

Ye Chen 4721

Chapter 4721

Wan Long Temple's investigation was very efficient, and after just one night, they had roughly mapped out what was going on.

Wan Bajun called Ye Chen and reported in detail, "Mr. Ye, according to my men's investigation, the Chinese woman who has been getting close to your mother-in-law at the Providence Chinese Riot Squad, her real name is not Chen Liping, but Mei Yu Zhen."

"Mei Yu Zhen?" Ye Chen frowned and asked, "What is the origin of this Mei Yu Zhen?"

Wan Bajun said, "This Mei Yuzhen came to the United States alone more than twenty years ago, originally she hoped to work in the United States to earn money to build houses for her two sons and get married at home. After exhausting her family's savings to sneak into the United States, she took the alias of Huang Sanmei and worked as a nanny for Chinese families in the local Chinatown."

"She used an alias because the snakehead who transported her to the US told her not to let anyone know her real identity while she was in the US, so that if she made money in the future, there was still the possibility of clearing her past and getting a green card again with her real identity, but if someone found out that she had been an illegal immigrant, it would be difficult to get a green card again."

In order to make her identity more credible, she also made up a Hakka background for herself, saying that she was the third of four sisters in her family, so her parents gave her such a simple and straightforward name, which was really useful. Plus, she had a natural talent for lying and acting, so it didn't go unnoticed by her employer."

Ye Chen asked him, "Then how did this Mei Yu Zhen go from being a nanny to a criminal who specialises in victimising her fellow countrymen?"

Wan Bajun said, "Back to Mr. Ye, the exact reason is still under investigation, because this Mei Yu Zhen has been in the United States for more than 20 years, and she has been in the United States as an illegal immigrant for most of the time, so the experience during this time still needs to be investigated in depth, but there is a clue to the first employer that Mei Yu Zhen came to the United States, they met with a fire during Mei Yu Zhen's The third year, they suffered a fire, a family of four died three, Mei Yu Zhen and the little son who was not yet one year old disappeared, we suspect that the fire should have been set by Mei Yu Zhen, the child was also taken away by her, the probability is that it was sold by her."

Hearing this, Ye Chen asked in a cold voice: "Such a big matter, the American police did not investigate and solve it?"

Wan Xiaojun said, "The irresponsible American police conducted a preliminary investigation after the fire and decided that the cause of the fire was the male owner smoking in the living room and setting the sofa on fire, thus starting a fire in the living room. It was an accident, and as for the missing child, the American police did not give a clear account."

"I looked through the relevant files and at that time a neighbour gave a tip-off to the police, claiming that there had been a nanny named Huang Sanmei in the employer's house, and after the fire, both this nanny and the one-year-old child were nowhere to be found, so she was very much under suspicion;"

“But the American police at the time did not investigate the matter in depth after the statement was taken, on the grounds that no traces of arson were found in the fire and that no property was missing from the scene;”

“As for the so-called Sammy Wong, since there was no image of her at that time, the American police officers working on the case at that time only put up such a name in the police system for police officers across the United States to assist in the investigation of an Asian woman named Sammy Wong, but this did not go anywhere;”

Chapter 4722

“There were several states in the United States that did encounter Asian women named Huang Sanmei during these twenty years of follow-up, but after the local police investigated, they found that the timing of these people coming to the United States did not match the timeline of the case at that time, so it was also left unresolved.”

Ye Chen asked him, “How did you find out that the Huang Sanmei who used a false identity back then was this current Mei Yuzhen?”

Wan Bajun said, “Back to Mr. Ye, I found the outdoor surveillance footage of Providence, restored a high-definition photo of Mei Yu Zhen, and put it on the intelligence network of Wan Long Temple. There was an informant who provided us with information, the snakehead who brought Mei Yu Zhen to the United States back then, and he kept the identity information of all the stowaways over the years in his hands. ”

Ye Chen asked again, “Then this Mei Yu Zhen, what is her real identity now?”

Wan Bajun explained, “Her real identity is a self-employed person who got her US green card by investment immigration, around 2010, she officially got her US green card by investing one million dollars in a US immigration approved regional centre through the US EB-5 investment immigration program.”

Ye Chen said coldly: “An illegal immigrant who smuggled herself into the United States to work as a nanny can come up with a million dollars for investment immigration, over the years, she doesn’t know how much black-hearted money she has made with this way of screwing over her fellow countrymen!”

Saying that, Ye Chen asked again, “Broken Jun, have you investigated the situation of this Mei Yu Zhen’s family?”

“Yes!” Wan Bajun immediately replied, “Because Mei Yuzhen immigrated to the United States alone, this is rather rare, so I specially investigated Mei Yuzhen’s family, and found that all of her family members are currently living in China, and the family opened an import and export trading company, saying that it does import and export trade between China and the United States, but the company actually has little business, it is just a cover It’s just an empty shell.”

However, her two sons are living in very good conditions, each with assets of tens of millions or even close to a hundred million, and the family is thriving, the two sons have a total of eight children, according to my informant’s investigation, her family’s money all comes from their private exchange.”

Ye Chen spoke, “Explain specifically.”

Wan Bajun introduced, "It's like this, what Mei Yu Zhen needs is to exchange the dollars she earned in the US for Chinese currency, and there is a part of the domestic population whose need is to exchange Chinese currency for dollars, so they trade privately, the domestic exchange people give the equivalent value of Chinese currency to Mei Yu Zhen's son, and Mei Yu Zhen gives the equivalent amount of dollars to the other person's relatives in the US, Mei Yu Zhen over the years, is using this method to send at least US$30 million back home."

"Thirty million dollars ....." Ye Chen said in a cold voice: "This thirty million dollars, there is no telling how many people behind this thirty million dollars have been victimized by her."

Ye Chen gave a slight beat and instructed, "Broken Army, compile enough chain of evidence and feed it back to the domestic police in time, Mei Yu Zhen's family helped Mei Yu Zhen hide, conceal and even use her illegal gains outside of China, this definitely already constitutes the crime of money laundering, when the time comes to bring out all the chain of evidence, all these illegal gains of hers should be seized, didn't this woman want to earn black-hearted money for I'll make all her efforts in the past twenty years come to naught!"

"Yes!" Wan Bajun said without a second thought, "Don't worry, Mr. Ye, I'll start making arrangements!"

Chapter 4723

At this moment, Mei Yu Zhen has just woken up in the car.

Manchinsan and Man Yingjie had taken turns driving overnight and had only driven a thousand kilometres, and they were now over two thousand kilometres from the US-Mexico border.

According to Mei Yu Zhen's plan, she wanted the two men to drive all the way to El Paso, Texas, and from there to enter Mexico by road.

After a night of rocking in the car, Mei Yuzhen was still somewhat in a trance because she had not slept well.

She suddenly thought back to when she had first arrived in the United States.

In the first two years after she first arrived in the United States, she had used a false identity, but she did count herself as dedicated to her work.

Although the money she earned was far from generous in the United States, she was able to send almost all the money she earned back to her family intact, as her employer covered her food and accommodation, and she was able to quickly pay off the foreign debts she had borrowed when she smuggled herself into the United States, as well as improve her family's poor living conditions to a large extent.

But the longer Mei stayed in America, the more she was influenced by the materialistic society.

Gradually, she began to feel resentful about her treatment as an illegal immigrant.

At that time in Chinatown, there were two different kinds of Chinese nannies.

One was a nanny who had legal status or a legal green card in the US, while the other was a black nanny like Mei Yu Zhen who was an illegal immigrant and black in the US.

The former is usually half or more expensive compared to the latter.

Sometimes, when nannies and babysitters meet and talk about their respective situations, Mei Yuzhen will spout off about her meagre salary.

She always felt that her work was exactly the same as everyone else's, and that she was not cheating, but why was her salary only 60% or even less than others.

As a result, she gradually developed resentment towards her employer's family, feeling that they were deliberately bullying and oppressing her, a poor woman who had abandoned her husband and children and left her home.

However, Mei Yuzhen overlooked the simple reality that the reason her employer took a chance on her as an illegal immigrant was because the price of illegal immigration, itself, was relatively low.

Considering their own limited conditions, the employer was therefore forced to make this choice.

If the price was the same for both, all employers would not consider the latter.

The vast majority of illegal immigrants can understand this, but Mei Yu Zhen does not.

She did not realise the natural disparity between herself and the legal nannies, and she just kept building up her resentment, even to the point of hatred.

In her third year in the United States, a fire broke out in her employer's home, killing three members of her family: a young couple in their thirties and their five-year-old daughter, while their youngest son, who was less than a week old at the time, disappeared in the blaze.

The fire was the work of Mei Yuzhen.

After setting the fire, Mei moved to another city in the United States with her baby in swaddling clothes.

She asked a middleman to sell the baby for $30,000 to a Chinese couple in their forties who were late in getting their baby.

The deal, at the time, far exceeded the local market price and the buyer was once dissuaded by the high price.

But Mei Yu Zhen was very clever.

She could see the couple's desperation to have a child, and she could also see that the one-year-old baby had some resemblance to a male, so she gave them a picture of what the child would look like when it grew up, based on the child's features, saying that the child would grow up to resemble the male.

In addition to this, the astute Mei Yuzhen also hit on the sore point that moved the couple the most: because of the resemblance, as long as they took the child to live somewhere else, no one would suspect that the child was bought when it grew up, even if they took it back home in three to five years and said it was their own child.

Moreover, she told the couple that, unlike adopted children, the child she brought with her was not yet a week old and would have absolutely no memory of his or her original parents when he or she grew up.

In Mei Yu Zhen's words, if they bought the child, the heirloom would be passed on to the next generation, and it would be a step in the right direction.

So the persuaded couple put up US$30,000 to buy the child, while Mei Yu Zhen got US$25,000.

This was more money at the time than she had made in two years as a nanny.

Since then, Mei Yuzhen has been on a sinful path of "making quick money".

In the early years, she used various identities to select Chinese families with babies. Later, as the internet became more popular, many Chinese families were afraid to hire illegal immigrants as nannies, so Mei Yu Zhen switched to other businesses, until she hooked up with her current handler.

Over the years, Mei Yu Zhen has made more and more money, and her two sons, both of whom live in large villas and drive luxury cars, and her eight grandchildren, all of whom are healthy and knowledgeable, have made the family a prosperous one.

Because she has been away from home for so long, and because she has so many grandchildren, Mei Yuzhen is increasingly eager to return to her home country sooner rather than later.

In her own words, even if she were a bad person, she would still want to retire and enjoy her life.

Chapter 4724

And she is now longing more and more for the day she retires.

But Mei Yuzhen knows very well in her heart that her two sons are not study material and have no real ability except to spend money and play with women, and that her husband is just a farmer, and that she and he have not had a married life for 20 years and have nothing in common.

In the final analysis, the whole family, a husband, two sons, two daughters-in-law and eight grandchildren, all have little ability to earn money and all rely on her income in the United States to enjoy a privileged life.

Once she retires, the whole family will enter a phase of sitting on their laurels.

So for Mei Yu Zhen, how to accumulate more money as soon as possible before she retires becomes the most urgent thing for her now.

Originally, she thought that after the success of Ma Lan's affair, together with this big order from Mexico, she could reap at least US$200,000 and be one step closer to her successful retirement.

But to her surprise, something had happened to Marashi.

So, to avoid the storm for the time being and to ensure that the business in Mexico would not be affected, she decided to go to Mexico herself.

After the business in Mexico was done, she would have to come back with another identity. By then, in the Chinese circle, there would no longer be Chen Liping as a person, and instead, it would be her other identity.

Thinking back on this, Mei Yu Zhen could not help but sigh softly, at the same time in the bottom of her heart made up her mind: "After I come back from Mexico this time, I will change my identity again and do my best to make a fortune out of him, after that, I will leave the United States and never come back!"

As she said this, she took out her mobile phone and flipped out the photos of her grandchildren, her conviction to make money was instantly strengthened.

At this time, her eldest son suddenly called her, and once the call was made, he asked fawningly on the other end of the line, "Mom, are you up yet?"

Mei Yuzhen said indifferently, "Even if I'm not up, I've been woken up by this call, so just say what you want."

The eldest son hemmed and hastened to say, "Mom, do you still remember Brother Sun from next door to our old house?"

"Hmm." Mei Yuzhen asked him, "What happened to him?"

The eldest son laughed lustily, "That ..... he didn't do anything ..... is ..... is... .."

Mei Yu Zhen coldly said, "If you have something to say, if you have a fart, I'll hang up if you don't know how to put it."

The first son said: "No, no, no, don't hang up, mum, I'll tell you the truth, I got Sun's daughter pregnant, more than three months, I said to give his daughter 100,000, let her abort the baby, but she refused, she wants to give birth to the baby, and asked me for a million dollars to pay for the abortion, I'm not looking for your help, I plan to give her 200,000 to let her abort the baby. "

Mei Yu Zhen angrily rebuked, "Is it our family's seed?"

"Yes,.....," the eldest son hastened to explain: "It's just that Sun called during New Year's Eve and asked me to arrange an internship for his daughter in a big city, so I thought that we were old neighbours and his daughter was also raised by me. I thought it was an old neighbourhood, and his daughter was raised by me, so I got her to work as an administrator in my friend's company ....."

The first son added: "She is alone in this unfamiliar place, I think his father is also considered my oldest brother, I have to take care of more, one way or another, it happened ....."

Saying that, he did not forget to add: "It is indeed our family's seed ....."

Mei Yu Zhen said indifferently, "If it is our family's seed, there is no reason to abort it! I've worked so hard to earn money in America so that our family can flourish and prosper! Let her have the baby, I'll give her the million!"

The eldest son was delighted and added: "Mom, you can't let my brother and the others know about this, if word gets out to my wife, the family will be turned upside down ....."

Mei Yuzhen said lightly, "I know, don't worry."

After speaking, Mei Yuzhen said again: "How do you think about talking to her father about this matter? Have you said it? You are more than ten years older than his daughter. If he knows, he must be messing around, right?"

The eldest son explained, "In fact, Sun already knows about it, and the one million dollars for the abortion is Sun's wish."

Mei Yuzhen sneered, "He's not happy? If his daughter is pregnant with your seed, I think he'll wake up laughing! Maybe he's the one who planned this, I've seen everything about his family."

The eldest son said helplessly, "I don't know if he planned it ....."

"I'll give you $50,000, give it to her, tell her to nurse the baby and give birth to it, and after the baby is born, have a paternity test done, and as long as it's your seed, I'll definitely give her the rest of the money back."

"I've never had the chance to raise any of your and your brother's eight children, and I've never had the chance to raise them."

The eldest son said, "Mum, you can't bring this baby home after it's born, my wife will be furious with me if she finds out."

"How dare she!" Mei Yuzhen said coldly, "She eats, wears, uses, spends, sits and lives in my house, if she doesn't know better, get her out of here."

The eldest son said awkwardly, "Mum, even if she doesn't dare to mess with me in front of you, she will certainly mess with me in private, and I won't be annoyed enough by then!"

Mei Yuzhen snorted disdainfully, "If she dares to make trouble with you, divorce her immediately, divorce her and find a girl who will give you two more children."

Chapter 4725

Mei Yuzhen's words gave her eldest son great encouragement.

On the other end of the phone, her eldest son said, "Mom, with your words, then I am really relieved!"

Mei Yuzhen snorted coldly and said, "I'm telling you, don't mess around outside in the future, especially not with daughters like the Sun family, their level is too low!"

The eldest son hurriedly asked, "Mom, what do you mean too low? What's that? I don't understand!"

Mei Yu Zhen reprimanded with hatred, "I told you to learn more English, learn English, I've been out for twenty f*cking years and you can't even understand what level is, what a f*cking loser!" The eldest son laughed, "Mom, people say that the yin is strong and the yang is weak, in our family you alone can hold most of the sky, so naturally you can't show me up ....."

Mei Yuzhen was complimented by her eldest son, her mood eased and she asked, "If I remember correctly, when I went back to my ancestral home a few years ago, I met that daughter of the Sun family. "Yes."

The eldest son said casually, "A few years ago, she was working outside, but I think she came home to talk to a matchmaker, and she didn't meet several young men in the village, so she said she still wanted to work, so her father found me. ...."

The actual fact is that you will be able to find a young woman who has graduated from university. That way you can have two more children!" The eldest son said resentfully, "Mom ..... is a serious university graduate, how can she look at me ....."

Mei Yu Zhen snorted disdainfully, "So what if you graduated from university? How much money can a college graduate earn in a month?

How many lifetimes must a college graduate struggle to drive a luxury car and live in a villa?

You're already a success in the eyes of the university students, so they'll be happy to have this opportunity!"

The eldest son laughed, "But I'm a bit old, and girls nowadays don't like old men in their thirties like me."

Mei Yu Zhen hummed and laughed, "Look at those female celebrities, they can earn tens of millions or even hundreds of millions of dollars a year by themselves, yet many of them still choose to marry old men who are even older than their fathers, why?

Isn't it because the old man is richer than them?"

The only problem is the lack of money. If you don't have money, what's the use of being handsome?

If a girl is overwhelmed by love at first, she may be willing to starve with you for a year or two, but after a year or two, she will understand that good looks are useless, only money is the hard truth." The eldest son smiled, "I know, Mum. When you come back, we'll work together to get rid of that yellow-faced woman, and then we'll find a pretty young college girl." "Hmm."

Mei Yuzhen nodded and spoke, "Okay, I still have things to do, so I won't talk to you about it first, about the 50,000 US dollars, you go and contact them privately, see if there are any who want to exchange money, if there are, I can deal with them in a few days when I finish my business at hand."

The eldest son said excitedly, "Yes mum, I'll go and contact them now!" When Mei Yu Zhen hung up the phone, Man Jin Shan, who was driving, said with a smile, "Sister Mei, are you expecting another grandchild?

How many is that?

Nine, right?" Mei Yuzhen smiled in a rare moment and nodded, "That's right, nine."

Manchu asked, a little surprised, "Sister Mei, do you like children that much?

If I were you and my two sons had eight or nine children, I'm afraid my brains would explode." Mei Yu Zhen waved her hand, "You don't understand."

Chapter 4726

She turned to look at Man Yingjie and Sun Huina, who were sitting in the back row, and said, "Listen carefully, in our line of work, it is most detrimental to the virtue of Yin and the blessings of future generations, so if you have the conditions, you must have more children, more children.

In case retribution comes and falls on future generations, those with many children might even have one or two that slip through the net."

Manchu Jinshan listened with his jaw dropped and said awkwardly, "Sister Mei, it's not as evil as you say ....."

The key problem is that you can't have just one egg, if you have enough eggs, God will be tired of smashing them one by one, besides, if you smash more, he will also be numb, so maybe he will stop in moderation."

Hearing these words, the other three were all filled with horror.

They dared not imagine that the so-called eggs in Mei Yu Zhen's mouth were actually talking about her own children and grandchildren.

Translated, it meant that if God wanted to collect her children and grandchildren, it would be tiring to collect them one by one, and if she collected more, she might leave one or two behind.

Mei Yu Zhen did not take the three people's shock into her eyes at this point, and only asked indifferently, "How much longer will it take to reach the border?"

Manjinshan spoke up, "Even if we drive non-stop, it will still take at least 30 hours, why don't we find a city and take a plane there?"

"No way."

Mei Yu Zhen waved her hand, "I hate flying, I hardly ever fly except when I go back to my country."

Manginshan asked, "Sister Mei, are you afraid that the plane is not safe?"

Mei Yu Zhen shook her head, "I know that aeroplanes are safe, at least much safer than taking a car, but that's for ordinary people, for us, an aeroplane is a big sealed cage, once you get inside, there is no chance to run when the police come."

Manjinshan nodded in realization and asked Mei Yuzhen, "Sister Mei, you've made a lot of money for your family over the years, so it's about time for you to go back and take care of yourself, right?"

Mei Yuzhen said lightly, "Until the end of the year, I'll leave after that, I've worked so hard for so many years and built so many foundations, it's really time to go back and enjoy my life."

Man Jinshan sighed, "Sister Mei, your husband married you, it's really the smoke from the ancestral grave, you don't have to do anything, just enjoy your happiness at home!"

Mei Yuzhen grunted, "He is just a waste of time, if it weren't for my two sons and grandchildren, I would have kicked him out of the house long ago, how could he have the chance to enjoy this blessing."

She looked at Manjinshan and asked him, "By the way, when do you plan to go back?"

Manjinshan smiled, "I'm still early ..... I've earned much less than you over the years, and I'll have to struggle for a few more years if I want to be well fed and clothed in the future."

Mei Yuzhen hummed, and said with some expectation: "These I have been traveling around the United States in 2018, and I have no fixed place to live, so I can go back and enjoy the joy of living in my own home, surrounded by children and grandchildren."

What Mei Yuzhen didn't know was that Wanlong Palace had already investigated the All the information obtained was sent to the domestic police.

At this moment, the police are ready to close the net.

When her eldest son came out of his villa and was about to get into the newly bought Mercedes-Benz G, a group of police suddenly rushed in.

The first police officer held the arrest warrant and said to Mei Yuzhen's eldest son: "Mei Dayong! You are now officially arrested by the police on suspicion of money laundering!"

Chapter 4727

The two-hundred-plus pound Mei Dayong never dreamed that one day the police would come to his door.

All along, Mei Dayong felt that his mother was a person of great ability, and that she had a way to make a lot of money in the United States, while he only needed to exchange her dollars for Chinese currency at home, and then enjoy the glory and wealth.

As for whether his mother's money came from the right place or not, and whether it was illegal for him to exchange money privately, he didn't bother to worry about that at all.

So he asked the police officer with a surprised look on his face, "What do you mean by that? What do you mean by suspected money laundering? What kind of money am I laundering?"

The policeman said in a cold voice: "We have ample evidence to prove that all the a*sets you and your brother have are illegal proceeds obtained through illegal exchange of money! And we also have proof that you are laundering money for an offshore criminal organisation!"

"What?" Mei Dayong said with a disdainful expression, "Every cent of our family's money was hard earned by my mother, how come it's illegal income in your mouth?"

The policeman frowned and asked him, "Don't you have any knowledge of the law?"

Mei Dayong immediately said in a loud voice, "How can I not understand? I'm a law-abiding citizen! I don't gamble, I don't cheat, I don't steal, I don't rob, so who are you to say I'm breaking the law?"

The policeman knew he couldn't communicate with him, so he said to his men, "Take him away! Also go in and see if Mei Eryong and Zhang Fugui are here, if they are, arrest them and bring them back for trial!"

Several policemen quickly rushed into the villa, and within five minutes, they brought out a dumbfounded Mei Eryong and a shivering Zhang Fugui.

Zhang Fu Gui is Mei Yu Zhen's husband. When he was poor, Mei Yu Zhen went to the United States with someone else, so he stayed home to raise his two children.

Zhang Fu Gui had been a poor man all his life, but at that time he had just relied on Mei Yu Zhen to live a rich life and felt the benefits of being rich, so he did not want to go back to his poor life.

Over the years, although Zhang Fu Gui's marriage to Mei Yu Zhen had died in name, he was able to live the life of a rich man with the wealth she had earned.

The more this happens, the more nervous he becomes when he sees the police.

Zhang Fugui's two daughters-in-law, seeing that both their father-in-law and father-in-law had been arrested by the police, were frightened and rushed out to inquire about the situation.

The eldest daughter-in-law, who was a bit spirited, ignored the fact that she was still holding her baby in her arms, and sat down on the ground, spilling her guts and saying, "Who are you to come to our house and arrest people? Are you unhappy because our family is doing well? Tell me, who told you to come here?"

The policeman in charge said coldly, "I'm warning you, the three of them are all suspects now, we're taking them away for investigation, you'd better not interfere with our law enforcement, otherwise you'll be obstructing official duties, and obstructing official duties is liable to the law!"

The eldest daughter-in-law did not relent and cried, "Don't bully me, a woman who doesn't know anything! You just can't take my family away in front of me today!"

The police officer in charge said with a serious expression, "Let me tell you, the three of them are now suspected of money laundering, and according to the evidence we have, they are involved in a very high amount of money and the case is very serious, according to the criminal law, they should be sentenced to at least five years and less than ten years in prison!"

"Not only that, all the deposits, cash, houses and cars in their names, according to the evidence we have, are all illegal proceeds, and we will subsequently seize these assets in accordance with the law. This is punishable by up to three years' fixed-term imprisonment, detention or control!"

Chapter 4728

"If the circumstances are serious, the penalty will be imprisonment for a term of not less than three years and not more than seven years!"

"So I'm warning you, you must honestly cooperate with our investigation! Otherwise, you'll be doing yourself a disservice!"

When the eldest daughter-in-law heard that she might even be sentenced, she was scared out of her wits.

The second daughter-in-law was so weak that when she heard this, her whole body was already paralyzed with fear.

The eldest daughter-in-law had also lost her spiritedness and asked the police officer in tears, "What are we going to do now? ..... If you arrest all the old men in our family, won't we have to wait for death?"

The police officer immediately said, "Don't worry, I will immediately inform your community council to give attention to your situation, but you don't have any living needs, the council will definitely help you out, but I still say, you must first understand to understand what is legal and what is illegal, you already have three suspects in your family, so you must not push yourselves into breaking the law again!"

With that said, the policeman immediately waved his hand to those around him, "Close the line!"

The men immediately responded and took the father and son in the police car to the police station.

As they watched the police cars whizzing away, the second daughter-in-law, also in tears, asked the eldest daughter-in-law, "Sister-in-law ..... what are we going to do now ....."

The eldest daughter-in-law was also stunned and mumbled, "I don't know either ..... I've just spoken to the police for the first time in my life ....."

The second daughter-in-law said, "Sister-in-law, hurry up and call our mother, she has to make a decision on this matter ....."

The first daughter-in-law then came back to her senses and quickly said, "You're right, hurry up and call mum, I'll call her now!"

The first daughter-in-law immediately took out her mobile phone and called Mei Yu Zhen.

The mobile phone that Mei Yuzhen kept close to her body was the one she used to communicate with her family, and only her family knew her mobile phone number.

She thought it was her eldest son calling again, but when she looked down and saw that the caller was her eldest daughter-in-law, she couldn't help but frown.

She had never liked her eldest daughter-in-law very much, thinking that she was spirited, forceful and even a bit stupid.

However, at the time, she was pregnant with her son's seed, and as she was anxious to have her grandson, she acquiesced to the marriage.

But the resentment in her heart towards her eldest daughter-in-law continued to grow as more and more money was transferred to her.

She was not just saying that she wanted her eldest son to get a new wife, she really had this intention, but she had not been able to intervene in this matter before.

And she had originally planned that when she retired and returned home, the first thing she would do was to get rid of this eldest daughter-in-law.

Now, when she saw that her eldest daughter-in-law had called, she instinctively thought that she must have overheard what she had just said to her eldest son, and now she was calling to ask for her punishment.

So, when Mei Yu Zhen picked up the phone, her tone was very unfriendly as she questioned, "Why are you calling me so early in the morning? Don't you know it's early morning here?"

The eldest daughter-in-law said in tears, "Mom ..... there's something big going on in our family ..... Dareon, Er Yong and Dad, they've all been arrested by the police!"

Chapter 4729

"What?!" In this instant, Mei Yu Zhen only felt like five thunderstorms.

She hurriedly asked after them, "Why did the police arrest them? Did they say what the reason was?"

At this moment, Mei Yuzhen kept praying to God in her heart that her husband and his two sons would preferably be taken away by the police for gambling, prostitution or something else.

It didn't matter if they were taken away by the police because of murder.

But never for the crime of money laundering!

Because, murder is no more than a headache!

Two sons and a husband, it doesn't matter which one is sentenced to death, or if all three are sentenced to death, it doesn't matter, they will still be out sooner or later anyway.

But if it's a money laundering charge, then it's really the end!

That would mean that all the assets she had built up over the years would be legally seized!

All the hard work she had done for half her life would be wiped out in an instant!

Just as she was praying for God's blessing, her eldest daughter-in-law said something that was like a bolt from the blue.

"The police said they seem to be suspected of some money laundering offence ..... and said that they are going to seize all their property, including the house and the car ..... Mom, what should we do... .."

Mei Yuzhen at once as if her soul had been taken away, at once limp on the seat, the whole person terrified to the extreme at the same time also some hysterical pumping their own face, chanting: "Wake up ..... this is a nightmare ..... this must It's a nightmare ....."

However, the pain of the slap on her face felt unmistakable and not at all like she was in a dream.

Her heart grew more and more desperate, and her whole body was like a walking corpse.

On the other end of the phone, her eldest daughter-in-law was crying her heart out: "Mom ..... do something, Mom! You're our only hope now. .... Come back and help them out. ...."

"Sort things out?" I've been away from home for over twenty years, and I've only been back less than ten times in total in those twenty years.

"Huh?" The eldest daughter-in-law on the other end of the phone broke down and cried, "If they are really sentenced to eight or ten years, what can we do with our sons and daughters? ....."

Mei Yu Zhen thought of something and blurted out, "Listen to me now, hurry up and move all the valuable things out of the house, find a way to take out their savings from the bank as well, in short, get out as much money as you can!"

“Huh?!” The eldest daughter-in-law blurted out, “I wouldn’t dare! The police have said that if I get any money out of the bank now, I’ll be breaking the law and I’ll go to jail if I’m found out! I can’t go to jail, I have four children here!”

Mei Yuzhen angrily rebuked, “The police are just scaring people, what are you afraid of? Let me tell you, if all this money is seized, you won’t even have money left for your four children’s milk powder and school fees, not to mention the villa you live in and the luxury car you ride in! Are you going to take your children to the streets then?”

“I ..... I .....” cried my eldest daughter-in-law, “They have to leave us a house to live in, right? We can’t just be kicked out, can we?”

Mei Yuzhen gritted her teeth and said, “I tell you, if it’s really a money laundering crime, there won’t be anything left in this house! If you don’t want to live in poverty from now on, then do as I say!”

The daughter-in-law blurted out, “I wouldn’t dare ..... if you beat me to death, I wouldn’t dare do it .....”

She said, she hurriedly said, “Lao Er his daughter-in-law is right in front of him, why don’t you talk to her and see if she dares.”

Chapter 4730

The second daughter-in-law, who was on the other side of the phone, blurted out without thinking, “If you wouldn’t dare, I’d dare even less!”

She cried and said, “Let the police seize whatever they want to seize, they’ve never done anything illegal in all these years, apart from bringing up the children at home.

Hearing this, the eldest daughter-in-law also echoed, “Yes, yes, yes ..... we are just two women, we don’t know anything other than giving birth, breastfeeding and bringing up children, and we have done nothing else, the police will definitely not do anything to us!”

When Mei Yu Zhen heard these words, her anger surged deep inside her heart, and she wanted to rush back immediately and chop these two daughters-in-law to death.

She clenched her back teeth and said hysterically in a cold voice, “My Mei family has raised you for so many years, but I didn’t expect that we would end up raising two wolves with white eyes! If you two don’t do as I say, you will be the first ones to be dealt with when I return to China!”

Although she didn’t know what her mother-in-law had been doing in the United States for so many years, every time she saw her mother-in-law, she felt that this woman had a strong murderous aura and was not a good person at first glance, so she was naturally very scared when she heard what she said. ...this ..... what can we do .....

The oldest daughter-in-law was also in a panic at this moment, although she was spirited, she also knew that she was not even a fart in front of her mother-in-law.

However, she quickly thought of one thing and blurted out, “Mom, I just figured it out! They are all guilty of money laundering, but you earned all that money. .... Did you do something illegal and disorderly outside? The money you made must have come from the wrong source, right? If it came from the right place, how could the police come to the house to arrest people?”

Mei Yuzhen was still very angry, but when she heard these words, her whole heart instantly fell to the bottom.

She had just been worried about the family money she had earned over the years, but she had overlooked one thing: the reason her husband and two sons had gone in was that the odds were that what she had done over in the US had been exposed.

If that were the case, then I might not be able to return home for the rest of my life.

Otherwise, she would probably be arrested by the domestic police as soon as she got off the plane.

When she thought of this, she fell into a deep despair and subconsciously hung up the phone, then switched off the only phone left.

In the car, Man Jinshan, Man Yingjie and the others probably understood what had happened to Mei Yuzhen's family, and each of them was also nervous.

Manchinshan gathered his courage and asked Mei Yuzhen, "Sister Mei, what happened at home?"

Mei Yuzhen's whole body lost its soul and said, "Pull over ..... quickly and pull over!"

Manchu Jinshan hurriedly pulled the car over to the side of the road.

At this time, Mei Yuzhen pushed open the car door and stumbled down, just ran out of two meters, then vomited violently, vomiting all the food residue in her stomach.

Man Jinshan rushed forward and patted Mei Yuzhen's back, while saying to Man Yingjie, "Bring a bottle of water over here!"

Man Yingjie immediately took a bottle of water from the car, unscrewed it while handing it to Mei Yuzhen, and said nervously, "Aunt Mei, hurry up and rinse your mouth ....."

Mei Yuzhen could not stop vomiting, even bile was vomited out, a face as white as paper, as if a terminally ill patient about to die.

She took the pure water handed over by Man Yingjie, and after just one sip, she coughed violently again, the water mixed with bile, gushing all the way down her windpipe to her nasal cavity, a feeling indescribably painful.

She muttered under her breath, "It's gone ..... everything is gone ....."

With that, out of anger, she threw the water-filled bottle a long way away and roared in desperation and hysteria, "Why! Why did this happen! That's half my life's work!!!"
