."

As he said that, Ye Chen suddenly received a document from Song Wanting on his mobile phone, along with a message from her, the message read: Master Ye, in this document is all the registration information so far, a total of seven hundred and forty people.

Ye Chen wanted to see who were the most famous people among the applicants so far, especially if there were any Rothschilds or his mother's family among them.

So he immediately said to Ma Lan, "Mum, I have some business to attend to, so I'll go to my room."

Ma Lan said, "Good son-in-law, don't go yet, think about it for mum, what can mum do? I can't let Xiao Changkun get ahead of me!"

As Ye Chen walked towards the stairs, he said, "Mom, don't rush, I'll think about it later."

Ma Lan asked anxiously behind him, "Good girl, when are you going to turn back?"

Ye Chen said casually without looking back, "I'll definitely think of something for you when your legs are better!"

After saying that, he went upstairs with big strides

Chapter 3706

When Ye Chen returned to his room, he immediately went through the list sent by Song Wanting and carefully went through it.

He found that of the hundreds of registrants, the vast majority were from the United States and Europe.

Of these, just one country, the United States, had more than three hundred people signed up.

It was clear from the names of the applicants that there were not only Americans, but also many people of Chinese, Japanese and Korean descent.

Interestingly, most of the applicants from the United States were plutocrats and entrepreneurs.

In Europe, more than half of the applicants were royalty and nobility from various countries.

Even the Scandinavian royal family signed up for the auction.

And the person who signed up was none other than the old Queen who had just abdicated from the throne.

Ye Chen couldn't help but think, "I wonder if the Nordic royal family's assets add up to ten billion RMB, even if they can barely make it up, I'm afraid they won't have a chance to bid at all, right?"

However, on second thought, he thought that the old Queen, who had just abdicated, must be desperate for the Spring Return Pill, and even if she could not bid for the whole Pill, she would probably want to bid for a quarter of it.

Perhaps the old queen will come to claim credit and introduce herself to the people she has brought in one by one, and then ask herself for a little bit of the Spring Return Pill.

Therefore, the old queen would not let go of this kind of deal, even if she did not make a profit, she would never lose money.

Apart from those who signed up from Europe and America, a few entrepreneurs from China also participated in the registration.

Among them, there were surprisingly two repeat customers of the Spring Return Pill, namely Li Tailai and Gu Yanzhong.

Gu Yanzhong, as his elder, had always been very concerned about himself, and this time, he had signed up for the auction, definitely to support the event.

As for Li Tailai, he might have missed a Spring Return Pill last time and couldn't forget it, so he wanted to come to see if he had the chance to get another one.

What Ye Chen didn't expect was that his grandfather had also signed up.

In fact, Ye Zhongquan had always known about the existence of the Spring Return Pill.

After all, when Gu Yanzhong was terminally ill, a Spring Return Pill made him more than ten years younger, and this incident had shocked Ye Zhongquan greatly.

He had been looking for an opportunity to ask Ye Chen for the Spring Return Pill, and if that was not possible, he would exchange the Ye family headship with Ye Chen for a Spring Return Pill.

But what he didn't expect was that so many things happened one after another, and in the end, Ye Chen had taken the Ye family headship directly with the help of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall.

This instantly made him lose his most valuable weight.

When he knew that Ye Chen was going to auction off the Spring Return Pill in Jinling, his first thought was to get his name in first.

If he could snatch it, it would naturally be best.

If he couldn't, it didn't matter, he would just come to show his support to Ye Chen, and in the meantime, he would also give him a warning with his practical actions, so that he would know that he was also eager for the Spring Return Pill.

He thought that if he came to the auction at such an old age, he might be able to give himself one when Ye Chen's heart softened.

Ye Chen also guessed the purpose of Elder Ye doing so, but he was not prepared to give the old man the Spring Return Pill, at least not yet.

Looking at the entire list, what was most interesting to Ye Chen was that he did not see the royal family of Britain in the list.

Previously, Ye Chen had also read about the movements of the royal family of Britain from the intelligence network of the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons. It was said that after the Crown Prince returned to Britain, he did not report the situation of the Spring Return Pill to the Queen truthfully, and the Queen was once very angry about this matter, and was bent on getting this medicine.

But why had the auction been announced and the Queen had not come to register?

Chapter 3707

After thinking about it, Ye Chen thought that it might be because that requirement he had set that the Spring Return Pill must be taken on site was somewhat unacceptable to the Empress.

If the Queen was really interested in the Spring Return Pill, then her only option would be to come to the auction herself.

There were two hundred places in the auction, and each successful registration could bring one companion, which meant that there would be four hundred people at the auction site that day.

Moreover, these four hundred people were undoubtedly all wealthy and aristocratic people from all over the world, and it would indeed be a little awkward for the Queen to make an appearance at such an occasion.

After all, the Queen of Britain has not yet abdicated and is the nominal monarch of Britain and of several Marsh countries.

If such a famous ruler of a country were to come to Jinling to attend the auction in person, if word got out, it would indeed have some impact on her own reputation as well as that of the entire British royal family.

After reading the list, Ye Chen was a little disappointed that he did not see anyone from the Rothschild family on the list, nor did he see anyone related to his mother An Chengqin's mother's family, nor did the royal family of the Middle East Saudi Kingdom appear.

Ye Chen couldn't help but be surprised in his heart, could it be that these three top families in the world didn't need to suffer for longevity anymore?

Otherwise, why didn't they come to this unprecedented auction?

Or perhaps they were still waiting in the dark for the time being, wanting to see how this auction would go before making a decision in the future?

While Ye Chen was wondering, Song Wanting called him and reported, "Master Ye, since the news of the auction was released, the Song Group has received many calls and emails, and many people have expressed their willingness to buy a Spring Return Pill privately for more than ten billion RMB, including the royal family of Britain and an American group, the Fei Group, who chairman said that he was willing to pay five billion US dollars immediately to beg for a Spring Return Pill, the highest offer among all."

Ye Chen let out a light laugh and spoke, "Reply to them uniformly, and say that this time the Spring Return Pill is being auctioned, Ji Qing Tang is also commissioned by the mysterious owner of the goods, tell them that there will only be a total of two Spring Return Pills in this auction, and at that time, it will be auctioned as four quarter pills, as well as one whole pill, and not one more of the others will be sold, not to mention five billion dollars, even if it is fifty billion dollars. No matter who wants these two Spring Return Pills, they must personally come to Jinling to attend the auction!"

Speaking of this, Ye Chen added, "By the way, you should also announce to the public that anyone who bids for the Spring Return Pills will only be allowed to bid successfully once, which means that if he bids for a quarter of the pills first, then he will not be eligible to participate in the Spring Return Pills that follow."

Song Wanting said respectfully, "Alright Master Ye, then I'll have someone reply one by one."

Saying that, Song Wanting added: "Master Ye, there is one more thing, many people have inquired in the registration system whether they can bring their entourage on the day of the auction, we don't have a clear rule on this yet, how do you think we can reply?"

Ye Chen thought about it and said indifferently, "Since you want to bring, each person who has successfully registered can only bring at most one attendant."

"Okay." Song Wanting busily said, "Then I'll send them an announcement on the registration platform as well."

Ye Chen remembered something and immediately instructed, "Right, tell them that although everyone can bring an entourage, if they are bidding for the Spring Return Pill, after the bid is successful, it may not be taken by the entourage, but only by the person who signed up."

Ye Chen was worried that some people who did not want to reveal their identities would borrow the loophole of an entourage to mix in and then instruct others to bid for the Spring Return Pill and take it themselves.

Therefore, any such loopholes had to be closed in advance, never giving them any chance to exploit the loopholes.

Song Wanting said respectfully on the other end of the phone, "Okay Master Ye, I will explain it clearly to them."

Ye Chen gave a hmph and added: "Our registration window will be open for a total of 48 hours, after that time, registration will be stopped, and within 48 hours after registration is stopped, the final shortlist will be announced!"

Chapter 3708

At this moment, Fei Jianzhong, who was preparing to depart for China, suddenly received a phone call.

The caller was his youngest granddaughter and his most beloved grandchild, Fei Kexin.

Fei Kexin is just 22 years old this year, more than 70 years different from Fei Jianzhong. She is the youngest son of Fei Jianzhong's oldest son and the daughter of his oldest son, who is the jewel of his heart.

Fei's oldest grandchildren are now over fifty years old.

Even his eldest great-grandson is a few years older than Fei Kexin.

It was also because of Fei Kexin's young age and seniority that she was able to get her way in the Fei family.

In the eyes of Master Fei, his children and grandchildren, Fei Kexin is the youngest of the grandchildren and the jewel in the crown.

Not only was she loved by her grandfather, but also by her uncles and aunts, and her cousins.

Even if they were older than her, or the same age as her, they still had to treat her with respect.

In the Fei family, Fei Ke Xin has always received the best elite education. She started her university studies at the age of 15, and under the guidance of her family, she has already started to practice with a company with a market value of over 100 million dollars.

Many days ago, Fei was entrusted by Fei Jianzhong to lead a team to Yanjing to look for clues to the Spring Return Pill.

However, because he had misjudged the direction at the beginning, Fei Kexin had been running around Yanjing for several days, but had come up empty-handed.

After hearing that Jiqingtang was going to openly auction the Spring Return Pill, she contacted the Song Group at once, and even raised her offer from US$1 billion to US$5 billion at one point, but the Song Group did not relent at all.

She then immediately called her grandfather and asked with concern, "Grandpa, are you moving now?"

Fei Jianzhong couldn't hide his excitement and said, "I'm on my way to the airport, I'll be there soon, Ke Xin, how is the situation on your side?"

Fei Ke Xin replied, "I'm on my way from Yanjing to Jinling, the plane has half an hour to land."

Saying that, she sighed and added, "Grandpa, in my opinion, you should not come to China for the time being."

"Why?" Fei Jianzhong frowned and asked, "Is there any situation over in China?"

Fei Ke Xin said truthfully, "I have already contacted the Song Group and raised the offer to five billion dollars in communication, hoping that they would pass on this price to the consignor of the Spring Return Pill, and if he is willing, he can always close the deal at this price, but the Song Group has refused."

Fei Jianzhong's expression was aghast as he exclaimed, "Five billion dollars and they're not even moving?!"

"Yes" Fei Ke Xin said helplessly, "I can't figure out what the hell they're thinking, it's just a potion, even if it's powerful, it can't possibly fetch such a terrible price of five billion dollars, right? If I were the consignor, then instead of taking the risk of waiting for the auction to be held, I might as well just take the elixir out and exchange it for five billion dollars for a crisp and steady price."

Fei Jianzhong said with a grave expression, "If this rejuvenation elixir is really that great chance that your grandfather Lai got back then, the price of five billion dollars is not really high, if it really goes to auction, it is normal for the price to fetch ten billion dollars"

Fei Ke Xin said in surprise, "It's not possible, grandpa! What is the concept of ten billion dollars to buy a Ford-cla*s aircraft carrier! What kind of person would spend that much money on an elixir? Not to mention the vast majority of people are afraid that they don't know what effect the ammunition actually has, including me."

Chapter 3709

Fei Jianzhong sighed and spoke, "Not to mention you, even I don't know exactly what effect this Spring Return Pill has, but I have a hunch that if there are no surprises, the final sale price of this item will definitely be over ten billion dollars."

Saying that, Fei Jianzhong remembered something and added, "I see! No wonder the consignor behind this Spring Return Pill is so confident! He has already counted everyone in long ago! When the time comes, the Spring Return Pill will definitely fetch an extremely high price!"

Fei Ke Xin asked, "Grandpa, what do you mean by he's counting everyone in, I didn't understand."

Fei Jianzhong said, "Think about it, why did they have to set a rule that the successful bidder would take the Spring Return Pill on the spot?"

Fei Ke Xin said, "I can understand this. Firstly, they want to use this requirement to ensure that all the big shots cannot send spokesmen or telephone bidders, but must be present in person; secondly, they should want to ensure that this item will not be taken out for secondary speculation by people with an ulterior motive; thirdly, they must also have full confidence in this medicine and want the other one hundred and ninety-nine bidders to, all witnessing the medicinal effects of this medicine with their own eyes."

"Yes!" Fei Jianzhong sighed, "Your analysis is correct, but there is still only one thing missing."

Fei Ke Xin asked in confusion, "Grandpa, is there anything else I've missed?"

Fei Jianzhong spoke, "Think about it, that commissioner, why did he take out two rejuvenation pills? And, why weren't the two sold together, or one by one, but one of them was split into four to sell?"

Fei Ke Xin hesitated for a moment on the other end of the phone, and then blurted out as if she had a sudden realization, "Grandpa, are you saying that he wants to use that Spring Return Pill that is split into four parts to pave the way for the final Spring Return Pill that will be the grand finale?!"

“That’s right!” Fei Jianzhong said appreciatively, “Ke Xin, you can see right through it, you really are the most promising person in my Fei family!”

Fei Ke Xin’s emotions didn’t fluctuate in the slightest, and she calmly said, “Grandpa, you’re over-complimenting me, I’m still striving to be able to understand it on my own without you pointing it out in the future.”

Saying that, she continued with some concern, “Grandpa, if that entrusted person really wants to use these four split Spring Return Pills to pave the way as you said, then there is no doubt that as long as everyone sees the first successful bidder, who has taken the first Spring Return Pill, then each subsequent one, the price will be higher than the previous one, and at the end of each bid, for the people behind, it will be a huge I’m afraid that by the time the last whole Spring Return Pill is sold, the price will really be sky high!”

Fei Jianzhong smiled helplessly, “In my opinion, $10 billion is not enough! Even if it doubles, triples or triples, it may not be enough.”

Fei Ke Xin hesitated for a moment and asked him, “Grandpa, what is your psychological price then?”

Fei Jianzhong didn’t speak for a long time, and only after a long time did he seriously say, “Grandpa doesn’t have a psychological price point, I am determined to get this elixir, it’s just that on top of that, the less money I spend, the better.”

Speaking of this, Fei Jianzhong couldn’t help but sigh lightly and said, “I just don’t know yet, who all is as ambitious as I am for this elixir, if the other party is stronger than me, then I will just have to lose out with it

Fei Ke Xin said in a gruff tone, “Grandpa I understand this way, you should not rush over here first, I have already submitted the registration information to them, I think with our strength, we will definitely be able to make the final list of 200 people.”

Said, Fei Ke Xin added: “From this moment, to the official start of the auction, the time in between, I will try to find a way to find the consignor of the Spring Return Pill, try to reach a deal with him privately, whether it is ten billion dollars or twenty billion dollars, I will try to help you finalize this matter before the auction!”

Chapter 3710

Fei Jianzhong accepted his granddaughter’s advice and gave up his intention to go to Jinling immediately.

He knew very well that since it would be difficult to get the Song Group, and the person behind the commission, to relent before the auction, there was no practical point in going to Jinling now.

After all, he was too old to move around and live conveniently, so going there now would not help Fei Ke Xin in any way other than to cause trouble for her.

It would be better to let Fei Kexin go to Jinling and try her hand at it. If she really succeeded, she could return to the United States with the Spring Return Pill, and if she did not succeed, she could go to the auction in Jinling again at that time.

In this way, at least there would be two preparations and the chances of success would be a bit higher.

Fei Ke Xin hung up her grandfather's call, and deep inside she also felt a lot of pressure.

She knew that her grandfather attached great importance to the Spring Return Pill. Although he did not know what kind of medicinal effects the Pill had, the evidence she had received from Lai Qing Hua showed that the Pill could extend his life by at least a few years.

And while Grandpa was already over ninety this year, if he didn't seize this opportunity, his life expectancy might only be a year or two or even shorter, but if he seized this opportunity, living to be a hundred was never a problem.

This also means that whether Grandpa can live to be a hundred years old all depends on whether he can get the Spring Return Pill.

But what really gives Fei Kexin a headache is that she has no clues about the person who entrusted her with the Spring Return Pill, so how to find him is the most difficult problem at the moment.

But even if he could solve this problem, there was still a bigger challenge waiting for him.

The other side didn't even care about US$5 billion, so how could she get him to come up with a Spring Return Pill?

After thinking it over, she decided to first put the breakthrough point on Jiqingtang's parent company, the Song Group.

So she said to her assistant, "Shanshan, in the next two days, I want you to help me find out all the information on the Song Group, as much as you can, and then print it all out and give it to me."

The girl called Shan Shan, named Chen Ying Shan, was Fei Ke Xin's personal assistant.

When she heard Fei Ke Xin's order, she immediately said respectfully, "Yes, Miss!"

Fei Kexin asked her again, "Has our accommodation in Jinling been resolved?"

Chen Ying Shan replied, "Back Miss, I have booked the presidential suites and several luxury suites in the best three five-star hotels within the city limits of Jinling, I will give you the hotel information later, so you can choose at your leisure."

"Very well done."

Fei Ke Xin praised lightly and nodded in satisfaction.

This foolproof style of acting was the philosophy she had always instilled in her men.

To the Fei family, as long as money was not counted in US$100 million, it was not money at all.

So when Fei Ke Xin went to Jinling on business, she didn't even need to worry about where to stay, her assistant had already booked all the rooms in the three five-star hotels in Jinling and paid for them in advance.

Although the room fees for two hotels were destined to go down the drain, these hundreds of thousands of dollars were not even a drop in the bucket for the Fei family.

The extra few hundred thousand were spent in order to avoid just one hotel but any temporary contingencies, even if there was only a one percent chance, to be absolutely avoided.

This is Fei Ke Xin's style of action, including this time when she came to China, although she only had a team of less than ten people, but she drew two identical private planes from her family.

These two planes, both brand new Boeing 787s converted into private jets, cost nearly US$300 million each from the factory, with a total cost of nearly US$500 million after the conversion was completed.

Normally, the maximum commercial load of this aircraft is three hundred and thirty people, but Fei Kexin's team of less than ten people took up two of them hard.

She and her subordinates flew in one of them, while the other was used as a shadow plane, accompanying her throughout the flight.
