Chapter 4711

The Divisional Commissioner looked out the door at this point and saw the Maybach parked right in front of it, immediately stood up straight and said with a smile as he straightened his clothes, "Are the leaders of the city police department here? Or maybe the councillors have come over, guys, fix your clothes, as soon as the big shots arrive, maybe the press will be here soon too!"

One of them said, "Quickly, clean up the pizza and fried chicken on the table before the press gets a picture of it!"

The people inside were busy with excitement, and outside the passenger side of the Maybach got out at this time, a young man in a suit, who got out and hurried towards the back, pulling the back door open.

Immediately afterwards, a middle-aged man with white hair, a strong figure and a cold face stepped out of the car.

The people in the police station were stunned when they saw him.

One of them said in fear, "Holysh*t! It's Mad Dog Wyatt!"

A crowd of people tensed up when they all recognised the famous Mad Dog White.

The division chief immediately frowned and said, "What is this son of a b*tch Mad Dog White doing here with us?!"

"Yeah" Jimmy Wayne was also a bit puzzled and couldn't help but say, "This bd only serves the richest gang, why would he come to our place?"

The policeman who had just advised Jimmy Wayne to be more restrained in the future frowned and said, "Jimmy, Mad Dog White wouldn't be the lawyer the Chinese woman in there got, would he?"

Jimmy Wayne said with contempt, "Just her? Can you hire Mad Dog White? Anyone who can hire Mad Dog White is in the top 100 of New York's wealthy. If you don't have $10 billion or more, you can't even think about it! How can you invite Mad Dog White with that stupid woman in there?"

Just as he finished speaking, the young man in the suit outside had already pushed open the door of the police station.

The imposing James White stepped in, straightened his tie with one hand and said coldly, "Which one of you is in charge? I need to come and see my client, Ms. Marashi."

At those words, all the police officers on the scene drew in a breath of cold air!

Jimmy Wayne was dumbfounded, he never dreamed that Mad Dog White, who had gone up against the entire NYPD on countless occasions all by himself and had beaten the NYPD senseless countless times, would really be the lawyer representing Marashi

In this instant, his body was immediately soaked with cold sweat and his legs almost went limp.

The New York Police Department was not aware of Mad Dog White's reputation, and once he broke one of Marashi's ribs, if he fell into the hands of Mad Dog White, his future would be over!

He might even face jail time!

He had already heard from his men that the person arrested was a Chinese tourist who had entered the United States about a week ago on a tourist visa, how could such a person be able to hire Mad Dog White?

However, he could not think too much about it because Mad Dog White was so aggressive that even the Commissioner of the New York City Police Department was always passive in front of him, not to mention a small shrimp like him.

So the sub-commissioner immediately stepped forward with a stiff upper lip and said, "I am the person in charge here, introduce myself, my name is"

Without waiting for the sub-director to say his name, James White said coldly, "I don't need to know your name, I just need to see my client, immediately and immediately!"

"Fine, fine" The division chief nodded hastily and hurriedly said to the subordinate beside him, "Quickly, take Attorney White to see the suspect!"

The subordinate didn't dare to delay and immediately said, "Mr. White, this way please."

With his assistant in tow, James White stepped forward to the interrogation room.

As soon as the door was opened, James White said to the two police officers in charge of the interrogation, "Gentlemen, this is the end of the interrogation, from now on I need to speak to my client in private, please leave."

Chapter 4712

The two police officers in charge of the interrogation immediately recognised James White, and they were so shocked that they were unable to speak, but it was the colleague who opened the door who quickly said, "Hurry up and come out, so that Mr. White can talk to his client in private."

Only then did the two men nod hastily, rush to pick up the transcript and run out the door.

James White said to the policeman beside him, "My client doesn't understand American law, plus she doesn't speak the language, and she hasn't seen her lawyer, so if there are any threats or inducements in your transcripts, you had better nullify them and not let me catch anything, or I will certainly challenge them in court!"

A few people felt a little stressed out at once.

Sometimes you think you've given a perfect answer, but in his hands, he can still find some small problem and negate all your efforts.

So a few people were very nervous at this point, especially Marashi who had a broken rib, and James White's arrival immediately made the matter extremely passive.

Ma Lan also vaguely heard that this man, who spoke very hard, should be the lawyer that her good son-in-law had found for her, and all of a sudden she felt that she had met her saviour and cried out in excitement, saying in a loud voice: "Help, lawyer, the police have beaten someone up and broken all my ribs!"

When the two Chinese policemen heard this, they instantly broke out in a cold sweat of nervousness.

James White had long since learnt to speak fluent Chinese in order to cater to a top Chinese family like the Fei family.

When he heard this, his expression became extremely angry and he shouted coldly, "You have injured my client, which is a serious violation of the law and police regulations, but even so, you still do not send my client to the doctor in time, instead you continue to interrogate my seriously injured client here, which is inhumane! This is inhumane! I want to check your law enforcement records and complain to your superiors at once!"

All the police officers in the room were in a panic.

After all, Marlane had not assaulted a police officer, nor had she violently resisted the law. Jimmy Wayne had clearly subdued her, but he had deliberately crushed her ribs after he had subdued her, which was clearly subjective and deliberate, and no amount of washing would wash.

Jimmy Wayne was outside the door at that moment and heard James White's loud questioning from inside and all of a sudden panicked and trembled.

There was already a serious disparity of status between the junior cop and the barrister, not to mention the fact that he himself was in the wrong.

At this point, he was at a loss as to what to do.

The division chief did not dare to make a big deal out of it at this time, and hurriedly said, "Mr. White, this lady was also injured mainly because of some friction in the law enforcement process, and our people checked her injuries and thought that there was nothing serious, and only needed to take some oral medication later"

James White asked in a cold voice, "Are any of you qualified to practice medicine? That includes you, Your Honour the Commissioner!"

"That" The Divisional Commissioner said awkwardly, "We are all police officers and are not qualified to practise medicine"

James White snapped, "Without qualifications to practise medicine, what makes you think my client's injuries are not serious?! Do you all have medical CT grade eyes? What if my client has internal bleeding or a ruptured internal organ? Can you afford to take responsibility for that?"

All the police officers looked at each other for a moment, not knowing how to reply.

At this point, James White continued, "Your violent law enforcement, disregard for the law and disregard for life simply refreshes my perception of the NYPD!"

With that, he turned the tables and said even more sternly, "Because my client is yellow, I am asking you to show me previous cases of how you have dealt with other suspects after encountering them with injuries, and if it turns out that you only targeted my client without taking medical treatment, then I have reason to suspect that you are suspected of racial discrimination specifically against people of colour!"

Chapter 4713

"Crap"

At this point, the Branch Chief had a million gra*s mud horses running through his heart.

"What the hell is going on here, how come in two words, this crazy dog White has raised it to the level of racial discrimination?"

In the United States, the word "racism" is what the police fear most.

Once the word is used, the matter is immediately escalated to the most serious level.

Not only would the police officer involved be expelled from the force, but he would also be subject to very serious disciplinary action as a division chief.

If a ma*s incident were to occur, he would have to resign.

So, he hurriedly explained to James White, "Mr. White, this matter has nothing to do with racial discrimination, the most important reason is because the case is really some major, my subordinates are eager to investigate the whole matter and catch the mastermind behind it as soon as possible"

He said, he compensated with a smile, "You also know, as long as the mastermind behind the case is caught as soon as possible, so that your client can be cleared of suspicion as soon as possible, after all, we also believe"

James White held out a hand to interrupt him and said in a cold voice, "It is your job to investigate the real culprit of the incident, and it is my job to clear my client of suspicion, so there is no need for you to label yourself, and besides, I am talking about racial discrimination, so don't get sidetracked here."

Said James White, raising his volume a few notches and continuing, "What I need to know is how many of the cases you have worked on over the past three years have been cases where the suspect was injured at the time of arrest;"

"Secondly, I need to know how many of those suspects who were injured at the time of arrest were taken to medical attention in a timely manner and how many, like my client, were not taken to medical attention in a timely manner:"

"And finally, I need to know how many of those who were taken to the hospital in time were white? How many people of colour? And how many of those who didn't get to the hospital in time were white? What is the percentage of people of colour? You must give me this data as soon as possible, or I will immediately protest to the city police and inform the most racially concerned members of Congress about this matter!"

"God D*mn it" The division chief just felt his liver churning.

“Surely it’s Mad Dog Wyatt! There’s nothing he can’t find a handle on

He, a mere division chief, could not even be counted within the entire New York police system.

Because in the whole of New York, there are a hundred or two hundred different precincts, big and small, alone, and he is only one of those one or two percent.

And James White is different.

James White is the top criminal lawyer in all of New York, bar none.

Just the pyramid of criminal lawyers in the whole of New York.

So, in front of James White, this little airport division chief was no match at all.

Just when the entire Branch Chief was already at a loss as to what to do, a police officer ran over, panting and said, “Chief, news from the City Police Department, people from CNN and the New York Times, will be coming over later for an interview, and the City Commissioner will also be coming!”

The division chief’s brain buzzed as he listened, while James White sneered, “I was just wondering if I should inform some of my friends in the media field that this matter was properly exposed, but since you have already informed the media, that would be great, let the media reporters come later and expose how you have broken the law, violated human decency plus racial discrimination! “

In fact, James White was ordered to come over, not only to help clear Marashi’s name, but also to have a very important task, which was to control this matter as much as possible, the influence especially not to let Marashi’s name, as well as Marashi’s image, hit any American media as much as possible.

This was Ye Chen’s intention.

After all, Ma Lan was not just Ma Lan, she was also Ye Chen’s mother-in-law. Even if this matter was resolved without any risk, Ye Chen did not want others to know that his mother-in-law was involved in such a ridiculous scam.

On the one hand, he really couldn’t quite afford to lose this person.

On the other hand, in case this matter became a big deal and Ma Lan became famous on an international level, he, as her son-in-law, might also be dug up by people with an agenda.

Therefore, Ye Chen’s request was to settle the matter in a low profile and not to make too much of a fuss.

And the reason why James White said this was also to attack instead of defend.

A man like him knew that he could never let his opponent know his true claim.

Once his opponent knew that he did not want the matter to be exposed, then the other side would definitely use the matter to test his bottom line.

So rather than do that, it is better to counter-attack and take the initiative to ask for the matter to be brought to light.

James White's tactics really worked, once the division chief heard this, he hurriedly pleaded: "Mr. White, don't be angry, there must be some misunderstanding in this matter, we will do our best to solve it, how about this, we first arrange for your client to go to the hospital for treatment, as for the interrogation and transcripts, we will put it on hold, first ensure your client's James White sneered.

James White sneered, "That's a bit inappropriate, isn't it? The media are here with great anticipation, and they're not allowed to see their client? I want the whole of America to be able to see my client's ribs broken by you through the media coverage!"

The Divisional Commissioner cried, "Mr. White, you can't say that, our men never hit your client"

James White questioned, "Then how did my client's ribs get broken? It's not impossible if you don't want this to go to the press, but you must promise me a few conditions!"

The Divisional Commissioner said with fear and trepidation, "Mr. White, please!"

James White said coldly, "Firstly, you must immediately provide multi-angle law enforcement recorder footage, I want law enforcement recorder footage on every police officer involved at the scene!"

"No problem, no problem!" The division chief agreed without a second thought.

Once this matter had gone too far, the contents of the recorder would not only be handed over to James White, but might even be exposed by the television station.

So, how could he dare to refuse James White's request under such circumstances.

James White continued, "In addition, the data I just asked you to show, that is, the cases you have dealt with in the same situation in recent years, you must give it to my assistant by ten o'clock this evening!"

"Okay" Although the Divisional Commissioner was reluctant, he could only grit his teeth and agree at a time like this.

He was well aware of James White's strength, this kind of person dealt with high society every day and was very familiar with those media moguls.

Once he wanted to make an issue of racial discrimination, then this matter could not be escaped no matter what, and those cases given or not given, would not affect the racial discrimination hat fell.

So at the moment, he can only stabilise James White, as long as he agrees not to announce it to the media for the time being, then there is still a way to mediate this matter.

James White looked at Ma Lan and said in Chinese, "Ms Ma Lan, sorry I'm late, I've made you suffer!"

Chapter 4715

Since her arrest, no one has given Marashi a good look.

Her injuries, combined with her fear, had had a huge negative impact on her mind and body.

When she saw James White talking to her so respectfully, she burst into tears.

As she cried, she said aggressively, "They not only beat me, scolded me, but also threatened me and intimidated me" I told them many times that I was cheated and I had no idea what was in that suitcase, but they continued to be very impatient with me, as if I was the The criminals are really too much

When the branch chief heard this, his expression was astonished, and he immediately rebuked angrily, "You bds! Why didn't you take Ms. Ma to the hospital in time?! Why did you interrogate Ms. Ma when you knew she was injured? Also, what happened to Ms. Ma's injury and who did it? Come forward and tell me clearly!"

The group of people were so nervous that they did not know how to answer, and could only look to Jimmy Wayne, who was on the sidelines.

Seeing this, Jimmy Wayne could only come forward in a panic and stammered, "Chief is I accidentally crushed Ms. Ma's ribs... . she had been resisting at the time and I was doing my job"

James White said sternly at this point, "You look very strong and my client is nothing more than a soft old lady, you weigh at least twice as much as my client, I'm sure it would have been absolutely easy for you to just try to subdue my client, no need to crush her ribs at all!"

Jimmy Wayne's cold sweat instantly ran down his cheeks and he was completely at a loss to defend himself against James White's challenge.

James White didn't look at him anymore, but looked at the Divisional Commissioner and said in a cold voice: "Before you submit the evidence to my a*sistant, I hope you can suspend this man from duty and investigate him. If not, I will directly hand this matter over to the media to preheat and ferment first, and you will definitely be more pa*sive by then."

As soon as the Divisional Commissioner heard this, he knew that if Jimmy Wayne was not thrown out of this matter today, James White would not be able to give up.

And even if Jimmy Wayne was thrown out as a scapegoat, with James White's usual style of action, it was unlikely that this matter would be over, and at most, it would only be cushioned a little.

Still, as long as it was cushioned, it was more or less good.

So, he could only turn around and look at Jimmy Wayne, who was terrified to the core, and said in a cold voice, "Wayne, hand over your police officer's card and your gun, and first suspend yourself for investigation.

Jimmy Wayne knew that he would not be able to escape today, so he could only nod helplessly and took off his ID and gun, then looked at Ma Lan and said with a pleading face, "Ms. Ma, I was just in a hurry, I really did not mean to hurt you, and I hope you can forgive me this time."

Without waiting for Marashi to say anything, James White said in a cold voice, "If you don't disappear from my sight in three seconds, I will immediately arrange for other colleagues to come over and proceed with the prosecution of you!"

Jimmy Wayne's face went white with fear and he left the station in a huff.

After Jimmy Wayne left, the chief looked at James White with a flattering face and said, "Mr. White, I'll arrange for someone to take Ms. Ma to the doctor first, and I'll talk to my superiors about the media. There are too many things going on in American society right now, and all kinds of protests have been going on, we should not add to the general environment at times like this, don't you think?"

James White looked at the Branch Chief and said lightly, "If you can give my client enough humanitarian treatment, I can hold off informing the media about this matter for the time being, but I also reserve the right to inform the media."

As soon as the Branch Chief heard this, his entire body finally breathed a sigh of relief and hurriedly said, "In that case, then we will immediately arrange for Ms. Ma to receive medical treatment!"

James White said with an expressionless face, "You don't need to arrange for medical treatment, the hospital you have arranged is not worthy of Ms. Ma's distinguished status, I will arrange for Ms. Ma to go to the best private hospital in New York."

The division chief said awkwardly, "Mr. White, our police department does not have such a high budget to arrange for a suspect to be treated at a top private hospital."

James White gave a dismissive grunt and said, "All the costs of Ms. Ma's medical treatment are not your concern, they will be borne by my client."

The Branch Chief was tense inside, thinking, "According to what Mad Dog White said, he should have been commissioned by someone else to help Ma Lan get off, and his client must, without a doubt, be a wealthy tycoon, could there really be a very powerful big shot behind this Ma Lan?"

Thinking of this, his heart became even more apprehensive and he could only say with a sarcastic smile, "Mr. White according to the rules, even if you arrange for Ms. Ma to visit another hospital, we must send police officers to accompany her, as you know Ms. Ma is still a suspect in the legal sense, we cannot let her out of our sight."

James White said in a cold voice, "I don't need you to remind me of this most basic legal common sense, but it is you police officers who are the guardians of fairness and justice in the law that are openly flouting the provisions of the law and the sanctity of human rights, which is extremely disappointing!"

The Divisional Commissioner blushed red and white and said awkwardly, "Mr. White is absolutely right in his criticism and I will certainly urge my men to change these bad habits!"

James White ignored him and looked at Ma Lan, saying softly in Chinese, "Ms. Ma, I will take you to the hospital later, and I will arrange for you to be treated in the best single room in the hospital."

As soon as she heard this, Marlane was relieved and said, "Oh, thank you very much, Mr. Lawyer!"

James White spoke very seriously, "Ms. Ma, from now on I am your personal lawyer, as well as your personal assistant, so you don't have to be so polite with me."

Ma Lan did not expect that James White, who could scare the entire police force to a pale white face, would be so polite to herself.

She couldn't help but sigh in her heart, "I really didn't expect my good son-in-law Ye Chen to be so powerful, to have such strong connections even in New York, to have arranged for me with such a powerful lawyer in just one phone call, it looks like I should be able to get out this time"

At this time, James White continued, "By the way, Ms. Ma, your personal freedom may be restricted to the ward after you arrive at the hospital, because the police will follow us there, and I hope you don't mind."

Without thinking, Marlane said, "No, of course not! I'll do whatever I want as long as I'm not allowed to stay in a place like this!"

Chapter 4717

Ye Chen was on his way to New York when Ma Lan, accompanied by James White, went to the hospital.

James White reported the situation in time to Fei Jianzhong, who, in turn, gave Ye Chen feedback on the situation in the first instance.

According to James White, he could apply for one or two days of hospital treatment for Marashi at most, but after the hospital treatment was over, Marashi would have to attend the pre-trial hearing.

When the pre-hearing is held, the judge will make a ruling on whether Marashi can be released on bail, depending on the general circumstances of the case.

If bail can be granted, the judge will give a bail amount and as long as the money is available, the person will be able to regain his or her freedom temporarily.

However, according to James White, the amount of contraband involved in the case is so large that bail is basically impossible.

This means that after the trial, Marashi will be placed in a detention centre for the time being.

Although they both mean prison, the former is more similar to a Chinese detention centre, which is used to temporarily detain suspects who have been convicted of minor offences or have not yet been sentenced, while the latter is a real prison, used to imprison those who have been sentenced.

It was the former that Ma Lan was to be detained in.

In order not to let Ye Chen worry too much, Fei Jianzhong also promised him that he could quietly fish Ma Lan out of it first through special channels.

He could even send Ma Lan back to China directly if Ye Chen needed to, and he could take care of the matter here as well.

But Ye Chen declined his kind offer.

On the one hand, Ye Chen did not want his wife, who felt overpowered.

On the other hand, he also wanted Ma Lan to go in and learn a good lesson.

The last time he had been in the detention centre, Ma Lan had remembered that he could not just steal other people's things, especially not just steal other people's bank cards, but that experience in the detention centre had only taught him this lesson, and had not made Ma Lan realise the treacherous nature of the world, let alone break his greed and covetousness completely.

Although Ye Chen did not know exactly how Ma Lan had fallen for the trap this time, with his knowledge of this mother-in-law of his, he knew very well that the other party must have promised Ma Lan some kind of benefit in some sense, and that was why he had let his guard down so much.

Therefore, in Ye Chen's view, it was absolutely right and proper to let Ma Lan be taught a lesson.

However, Ye Chen also knew very well that the mistake Ma Lan had made this time was slightly less serious than the last time he had stolen his own bank card and tried to transfer all the money from his bank card.

Therefore, he should be taught a lesson, but he should definitely not suffer too much in it.

In the United States, law and order was already bad, and the detention centres were probably filled with suspects who had committed murder and arson and were awaiting sentencing.

So, he called Wan Bajun and said, "Bajun, something has happened to my mother-in-law and she will probably go into the detention center in New York in a day or two.

Wan Bajun knew what kind of goods Ye Chen's mother-in-law was, so as soon as he heard this, he immediately asked, "Mr. Ye, do you want your subordinates to take good care of you, or bad care? If I am the one who takes care of the bad, then I can do it without knowing"

"Don't!" Ye Chen hurriedly interrupted him and said seriously, "Of course it's for the better, where are you thinking of?"

Wan Bajun hastily apologized, "Sorry, Mr. Ye, it was my subordinate who thought wrongly" You can rest assured, my subordinate will now arrange for someone to go in early and absolutely ensure that when your mother-in-law goes in, she will not be bullied in the slightest."

Ye Chen instructed, "If someone bullies her after she goes in, don't let your warriors intervene too early either, if you intervene too early, it will seem a bit fake and illogical, you can let her suffer a bit first before intervening on the grounds of compatriots."

Chapter 4718

Without thinking, Wan Bajun said, "Mr Ye, don't worry, my subordinates will make the arrangements."

Ye Chen added, "There is one more thing."

Wan Bajun said respectfully, "Mr. Ye, please speak."

Ye Chen said seriously, "You help me investigate Providence, a Chinese named Chen Liping, almost in her fifties, this person should be using a fake identity, but she actually used this fake identity and lived in Providence, so she must have left clues, so I need you to help me find out this person's current whereabouts as soon as possible. "

Saying that, Ye Chen instructed again, "Also, this gang of theirs should have a counterpart on the New York side as well, so find a way to investigate the surveillance at the airport, and then find out who exactly the person on the street with my mother-in-law is, and find a way to find out her whereabouts as well, the best is to catch the person straight away.”

“No problem!” Wan Bajun said without hesitation, “Don’t worry, Mr. Ye, leave everything to your subordinates!”

Ye Chen knew very well in his heart, that Chen Liping would definitely find a way to monitor Ma Lan’s every move, now that Ma Lan had been captured, on her side she was already disconnected, then she would definitely be alerted and realise that something had happened to Ma Lan, in this case they would definitely evacuate from the place where they originally lived in the shortest possible time.

Therefore, it was unlikely that they would be able to find Chen Liping in Providence, and they could only let the people of the Dragon Palace follow the traces she left behind and find her.

As for Marashi’s counterpart on the New York side, whether something happened to Marashi or not, she would have fled the scene of the crime at the first opportunity, so the possibility of trying to catch her immediately is also slim to none.

We can only find a way to arrest her while ensuring that nothing serious happens to her.

When all the clues are revealed on the side of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple, and these culprits are apprehended one by one, Ma Lan’s suspicions will naturally be cleared, and at that time, she will be able to regain her freedom.

The first thing that happened was that a Ford pickup truck was flying.

A Ford pickup truck is speeding away from Providence and heading towards Seattle.

The car is occupied by Chen Liping and her four so-called family members.

The driver is Man Yingjie, who plays the role of Chen Liping’s son.

Chen Liping, who was sitting on the passenger side, cursed with annoyance, “This Ma Lan’s luck is too D*mn bad, I thought that even if something happened to her, it would have to happen after she arrived in Hong Kong.

Man Yingjie said awkwardly, “Aunt Mei, to be honest, I’ve always felt that this Ma Lan is unreliable, not that she’s a blackmailer, I just feel that this b*tch is too f*cking floaty, someone who loves to be a good sport like her has a natural magnetism about her.”

Chen Liping asked with a cold face, “What natural magnetic field?”

Man Yingjie blurted out, “It’s the kind of magnetic field that makes it easy for things to go wrong! Let’s say 10,000 people are walking on the street, and a brick falls from the sky, the probability of hitting 9,999 other people is 50%, the remaining 50% probability is to hit her.”

Chen Liping snapped, “What the f*ck do I need you to say here? What the f*ck have you been doing? The last time Ma Lan came over for dinner, why didn’t you say anything after she left? When you get hit by a car on the road one day, I'll tell you that I knew you were going to get hit by a car, and you'll be alive by then? What's the point of talking such bullsh*t?"

Seeing Chen Liping's anger, Mangying Jie hastily shrank his neck: "Sorry ah Aunt Mei I I didn't mean to"

Chen Liping didn't even bother to look at him, pulled out her own mobile phone, pulled the card out, and then threw the phone out the window by hand.

Chen Liping then spoke to Man Yingjie and said, "Drive another 20 kilometres ahead and then turn south."

Man Yingjie was surprised and asked, "Auntie Mei, aren't we going to Seattle to escape the storm? What's the point of going south?"

Chen Liping said coldly, "I'm going to Mexico, the Ma Lan matter is over, and the matter of Sister Zhou's son, there must be no more mistakes!"

Chapter 4719

It was already night time when Ye Chen rushed back to New York.

Since Fei Ke Xin had kindly invited him to stay at Fei's house when he returned to New York before he arrived, Ye Chen agreed to do so.

Even if he had to go to a hotel temporarily, there would be many inconveniences, and it was relatively more convenient to stay at Fei's house temporarily.

When the helicopter arrived home, the Fei family once again came out in full force to greet the young and old.

Still led by Fei Jianzhong and Fei Kexin, they waited for Ye Chen's return visit.

As soon as they met, Fei Jianzhong came forward with the help of Fei Kexin and said respectfully, "Mr. Ye, I have already had a banquet prepared, I think you will not be able to eat after repeatedly tossing and turning, why don't you move to the restaurant for dinner first?"

Ye Chen had not eaten since he had sent Ma Lan in the afternoon, so when he was reminded by Fei Jianzhong, he also felt a bit hungry, so he nodded and said, "Thank you, Mr. Fei for making such a thoughtful arrangement, then I'll be grateful."

Fei Jianzhong hurriedly said, "Mr. Ye, you are too kind, this is all I should do."

He then said to Ye Chen, "Mr. Ye, if you want to be quiet, how about me and Ke Xin accompanying you?"

"Good." Ye Chen nodded and spoke, "It's good to have fewer people, let's eat simply, no need to be too tedious."

Fei Jianzhong nodded slightly and said respectfully, "Mr Ye, this way please."

The other members of Fei's family watched from their spot as the three entered the villa, before they silently dispersed one by one, while Ye Chen, accompanied by Fei Jianzhong and Fei Kexin's grandfather and grandson, arrived at the dining room of the main villa.

After inviting Ye Chen to take a seat, Fei Jianzhong said respectfully, "Mr. Ye, I have consulted with my lawyer about your mother-in-law's matter. Do you want me to send someone to investigate and catch the mastermind as soon as possible?"

Ye Chen smiled faintly and said indifferently, "I have already instructed Wan Bajun to solve this matter, so it is not necessary for you to worry about it, Mr. Fei."

Fei Jianzhong suddenly realized, and hurriedly said, "If there is Mr. Wan to do it, then I think this matter will be better resolved, and I will be relieved."

Ye Chen nodded and remembered something, so he asked him, "Old Mr. Fei, according to your knowledge, have there been many incidents of fellow countrymen victimising fellow countrymen in America over the years?"

Fei Jianzhong smiled awkwardly and said seriously, "A lot, why not, in fact, this kind of thing has been seen time and again in the United States"

Said, Fei Jianzhong added: "Of course, this situation occurs, not only our compatriots in China, in fact, which country people are similar."

After a pause, Fei Jianzhong explained, "As you know, because the United States is a country of immigrants, the composition of the population here is very complex, there are many ethnic minorities, and these ethnic minorities, due to their first arrival and the language barrier, tend to appear in two extremes;"

"At one extreme, they are particularly close to their compatriots, they are all twisted together to look after each other, work together and are extremely united, that's how Chinatown and Koreatown were built and of course there are many gangs formed by ethnic minorities that are growing because of this;"

"At the other extreme, there are some very few people who choose to do things that are detrimental to others in order to establish themselves in America, but because of the language barrier, the unfamiliarity of the environment, and the fact that the strongest dragon can't suppress the strongest snake, they can only start with their compatriots nearby, so there is that small group of people who take advantage of the fact that their compatriots are less wary of their compatriots and specifically choose their of their fellow countrymen to strike."

"This kind of people, who have their own evil intentions, can only find an outlet for their evil intentions, and in this case, their compatriots is the easiest outlet in his eyes;"

"In the United States, if a person of Italian, African or Eastern European descent dies or is murdered, there is a high probability that the last person to be found will be one of their own countrymen. "

Hearing this, Ye Chen nodded gently.

He felt that what Fei Jianzhong had analysed was still very fair.

There were good and bad people everywhere, and although there were scum like Chen Liping among the Chinese who were victimising their compatriots, there were definitely more compatriots who looked after each other and helped each other out.

Chapter 4720

Just like Chen Zhao Zhong, even though he himself was already in deep trouble in New York, he had to organise with other Chinese to help those Chinese children who had lost their families.

Once he thought of this, Ye Chen said with a cold expression, "The vast majority of Chinese overseas are able to unite as one, but it's these black sheep that pick on their own compatriots to do their dirty work, if they are not uprooted, there is no telling how many compatriots will fall for the scam in the future."

Fei Jianzhong nodded and said, "Right Mr. Ye, I asked my lawyer to help me pull up the jurisprudence of similar cases in the United States in recent years, and in the vast majority of similar cases, the mastermind behind the case was not found in the end, and most of them were unknowing couriers who were eventually sentenced. Not in the minority, there should be a very large criminal organisation behind this."

Ye Chen asked him, "Didn't the American police find out who was behind it?"

Fei Jianzhong smiled helplessly and said, "Generally speaking, this kind of organisation has a very good internal risk segregation, it is like making multiple fire doors, once there is a fire, the outermost one will be closed first, if the fire is blocked, the outermost one will be developed again, if it cannot be blocked, the second fire door will be closed again, until it can be blocked, so for such a long time Since then, they have only lost some peripheral members, not only have the core members not been threatened in any way, but they have accumulated huge wealth and resources, and their strength has become even stronger."

Ye Chen nodded and said in a cold voice, "That means that the core members of this organization have a large number of scapegoats, and every time something goes wrong, they just need to drag a group of people out to take the thunder."

"Right." Fei Jianzhong said, "This is the drawback of the law in certain situations, a case at the legal level, as long as it can go through its own process and make it eventually logical and self-consistent, basically the case can be closed, just like this matter of your mother-in-law, if it was left to the police to investigate, probably after catching a few buttresses, these few buttresses will take all the blame themselves They'll take the blame."

"Moreover, they have already ordered a complete set of rhetoric and chain of evidence to perfectly prove to the police and the judge that the truth is as they say, and you have to believe it even if you don't;"

"In this case, even if you know that there is a black hand behind the scenes, as long as they do not let go, it is difficult for you to continue the investigation. As the saying goes, a wildfire cannot be burnt to the ground, and the wind blows again in spring."

Ye Chen frowned and asked, "Is the efficiency of the American police that low? Can't even clean up a criminal gang?"

Fei Jianzhong laughed bitterly, "If they really want to, they can definitely clean it up, but the reason why they can't clean it up is because the Americans like to play the coexistence thing, they don't want to clean it up at all."

After a pause, Fei added: "In this country, guns are an open and honest business, things that are contraband in other countries are freely traded here, even prisons are a private business, not to mention that the American police are supported by the taxpayers, and the reason why the taxpayers can accept the high cost of the American police is that the crime rate is too high here, the large number of minorities and the fact that it is very messy and mixed;"

"The huge gap between the rich and the poor creates a lot of instability, and the proliferation of guns and immigrants and illegal immigrants in the US greatly reduces the cost of crime for criminals, while greatly increasing their success rate;"

"This is the root cause of gangs in American society, and if these factors are not addressed at the root, the gang problem will never be solved. "

"Moreover, the more chaotic the general environment is, the more the middle class will need the police to defend their persons and property, so they will be able to accept the high tax rates and the fact that the American police consume a lot of taxpayers' money;"

"But once the crime rate in the US drops, the first thought that comes to the minds of these savvy middle-class people is: why do I need so many cops when the security is so good? These cops eat, wear and use my money, if I save the money they spend, I can build better roads to and from work, reform health care to make it more humane, or even why not just save this tax, which would be a disguised way to increase household income"

Speaking here, Fei Jianzhong smiled and said, "So in this land, guns and gangs, both of which are indispensable, can never be eliminated."

Hearing this, Ye Chen nodded with a stony expression.

He did not know much about America, but Fei Jianzhong's dissection made him understand the underlying logic of this.

He then spoke, "Since the American police are not acting, I will fight one to show him how many gangs there are in America I don't care, but this gang that specialises in victimising fellow countrymen, I will uproot it!"
