

Ye Chen 3961

Chapter 3961

In Ye Chen's opinion, since it was not yet clear whether the An Family was an enemy or a friend, there was naturally no need for him to actively reveal his identity.

As for who exactly in the An Family needed the Spring Return Pill, he did not want to explore it for the time being.

Lai Qinghua also felt that what Ye Chen said made sense, since the An Family could let An Chongqiu come over to find out the truth, it did prove that their need for the Spring Return Pill was not that urgent.

Otherwise, they would have come over on their own like Fei Jianzhong did.

Thus, he arched his hand towards Ye Chen and smiled, "Young Master Ye, I will go back to the scene first."

Ye Chen nodded and said, "You go back first and wait for a moment, and I will make some arrangements to let the auction continue."

With that, Lai Qinghua excused himself and left the VIP room.

After Lai Qinghua left, Ye Chen picked up the phone and called He Zhiqiu, who was in charge of Isu shipping, and once the phone call was made, he asked her directly, "Zhiqiu, are there any ships going to the Middle East recently?"

"Yes." He Zhiqiu said, "The first batch of grain you promised to give to Syria has already been loaded at the port of Haicheng, and will be sailing in the next two days."

Ye Chen immediately said, "You should select the most trustworthy captain and the necessary crew and engine crew now, have them start preparing now and try to set sail tonight, I will have the generals of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall bring two people over later, when the time comes to go to the Middle East on this ship, make sure to keep it strictly confidential."

When He Zhiqiu heard Ye Chen's order, he did not pursue any details and immediately said, "Yes Mr. Ye, I will make the arrangements, we should be able to set sail within two hours at the earliest, when will the people you want to send over from your side come over?"

Ye Chen looked at the time and spoke, "I'll arrange for a helicopter to take them there, it'll only take an hour or two if it's quick."

He Zhiqiu said dryly, "Then I'll make the arrangements here, have them prepare to set sail, plus I'll have them partition off half of the ship's living quarters, so that none of them will be allowed to travel to the other half of the area at that time."

"Good." Ye Chen said with satisfaction, "Then you make the arrangements first, I'll also have someone on my side get ready, and I'll have someone contact you when the time comes to dock the specific details."

“Okay!”

After hanging up the phone, Ye Chen immediately picked up the intercom and spoke, “Is Ruo Li there? Come meet me in the VIP room.”

Ye Chen had previously instructed Richard Chen to reserve a luxury suite for Su Ruoli in the VIP wing of Buckingham Palace, so that she could stay here regularly, so tonight Su Ruoli was also attending the auction as one of the security personnel.

A few moments later, Su Ruoli, who was dressed in a security uniform and had a valiant appearance, came to the VIP room with quick steps, and once she saw Ye Chen, she said respectfully, “Mr Ye, you’re looking for me?”

Ye Chen nodded and spoke, “Ruo Li, go and purchase some daily necessities as well as food, clothing and personal items that your women need to use, after you have done so, you have to send two people to the Middle East for me overnight and return after you have handed them both over to Wan Bu Jun.”

Su Ruoli didn’t ask for any details and immediately said, “Then I’ll get on with it!”

After saying that, she suddenly remembered something and hastily asked, “Do I need to prepare a pa*sport?”

If one were to leave the country through the normal customs, naturally one would need to prepare a pa*sport, both for leaving and entering the country.

However, if you were to leave the country through a non-normal channel, your pa*sport would basically be of no use.

Ye Chen then said, “There is no need to prepare pa*sports, you guys take the boat and leave overnight, I will have Wan Breaking Army meet you there.”

“Okay Mr. Ye!” Su Ruoli immediately nodded and said, “Then I’ll go do it.”

After arranging everything, Ye Chen then returned to the monitoring room.

At this moment, the monitoring room could see that the auction site was silent, everyone was patiently waiting for the auction to restart, except for Bernard Elnor who was now scratching his ears in anxiety.

His mood had gone up and down several times this evening, culminating in the moment when Fei Jianzhong announced his abstention, but as the minutes ticked by, his mood became anxious and apprehensive again, fearing that something else would go wrong in this matter.

Chapter 3962

At this time, Song Wanting finally received Ye Chen’s authorization and said into the microphone, “Gentlemen, No. 035 has been sent to the hospital for emergency treatment due to a sudden illness, and given that he himself has announced that he has given up the competition for this last Spring Return Pill, our chance to purchase this Spring Return Pill this time will be filled by No. 016.”

When Bernard Elnor heard this, he clenched his fists in excitement and threw several punches in the air.

If it wasn't for the fear of breaking the rules, he would have shouted a few times to express his joy.

Song Wanting looked at him at this time and opened her mouth to ask, "No. 016, may I ask if you are willing to purchase this last rejuvenation pill at a price of US$72 billion?"

"I am willing! I am willing!" Bernard Elnor said offhand with unbridled excitement, "Please give me the number and I'll arrange payment now!"

Song Wanting nodded and spoke, "No. 016, since you have confirmed it, you are naturally the first in line to purchase the Spring Return Pill."

Speaking here, Song Wanting added, "However, the owner of the Spring Return Pill has just confirmed something to me, that anyone buying this Spring Return Pill on the spot will pay exactly the same price as the successful bid, except for you, who still needs to make a round of allotment before you can purchase this Spring Return Pill."

"Another allotment?!" Bernard Elnor almost collapsed as he cried, "Two of your staff have already asked me to allot over $300 million before! Why do you want me to match the goods again?"

The audience was also a bit taken aback; they had never heard of the request to match goods either, and wondered why they were suddenly asking 016 to match goods now.

However, just as many people were about to give a shout out for 016, someone suddenly recognised him and blurted out, "Isn't 016 Bernard Aerno? He's the inventor of the luxury goods dispensing system!"

Immediately afterwards, someone responded, "My God, it's him! My wife has dispensed tens of millions of euros in his shops!"

Someone else said, "This guy has a very bad business reputation and has been criticised for his dispensing system! If it wasn't for the distribution system, he wouldn't be the richest man in the world! I never thought it would be his turn to dispense goods today! What a self-inflicted disaster!"

At this point, someone retorted, "Aren't you guys going a bit too far? It's the salesman's job to distribute the goods, what's he got to do with it?"

Someone sneered, "Are you seriously ill in the head? Do you think dispensing is an act of the salesman himself? Why didn't the coffee shop attendant ask you to dispense when you went out to buy a cup of coffee? Why did Bernard d'Arnaud's shop ask you to dispense? This kind of global uniform bundled sales policy, if he, the boss, hadn't given the order himself, who underneath would have dared to be so reckless?"

"Exactly!" Someone immediately echoed, "He has made tens of billions of dollars by relying on a rogue system of bundled sales like allotment, it's about time he had a taste of his own medicine today!"

At this moment, Song Wanting, faced with Bernard Elnor's surprise, said blandly, "No. 016, you are the one who has promoted the system of allotment, so many of your brands have resolutely implemented the system of allotment, no matter how the market opposes you, you have done what you want and persisted to the end, so this time, the owner of Springback Dan has also instructed that special care must be given to you."

Said Song Wanting and added: “Moreover, before, you were allowed to allocate goods for the purpose of qualifying for the auction, now you are allowed to allocate goods for the purpose of buying the Spring Return Pill, these are two different stages and should not be mixed up;”

“If you want this Spring Return Pill, you must accept the allotment, otherwise, the Spring Return Pill will be split into four parts and continue to be auctioned on site;”

“Of course, you can also continue to participate in the auction at that time, but I have to remind you that if you are successful in your bid, you will have to accept the allotment all the same!”

Chapter 3963

Bernard Elnor’s whole face was a sad, saucy mess when he heard this.

He knew that he was being targeted.

The point was that he was being targeted, and all those around him who were bidding for the same rejuvenation pills were cheering for it.

It was also at this moment that he realised that he was not only disliked by the customers of his brand, but even by other rich people as well.

He also finally appreciated the evil of the allotment system.

It is a system that sees that you like something and then takes advantage of the fact that you have to have it and adds an extra price in a different way.

If you protest, the seller will tell you that this is our sales policy, you accept it or pay for the allotment, or you go out and turn right.

And Bernard Elnor’s desire for the rejuvenating elixir is not just a matter of liking it, it’s a matter of his health and longevity.

In his current state of health, should lung cancer return with a vengeance, he would essentially be left to die.

Moreover, he had already experienced the pain of cancer treatment twice, and he did not want to experience it a third time in his life.

Thinking of this, he could only grit his teeth and ask Song Wanting with a humble face, “Miss Song, I don’t know how you want me to allocate the goods my cash flow is not that abundant”

Song Wanting nodded and spoke, “Don’t worry, we naturally won’t push you to the brink because of the allotment of goods.”

Speaking here, she smiled faintly and continued, “If you follow the allocation strategy of your brand, the ratio of the general allocation amount for popular models starts at one to one or even higher, right?”

Bernard Aylneau’s eyes went black. If the ratio was really one to one, that would be US$140 billion, where would he get that kind of money?

Just as he was desperate to the core, Song Wanting added: "Of course, we do things, we are still a little bit more careful than you, so we have finally decided to let you match the goods at a ratio of 50, since your bid price is 72 billion, then the amount of matching goods is 36 billion, which is a total of 108 billion."

Bernard Elnor said desperately, "I don't have that much money I can only come up with a maximum of eighty billion dollars in cash right now"

Song Wanting nodded and spoke, "In that case, you can also apply for installment payments."

Bernard Elnor was busy asking, "How can I pay in installments?!"

Song Wanting said, "A total of US$36 billion in allotments, you pay US$8 billion upfront, and the remaining US$28 billion, in ten years, for which we can waive your installment fees, and as you know, if you take out a consumer loan outside, the interest rate for a ten-year period is at least 50 or more."

Speaking here, Song Wanting added, "I believe that with your ability to absorb money, it should still be very easy to take out US$2.8 billion per year, and after you get a whole rejuvenation pill, as long as nothing happens, your life expectancy will be at least twenty years, so if you look at it that way, it will definitely be a very good deal for you."

Then, Song Wanting turned her words and added, "Of course, you can also not accept it, our dispensing policy is the same as your brand, advocating voluntary dispensing rather than mandatory dispensing."

Bernard Aylneau finally understood what it meant to kill someone's heart.

What is the difference between forcing people to allocate goods and saying it is voluntary?

But when he thought about it, wasn't his own brand in the same way?

Thinking about it, he could only lament that he had brought this on himself.

And although his heart was pained to the core, he still made an instant decision once he thought of the Spring Return Pill and said through clenched teeth, "Okay I accept!"

Song Wanting nodded and said seriously, "016, since you have voluntarily and positively accepted our allotment policy, you will next need to pay US$80 billion first, and in order to ensure that you fulfill your contract, we will also need to sign a series of legal documents, and the Spring Return Pill will be given to you after the legal documents are signed, do you have any objections to this point?"

Bernard Elnor shook his head and said in a dishevelled voice, "No I have no objection"

Song Wanting nodded and smiled, "In that case, then both of us have reached an equal and voluntary agreement on the allocation of the Spring Return Pill in the spirit of fairness and justice, is this something you confirm?"

Chapter 3964

Bernard Elnor cried out, "Confirmation I confirm"

"Good." Song Wanting smiled slightly and continued, "However, there are two things that I would like to emphasise in front of 016, and all the bidders who are present today."

“First of all, please rest assured that our allocation system is only applicable to Mr. Bernard Elnor alone, and no additional charges will be added to anyone who successfully bids for the Spring Return Pill other than him, and as you have all seen with the four previous Spring Return Pills, we strictly follow the principle of fairness and impartiality, and none of the four successful bidders were forced to bundle any consumption, so please don’t worry!”

As soon as these words came out, everyone in the audience immediately cheered.

Since it was only against Bernard Aylneau, everyone was naturally happy to see him laugh.

Therefore, everyone clapped and cheered happily, while only Bernard Aylneau looked extremely ugly.

Afterwards, Song Wanting added, “Secondly, we are different from those companies outside who are asking for allotments, all the income from allotments, we will not take a penny and will donate it all to charity!”

“Half of it will be donated to the poor areas of China, specifically to solve the academic, living and health problems of school-age children and youths, as well as those who are out of school, including but not limited to solving their tuition fees, living expenses, love lunch fees, as well as scholarships, grants, and even the treatment costs of physical diseases;”

“The other half, which will be donated to all orphanages, welfare homes and other children’s welfare institutions across the country, will be used to improve the living and education standards of orphans in welfare institutions;”

“All the funds will be donated to the whole society, and we welcome the supervision of everyone!”

At these words, everyone in the audience was once again in an uproar.

This is ten years, 36 billion dollars!

You donated it all just like that?

Isn’t money money?

How many listed groups with a market capitalisation of hundreds of billions of dollars would not be able to make this amount of profit in ten years, yet the owner of this Spring Return Pill was not the least bit moved?

Moreover, everyone is a top tycoon and knows very well about charity.

Even if they are playing for charity, they don’t play like this!

The rich and powerful in this world, especially those in the West, all seem to be very keen on charity, setting up various charitable foundations and then putting hundreds of millions or even billions of dollars into them.

But in reality, the vast majority of such charitable foundations are set up for tax avoidance purposes.

Western tycoons who donate billions of dollars to set up foundations are actually packaging them as family trusts to avoid the 50 per cent inheritance tax and to leave more money to their children and grandchildren.

Under the Western system, 5 per cent of a foundation's funds must be used for charity, while the remaining 95 per cent is essentially the same as a family trust, and is tax-free.

So, when the rich in the West do charity, they only give a small amount of their money to good causes, and leave more to their families in this way.

Many Western tycoons also promise to donate naked after their death, but in fact most of them also use this method to repackage their wealth and continue to pass it on to their children and grandchildren.

However, the $36 billion that will be donated by the owner of the Spring Return will be donated in its entirety and will be monitored by society as a whole, which means that it is a real donation, and that it will be donated in its entirety without leaving any of it behind

This is really scary!

Chapter 3965

Forced to do nothing, Bernard Aylneau eventually accepted Song Wanting's terms.

After paying US$80 billion in cash in tears, he signed an agreement with the auction to pay in instalments.

Starting later this year, he will have to pay US$2.8 billion to the auction every year for the next ten years.

As the dust settled, Song Wanting finally announced in public, "Let us congratulate No. 016, who has successfully won the last Spring Return Pill of the night."

Bernard Aylneau stood up in a flash of excitement, ready to take a step onto the stage, while the other bidders all looked a little disappointed.

Immediately afterwards, Bernard Aylneau was invited to the stage by Song Wanting.

Afterwards, the staff handed Bernard Aylneau the rejuvenating pill in his mouth.

At this moment, Bernard Aylneau was already trembling with excitement.

And the other bidders on the stage, one by one, were staring at him with rapt attention.

Everyone had seen the effects of a quarter of a rejuvenating elixir tonight, as well as the effects of half a rejuvenating elixir, but only the effects of this whole one had yet to be seen.

Everyone wanted to open their eyes and see how amazing this whole rejuvenating elixir could be.

Bernard d'Arnaud is in his seventies, and even though he has the title of Godfather of Fashion and Godfather of Luxury, the years have left deep marks on his face.

His brownish-black hair is now half grey, his face and the area around his eyes are deeply wrinkled, his eye sockets have begun to sink deeper and deeper, and his cheeks have begun to shrug down from old age, falling into two extremely pronounced lines that, without exaggeration, even have the look of the dog from "Cat and Mouse".

This, coupled with his two bouts with cancer, had left him a little more frail than his peers.

However, the moment he took the rejuvenating elixir, a miracle happened immediately.

His hair, from its original withered whiteness, gradually turned into an oily black-brown colour, and the wrinkles on his face began to rapidly converge, even his drooping cheeks seemed to be freed from the effects of gravity, quickly regaining their roundness and lustre.

Just a moment ago, he was an old man in his seventies, but now, in the blink of an eye, he had turned into a strong man in his fifties.

This instantly made countless people envious.

And Bernard Elnor could not see himself at this moment, he only felt that his whole body was rapidly regaining its vitality.

It was like being young and exhausted from a day of exercise, coming home and almost collapsing into bed, and then suddenly returning to the state of energy he had before he left home in the morning.

The experience was so magical that he almost shouted with excitement!

It was also at this moment that Bernard Elnor burst into tears.

Tonight had really been the most torturous day of his life for him.

From hope at the beginning, to despair later, the flames of hope were lit again and again and again, extinguished by despair.

Even in the final stage, he was close to having his mind broken by the US$36 billion allotment.

At this moment, feeling the tremendous change in his body, he could not help but hide his face and cry in pain.

Because he felt that this moment had come, it was just too hard!

Moreover, the end result of this was just too much of a surprise to himself.

When he came, he originally thought that the rejuvenation pills would be good enough to improve his physical state and allow him to reduce the risk of cancer recurrence as much as possible.

However, never in his wildest dreams did he expect the efficacy of the Spring Return Pill to be so miraculous!

He couldn't help but lament to himself like, "Although it took thirty-six billion dollars just to match the goods for this rejuvenation elixir, this is really the most worthwhile thing I've ever bought in my life"

Everyone else watched as Bernard Elnor instantly became almost twenty years younger, the envy and jealousy in their hearts having reached its peak.

This is the true effectiveness of the rejuvenation pills!

It was just a pity that no one else had the chance to experience it for themselves.

If they wanted to wait for the next Spring Return Pill, they would have to wait until at least the second auction next year.

At this point, Song Wanting spoke up and said, "Thank you for the support of everyone present, tonight's auction has ended with the bidding of all the lots. Let us congratulate the five bidders who have successfully bid for the Spring Return Pill, and we also hope that those who were not successful will not be discouraged, as we will continue to hold the Spring Return Pill auction next year if there are no surprises."

When the crowd present thought of this, many of them became even more desperate deep inside.

This was because, once the effects of the Spring Return Pill spread among the upper cla*s, next year's auction would definitely be flooded with even more top tycoons.

At that time, if the organisers did not expand the number of places, then I was afraid that half of the two hundred people who had participated in the auction tonight would not even have the chance to attend the auction next year.

When many people thought of this level, their moods immediately hit rock bottom.

Seeing the sad faces of many people, Song Wanting added, "Apart from that, there is another piece of good news to tell you."

Hearing that there was good news, everyone looked at Song Wanting, expecting her to say more.

Song Wanting then said, "The good news is that the Spring Return Pill Auction is not the only way to obtain the Spring Return Pill! We are planning to invest in a series of high-end health projects in Jinling, and all those who are interested in the Spring Return Pill are welcome to participate actively at that time. At that time, all investors who have participated in the high-end health projects will have the additional right to get the Spring Return Pill."

As soon as these words came out, the scene boiled up.

Someone could not hold back already and asked in a loud voice, "Miss Song, what do we have to do to participate in this project?!"

Song Wanting smiled and said, "The project has not been officially put on sale to the public for the time being, so this issue will have to wait for a while for everyone, and after our relevant details are perfected, we will be the first to give priority to inform those who are present tonight, and at that time, you will also have the relevant rights to register and subscribe on a priority basis."

Chapter 3966

Hearing this news, the crowd's lost mood was immediately eased.

What they feared most was that there would be too few Spring Return Pills, and if only two were put up for auction each year, the price would only get higher and higher, and if they couldn't afford them today, they still wouldn't be able to afford them come next year.

However, since the organisers would also provide other channels to obtain them, this would be one more opportunity for everyone.

Song Wanting spoke up at this time, "Now, please exit the venue in an orderly manner and return to the hotel. Those bidders who were successful in bidding on other items just now, please go back to your rooms and wait for a while, our staff will deliver the successful bids to your rooms. However, I would like to remind you that your rooms will only be reserved until 12 noon tomorrow at the latest, so if you need to renew your stay, please confirm with the front desk before 10am tomorrow.”

With that, Song Wanting smiled slightly and continued, “Once again, thank you for coming tonight and I hope to see you all next year! Thank you all!”

The crowd gave a standing ovation, and after seeing Song Wanting exit from the backstage, everyone left their seats and returned to their rooms.

Some of them were planning to leave tonight, but before they did, they also had to go back to their rooms to change out of their clothes, otherwise wearing these numbered outfits gave them the feeling as if they were prisoners in a prison.

Just as the bidders on the scene were returning to their rooms, an ambulance sped out of the hospital.

Three minutes earlier, the 120 emergency centre had received an emergency call for a patient who had suffered a heart attack at Jinmao Mansion, a high-end condominium in Jinling priced at up to 80,000 per square metre, so the 120 emergency centre had directly assigned the task to the nearest central hospital to Jinmao Mansion.

The central hospital, in turn, immediately assigned the task to the ambulance that was whistling away.

When the ambulance arrived at Jinmao Mansion, four paramedics got out of the vehicle, all wearing white coats, masks and medical caps, no one could see their faces, but they were three men and one woman.

The four men took the lift to the top floor of the Golden Mile and followed the number of the door where the emergency call was made to flat 2501.

However, at this time, there was no heart patient in this flat. Waiting in the living room at this time were four medical personnel, also dressed in white coats, masks and hats, also three men and one woman.

Not only were these four dressed like the four who came in the ambulance, they were almost identical in size.

Apart from them, there were three other people standing in the room, namely Hong Wu and his right-hand man Ma Zhongliang, as well as Zhang Ermao, who had just recently followed Hong Wu as a military man.

As soon as the two groups met, Hong Wu immediately said to the four disguised medical personnel beside him, “You four, hurry up and put Zhongliang on a stretcher and bring him to the ambulance!”

The doctor dressed as the leader of the four immediately said, “Yes, Master Wu, we’re on our way!”

Zhang Ermao reminded, “From now on until you get into the car and leave, you four must not look up at the surveillance, so as not to be seen, got it?”

The man nodded his head in a hurry, “Understood!”

“Good!” Zhang Ermao said seriously, “There’s no time to lose, you guys hurry up and get going!”

Hong Wu said to Ma Zhongliang at this time, "Zhongliang, quickly lie down on the stretcher, rest well in the hospital for the next few days."

Ma Zhongliang grinned and waved his hand, "Okay, Master Wu, then I'll go to the hospital to recuperate for a few days!"

Soon, Ma Zhongliang was lying on the stretcher, followed by four paramedics who carried him out.

After they had left, Hong Wu said to the four people who had just gotten out of the ambulance, "Your clothes are all ready for you, hurry up and change, let's leave in ten minutes!"

The four paramedics took off their masks and hats, and the female among them was Fei Kexin, the eldest Miss of the Fei family, and of the three males next to her, one was her grandfather Fei Jianzhong, one was Yuan Zixu, Fei Jianzhong's personal bodyguard, and the other, a five-star war general from the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons.

At this moment, Fei Ke Xin said to the two men with great gratitude, "It's hard for you two to come up with such a good way to help us get out of this, I'm really grateful to you two!"

Hong Wu waved his hand, pointed at Zhang Ermao and said, "It was all the idea of this military master of mine."

Zhang Ermao was busy saying, "I am also sharing Master Ye's worries, this is all my part!"

Just now, Zhang Ermao had given Hong Wu this idea, using an emergency call and a few of Hong Wu's men to play a golden cicada to get the three of them out of the hospital unnoticed.

If someone really came to Jinling to inquire about the whereabouts of the three, it would be impossible to trace them to this line.

Moreover, even if they did, they would not be able to find any clues.

Because the hospital has emergency vehicles out many times a day very frequently, and the alarm call was genuine, the four medical staff were stealing the day, and Ma Zhongliang had a genuine heart problem, not a fraudulent illness.

The man usually smoked and drank, and a lot of fish and meat to eat and drink, regular heart discomfort, several blood vessels have long been signs of blockage, the doctor has long advised him to put a few stents, but he has been dragging not to go, so Hong Wu will let him simply take this opportunity today, with a play, by the way to the hospital to put the stents.

As the saying goes, if you do a full set of drama, a real phone call, a real emergency, a real patient, you can be sure that even if the Fei family comes, they will definitely not be able to find out the four, five or six.

Chapter 3967

In the night, Fei Kexin, Fei Jianzhong and Yuan Zixu, led by several generals from the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, boarded a helicopter and flew to the port of Haicheng.

At that moment, a cargo ship full of tens of thousands of tons of grain had already lifted its anchor from the port of Haicheng and slowly left the port.

The ship's crew, all the most trusted members of the Isuzu Line, had received orders to set sail overnight, while a group of pa*sengers would be boarding at sea.

However, even though these men were trustworthy, He Zhiqiu still told them not to have any active contact with the pa*sengers, thus ensuring that they remained ignorant of them.

After the cargo ship left the brightly lit harbour and sailed into the darkness of the sea, two helicopters arrived one after the other and caught up with the ship in the middle of the sea, landing one after another on the deck of the ship.

The first helicopter came down with Su Ruoli and a number of soldiers from the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple she had led.

This time, most of the ones Su Ruoli had brought with her were female members of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple.

Each member of the team was carrying a huge combat bag, filled with not only various weapons and equipment, but also many household items.

After the crowd disembarked from the plane in an orderly manner, they began to divide and block the living quarters with the cooperation of the captain.

Su Ruoli then asked all the staff to leave the deck, and immediately afterwards, a second helicopter slowly landed on the deck.

When the aircraft stopped, Fei Kexin was the first to step out of the aircraft, followed by Yuan Zixu, who helped Fei Jianzhong to step down as well.

Su Ruoli walked up and said politely, "It's Miss Fei, isn't it? My name is Su Ruoli, Mr. Ye asked me to escort you and Mr. Fei to Syria."

Fei Ke Xin asked in surprise, "Su Ruoli?! Miss Su can't be the same Su Ruoli that Japan searched the country for before"

Su Ruoli smiled faintly and nodded, "That's right, it's me."

Su Ruoli's great name was known all over the world after that time in Japan.

Previously, the Japanese side had been searching for her whereabouts, and was looking for her alive and dead.

But unexpectedly, after Su Ruoli had disappeared for a while, she suddenly announced that she had joined the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple.

When the Japanese side heard that she had joined the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, they almost immediately gave up the manhunt for her.

They had seen Su Ruoli's destructive power with their own eyes, when she had turned the whole of Tokyo into a mess.

Now that she had joined the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, she was tantamount to having a powerful backer, and under such circumstances, the Japanese did not want to touch this bad luck again.

Therefore, instructions had been given within the Japanese Police Department that as long as Su Ruoli did not come to Japan, the Japanese side would no longer pursue her.

Fei Ke Xin did not expect that she would meet the famous Su Ruoli here, and she was even one of Ye Chen's men.

Moreover, when Ye Chen deliberately broke the fierce news that the old man of the Su family had betrayed his own granddaughter to the Japanese, the whole world knew that Su Ruoli was the illegitimate daughter of the Su family, and that the illegitimate daughter of the Su family had become Ye Chen's subordinate, which made Fei Ke Xin even more surprised.

Before Ye Chen took Su Ruoli, the Su family was bound to come out to block it out of face, but the situation at hand was enough to see that the Su family didn't seem to have any temper even before Ye Chen.

From this, she could even deduce that the Su family had probably been completely subdued by Ye Chen long ago as well.

She could not help but sigh in her heart at the strength of Ye Chen, who was constantly overturning her own guesses and perceptions.

However, surprised as she was, Fei Ke Xin quickly adjusted and took the initiative to extend her hand to Su Ruoli and said politely, "Hello Miss Su, I have heard a lot about you, I have to ask you to take the trouble this time!"

Su Ruoli smiled slightly, "You are Mr. Ye's friend, these are all my duties."

Saying that, Su Ruoli added, "Mr. Ye said that the matter of you and Mr. Fei Lao leaving the country must be kept absolutely confidential, so we can't arrange for you to travel by plane, the ship is a long way away, so you still need to get used to it, I hope you don't take offense."

"Understood!" Fei Kexin nodded hastily and said, "I'm already very grateful to Mr. Ye for being able to leave Jinling!"

Su Ruoli nodded and added, "I have just confirmed the voyage with the captain, our destination for this voyage is the port of Tartus in western Syria, for safety reasons, our cargo ship will not dock at any port until we reach the port of Tartus, we expect to arrive in Singapore in five days, and arrive at the Suez Canal in about eighteen days, counting the time spent queuing up to cross the canal. In about twenty days we will arrive at the port of Tartus."

Chapter 3968

Fei Ke Xin nodded and said, "Thank you, Miss Su."

Su Ruoli nodded slightly and said, "For your safety and Mr. Fei's, our living area on the ship is completely separated from the general crew, so if you and Mr. Fei need to come on deck, please let me know in advance and I will inform the crew to stay away for a while."

Fei Ke Xin said gratefully, "Thank you Miss Su, you are really too thoughtful!"

"As it should be." Su Ruoli smiled and said, "The three of you please follow me to the cabin, the rooms are all ready for you."

This cargo ship that He Zhiqiu had sent to Syria was 100,000 tons in size, and the cargo ship was huge, and the living area inside was very ample, so it was enough to arrange a room for each of the three.

Su Ruoli asked the two young males from the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons to arrange Fei Jianzhong and Yuan Zixu into their rooms, while he himself took Fei Kexin to the room prepared for her.

As soon as she entered the room, Su Ruoli closed the door behind her and pointed to the three huge duffel bags in the room and said to Fei Ke Xin, "Miss Fei, Mr Ye explained that I had prepared some daily necessities for you, and I didn't know which brands you usually use, so I bought the best brands that I could get in Jinling as much as possible."

As she said that, she opened one of the backpacks, which was almost full of daily cosmetics for women. In addition to that, she had also thoughtfully prepared electric toothbrushes, towels, bath towels and small items such as combs and hair cards.

Fei Ke Xin said gratefully, "Thank you so much Miss Su, I didn't expect you to be so attentive"

Su Ruoli smiled, "It's mainly because Mr. Ye ordered it, he said that you are a grand lady, you must be pampered in your daily life, suddenly you have to take such a long ride on a cargo ship, afraid that you might not adapt."

Saying that, she opened another backpack, which contained some changes of clothes, mainly T-shirts, casual trousers and some new underwear.

Su Ruoli explained to Fei Kexin, "Miss Fei, the weather is now approaching summer, the weather in the south is already similar to summer, and we are crossing the Indian Ocean, the temperature is even higher, so I have prepared some summer clothes for you, as for the underwear, the size may be a bit unsure, if it does not fit, you tell me, I will arrange for someone to prepare it in Singapore when we arrive in Singapore. I will arrange for someone to prepare them in Singapore and then send them to the ship by helicopter when we arrive in Singapore."

Fei Ke Xin was so moved that she choked up a little.

In the past, the people around her had been so unfailingly attentive to her, but that was because she was still the eldest Miss of the Fei family.

Now she had fallen on hard times, but the fact that Ye Chen's men could still be so considerate and polite to her really touched her beyond measure.

Su Ruoli then opened the third bag again and said softly, "Miss Fei, in addition to underwear, there are also some sanitary napkins and tampons in here, because our route is only twenty days, so I have prepared a dosage for you for more than a week, which should be enough."

I have already communicated with Wan Jun about the Syrian side, but he said that the tents used by Wan Long Temple are the best field tents in the world, with electricity and water supply, separate toilets, showers and air-conditioning facilities. He has already started coordinating a batch of high-end custom-made boarding houses from China, so the conditions will be improved some more when the time comes.”

Fei Ke Xin said hastily, “It doesn’t matter, I can accept whatever the conditions are.”

She then asked, somewhat embarrassed, “By the way, Miss Su, may I take the liberty of asking how the medical conditions are over there? I’m not worried about anything else, I’m just worried about my grandfather, he’s old and has suffered a lot of stimulation, I’m afraid something might happen to his health.”

Su Ruoli smiled faintly and said, “Don’t worry about that, the Wan Long Temple has a medical team of its own, and has already built a temporary field hospital, along with a resuscitation room and an operating room, it will definitely be able to provide your grandfather with very good medical care.”

“That would be great!” Fei Ke Xin put her heart down completely and spoke, “Please ask Miss Su to convey Mr. Ye’s great kindness to me, Fei Ke Xin will never forget his great kindness!”

“Okay.” Su Ruoli nodded and spoke, “Miss Fei, it’s getting late, you should rest early, my room is on your right hand side, your grandfather’s room is on your left hand side, if you need anything, feel free to contact me.”

With that, she took out a walkie-talkie and handed it to Fei Ke Xin, “Miss Fei, this encrypted walkie-talkie can only contact me on the ship, keep it and call me anytime if there are any problems!”

Chapter 3969

After Fei Kexin had tidied up her room and settled in on the boat for a while, she went to her grandfather Fei Jianzhong’s room.

At that moment, Yuan Zixu was helping Fei Jianzhong to make his bed, while Fei Jianzhong was sitting on the single sofa in his room, staring at the ceiling.

Seeing Fei Ke Xin enter, Yuan Zixu hurriedly said respectfully, “Eldest Miss.”

Fei Ke Xin nodded slightly and said somewhat apologetically, “Master Yuan, I’m sorry to have involved you this time, I’m afraid you won’t be able to return to the division anytime soon”

Yuan Zixu shook his head and said, “Missy, there is no need to be so polite, my duty is to protect Elder Fei, no matter where I am.”

I’m not in a hurry to return to the division, not to mention that Jiahui is still missing, the division sent him here to take over my duties and stay with the Fei family.

Fei Ke Xin spoke up, “Now that I think about it, it is most likely that Mr. Luo is in the hands of Young Master Ye.”

Yuan Zixu nodded and said, “I also think that is the case, I have heard that the Hall Master of the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons, Wan Bajun, has always regarded the Ye family as the enemy that killed his parents, I have also heard earlier that Wan Bajun’s men brought coffins to kill the Ye family, Wan Bajun made such a big show, but in the end, he was taken under Ye Chen’s command, this shows that Wan Bajun is in no way a match for Ye Chen.”

Said Yuan Zixu, adding, "It is rumoured that Wan Bajun is an eight-star martial artist, if that is true, then Young Master Ye must be a Dark Realm expert, or even stronger."

Fei Ke Xin nodded and said with relief, "There is no need for Master Yuan to worry too much, I see that Young Master Ye is a man of love and hate, Mr. Luo has not done anything to him, so I think he will not really hurt Mr. Luo."

Yuan Zixu sighed, "Let's hope so!"

At this moment, Fei Ke Xin looked at her grandfather who was a bit depressed again and spoke, "Grandpa, what has happened to Uncle has already been done, you must think about it and don't become depressed."

Fei Jianzhong smiled to himself and said, "Kexin, because of me, you had to flee to the Middle East with me, I am ashamed of myself as a grandfather.

He said, Fei Jianzhong looked sad and said, "Now, you two accompanied me to escape, he can't find you, he must have resentment about it, it's me who dragged you down"

Fei Ke Xin said, "Grandpa, you mustn't think like that, if you really are gone, Eldest Uncle won't let our family have a good time."

Fei Jianzhong sighed and said remorsefully, "They say that the family heir should be the eldest rather than the youngest, but if I had seen through that rebellious son's backbone earlier, I would not have made him the family heir.

Before I die, I will leave a will to you, designating you to inherit the Fei family, then you can ask Young Master Ye for help, as long as he can help you take back the Fei family, you will be the head of the Fei family!"

Fei Ke Xin smiled helplessly and said, "Grandpa, Young Master Ye should not want to get into this mess, otherwise he wouldn't have arranged for us to go to the Middle East for a while to escape the storm."

"Yes" Fei Jianzhong also couldn't help but sigh, "Perhaps he felt that the terms I offered weren't generous enough, the Fei family's 20 a*sets must still be less in his eyes."

Saying that, he suddenly brightened up, looked at Fei Ke Xin and opened his mouth to ask, "Ke Xin, could that young master Ye be a match? If he is willing to help, I will give him the entire Fei family as a dowry, he should not refuse, right?"

Fei Ke Xin was first stunned, then she quickly understood the meaning of her grandfather's words, and immediately said with some shame, "Grandpa, what are you talking nonsense about" Young Master Ye, he has already been married."

"Married?" Fei Jianzhong subconsciously pursued, "Which family's daughter did he marry?"

Fei Ke Xin said, "His wife is from the Xiao family in Jinling, but the Xiao family is just a down-and-out family in Jinling, the highest a*set of the whole family was just over 100 million, and it was still in RMB, and now it has gone bankrupt and liquidated."

Chapter 3970

Fei Jianzhong was filled with horror and said offhandedly, "How is this possible? How could the young master of the titled Ye family, the grandson of the An family, marry a girl from such a poor family?"

Fei Ke Xin said, "I am not too sure what exactly is going on here, but Ye Chen has never revealed his true identity to his wife, and his wife's family does not know his true identity, and has always thought that he is just a door-to-door son-in-law who comes from an orphan."

Fei Jianzhong pondered for a moment and spoke, "Between a husband and wife, it is surprising that they can conceal such a big matter, so I guess the foundation of their relationship is not strong enough, and sooner or later, they will have to divorce."

Fei Ke Xin said awkwardly, "I don't know about this"

Fei Jianzhong sighed lightly and said to Fei Kexin: "Kexin, now the Fei family has this huge change, if there is not a powerful external force intervening, your eldest uncle's position is already untouchable, when I die, he will not be merciful to you either, Young Master Ye, is your only chance to turn the tide ah"

Speaking of this, Fei Jianzhong had one more sentence that he did not say out loud.

In his opinion, Ye Chen was not only Fei Ke Xin's only chance to turn the tables, but also his own.

Ye Chen's Spring Return Pill was outstandingly effective, and even if he could get half of it, he would be able to live longer.

If Fei Kexin could really develop something with Ye Chen, the time would come for both grandparents and grandsons to turn the tide against the wind.

It's not that Fei Jianzhong is so utilitarian, but when a person reaches such a desperate situation, he is naturally unwilling to resign himself to his fate, and as long as he still has a breath left, he will make turning the tide his biggest goal for the rest of his life.

Fei Ke Xin naturally knew this too.

When a wise man is in trouble, the first thing he thinks of is not self-hatred or self-loathing, but how to find a way to break the situation in a crisis.

Fei Ke Xin also knows very well that after her grandfather was usurped by her eldest uncle, she is already in a dilemma.

If she did not go to the Middle East with him today, then Uncle would have to ask her about his whereabouts, and her conscience would not allow her to sell him out for profit.

And now that she has followed her grandfather to the Middle East, it is equally difficult for her to ride the tiger.

Since she had gone to the Middle East, she must be an accomplice and an enemy in the eyes of her eldest uncle.

If he can't find her now, she can live with herself, but what will she do if her grandfather dies in a year or two?

Should she continue to hide, or should she just take her grandfather's body back to America?

The former would be a shame and she would not want to choose, but the latter would be too risky and she would probably be controlled by her uncle as soon as she arrived in America.

Therefore, Fei Ke Xin felt that her future was also in the shade.

In this situation, the only way she could think of to break the situation was Ye Chen.

Unfortunately, Ye Chen didn't have any intention of helping.

Thinking of this, she smiled bitterly and said, "Grandpa, there is no point in talking about this now, not to mention that Young Master Ye is already married, even if he is not, I am in the Middle East, it is very difficult for me to have any chance in having any more encounters with him."

Fei Jianzhong also said with disappointment, "Ai! This trip to the Middle East, I still don't know if I can live to see the day I leave"
