

Ye Chen 4211

Chapter 4211

However, this person in charge could never have dreamed that Wan Bajun had already had someone anonymously reveal a message to the Japanese Homeland Security Department a few hours ago, and the message was that an overseas force of over a hundred people would infiltrate into Iga City this night to carry out a terrorist attack.

Originally, according to the workflow of the Japanese security services, they had to systematically analyse the reliability of the information and confirm that it was credible enough before they would make advance deployment based on the information.

However, the mysterious person who tipped them off to this information made the entire security service stand on alert with just one statement.

This mystery man told the security services that the last time they were able to intercept the plane Su Ruoli and the other experts of the Su family were on at Osaka Airport, it was the information he provided.

In order to convince the Japanese security services, the mystery man also gave some details of the information he had provided that day. Once the Japanese security services found that the circumstances did match up very closely, they immediately established that the mystery man this time, and the mystery man who had helped them catch the Su family experts last time, were indeed the same!

This also meant that this person's source of information was highly credible!

This immediately triggered the attention of the entire security department.

After the last Tokyo chaos and the tragic case in which Su Ruoli wiped out the Matsumoto family, the Japanese security services had been criticised by the domestic public.

After Su Ruoli's successful escape from prison, the entire department's face was lost.

The original head of the department had resigned long ago, and the new head of the department had been determined from his first day in office that he would not allow that Tokyo fiasco to be repeated under his tenure.

So, since that time, he has drawn up a series of stringent counter-terrorism programmes, even requiring counter-terrorism units across the country to be on 24-hour standby to ensure that no matter where a similar incident occurs in any part of Japan, the nearest counter-terrorism unit will be in place within two hours, while other counter-terrorism units will be in place within four hours.

This time, upon receiving a tip-off, the security services immediately secretly redeployed two counter-terrorism units from Osaka and Nagoya to Iga, sending over two hundred soldiers from both places, as well as more than ten special helicopters.

Before the Fei family's experts had even landed, the Japanese anti-terrorist forces had already set up a heavenly net in Iga.

Ye Chen had thought before that it would be better to reveal the flight information directly to the Japanese homeland security department, just like what he did last time when he messed with the Su family.

That way, this group of experts from the Fei family would be held down by the Japanese security services before they had a chance to get off the plane.

But as he thought about it, this time the situation was very different from last time.

Last time, a group of experts from the Su family had been captured by the Japanese security services after committing a crime in Japan.

But this time, the group of experts from the Fei family had done nothing, and if they were directly held down by the homeland security department, at most, they would be investigated, and after confirming that there was nothing wrong, the Japanese security department would only have two options, either to let them enter the country or to repatriate them.

In that case, things would become insipid.

That was why Ye Chen had decided, by providing a tip-off, to have the Japanese security services squat in Iga in advance.

At that time, once this group of experts from the Fei family met with Japan's homeland security department in Iga, there might be some unusual sparks of friction!

Chapter 4212

The vast majority of the Fei family's top fighters are martial arts experts from all over the world.

In addition to the Chinese martial arts masters, there are also many masters who have studied the martial arts of other countries.

In the international martial arts arena, Korean Taekwondo, Japanese Karate, Ninjutsu, Thai boxing, Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu, as well as European and American Western Boxing and Combat Combat, all of which have a place and are very popular martial arts directions.

Most of these other martial arts, however, do not have a complete internal martial arts method, and most of them have only found a bit of internal martial arts by mistake.

Many Chinese martial arts schools have also gradually lost their internal martial arts techniques, so they have not been able to open up a large gap between their practical combat abilities and other martial arts.

At this stage, there are also many martial arts masters from other countries who have managed to raise their strength to the same level as five or even six-star martial artists in the Chinese martial arts.

It is even said that among the martial arts of other countries, there are also top masters at the Patriarch level, whose true combat power may not be inferior to that of Wan Bajun!

The Fei family, in order to improve its own strength, has accepted almost all the martial arts experts from all walks of life. Among the group of people sent here today, there are nearly ten people whose strength can reach the level of a four-star martial artist, and the rest are all in the two-star and three-star martial artist segment, so their overall combat power is still very strong.

After completing the customs formalities, the group did not dare to delay and immediately took the bus to Iga.

According to their original plan, after arriving in Iga, they would immediately launch an attack on the Iga ninja, directly capturing the thief first, and using it as a bargaining chip to negotiate with Hattori Kazuo and exchange for Fei Hoang.

The Fei family had even arranged a retreat plan in advance. After capturing the man, they would immediately take him to the nearest port and leave Japan by boat to avoid being traced by the Japanese government.

In the world of martial arts, ninjas are not considered strong.

It is only when the ninjas are in the shadows that their strength can be brought into play; once the ninjas are exposed in the open, their combat power is greatly diminished.

Therefore, this group of experts from the Fei family were very sure about this operation.

However, when they arrived in Iga City, they did not know that the Iga ninja compound had already been emptied of its occupants.

Waiting for them here were hundreds of armed and eager anti-terrorist troops.

The last time Su Ruoli escaped from prison and disappeared at sea, it had been a great shame for the Japanese homeland security department.

If Su Ruoli had been unaccounted for, the Japanese side could barely console themselves with the excuse that Su Ruoli was probably dead.

Unfortunately, after the battle of Yelingshan, Su Ruoli suddenly announced in high profile that he had joined the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, which made the Japanese side lose face.

The Japanese side could not do anything about such a huge mercenary organisation, and they only hoped that these mercenaries would never come to Japan to cause trouble.

Therefore, under such circumstances, they did not dare to ask the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple for people.

In fact, they knew very well in their hearts that since the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons was so well-informed, they could not have been unaware of Su Ruoli's feud with the Japanese side, but even under such circumstances, the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons had announced Su Ruoli's membership, so it was clear that it would cover Su Ruoli.

If the Japanese side really approached the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple to ask for someone, they would definitely have a problem with the Temple.

Therefore, the Japanese side simply pretended to be deaf and dumb and did not express any opinion on Su Ruoli's joining the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall.

Chapter 4213

But in doing so, it also caused Japan's homeland security department to be wildly condemned by the domestic public.

The security services, who were holding their breath, had been trying to find an opportunity to turn the tide, but the current Japan, which was peaceful inside and out, had no stage for them to play.

At home, the Ito family has become the number one family in the country by a wide margin, and several major ninja forces are also dependent on the Ito family, so that the big families and ninja forces have completely stopped fighting.

And abroad, since Su Ruoli's escape, there were few forces outside the country that focused their targets on Japan, and all of a sudden the entire security department was hung out to dry on the pillar of shame.

So, this mysterious tip-off became the key to the entire security department's turnaround!

Iga City itself is a very small city, don't look at the name with a city in it, but in fact it is just a few villages merged into one, to say that the population and size of the area is not as large as a township in China.

The majority of the population of this small city of 10,000 people are Japanese farmers who work hard in the surrounding countryside, and there are only 2,000 to 3,000 people living in the city.

Of these two or three thousand people, the Iga family itself accounted for several hundred.

Of the rest, apart from the civil servants, more than half of the ordinary citizens were in the service of the Iga family.

So, in the centre of this small town, most of the mansions were owned by Iga ninja, and the Iga family were the masters of the city.

Now, with the departure of the Iga family as the owners, many of the people in the town who served the Iga family have been given notice to take a leave of absence from their homes.

The town became dead at once.

Moreover, as the place is so small and the only selling point is the Iga ninja, there is little room for the tourist industry to develop both vertically and horizontally, so that there are very few tourists here.

It's night time and there are very few people on the streets, not even a single tourist in sight.

For such a small town, the influx of hundreds of people at one go seemed a bit abrupt in itself.

When the Fei family arrived in dozens of vehicles, the Japanese anti-terrorist forces, who had been ambushed in Iga, had already spotted their presence.

The anti-terrorist forces began to wait for a suitable opportunity to kill the group.

This group of experts sent by the Fei family had also noticed something unusual at this time.

They originally thought that even if Iga City was small, a hundred or so people coming in should still not be too conspicuous.

But now look, the situation was very different from what they had expected.

There were already very few cars coming and going on the street, and as the dozens of them drove into Iga from various intersections one after another, the street was almost full of their cars.

One of the lieutenants felt that something was wrong and said on his mobile phone to the captain of another car, "Boss, why do I feel that something is wrong with this sh*tty place? There's dead air everywhere ....."

"Yes ..... I didn't expect this city to be so cold either ....." that captain was also a bit puzzled, so he just ignored him and spoke, "The Iga ninja's residence is in the centre of the city in Iga-gun Castle, most of the Iga family members live there, including their current generation leader Hattori Hanzo, we must do it as soon as possible later, to catch the people as fast as possible, the city has the advantage of being small, the police here is estimated to add up to no more than fifty people, the armed police is estimated to be even less than twenty people, basically do not have to worry about it. And the traffic is very good here, so it's easier to retreat, so all in all it's good for us!"

Chapter 4214

When they heard him say that, they didn't think any more about it.

By now, however, there was not even a dog in the huge castle of Iga.

However, the city was ablaze with fire.

Just two hours ago, the Koga ninja had been ordered by Nanaiko Ito to sneak into Iga Castle, disguise it as an inhabited area, and prepare a super gift for the Fei family's experts.

Unaware of the deception, the Fei family's group of experts scattered in all directions in the darkness of the night, and without any effort they tumbled through the outer walls into the outer walls of Iga-gun Castle.

At this moment, the anti-terrorist unit was monitoring the group's movements closely through the drones deployed hundreds of metres above the ground. Seeing that they had all quickly infiltrated into Iga-gun Castle, the person in charge of the scene immediately asked the commander: "Sir, the targets have all entered Iga-gun Castle, all helicopters are ready and snipers have occupied all the high points around Iga-gun Castle. We've got all the helicopters ready and snipers at all the high points around Iga-gun Castle.

The commander immediately said, "Don't be in a hurry! It looks like they are targeting the Iga ninja, so since we have a net set up, we might as well wait for them to fight!"

His men hurriedly said, "Sir, if we do it now, we can kill them all before they do, and minimise the damage!"

The commander said in a cold voice, "What will we do now to punish them? Trespa*sing? The public will laugh at us when we announce that we have caught a group of criminals breaking and entering! That's why we must wait for them to make the first move and make a scene before we catch them!"

As soon as the words were spoken, explosions suddenly erupted throughout Iga-gun Castle!

The explosions were so violent that it was as if an earthquake had struck the entire city of Iga, and the castle, which covers hundreds of thousands of square metres, burst into flames in an instant!

There were at least ten explosions in Iga Castle, and the wooden buildings inside, which were at least 300 to 400 years old, were in flames in no time!

The hundred or so Fei family experts who had just sneaked into Iga Castle were instantly killed and injured!

Never in their wildest dreams did these martial arts masters from all over the world expect that instead of long sword-wielding Iga ninjas, powerful and potent explosives awaited them!

More than half of them were seriously injured in the blast alone, and the fires that followed made it difficult for the rest of them to retreat!

In the midst of the flames, desperate screams are heard from time to time, like a purgatory, adding to the chills of the living!

The commander of the Homeland Security Department was watching the scene live on a drone screen and was dumbfounded by the violent explosion.

He had not expected that the Iga ninja would be so unmartial.

Shouldn't a duel between martial arts masters be a cold weapon? How could they blow up like this all of a sudden? How can this be done now?

Hundreds of anti-terrorist elites had been informed in advance, and still managed to let something of this magnitude happen under their noses, if this were to get out, the face of the Homeland Security Department would really not be wanted!

In a moment of nervousness, he said, "How dare these terrorists carry out such a horrific terrorist attack in Japan?"

His men said, "Sir, it doesn't look like they did the explosion, the drone footage shows that they lost a lot of money in the explosion! Maybe it was the Iga ninja!"

The commander immediately said, "Baka! Their original intention was to cause multiple terrorist bombings in Iga City, but thanks to our early detection and the containment of these terrorists in Iga-gun, we were able to force the vicious terrorists to detonate their bombs with the intention of dying with us, and our anti-terrorist elite, under the proper command of Homeland Security, not only did they not suffer any damage, but they also protected the entire population of Iga City, which was an absolutely a perfect anti-terrorist operation!"

Chapter 4215

The Iga ninja, who were sitting on a plane heading to the United States, were all still in a somewhat sad mood.

For the first time in their centuries of existence in Japan, their entire clan has fled from their homeland.

Many of them were still looking forward to the time when they would be able to return to their homeland.

However, they could never have dreamed that their centuries-old home had been blown to pieces at the behest of Ye Chen.

Those who had managed to escape the explosion and the fire were in a state of shock when they suddenly noticed several helicopters flying around them, each one with loaded anti-terrorist elites on both sides.

The bodies of the elite were suspended from the hatches of the helicopters by fixed ropes, with powerful assault rifles in their hands, and the guns were already locked on the deadly experts.

The funny thing was that when these Fei family experts who had managed to escape saw the anti-terrorist forces, the first thought that came to their minds was not one of worry and fear, but of utter relief!

Right now, they felt like complete victims.

They had flown all the way from Japan for more than ten hours, and had just arrived at the place without doing anything, when they were met with such a horrific explosion, which clearly meant that they had been attacked.

Moreover, they didn't know what kind of ambush the Iga ninja had made in addition to the bombs they had planted in their homes, so if these guys had a back-up plan, they were afraid that none of them would be able to escape.

So, when they saw the anti-terrorist forces, their first thought was that they were finally saved!

So, among these Fei family experts, someone actually stood up and waved towards the helicopter, shouting, "We are here! Come and help us!"

Others followed suit and shouted to the anti-terrorist forces for help.

Immediately afterwards, nearly a hundred members of the anti-terrorist unit quickly descended from the helicopter to the ground by the ropes.

Before the Fei family's experts could react, these members of the anti-terrorist unit pointed their guns at them.

"Nobody move, get down on the ground immediately and put your hands up as far as we can see! No one is to resist, or they will be killed!"

The head of the Fei family masters shouted, "This is all a misunderstanding, we are also victims, it was the Iga family ninjas who really planned the explosion!"

These anti-terrorist elites did not listen to their explanations at all and immediately rushed forward and handcuffed them all backhanded, while at the same time using very strong nylon ties to tie their wrists back and forth several times in order to prevent them from breaking free.

Afterwards, a number of special forces vehicles pulled up outside the gates of Iga Prefecture and, at the command of the commander, all of them were taken into the vehicles.

These masters of the Fei family, who had come with a hundred and thirty men, were now brought into the cars, with less than thirty remaining.

Most of the remaining hundred or so were already dead, and only a very small number were seriously injured, making the scene tragic.

Immediately afterwards, a spokesman for Japan's Homeland Security Department issued an emergency announcement to the outside world, which stated that the Homeland Security Department had uncovered a terrorist attack by an offshore terrorist organisation in Iga City tonight.

The brave special forces troops surrounded all the terrorists in a residential house in Iga before they could cause a massive bombing, and then the terrorists detonated their bombs with the intention of dying with the anti-terrorist forces. A great victory.

Chapter 4216

The news immediately exploded into the night in Japan.

After a few months of calm since the last Tokyo chaos, Japan was surprised to see a new terrorist attack today.

However, it is good that their special forces fought bravely and well and prevented the tragedy from happening.

This is indeed a source of immense relief to many Japanese people and has also made a big difference to the impression of the homeland security services.

However, there are still many people who wonder why these terrorists who came from outside the country did not target big cities like Tokyo, Osaka and Nagoya, but instead found a sh*thole between Osaka and Nagoya to carry out a terrorist attack.

This query, too, resonated with a lot of people on the internet.

People really couldn't figure it out, and the feeling was as if a well-organised gang of thieves had travelled thousands of miles to your house and hadn't stolen a single thing before, just an egg from a chicken nest.

The Japanese security services were busy taking the suspects caught on the scene to Osaka for interrogation, and their chief, who was reveling in this turnaround, was at a loss for words when he saw the growing chorus of questions on the internet.

But he didn't dwell too much on this issue, after all, stories are told by people, anyway, he did capture a group of overseas forces, and it's not like he got the actors for these 100-odd people who even died, so this credit could not be erased in any way.

The Japanese government has been paying attention to the public opinion in Japan, and when he saw that they could not even grasp the big gift they had given to the Japanese security services, he was a bit dismayed.

Seeing that the doubts on the internet were getting louder and louder, and the Japanese land department did not come out to explain further, Ye Chen could not help but sweat for them.

So, he immediately called Nanaiko Ito and instructed her to help arrange some water forces and hurry up to find a remedy for the Japanese land security department.

A voice soon emerged on the internet, with people telling netizens as those in the know that the terrorists had in fact only deliberately chosen Iga City, a sh*t-hole, as their base, and that their real aim was to launch terrorist attacks on the two major cities nearby, namely Osaka and Nagoya, in two separate directions as soon as they had finished their assembly and completed all their preparations in Iga City.

It was only because of the early detection of the Japanese territorial security services that these two major cities were spared.

So in this respect, the credit goes to the Japanese land authorities.

When this statement was made, the scepticism was immediately dispelled.

After all, it made sense that Iga City, a sh*t-hole right in the middle of these two major cities, would be the place to hide and plan an attack against them.

The internet was full of praise for the Homeland Security Department.

At this point, the Homeland Security Department itself was puzzled, they hadn't even thought of such a statement, but they didn't expect someone to find such a good solution for them, isn't this just like having a pillow handed to you when you are asleep?

So, they simply packaged the rhetoric and immediately released it.

With this, the situation was instantly stabilised.

At the same time, the news from Japan also reached the ears of the Fei family.

Fei Xuebin hurriedly ran to his father, Fei Shanhai, panting, and said, "Dad! Something big has happened again!"

Chapter 4217

Seeing Fei Xue Bin's panicked look, Fei Shanhai couldn't help but frown and say, "How many times do I have to tell you? Can't you have any composure! You're the eldest son of the Fei family, and you're in a state of disarray when something happens. If outsiders find out, where will you put your face?"

Fei Xuebin didn't bother to explain, swallowed his saliva and said in a panic, "Dad! Something big has happened in Japan!"

Fei Shanhai looked at the time and said, "What's the big deal? They've just reported their progress to me, so they should have just started to penetrate the Iga ninja's compound by now. What's the big deal? Could it be that they've spooked the snake?"

"Not ....." Fei Xuebin said offhandedly, "Japan's homeland security department has released news that there has been a terrorist attack in Iga-gun Castle, where the Iga ninja are based, and that a group of terrorists from outside the country, intent on causing Terrorist attacks were discovered by the Japanese Homeland Security Department in advance, and the terrorists ended up killing and injuring most of themselves due to the explosive bombs in a vain attempt to die with the anti-terrorist forces, and the rest were all caught!”

The first thing that came to Fei Shanhai’s mind when he heard this was that all the elites he had sent out were elites, and there was no way they could have gone wrong.

So, he said with some anger, “What’s the situation? These guys blew up all the Iga ninja? These b*****ds, I told them not to make too much noise in Japan! Don’t make too much noise in Japan! Let them get the people out of Japan first, what the hell is wrong with them?”

Fei Xuebin said tearfully, “Dad, you didn’t understand, the Japanese Homeland Security Department said it was terrorists from outside Japan! Those who were killed and injured were also foreign terrorists! It’s not the Iga ninja, it’s our people!”

“What?!” Fei Shanhai’s eyes went black and he asked, “Are you saying that half of our men were killed or injured? How did they die?!”

Fei Xuebin said, “The news said that our men had prepared bombs in advance to carry out a terrorist attack, and when they were discovered, they detonated the bombs to die together!”

“Bullsh*t!” Fei Shanhai roared in anger, “All the people I sent there are all martial arts masters, how could they possibly use bombs to carry out an attack? Even if they had bombs, they couldn’t have brought them into Japan by plane.

Fei Xuebin said helplessly, “Dad, that’s what it said on the news. I’ve already had people contact the people we sent there, and none of them have been able to get in touch. I’m worried that they are really in a bad way .....”

Fei Shanhai grabbed his treasured alabaster pot and viciously slammed it to the ground, roaring in anger, “D*mn it! Are the Iga ninja determined to go to war with my Fei family?! This must be a trap laid by those dogs! Not only did they kill our men, but they made our men take the blame! What an outrage!”

After saying this, he looked at Fei Xuebin and ordered through clenched teeth, “Hurry up and have someone go and get information first, I want to know what the casualties are, how many of our men have died, how many have been injured and how many have been captured!”

Fei Xuebin hurriedly said, “Dad, I have contacted the Japanese intelligence officers and asked them to go and find out.”

Fei Shanhai added, “Make sure to erase the records of their gang as well as their exit records, we must not let this matter implicate our Fei family! If the Japanese land security department follows this line of theirs to the Fei family, we can’t even bite the bullet and admit it!”

“Besides, since Japan has announced that our men are terrorists, they must be ready to plant evidence to frame us. So find a way to give them a message, as long as they don’t bite the Fei family out, the settlement fee will be twenty million dollars per person!”

Fei Xuebin said worriedly, "Dad, I'm afraid now that one of them won't be able to carry the interrogation and has already put us down!"

Chapter 4218

"There's no need to worry too much about that." Fei Shanhai said in a cold voice, "They are all smart people, their families are out there, if they go against us, they will make his family suffer in minutes, at such a time they will definitely keep their mouths shut and then wait for news from us, as long as our conditions satisfy them, they will not give us up even if they die."

Fei Xuebin sighed slightly in relief and asked, "Dad, what about the Iga ninja? They dare to fight us to the death like this, they seem to be prepared!"

Fei Shanhai sighed and said resentfully, "This matter can only be put aside for the time being and considered in the long run, otherwise once we push the other side, they will probably hurt Ho-Yeung, our priority is not to deal with the Iga ninja, but to do everything we can to get Ho-Yeung back!"

Fei Xuebin said worriedly, "Dad, the other side only gave us 48 hours, if we can't get the 200 billion USD cryptocurrency, Hao Yang will be in danger ....."

Fei Shanhai nodded and gritted his teeth, "Don't worry, if there's really no other way, I can give him two hundred billion dollars of cryptocurrency, it's a lot of money, but the Fei family can still afford it! But this money, even if he has the life to earn it, he will definitely not have the life to spend it!"

At this moment, Providence, which was more than two hundred kilometres away from New York.

Ye Chen was sitting alone on the sofa of the hotel, casually looking at the time on his phone.

There were less than 24 hours left before the 48-hour time limit he had given the Fei family.

Once the final time had passed, he would have to launch a final general attack on the Fei family.

Thus, he began the next phase of his deployment.

The first thing Ye Chen did was to once again have Nanae Ito let the word out to inform the public that this bombing in Iga-gun Castle was inextricably linked to the Iga ninja, that the truth of the matter was that the Iga ninja were in cahoots with this group of terrorists, and that according to reliable information, the Iga ninja had already fled Japan ahead of them.

The reason why he had to do this was because Ye Chen intended to completely pull the entire Iga ninja down.

Once this news was released, the claim that the Iga ninja had left Japan ahead of schedule would soon be confirmed.

At that time, everyone would think that the Iga ninja were indeed in contact with these terrorists, so that it was unlikely that the Iga ninja would ever return to Japan in their lifetime.

Apart from that, Ye Chen also gave He Zhiqiu a call.

During the call, he asked He Zhiqiu about the location of the cargo ship that was heading to Syria to deliver food.

He Zhiqiu told him that the cargo ship was pa*sing through Sri Lanka and entering the Arabian Sea, and would be sailing into the Gulf of Aden in a few days' time.

Ye Chen immediately instructed her, "Zhiqiu, 24 hours later, you should have the cargo ship anchored in place, and I will ask the head of the armed escort of the Wan Long Temple to contact you."

He Zhiqiu did not know the reason, but agreed to do so immediately, and then made a phone call to have the cargo ship temporarily anchored in the waters near Sri Lanka.

After that, Ye Chen called Wan Jun again and instructed him, "Jun, the cargo ship carrying the grain will stop in the sea near Sri Lanka in 24 hours, you should first arrange a plane to wait in Colombo, after the cargo ship stops, you send a helicopter to bring Fei Jianzhong, Fei Kexin and Su Ruoli to Colombo, after arriving in Colombo, have them fly to New York to meet me."

Without thinking, Wan Bajun said, "I will do as you say."

Chapter 4219

The eastern waters of Sri Lanka at this time.

Due to the time difference, the sun is just kissing the western sea level, even though it is getting late in the evening in Japan.

The sunset is a glorious sight, colouring the entire sea level a fiery red.

A great variety of seabirds soar in the sky, while on either side of the bow many dolphins chase the cargo ship with gusto and occasionally leap out of the water.

It was a rare sight that had long been familiar to the crew, who were often at sea, but for Fei Ke Xin it was a sight she had never seen before.

Standing at the bow of the ship, Fei Ke Xin's mood was immediately lighter as she gazed at the stunning view.

These days, drifting aimlessly on the sea, and with no news from the outside world, had left her in a state of constant mental disarray.

Not only her, but also the aged Fei Jianzhong had been in a state of disarray for some time.

He has not been able to let go of his feelings, and he sighs and laments all day long.

What Fei Ke Xin could not let go of was the inexplicable missing of Ye Chen in her heart.

She always unconsciously brings up Ye Chen's image in her mind, and then she loses interest in everything at once, involuntarily fast-forwarding through the whole process of her acquaintance with Ye Chen in her brain again.

At this moment, as she looked at the stunning sunset over the sea, she unconsciously thought of Ye Chen again, and even sighed in her heart, "If only Ye Chen were here too ..... In that case, no matter where this ship sailed to, I wouldn't be worried and nervous... .."

At this time, Su Ruoli stepped up to her side and spoke, "Miss Fei, it's time to go back to the cabin, the seamen will come up for a routine inspection later."

During these days at sea, she and Su Ruoli had become familiar with each other, and the two had become friends.

Fei Ke Xin nodded gently and asked her, "Ruo Li, have you ever been to sea before?"

"Sort of. ...." Su Ruoli smiled faintly, "After my accident in Japan, it was Mr. Ye who saved me from the sea."

Fei Ke Xin sighed, "It seems we both owe him a great debt of gratitude."

"Yes." Su Ruoli said seriously, "I have decided that I will follow Ye Xian for the rest of my life to take effect as a dog and horse, and I hope to do more for him."

Fei Ke Xin nodded and said, "I also have the same thoughts as you, I just don't know if I still have this chance."

Su Ruoli said, "Of course there is! You're so smart and have seen so much of the world, you're a high-end talent that Mr. Ye is desperately in need of."

Fei Ke Xin sighed and said helplessly, "But my status is too special now, my eldest uncle must be looking for my whereabouts everywhere, if he knows that it was Mr Ye who saved me and grandpa, I'm afraid it will only bring trouble to Mr Ye."

Su Ruoli comforted, "You don't need to think so much about it now, when you get to Syria, just settle down for now and take care of your grandfather, there might be a chance to turn things around in the future."

"Mmm!" Fei Ke Xin nodded heavily and said with a longing face, "I hope there is still a chance in the future!"

At this moment, Fei Ke Xin did not know that there were now less than 48 hours left before she returned to New York.

A few hours later in New York, USA.

Three Boeing 777s, finally landed at New York's JFK airport.

The Iga ninja and their families had just left customs when they were taken away separately by generals from the Hall of Dragons.

All the adult males were taken to Long Beach, while the old and sick were all placed in an estate in the suburbs.

Hattori Hanzo was taken with his clan to the villa that Manabu had rented in Long Beach, and met his son, Hattori Kazuo, here.

Chapter 4220

When father and son met, they were naturally overcome with sorrow and tears.

Hattori Hanzo said with regret, "Kazuo ..... If I had known that the trip to America would turn out to be so bad, I would never have sent you here ....."

Speaking of this, Hattori Hanzo sighed, "Now hundreds of people have been reduced to being uprooted from their homes, and there is no telling when they will be able to go back ....."

"Go back?" Hattori Kazuo let out a bitter laugh and said, "Dad, we will never be able to go back to Japan in this lifetime."

Hattori Hanzo asked in surprise, "Why?"

Hattori Kazuo asked him, "You haven't received the news yet, have you?"

Surprised, Hattori Hanzo asked, "Has something happened?"

Hattori Kazuo nodded, unable to hide his pain and said, "Our castle, Iga-gun, is in ruins ....."

"What?" Hattori Hanzo's jaw dropped as he listened and blurted out, "We just left the Prefecture not long ago, everything in the Prefecture was still in good condition when we left, how could it be in ruins?"

Seeing that his father knew nothing about what was happening in Japan, Hattori Kazuo hurriedly told Hattori Hanzo all the news he had received.

After hearing this, Hattori Hanzo's whole eyes went black and he nearly fell over.

A few moments later, he came back to his senses and said with a face full of pain, "The county castle was built brick by brick by my Iga ninja ancestors ..... after so many years of hardship, but ..... it was turned into ashes overnight! ..... After I die, how can I face the Iga ninja ancestors ....."

The Hattori Kazuo said helplessly, "Dad, this situation, we can escape from Japan is already very good, now the homeland security department identified us and the Fei family masters are in cahoots, also identified us suspected of creating terrorist attacks, now in Japan, we have become a shouting street rat... .."

Hattori Hanzo said, "Issue a statement! Say that we had nothing to do with the deaths of these people!"

Hattori Kazuo said, "How can we do that? ..... If you issue a statement now, we can't explain to Mr. Ye, not to mention whether the Japanese government will believe us! To disobey Mr. Ye will end up much worse than becoming a street rat ....."

After hearing this, Hattori Hanzo's heart was instantly overwhelmed with grief.

Although the destruction of the centuries-old county castle caused him immense heartache, the buildings could at least be rebuilt when they were destroyed.

However, now the entire Iga ninja had taken on a heavy burden of blackness, which, once taken on, would likely be for life .....

He immediately covered his face in pain and wailed under his breath, "I am sorry to the Iga ninja and to the ancestors ....."

Hattori Kazuo rushed to comfort him, "Dad, now is not the time to think about that, our priority now is to hurry up and fully cooperate with Mr. Ye's next arrangement, if we really become the credit of Master Fei to regain the great power, even if we can never return to Japan in the future, it doesn't matter, we can still make the Iga ninja bigger and stronger overseas!"

Hattori Hanzo nodded approvingly and asked after him, "By the way, Mr. Ye asked us to come here, what exactly are his orders?!"

Ichio Hattori shook his head, "I'm not sure, but whatever Mr. Ye tells us to do, we'll do what he tells us to do.

Hattori Hanzo nodded and said, "You are right, that's all we can do now."

As soon as the words left his mouth, Wan Bajun came over and said to the two of them, "Mr. Ye has ordered you to make a video immediately, claiming that the Fei family masters are close partners of your Iga ninja, and that the Iga ninja are responsible for the explosion in Iga City and the premeditated attacks on Osaka and Nagoya!"
