

Ye Chen 4941

Chapter 4941

Ye Chen sighed and said, "Mom, this is America after all, and I'm not familiar with it, so it's really not that easy to operate, and I'm also asking others for help, so there will definitely be a delay in efficiency ....."

In fact, Ye Chen himself had already arrived at the Bedford Hills Correctional Facility by now.

Along with him, there was also Fei Jianzhong from the Fei family.

The two were standing in the warden's office at the moment, overlooking the entire prison yard from a high vantage point.

To Ye Chen, if he wanted to get Ma Lan out, with a single word, Fei Jianzhong could get the warden to release her immediately within ten seconds.

But for Ye Chen, that would indeed be too cheap for Ma Lan.

Ma Lan was a person who always remembered what she had eaten but not what she had fought. She would lose her normal judgement at the slightest advantage, even if it was the tip of a knife or the mouth of a tiger, as long as she was given an advantage, she would become more and more courageous and addicted to it.

Like this time at Bedford Hills Correctional Facility, if she had been food and had known what was good for her, then she would have been ready to get out of prison and leave that place of right and wrong at the first sign that James White found her.

But she had asked for a delay in her release because of her unique influence at Bedford Hills Correctional Facility, which was, in Ye Chen's opinion, outrageously stupid.

If he didn't take this opportunity to teach Marashi a lesson, then next time Marashi wouldn't learn her lesson.

Therefore, Ye Chen had already planned a whole reality show for Ma Lan in advance, and now it was only just entering the warm-up phase.

The reason he expressed his embarrassment over the phone was to make Ma Lan even more frightened and even more remorseful, to teach her a lesson.

Ma Lan is indeed very remorseful now, but now it is too late to say anything, she can only put all her hopes on Ye Chen, choked up and said, "Good son-in-law, you must hurry, otherwise, you will have to wait to collect the corpse for mum ....."

As soon as the words were finished, a black shadow appeared in front of Ma Lan's eyes, followed by the phone in his hand being snatched away.

Before Marashi could regain consciousness, the other party had already hung up the phone, and then kicked Marashi in the stomach, sending him far away, cursing, "This is a public phone, do you think it's your own home? The fight is never over!"

Ma Lan fell to the ground with an ouch and only when he got up did he see that the person who had kicked him was the same Xiao Zhang who had just slapped him.

Ma Lan was so angry that she blurted out, "Zhang Anqi! You've gone too far! I called my family, what does it have to do with you?"

The woman called Zhang Anqi smiled faintly and said coldly, "It has a lot more to do with me!"

As she said that, she gritted her teeth and stared at Ma Lan, angrily rebuking, "Ma, do you know that I originally thought you could cover me, so I asked you for help and taught that Mandy in our cell a hard lesson, but now what? Your backers are all gone, and now a whole bunch of people are waiting to teach you a lesson, have you thought about what we'll do when Mandy comes back from the infirmary?!"

"That Mandy, who has been in Bedford Hills Correctional Facility for two or three years, has a lot of close cellmates. Those people didn't dare to help her against me before because they were afraid of those people around you, but now that they are out of prison, when Mandy comes back, she will definitely gather her cellmates to seek revenge on me."

As she said this, she stamped her foot on Ma Lan's chest and shouted angrily, "Ma, you've really screwed me up! I'm going to make you say in front of everyone that I didn't ask you to teach Mandy a lesson, but that you don't like Mandy! If you tell me honestly, I'll let you off the hook, otherwise, I'll break your legs!"

Chapter 4942

For Zhang Anqi, her biggest worry right now was self-preservation.

Once the battered Mandy returned, she would definitely seek revenge on herself, and without her backer, she was no match for her, so the only thing she could do now was to clear her name.

Right now it was at the release stage and everyone was watching from the playground, even waiting impatiently to make a move on Maran later.

If he beat Marashi up in front of everyone, he would be telling everyone that he had nothing to do with Marashi.

If he forced Marashi to take the blame in public, the risk to himself would be greatly reduced.

If he could not wait for Mandy to arrive, he would kneel down and beg for forgiveness, and he might be able to escape this fate.

It was only at this moment that Ma Lan understood how sinister people could be.

Gritting her teeth, she cursed, "Zhang Anqi, you want me to take the blame for you, you're just dreaming! You were the one who knelt down in front of me and begged me to help you with that Mandy, you want me to take the blame for you in front of everyone, I tell you, no way!"

Zhang Anqi didn't think Ma Lan would dare to expose herself in public, so she became enraged and kicked Ma Lan again, pointing at her and cursing, "Ma, if you want to die, don't blame me for being ruthless!"

After saying that, she gave a wink to the two people beside her and said in a loud voice, "Beat me to death!"

The other two were still a bit worried at this point, and one of them whispered, "Anqi, it's not a good time to do it, why don't we wait a bit longer, otherwise if the guards see us, we'll be in trouble!"

Zhang Anqi cursed in a low voice, "D*mn it, you guys are brainless! The problem now is not the guards, okay? Now we have to let everyone see how we taught Marashi a lesson, otherwise what if Marashi gets out of jail before Mandy comes back? If Mandy has no way to get revenge, we'll still be blamed! If we can help her teach Marashi a hard lesson in front of everyone's eyes, then when Mandy comes back, we can tell her that we've helped her get her revenge!"

The other two instantly came back to their senses, so without saying a word, they immediately rushed up and started punching and kicking Ma Lan.

Ye Chen, who was upstairs in his office, watched as Ma Lan was suddenly beaten up by a few oriental-faced women, and asked Chen Zitong, who was beside him, with some surprise, "What are those women's origins? Why did they do it to my mother-in-law?"

Chen Zitong also looked surprised and spoke, "Back to Mr. Ye, these women, they are all compatriots that your mother-in-law helped, they were bullied a lot in here earlier, then your mother-in-law instructed us to help them out, and helped them take care of the boss of their cell, and also let them take the other party's place."

Ye Chen frowned, "That means that my mother-in-law was gracious to them, right?"

"Right!" Chen Zitong nodded without thinking and said, "They had previously been saddling up next to your mother-in-law whenever it was time to eat and let off steam, very attentive, and I don't know why they suddenly made a move against your mother-in-law."

Ye Chen nodded and said in a cold voice, "Whatever the reason, it must be because of the enmity, let's do this, activate plan B."

As soon as Fei Jianzhong at the side heard this, he immediately said to that warden in English, "PlanB!"

The warden agreed without thinking, and then immediately took out his intercom and gave a few orders.

And Ye Chen turned to those female generals of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall and said, "You also follow the alternative plan, teach these ungrateful b*****ds a good lesson for me!"

The three of them immediately said, "My subordinates obey!"

After saying that, they immediately turned around and walked out.

At that moment, the alarm suddenly sounded loudly in the playground, and several prison guards rushed out from the door and ran all the way to Ma Lan, who was being surrounded, and directly controlled the three men who had beaten Ma Lan.

Zhang Anqi didn't panic at all at this moment, she knew that she was fighting at this time, the guards would definitely not ignore it, but in her opinion, it didn't matter even if she was confined by the guards, after all, she was actually trying to show her attitude by beating up Ma Lan in public.

Chapter 4943

So she did her best to break free from the guards holding her, rushed over to Ma Lan and stomped hard on the calf bone of her right leg.

Ma Lan's right leg had been broken several times, and now it was not completely healed. Suddenly, when Zhang Anqi stomped on it, she only heard a click and instantly felt a sharp pain coming from it, and her whole body collapsed and cried out: "Ah ..... My leg ..... My leg! It's broken again!"

At this moment, Zhang Anqi looked at the broken leg of Ma Lan rolling on the ground, and deliberately cursed loudly under her breath, "Listen to me, Ma! I gave you this kick for Mandy! Don't you forget that you broke Mandy's leg! Then I'll break your leg to avenge her death! This is called paying in blood!"

Ma Lan was rolling on the ground in pain and couldn't help but shout to the guards, "My leg ..... My leg is broken again! Please take me to the hospital! Don't let me stay here any longer! Please!"

To Ma Lan, the pain was still secondary, the main thing was that she had to hurry up and find a way to leave this hellhole of Bedford Hills Correctional Facility, and if that was not possible, go to the hospital and delay, maybe Ye Chen would be able to get the prison to let herself out in the evening.

Just at this time, the Chinese female prison guard suddenly came running over and said with an uproar, "Sister Arashi, you've been released Sister Arashi! "

Hearing this, Ma Lan even forgot about the pain and subconsciously asked, "Really?! I've really been released?!"

"Yes!" The female prison guard had already started to follow Ye Chen's Plan B at this moment, so she said without thinking, "The connection your son-in-law found has already called the warden, who told me to arrange for your immediate release!"

"Excellent!" Ma Lan's entire body almost sort of cried out with joy.

Even though she had been beaten up by the three Zhang Anqi and even had her leg broken again, the fact that she was going to be released now was like stopping the damage just in time!

She originally thought that if she couldn't get out at noon, she would be beaten half to death, but if she could stop the damage, it would already be considered a hardship for her!

So, Ma Lan choked out, "Quickly ..... Please let me out ..... I don't want any personal belongings, just let me out immediately ....."

The female prison guard immediately said, "Don't worry sister Lan, you can go with me to do the formalities now, I will call an ambulance for you first and take you to the hospital for treatment of your injuries!"

"Good, good!" Ma Lan's excited tears were left across her eyes and she said in a hurry, "Please, send me there now, I don't want to stay here for another minute ....."

The female guard asked her, "Sister Arashi, you are sure you want to get out of prison and not stay at Bedford Hills Correctional Facility, right?"

"Yes, yes, yes!" Ma Lan's head nodded like an oil extractor as she choked out, "No more, I'm not staying, I'm not staying for anything!"

Just as he finished speaking, another prison guard walked in with three women in tow.

When Ma Lan fixed her eyes on them, her jaw dropped in shock.

It was because these three women were no other than Chen Zitong, the three who had been taken away and released before lunch.

She couldn't care less about the severe pain and asked in astonishment, "Zitong ..... You guys ..... Why are you guys back again?"

Chen Zitong said helplessly, "Don't mention it Sister Lan, the plaintiff has given up withdrawing the case again, saying that he wants to talk to our lawyer about the terms, there is no way out, we still have to continue to be locked up here ....."

She looked at Ma Lan and asked in surprise, "Sister Lan, what's wrong with you?"

Ma Lan, who had no place to vent her grievances, pointed at Zhang Anqi and said in tears, "Zitong ..... They beat me up ..... I have helped them so much, but they still beat me to death, you have to do something for me ....."

When Chen Zitong heard this, he gritted his teeth and said, "Sister Lan, don't worry, we will definitely teach these b*****ds a lesson to the death!"

Chapter 4944

Zhang Anqi, who had just beaten Ma Lan violently, never dreamed that Chen Zitong, who had only been released from prison a short time before, would be sent back again!

At this moment, she was scared out of her wits!

She had seen the strength of these three, and as long as they were here, no one at Bedford Hills Correctional Facility would be able to turn the tables.

Even if Mandy came back, there was no way she could be a match for them .....

This also means that one's act of beating up Marashi to give Mandy her name is simply trying to go blind!

Terrified to the core, she hurriedly fell to her knees with a poof and said with tears in her voice: "Sister Arashi is sorry ah Sister Arashi, I really didn't mean to ..... I ..... I'm sorry, I really didn't mean to do it ..... I ....."

Ma Lan hated this woman so much that she gritted her teeth and said, "How dare you say you didn't mean it! I, Ma Lan, have never seen such a shameless person like you in all my years of life!"

After saying that, she looked at Chen Zitong and choked up, "Zitong, you must do something for me and not let her go!"

Without thinking, Chen Zitong said, "Don't worry, I hate double-crossing and revengeful trash in my life! If I don't break all three of their legs, I won't be Chen!"

Zhang Anqi was so frightened that she fell to her knees and kept slapping herself, while crying, "Sister Lan ..... Please don't be like me, Sister Arashi ..... I was wrong, Sister Arashi ..... Please forgive me this time ....."

Zhang Anqi's two followers were also terrified at this time, and they all followed suit, kneeling on the ground and begging for mercy.

The three men were also repentant at this time, originally thinking that Ma Lan had lost her power, but how could they have expected that they would turn over so quickly.

Those in the playground who were watching and even waiting to take action against Ma Lan were also dumbfounded.

While they were angry that Ma Lan's backer had returned, they were also glad that they had held back and not rushed into action, otherwise they would have been hammered to death by the three women.

In her heart, Ma Lan was furious and she wanted to break the legs of these women with her own hands.

But when she thought that she had to see a doctor, she could only say to Chen Zitong, "Zitong, don't let them go! As long as they are still here, don't let them get away with it!"

Chen Zitong said without hesitation, "Don't worry, Sister Lan!"

After saying that, she deliberately asked, "Sister Lan, are you ..... going to be released from prison?"

"Huh? Me?" In this instant, Ma Lan suddenly hesitated a little.

When Chen Zitong and the girls were not here, Ma Lan wanted to leave so badly that she wanted to grow a pair of wings and fly out of this purgatory.

However, now that Chen Zitong had returned, she felt a bit reluctant to leave Bedford Hill Correctional Facility.

After all, she had experienced the pinnacle of her life here.

That feeling of being the only one, made her very upwardly mobile.

Ye Chen was watching that mother-in-law of his from a distance from a high place at this time, and was a little curious in his heart, wondering if this mother-in-law of his, would be able to grow a memory or not.

If she saw the three Chen Zitong return and decided to stay out of prison for the time being, then it would really be hopeless.

And after a few moments of thought struggle, Ma Lan said with difficulty: "Yes Zitong ..... I ..... I'm getting out of jail ....."

Chen Zitong smiled slightly, nodded and said, "Sister Arashi you don't worry about getting out of jail, these trash, I will help you teach them a good lesson, if you still have someone you need to teach, just tell me the name of the person, I will fix it!"

As soon as Ma Lan heard this, she nodded heavily and said, "Zitong, when you go back to your cell, you must teach that Chloe and Jessica a good lesson, just after you left at noon, these two b*****ds flipped out on me, you must not let them go!"

Chapter 4945

Chen Zitong solemnly promised, "Sister Lan, don't worry, as long as we are still here, they will not have a good time!"

At this moment, the prison guard said to Ma Lan, "Sister Lan, I think you'd better come with me to the infirmary first, so that the doctor can check whether your injury is serious or not!"

Ma Lan felt the pain in her right leg drilling through her heart and couldn't help but choke out, "Can it not be serious, my leg seems to be broken again ....."

Saying that, Ma Lan hurriedly asked her, "Can you take me to the hospital? By the way, give me back my mobile phone, I want to call my son-in-law ....."

The prison guard spoke up, "Your son-in-law is already here and is waiting outside to pick you up and release you from prison."

"Really?" Ma Lan was immediately overjoyed and said, "Quick, take me out to see him!"

The prison guard hurriedly found a colleague and together they carried Marashi out of the playground.

She hadn't even gone far when she heard the screams of Zhang Anqi and the others behind her.

Hearing the screams of those people, Ma Lan's mood was only slightly relieved.

At that moment, Ye Chen was already waiting in the family meeting area of Bedford Hill Correctional Institution.

The moment she saw Ye Chen, Ma Lan cried out, "Good son-in-law, Ma's leg has been broken again, what should we do? ....."

Ye Chen shook his head helplessly.

He also did not expect that those Chinese women could hit Ma Lan so hard when they beat her.

However, it was really Ma Lan's own fault, if she had known how to stop when she saw fit and went out painfully when she was ready to release her the first time, this beating could naturally have been avoided.

So, Ye Chen could only say, "Mom, let me take you to the hospital first! Your leg has to be looked at first as soon as possible, lest it leave any after-effects."

Once Ma Lan heard this, she nodded her head and said, "Yes, yes, go to the hospital quickly, I've broken this leg too many times, if it doesn't recover well, it will be a problem if I become lame in the future ....."

Ye Chen then asked the prison guards to help him and carried Ma Lan to the car, and then drove towards downtown New York, while not forgetting to take out his mobile phone to send a message to Fei Jianzhong, asking him the location of the Fei family hospital, intending to send Ma Lan there for a simple treatment.

At this moment, Ma Lan sat in the back seat, crying and saying, "Good son-in-law, I really regret it! If I had known this day would come, I would have been released from prison yesterday. You say my life is so bitter!"

The first thing you need to do is to get out of jail. You don't even want to come out once you're inside."

Ma Lan said resentfully, "I told you the truth on the phone, the main thing is that I met some Chinese girls who are particularly good at fighting.

Ye Chen gave a sarcastic laugh and said seriously, "Mom, do you know what kind of person can make money from the casino?"

Ma Lan shook her head and asked curiously, "Is it a cheat?"

"No." As long as you are still in the casino, you have to understand one thing, money is not money in the casino, it is just a pile of worthless plastic pieces. If you choose to stay in the casino, you will probably end up losing all the chips in your hand, and even the capital you came with."

If you choose to stay in the casino, you may end up losing all the chips in your hand, or even losing the capital you came with." Ye Chen added, "It's the same for you, you have someone to cover you in Bedford Hills, and after a few days of addiction that no one dares to mess with, this is a net profit, at such a time, once the time is right, you have to stop the profit and pocket the money, otherwise, you may have to spit out the capital with interest."

Ma Lan froze for a moment and said with a chagrined expression, "You're right, son-in-law! Why didn't Mum understand this? If I had understood this, I would have been out there living and breathing by now ....."

Chapter 4946

Ye Chen was already completely unconcerned about Ma Lan's sudden awakening at this moment.

He was only thinking that if he brought Marashi back to Providence in this state, Xiao Churan would be very distressed when she saw her.

Besides, she had a broken leg and had lost most of her ability to take care of herself, so if he took her back, who would take care of her?

Xiao Churan had to attend cla*sses and it was inconvenient to take care of her by herself, so the best way was to let her stay in New York for treatment.

However, there were still two problems: one was how to make Ma Lan stay in New York willingly, and the other was how to explain to his wife Xiao Churan.

But the first priority was to send Ma Lan to the hospital for treatment. Although for this leg injury, half a blood dispersing and heart saving elixir could bring her back to life immediately, Ye Chen still felt that using the elixir on Ma Lan was more or less a waste.

So, Ye Chen drove Ma Lan to the Fei family's private hospital.

As Fei Jianzhong had greeted him in advance, the hospital was on standby, and as soon as Ma Lan arrived, she was immediately carried carefully off the bus by a few nurses and then pushed in a wheelchair to the treatment room of the orthopaedic department.

A group of orthopaedic specialists surrounded Marashi and treated her with all their expertise, bringing back the feeling of being a ghost in Bedford Hills Correctional Facility.

The doctors diagnosed that Marashi's right leg had some fractures, but fortunately they were not too serious and did not require surgery, but still needed to be immobilised in a plaster cast, along with medication and recuperation.

Subsequently, in order to allow Ma Lan to rest better, they arranged her directly in the best ward, whose interior was so luxurious that it was much more upscale than a suite in a luxury hotel.

Several nurses gently moved Ma Lan onto the hospital bed and adjusted it to the most comfortable angle for her, before one of them said to Ma Lan, "Ms Ma, wait for a moment, I'll get you some fruits and snacks, so you can replenish your strength first."

"Yes, yes! It's really hard for you!" Ma Lan's whole body was in a much better state thanks to the analgesic pump, and with the added bonus of lying on a comfortable hospital bed, she finally had a smile back.

The female nurse said respectfully, "You're welcome, Ms. Ma, it's all I should do."

After the nurse left, Ma Lan looked at the luxurious surroundings and could not help but exclaim to Ye Chen, "Good son-in-law, the hardware of this hospital is too good, this ward must be at least a hundred square metres, right? Such a luxurious ward must cost thousands of dollars a day!"

Ye Chen laughed, "Mom, this hospital is owned by my client's family, he has already said that your treatment here will not cost you a penny, and he will definitely arrange the best doctors and nurses and the best wards for you."

"No cost?!" Ma Lan was stunned and blurted out, "Oh my God, not spending a penny on such a high cla*s ward, this is really great!"

Just as she finished speaking, the female nurse knocked on the door and came in with a very nice plate of fruit as well as dessert.

She placed all the meals on the small tabletop in front of Ma Lan and said respectfully, “Ms. Ma, you can have some fruit and dessert first, and I would like to introduce to you that the screen above your bed is actually a touch screen with an order interface where you can choose the meals you like to eat and we will bring them to you first.”

Ma Lan was surprised and said, “Maa, so thoughtful? Let me see what you have to eat here.”

With that, she clicked on the order screen and exclaimed, “Chinese food, French food, Japanese food, Italian food ..... Oh my God, you have so many menus ..... Even a normal hotel doesn’t have as much variety as the menu here, right?”

Chapter 4947

The female nurse nodded and said, “We have many Michelin restaurants that we work with, usually the restaurant will deliver your order within an hour after you have chosen, so you need to place your order a little bit earlier to avoid waiting too long.”

Ma Lan hurriedly asked, “Why is there no price on this? I wouldn’t dare to order it without a price, in case I eat several thousand dollars for this meal, wouldn’t that bankrupt my family .....”

The female nurse explained, “Ms. Ma, what you are in now, is the top VIP ward of our hospital, usually this place is for the internal use of our president’s family members, so you don’t need to pay for everything you spend when you stay here.”

“Holy sh*t, free of charge?” Ma Lan asked in surprise and delight, “So what else is on here, desserts, drinks, perfume, skin care spa, are those free too?!”

“Yes.” The female nurse nodded, “All the services that can be offered are free of charge, you can order whatever you like and if there is something that is not suitable for your current physical condition, we will give you a professional advice.”

Ma Lan said with immense excitement, “Okay, okay, then I’ll look into it carefully later!”

The female nurse bowed slightly and said, “Then ring the call bell anytime you need anything, I’ll be standing by at the nurse centre next door to you.”

After the female nurse left the ward, Ma Lan looked at Ye Chen and said with a look of admiration, “Still a good son-in-law of mine! Only you can have such a great talent! Such a nice place, it doesn’t cost anything for hospitalisation, food and drink! If there was no time limit, I could stay here until my eightieth birthday!”

As she said that, Ma Lan hesitated for a moment and asked experimentally, “Good son-in-law, do you think Ma can just stay here and recuperate, and not go to Providence for the time being?”

Ye Chen did not expect Ma Lan to offer not to go back to Providence, so he agreed without hesitation and said, “Actually, I also think it would be better for you to stay here, because there are the best doctors and nurses here, and they can provide you with the best treatment and care 24 hours a day, which is much more convenient than going to Providence, after all, there is no one in Providence to at your side to look after you.”

Marashi nodded repeatedly and said seriously, “It doesn’t cost anything to be here anyway, and there is someone to wait on you for everything, it’s such a great bargain that you can’t take advantage of it!”

I think I should stay here alone to recuperate, and you should go to Providence to stay with Churan, and after Churan finishes her course, you two can come to New York to pick me up and we can go back to Jinling together.”

Ye Chen nodded and said, “This arrangement is quite good, but the only problem is that Churan has been very worried about you, she has to let her know that you are out of prison before she can put her mind at ease, and she must not let her know that you have injured your leg, otherwise, she will definitely come to New York to see you at the first opportunity.”

“That’s easy!” Ma Lan said without thinking, “I’ll call Chu Ran later, and tell her that I’ve been released from prison, and then I’ve met a very close cellmate inside the prison, who invited me to spend a few days in New York, so I won’t go back first, and when you come to New York from Providence, I’ll tell her the truth then. ”

Ye Chen thought that Ma Lan’s idea was good, so he spoke, “Okay, in that case, then you should call Chu Ran, Mom.”

Ma Lan took out her own mobile phone, charged it up for a while and then called Xiao Churan first.

Xiao Churan had just returned to the hotel from school. When she suddenly saw her mother’s mobile phone number calling her, she was stunned at first, and then she realised that her mother had probably been released from prison.

Ma Lan hurriedly said, “It’s Mum, Chu Ran! I have good news for you, Mum has been released from prison!”

Chapter 4948

Hearing Ma Lan say that she had been released from prison, Xiao Churan immediately sighed with relief and said excitedly, “Mom, where are you now? Has Ye Chen contacted you?”

Ma Lan was busy saying, “Ye Chen is right in front of me, he was the one who helped me find the connections to get me released.”

Xiao Churan was extraordinarily happy in her heart and said quickly, “Mom, then hurry up and come back with Ye Chen, you don’t know how worried I’ve been about you all this time!”

Ma Lan pursed her lips and said awkwardly, “That ..... Churan ah ..... Mum doesn’t want to go to Providence, that place is really not interesting, why not stay in New York for a few days, it just so happens that Mom met a friend in prison, we both got out on the same day, she invited me to stay in New York for a few days.”

When Xiao Churan heard this, she refused almost without hesitation, “Mom, you must not trust people outside anymore. Those people out there don’t really want to be friends with you, they’re just trying to get close to you!”

Ma Lan explained, "Oh no, Chu Ran, the friend I met in prison is a very honest person, she was set up by criminals to go to prison, just like Ma."

As she said that, Ma Lan brought up the story of the compatriot she met in prison and sighed, "Do you know how this sister got into prison? She was selling hairy crabs to her Chinese compatriots in the United States, and one of them turned around and reported her to the police, so she was sent to jail and fined a lot of money! You say how can there be such bad people in this world?"

Xiao Churan was also a bit puzzled, but she was still a bit worried and said, "Mom, you've only just gotten out of jail after a long time, I really don't feel comfortable with you being alone in New York, so why don't you listen to me and come back to Providence with Ye Chen!"

Ma Lan said firmly, "Geez, Churan! Want to believe that? There is absolutely nothing wrong with seeing someone this time. Put 10,000 hearts into it. What else could your mother have to let anyone cheat her now?"

Saying that, Ma Lan, fearing that Xiao Churan would still disagree, said stubbornly, "Anyway, I've already promised that sister of mine that I'll have a good time in New York for a few days no matter what!"

Xiao Churan was helpless, so she spoke, "Mom, then give the phone to Ye Chen!"

"Okay." Ma Lan hurriedly handed the phone to Ye Chen, and then gave him a wink.

Ye Chen took the phone and then spoke, "Hello, wife."

Xiao Churan on the other end of the phone asked, "Honey, have you seen the friend that Ma said? Is it reliable?"

In order to cooperate with Ma Lan, Ye Chen could only say casually, "I have seen him, he is quite reliable, and I have asked my clients in New York for more help, so Ma is definitely fine here, so don't worry."

Hearing Ye Chen's words, Xiao Churan was relieved and said helplessly, "Okay, with that character of my mum, as long as it's something she decides, even eight horses can't pull it back, since you even think it's reliable, then I won't argue with her ....."

Saying that, Xiao Churan added: "Husband, this time, it's really too hard for you, working so hard for the trouble my mother made, thank you!"

Ye Chen smiled faintly and said softly, "Wife, do you still need to be so polite with me? Besides, your mother is my mother-in-law, this is all my part to do."

Chapter 4949

Xiao Churan gave a soft muffled sound and asked him, "Honey, when are you going to come back?"

In his heart, Ye Chen thought, "Now that his mission in New York had been completed, it was time for him to go back and keep Xiao Churan company, so he said, "I'll be back later, just a few hours' drive away."

Xiao Churan reminded, "Oh, honey, don't forget to thank that client of yours, he must have helped a lot these days, why don't you invite him to dinner tonight, if you have enough time, you can wait for dinner and then drive back, if you don't have enough time, you can come back in the morning, we can't let others think we have lost our manners."

Ye Chen did not intend to invite Fei Jianzhong to dinner, but since Xiao Churan had said so, he did intend to go and explain to Hong Wu and Chen Zekai first, so that they could stay at Buckingham Palace in New York for the time being.

He then said to Xiao Churan, "Okay wife, then I'll see to the arrangements and go back as soon as I'm done."

When Ye Chen hung up the phone, he said to Ma Lan, "Mom, you stay here for the next few days to recuperate, I'm going to meet with a client and then I'll go back to stay with Churan."

"Go on, go on!" Ma Lan said with a smile, "Mom will definitely be well taken care of here, you and Churan don't have to worry about mum!"

Naturally, Ye Chen was not worried about Ma Lan.

The treatment given to Ma Lan by this hospital, Fei Jianzhong, was basically the highest level that only core members of the Fei family could enjoy.

Ma Lan's recuperation here would definitely make her feel that she had gotten her money's worth out of her broken leg this time.

So, Ye Chen bid farewell to Ma Lan and prepared to head to the Buckingham Palace Hotel.

But just as he was getting into his car, he suddenly received a phone call.

To his surprise, the person who called was Li Yalin, who had just returned home to reunite with his family two days ago.

Ye Chen picked up the phone and asked curiously, "Why is Inspector Li calling me at this time? Shouldn't you be in Houston with your family?"

Li Yalin gave a sarcastic smile and said, "Young Master Ye, I have arrived in New York and booked an evening flight to the Middle East to Syria, so I wanted to ask if you were still in New York, and if you are still in New York, I would like to make an appointment to meet you to talk face to face."

Ye Chen was a little surprised in his heart, he didn't intend to let Li Yalin, so soon, get involved in the investigation of that mysterious organisation.

After all, he was also considered someone who had walked through the door of a ghost, and at times like this he would definitely prefer to spend more time with his family.

Therefore, Ye Chen gave him at least a week's time to reunite with his family first.

However, only two or three days had passed since then, and Li Yalin had already arrived in New York.

However, Ye Chen did not ask too much over the phone, but said very quickly, "In that case, let's meet at Buckingham Palace."

Without thinking, Li Yalin said, "Okay Young Master Ye, then I'll rush over to meet with you now!"

Twenty minutes later.

Ye Chen arrived at Buckingham Palace first.

When he had just arrived in the presidential suite, Hong Wu quickly came to report, "Master Ye, that Inspector Li is here."

Ye Chen nodded, "Let him in."

Chapter 4950

As soon as he saw Ye Chen, Li Yalin arched his hand to him full of respect and said respectfully, "Young Master Ye, we meet again!"

Ye Chen smiled slightly, pointed to the sofa in front of him and said, "Please have a seat, Inspector Li, didn't you leave more than a week for you to reunite with your family in Houston? How come you're ready to go to Syria so soon?"

Li Yalin smiled to himself and sighed, "My daughter and son-in-law are busy looking at cars and houses every day, so they don't have much time for me, and I don't want to waste time in Houston, so I plan to go to Syria first to meet with the live person you caught last time and find out the details."

When Ye Chen saw that Li Yalin looked a bit forlorn, he smiled and said, "Inspector Li, people have seven emotions and six desires, and materialistic desires are one of the most important ones, people work hard to earn money and want a better life, and materialistic desires account for at least half of it."

"Yes ....." Li Yalin sighed lightly and nodded helplessly, he also knew that Ye Chen was right, but there was still inevitably some disappointment in his heart.

Ye Chen advised him, and then digressed and opened his mouth to ask: "Detective Li, have you thought of where you want to use as an entry point to investigate that mysterious organization this time? According to the statement I got before, this mysterious organisation's information protection is extremely tight, so I'm afraid it won't be that easy to find clues about them."

Li Yalin said seriously, "I have carefully considered this issue in the past few days. This kind of secrecy can be said to be unheard of ....."

The first thing I can do is to find a way to investigate where that group of dead soldiers are stationed in the seven continents, and then find a way to further refine it after we lock in on which specific state."

Ye Chen sighed, "I'm afraid it's not even that simple to try to determine which of the seven continents they are in, after all, this group of dead soldiers have been in the dark for so many years, they haven't even found any clues themselves,."

Li Yalin said with a clear mind, "As long as the one you catch alive is cooperative enough and has a good enough memory, then there is a chance that I can lock out the approximate range with him."

Saying that, he further explained, “Young Master Ye, no matter how hidden they are hidden, they cannot escape the effects of a major geological disaster, and if an earthquake occurs, they will definitely feel it, and every detectable earthquake that occurs in this world is clearly recorded by the relevant authorities.”

“So, the problem now is that they must remember how many earthquakes that can be felt have occurred, but the problem is that they don’t have an accurate timeline, nor do they have any outside information to corroborate it.”

As he said that, he took out a printed document from his bag and handed it to Ye Chen, saying, “Young Master Ye, this is the statistics I have compiled in the past two days on the major natural disasters that have occurred around the world in the last twenty years, with severe tsunamis, earthquakes and typhoons being the main ones. many, it will help me find their approximate location.”

Ye Chen asked tentatively, “Is it like the so-called communication base station positioning?”

“That’s right!” Li Yalin said with a heavy nod, “That’s what it means! Every time they correspond to a major disaster, their range can be narrowed down to a certain extent, if they can correspond to the great Indonesian tsunami, then it proves that the area they are in is within the coverage of the Indonesian tsunami, if they can also correspond to the Japanese tsunami in 11 years, then the area they are in is in the overlapping part of the coverage of the two tsunamis, in this way, the more clues they find, the more accurate the positioning will be. ”

Ye Chen couldn’t help but praise, “Inspector Li is really a Chinese detective known throughout the United States, this kind of solution can be thought of, it seems like it should only be a matter of time before you find out their exact whereabouts!”
