

Ye Chen 4661

Chapter 4661

Ye Chen's words caused Fei Ke Xin's entire body to tremble.

She knew very well the weight of Ye Chen's words.

Since Ye Chen had said that he would guarantee grandpa another ten years of life, he would definitely be able to keep his promise.

And this was basically the same as giving grandpa a large portion of the Spring Return Pill.

What's more, Ye Chen's only condition for guaranteeing grandfather's life for another ten years was not to ask for money or things, but for grandfather to assist himself and sit on the Fei family's headship!

She couldn't help but murmur in her heart, "Mr. Ye is doing all this ..... to pave the way for me after all ....."

When she thought of this, she looked at Ye Chen with teary eyes and said gratefully, "Mr. Ye ..... thank you for all you have done for Ke Xin ..... I swear that in the future, the Fei family will always work together with Mr. Ye and will be the most solid and reliable side of Mr. Ye. The most solid and reliable ally beside Mr. Ye, no one!"

The fact is that in the world of the general public, both my assets and the Fei family's assets are already considered to be at the top, but if we really open up the higher world, I'm afraid our strength is only just enough to be a door knocker, those who are sensible can enjoy a lifetime of glory and wealth, but those who are not sensible and go further up the ladder will probably face unexpected dangers."

Fei Ke Xin asked in disbelief, "Mr Ye, why do you think so? As far as I know, although there are many unknown hidden wealthy families around the world, with the strength of the Fei family, I dare not say that we can be among the top five in the world, but the top ten is definitely not a problem, and your current level of assets may not necessarily be below the Fei family, those who are better than us are just a rare breed."

Ye Chen gently shook his head, gazing out of the window at the 10,000-metre high sky full of stars, and sighed softly: "Our perception is limited by our eyes, I used to think that the richest family in this world was just the Rothschild, and its scale, may be ten trillion or twenty trillion, but the incident of the attack on Grandpa's family made me suddenly realise that this world, is different from what I had always known before might be different."

Fei Ke Xin was busy asking, "Do you mean that there are more powerful existences in this world than the Rothschild family?"

Ye Chen smiled faintly and did not answer her question, but asked her, "What do you think we should use to measure the power of a family, or an organisation?"

Fei Ke Xin thought about it and said seriously, "A combination of human, material and financial resources, but financial resources should be the most important."

Ye Chen nodded: "I also used to think that financial power was the most important, after all, the ranking of the world's companies and rich people are all measured by money."

Speaking of this, Ye Chen suddenly changed his tone and said seriously, "However, I suddenly wondered about a question, if a family, when money has long since become so much for them that it means nothing other than numbers and nothing else, what will they continue to do?"

Fei Ke Xin asked blankly, "Mr. Ye, what do you mean?"

Chapter 4662

Ye Chen spoke, "You see, these rich people or rich families that we usually come into contact with, what they like to do most is to make money out of money, just like the Jews, who were born to make money and were born to make more money out of money, which led them to only like to spend their money in places where it could increase in value and bring in greater wealth, and in this way, they were completely blinded by their both eyes."

Speaking of this, Ye Chen added: "If a family, long ago, saw through the fact that too much money is nothing but a numbers game, thus spending money in the true sense of the word in directions that are purely consumable, or simply not reflected in concrete value, what would that bring?"

"Pure consumption ....." Fei Ke Xin frowned and thought about it, still a bit perplexed, and said awkwardly, "Mr. Ye, I still don't understand too well, can you explain it again?"

Ye Chen said seriously, "To give the simplest example, the Rothschild family's assets of over ten trillion dollars are placed in industries that can reflect value, such as investing in rocks and mines; investing in the top 500 listed companies in the world, or directly setting up a bank and lending the money to other companies through the bank in exchange for high interest or even equity;"

"The money can still be counted against you even if you spend it, it's just a form of conversion of assets, for example, I have $100 million in cash and then spend $50 million to buy a mansion in New York, which then turns my total assets into $50 million in cash and $50 million in fixed assets ....."

"Or, I exchange $20 million of it for a house, $20 million for stocks, $20 million for 20% ownership of some oil well, $20 million for a painting by a famous painter, and then keep $20 million in cash for liquidity, so that even though I've spent $80 million, I'm actually just holding it in a different form, and it may even keep increasing in value in the future;"

At this point, Ye Chen turned his words and added: "However, what if I use all of the eighty million of this one hundred million dollars to train a group of unknown dead soldiers? Who would know if this $80 million was converted into combat power? When others measure my assets, they would think that I only have twenty million dollars, but if I wanted to, these dead soldiers of mine that cost eighty million dollars to build could easily kill ten so-called rich men with one hundred million dollars in assets."

Hearing this, Fei Ke Xin, thinking of what happened to Ye Chen's grandparents' family some time ago, suddenly realized something and said with horror, "Mr. Ye, I understand what you mean ....." you are saying that there may be some top families that have long since transcended the stage of using accumulated money to show their strength, instead they might have transformed the sky-high amount of money into an unexpectedly powerful fighting force?"

“Yes.” Ye Chen nodded, “It’s a concept that is deep and unseen, just like me, in these few months, the money I have invested directly and indirectly in the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall has far exceeded ten billion;”

“All this money, which has not even passed through my hands at all, and the fighting force formed by the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall, is not going to be converted into a body value for the rich list ranking;”

“If in a few more years, I invest more than a hundred billion, or even a trillion, in the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall, or other similar organisations, but my own verifiable assets are only a hundred billion, then in the eyes of others, I might just be a hundred billionaire, but I’m afraid that my true strength is not even comparable to that of a trillionaire.”

Speaking of this, Ye Chen added, “The mysterious organization that assassinated my grandfather’s family has probably been training just dead soldiers for two to three hundred years, and they have trained an unknown number of dead soldiers all over the world.”

“In these two to three hundred years, the amount they have invested in dead soldiers is definitely an extremely terrifying astronomical figure!”

“But these figures, too, cannot be counted in the rich list.”

“Probably the amount of money they have invested in combat power over these hundreds of years, converted into the purchasing power of today’s dollars, is perhaps higher than the total assets of the entire Rothschild family, so if you only look at the assets, you might not even discover the tip of the iceberg of such a family.”

“What’s the so-called big-name Rothschild family in the face of such an invisible giant? When this kind of mysterious organisation doesn’t want to touch him, he is the world’s number one family; when it wants to touch him, he is the world’s number one iniquitous species!”

Chapter 4663

In the eyes of the vast majority of people, wealth is a symbol of strength, but Ye Chen has never looked at money in the eyes.

The facts had also proved to him countless times that money was actually not omnipotent at many specific times.

Take Fei Jianzhong for example, so what if he was worth trillions? He still had to pay more than US$200 billion to buy a Spring Return Pill.

Even his own great uncle, An Chongqiu, was willing to pay over US$300 billion for a mere Spring Return Pill.

In theory, as long as Ye Chen was willing, he could use the Spring Return Pill to raid the wealth of all the senior tycoons in this world.

If that were the case, I was afraid that his wealth would soon surpass that of his grandfather’s family, the Saudi royal family, and even the Rothschild family.

However, when Tang Sihai first gave him ten billion, he didn't even know how to spend it, so what could he do even if he had more money than the Rothschilds?

Selling the Spring Return Pill without restraint would definitely push himself into the limelight, and the extra money he made as a result would not only be of no substantial use to him, but would also attract a lot of covetousness and prying eyes.

Therefore, in Ye Chen's view, the most important thing for him to do next was not to find ways to make more money, but to do more to build up his strength beyond his wealth.

Only then would he be able to accumulate enough power to deal with those unknown behemoths.

At this moment, Fei Ke Xin, who was at the side, also finally understood what Ye Chen was really concerned about.

She then said to Ye Chen with great determination, "Mr. Ye, don't worry, no matter what kind of opponents we will face in the future, as long as I am still in the Fei family, the Fei family will definitely be at your side and work together with you!"

Ye Chen nodded gently and smiled lightly, "To advance and retreat together ..... may be to share a disaster; or to share a fortune, I hope I can live up to your trust."

Fei Ke Xin said without thinking, "Mr. Ye, I believe in your strength, and the Fei family, under your blessing, will definitely receive a monstrous fortune!"

Ye Chen smiled indifferently, then pointed at the pill in her hand and said seriously, "Your grandfather is a human being, he must know that you have made a trip to Hong Kong Island specifically to help me, so I will definitely not fail to show him that I have given you a blood dispersing and heart saving pill. ."

Fei Ke Xin did not expect Ye Chen to be so considerate, and said gratefully and respectfully, "Okay Mr. Ye, Ke Xin will do whatever you want!"

After a twelve-hour flight, Fei Kexin's Boeing 747 finally landed at Providence Airport in the United States.

Ye Chen politely declined Fei Ke Xin's request to get off the plane to see him off, and got off the plane alone, and only after seeing Fei Ke Xin's plane take off again, heading for New York, did he go through customs alone.

As Fei Ke Xin's plane was a super VIP at all airports in the US, Ye Chen, a passenger on a side trip, was also treated as a VIP at the airport.

At every airport, there was a fleet of one or even more state guest convoys, and when there were major diplomatic events, they provided free escort services for dignitaries, while at other times, they operated commercially and could be hired for their services if they could afford it.

Ye Chen did not want to be too flashy, so he took the initiative to ask this state guest convoy to be reduced from eight cars to one Cadillac.

In this way, it was much more low-key.

This time when he returned, Ye Chen did not tell Xiao Churan in advance.

The main reason was that Ye Chen knew very well Xiao Churan's character, if he informed her of the exact time of her return journey, she would definitely drive to the airport to pick her up.

After all, the flight number of a private jet would not appear on the big airport screen.

Chapter 4664

It was already 8pm local time when the full-size Cadillac SUV dropped Ye Chen off at the Hilton Hotel.

The driver first carried down two huge suitcases from the trunk, both of which, were Hong Kong Island specialties prepared for him by Liu Jiahui.

The driver then moved another small 20-inch suitcase from inside, this was Ye Chen's own carry-on luggage.

The Patek Philippe given to him by Liu Manqiong was also put into this suitcase by him in pa*sing.

Seeing that he had three large suitcases, the hotel luggage attendant hurriedly pushed the luggage trolley and put all three suitcases on it, following Ye Chen to the top floor of the Hilton Hotel.

At this moment, Xiao Churan had just had dinner with Ma Lan.

In the past few days since she came to America, Ma Lan had already familiarised herself with the city of Providence. Not only was she able to go out walking and shopping by herself, she had even met a lot of Chinese women living in the area and soon became acquainted with them.

In just a few days, Ma Lan had joined several groups, first she joined a group of old ladies who danced with the Phoenix Legend in the park every night, and then she joined a marching group of middle-aged Chinese men and women who wore the same tracksuits every day and shouted slogans in the streets of Providence.

Ma Lan also has a schedule for herself, saying that she will dance every Monday, Wednesday and Friday night, mob on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, and stay at the hotel on Sundays to rest and enjoy life.

Tonight, it was time to go to the marching team again.

Ma Lan wiped her mouth after eating and said to Xiao Churan, "Churan, mum is getting ready to change and go to the mob, do you want to come along?"

"I don't want ....." Xiao Churan shook her head: "This presidential suite Ye Chen booked has a mini gym, if you want to walk or run, there's no need to go to the street to walk in a group, right?"

"What do you know." Ma Lan said seriously, "Your mother, I'm here mainly for socializing, I'm new here, I don't know anyone except you and Ye Chen, you have cla*s'es every day, Ye Chen is out to read feng shui, I'm always left alone in this big presidential suite, it's still creepy. If I don't meet more friends, I'll be bored to death! In Jinling, at least there was a Qian Hongyan who was always there for Sister Lan, but here, there's no one I know, it's really no fun ....."

Xiao Churan said helplessly, "Mom, you've only been here for a few days, and you're already disliking this place so soon ..... If you knew that, you might as well live in Jinling ....."

Ma Lan, who had lost her divine life of living alone in a mansion and driving a luxury car because she had come to Providence, was also holding her grievances and subconsciously blurted out, "I would like to!"

Xiao Churan was a little surprised and asked, "Mom, what do you mean by that? Do you really want to go back to Jinling?"

Ma Lan panicked and hurriedly changed her tone with a serious face, "Who said that? I didn't mean that! I just missed you guys so I came to America to look for you, if I go back, won't I be alone again?"

In fact, what Ma Lan was thinking was, "Do you think I don't want to go back? The point is that my pockets are cleaner than my face, so if I go back, I don't even have the money to take a taxi to the airport, not to mention buying a ticket. Besides, even if you and Ye Chen buy me a ticket back, I won't have money to eat after I land, not to mention having to refuel the Cullinan ....."

Xiao Churan didn't doubt it, so she said seriously, "Mom, if you want to live with us in America, don't always say that it's meaningless here, the more you say it the more you think that way in your heart, and the more unhappy you will be when the time comes."

"Yes yes yes ....." Ma Lan said stiffly, "You're right, mum knows!"

With that, she hurriedly changed the subject and said, "Mom won't talk to you, it's time to get changed and go to the storm troop assembly."

Just as Ma Lan was about to go back to her room to change, the door suddenly rang.

Ma Lan said with some discontent, "Didn't you turn on Do Not Disturb, why are you still knocking, what a nuisance!"

With that, he cursed and came to the door .....

Chapter 4665

Ma Lan opened the door and was just about to make some noise at the door when she suddenly saw Ye Chen standing outside the door, her smelly face immediately turned into one of joy and she said excitedly, "Oh good son-in-law! When did you come back? Why didn't I hear you say hello?"

Ye Chen smiled faintly and said, "I didn't say hello in advance because I was afraid you guys would be worried."

Ma Lan smiled and said, "Mom knows, you must have wanted to give Churan a surprise!"

Xiao Churan, who was inside, heard the commotion and walked towards the door while asking, "Mom, is Ye Chen back?"

Ma Lan hurriedly turned her head and shouted inside, "Daughter, the good son-in-law is back, come quickly!"

When she saw that Ye Chen was followed by a waiter pushing a luggage trolley, and when she looked at the trolley, there were three suitcases, she couldn't help but ask excitedly, "Good son-in-law, I remember that you didn't bring any luggage when you left, why did you come back with so many things, did you bring a gift for mum?"

Ye Chen smiled, "Most of them are some souvenirs from friends, but I have also prepared a small gift for you."

As soon as Ma Lan heard that there was a gift, he couldn't hold back the excitement and curiosity in his heart.

He knew that it was easy for Ye Chen to make money from reading feng shui for others now, so he was also very generous with his money, so he couldn't help but guess in his mind, "Ye Chen just needs to make a slight offer, so it must be a good one of over 100,000 yuan, right?"

At this time, Ye Chen had already led the waiter into the presidential suite and directed the waiter to unload the luggage to one side.

After the waiter carefully finished carrying the luggage, Ye Chen took out a US$100 cash and handed it to him, and the waiter left with a thousand thanks.

At this time, Xiao Churan just happened to come over, and when she saw Ye Chen, she said happily, "Honey, why didn't you say hello when you came back? I wanted to pick you up at the airport!"

Ye Chen laughed, "If I had told you in advance, you would have been thinking about it from the time my plane took off to the time it landed, so I simply didn't tell you, planning to give you a surprise."

It could be seen that Xiao Churan was indeed very happy to see Ye Chen back, but she still couldn't help but admonish him, "Honey, compared to the surprise you gave, I'd rather drive to the airport to pick you up in person, next time there's something like this, make sure you tell me in advance, okay?"

With that, Ye Chen took out the two necklaces he had bought in Hong Kong Island from his small suitcase, handed the two jewellery boxes to Xiao Churan and Ma Lan respectively, and said with a smile, "Churan, Ma, this is a little gift that I bought for you in Hong Kong Island, you can open it and take a look."

When Ma Lan heard this, she hastily reached out and took it without thinking. Seeing the Bulgari logo on the box, she only realised that it must not be cheap, so she said happily, "Oh, my good son-in-law is the best! The moment he makes a purchase, it's an international brand, either Hermes or Bulgari, should we switch to Van Cleef & Arpels next time?"

Ye Chen did not expect that Ma Lan could still see the need to play a double entendre at times like this.

So it seemed that Ma Lan wanted a Van Cleef & Arpels jewellery very much.

So, he said with a smile, "Since Ma likes Van Cleef & Arpels, then I will buy it for you by the way when I go out to look at feng shui next time."

Ma Lan clapped her hands happily, but said politely, "Oh, good son-in-law, I know you are filial, but I can't let you spend so much money all the time, Van Cleef & Arpels is so D*mn expensive! Just that cla*sic four-leaf clover necklace, it costs over $400,000 a piece! You're crazy about money!"

Chapter 4666

Xiao Churan immediately realised her mother's intention and quickly said, "Mom! Can you not be so vain all the time? Why do you have to ask Ye Chen to buy you something as expensive as a Van Cleef & Arpels ....."

Ma Lan said with an aggrieved face, "I didn't say that, I was saying that that brand's stuff is sold too expensive and has no value for money at all, how could a pragmatic person like me like something that has no value for money?"

After saying that, he did not forget to say to Ye Chen: "Good son-in-law, Mom is already very satisfied that you have this heart, but you must remember, don't buy things indiscriminately!"

Ye Chen smiled faintly and nodded gently, "Yes mum, I know."

Ma Lan's expression was more or less melancholy, but she still had the good sense to flip past the Van Cleef & Arpels piece and hurriedly focused her attention on the jewellery box in her hand.

As she opened the box, she thought to herself, "I just bought a Bulgari Emerald Dream necklace a few days ago, and I wonder what kind of jewellery Ye Chen is giving me this time.

With this in mind, she opened the box with glee.

The next thing that caught her eye was something that made her freeze.

"This ..... this ....." Ma Lan looked at the familiar necklace lying quietly in the jewellery box and could not help but say, "This ..... isn't this the necklace of the Emerald Goddess Dream?"

The moment she saw this necklace, Marashi's heart was very disappointed.

After all, she had bought an identical necklace just before she came to the United States, so it was natural that her heart was a little depressed to receive such a gift again.

Although this necklace was very expensive and showed off the atmosphere, two identical items could only pretend to be the same after all.

If she wore this one today and that one tomorrow, in the eyes of others, she would be wearing the same one for two days.

However, it was impossible to wear two necklaces around her neck at once, so in her eyes, the necklace Ye Chen had given her was basically the same as not giving it away.

At this moment, Ye Chen had already caught the hidden disappointment in her eyes, so he pretended to be surprised and asked, "Mum, you know so much about these, I've been trying to remember this name all the way."

Ma Lan said with a sarcastic smile, "Why, I'm just researching blindly!"

She said, "You two don't know, but Qian Hongyan, who is so poor that she can barely eat, still drags me to these luxury shops every day.

Xiao Churan asked, "Mum, have you been hanging out with Qian Hongyan again?"

Ma Lan explained, "It's not really a playdate, it's just that after you all left, I was too bored living alone in Townsend One, so I had some company with her.

As she said that, she looked at the Goddess' Dream necklace in her hand again, and her heart grew more and more despondent.

Ye Chen secretly smiled in his heart, it seemed that his trick did work a bit, and he could see that Ma Lan was already a bit bored at this point.

Xiao Churan, who was at the side, did not notice her mother's difference at all, but could not help but say to Ye Chen, "Honey, thank you for the gift, but in the future, it is better not to buy such expensive luxury goods, it is said that this kind of luxury jewellery has a very poor retention rate, which is a bit too wasteful."

When Ye Chen heard the three words of retaining value, he suddenly had a bright idea, so he glanced at Ma Lan and deliberately spoke, "It seems that this Goddess Dream, the second-hand market still retains its value, if the packaging and bills are complete, and it is maintained new enough, 20% discount should still be able to sell it."

As Ye Chen expected, once Ma Lan heard this, her eyes widened, and her expression changed from the frustration of a moment ago, to one of extreme excitement!

Immediately, she suddenly opened her mouth and said to Xiao Churan, "Aiya daughters, mum is suddenly so homesick ....."

Chapter 4667

"Homesick?!"

Xiao Churan was confused by Ma Lan's sudden move and asked, "Mom, Dad is in Korea and Ye Chen and I are in America, why are you homesick?"

Ma Lan said with an embarrassed expression, "Mom is thinking of Jinling, living in this foreign country, it's really a bit difficult to adapt to.

Xiao Churan looked at Ma Lan with astonishment and asked, "Mom, didn't you say that you couldn't sleep because you missed us, that you couldn't stand being alone at home and living in such a big house, so you had to come to America to find us? It's only been a few days, and you want to go back to Jinling? Aren't you still alone in Jinling? Aren't you still living alone in Townsend One? What if you're alone again then? Fly to America again?"

Ma Lan hurriedly said, "Oh, it's true that I miss you all so much that I can't sleep. After seeing you, I'm sure I'll be able to go back."

Ma Lan would never tell her silly daughter that the reason she came to America to look for her and Ye Chen was not because she really missed them or felt lonely, but because she had just accidentally spent all her money.

Without the money, she lived in a big villa like the one in Townsend, and even eating was a problem.

That Cullinan parked in the courtyard was overbearing as hell, but what was the point when she couldn't even get the money to fill up the tank?

But now the situation was different!

Ye Chen had actually given her another identical Goddess Dream!

What did this mean?

It meant that she could fly back with this Goddess Dream and sell one of the two.

The two Goddess Dreams were in mint condition, the one she had worn for just a day or two, so it could be considered 99 new, while the one Ye Chen had worn was brand new and unworn, and at a market price of 500,000, with a 20% discount, it could still be sold for 400,000!

Moreover, the shop where she bought the necklace owed her 72,000 yuan in cashback, so if she waited for that money to arrive, wouldn't she have nearly 500,000 yuan again?

When Ma Lan thought of this, her heart was already surging: "When this money is in hand, I will definitely not buy anything indiscriminately, I will keep it to spend! I live in a luxury house, drive a luxury car, have a goddess' dream around my neck, and have half a million dollars in my pocket, this is the real life of a god.

Don't look at Ma Lan these days, she is dancing in the square and going to the mob, but in the end, it is because she has no money.

Only when one had no money like this would one go looking for the kind of things to do that didn't cost money.

Moreover, in a place like the United States, although she lives in a top-notch presidential suite, this house is still a lot worse than her own big villa in Townsend.

What's more, she didn't have a top-of-the-line Rolls Royce Cullinan to drive in the US.

What's more, she doesn't have a professional licking dog like Qian Hongyan to follow around and lick furiously.

So, no matter how you think about it, it is better to go back to China.

At this point, Ye Chen smiled in his heart, it seemed that this Ma Lan's style was indeed always the same, he was always able to find her breakthrough easily.

In fact, for Ye Chen, he did not want Ma Lan to stay here and disturb his two-person world with his wife.

Chapter 4668

The reason why he had tried every possible way to get Ma Lan over before was mainly because he was going to Hong Kong Island, and he did not feel at ease nor could he bear to leave his wife here alone, so he tricked Ma Lan into coming over, so that she could keep his wife company during the few days he was going to Hong Kong Island.

Now that he was back, there was naturally no need to let Ma Lan remain here.

After all, Xiao Churan was not sure about Ma Lan's financial situation, but Ye Chen couldn't be clearer, Ma Lan's pockets were now cleaner than her face, if she didn't have any money, she would definitely stay in America and not leave until she would follow Xiao Churan when he finished all his training courses and returned to China.

Therefore, it was Ye Chen's urgent task to let her go on her own.

It was also because of this that Ye Chen deliberately made that remark about the second-hand retention rate.

In fact, it was to remind Ma Lan that having two identical necklaces, although he could only pretend to have one, he could choose to sell the other necklace quietly while pretending to have one.

She had two identical ones anyway, and as long as she made sure she still had one in her possession, the matter would not be revealed.

Moreover, after doing the maths, in the end it was still a necklace that she had earned.

After Ye Chen's reminder, Ma Lan did think of this, so she became homing in on it almost immediately.

What with the wide dance group and the storm troop, all of them went aside, Ma Lan only wanted to go home now.

So, seeing Xiao Churan's surprised face, Ma Lan couldn't help but say: "Churan, what mum said just now was all in her heart, it's true that I miss you guys, but after I came back to see you guys, I didn't want to miss you guys anymore, and then I naturally started to miss home."

The older people get, the stronger the nostalgia becomes, and for mom right now, nostalgia is all that's missing from your ticket." said Ma Lan, "Besides, mum doesn't want to disturb the two of you in the world, and she doesn't feel comfortable being a light bulb here all the time.

Xiao Churan said helplessly, "Then when do you want to leave?"

Ma Lan said without thinking, "Naturally, the sooner the better, why don't you see if there are any tickets for tomorrow?"

"Tomorrow?!" Xiao Churan said in exasperation, "Mom, even if you want to leave, don't be so abrupt, like you're suddenly turning your back on me, didn't you say you'd take you to New York after the weekend? You're not going?"

"Oops! How did I forget about this ....." Ma Lan suddenly remembered that she had not been to New York after her difficult trip to the United States.

Originally, according to the normal procedure, when she came to Providence, she would need to go to New York first and then transfer to another plane, but at first she was lucky enough to win the one million two hundred thousand dollar jackpot arranged by Ye Chen, so she flew directly from Jinling to Providence, without even setting foot on the land of New York.

So, Ma Lan thought to herself, "All my friends and family in WeChat know that I came to America by private jet, if I don't take a few photos and post a few friends in New York, wouldn't this trip to America be a waste of time?"

“Anyway, Ye Chen has already given me this necklace, and it’s not going to run away, so I might as well go to New York for two days and then go back to Jinling to sell the necklace!”

Thinking of this, she hurriedly said to Xiao Churan, “Churan, how about this, you buy Ma a ticket to fly from New York on Sunday night, and we will go to New York on Friday afternoon for two days of fun, and on Sunday night Ma will fly back home directly from New York, and you and Ye Chen will drive back to Providence, what do you think of this arrangement?”

Xiao Churan knew that Ma Lan had already decided to go, so it was impossible to keep her, so she nodded her head and agreed, saying, “Then it’s a deal, I’ll book a ticket for you on Sunday, and we’ll go to New York on Friday!”

Chapter 4669

Xiao Churan saw Ma Lan’s firm attitude, although she was more or less helpless in her heart.

However, after a little consideration, she also felt that it was indeed more convenient and comfortable for her mother to stay in America than to go back.

What’s more, she had to attend cla*sses five days a week, so she didn’t really have much time to spend with her, and she would definitely still cause trouble for Ye Chen when the time came.

So, she spoke up, “Mom, the day after tomorrow, Friday, we’ll drive to New York after my cla*s, and I’ll book you a flight for Sunday.”

“Great!” Ma Lan instantly got excited and said out of the blue, “Hurry up and book the tickets for mum, don’t sell out later.”

At this moment, Ye Chen, who was at the side, said, “Mom, I’ll book it for you.”

Ma Lan was busy nodding, “Fine, fine, thank you good son-in-law!”

Ye Chen was also very dry and immediately took out his mobile phone, found the flight from New York to China on Sunday, and then immediately bought her a ticket.

Ma Lan soon received the ticketing information from the airline, and after seeing that the ticket had been confirmed, Ma Lan was happy and giddy, just like a wanderer who had been wandering around for years and finally had the chance to go home.

Afterwards, Ma Lan carefully put away the Goddess’ Dream necklace that Ye Chen had given her, and then said to the two of them, “Aiya, I still have an appointment with someone to go to the storm troopers, I’ll be late soon, you two should hurry up and have a world of two, I’ll go out first!”

With that, without waiting for the two to respond, he hurriedly changed into his sneakers and left the room.

Xiao Churan shook her head very seriously and spoke with a slightly gloomy expression, "It's not about returning to China, it's the necklace you gave Mom, something isn't right."

"The necklace?" Ye Chen was even more puzzled, "That necklace was bought from a counter, it can't be fake."

Xiao Churan was busy saying, "Silly husband, of course I won't suspect you of buying fake goods, I'm just saying that my mother's attitude towards that necklace of yours is not right!"

She said, she analyzed seriously, "Look, husband, I know my mother's character best, but you should also know very well, this person's biggest problem is that she loves to show off, not to mention you give her a necklace, you even give her a valuable sofa, she would hate to be able to hold it on the street, but you just gave her such a valuable necklace, she did not immediately wear it, but put it away! up ..... this ..... Isn't this strange?"

Hearing Xiao Churan's analysis, Ye Chen couldn't help but be impressed with this silly wife of his.

It seemed that Xiao Churan really knew this mother of hers absolutely well, and with Ma Lan's character, there was absolutely no way that she would hide something good when she had it.

Therefore, Ma Lan had just carefully put away the necklace she had given her, and this kind of behaviour was indeed somewhat abnormal in her case.

However, Ye Chen knew very well why Ma Lan would do so.

The reason for this was because he had just said that the better the colour, the more valuable it was when sold second-hand.

I guess Ma Lan couldn't bear to wear it for a while and wanted to sell it back as a brand new one for a good price.

So, Ye Chen said to Xiao Churan with a smile, "My analysis is that Ma probably thinks that it's too late, even if she takes it out, people won't be able to see it, and she's going to join the storm troop, the exercise is rather strenuous, and it's not suitable to wear jewellery, so don't think too much about it."

Chapter 4670

Xiao Churan shook her head and said seriously, "I think things should not be that simple, you wait and see if my mum wears that necklace tomorrow, if she still doesn't wear it tomorrow, then I guess she wants to sell this necklace."

Ye Chen didn't expect Xiao Churan to predict Ma Lan so accurately, so he said with a smile, "Aiya, you shouldn't worry so much about idle worries, since it's something given to Ma, what she does with it is her freedom, we have no right to interfere."

"Besides, I don't think Ma would do such a thing, if you don't believe me, when we return to China, you will know if she still has this necklace or not."

Xiao Churan couldn't help but sigh and said helplessly, "I don't want to interfere in her affairs either, it's just that she, as a person, does do things very disappointingly some times, this necklace was after all given to her by you, I hope she won't sell it for profit."

Ye Chen smiled, "Don't worry, when we go back, this necklace will definitely still be there."

Xiao Churan did not know why Ye Chen was so sure, but it was not good to discuss this hypothetical issue too deeply, so she nodded and sighed, "I hope so ....."

Since the plane that Fei Kexin and Ye Chen took off from Hong Kong Island, Fei Jianzhong has been waiting anxiously and expectantly at home, and this is a whole day.

Although Fei Jianzhong had succeeded in renewing his life by relying on half of the Blood Dispersing Heart Saving Pill given by Ye Chen, he knew very well that he was already on the verge of death, and more than half of the effects of the medicine were probably spent on saving his life rather than renewing it.

This was why, at that time, Ye Chen said that this half pill would allow him to live for another year, or at most two years.

Because of this, Fei Jianzhong had already started counting down the days to his life, and he had pinned most of his hopes on the Spring Return Pill auction next year.

After all, he was no longer the head of the Fei family. When he was the head of the Fei family, he had failed to win the Spring Return Pill, and now that he had stepped aside, the situation for next year was not yet known.

Although he did not doubt Fei Kexin's character and filial piety, he was worried that the price for next year's Spring Return Pill would be even higher than this year's, or even much higher.

If it was really much higher, then even if Fei Ke Xin was willing to pay for it, I was afraid that it would still be beyond her means.

Therefore, this time, Fei Kexin's trip to Hong Kong Island to help Ye Chen solve the matter of Chen Zhao Zhong gave Fei Jianzhong a glimmer of hope.

He thought he knew Ye Chen's character better. Generally speaking, he would not owe others any favours, and very often, he would respect people as much as he respected them.

Fei Ke Xin, as the head of the Fei family, had come all this way to go there, so he thought that Ye Chen should more or less show something.

Fei Jianzhong did not dare to expect Ye Chen to give Fei Kexin a Spring Return Pill, but if Ye Chen could give her half a Blood Dispersing Heart Saving Pill, it would be an extra year or two, or even two or three years of life for himself.

Because of this, he did not sleep well all night yesterday, all he could think about was the Blood Dispersing and Heart Saving Pill, and he even teared up a bit all day today.

There were several times in between when he almost couldn't resist calling or sending a message to ask Fei Ke Xin, but when he thought that she should be with Ye Chen the whole time, he could only wait for Fei Ke Xin to come back and reveal the answer to himself in person.

The plane that Fei Ke Xin took first took Ye Chen to Providence, and then flew from Providence to New York, one after the other, plus the flight in between, delaying him by almost forty minutes.

When he heard that Fei Kexin's plane had landed at New York's JFK airport, Fei Jianzhong became even more apprehensive.

Originally, he was eager to go to the airport to pick up the plane so that he could be the first to uncover the mystery.

However, thinking that his granddaughter was already very intelligent and very good at observing details, he was afraid that his actions would make Fei Ke Xin aware of the situation, so he had to resist the urge to stay at home and wait impatiently.

When the butler came to tell him that Miss's caravan had entered the main gate, he couldn't hold back any longer and said to the butler, "Quickly, help me go outside to greet them!"
