

Ye Chen 4431

Chapter 4431

Gu Qiuyi was astonished and asked, "Qiang-zi, get up first, tell me properly, what happened?"

Keung said in tears, "Uncle Chung was taken away by the police, they said they were going to hand him over to the Immigration Department because someone had reported him to the Immigration Department for staying illegally, the police also said that in five days at the most, Uncle Chung would be deported back to Hong Kong Island ....."

Gu Qiuyi asked offhandedly, "How could this happen? Is it that Liu Sheng who is up to something?!"

"I think so!" Keung nodded repeatedly and choked back a sob, "Earlier when some cops came to the shop to investigate you and Young Master Ye, Uncle Chung was afraid of exposing the information, so he destroyed the hard drive of the CCTV footage in advance, allowing the cops to pounce on the situation. As a result, immediately afterwards, Uncle Chung himself started packing his luggage and said he was going to entrust the roast goose shop to me, so I guess he realized that the American cops would go to the cops on Hong Kong Island to investigate his whereabouts were also in the hands of that Liu surname ....."

Gu Qiuyi said with a serious expression, "It seems that after all these years, the one surnamed Liu is still not willing to let go of Uncle Zhong ....."

Saying that, she immediately said to Qiang-zai again, "Qiang-zai, don't be anxious and don't panic first, isn't there still a few days left, I will find a way to solve this matter!"

Qiang said nervously, "Miss Gu, the cop who took Uncle Zhong is quite nice, but I'm afraid that Liu has already paid off the higher-up cops in New York, what if they do something special and send Uncle Zhong back tonight?"

Gu Qiuyi said seriously, "Resolving illegal detention is a judicial process with clear legal provisions, it's impossible to arrest today and send him away tonight, if the NYPD dares to do something against this process, I will definitely protest to the New York City government, don't worry."

With that, she turned to Chen Duoduo and said, "Duoduo, you ask our lawyer from the American side to go to the NYPD, say that we have accepted the commission from Uncle Zhong to handle this matter for him, the lawyer has the right to see the client and also has the right to ask them to announce the law enforcement process, when they see the lawyer involved, they surely won't dare to act in a reckless manner."

Chen Duo Duo hurriedly said, "I'll call the lawyer right now!"

"Good." Gu Qiuyi followed up by saying to Qiangzi, "Qiangzi, you have to trust brother Ye Chen, with his ability, that Liu definitely wouldn't dare to do anything to Uncle Zhong."

Qiang Zai did not know Ye Chen well, so he said with great concern, "I don't have Young Master Ye's contact information ..... I also don't know if Young Master Ye will be willing to intervene ....."

"Definitely will." Gu Qiuyi smiled faintly and said comfortingly, "I believe that in this world, there is no matter that Brother Ye Chen can't handle!"

Saying that, Gu Qiuyi took out her mobile phone and tapped it while saying, "I'll send a message to brother Ye Chen about this matter now, I'm sure he'll have a solution!"

The Buckingham Palace Hotel, where Ye Chen and Xiao Churan were staying, was not too far from the performance venue.

At this moment, he had already driven his car to the entrance of the hotel and handed it over to the little brother who parked the car.

After walking into the lift with Xiao Churan, he received a message from Gu Qiuyi, whose message was short and concise and read, "Brother Ye Chen, Uncle Zhong has been arrested and will be deported back to Hong Kong Island soon!"

When he saw this line, the first thing that came to Ye Chen's mind was that he and Gu Qiuyi had harmed him.

He thought, "A place like Chinatown is a small, relatively closed society, where there are a large number of illegal residents and illegal immigrants, and the police generally do not ask about things here. led to Uncle Chung's own identity being exposed."

"And that Liu Sheng on Hong Kong Island has always regarded Uncle Zhong as the shame of his life, once he learns of his current situation, he will definitely find a way to have the American side deport Uncle Zhong back."

"Although he had an agreement with Uncle Gu before that as long as Uncle Zhong did not return to Hong Kong Island, he would no longer make things difficult for him, but he is now using this method to force Uncle Zhong to have to go back, as long as Uncle Zhong's feet are on the ground in Hong Kong Island, that Liu surnamed will not be breaking his promise to Uncle Gu in the first place if he finds someone to kill him, and then Uncle Gu will not have any reason to go after him ....."

Thinking of this, Ye Chen couldn't help but sneer, "This Liu guy, he really has a good plan!"

Chapter 4432

To that Liu Sheng of Hong Kong Island, Ye Chen did not have a half good impression.

This is not because of what he did to Uncle Zhong, because Ye Chen is fair and objective, although Uncle Zhong is the weaker party in this matter, but the fault of this matter is really on Uncle Zhong's shoulders.

It was only natural for that Liu Sheng to want to take revenge on Uncle Zhong for the sake of his dignity and reputation.

However, the point that Ye Chen was most unhappy with was the man's insubordination.

According to the dictation of Uncle Zhong in the roast goose shop at that time, when the earliest incident occurred, Uncle Zhong had called his own father, Ye Chang Ying, for help at the first opportunity.

His own father, in turn, immediately flew to Hong Kong Island and reached an agreement with Liu Sheng to let Uncle Chung off the hook for his own sake.

But not long after that, his father had a conflict with his grandfather and took Ye Chen and his mother to settle in Jinling, after which his parents were killed in a shipwreck.

The first thing that the man named Liu did after learning of his father's death was to go back on his word.

He completely disregarded the agreement he had made with his father and almost immediately had to send a large number of people to hunt down Uncle Zhong all over the world.

The reason why he gave up for the time being was because Gu Yanzhong took over for his father.

Fortunately, when Gu Yanzhong became seriously ill, Gu Qiuyi found Ye Chen.

Otherwise, in case Gu Yanzhong fell ill and died, after the surname Liu found out about it, he would definitely go back on his word again as well.

In that case, Uncle Zhong would have been killed off by the a*sa*sin who coveted the bounty.

Moreover, that Liu, surnamed Liu, was now preparing to use a curve to get around his promise to Gu Yanzhong, which made Ye Chen despise his character even more.

Not being moral and not respecting promises, this was the key to Ye Chen's greatest dissatisfaction with him.

Therefore, Ye Chen immediately sent a text message back to Gu Qiuyi, which was also very concise, with only six words, "Don't worry, I have everything."

On the other side, after Gu Qiuyi saw Ye Chen's reply to the text message, a heart fell completely.

She simply handed her mobile phone to Qiang Zai, pointed at Ye Chen's message and said with a proud face, "Look, I told you, brother Ye Chen won't just sit back and do nothing! Just relax and wait, brother Ye Chen will definitely be able to solve this matter perfectly, and maybe after this matter is over, Uncle Zhong won't have to hide in the east for the rest of his life!"

Qiang Chai's whole body was shocked and happy, while also asking with a hint of confusion, "Miss Gu, is Young Master Ye really that capable? I have followed the news of that Liu Sheng on the internet, he is a very powerful figure, he used to be one of the biggest property developers in Hong Kong Island, and later became a shipping tycoon in Hong Kong Island, after the Li family in Hong Kong Island went to England, he is almost the richest tycoon in Hong Kong Island ..... Strength through the sky... .."

Chapter 4433

"It doesn't matter." Gu Qiuyi said very firmly, "In your eyes he has unparalleled strength, in brother Ye Chen's eyes, he is a scum!"

On the other side.

After Ye Chen and Xiao Churan returned to their room, while Xiao Churan was preparing to put the water in the bath, he walked up to the terrace alone and called Gu Qiuyi back.

As soon as the call came through, he asked, "Nui Nui, is Qiang Zai still at your place?"

Gu Qiuyi said, "I just had someone send him back. By the way, Brother Ye Chen, what's going on tonight? Duo Duo said that a lot of people died tonight, even that Inspector Li was killed?"

Ye Chen gave a hmp and described the situation to her over the phone.

After hearing this, Gu Qiuyi exclaimed, "My goodness, how could there be such cruel bandits ....."

Saying that, she said rather self-critically, "Brother Ye Chen, do you think it could be that there is a mole in my team? Otherwise how could this group of people work so well together? Surprisingly, they attacked when the background music was at its strongest, so it's probably because they had figured out the flow of the concert in advance ....."

"It's not necessarily true." Ye Chen lightly said: "At present, the one who can be identified as the mole is that third aunt of mine, but she is dead, I guess the bandits simply do not know the flow of your concert, nor do they know when the background music is at its strongest, the reason why they can grasp the timing so precisely must still be because that third aunt of mine was tipped off inside, it should be because she felt the time was right and then informed the gang of bandits."

Gu Qiuyi said, "But didn't you say that your third aunt had a shielding device on her? If you bring her with a shielding device, then she has no way to contact the bandits herself. ...."

Ye Chen couldn't help but laugh lightly, "Why are you being a stickler? I speculate that she has been waiting for the right time, and when the time comes, she will first send a message to inform the bandits, and then turn on the shielding device immediately afterwards, after all, the bandits only used less than a minute to kill up, such a short shielding time, the An family members who were focused on watching the show might wouldn't have noticed it at all."

Gu Qiuyi suddenly realized and spoke, "Then it seems they just want to kill the entire An family all at once, in that case, that third aunt of yours will have completed her mission and will be able to evaporate along with them ....."

"Right." Ye Chen sighed, "I really didn't expect that with the An family being so powerful today, there are still people who want their lives all the time, I'm afraid that this organization is much stronger than I thought."

Gu Qiuyi was busy asking, "Then what should we do? If we don't find out, I'm afraid your grandparents' family will always be in danger, right?"

Chapter 4433

"It doesn't matter." Gu Qiuyi said very firmly, "In your eyes he has unparalleled strength, in brother Ye Chen's eyes, he is a scum!"

On the other side.

Gu Qiuyi was busy asking, "Then what should we do? If we don't find out, I'm afraid your grandparents' family will always be in danger, right?"

Chapter 4435

Originally, Ye Chen had planned to let Uncle Zhong continue to live in Chinatown in peace and quiet first, and then he would take the time to go to Hong Kong Island in the future to settle his affairs.

However, since that Liu Sheng was so indolent and took the initiative to cause some trouble, he could only go to Hong Kong Island to meet him first.

Hong Kong Island was a long way from the United States, and an ordinary plane would take at least ten hours each way, plus it would take time to deal with the matter, so Ye Chen estimated that he would have to leave the United States for at least three to five days or even longer.

The person he was most at ease with was Xiao Churan.

Although he had long arranged for the female generals of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall to secretly protect him, he was still worried about leaving Xiao Churan alone in the United States to study and live.

At the moment, Xiao Changkun was still in Korea for cultural exchanges, so the only person who could really come to the US to accompany Xiao Churan for a few days was his mother-in-law, Ma Lan.

However, if he directly told Xiao Churan that he was going to Hong Kong Island and then needed to invite his mother-in-law over to accompany her, Ye Chen felt that it was somewhat stiff.

But if he went to discuss it with Xiao Churan, then Xiao Churan might not necessarily toss his mother-in-law over, there would only be two options, one was to persuade himself not to go to Hong Kong Island; the other was to tell himself to go to Hong Kong Island without worrying, she would have no problem alone.

Moreover, Ye Chen estimated that Ma Lan did not want to come to the United States now.

She was alone in Jinling, with a luxury car and a mansion, and hundreds of thousands of dollars in pocket money, she must be having a great time, and if she was really allowed to come to America, she was afraid that she wouldn't be happy about it.

So, Ye Chen began to calculate in his mind that he could first find some excuse to get his mother-in-law, Ma Lan, to come over, and then take the opportunity to tell Xiao Churan that he had a client in Hong Kong Island, and it so happened that Ma Lan was also coming, so he would first go to Hong Kong Island for a few days and let Ma Lan stay here with her.

As for how to get Ma Lan over from China, Ye Chen was not worried at all, he knew Ma Lan too well and only needed to make a slight trick to trap Ma Lan.

So, he immediately called Song Wanting and said, "Wanting, I need your help with something."

Without thinking, Song Wanting said, "Master Ye, whatever you need, just give me an order."

Ye Chen was not polite, so he told Song Wanting about his plan.

After listening, Song Wanting immediately said, "Don't worry, Master Ye, I will definitely complete the task."

Meanwhile.

On the other side of the world, in China, it was mid-morning.

Ma Lan was lying on the luxurious king-size bed in the Thomson Villa and slept until after ten o'clock.

Ever since Ye Chen and Xiao Churan had left for the United States and Xiao Changkun had left for Korea, Ma Lan had been tantamount to letting herself go.

She was living in a big mansion in Townsend, driving a Rolls-Royce Cullinan, and had half a million dollars in her bank card from Ye Chen, so her days were simply too good.

At this time, Ma Lan had not yet woken up when her mobile phone buzzed incessantly.

She picked up the phone sleepily and asked, "Who is it? Are you tired of calling early in the morning?"

On the other end of the line, Qian Hongyan's flattering voice came through, "Sister Lan, it's me, Qian Hongyan! It's already this time and you're still up?"

Ever since Qian Hongyan came back, she had been treating Ma Lan as a big family member, and recently, she had been coming to her every day, not only kissing Ma Lan's a*s, but also following her around like a little follower, carrying her bag when she went out, opening the door when she got into the car, and even when Ma Lan went to the toilet, she would take an extra copy of toilet paper and keep watch at the door, afraid that there wouldn't be enough paper for Ma Lan inside.

Chapter 4436

In the past, Ma Lan was always bullied by Qian Hongyan when she was in the Xiao family, and she had a lot of grudges against her, but now Qian Hongyan came over to her like a dog and flattered her, which instantly magnified her vanity and gave her a feeling of pleasure to turn over a new leaf, so she was happy to hang out with Qian Hongyan every day.

For Ma Lan, only when Qian Hongyan was fawning over her could she really feel that she, Ma Lan, was not the same as she used to be.

So, when she heard Qian Hongyan's voice on the other end of the phone, she said with a grunt, "I haven't slept yet, what time is it?"

Qian Hongyan said, "It's almost eleven o'clock! Didn't you say yesterday that you wanted to go to the mall today? I've got it all ready, right in front of your house! Are we still going today?"

Only then did Ma Lan come to her senses and blurted out, "Oh, no! I forgot about that! I was going to buy a necklace at Harbour City, I feel like there's something missing around my neck lately."

Qian Hongyan said with a smile, "You always drive a Cullinan and carry a Hermes, but all you need is a more elegant necklace! What brand do you want to see?"

Ma Lan said casually, "Anything from Bulgari, Tiffany, Cartier, I'm not picky, as long as it's a first-tier brand."

Qian Hongyan immediately patted a horse's a*s, "You have a good eye, with your temperament, you need these first-rate brands to match.

After that, Qian Hongyan sighed and said, "You are lucky to live in a luxury house, drive a luxury car and wear top luxury goods, you are a winner in life. I'll ask Weiwei for some money later and buy a silver chain from a stall to wear ....."

Ma Lan thought: "This Qian Hongyan really has the self-awareness to know that she is only lined with a Chow Tai Fook, she is Chow Tai Fook, I am Bulgari ..... tsk, this level is immediately pulled out of many layers."

Thinking of this, Ma Lan rarely said openly: "Look at what you said, you are also my Ma Lan's sister-in-law, how can you be reduced to going to the stall to buy silver chains!"

With that, Ma Lan sat on the bed. When he got up, he said in a good mood, "We'll go to Harbour City later, and after picking out necklaces with me, we'll go to Chow Tai Fook, and I'll give you a necklace!"

"Aigoooooooo!" Qian Hongyan asked excitedly, "Sister Lan, you're not deliberately making fun of me, are you? Are you really going to give me a necklace?"

Ma Lan said seriously, "I never brag, I'll give you a necklace for $10,000 or more."

Qian Hongyan said happily, "Yes! Sister Lan is more open-minded than you! When are you going to get up? I'll walk you around Shanghai!"

Ma Lan rolled out of bed and said, "Wait for me, I'll go wash up and clean up!"

Half an hour later, the electric gate of the villa slowly opened and Ma Lan drove the Rolls Royce Cullinan out from inside.

Qian Hongyan looked at the imposing front of the Rolls-Royce and the way Ma Lan drove in the car, her heart was sour and angry, and she couldn't help but mutter, "Just that little frustrated child of Ma Lan's, how dare she drive the Cullinan? ..."

At that moment, Ma Lan pulled up in front of her, poked her head out and greeted her, "Hongyan, hurry up and get in."

"Yes!" Qian Hongyan immediately put the sour taste in her heart to the back of her mind and got into the car with a flattering smile, "Sister Lan, this car really matches your temperament, it's so dominant! When you sit in it, it's a perfect match!"

Ma Lan raised her eyebrows and smiled, saying proudly, "That's right! When Xiao Changkun comes back, I'll tell him that I'll drive this car from now on, so he can buy another one for himself!"

After saying that, he drove the car and made his way out of Townsend One.

As Ma Lan drove out, a man in a black SUV at the entrance of Townsend One, picked up his mobile phone and made a call.

Once the call came through, he said respectfully, "Missy, the target is driving out."

On the other end of the phone, Song Wanting's voice came through, "Keep an eye on her!"

Chapter 4437

Ma Lan drove the overbearing Rolls-Royce Cullinan all the way to Jinling Harbour City.

After carefully reversing the car a dozen times in the underground garage before finally parking it, she went to the ground floor with Qian Hongyan.

The ground floor of Harbour City was almost full of first-tier luxury brands.

Half of them were clothing and bag brands, such as LV and Gucci, and the other half were jewellery, such as Bulgari and Cartier.

As soon as Ma Lan arrived, she dragged Qian Hongyan to Bulgari's shop first.

It's not that Bulgari is much better than other brands, but mainly because Ma Lan likes the name Bulgari and thinks it's a festive name.

The two of them entered Bulgari, Ma Lan went straight to the middle counter, then sat down on the high stool in front of the counter, her right hand first slapped the Rolls Royce car keys on the counter, and her left hand put the Hermes handbag that Ye Chen gave her before on top of the counter.

When the sales lady saw this, she thought she had a big customer, so she hurried over and said very respectfully, "Hello lady, welcome to Bulgari, I don't know what you want to see?"

Ma Lan cleared her throat and said with an arrogant face, "Ahem, what nice necklaces do you have at home, bring them out for me to pick."

The shop assistant nodded her head, then turned to the male shop assistant and said, "Jack, prepare two bottles of sparkling water imported from Spain for the customers, and bring the latest perfume samples for the two of you to try."

The male shop assistant immediately did as he was told, while Ma Lan sighed in her heart, "This is a big brand after all! This service is really no one else!"

Qian Hongyan stood behind Ma Lan, her heart also sighed: "I think back when the Xiao family still had money, I was also treated like this when I visited this kind of shop, but now I fell to our shop, I actually feel nervous, really fallen phoenix is not as good as chicken ah."

The female shop assistant took out a tray full of necklaces at this time and placed it in front of Ma Lan, saying respectfully, "Madam here are all our latest necklaces, there are many newest models from the classic series, you can have a look."

Ma Lan nodded and pointed at one of the diamond pendants and said, "I think this one is good, what is the price of this one?"

The shop assistant took a look at the price tag and said, "The necklace you are looking at is priced at 118,800, it is made of an 18-carat gold necklace with a South African diamond pendant, the diamonds are all broken, but the cut is perfect, so the shine is very good and it shines very well when you put it on."

The price of over 110,000 was just the ideal price for Ma Lan in her mind.

After all, Ye Chen and Xiao Churan had left her 500,000 pocket money when they first left, so if she bought a necklace that was too expensive and took up too much of her budget, it would have an impact on her spending later in life.

The price range of a hundred thousand or so would be very friendly, and with her current financial resources, after buying a necklace for a hundred thousand or so, the rest of the money would be enough for her to spend in style until Ye Chen returned.

So she said to the shop assistant, "Here, help me wear it for a while and I'll see how it looks."

The shop assistant was about to help Ma Lan put on the necklace when the mobile phone on her desk suddenly vibrated, and the person who called was the shop manager of the shop, who was also her top boss.

So she apologised and said to Ma Lan, "Just a moment, ma'am, I'll take a call from our manager, sorry."

When Ma Lan entered this kind of big brand shop, her quality was raised a few points along with her, and she said readily, "It's fine, it's fine, you take it first."

The female shopper picked up the phone and walked to the side, listening to the shop manager on the phone instructing, "Xiao Liu, you must make that woman spend as much money as possible later, if you can make her spend 300,000 in our shop, you will be rewarded 50,000, if you can make her spend 500,000 in our shop, you will be rewarded 100,000!"

When the shop assistant heard this, she couldn't help but steal a glance at Ma Lan over here. Although she didn't know why the shop manager was concerned about this woman, she realized in her heart that this was a good opportunity to make money, so she whispered, "Don't worry, I know."

Chapter 4438

After saying that, she hung up the phone, stepped in front of Ma Lan and said with a smile, "Madam, come, let me try it on for you."

Nodding, Ma Lan put the necklace on with the help of the guide and looked at it in the mirror.

The 18-carat gold chain itself was not worth a few dollars, and the pendant full of broken diamonds also did not cost much, so these two together were probably only a fraction of the selling price.

However, what Ma Lan is looking for is not value for money, but the face-to-price ratio.

Value for money is the ratio between the performance and the price of a product, the better the performance the better the price.

Even if a cotton T-shirt costing no more than a hundred dollars was sold for eight thousand, as long as the brand logo on the chest was dignified enough, it was worth it in Marashi's eyes.

After examining the necklace for a while, Ma Lan found that it was indeed sparkling, with almost every prong bursting with dazzling splendour in the light of the jewellery shop.

She was so impressed that she said almost immediately, "I'll take this one, wrap it up for me!"

The saleswoman couldn't help but say, "Madam, to speak from the heart, I feel that this necklace doesn't match your temperament."

"What do you mean?" Ma Lan frowned and asked, "Are you saying that I don't match such an expensive necklace?"

The shop assistant hurriedly waved her hands and said, "No, no! That's not what I meant! From the moment you walked in the door, I could tell that you had a noble aura about you, and to be honest, in all the years I've worked at Bulgari, I've never seen such a classy customer like you."

The other party's sudden flattery immediately sent Marashi into a frenzy.

Ma Lan couldn't stop smiling and said, "Aigoo, you're really good at talking, although I do have a good temperament, but after all, I'm too old to compete with the younger ones ....."

The female shopper was busy saying, “You are really modest, you are much more temperamental than those 20-something female celebrities I have seen.”

“Really?” Ma Lan looked at herself in the mirror with surprise, how she felt that her temperament was indeed very good, and said with a smile, “Aiya, to say this thing about temperament, it’s really not just a matter of being young, young people only dress up and have no charm!”

Qian Hongyan, who was listening to her, was dry-heaving.

In her heart, Ma Lan that little temperament, on the weighing Missy also can not exceed three or five, of course, if we are talking about shrewish temperament, that is really the force of the mountain and the gas.

At this time, the female shopper said with a serious face: “Madam, to be honest, you have such a good temperament, and also drive a Rolls Royce so top car, even the bags are also Hermes, almost is already the top of the top, this necklace if you wear a hundred thousand or so, simply does not set off your temperament, or even wear it might as well not wear.”

When Ma Lan heard this, she subconsciously asked, “Really? This is more than 100,000 .....

The woman shopper was busy: “To be honest with you, I have been working here for a long time and have seen a lot, many customers who spend more than 100,000 to buy a necklace, in fact, most of them are well-off families, buying a necklace of more than 100,000 is hard on the head, most of them drive cars of less than 500,000, to put it bluntly, they are all masters of swollen faces and fat... ..”

After saying that, she said with a compliment, “But you are different!”

“You drive a Rolls-Royce and carry Hermes, you look like a ceiling-cla*s person, how many times better than those kind of guests who pretend to be fat with a swollen face, you are an absolute noblewoman!”

“Oh no, it’s the noblewoman of noblewomen, the ceiling of noblewomen!”

“So, how can you wear the same necklace as those who swell their faces and pretend to be fat?”

Chapter 4439

In one sentence, the female shopper, the ceiling among noble women, immediately praised Ma Lan to the sky.

She felt that this female shopper’s words well have a kind of chemical energy, through some kind of chemical reaction with her own eardrums, it can produce a large amount of dopamine, down the blood straight to the skull.

To put it simply, it was too topsy-turvy.

This feeling is like a youngster who has just learnt how to smoke, grabbing the village elder’s dry tobacco bag and taking a big puff.

Not only was she on top of her head, she was even a little dizzy.

She was so happy that she couldn’t keep her mouth shut, and the more she looked at this female shopper, the more she liked her.

Qian Hongyan is really good at flattering her. She has been her sister-in-law for decades, and she can call her sister Lan with a calm face as soon as she turns her head.

But when compared to this shop a*sistant, Qian Hongyan was at best a younger brother.

So, Ma Lan asked the shopper, “Hey, girl, what kind of necklace do you think I should wear for this temperament?”

Without thinking, the shop a*sistant said, “I think that with your temperament, you should be our shop’s treasure!”

After that, she hurriedly said, “Wait a minute, I’ll go to the back and ask our shop manager to open the safe and show you the treasure of the shop!”

As soon as the words left her mouth, the shop a*sistant hurriedly got up and went to the office area at the back.

In the office area, the shop manager was observing the conversation between the female shopper and Ma Lan in real time through the shop monitoring, and when he saw the female shopper come in, he hurriedly said, “Aiya Xiao Liu, how can you push our shop treasures for her .....

The female shopper said with a surprised look on her face, “Store manager, isn’t this what you instructed me to do, to fool that woman into spending as much money as possible? Then why don’t we just do it in one step and find a way to get him to buy our shop’s treasure.”

The shopkeeper waved his hand, “Oh, how can she afford to buy a 7 million dollar treasure? As far as I know, her capital is only half a million at most, so just find a way to sell her our Emerald Goddess Dream set and that’s it.”

The shop a*sistant was shocked and said out of the blue, “The shop manager ..... has done a great job with your intelligence, you even know how much money she has?”

The shopkeeper said seriously, “I’m also doing this for someone else, you must keep it a secret! Anyway, if you find a way to get her to spend 500,000 yuan in our shop, I’ll put 100,000 yuan on your card right away! If she really doesn’t have enough money, just do whatever you can to get her to spend it all, even if it means lowering the price or just fooling her, it doesn’t matter, you’re free to do what you want, I’ll take care of it if anything happens!”

“Yes!” The shop a*sistant nodded her head and waved her hand, “I’ll take care of it.”

The shop manager added: “Right, after she’s done shopping, tell her that she can come over after lunch to enter the lucky draw, the first prize is worth one million two hundred thousand! The prizes are all set for her inside, only the raffle tickets are still being expedited and will be delivered at 1pm, so when she comes to the raffle this afternoon, she will be able to draw the first prize.”

The female shopper asked, dumbfounded, “Shopkeeper, what’s the origin of this woman? What is this woman’s origin? .....

The shopkeeper said, “The blood money is not mine, it’s the big man’s. You cooperate well, and you’ll get a lot of benefits after it’s done!”

The female shopper nodded understandingly and said to the shop manager, "I know, shop manager! I still need to trouble you to bring me the treasure of the shop first, otherwise I won't be able to give an account when I go out."

The shopkeeper didn't say much and immediately took out a set of beautiful diamond necklaces from the safe and handed them to her, "You must take them well, don't drop them or touch them."

The shop assistant nodded and smiled, and walked out with the treasure of the shop in her hands.

When Ma Lan saw the huge diamond necklace in her hand, she was surprised and could not help but feel a bit vain.

Ma Lan was no fool, she knew how good things were, and a diamond of this size could not have come down to seven figures with a quick glance.

However, when she thought that the salesperson had set the mood here, if she were to say she couldn't afford it, wouldn't she be living up to the title of "Noblewoman Ceiling"?

Just as Marashi was getting anxious, the saleswoman placed the jewel of the shop in front of her.

Chapter 4440

Ma Lan looked down at the price tag and exclaimed, "Holy sh*t, seven, eight, eight, eight ..... seven followed by six eights, no decimal point ..... that's 7.88 million!"

The female shopper in front of me took the necklace out, looked at Ma Lan, looked at the necklace again, shook her head and said, "Madam, I suddenly feel that even this necklace is somewhat dwarfed in front of you."

Ma Lan was on the verge of tears.

"A necklace of nearly eight million dollars pales in front of me? You think I'm the sun!"

Qian Hongyan behind her was also shocked and blurted out, "This necklace is too expensive, isn't it? ..... 8 million, after tax, you must have won the lottery at least twice!"

The female shopper said seriously at this time, "Actually money is not a problem, I believe that with this lady's temperament and her price, it is still more than enough to buy such a necklace."

By the time she said this, Ma Lan was already fidgeting a little.

The shop assistant was really good at setting the mood, and at the beginning, the atmosphere was really happy for Marashi, but at this point, Marashi was already in a difficult position.

At this time, the female shopper turned her words and said seriously, "Actually, I think that this kind of diamond necklace is too big, too much, and too sparkly, and when it is matched together, it looks a bit too vulgar, and the taste of money is too strong, instead of having the underlying meaning."

When Ma Lan heard this, her eyes lit up and she said offhandedly, "Gee, you're so right! Wearing such a big string of diamonds around your neck is like hanging three words on top of your neck: 'I'm rich'! It's tacky! It's really tacky!"

The female guide nodded and said very seriously, "In fact, when a ceiling-level noblewoman like you chooses jewellery, what really matters is not exactly how high its value is, but its temperament, its style, its heritage!"

The fidgeting Ma Lan had just felt had dissipated and was replaced by a higher level of comfort and pleasure.

She said with unparalleled approval, "Gee, girl, that's great! It's really great!"

With a faint smile, the saleswoman took out a necklace of crushed diamonds with an emerald pendant from a side counter, handed it to Ma Lan and introduced it, "Madam, look at this Goddess' Dream, its diamonds are small but each one is a carefully selected ultra-pure diamond, and the fan-shaped pattern is inspired by the classic architectural style of ancient Rome, showing everywhere the successful woman's unique glamour!"

"The most crucial thing is that the main stone that goes with this necklace is a teardrop-shaped emerald!"

"As you know, we Chinese love emeralds, and emeralds are respected and valued for their green colour, although Westerners do not understand emeralds, they also regard emeralds as the finest of gems, which coincides with our aesthetic of emeralds!"

"So, such a necklace is not only beautiful and exquisite, but more importantly, it also combines the cultural heritage of the East and the West. Whether you wear it in Western or Chinese style, this necklace can perfectly complement your distinctive temperament, and in my opinion, it suits you better than that treasure of ours! I even think that it is simply tailor-made for you alone!"

Hearing this, Ma Lan was overwhelmed by her love for the necklace, and was surprised as she took it in her hands and examined it carefully, unable to stop exclaiming, "Oh my! This necklace is really beautiful! It's perfect!"

After saying that, she hurriedly went to look at the price tag, forty-eight hundred and eighty-eight thousand .....

Ma Lan couldn't help but mutter in her heart, "Damn, forty-eight hundred and eighty-eight thousand ..... the money Ye Chen gave me, I've spent quite a lot recently, it seems like there's only three hundred thousand in the card ....."

Thinking of this, Ma Lan's heart felt a loss.

After some of this female shopper's words, had made Ma Lan hopelessly in love with this necklace, she now had only one thought: buy it!

"But, there's not enough money ....."

The shop assistant seemed to see Ma Lan's dilemma, and with a twist of her brain, she spoke, "Madam, you are so lucky today, today is our shop's celebration, this necklace is now on sale, buy it now and you can directly subtract the change, only 400,000!"
