

Ye Chen 4931

Chapter 4931

"Fine, fine!" Once Malan heard this, she burst into joy and smiles.

To her, the outside world was still a bit boring, and she was more satisfied with the feeling of being a bully at Bedford Hills Correctional Facility.

So she said happily, "My son-in-law is a good man! To be able to find connections so far away from New York is truly remarkable!"

Ye Chen laughed and said casually, "It's also a coincidence that a client happens to be here, otherwise I wouldn't be able to help much."

Ma Lan said with a smile, "Oh, good, it's good to be able to help! Good son-in-law, then I won't talk to you for a while, please say hello to Chu Ran for me and tell her not to worry, and ah, you don't have to wait in New York all the time, go back to stay with her first, mum will be out in another ten days and a half months."

"Okay." Ye Chen spoke, "I'll talk to Churan later, so you don't have to worry about it."

After hanging up the phone, Ma Lan's entire body was happy.

She hung up the phone joyfully, and when she turned her head, she found a black woman standing in the back of the queue waiting for the phone, and as soon as she saw Ma Lan, the black man immediately bowed respectfully and said in not-so-skilled Chinese, "Intercept number!"

Ma Lan frowned and grunted, "How did you learn to pronounce that? It's not standard at all! It's Arashi, not Intercept! Say it again for me!"

"What....." This black woman didn't know Chinese at all, she just followed the example of others and learnt the phrase "Sister Arashi is good", but she couldn't understand the pronunciation, and now she saw that Ma Lan was saying a lot in front of her, but she couldn't understand anything.

When she saw the black woman looking at her with a bewildered expression, she couldn't help but mutter, "What's wrong with you? Didn't you hear me talking to you?"

The black woman couldn't understand what Maran was saying, but she could tell that the ghostly woman was not too happy, so she didn't know what to do.

Seeing her tense and shivering, Ma Lan could not help but snicker and said casually, "Your sister Lan is in a good mood now, so I won't be ordinary with you."

After saying that, she turned her face away and strutted away.

On the playground, everyone who saw Ma Lan continued to greet her respectfully, making Ma Lan in a good mood.

But Marashi didn't know that what was happening right now was about to change dramatically tomorrow!

.....

The next day.

The first thing she did when she woke up was to take it out on Chloe and Jessica.

When she saw that they were still asleep in bed, she immediately went to the bathroom and brought out a basin of cold water and poured half of it over Chloe's body, then with a scream, she turned around and poured the rest of the basin over Jessica, who was curled up in the other bed.

Jessica, too, shrieked in terror and then jumped up from the bed in a huff.

The two drenched men saw Marashi standing in front of them with the empty basin, each one daring to speak out in anger.

Marashi looked at Chloe and asked in a cold voice, "What are you looking at me for? Why don't you get up and get to work?"

Chloe cried, "We washed clothes until the early hours of the morning yesterday, and we've only had three or four hours' sleep, do you want us to live?"

Maran said with contempt, "You're lucky we let you sleep for three or four hours! Get up and wipe the floor for me, if I get dust on my feet, I'll beat you to death!"

Chapter 4932

Marashi has a bitter hatred for Chloe.

In her opinion, even the old lady Xiao was not as pure as Chloe's badness.

Now that she was the boss of the house, she would take double revenge on Chloe.

Chloe was too angry to say anything, so she got up and went to the bathroom with Jessica to change into clean clothes, and then got down on her knees and scrubbed the floor.

After a few moments of free movement in the cell, the guards came over and started to take roll call.

After the roll call, the guard suddenly said, "Chen Zitong, Wang Xinyu and Luo Ying, you three come back after dinner to get ready and pack up your personal belongings, you can do the formalities for your release from prison before noon today."

Once the prison guard said this, Ma Lan's expression instantly became appalled.

The three names called by the guard were none other than the three female generals of the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons, Marashi's biggest backers at Bedford Hill Correctional Facility.

Because of the unparalleled fighting power of these three men, no one dared to mess with Marashi at Bedford Hill Correctional Institution.

Those former jailers who had tried to challenge Marashi's authority were taught to behave by these three female generals.

Later on, all the disobedient ones were convinced and scared, and Ma Lan became the deserving Bedford Hill Ghost.

But Marashi never imagined that the three main supporters who had made her the Bedford Hills Ghostly Witness would suddenly be released from prison!

Nervous, she immediately opened her mouth and asked, "What's going on? They They're getting out of here?"

The prison guard smiled faintly and nodded, "The defendant in their case has withdrawn the charges, and they can regain their freedom today."

With that, she looked at Ma Lan and said with a smile, "Right, Sister Lan, I have asked the kitchen to prepare soy milk and doughnuts for you, you can try them later."

Ma Lan was frozen on the spot, how could she be in the mood to eat soybean milk and doughnuts, she was now so scared that her face was blue and white.

The three female generals were also a little surprised.

They had been given orders to protect Marashi at the Bedford Hills Correctional Facility.

So, in their opinion, only when Marashi was released from prison first would it be their turn next.

But they never thought that they would be released before Marashi.

The three of them knew very well that they had helped Marashi during this period of time and had built up absolute prestige at Bedford Hills Correctional Facility, but at the same time they had also made numerous enemies.

Because the three of them were by Marashi's side 24 hours a day, those who had been beaten into submission naturally did not dare to make a move.

However, if the three of them were to leave the prison first, leaving Marashi alone, then Marashi would still be beaten to death by these vengeful people.

I'm afraid that Chloe, who was in the same cell, would have killed Marashi!

She had never dreamed that the change from heaven to hell would come so quickly!

Chloe, who was on her knees scrubbing the floor, heard this and her whole body immediately shot up.

She knew very well that Marashi's protection here came from two main sources, the first of which was these three particularly capable women.

Secondly, there was the special care she received from the prison guards.

What really bothers Chloe are the three women who live in the same cell.

When she heard that the three women were getting out of prison, the first thing that came to her mind was to beat the sh*t out of Marashi when they left and when everyone returned to their cells after their release.

As for what would happen to her if she told the guards, Chloe had no regard for what would happen to her.

She had been tortured by Marashi for so long that all she wanted to do was to fight him to the death.

She had restrained herself because she knew that with these three women around, it would be useless to fight for her life.

Chapter 4933

When she heard that the three women were getting out of prison, the first thing that came to her mind was to beat the sh*t out of Marashi when they left and when everyone returned to their cells after their release.

As for what would happen to her if she told the guards, Chloe had no regard for what would happen to her.

She had been tortured by Marashi for so long that all she wanted to do was to fight him to the death.

She had restrained herself because she knew that with these three women around, it would be useless to fight for her life.

But when the three women had left, the opportunity to fight for her life would come!

At this moment, panic and fear filled Marashi's mind, and she took a furtive glance at Chloe, and when she saw that Chloe was glancing at her with an incomparably malicious look, Marashi felt a chill run down her back.

At this moment, Marashi could not wait to slap herself a hundred times with her big mouth.

In her mind, she thought nervously, "D*mn it Isn't this the end of the story? Isn't this If I had known that the three of them were going to be released today, I would have promised Ye Chen yesterday and rushed to get out of jail today!"

"Now it's a good I've been told by Ye Chen to stay here for a few more days, so once the three of them leave, won't I die here?"

At this moment, those three female warriors of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall were also a little worried.

Among them, the leader, Chen Zitong, could not help but say to Ma Lan in Chinese, "Sister Lan, we are leaving, you must take care of yourself!"

Ma Lan was on the verge of tears, shivering as she took Chen Zitong's hand and cried, "Zitong, Zitong, you can't leave me here, Zitong! If you just leave like this, what will I do Zitong The two bds, Chloe and Jessica, are going to flay me alive, right? And those old Americans and Mexicans in the other cells They must all want to kill me"

Chen Zitong said helplessly, "Sister Lan, I I don't know how I managed to get out so quickly, I thought I would have to go out later than you When we're gone, you must take care of yourself, or else hurry up and find a way to get out quickly too"

Ma Lan choked out, "It's too late for that Even if I want to get out, I have to call my son-in-law first, so that my son-in-law can think of something, but you will leave before noon today, even if my son-in-law can get me out this afternoon, I'm afraid I won't be able to survive the time between noon and afternoon"

After saying that, she looked at Chen Zitong and said with an expectant face, "Zitong! How about you grab some more time to commit something! Go out and hit a prison guard, or beat up some inmates in front of the guards, won't you be able to be locked up again that way?"

Chen Zitong froze, shook his head and said, "Sister Lan The American judicial system doesn't work that way either, even if I beat up the guards here, it's not like they'll just keep me in jail, they'll definitely notify the police to arrest me first, and then the police will charge me to the court, and then the court will sentence me to come in before I can come in Then by the time I come in, it will probably be two days later"

"Ah?!" Ma Lan was so anxious that she was like an ant on a hot pot, spinning around in place, she was crying and chanting under her breath, "It's finished, it's finished, I'm really finished this time!"

With that, she suddenly came back to her senses and said nervously, "No, I have to hurry to call my good son-in-law and ask him to hurry to think of a way to get me out"

Chen Zitong reassured her, "Sister Lan, don't be in a hurry, you have to wait for the release time even if you want to call, you'd better go and eat first!"

Ma Lan said in a panic: "I want to die now, how can I be in the mood to eat"

She finished with tears in her eyes and muttered to herself, "My good son-in-law, I'm counting on you to get me out of here alive You must find a way to save mum"

Chapter 4934

While the disoriented Ma Lan was absentmindedly picking at her breakfast in the dining room, the news that the three female generals from the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons would be released from prison had spread throughout Bedford Hills Correctional Facility.

Everyone knew that the main reason why Ma Lan was able to be so dominant at Bedford Hills was because she was surrounded by three Chinese women who were so powerful in combat that they were perverted.

Now, these three women were suddenly going to be released from prison, and that meant that Marashi would be completely without shelter!

As a result, many people who had been suppressed and humiliated by Ma Lan, and even cleaned up by the three female generals of the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons, began to have a flame of revenge ignited in their hearts.

All of them were looking forward to giving Marashi a good beating after those three had left, to see if she was still the so-called Bedford Mountain Ghost.

For this reason, all through breakfast, Marashi could feel the eyes and threats from all sides.

The panicked Marashi went to the playground to grab a public phone as soon as breakfast was over, got the phone and immediately called Ye Chen.

When he received Ma Lan's call, Ye Chen was not surprised at all and asked with a smile, "Mom, why are you calling me so early? I've done all the things you asked me to do yesterday, and I expect the New York police will restore your freedom in a week's time, so you can spend that time inside catching up with your newfound friends, and by the way, you can also accumulate some material for the book you're going to write."

Ma Lan forced down her inner fear and blurted out, "Good son-in-law, that You'd better tell them to hurry up and let mum out, mum doesn't want to stay in here anymore"

Ye Chen pretended to be surprised and asked, "Mom, why do you suddenly want to come out again? I've just said hello to them here, I'm afraid it's not good to change again"

When Ma Lan heard this, she was scared out of her wits, and even her voice was a bit nervous as she begged, "Good son-in-law, please help me think of a way to let mum out as soon as possible, preferably before noon today! Mum really doesn't want to stay here for a minute!"

Ye Chen asked in confusion, "Mom, what's wrong with you? Actually, I think that motivation you had for wanting to write a book yesterday was really great! When your book is finished, once it is published in China, it will also show our compatriots in China the unknown side of America, and maybe it will even win an award!"

When Ma Lan saw that Ye Chen had really believed in her own nonsense, she was chagrined, but she didn't dare to let Ye Chen know the truth, so she could only say, "You know Ma's situation, I'm not capable of writing a novel. In case the writing is not good, won't it make people laugh"

With that, she asked impatiently, "Good son-in-law, can you get mum out today or not? I can't stay for a minute longer! Please, you must help mum!"

Ye Chen pretended to be surprised and asked, "Mom, what's wrong with you? Are you being bullied in there?"

Ma Lan originally wanted to go along with Ye Chen's words and tell him that she had indeed been bullied in prison, believing that this would make Ye Chen take it seriously and get himself out in a hurry.

If she admitted that she had been bullied in prison now, how could she tell others about her legendary experiences in Bedford Hills Correctional Facility in a colorful way in the future?

Thinking of this, she could only hastily explain, "Mom mainly misses you guys, last night I dreamed of Chu Ran, so early this morning I thought I would hurry to come and give you a call when I had dinner and let off steam, or go out early, go out early so I can see Chu Ran sooner"

The actual fact is that you will be able to get a lot more than just a few days to get a lot more than just a few days.

Chapter 4935

Ma Lan said nervously, "Good son-in-law, tomorrow and the day after tomorrow won't be a good time! Do something and see how you can get me out today"

Ye Chen gave a hint, then said, "I'll call and ask a friend, you wait for my news first."

Ma Lan was busy saying, "Good son-in-law, then I'll call you at noon! You must find a connection for mum!"

"Okay." Ye Chen deliberately wanted to make Ma Lan nervous and reminded her, "Mom, I still say, you just told me yesterday that you didn't want to come out for the time being, but now you suddenly tell me that you want to come out today, I really can't guarantee 100% that this will work."

Ma Lan's heart was chagrined, but she also knew that her request was too sudden, and it might be difficult for Ye Chen to get himself out before noon, after all, there were only four hours left from now until lunchtime.

At the thought of time being short, Ma Lan's heart immediately became apprehensive, but at the moment she could only instruct Ye Chen: "Good son-in-law, you must do your best!"

If I still can't get it done at noon, I'll call Ye Chen again during my lunch break, and then I won't care about saving face, I'll cry and beg him to come and take me away"

After hanging up the phone, Ma Lan panicked and walked through the playground to look for the three female generals of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple. This time, no one called her Sister Lan respectfully when they passed by, and all of them looked at her with a smiling expression.

At this moment, Ma Lan came in front of those three female generals of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall and said worriedly, "You guys haven't left yet, these people are not looking at me quite right, if you guys leave, what can I do"

The leader, Chen Zitong, quickly gave her advice, "Sister Lan, then you have to hurry and find a way to get out! It's hard for the guards to keep you safe in here, not to mention the fact that Chloe and Jessica are watching you."

Ma Lan nodded repeatedly, "I've already called my son-in-law, I just don't know if he can get me out as soon as possible"

She asked Chen Zitong, "Zitong, can you teach me some self-defense, so that if anyone comes after me, I will at least have the ability to defend myself."

Chen Zitong said with difficulty, "Sister Lan, I can teach you, but it's impossible for you to learn it in one morning" And even if you could learn it, at your age, it would be hard for you to take advantage of Chloe and Jessica."

"What then" Ma Lan's entire body panicked to the extreme, then she suddenly thought of something and hurriedly said to Chen Zitong, "Zitong, how about this! Aren't you guys going to go back and start packing your personal belongings later on? Why don't we take this opportunity to find a reason and an excuse to give them a good beating! It's best to break their legs, so they won't be able to do anything to me!"

Chen Zitong was stunned to hear this, if Ma Lan had made this request yesterday, he would have complied immediately without saying a word, after all, this was the task given to him by the Temple Master.

However, the situation was different now.

Wan Bajun had told them a long time ago that under normal circumstances, they would have to protect Maran at Bedford Hill Correctional Facility until Maran was released from prison, and that they would have to do whatever Maran said.

But if they were released early, this signal would mean an emergency termination of the mission.

And once the mission was urgently terminated, they were no longer allowed to make any active interference in Marashi's situation!

So, Chen Zitong said awkwardly, "Sorry, Sister Lan, although we have gotten along quite well during this period of time, we are not your bodyguard fighters, moreover, we are so easily going to be released, so we can't continue to cause trouble under such circumstances, so from now on, you will have to rely on yourself."

Chapter 4936

Chen Zitong's words sent Marashi into a deep freeze.

She was not in the mood to worry about whether her request was too much, she only knew that Chen Zitong, who had been covering for her at Bedford Hills Correctional Facility, was no longer in charge of her life.

Anxiously, Marashi sat alone on her bed, watching the three of them pack their personal belongings, panicked and afraid.

The guard came back to the cell at noon.

After the roll call, she said to Chen Zitong and the others, "Have you packed all your things? Your lawyers have arrived, so you can come with me now to do the formalities and prepare for your release from prison."

Chen Zitong nodded and spoke, "We're all packed up, we can go now."

"Good." The prison guard said, "You guys come with me."

With that, he was about to take Chen Zitong and the three of them away.

At this time, Ma Lan hurriedly spoke up and asked, "Is there any news about me? When will I be let out?"

The female prison guard asked with a surprised look on her face, "Sister Lan, don't you have to wait a few more days before you are released?"

Ma Lan blurted out, "I've already called my son-in-law and asked him to get me out today, haven't you received any news?"

The female prison guard shook her head and said, "We haven't received any news yet, only Chen Zitong and the three girls in your cell have been released today, no one else has heard of them."

Ma Lan suddenly became nervous and said out of the blue, "Xiao Sun, please say hello to your warden and tell him that my case has been overturned and the person who framed me has been caught, so can I be released sooner?"

"This" The female prison guard said awkwardly, "Sister Lan, it's not up to us to release people, it's up to the police or the court, why don't you go to the playground after dinner later and make a phone call to your son-in-law to ask?"

Ma Lan could only nod uneasily, and at the same time made up her mind that when the wind was released later, she must call Ye Chen at the first opportunity, saying that she must let Ye Chen get herself out, or if that was not possible, she must at least let the prison guards put her in the solitary confinement room, otherwise, she might really be beaten to death.

Afterwards, the guards took Chen Zitong away, while the others, started to line up and head for the dining hall.

As soon as Chen Zitong left, Chloe, who had recently been suppressed by Ma Lan, walked up to Ma Lan and said in a low voice through clenched teeth, "Ma, you're dead!"

Ma Lan said in a panic, "Don't be too arrogant! My son-in-law is very powerful!"

Chloe sneered, "So what if he's powerful? Can he come in and protect you? If not, then I'll get you killed first!"

With that, Chloe added, "Don't worry, I'll get back everything you've done to me tenfold and a hundredfold! I'd rather be locked up here for the rest of my life and not get out, but I'll never let you get away with it!"

Ma Lan was scared out of her wits, and her legs couldn't help but feel a little weak.

Jessica, the ex-prisoner, came forward and said with a fierce hatred, "Ma, your son-in-law cost me my job and went to prison, and you've been torturing me for so many days, when I get back to my cell this afternoon, I'm going to break your legs and make you lick the floor clean with your mouth!"

Chloe looked over at Jessica and smiled, "Jessica, you can only break one of her legs."

Jessica asked in disbelief, "Why?! I'm not happy until I've broken both her legs!"

Chloe sneered, "Because to leave the other leg for me!"

Jessica laughed, "I was going to save one for you, but I was worried that when we went to the playground to let off steam after lunch, the other cells wouldn't be able to control themselves and beat her half to death first!"

"Also" Chloe looked at Ma Lan and sneered, "Surnamed Ma, you still don't know if you can go back to your cell alive, those people in the other cells that you bullied are all waiting to teach you a lesson now I'm afraid!"

Hearing these words, Ma Lan's whole body went limp and almost fell to the ground.

Even if she wanted to go to the playground to call Ye Chen for help, she had to wait until lunch was over, because only after lunch was over could they, the prisoners and suspects, enter the playground.

However, going to the playground also meant great danger.

The reason is that there are often violent incidents in the playground.

Chapter 4937

At Bedford Hills Correctional Facility, people in the same cell usually settle their disputes in their cells, but people in different cells can only have the opportunity to fight in the playground when they are released.

The reason why Ma Lan could become the Bedford Hills Ghostly Witness was because she used to let Chen Zitong and the others teach the other cells a lesson almost every day when she was on release, and after she had taught all the other cell heads a lesson, she naturally became the big sister of the whole Bedford Hills Correctional Institution.

However, this also meant that she had already made numerous enemies at Bedford Hills Correctional Facility.

Now that she had lost her shelter, she might be beaten to death later on when she let the wind out.

Ma Lan's heart was already overwhelmed with despair, fearing that her 100-odd pounds would be accounted for here today.

Following the large group to the restaurant, the entire inmates of the restaurant knew that Ma Lan had lost her backer.

For a while, many of them looked at her with hostility, and many of them could not wait to come up and beat her up right now.

Those who usually followed Ma Lan's side were now distant from her. In the past, when she came to the restaurant to eat, there were people who carried her plates, but now there was no one who dared to sit with her.

Many people were looking at Marashi to see if she still had any support, and Marashi knew that it was very important for her to find a group to integrate into, and if someone was willing to help her out at this time, she might be able to have a little more security.

With her plate in hand, Marashi looked around for a long time and saw some Chinese compatriots who had been very fawning over her earlier.

These Chinese compatriots were living in the cell next door to Marashi.

One day, after they had become the Bedford Hills Ghosts, they approached Marashi on a day off and said in tears that there was an American cellmate in their cell who was always bullying them and they hoped that Marashi could help them out for the sake of their compatriots so that they would stop bullying them.

In order to get Marashi to help, they even knelt in a row in front of Marashi in unison when they begged him for help.

Ma Lan was at an extremely inflated stage at the time, and seeing that the other party was treating her so respectfully and that her compatriots were being bullied, she immediately agreed to do so with alacrity.

She directly asked Chen Zitong, the three of them, to beat up that American cell head so violently during the release that the American cell head is still lying in the infirmary.

And these few Chinese compatriots, because they had Ma Lan's shelter in their cell, surprisingly turned straight into the new boss.

Ever since then, these few people would gather around Ma Lan every day when they were eating and letting off steam, and they would really be as respectful as they could be.

So, at the moment, Ma Lan thought to herself that since the other party owed her a big favour, she had to lend a hand and help herself at this time, or at least make sure she didn't get beaten up while she was letting off steam.

So, with her plate in hand, she took a step towards them.

However, when she reached the other couple and was about to sit on an empty seat next to them, one of them immediately put his leg on the empty seat and said with a cold face, "There's someone here!"

Ma Lan subconsciously said, "Xiao Zhang, isn't this empty?"

As she said that, she hurriedly said to the man, "Xiao Zhang, for the sake of helping you guys before, I beg you to help me this time, as long as you can protect me and let me go to the playground to make a phone call to my son-in-law later!"

The woman called Xiao Zhang grunted and suddenly stood up, Ma Lan thought that the other woman was going to let her sit down and was about to say thank you, but she suddenly grabbed the plate from her hand and threw it into the rubbish bin next to her.

Just as Ma Lan was surprised and wanted to ask why she did that, Zhang said coldly, "Ma Lan, I've seen you in a bad light for a long time, because you have a few capable fighters to cover you, you're so f*cking floating, and you're still talking about your sister. Get the hell out of my way!"

Chapter 4938

Ma Lan never dreamed that the man who had wagged his tail in front of him and later followed him with respect and deference would now turn into this kind of face.

She was so angry that she blurted out, "Zhang, we can't be so heartless, can we? Now when I need your help, you tell me to get as far away as possible, do you still have a conscience?"

The woman called Xiao Zhang gave Ma Lan a somewhat ugly look and said in a cold voice, "You don't want to give up your face, do you? Don't blame me for being rude to you if you don't get lost!"

Ma Lan was very indignant in her heart and couldn't help but grit her teeth, "You want to be rude to me, I've helped you so much, do you still want to beat me?!"

This angry rebuke from Ma Lan sparked the attention of many people in the prison.

Many people knew that these few Chinese female prisoners, who had been following Ma Lan, so many people who wanted to make a move against Ma Lan, were also watching how these women behaved, to see if a few of them would cover Ma Lan or not.

That Xiao Zhang also saw that the people around her were paying attention to herself.

She didn't want these people to think that she would help Ma Lan out, so with a black face, she flung her hand and gave Ma Lan a slap on the face, cursing loudly, "D*mn it, what a shame! Get the f*ck out of here! If you don't get lost, I'll f*cking smack you!"

Ma Lan had never dreamed that this woman who used to cry and beg for help in front of her would raise her hand and slap herself when she needed help the most.

She covered her face, tears already welling up in her eyes, and choked back a sob as she questioned, "Xiao Zhang, even if you don't see that I've helped you before, you should at least give me a hand for the sake of your fellow countrymen, right? Even if you don't give me a hand, there's no need to fall on my sword at this time, right?!"

Zhang said with some impatience, "Who the hell are you, I have an American pa*sport! Unlike you, you don't even have a f*cking green card, you're still on a tourist visa!"

"You" Ma Lan just felt her whole heart freeze to the core.

She really didn't think that the person she had helped would become so vicious!

Desperate and devastated, Ma Lan's tears were like a broken thread, unable to stop flowing down.

She had thought that she was heartless enough, but she had never expected to meet an existence that was even more shameless than herself.

It was at this moment that she realised how ridiculous she had been before.

What Bedford Hill ghosts were nothing more than foxes and tigers.

And those who had treated themselves with respect before were not really scornful or respectful of themselves at all.

In the end, he was the real joke.

Seeing that Ma Lan was in tears in front of him, Xiao Zhang said viciously, "If you want to cry, go and cry, don't f*cking cry in front of me, or else I won't even let you get away with it, not to mention that those Americans will kill you!"

Ma Lan was furious, but she could only turn away in silence and hide in a corner of the restaurant.

A Chinese woman, a few years younger than her, sat in front of her and handed her a fried chicken leg, saying, "You can't trust anyone in a place like this, especially when you're out and about."

Chapter 4939

Ma Lan said aggrievedly, "I really didn't think these people could be shameless to such an extent."

The woman laughed and said lightly, "What is this You have been in America for too short a time, if you had stayed longer, you could have encountered anything."

Saying that, she asked Marashi, "Do you know how I got in?"

Marashi shook her head, bewildered, and asked, "How did you get in?"

The woman laughed, "Because of selling hairy crabs"

Ma Lan asked in disbelief, "How can you sell hairy crabs in prison? How can you sell hairy crabs in prison? Or is there a shortage of cannies?"

The woman shook her head, "You don't know that hairy crabs are an invasive alien species in this part of the United States, and selling them here is essentially against the law."

Ma Lan asked in surprise, "You're still selling hairy crabs when it's against the law?"

The woman smiled bitterly and said, "We used to sell them secretly, and they were sold to our Chinese compatriots. , only traded in Chinese circles, it has always been very safe"

Ma Lan asked, "If it's always safe, how can something go wrong?"

The woman sighed, "I brought in a batch of hairy crabs some time ago and they sold very quickly because they were of good quality and not too expensive, so a Chinese man heard about it and drove quite a distance to buy them, but by the time he arrived they were sold out, so he was angry and called the police, who then arrested me."

Ma Lan was dumbfounded and said out of the blue, "How could this happen?"

"Yes." The woman smiled to herself and said, "So like I told you earlier, you must always be on your guard in America and don't trust just anyone."

She lowered her voice and said seriously, "When you helped them out before, I wanted to find a chance to remind you, but I never got to talk to you. They were always overpowered and never got what they wanted."

"Later, when they saw that they couldn't beat each other, they went to you for help, and you had the American woman crippled, so they became the boss."

Hearing this, Ma Lan's whole body shook with anger and said through clenched teeth, "D*mn, these people are really good actors! They were on their knees crying in front of me saying that the American had been bullying them and didn't even treat them like human beings, I thought they were really being bullied and felt sorry for them before I helped them"

The woman across the table smiled faintly and said, "Basically, there aren't many pitiful people who can get in here, most of them deserve what they get! Consider it a lesson learned, and in the future, you should always keep your eyes open when looking at people."

Ma Lan was angry and regretful, but now she knew that there was no point in regretting, so she asked the woman, "Why are you telling me this?"

The woman said indifferently, "I think you are not a bad person, you are a bit crazy, but at least you have some conscience, otherwise you would not have helped them for no reason, so I thought I would remind you."

Ma Lan was so ashamed that she choked up and said, "If I had known they were so shameless, I wouldn't have reached out to them even if they had died in front of me!"

Said Marashi, lamenting, "If I had known it would be like this, I wouldn't have been so high profile if I had been killed Now in the whole Bedford Hills Correctional Facility, I don't know how many people want to get me killed, I'm really afraid I won't live to see the day"

Chapter 4940

Marashi survived the long twenty minutes in a dark and terrified state.

As soon as the twenty minutes were up, the first thing Marashi did was to rush to the public phone by the playground.

Many of the inmates looked on as she ran desperately, but although many of them were already eager to teach Marashi a lesson, they did not dare to do so right away as they were just starting to let off steam and there were many guards around.

According to the usual practice of the guards at Bedford Hills Correctional Institution, the first fifteen minutes and the last fifteen minutes of the one-hour release time were spent keeping an eye on the prisoners, because according to their experience, the most frequent point of escape was in the middle of the prisoner's journey through the different areas.

From the cell to the dining room, from the dining room to the playground, and from the workplace back to the cell, these are generally the most frequent stages of escape, and it often happens that there are twenty of them just now, but after crossing a certain area, there are only nineteen left if they are not careful.

So, after the prisoners are taken to the yard and before they are taken back to their cells from the yard, the guards take fifteen minutes to count them and see if there is anything unusual about them, and half an hour in between is reserved for the prisoners to do what they want.

In prison, fighting is almost impossible to avoid.

Therefore, it is also very important for the managers to leave a little time each day for the inmates to resolve their conflicts.

If the group of inmates is not given the opportunity to resolve conflicts for a long time, the group of inmates is allowed to squeeze resentment out of their hatred and often it is easy to make a big mess.

If they are given the opportunity to fight with their bare hands every day, then basically nothing serious will happen.

Over the past few days, Marashi has used this half-hour vacuum to build up her authority and make herself the Bedford Hills Ghostwatcher.

Right now, Ma Lan's greatest wish was to rush to call Ye Chen before the half-hour vacuum time, so that he could find a way to save himself no matter what.

After running all the way, Ma Lan was the first one to pick up the public phone, and then she used a trembling hand to broadcast it to Ye Chen.

Once the call came through, she couldn't be bothered to save face anymore and said in tears, "Good son-in-law, when exactly are you going to get mum out!"

Ye Chen said on the other end of the phone, "Mom, I've already asked someone to say hello, and I'll definitely release you by tonight."

When Ma Lan heard this, she blurted out, "Huh? You have to wait until tonight? Good son-in-law, mum is telling you the truth, mum can at most wait for ten minutes now, if you don't think of a way to save mum, mum may die here."

Ye Chen actually knew everything about Ma Lan, but at this moment, he still pretended to be surprised and asked, "Mom, what's wrong? Aren't you quite happy in prison?"

The thing is now, Ma Lan also no longer just want to face, she choked to Ye Chen said: "My good son-in-law, some time ago, the reason why Ma did not want to get out so soon, because Ma in the inside of the Chinese friends, they are not only with me very good relationship, but also a very good fighter, with them to cover Ma, Ma in the inside of a very comfortable"

But The actual fact is that you can find a lot of people who have been in the business for a long time. If you don't hurry up and get mum out, those people will probably beat her to death!"

Ye Chen exclaimed, "Mom, I don't think you're in a gang in prison, are you?"

Ma Lan said resentfully, "That's pretty much what it means Good son-in-law, can you help mum and get her out of here right now? I'm begging you! This situation is very urgent, mum really can't wait!"
