

Ye Chen 4831

Chapter 4831

Other martial artists would not be able to wait for years or even decades for the opportunity to break through another barrier upwards in their cultivation.

However, Su Ruoli had broken through two meridians one after another in just a few hours, leaping from a three-star martial artist to a five-star.

This kind of speed was almost unheard of in the field of martial arts.

Su Ruoli also did not expect that Ye Chen would be able to gift herself such a blessing, after all, she was able to raise from a two-star martial artist to a three-star one thanks to Ye Chen's help, which was the same as Ye Chen pushing her directly from two-star to five-star with his own strength.

Just when she was surprised and happy in her heart, and even more moved by Ye Chen, Ye Chen directly closed the door, locked himself in his bedroom, and started to refine the Remodeling Pill.

This favour to Su Ruoli was just a handful to him, and he did not take it to heart.

Although the Blood Dissipating and Heart Saving Pill was consumed quickly, it was not too difficult to refine, and when this batch was used up, he could still refine another batch.

However, right now, refining the Remodelling Pill was a real challenge for Ye Chen.

It was no longer a pill for ordinary people to take. Its meaning was not just that it could make a person's limbs, organs and bowels grow back, but that as long as the person's brain was still intact, it could bring him back to life and restore him completely.

This was something that the Spring Returning Pill was far from being able to do.

In the case of Li Yalin's situation, if he was given more Rejuvenation Pills, he would still be certain to die.

For that kind of comprehensive fatal injury, even a rejuvenation elixir would not be able to hold his breath.

Only a non-martial virtue elixir like the Remodelling Pill could bring him back to life.

While the Rejuvenation Pill can turn back time and return a person to a more youthful state, the Remodelling Pill, however, can bring a person to nirvana and rebirth, and this is the truly miraculous part of the Remodelling Pill.

The most miraculous thing about the Rejuvenation Pill is that it ignores the strength of the person who takes it, no matter how strong or weak he or she is, and allows him or her to be reborn.

Even for an ordinary person like Li Yalin, even for a Dark Realm expert like Wan Bajun, if he were to encounter a serious enemy one day and be seriously injured, as long as his brain was still intact, he could be saved with a Remodelling Pill.

This is the true value of the Remodelling Pill, it is like a grand, uncapped insurance policy, it will always guarantee one thing, that is, no matter how much damage you encounter, it will pay for it in full.

If you lose a hundred, it will pay you a hundred, and if you lose ten billion, it will also pay you ten billion.

Therefore, once the Remodelling Pill was successfully refined, it would not only be of great use to Li Yalin and Ito Yohiko, but it would also be a very important insurance policy for Ye Chen.

In order to refine the Remodelling Pill, he took all the herbs he needed out of the box and placed them one by one in front of him according to his needs, then he took out the bracelet made from the Phoenix Bone Vine from his pocket and used his aura as a knife to cut off about a tenth of it from the top.

These were all the materials Ye Chen needed to refine the Remodelling Pill this time.

According to the records within the Nine Mysterious Heavenly Scriptures, these materials should be able to refine around 15 to 20 Remodelling Pills.

However, one of the most uncertain factors was that the Remodelling Pill was simply too great in its consumption of spiritual energy.

Although Ye Chen did not know exactly how much was consumed, he knew that the spiritual qi in his body was definitely far from enough.

So, to be cautious, he took out two more of the very precious Peiyuan Pills. Keeping these two Peiyuan Pills at hand, just in case.

In case, during the process of refining the pills, he found that the spiritual qi in his body was no longer sufficient. He would immediately help down the Peiyuan Pills to replenish his spiritual energy.

When everything was ready, Ye Chen used his spiritual energy to activate the small Phoenix Bone Vine according to the method recorded in the Nine Mysterious Heavenly Scriptures.

The Phoenix Bone Vine was like nuclear fuel, once it was activated, its medicinal properties rapidly increased, so almost instantly, the powerful medicinal power surged out from the Phoenix Bone Vine.

Ye Chen immediately used his spiritual qi to wrap up this powerful medicinal power, along with those medicinal herbs that he had prepared.

Immediately afterwards, the Phoenix Bone Vine, which had been activated by the spiritual qi, was like a devastating lava, completely penetrating its own medicinal properties into all the medicinal herbs.

Chapter 4832

Just like nuclear radiation, these medicinal herbs were themselves undergoing a radical metamorphosis under the effect of the Phoenix Bone Vine.

It could be said that all the medicinal herbs in front of Ye Chen had completed some sort of mutation at this moment, and their medicinal properties were also undergoing a transformative evolution under the dual effects of the Phoenix Bone Vine and the spiritual energy.

What surprised Ye Chen the most was that when the Phoenix Bone Vine was activated, its powerful medicinal properties, wrapped in the spiritual qi, soon formed an unimaginable operation pattern.

It was like a gaseous planet, constantly rotating, expanding and at the same time collapsing towards the centre under the influence of the aura.

And as it spun faster and faster, it was like a super powerful centrifugal pump, frantically extracting aura from Ye Chen's body.

Originally, Ye Chen still controlled the speed of the output, but he soon found that the speed of the aura output was no longer under his control, and, soon, it had changed from actively outputting to being extracted.

The whirlpool that was spinning like a gaseous planet began to spin faster and faster, and the degree of inward collapse became more and more appalling, and soon it went from a large orb with a diameter of over one metre to the size of a football.

However, its density was growing exponentially.

Ye Chen felt that his spiritual energy was soon showing signs of being unsustainable, so without thinking, he grabbed a Peiyuan Dan and immediately stuffed it into his mouth.

The surging spiritual qi had just melted away from the pill, and before it could be warmed up, it was immediately sucked away rapidly by the spinning vortex.

Ye Chen suddenly realized that he seemed a little optimistic before.

With two Peiyuan pills, he was afraid that he would not be able to carry this D*mn thing at all.

So, he did not dare to wait for his spiritual energy to be depleted any further, so he immediately swallowed the other Peiyuan Dan as well.

And the speed of the vortex spinning and collapsing was still accelerating.

By now, it had already collapsed from the size of a football to the size of a baseball.

However, it showed no sign of stopping and seemed to be spinning more and more ferociously.

The aura in Ye Chen's body soon showed signs of not being able to withstand it again.

At this moment, Ye Chen was already a bit shocked, he never thought that this thing would be so powerful, almost like using a centrifugal pump to pump blood from his body, how could the blood in his body withstand such a violent pumping.

But now there was no turning back, so he could only grit his teeth and take out another Peiyuan Dan, putting it into his mouth while praying in his heart: "Don't let me take another Peiyuan Dan ..... This is the most useful pill I have.

If I lose four or five or even more Peiyuan Dan just to refine the Remodeling Dan, I will really wake up crying in my dreams ....."

While thinking so, Ye Chen stiffened his head and put the third Peiyuan Dan into his mouth as well.

Just like the two Peiyuan Pills before, this Peiyuan Pill had just entered his mouth, and the spiritual energy was quickly drained away, even faster than before.

Feeling strained, Ye Chen couldn't help but grit his teeth and cursed with difficulty, "What a big loss today!"

After saying that, he took out another Peiyuan Dan, intending to swallow it to hold on for a while longer. And at this time, the vortex, had already accelerated to an extreme.

Ye Chen saw that it had already collapsed into a ball of only about five centimeters in diameter, and at the extremely fast speed, the ball was even about to set the air on fire, so hot that it emitted a blinding white light, and the rolling heat wave in the air came over him, even causing the wooden furniture and floor in the room to expand and explode because of the heat wave, and the wooden floor had even arched up from the ground!

The huge flow of air in the room had caused a strong tinnitus effect in Ye Chen's ears, and the furnishings in the room were even made into a mess, with various items being swept into mid-air by the ubiquitous air currents and beginning to spin around the orb while rotating in different positions, like a stellar system.

Ye Chen suddenly felt that what was in front of him at this moment was no longer a pile of medicinal herbs and a pile of miscellaneous things in the room, but a microcosm.

Su Ruoli outside the door listened with alarm and wanted to come in to see what was happening, but remembering Ye Chen's instructions, she could only control her impulse and wait anxiously outside the door.

And Su Ruoli could feel the sizzling heights of the room through the door, the whole door was by now like a heater, scorching her cheeks.

Just then, she suddenly heard an explosion from inside.

The white ball of light that kept spinning and collapsing finally exploded in front of Ye Chen!

Chapter 4833

What Ye Chen had not expected was that the rapidly rotating white ball of light suddenly disintegrated and cracked open.

The moment the ball of light exploded, the strong airflow inside the room seemed to come to an abrupt halt for an instant.

Immediately afterwards, a pile of golden-yellow pills, about one centimetre in diameter, rolled down to the ground, and what was even more unbelievable was that the pills that had rolled down did not spread out, but instead all gathered towards the centre.

Ye Chen was relieved to see that the pills had been completed, and at the same time, he hastily held the pills in his hands.

After counting them, he found that there were no more than twenty pills.

However, Ye Chen was not overly happy at this moment, after all, he had taken three precious Peiyuan pills in order to make this batch of reshaping pills.

The Peiyuan Dan could be used to replenish spiritual energy, but the Remodeling Dan did not have this effect. If one took this kind of Dan when completely healthy, it would basically be useless.

Afterwards, Ye Chen carefully put the pills away, stood up and headed out.

When Su Ruoli outside the door saw him come out, she hurriedly greeted him and asked with concern, "Are you alright Mr. Ye, I just heard that the commotion inside has been very loud ....."

Ye Chen smiled faintly, "I'm fine."

Saying that, Ye Chen added: "Right Ruo Li, call your sister and ask her to arrange a private plane to fly from Jinling to New York right now."

Su Ruoli was surprised and asked, "Mr. Ye, are you going to ask Sister Zhiyu to come over?"

"No." Ye Chen said, "I just want her to prepare the plane. After you confirm with her, call your mother and tell her to simply pack her personal belongings immediately, and when the plane is ready, have her depart for New York."

"Let my mother come?" Su Ruoli was a little surprised, she couldn't figure out why Ye Chen suddenly wanted his mother to come to New York, after all, he already had a large number of experts from the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall to serve him, and those people were all much stronger than her mother, not to mention that her mother was still a disabled person.

Ye Chen did not directly tell her the exact reason, but said seriously, "Not only do we want your mother to come over, by the way, let your father follow along as well."

Right now, Su Shoudao was under house arrest in Jinling as Ye Chen had requested, and the person responsible for watching over him was Su Ruoli's mother, He Yingxiu.

If Su Shoudao could really think straight and walk hand in hand with He Yingxiu for the rest of his life, he would give Su Shoudao a chance for the sake of their years of stumbling.

However, it is naturally impossible for Ye Chen to say such things, so he can only create opportunities for the two through various means.

Although Su Ruoli did not understand why Ye Chen suddenly wanted both his parents to come to America, her heart subconsciously believed that she could not disobey Ye Chen's request no matter what, so she said without thinking, "Okay Mr. Ye, I will call Sister Zhiyu now, and then I will call my mother."

"Good." Ye Chen nodded and said, "I have to go back to the house to make a call as well."

After saying that, he turned around and went back to his bedroom, closing the door behind him again.

At this time in New York, the skyline was already showing a hint of the morning light.

And at this time in Tokyo, it should only be just entering the evening.

So, Ye Chen took out his mobile phone and prepared to call Nanaeko Ito.

On the other side of the world, in Tokyo.

A few minutes ago, Nanaiko Ito had just finished her day's work and returned to her home in Tokyo by car.

As she had not long taken over the Ito family, Nanaiko had been working overtime to get herself up and running as soon as possible.

Chapter 4834

Normally, she would not return home from work until after 9pm.

The main reason she returned home after 6pm today was because it was her father Yohiko Ito's 50th birthday.

She left work early in order to celebrate his birthday.

In the past, when Yohiko Ito celebrated his birthday, not only did the entire Ito family come to celebrate the occasion, but also the heads of many prestigious families in Tokyo.

However, since the amputation of his legs, Itohiko has been averse to such crowded occasions, so this year he celebrated his birthday with a simple dinner at home with his daughter, sister and loyal servant Tanaka Koichi.

When Nanaiko Ito entered, his aunt Emi Ito had just brought her servants and prepared a sumptuous table in the middle of the main hall, with two bottles of the finest 14th generation Ryusen sake for Yuuhiko Ito.

When she saw that Nanaeko Ito had returned, Emi Ito said with a smile, "Nanaeko, go to your father's room and ask him to come out, the meal is all prepared and you are back, so you can start."

"Yes Auntie." Nanaeko Ito nodded gently, then asked in a low voice, "Auntie, is Lord Father in a good mood?"

"Fine." Emi Ito smiled, "He was a little sullen at lunchtime, but Tanaka came over this afternoon to feed the koi with him and the two of them played pool, and he seems to be doing better, just now he said he was a little tired and wanted to go to his room to rest for a while, and said he would call him when you arrived."

"Good." Nanaeko Ito sighed softly and said, "I'll go get him then."

Emi Ito instructed, "Go and change into your kimono first, don't forget your father's character, the whole mansion has changed into wabi-sabi clothing today."

Nanaeko Ito slapped her head, "I almost forgot ..... I'm going to change!"

Japan as a nation is, in some ways, an oxymoron where water and fire coexist.

In the whole of Asia, Japan is the most westernised, a country where office workers wear suits and ties all year round, even in the hottest of weather, but they are also one of the countries that have retained their traditional culture most thoroughly.

Yohiko Ito, for example, is almost exclusively suited in public, and even more Western than the British, but when he is away from business he prefers to live in a traditional Japanese manor house, and on major holidays wears only tatami hakama at home.

The hakama, like the kimono worn by Japanese women, is a traditional garment of the highest status in Japan.

Although she used to dress in a normal, modern Western style for most of her schooling, competitions and work, Nana-chan is still required to change into a kimono for major festivals because of family tradition.

Back in her room, Nadeshiko chose a plain white kimono and, with the help of two personal maids, put it on, complete with the matching accessories.

After all, Nadeshiko is known as the most beautiful woman in Japan, and when she puts on the traditional Japanese kimono, her unparalleled beauty and quiet virginity are brought to the fore.

The maid who was girding her waist could not help but exclaim, "Miss looks so beautiful in a kimono, if she gets married in a kimono in the future, she will surely amaze the whole of Japan!"

Ito Nanaeko looked at herself in the mirror and said shyly, "Why do you have to wear a kimono to get married?"

The maid said in surprise, "His Excellency is so devoted to tradition, I'm sure he would be very angry if you didn't wear a kimono for your wedding. Besides, I have always felt that we, Japanese women, look better in a kimono than in a wedding dress; after all, it is a traditional dress that has been passed down to us for generations, and not only is it tailored for us, but it is also more in keeping with the temperament of our Japanese women."

Nanaeko Ito blushed slightly and said, "Did you know that there is a Chinese wedding dress called the dragon and phoenix dress, which is also very beautiful."

Chapter 4835

"A dragon and phoenix coat?" The young maid shook her head, bewildered, "Back Miss, I don't think ..... never heard of it before ....."

Ito Nana-chan said with a smile, "The dragon and phoenix coat is one of the traditional dresses of Chinese women, usually red or gold, with a lot of very fine embroidery on it, very gorgeous and beautiful, and there is also a kind of Xiu-ho, which has been improved recently, also very beautiful and particularly festive to wear."

The maid said with a bewildered expression, "Miss, we Japanese women get married ..... There is no need to wear the Chinese wedding dress ..... Wouldn't it be a bit too strange ....."

Ito Nanaeko waved her head mischievously and said shyly, "If you marry a Japanese man, you naturally wear a kimono, but if you marry a Chinese man, you must wear a Chinese wedding dress to fit the occasion. Besides, as the Chinese saying goes, if you marry a chicken, you follow the chicken, if you marry a dog, you must adapt to the customs of the man."

"Ah?!" The maid said in horror, "Miss, the lord is so traditional, if you were to marry a Chinese, he would be furious with you!"

Saying that, the maid realized that she had said the wrong thing and quickly slapped her mouth and said reproachfully, "Sorry sorry sorry, I was just making an analogy ....."

Nanaeko Ito smiled faintly and said seriously, "If I did marry the man I wanted to marry, I'm afraid Father-sama would be even happier than I am."

The maid could not resist asking, "Miss ..... When you say that, do you have your heart set on someone else?"

Ito Nanaeko smiled at her and said, "Don't be so gossipy, learn more about traditional Chinese culture when you have time I might be useful in the future."

The maid quickly nodded and said, "Yes Miss, I will definitely go and learn more ....."

Ito Nanaeko smiled and nodded her head, and seeing that she was also packed up, she said to her and the other maid, "You guys go ahead and help in the front room, I'll go and get Father-sama."

The two maids respectfully withdrew, and Nanaeko Ito went out of her boudoir alone to pay her respects in her father's room.

In the traditional Japanese family, the rules between the eldest and youngest were relatively strict, and if she went to her father's room, she would do so respectfully, rather than knocking on the door in a blaze of glory.

When she arrived outside her father's room, she found Koichi Tanaka in his wheelchair at the entrance to the corridor, not far from the door, polishing a beautifully crafted pool cue in his hands.

When he saw Nanaeko Ito, he hastily straightened his body and said respectfully, "Miss."

Ito Nana-chan hastily made a gesture of silence, stepped forward and asked in a low voice, "Tanaka-san, is Father-sama inside?"

Koichi Tanaka nodded respectfully and said, "His Excellency is a little tired just now and said he was going to his room to rest for a while."

Nanaeko Ito asked him, "I heard from my aunt that Tanaka-san was playing pool with father-sama, he seems to have not touched the cue for a long time recently, how was it? Did you enjoy yourself?"

Koichi Tanaka laughed bitterly, "At first it was fine, but halfway through the game he suddenly said it was silly to run around the table in a motorised wheelchair, so he didn't really want to continue."

With that, he raised the pool cue in his hand and said helplessly, "His lordship even dropped his favourite cue, luckily it didn't break, the brand has long since gone out of print."

Nanaeko Ito nodded gently and sighed, "Father-sama has become an eccentric old man with an eccentric temper nowadays, but obviously he has just turned fifty today ....."

She knew her father, stubborn, hard-tempered and with a high opinion of himself.

Chapter 4836

He was known in Japan as an inspirational idol and had single-handedly built the Ito family into one of the top families in Japan. It was difficult to fill the gap in her heart.

So she said to Koichi Tanaka, "Tanaka, please ask the manufacturer of the table to come to your home tomorrow and ask them to see if there is any way to upgrade the table to make it more suitable for your father's current condition, such as making it as height-adjustable as possible, and making the legs of the table as far inward as possible to prevent it from knocking against the wheelchair. Your Excellency as free as possible from the wheelchair."

She then remembered something else and added: "Right, we should also make an appointment with a manufacturer of electric wheelchairs. It would be nice, Lord Father should have a need for that when he plays pool."

"Yes!" Koichi Tanaka agreed without a second thought and said, "I will do this in the morning."

Ito Nanaeko nodded slightly and sighed softly, "Actually, Ye Chen-kun has already helped a lot, although Tanaka-san and father cannot become normal, at the very least their physical condition has completely healed, and the rest, is the adaptation stage."

"Right." Tanaka Koichi couldn't help but sigh, "When I jumped off the bridge, I didn't think that I would definitely survive, at that time, I thought that as long as I could get my life back, even if it was miserable, it would be worth it, now I see that it's really thanks to Mr. Ye, except for the fact that I don't have both legs, I'm no different from before in other aspects, and I'm even in better physical condition than before."

Saying that, he added with a melancholy face, "My mind is adjusting quickly, but it's just that the lord he ..... As you know, my lady, my lord has been a strong man all his life, and I am afraid that he will not be able to adapt to it in a short time ....."

Ito Nanaeko nodded gently and spoke, "I will try to help Father-sama come out as soon as possible, Tanaka-san please help more as well."

Tanaka Koichi bowed his head respectfully and said, "Don't worry, Miss, Tanaka will do his best!"

Nanaeko Ito smiled slightly and said, "Thank you, Tanaka, I will go in to see my father."

At that moment, Yohiko Ito was alone in his wheelchair, parked in the middle of his bedroom study.

Ito's room was a bedroom and study suite, decorated in typical Japanese style, with tatami mats throughout.

On the wall hangs a brand new set of tattooed hakama, which he had his craftsman make for his fiftieth birthday last year.

He had two sets made, one for his fiftieth birthday and the other for his daughter Nana-chan's wedding.

For a traditional Japanese man like Yohiko Ito, his love of tattooed hakama exceeded that of the British aristocracy's love of bespoke suits.

But now that he was looking at them again, he couldn't get enough of them.

The reason was simple: he had lost his legs, and it was impossible to wear such a garment in its original form.

Ito Yohiko even felt that he was not worthy of such an elaborate hakama, and that if he wore it, he would look as ridiculous and rude as a European gentleman wearing a suit with only the top half of the body and the bottom half with bare legs and trousers.

So, even though he knew it was time to change for his birthday celebration in the front room, he was still reluctant to let the servants come and dress him.

He just sat alone in his wheelchair, staring at the outfit and weeping silently.

At that moment, he suddenly heard a soft knock on the door, followed by his daughter's voice: "Father-sama, Nana-chan has come to pay her respects, is it convenient to come in?"

Ito Yohiko hastily wiped away his tears and used his hands to manipulate the telepresence of his wheelchair, turning it around so that his back was to the tattooed hakama on the wall, before saying in a calm manner, "Oh, it's Nana-chan, come in."

Chapter 4837

Ito Nanaeko gently pulled open the door, left her slippers outside and walked in barefoot.

When Yohiko Ito saw Nanaeko dressed up like a fairy, he said proudly, "Nanaeko, I can't wait to see you when you get married, you'll be even more beautiful than you are now.

Nanaeko Ito smiled slightly and guffawed, "Father-sama, Nanaeko doesn't want to get married too early."

"Wow ....." Ito Yuuhiko responded and sighed, "Still can't let go of Ye Chen in your heart?"

Ito Nanaeko didn't hide it and said seriously, "Back to father-sama, it's not that Nanaeko can't let go of Ye Chen-kun in her heart, it's that there's no place for anyone else but him, and even if we let go of him, there can't be anyone else."

Ito Yuuhiko froze for a moment and said with some heartache, "Nana-chan, Ye Chen is good, but you don't know how long you will have to wait for him, a woman's golden age is only ten years from twenty to thirty, you are already twenty-three this year, if you miss your golden age, I am afraid you will regret it for the rest of your life!"

Even if I can't get married during this golden period, I will still make the most of my years." "Father, don't worry about me."

Saying that, Nanaiko Ito added, "I think father-sama would not want me to marry someone I don't like in my best years, and then spend my days not seeing a smile in front of people, but having to spend my days crying in secret behind them."

Ito Yohiko nodded solemnly and said, "You are right! No matter what, father wants you to live every day happily."

Ito Nanaiko smiled heartily, looked at the tattooed hakama hanging on the wall and said with a smile, "Father, life without the other half is also a kind of disability, but as long as you can adjust your mind and plan your life well, you can still live a wonderful life. If you can adjust your mind, you can still live a wonderful life."

Even if you lose your legs, I'm sure you'll still look great in them, and I was thinking of taking a picture with you after you've changed into them, so that the Japanese media, who have been following the Ito family, can send it out."

"Send it out?" Ito Yohiko subconsciously refused, "No! Absolutely not! I will never allow the media to release a picture of me in a wheelchair, not even if it's just a half-body shot!"

Nanae Ito smiled and said seriously, "Father, don't forget that you are the famous Yohiko Ito, many young people in Japan consider you an idol, many people know that it's your birthday today and have even started a buzzword on the internet to celebrate your birthday. You can't let them down at a time like this!"

I think if they don't see your latest photo today, I'm afraid they'll think you're decrepit now, and if they start an online thread to console and cheer for Yohiko Ito, won't you feel bad when you see it?"

Hearing this, Ito Yohiko said without thinking, "Have someone bring me my prosthetic leg! I want to shoot standing up!"

Ito Nanaeko snickered and said hurriedly, "Then wait a moment, I'll have someone prepare it."

With that, she hurried out of the room.

Ito Yohiko had always resisted prosthetics, mainly because he had an amputation at the thigh, and it was very close to the sciatic tuberosity, and after such a high level of amputation, even the best prosthetics would be difficult to manipulate, and the worse the experience of using them.

If the lower leg was amputated and the part above the knee could still be used normally, then you could basically walk or even run occasionally with the prosthesis on, but Yohiko Ito has almost reached the root of his leg, so in this case, the prosthesis can only hobble up two steps, and because it is so close to the root of the thigh, the wear and tear and discomfort is so intense that when you sit down, you can't even sit down with your buttocks all the way down. Within ten minutes, it was painful and numb.

This is why Yohiko Ito often prefers a wheelchair to a prosthetic leg.

But now that he has been coaxed by Nanaiko Ito, he is no longer disillusioned or unhappy with the prosthesis.

Ito came out of the room quickly and asked the housekeeper to come and help her father dress and put on his prosthesis.

Chapter 4838

No sooner had Ito Nanaiko given her orders than the maid came running over with a mobile phone and said to Ito Nanaiko, "Miss, it's for you!"

Nodding her head, Nanaeko Ito took the phone and took a look at it, and burst into a flurry of joy.

It was because on the top of the phone, there were three words written: Ye Chenjun.

So she hurriedly took the phone, walked to an unoccupied corner and picked it up, and asked excitedly, "Ye Chenjun, aren't you in America? Why are you calling me?"

Ye Chen smiled slightly and said, "Nana-chan, I have something very important to tell you."

Ito Nanaeko hurriedly said, "Ye Chen-kun, please speak!"

Ye Chen instructed, "Drop everything you are doing and bring your father and Tanaka Koichi to New York to see me, the sooner the better."

"Huh?" Ito Nana-chan asked in surprise and astonishment, "Let me bring Lord Father and Tanaka-san to New York to see you? Now?"

"Yes." Ye Chen said, "It's a long journey, so it's best to leave for the airport now, without bringing any luggage or anything else, as fast as you can."

Ito Nanaeko was just about to say that since it was her father's birthday tonight, could she not move two hours later, or at least let her father finish his meal before moving.

But she heard the tone of Ye Chen's voice, and although she didn't know exactly what Ye Chen was in such a hurry for, she could hear the meaning of his words, which was that every second counts.

So, Ito Nanaeko made up her mind immediately: she would not eat the meal and would leave immediately.

With this in mind, she said to Ye Chen without thinking, "Yes, Ye Chen, I will arrange for a convoy and a plane to get there as fast as possible."

Ye Chen instructed, "By the way, try to bring as few attendants and servants as possible when you come, the fewer people the better."

Ito Nana-chan said, "Then I will bring my aunt and housekeeper with me, my father and Tanaka-san are both physically handicapped and need someone to take care of them."

"Good." Ye Chen agreed and said, "Before the plane takes off, tell me your flight number and I will arrange for someone to go over and pick you up."

"Okay Ye Chen Jun!"

Ye Chen smiled, "I'll see you in New York then."

"Yes! See you in New York!"

After hanging up the phone, Ito Nana-chan immediately called her assistant and instructed her to immediately get the business jet ready and fly straight to New York immediately.

At the same time, she also told her to bring over the commuter helicopter that was always available at the top floor of the Ito Group. She planned to take her family directly from home to the airport by helicopter, which would greatly shorten the journey time in between, as Tokyo was now at the time when the nightlife opened and the ground traffic would be relatively congested.

The assistant didn't understand why she was suddenly going to America, but she didn't dare delay and started to coordinate the arrangements.

Instead of informing her father, Nana-chan came to Tanaka Koichi first and said to him, "Tanaka-san, we are leaving for America soon, and Ye Chen-kun has asked you by name to go there too, is there anything you need to prepare?"

Tanaka Koichi froze and then said, "I ..... There is nothing I need to prepare ..... Just what's the point of going to America so suddenly?"

"I'm not sure." Nana-chan was busy saying, "Tanaka-san since there is nothing that needs to be prepared, then I will go and inform my aunt, and finally come and inform father-sama, he has agreed to change his clothes so easily, so let him get changed first, and then we will leave directly!"

Having said that, she turned hastily and left.

Tanaka subconsciously asked behind her, "Miss, what about the birthday feast?"

Without looking back, Nana-chan said, "No, I'll ask my aunt to bring the cake with her and eat it on the plane!"

Chapter 4839

After Yohiko Ito had put on the uncomfortable prosthesis, several male servants helped him to change into the tattooed hakama.

Standing in place, the newly dressed Yohiko Ito did look a bit like his old self again.

However, the pain he felt was only known to him.

After just two or three minutes of standing while dressing, he felt pain and numbness and some itching where his body was in contact with the prosthetic.

He was tempted to throw the prosthesis aside and return to his wheelchair, but when he thought of his daughter's comment about taking photographs, he had to resist the urge.

Originally he wanted to walk out on his own, but after a few attempts he had some difficulty getting around due to his prosthetic leg, so he had to let the maid help him out of the room.

Unbeknownst to him, no one in the Ito family was still busy with his birthday, and everyone was preparing for the trip to New York that was about to begin.

Emi Ito directed the maids to pack all the meals into the traditional wooden lunch box before the helicopter arrived, along with a birthday cake that Nanaiko Ito had made especially for Yohiko Ito in advance.

Ito Nanae was already not bothered to change her clothes, and while directing and coordinating, she called her assistant to deal with her recent work schedule, postponing those that could be postponed, and those that could not be postponed but could be solved remotely, she would solve them remotely in New York, and if they could not be postponed and could not be solved remotely, she would arrange for someone to do it for her.

Koichi Tanaka was at a loss as he had nothing to prepare, but he could not help much, so he had to sit by himself in his wheelchair and watch everyone go about their business.

When he saw Yohiko Ito come out with the help of his servants, Koichi Tanaka was very excited and hurriedly operated his electric wheelchair and said respectfully, "My lord, you look as good as ever!"

Ito Yohiko laughed bitterly, "What elegance, it's just an illusion supported by two false legs."

He looked at Tanaka Koichi and said, "Tanaka, let's go to the front hall together."

Tanaka Koichi was about to say not to go, when Nanaeko Ito came running over in a breeze, excited to see Ito Yuuhiko's renewed appearance, and said, "Father-sama, you really look ..... good now"

Ito Yohiko grabbed the words, "You really do look good, don't you? Tanaka already said that ten seconds ago."

Ito Nanaeko pursed her lips and said seriously, "I would say that the style is better than it was then, you have a little more white hair between your temples now, although you look older, but overall you have more grandeur!"

Ito Yohiko smiled and laughed to himself, "It's just a bit of a bluff when you're still."

Nanaeko Ito looked at him and smiled slightly, "Father-sama, this tattooed hakama looks very spirited, so why don't you wear it to America?"

"What?" Ito Yohiko asked with a frown, "What are you going to do in America?"

Ito Nana-chan said in a rush, "Ye Chen-kun wants us to go to America, right away!"

"Immediately?" Ito Yuuhiko asked tentatively, "When you say immediately, you can't mean right now, right?"

"It is now." Ito Nanaeko looked at her wristwatch and said, "The helicopter will arrive in five minutes, let's go straight to the airport, the business jet is ready!"

Ito Yohiko hurriedly said, "I don't want to go to America! I'm not fit to go out in this condition, I'd rather stay at home!"

"How can that be!" Nanaeko Ito said, "Yeh Chen-kun asked me by name to take you and Tanaka-san with me!"

Chapter 4840

"Then I won't go either." Ito Yohiko said in an unpleasant voice, "I haven't been out of the house for a long time and I don't want to go out and make a fool of myself, let alone to America."

Nanaeko Ito said firmly, "This is Ye Chen-kun's wish."

Ito Yohiko said in a somewhat angry voice, "You like him, not me, so what if it's his wish? Just go yourself, I'll stay here, I'm not going anywhere!"

Ito Nanaeko was a little angry and even her tone was a little serious, even a little reprimanding as she blurted out, "Odo-san! Have you forgotten the kindness Ye Chen-kun has shown to our Ito family?"

"I haven't forgotten!" Ito Yohiko said resentfully, "But you mustn't forget that he, Ye Chen, has also taken a lot of money from me! Those billions of dollars were not given, did I mention this later? No, right?"

Ito Nana-chan said seriously, "Oudosan, if Ye Chen is so anxious for us to go to New York, there must be something very important, and for reasons of reason, we can't not go."

Ito Yohiko said, "If Ye Chen needs any help, you can do it on behalf of the Ito family, why should I, a legless cripple, go? It's not like I can do anything to help him."

"Odo-san!" Nanaeko Ito asked him, "What if Ye Chen-kun asks you to go, not because he needs your help, but to help you?"

"Help me?" Ito Yohiko said seriously, "There are only two things I, Ito Yohiko, might need his help with right now, the first thing, is for him to marry you sooner rather than later, because I can't wait to see my daughter get married in full regalia; the second thing, is if he has any magical powers to make these two legs of mine grow back, and if he can do that, I would like to stay by his side for the rest of my life to saddle up and serve him as a servant for the rest of my life!"

At this moment, Ito Yohiko, also simply could not believe that Ye Chen had any way to make his legs grow back.

The reason why he said this was just to express his dissatisfaction and resistance to going to America.

Although Nanaiko Ito did not have this luxury either, she still did not want to let her father play with his temper on this matter, so she said without thinking, "Odo-san, if your opinion is not taken today, you must go to America with me, and if you don't go, I will have someone carry you on the plane!"

"Don't you dare!" Ito Yohiko said in exasperation, "You may be the head of the Ito family now, but I am still your father!"

Nanaeko Ito clutched her shoulders and said with a serious face, "Odo-san, I am now solemnly informing you that from now on, I am the biggest in the Ito family!"

As she spoke, the whirring of a helicopter had come quickly.

At that moment, a heavy helicopter was approaching fast in mid-air and was already preparing to land in the middle of the courtyard.

Looking at her dumbfounded father, who was at a loss for words, Nanae Ito said to the servants, "Take Ondo-san to the plane first!"

Although they were servants of the Ito family and were supposed to follow the orders of the patriarch, they had been with Yohiko Ito for many years and he had always given them orders, so they didn't know what to do at the moment.

Ito Nanaeko said in a cold voice, "If you keep dilly-dallying, then I will dismiss you now and you can be disbanded on the spot!"

When a few people heard this, they made up their minds, exchanged a look between each other and set Yohiko Ito straight up.

Ito Yohiko was so angry that he kept trying to resist, but in the end he was no match for a few big, strong boys, and the helicopter had just stopped when he was shoved straight in.

Ito Nanaiko didn't delay any longer and immediately had Koichi Tanaka carried up as well. Her aunt took the housekeeper and arranged for a group of servants to carry a large number of food boxes onto the helicopter, and then Ito Nanaiko immediately boarded the helicopter and flew with everyone else towards the Tokyo airport .....
