

Ye Chen 4031

Chapter 4031

The rabbit girl had never dreamed that Ye Chen would be so showy.

Her whole person was shocked and happy, clutching the two chips in her hand and asked excitedly, "Sir ..... you ..... you are ....."

She could not believe even now that Ye Chen was giving her these 20,000 chips.

One should know that according to the rules of the casino, the chips were a kind of currency issued by the casino and could be exchanged for cash inside the casino at any time.

As soon as she exited this door, she would immediately be able to exchange these two plastic chips, into 20,000 Canadian dollars!

She couldn't believe that someone would offer such generosity.

At this time, Ye Chen said with a smile on his face, "Don't worry to take it, it's a tip for you!"

After saying that, he also deliberately glanced at the other bunny girl standing behind Andre.

Seeing her face of envy and jealousy, Ye Chen then smiled faintly and said to the rabbit girl beside himself, "I have a habit of not letting anyone serve me for free, you stay here tonight, if I win money tonight, you'll get less."

As soon as the girl heard this, she naturally bowed repeatedly with gratitude on her face and kept saying under her breath, "Sir, thank you! Thank you!"

The rabbit girl behind Andre was going crazy with envy at this point, so she subconsciously looked at Andre, hoping that he would also show something.

But Andre's dissatisfaction with Ye Chen was also piling up at this point.

He didn't think that Ye Chen would be such a big shot, even if he took this kind of rabbit girl back and enjoyed her for one night, it wouldn't cost him $2,000.

What was even more depressing to him was that after Ye Chen had given him the money, his own face would be somewhat embarrassed.

He was also hesitating in his heart, should he also give 20,000 chips to this bunny girl beside him?

If he gave it, he couldn't afford to do so.

If he didn't, he would feel that he would be a step down from Ye Chen in this room.

After thinking about it, a brilliant idea popped into his head.

So, he also took out 20,000 Canadian dollars in chips and handed it to the bunny girl beside him. Just as the bunny girl was getting excited, he took out his mobile phone and sent a text message to

Guo Lei, the text message read: instruct the person who redeemed the chips not to redeem the chips for the two of them after tonight's gambling game, and send two more minions to get the chips back."

Guo Lei received the text message, glanced at it, and quietly nodded to Andre.

These two people were all in the same boat and had an extremely high regard for money, so how could they really let these two girls, take 40,000 Canadian dollars from the casino?

What's more, there was also Andre's $20,000 in there, so there was no way they would be allowed to take a single cent.

At this time, the dealer also came in, so Andre lit a cigar and after puffing on it for a while, he asked Ye Chen, "Mr. Ye, what do you want to play tonight?"

Ye Chen thought about it and said casually, "Let's play Texas, that's the fastest."

Andre laughed and said cheerfully, "Good! Then let's play Texas!"

He then said to the lottery official in the middle, "Deal the cards!"

Guo Lei hurriedly said to the two men, "Boss, Mr. Ye, you guys have fun, I'll go out first, if you need anything feel free to order."

After saying that, Guo Lei turned around and left the room, leaving only Ye Chen and Andre inside, as well as the lotus officer and the two bunny girls.

This time, Ye Chen did not move any psychological hints to the lotus officer.

He intended to lose the two million Canadian dollars first, and then, incidentally, export the boat he had just bought as well.

In this completely unfair poker game, Ye Chen's and Andre's poker luck was simply lopsided.

In just under an hour, Ye Chen had lost half of his nearly two million Canadian dollars in chips.

Andre's expression was already getting more and more excited, this night was the fastest he had ever made money in his life, this speed of earning a million Canadian dollars an hour made his whole body float.

At this time, one of Guo Lei's men found him and asked in a low voice in his ear, "Mr. Guo, we've got several other preys and are waiting at the port to be sent to the high seas for delivery in the early hours of tomorrow morning, that Li Xiaofen in Chinatown, are you still making your move tonight?"

Chapter 4032

Guo Lei stroked his chin and began to think in his heart, secretly saying, "Since the surnamed Ye is leaving Canada tomorrow, then Li Xiaofen's side, there is no need to continue dragging it out ....."

"Moreover, if we make a move on Li Xiaofen tonight and send it directly to the port after we get it, we will be able to send it out to the high seas for delivery before dawn, otherwise, we will have to wait for another week."

Thinking of this, Guo Lei immediately instructed in a low voice, "Tonight, make your move as planned, you must do a crisp and clean job, and send it directly to the port dock after you get it!"

"Yes!" The other party immediately said, "Don't worry, Mr. Guo, we will do a good job tonight!"

Guo Lei nodded in satisfaction and thought to himself, "If the man surnamed Ye loses two million tonight, then if Li Xiaofen is selected for the auction, she may be able to earn another one or two million back, then I will have at least three or four hundred thousand dollars in my hands, and I will be able to get a f*cking Rolls Royce by then!"

As he thought of this, an excited smile appeared on his face and he muttered, "They say that no man is rich without money and no horse is fat without gra*s. How the f*ck did I ever get to this point in my life without getting Claudia's family killed? If I can build up some personal power in the group in a few years, then I'll find a way to kill that b*****d Andrei too!"

As he was feeling pleased with himself, he suddenly heard Andre shout, "Mr. Ye, you've lost all your chips, what else can you play with me?"

Hearing this, Guo Lei couldn't help but say, "Holy sh*t, you lost so quickly!"

With that, he pushed the door into the room and asked with concern, "Boss, Mr. Ye, what's wrong with you?"

Andre's expression had lost the compliment and politeness he had shown to Ye Chen just now, and had changed to an undisguised face of cannibalism as he said in a cold voice, "This Mr. Ye has lost all his chips, if he can't get the money, then tonight's gambling game will have to end early!"

Ye Chen's expression at this moment was no longer as calm and collected as it was a moment ago, as if losing two million so quickly had caught him off guard.

Immediately afterwards, Ye Chen asked him, "You give me a bank account number, I'll arrange for someone to make a call right now to exchange another two million chips!"

Andre laughed shamefully, "Mr. Ye, which underground casino have you seen that dares to use a bank account to collect money? With such a large amount of money coming in, the Canadian National Revenue Agency is looking for me to collect taxes! That's why we only accept cash here!"

Hearing this, Ye Chen hesitated for a moment and said what most gamblers would say when they are at the end of their rope: "Can you lend me some cash? Or just lend me some chips?"

"Borrow?" Andre asked with interest, "I wonder how much Mr. Ye intends to borrow?"

Ye Chen held out two fingers and said with a bit of fire, "I want to borrow two million!"

"Two million?!" André grunted contemptuously and said, "Mr. Ye, the first time we met, you want to borrow money from me, and the moment you ask for two million, isn't that a bit too much? It's fine if you can turn over your money if you lend it to you, but if you lose the money you borrowed from me as well, what will you pay me back with?"

As he said that, Andre looked at Ye Chen and said with a smile, "Mr. Ye, you don't have to say that I am unkind, we are open for business, everything has to follow the rules, since you want to borrow money from me, you have to give me a sufficient guarantee to make me sure that you can pay me back with interest before I can lend it to you!”

Ye Chen gritted his teeth and said furiously, “You f*cking think I don’t have money? A mere two million is nothing in my eyes!”

He immediately took out all the information about the boat he had bought from his bag and threw it in front of Andrei, saying coldly, “Open your eyes and show me clearly, this boat is worth 20 million, and that’s in US dollars! I’m using this ship as collateral, is that enough to lend you a mere two million?”

Chapter 4033

Seeing that Ye Chen had slapped out a thick copy of the information, Andre hurriedly drew it over, and then carefully flipped through it.

After reading a few pages, a surprised smile appeared on the corner of his mouth, and then his expression changed to a flattering one as he said with a smile, “Mr. Ye is really extraordinary, his business has reached Vancouver, and this ship cost 20 million dollars second-hand, it’s really not cheap!”

Ye Chen said indifferently, “It’s only 15,000 tons, it’s nothing.”

After saying that, Ye Chen asked with some impatience, “Cut the crap, how much can this ship worth, give me a figure.”

Andre’s heart was moving at this moment.

His group, often through the sea route, would transport some contraband into or out of Canada.

But because of their lack of financial resources, they did not have their own cargo ships, and had always had to borrow other people’s cargo ships to transport their goods.

The cost of using someone else’s ship was so high that it accounted for more than 30% of the total cost of the business.

Andre had also dreamed of owning his own freighter, but the price of tens of millions of dollars was really out of his reach.

But to his surprise, Ye Chen had taken the initiative to send one to him.

If he didn’t seize the opportunity to keep the freighter, he would be sorry that God had arranged this good deal for him.

When he thought of this, his first thought was to make Ye Chen lose more, the more he lost, the better, preferably so much that Ye Chen would just give up and buy the ship back from him.

Having made up his mind, he said to Ye Chen, “Mr. Ye, since your ship was just traded for $20 million, I can at least give you a mortgage of 15 million Canadian dollars, see how much you need?”

Ye Chen said indifferently, "Take these information first, then have someone prepare two million chips for me, I will borrow them from you when I lose them all, if I win back and pay back the chips I owe you, then you will return the information to me."

If you borrow two million dollars, even if you borrow it and pay me back the next day, you have to pay me two hundred thousand dollars in interest, which is two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, and from the next day onwards, the interest will be twenty-two thousand dollars per day. "

Ye Chen said unconcernedly, "Okay, I know, hurry up and bring me the chips."

Andre looked at Guo Lei and said with a smile, "Guo, you go get the chips for Mr. Ye!"

Guo Lei was also excited, Ye Chen had already lost two million tonight, if this ship lost all 15 million, that would be 17 million, he could make a fortune just by taking the draw!

So he hastened to prepare the chips diligently, hoping that Ye Chen would lose even faster.

And Ye Chen did not let him down.

This time, Ye Chen's performance at the gambling table seemed to be clearly a little impatient.

The amount he bet was much larger than just now, sometimes he could drop in 200,000 to 300,000 in a single hand.

Therefore, after just under half an hour, he had already lost all of the two million chips.

Seeing Ye Chen's chagrined face, Andre could not help but smile and say, "Sir, it seems that you are not very lucky with your cards today, I almost gave up on that hand just now, but I did not expect to gamble on the last hand and found that your bottom card was really not as big as mine!"

Ye Chen gritted his teeth and cursed, "D*mn it, I don't believe in this evil!"

After saying that, he looked at Guo Lei and said in a cold voice, "Bring me another two million!"

Andre reminded, "Mr. Ye, that's four million!"

"Never mind." Ye Chen pointed at the pile of cargo ship information in front of Andrei and said through clenched teeth, "If I can't flip tonight, that ship will be yours!"

Chapter 4034

Andre laughed and said excitedly, "Good! Mr. Ye is really very quick, in that case, I'll play a few more games with you!"

After saying that, he immediately ordered Guo Lei, "Get Mr. Ye another two million chips!"

Guo Lei ran out without hesitation and returned a minute later with this tray of chips.

This time, the speed at which Ye Chen lost money set a new record.

It only took him 20 minutes to lose the 2 million.

The rabbit girl next to him, who had never seen anything in the world before, was already completely stunned.

After all, she was not a professional in the casino and had never seen such a big game.

Andre was trembling uncontrollably with excitement, he had never made money as fast as he did this evening.

As for Ye Chen, under the control of that lottery official, the cards in his hand were always overwhelmed by Andrei, and it could be said that he was losing no matter how he played.

Ye Chen himself perfectly portrayed a gambler who had lost to the point of losing his mind.

By this time, Ye Chen was completely red-eyed with loss and only wanted to continue gambling, even if his cards were bad, he kept on throwing money in, and kept chanting, "I don't believe I can be so unlucky!"

Soon, he had lost fourteen million chips.

When he ran out of chips again, he didn't wait for Andre to say anything, he immediately said to Guo Lei, "Go, get me another two million!"

Andre said with a smile at this time, "Mr. Ye, you already owe me 14 million."

Saying that, he picked up the pile of information and said indifferently, "You have this ship but I can only offset 15 million here, so now you have at most 1 million in credit."

Ye Chen said impatiently, "Then hurry up and bring me a million chips! I'm going to flip tonight!"

Andre laughed, "Of course it's okay to bring a million chips, but I have to remind you, Mr. Ye, if you lose all of this million, you won't be able to lose."

Ye Chen said coldly, "Cut the f*cking crap, I'm sure I can flip the game! Hurry up and bring over the chips!"

Andre nodded, "Good! In that case, then I'll give you another million!"

Without saying a word, Guo Lei immediately took another million in chips and handed it to Ye Chen.

This time, Ye Chen also seemed to be a little impatient, as he grabbed a hand that looked good um, and bet all of his one million.

In the end, there was no doubt that it was Andre who won again.

At this time, Andre stood up, took those information and said to Ye Chen, "Mr. Ye, you lost 15 million, now you only have two choices, either, transfer this ship to me, or, you pay me back 16.5 million with interest, if after tomorrow night, every day that pa*s'es will increase the interest by 165,000, which one do you want to choose? "

Ye Chen let out a long breath, seemingly already willing to gamble and concede, and said indifferently, "I'll choose the first one, the ship is yours."

Andre nodded in satisfaction and smiled, "In that case, I will have my lawyer prepare the contract later, after signing, it will be hard for Mr Ye to stay here tonight, and tomorrow after dawn, we will go to the port together to see the ship and then finish the transfer formalities love."

Ye Chen looked at the time, it was already twelve o'clock in the evening local time, so he spoke, "This ship will be sailing back to China at two o'clock in the morning, if you want this ship, you'd better go over and stop it now."

Chapter 4035

"What?!"

When Andre heard Ye Chen's words, he instantly stood up in a hurry and asked offhandedly, "Are you sure it's going back to China at dawn?!"

Ye Chen spoke: "I came to buy this ship to bring back to China, I can't buy it and leave it parked on the dock in Vancouver, right?"

Saying that, Ye Chen casually said, "Shall I call and tell the captain not to set sail for the time being?"

How could Andre dare to let Ye Chen make a phone call at this time?

In case Ye Chen made a phone call and let the other party call the police, this killing tray of his would not be easy to handle.

After all, Ye Chen was a foreigner, and not a stowaway or an illegal immigrant, so if he really made a scene with the police, I'm afraid it wouldn't end well.

Moreover, the Chinese embassies in foreign countries have always attached great importance to the safety and rights of their citizens, so if the embassies knew about such a big matter, they would definitely put pressure on the Vancouver police, and then it would be even more difficult for them to pocket the money that they had taken from Ye Chen.

Therefore, the most important thing now is to force Ye Chen to sign all the transfer agreements clearly before this matter is out of his control.

As long as one has the reasonable and legal title documents, then this matter will be difficult for the police to break up.

So, the first priority now was to keep the ship first! And then just force Ye Chen to sign off all the documents!

That way, even if the police investigated later, he could take out these documents signed by Ye Chen himself to tell the police that this was a normal debt issue between the two, reasonable and legal, and that no one had the right to interfere.

It was precisely for this reason that he could not allow Ye Chen to contact the outside world.

Seeing that Ye Chen was going to get his mobile phone, he rushed forward first, snatched Ye Chen's mobile phone away and said in a cold voice: "Mr. Ye, you can't contact anyone until it is resolved before!"

Ye Chen questioned coldly, "Since I lost to you today, I'm willing to bet and accept defeat, but you guys won't even let me make a phone call, that's a bit too much, isn't it?"

Andre suddenly showed his fierce face and said through clenched teeth, "You owe me money and still want to call outside? I'm telling you, Ye, from now on, you'll do everything I tell you to do, and if you dare to play tricks with me, I'll have you killed!"

After saying that, he looked at Guo Lei and ordered, "Tell everyone in the casino to get ready, set off with me to the pier immediately, and keep this ship for me no matter what!"

Guo Lei immediately said, "Yes boss! I'm going to gather the brothers!"

Andre hurriedly called out to him again and asked, "How many brothers are there in the yard?!"

Guo Lei thought for a moment and said, "Twenty to thirty!"

"Not enough!" Andre said without hesitation, "Call some more men, wherever they are, and tell them to get to the pier right now!"

Guo Lei was busy asking, "Boss, how many men do you want?!"

Andre was afraid that there would be any mistakes in this matter and said, "A cargo ship of more than 10,000 tons must have at least 10 to 20 crew members on board."

Guo Lei blurted out, "Boss, we already have some men at the dock, today is the day to deliver the 'cargo'. 'cargo', and there will be at least thirty or forty more when they rendezvous at the docks."

Andre nodded and ordered, "Then get more men there too, the more the better, there's no room for error in this tonight!"

Guo Lei understood his boss's intention and immediately said, "Then I will order the other men to go there as well."

At this time, Andre looked at Ye Chen and said coldly, "Mr. Ye, I'll have to give you a break for now, after I take over the ship smoothly, I will naturally let you go, but if you dare to play small with me, then don't blame me for being too ruthless then."

Ye Chen also seemed to have given up resistance and sat back in his chair, saying indifferently, "Fine, aren't you just seeking money? I'll just cooperate with you."

Andre nodded in satisfaction, "It would be best if you can cooperate!"

.....

Just as Guo Lei gathered his casino men and at the same time had other men notified to go to the pier as soon as possible, four cars had already driven up to the entrance of Auntie Li's house.

In these four cars, there were more than ten masked men in total, all of whom were members of the Italian group.

Apart from them, in the trunk, there were two young women who were already unconscious, gagged and hooded, they were also the targets of the Italian group this time, and Li Xiaofen was the last one tonight.

Chapter 4036

According to the plan, once they had Li Xiaofen in their possession, they would immediately drive the car to the pier, where they would rendezvous with the others and send all the women they had kidnapped onto a boat, heading directly for the high seas.

At this moment, the window of the passenger side of the car at the head of the group was lowered, and a masked man with a special purple torch, shone it at the entrance of Auntie Li's house, and sure enough, he saw his group's specific markings on the pillar by the door, so he closed the window and said over the intercom, "Sam, you drive around to the back door, we'll touch in at the same time, and make it quick!"

A cry came over the intercom, "OK, I got it!"

Then, the two cars behind suddenly turned around and left, going around the back of Auntie Li's house.

The man from before ordered over the intercom again, "Guys, this time we're going in with a total of twelve people, Sam six of you will take the ground floor and six of us will take the second."

Sam's voice came over the intercom again, "OK, I'll take the ground floor."

The man at the head of the group continued, "Once we are inside the villa, Sam, two of you will guard the front door, two the back door, and the remaining two will check all the rooms on the ground floor, if anyone is there, immediately use a tranquiliser gun;"

"The remaining six men will take charge of the first floor, two will guard the staircase entrance, the other three will join me and feel through all the rooms on the first floor from two directions, first put everyone down, then find our target and take them away!"

"We must make it quick and try to solve it within ninety seconds!"

Immediately afterwards, a total of twelve masked men got out of the four cars at the front and back doors, some armed with firearms, others with sticks and anaesthetic tools, and quietly approached Auntie Li's villa.

Inside the villa, most of the rooms were unlit, except for one bedroom on the first floor, which was still dimly lit in yellow.

The division of labour was very clear and they each stuck to their roles, with six taking control of the ground floor and the other six going straight to the first floor without stopping.

But just when they thought they had everything under control, the six men on the ground floor were suddenly taken over by a dark figure who appeared out of nowhere!

The six men were all subdued without making a sound!

The six men who had rushed up to the first floor also suffered the same fate.

The two men left behind to guard the stairs were knocked unconscious by a blow to the back of the head as soon as they stood at the stairway.

The other four had no idea what was going on behind them, so they split into two teams and began to search the rooms on the first floor one by one.

But to their amazement, the bedrooms on the first floor were all empty, no one was there at all!

The leader of the group exited the last room, met up with the other two and asked in a low voice, "Have you found the target?"

The man shook his head and said, "No one in sight ....."

"Strange ....." the man at the head frowned, "Maybe the person is in the basement, hurry down!"

With that, he took the lead and rushed towards the stairs.

Just before reaching the stairs, he saw two black shadows, he subconsciously said, "Don't stand here, go to the basement!"

As soon as the words left his mouth, the two black shadows suddenly attacked.

The man at the head of the group only felt a streak pass by and he lost consciousness.

Immediately afterwards, the dark figure who had attacked him dragged him down the stairs.

The three men behind him had no idea what was happening in front of them and thought that their teammate in the lead had already gone downstairs. When the three of them came down the stairs and rushed to the ground floor, they saw several black shadows already standing on the ground floor.

The three men suddenly realised that it was not their brothers who were standing in front of them, but seven or eight mysterious men dressed in black combat uniforms.

As for their nine brethren, they were now lying in a row on the spacious living room floor!

Chapter 4037

When the three men saw this scene, they almost instantly collapsed in fear.

Because, they knew very well that since these men in black could directly solve their nine brothers without showing their faces, it proved that the strength of these men was beyond their imagination.

This also meant that the three of them would not be able to escape their fate next!

Just as the three men were terrified to the core, several more of their men walked in carrying four men who were already unconscious, and one of them spoke up, "Hall Master, we found four drivers in the four cars, plus two women who were already unconscious hidden in the trunk."

When the three men saw that the men in their cars had also been captured, they immediately realised that they were completely screwed this time.

At that moment, Wan Bajun, who was dressed in black, stepped in front of the three men and asked in a cold voice, "Of the twelve of you, who is the boss?"

The three of them were too scared to speak, and their minds were thinking hard about how to get out of this situation.

Seeing that the three men did not speak, Wan Bajun immediately reached out his hand and strangled the man at the front by the neck, pressing his thumb against the knot of his throat and using a little force, the man's face turned red with pain but he could not make a sound.

Wan Bajun stared at the man and said in a cold voice, "If you don't tell me, I'll break your neck, but if you don't tell me, I still have a dozen people to ask one by one, someone will tell me!"

The man's eyes widened in fear and he tried desperately to nod his head.

Only when Wan Bajun saw this did he let go of his thumb, allowing the other man to finally breathe normally.

Immediately afterwards, the man hurriedly pointed at an already unconscious white man on the ground and said, breathlessly, "He ..... he is our boss ....."

Wan Bajun immediately pushed the man to the ground, then striding over to the unconscious leader on the ground, he yanked him up by his hair, then directly pulled his entire body up from the ground.

The intense pain in his scalp made the man wake up instantly, and then he looked at Wan Bajun in fear and asked out of turn, "Who are you ..... .."

Wan Bajun said in a cold voice: "I ask you, where are you going to rendezvous next?"

The man was too frightened to make a sound.

Because he knew very well that if he said anything, Andre would definitely kill himself after he found out.

When Wan Bajun saw that he was silent, he took out a dagger and plunged it through his left rib cage without blinking.

The man didn't expect Wan Bajun to stab him straight away, and the wound hurt like hell.

Before he could scream out, Wan Bajun said with a smile, "Don't be afraid, I haven't stabbed your vital point yet, moreover, this knife of mine doesn't have a blood-conducting groove, your skin and subcutaneous fat can absorb the sides of the blade well, so not a drop of blood will come out."

When the other party heard this, he turned even more pale with fear.

Wan Bajun then waved with his other hand to the man beside him, who immediately delivered a micro syringe.

The syringe was only two or three centimetres long in total, with the needle being about one centimetre long, and a hose-like capsule at the back, which contained about one millilitre of an unknown liquid.

Wan Bajun looked at the man and said indifferently, "Your wound should be very painful, right? But don't worry, this medicine in my hand has a strong stimulating effect on your nerves, after I inject you, your pain will be amplified a hundred times, and you will feel even more sore then."

The man was trembling violently in fear, he did not doubt Wan Bajun's words in the slightest, because he had heard of this kind of thing before, only that it was all the stuff used by top agents, and he did not usually have access to it.

Seeing that these people were extremely strong and professionally qualified, he realised that they must be from a very big group of people, so it was only natural that they had this kind of drug.

Just as he was terrified to the core, Wan Bajun had already inserted the tip of the needle into his neck.

Chapter 4038

This needle was very thin and short, much smaller than a normal blood collection needle. Under normal circumstances, being stuck by this kind of needle would not hurt too much, but he felt that after this needle was inserted, an intense pain spread rapidly from this eye of the needle, and the feeling and intensity of the pain continued to rise.

Wan Bajun said, "The tip of the needle may have a little bit of medicinal liquid, so you should already feel it a little bit now, but this medicinal liquid at the tip of the needle only accounts for one thousandth of the total amount of medicine, you can imagine what you will feel after I inject all this needle into your body, I tell you, at that time, every time you breathe, it will feel like you have sucked in a pile of broken gla*s!"

The man instantly shouted in horror, "No, please don't ..... I'll say ..... I'll say anything!"

.....

Ten minutes later.

Several black business cars stopped in front of Auntie Li's house, and a dozen black-clad men got out and joined Wan Breaking in the room, after which the crowd carried the dozen or so unconscious members of the Italian group into multiple cars respectively.

Immediately afterwards, the two girls boarded one of the commercial vehicles under the escort of Wan Breaking Jun.

Afterwards, these business cars, together with the four cars driven by the Italian Group members earlier, left Auntie Li's house together and roared towards the pier.

Auntie Li, who was still bewildered, was left behind at the villa, accompanied by three female generals from the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons.

Soon.

In front of the Italian group's casino, a dozen a*sorted vehicles were ready.

Ye Chen was led by Andrei and got into his Rolls Royce.

Andre was holding an Italian-made Beretta 92F pistol, the muzzle of which was always pointed at Ye Chen, and said with a proud face, "Mr. Ye, this gun is made in my homeland, Italy, and is one of the best pistols in this world."

Ye Chen rarely played the goose for once, and spoke against his will, "Andrei, you asked me to cooperate, then I'll cooperate with you properly is all, the gun you'd better put away, lest it go off ....."

When Andrei saw that he had wimped out, he even said with a smug look on his face, "This is our Italian-made pistol, the best of the best, it definitely won't jam or go off!"

Ye Chen sighed helplessly and said with a look of pity in his eyes, "I can see that you like this gun very much, then you must cherish the time you have it."

Andre listened in bewilderment, feeling that at first glance, Ye Chen's words sounded as if there was nothing wrong, but when he thought about it carefully, it seemed that there was something that didn't feel right.

However, he didn't think about it deeply.

Because in his opinion, Ye Chen was now a big fish on his own chopping board, and he was already ready to cut down with a chopping knife, completely crushing his advantage.

Therefore, it would not even occur to him that this fish might turn around and cut himself.

Immediately afterwards, the convoy, too, roared off to the port terminal.

At the same time, in the four corners of Vancouver, there were many other members of the Italian group who had temporarily received the news and hurriedly drove to the port.

They had all received word that the boss had acquired a 15,000-tonne freighter, so they would have their own big freighter if they were to start smuggling again!

This was a big leap of faith, and no other gang in Vancouver had such a big freighter.

When the gang members heard about this, they were all very excited and couldn't wait to go to the dock to have a look.

However, little did they know that at this very moment, the freighter was all ready to depart and was just waiting for their special group of passengers to board!

Chapter 4039

Late at night, the Vancouver port docks are as busy as they are during the day.

The large ports basically operate 24 hours a day, so even late at night, the lights are still on, with a large number of trucks carrying containers in and out, and the docks are constantly loading and unloading cargo for the docked ships.

Therefore, the vehicles arriving at the pier one after another did not cause too much alarm.

Guided by members of the Italian group, Wan Bros. arrived at the port first and then easily took a dilapidated 1,000-ton freighter on the dock of a small ship.

On board this freighter were eight members of the Italian group, as well as three young women who had been abducted.

Together with the two that Wan Bajun and the others had driven over, there were five young women who had been kidnapped by the group and were to be taken to the high seas this evening.

On board the dilapidated cargo ship, Wan Bajun conducted a surprise interrogation of the group and discovered that the actual leader of the group was an Italian named Francesco Ricci.

This Francesco, in turn, turned out to be Andres' own brother.

According to Francesco's confession, they had planned to set sail for the high seas at three o'clock this morning and to meet the ship that was to pick up the cargo at a specific point on the high seas.

After the meeting, the other party would first pick up the girls, and the money for the transaction would be paid to the Italian group only after they had disposed of the girls.

Afterwards, Wan Bajun directly took all these people to the freighter that Ye Chen had bought, and inside this freighter, at this time, there were more than a hundred generals of the Ten Thousand Dragons Palace in ambush, just waiting for the Italian group to send them to their door.

When Andre arrived at the pier with Ye Chen and his men, the convoy had already expanded from less than ten vehicles at the beginning to at least seventy to eighty vehicles, like a gluttonous snake.

Many of the men who had received orders to drive to the pier alone or in groups of three or five joined Andre's convoy as soon as they came across it, and so the convoy grew in size as it went along.

By the time they reached the pier, the convoy had already stretched for nearly a kilometre.

The cargo ship that Ye Chen had bought was not docked at the loading dock as it had been declared empty, so it was in a much calmer location than the loading area.

Most of the ships docked around were cargo ships that had not yet started queuing for loading, so it was all dark on board.

On the other hand, Ye Chen's 15,000 tonne cargo ship was lit up at the moment.

Looking from far below, one could see signs of personnel activity on the deck and inside the bridge.

It did look as if she was about to set sail, and the personnel, too, seemed very much like the crew making preparations before setting sail.

As Andrei watched the huge freighter pull up in front of him, deep inside he was overwhelmed with excitement and muttered under his breath, "This is a big f*cking ship!"

In his mind, he could not wait to get on board and stand on the bow of the ship and shout, "I'm the king of f*cking Vancouver!"

With a ship like this, he would be able to improve his group's power, and he would be able to start a shipping business in the future!

The Italian group he ruled was only a second-tier gang in the whole of Vancouver, and although he had always had the ambition to go to the next level, he simply couldn't find the way to do so.

But now everything is different.

With this ship, the group has more possibilities and a wider scope.

Maybe this ship was where his dream would begin!

Thinking of this, his heart was even more impatient.

After the car had stopped at the quay, Andrei pushed the door and stepped out of the car.

Immediately afterwards, dozens of cars pulled up in a row behind them at the quayside.

Andre walked to the other side of the back seat, pulled open the door, pointed his gun at Ye Chen and said with a smile, "Mr Ye, please get out of the car!"

Chapter 4040

Ye Chen pretended to walk out of the car resentfully, looking as if he was holding back, but in his heart he was already happy.

He really didn't expect this Andre to be so good at tricking.

He had only thrown the bait in front of him and had not even had the chance to entice the fish properly, but the fish had actually taken the initiative to bite.

And it was the king of a school of fish, bringing his minions along with him to bite the hook.

The whole fishing process was very smooth, and every step of the development was within Ye Chen's control.

At this time, dozens of other cars also came down one after another with two to three hundred people.

When this group of people saw the ship in front of them, they were all extremely excited.

Some of them shouted, "Boss! Since this ship is now ours, we must take it to the high seas and have a huge party on the deck of the ship to celebrate!"

This proposal was immediately approved by everyone and there was a cheer.

Someone else shouted, "We'll have to get more hot girls! And get a DJ to get the mood going!"

Hearing this, the crowd cheered again.

Guo Lei said with a smug look on his face, "If we have a party, we must prepare more booze, and when I get drunk, I'll sleep on the deck!"

Andre was also full of ambition and said with a smile, "Don't worry everyone, tomorrow night we'll have a super party here, unprecedented in the history of Canadian gangs!"

After that, he looked at Guo Lei and said, "Guo, you'll be in charge of this!"

Guo Lei said excitedly, "Boss, don't worry, I will make this party spectacular!"

Andre nodded with satisfaction, looked up at the crew on deck and shouted, "Hey! Get down here and open the hatch for me!"

Due to their large size, the uppermost decks of large cargo ships, when docked in port, were as high as a dozen or more metres above the quay floor.

Therefore, usually after docking, after securing them with multiple cables, they would open the side doors and then put a board between the doorway and the floor of the quay to facilitate getting on and off the ship.

André was standing outside the hatch at this point, but it was closed and could only be opened from the inside.

But the crew seemed to be unhappy with him and questioned loudly, "Who are you? Please leave our cargo ship immediately, or I will have to call the police!"

Andre held his gun against Ye Chen and said coldly, "Mr Ye, you talk to him!"

Ye Chen nodded his head and spoke, "It's me, open the hatch."

"Mr. Ye?" The crewman exclaimed in shock and asked, "Are you alright Mr. Ye? Do you want me to call the police?"

Ye Chen was busy saying, "There is no need to call the police, they are all my friends, you should quickly have someone open the cabin door."

Only then did the crewman say, "Okay Mr. Ye, wait a moment!"

After saying that, he picked up the intercom and spoke, "Second mate, second mate! Open the hatch quickly, Mr. Ye is here!"

Soon, the sealed hatch on the side of the cargo ship was opened, and a crew member inside saw Ye Chen and said respectfully, "Hello, Mr Ye!"

When Andrei saw the hatch open, he felt like an ancient general who had just conquered a city and the other side had already opened its gates and was waiting for him to take over and rule.

At this moment, he was overwhelmed with emotion and his ego had swelled to a new level.

With a sense of satisfaction, he shouted to the group behind him, "Brothers, this ship will be ours from now on! Come up with me and have a good look around!"