

Ye Chen 4971

Chapter 4971

As the cargo plane is transported in a modular way, all cargo is packed by the board, which in layman's terms means a special aluminium plate of three metres by two metres by four, with fixed positions of uniform size, and all cargo is loaded one by one and transported to the interior of the cabin in one whole board.

The aircraft quickly unloaded four pallets, and each pallets was almost full of cargo, without any abnormalities.

Ye Chen said in a low voice: "So far, it looks like the plane is unloading, all are proper cargo, nothing unusual is seen."

Wan Xiaojun couldn't help but ask, "Mr. Ye, could the other party have hidden the dead soldiers in the cargo?"

After releasing some aura to investigate, Ye Chen said with certainty, "There is no one inside these goods, at least not the ones that have been unloaded so far."

Saying that, Ye Chen's brow suddenly furrowed and he couldn't help but mutter, "It's a bit strange."

What made Ye Chen feel strange was that, in order to unload these few container boards, the several loaders below had even taken turns, and every time a container board was unloaded, they had to change to another person up there.

Normally, a skilful job should have a reasonable division of labour, with those in charge of controlling the equipment specialising in controlling the equipment, those in charge of handling specialising in handling and those in charge of transport specialising in transport.

This kind of behaviour where everyone took turns and went one by one to transport the assembly boards inside the cabin was very bizarre.

Ye Chen immediately relied on the pervasive perception of his aura and discovered the clues.

It turned out that there were eight people hiding inside the cargo hold of the plane at this moment!

Only, these eight people had been hiding at the end of the cabin for tens of metres, so it was impossible for the outside world to see them.

Moreover, every staff member who went up to carry the assembly board, after entering the interior of the cabin, would swap with one of the people inside the cabin, he himself hid inside the cabin, and the one who replaced him would come out and push out the new board of cargo.

Ye Chen also immediately understood their ruse, using one of their own people and swapping out these staff members.

The replaced staff members were then hidden in the plane, while these people who were replaced out could impersonate their identities and leave the airport in a dignified manner, and would leave no record of anyone entering the country.

What was even more bizarre was that after careful observation, Ye Chen found that although people did exchange inside, the people who went in, and the people who exchanged out, were dressed, dressed, and even looked exactly the same.

It was only after a more careful investigation that Ye Chen discovered that each of these people who had swapped out had very realistic silicone masks glued to their faces!

It was also through this realistic silicone mask that they had almost the same facial features as those staff members, and the naked eye could barely see any difference.

Seeing this, Ye Chen thought to himself, "Could it be that these airport staff are also members of that mysterious organisation?"

Soon, the last mysterious person who was replaced gave Ye Chen the answer with practical actions.

After he finished swapping with the last staff member, he immediately drew out a dagger from his sleeve.

Immediately afterwards, his right hand swung violently, and the eight staff members who had been swapped in were actually instantly sealed with a slash of his throat!

Chapter 4972

As the eight stevedores were killed, the a*sa*sin, who was disguised as a stevedore, stepped out of the cabin in a very calm manner.

Once out, he skilfully locked the large hatch and took the lift down to the ground.

After meeting up with his seven companions who had already come down early, the eight men took on the guise of stevedores and methodically drove away the transport truck, which had just been filled with a*sembly plates.

By this time, the pilot of the Boeing 777 had already started to request take-off from the tower, asking for an immediate departure back to Cyprus.

As the plane's original flight plan was to return immediately after unloading the cargo, the tower had no doubts and let it go, so the plane restarted its engines, carrying the eight bodies, and taxied off towards the end of the runway, where it soon took to the air and disappeared into the night.

At the same time, the eight fake stevedores, having completed their job, skilfully drove the transport truck to the designated entry point, and then strutted towards the exit in pairs.

At this moment, Ye Chen, who was hidden in the shadows, was very puzzled.

He did not understand why every one of the eight people sent by the mysterious organisation to carry out the mission this time was in a state of sobriety and freedom.

If one followed what Five-Four-Seven had said, the Mysterious Organisation would use drugs to make the dead soldiers completely unconscious before sending them out on a mission, before they had even left the premises, in order to prevent them from remembering the location of the premises when they entered and left the premises.

However, this rule obviously did not apply to these eight men.

Could it be that these eight men were not dead soldiers?

In terms of basic logic, since the mysterious organisation was not worried about these people remembering the location of the compound, that would prove that the status and importance of these people within this organisation was higher than that of the dead soldiers.

And since this mysterious organisation was not wary of these eight men in these matters, there was no need for them to borrow Bergen as a springboard, which meant that Bergen was their destination for this trip.

As for the eight stevedores who had just been killed, they definitely did not die from innocence either, as they themselves were cooperating with these eight people to hide their identities.

In Ye Chen's opinion, these eight people should have originally just helped these eight a*sa*sins enter the country temporarily, and after they returned from their mission, they would then switch the eight of them out, and by then they would be able to accomplish all this unnoticed and without leaving any clues.

So, he immediately instructed Wan Bajun to find a way to investigate the eight stevedores who were on duty at the airport tonight, to find out what they were and to see what their origins were.

After instructing Wan Bajun, Ye Chen immediately followed these eight people and left the airport's cargo yard.

During this journey, Ye Chen found that apart from these eight fake loaders, no other workers could be seen at the airport, and there was no one to check and stop these eight people's departure.

One of them walked to the left front of the van, reached out and touched the top of the tyres, and successfully felt a car key.

The man who got the keys directly pulled open the driver's door and got in, another man got in the pa*senger seat, while the remaining six men opened the rear cargo door of the van and jumped into it one by one.

Immediately afterwards, the man at the wheel put it into forward gear, the accelerator was pressed and the body shifted slightly as the wheels turned.

But none of the eight knew that at the moment when the body was shaking slightly, Ye Chen, who was dressed in black, floated down on the roof of the van like a falling leaf.

No one noticed the abnormality, and the person driving the car gave a kick of the accelerator, and the motor-driven van drove off quickly with only the faint sound of a motor turning.

After leaving the airport, the van did not head towards the city, but headed southwest, into the southern suburbs of Bergen.

Scandinavia is relatively weak in agriculture because of the narrow north-south terrain and the fact that most of the country lies within the Arctic Circle.

Chapter 4973

However, as Bergen is located in the southern part of Northern Europe, the weather is relatively mild and the terrain is relatively gentle, so the suburbs here are mostly farms of some size.

Because of the high degree of modernisation of agriculture in the West, there are few concentrated communities in the suburbs of Bergen, and because the farms cover a relatively large area, all the households here are also relatively scattered, with only one household for hundreds or thousands of metres.

Ye Chen, who was lying on the roof of the car, looked at his surroundings and became more and more puzzled in his heart.

This mysterious organization had sent eight assassins from far away, and had even gone out of their way to take out eight airport loaders, but they had driven their car to such a sparsely populated large rural area, what exactly could their goal be?

At this moment, the speed of the van underneath Ye Chen suddenly slowed down quite a bit, and the vehicle's lights were suddenly turned off.

As the pure tram had no engine roar, the biggest noise it made while driving was the tyre noise generated by the tyres and the road, as well as the whine of the motor at a low volume when it was turning at high speed.

Once the speed of the vehicle was reduced, the tire noise and motor whine would also drop rapidly, so at this moment, this pure electric truck with its lights off was almost as silent as a ghost passing through this quiet night path.

Ye Chen was instantly pumped up, the gang was suddenly so cautious, there was only one possibility, and that was that they were getting closer to the target.

And at that moment, Ye Chen heard the man in the cab, sitting in the passenger seat, say in Chinese, "Two kilometres to go, stop first and let the brothers start loading their equipment!"

The lorry immediately stopped at the side of the road and the two men got out of the cab at the same time and ran quickly to the rear of the vehicle.

The driver nudged the tailgate with his fingertips and it immediately opened from the inside.

The six men in the trunk had already changed into a full set of combat gear, bulletproof vests, helmets, and firearms, almost all of which were the same as the equipment carried by FiveFourSeven when they assassinated Ye Chen's grandparents' family.

After the two men jumped into the cargo box, the others immediately handed the prepared equipment to them and quickly helped them put it on.

After the two men were also armed to the teeth, the man sitting in the passenger seat said in a very serious tone, "All of you, team up in pairs and check each other's equipment, there must be no negligence!"

"Yes, sir!"

The others immediately responded, and then there was a sound of magazines being inserted and guns being loaded in the cargo box.

After everyone's equipment had been checked, the man at the head of the group said, "I'll repeat the mission requirements one last time. Do you understand?"

Without thinking, the other seven said, "Yes!"

The man said seriously, "Today is our lucky day! The one we want to capture alive this time is said to be the target that Lord Ying has been searching for for decades! It is only today that the British Lord has received the exact news of the target, and he has assigned this important task to us, so we must do our utmost and not let the British Lord down! This is the perfect opportunity for us to regain our prestige in front of His Majesty!"

The other seven men looked awe-inspired and said, "Don't worry, Commander, we will do our utmost and will never let the Ying Lord down!"

"Good!" The man who was called the Commander laughed boldly, "Brothers, tonight is the night to build a career!"

Chapter 4974

After saying that, he looked at the driver and spoke, "Little Four, according to the plan, the car will be parked here for now, you will sneak over with us, and if the mission goes well, you can come back and drive in between."

Without thinking, the driver said, "Yes Commander! I got it!"

The commander nodded and said aloud, "Good! Get out of the car!"

With his command, the tailgate of the cargo box opened and eight assassins dressed in black, holding black guns and wearing black masks, jumped out of the van silently, then they quickly concealed themselves into the farmland by the roadside, moving quickly and silently towards heading to.

Ye Chen was lying on top of the lorry, keeping a close eye on the eight men's figures, preparing for a mantis to catch the cicada and a yellow bird to stay behind.

At this moment, Wan Bajun's voice came from the headset, "Mr Ye, my subordinates have investigated the identity information of the eight stevedores on duty, and the information shows that these eight people are all native Nordic citizens, and their history files are very clean, not like any people with mysterious identities or unknown origins."

"Moreover, their bank accounts, all of them suddenly received a million euros in cash from an American company separately this afternoon, the time of the call, only an hour before this plane applied for the route to Bergen, I suspect that they were just temporarily bribed by the huge amount of money, that's why they cooperated with these people."

Saying that, Wan Bajun added, "By the way Mr. Ye, the American company that gave them the money is a company controlled by your sister-in-law's mother's family."

Hearing this, Ye Chen faintly froze and could not help but sigh, "It seems that my brother-in-law's line, they are not afraid of being exposed at all anymore, they dare to send money so blatantly, most likely they have done all the risk isolation, in the future this line is afraid that they will not be able to find out any valuable information."

Wan Bajun said, "My subordinate also thinks so."

Ye Chen said, "According to the timeline, this mysterious organization should have temporarily bribed these eight stevedores just earlier today, and then within four hours before takeoff, they created inverted masks made of silicone based on the facial features of these eight people, and then had those eight a*sa*sins quietly enter the country in this way."

"And these eight stevedores, originally thought of cooperating with them to play a game of stealing the sky and subsequently earn a huge amount of money easily, but unexpectedly, although this organization is willing to spend money, it will not leave any survivors at all, and the huge sum of one million euros in each person's account is only a life to earn but not a life to spend."

The message it left at Bergen Airport was that it took off normally and returned after the eight people had finished unloading their cargo, and it took off before the eight people disappeared, so on the surface, there would not be any suspicion, and even if the eight people were eventually were found missing, no one would suspect this plane."

At this time, Li Yalin's voice came and spoke, "Young Master Ye, that cargo plane of Yuantai International Express in Nigeria has just applied for a route to take off in twenty minutes, to fly from Lagos, Nigeria, to Gothenburg, Sweden."

Ye Chen frowned and asked, "Sweden should be next to Northern Europe, right?"

"Right!" Li Yalin said, "Gothenburg is about six hundred kilometres from your current location."

Ye Chen asked again, "How long does it take for a plane to fly from Nigeria to Sweden?"

Li Yalin said, "A little over seven hours."

Ye Chen nodded, "It looks like these eight people are going to make it all the way to Gothenburg, Sweden to rendezvous with the other plane after the mission."

After saying that, Ye Chen smiled slightly and said teasingly, "It seems that this plane is going to make a trip for nothing!"

Chapter 4975

Over the headset, Wan Bajun said to Ye Chen, "Mr Ye, can you be sure that the plane that flew to Sweden was to pick up someone and not send another group of people to Sweden for another mission? I'm afraid they might have other operations in Sweden."

Ye Chen said, "I just heard their conversation, they came this time not mainly to kill people, but to bring back some target people who were important to the organization, so they had to have a safe enough retreat path, moreover, the plane they came from has now gone back in order to avoid exposure, so I presume that the plane that flew to Sweden is the one that came to pick up them."

Said, Ye Chen added: "Moreover, there is no border control for land traffic between EU countries, and the convenience of driving through is as easy as driving at home and commuting between two provinces, but, although everyone is an EU country, law enforcement agencies each serve their own country, so once they arrive in Sweden, it will cause a lot of difficulties for the Nordic police to investigate, from Sweden out of the country would be a perfect fit."

From the other party's conversation just now, as well as the successive dynamics of the two planes, Ye Chen had probably smoothed out the mission of these eight people this time.

They had flown all the way to Northern Europe to capture someone who was extremely important to the organisation.

And the route they had arranged was Northern Europe in and Sweden out.

After they had finished stealing the day from Bergen and taken their target, they would drive more than 600 kilometres to Sweden, from where they would take a flight out.

It just so happened that another Boeing 777 had taken off from Nigeria, and by the time the plane landed in Sweden, these people should be able to make it to Sweden as well.

At this point, Wan Bajun spoke up, "Mr. Ye, my subordinates feel that we still have a window of seven to eight hours to make a quick deployment, if we send someone to Sweden now and keep an eye on the plane from Nigeria to Sweden, we should be able to run through their exact pulse and maybe follow the vine to find the exact location of one of their bases! "

Ye Chen smiled slightly, his eyes fixed on the eight a*sa*sins stalking in the darkness, and spoke: "There is no need to go to their bases yet, the trail of these six planes is a huge advantage for us now, as long as we don't hit these six planes, don't follow these six planes towards their bases, they won't realize that it's these six planes that have gone wrong. "

Ye Chen knew very well that even if he had taken out these eight killers at Bergen, Wan Breaking Army's side could still continue to work on that plane.

After all, as long as it flew out, even if it couldn't pick up anyone, it would definitely have to go back, and it might really be able to follow the trail and find out some information.

However, Ye Chen did not intend, for the time being, to do anything about the six Boeing 777s of Yuantai International Express.

He said to Wan Bajun, "In my opinion, these six Boeing 777s are like six telephone lines that the enemy has exposed but is still unaware of, just like a communication code that has been deciphered by the enemy in a war. That way, we will be able to figure out the other side's specific movements without any contact with them, and as long as we can ensure precise strikes every time, they will not realise which part of the process has gone wrong."

Chapter 4976

Li Yalin also agreed at this time, "I agree with Young Master Ye's view, there is really no need to take the initiative now, the previous time in New York, Young Master Ye has already made this organization suffer a big loss, and the coincidence is that Young Master Ye also really did not get any information in advance through any channel, so they will also realistically decide that the reason for the failure last time was not because of early exposure, but because the opponent was too strong;”

“If Young Master Ye can repeat the same trick this time, it will only make the managers of this organisation suspect that their strength has failed to keep up with the outside world, but it will never make them associate that their transport channels have been compromised, so that we can still use the clues from these six planes to continue to snipe at them with precision in the future! A few more times, I’m afraid we’ll make them doubt their lives!”

Ye Chen laughed, “Detective Li and I thought together, I am now trying to follow this clue and seize the opportunity to teach them a few more lessons, once they suffer frequent regimental failures, they will not only doubt their lives, they will also lack confidence and be tied up for a long time in the future.”

Speaking here, Ye Chen’s expression was austere as he said in a cold voice, “Although I have never met that so-called Ying master of theirs, it is not difficult to analyse this person’s character from the description of Five Four Seven, this person must be extremely confident and conceited, and as he is indeed strong enough, he should also rarely suffer defeats, so before meeting with him, I want this extremely conceited person to be forced to realize a The truth that has remained unchanged throughout time is that there are people outside of people and there is a heaven outside of heaven!”

Psychological warfare had always been a point that Ye Chen attached great importance to.

At the earliest time, he had completely pushed down the entire Tianhao Building Materials Group in front of Zhou Tianhao and his wife, in order, to completely destroy their hearts.

Having Hong Wu carve words on the foreheads of both Liu Guang and Liu Ming, father and son, was also a means of killing and killing the heart.

And his aunt, Ye Changmin, who was so high-minded and arrogant, had also had her edges smoothed out by his imprisonment in the city village.

Right now, although he still lacked understanding of this mysterious organisation, he had already made up his mind that he would play slowly with this organisation, first to make the controller behind this organisation collapse, and then to trample it down completely!

At this moment, the eight loaded assassins were still stalking on foot in the darkness.

These men ran fast enough and barely made a sound, which showed that these men were also quite powerful.

If we put aside the weapons, their personal strength was obviously much stronger than Five Four Seven and theirs, and although they were not practicing martial arts, their strength would not be inferior to that of a six-star martial artist.

Ye Chen followed them unhurriedly a few hundred metres away, following them as they climbed up a relatively gentle hill.

After climbing higher up the hills, a set of small two-storey country houses with lights on appeared on the roadside about a kilometre or so ahead.

With his superior vision and unusual eyesight, Ye Chen could already see that several American-style pick-up trucks were parked in the courtyard in front of the small country house, and several figures were continuously carrying various luggage items from the villa onto the vehicles, seemingly in a bit of a hurry.

At the same time, the eight a*sa*sins gradually slowed down. After communicating with hand signals, they split into two, three staying where they were and the other five circling quickly around to the other side of the villa, intending to attack left and right.

Outside the villa, the men were busy moving their belongings, unaware of the enemy who was already close at hand.

An old man with an Asian face was standing outside the door, directing the men to load different items onto different vehicles, while urging with a serious expression, "Hurry up, everyone, we must leave before dawn!"

Chapter 4977

At this moment, there was still more than an hour left before dawn.

The old man looked at the time and anxiously returned inside the villa, knocked gently outside the door of the study on the ground floor and said respectfully, "Miss."

A very young, even slightly childish girl's voice came from inside, "Come in."

The old man said respectfully, "Yes, Miss!"

Having said that, he gently pushed open the door of the room.

Although the villa, as a whole, looked like a Western freestanding house shape, the interior was decorated in a very Chinese antique style.

In the study, a young girl, with a lovely face and skin that blew out, was sitting in front of a top-quality Hainan Huanghuali desk, holding a yellowing ancient book and reading it intently.

The girl's features are exquisite, even her long, curved eyelashes are perfect.

She was dressed in a Chinese dress with a Chinese crepe-coloured embroidery, with a set of exquisite cloud shoulders embroidered with four-sided auspicious clouds, which had a full cla*sical charm, and I could tell that she should be an avid fan of Hanfu culture.

As the old man entered, the girl put down the book in her hand, looked at the old man and asked, "Is everything packed?"

"Back to Miss, not yet." The old man said, "There are simply too many celadon porcelains in your collection, and the underlings are packing them one by one, but there should be no problem in leaving before dawn."

With a slightly depressed expression, the girl sighed, "Why don't we just not bring those celadon porcelains, I'm ashamed to say, if I wasn't obsessed with them, we wouldn't be in danger of leaking out ....."

The old man smiled faintly and spoke, "Miss, they are all dear to you and it won't take long to pack them up, it won't delay your scheduled time."

"All right ....." The girl nodded gently and spoke with some melancholy, "I really miss this place, I'm afraid I'll never have the chance to come back."

The old man quickly comforted, "Miss, when we settle down in the new place, the old slave will definitely help you build a new farm, and if you like, it's no problem to replicate this place exactly one to one."

"Good." The girl smiled faintly and said, "Then next time I'll try raising a few Juan cows, I feel like those cows are small, naive and cute."

The old man nodded and smiled, "OK! When we get to the Russian Far East, I'll make sure you have some of the best Juan-San cows!"

The girl laughed, "I just don't know if the climate is suitable there."

The old man smiled, "It should be no problem, when winter comes, keep the cattle indoors, just have the gra*s ready."

"Good." The girl nodded and spoke, "I've always been distracted these past two days, so I'll divine another trigram."

With that, she pulled open the drawer of her desk and took out nine different copper coins from inside.

She then divided the nine coins into three rows on the desk, before using her delicate hands to grab the first coin in the first row, the second coin in the second row and the third coin in the third row.

Then, she closed her eyes again, mumbled something under her breath and dropped these three coins on the tabletop.

The girl opened her eyes, saw the three copper coins, and exclaimed, "The calamity I counted the day before is already coming ....."

The old man exclaimed, "So soon?!"

The girl nodded, did not say anything, and looked at the six remaining copper coins from before with a grave frown.

At this moment, the previous nine copper coins as just taken by the girl diagonally from the top left to the bottom right, the remaining six copper coins, in the bottom left and top right showed two triangles.

Chapter 4978

She grabbed the three copper coins at the bottom left and threw them sharply on the table, her expression even more appalled as she said, "The blood in the trigrams is extremely heavy, there will be killings today ....."

At this point, she couldn't help but mutter, "It's not right ....." I started my trigrams last night, and although the trigrams showed that I was bound to have a disaster, there was no danger ....."

After saying this, she hurriedly grabbed the remaining three copper coins and threw them onto the table with one hand.

However, due to her nervousness, one of the three coins slipped off the table top and onto the floor due to excessive force. After seeing the two on the table top, the girl was just about to get up and take a good look at the ones on the ground as well, when someone outside suddenly screamed and shouted, "Quick! There's a killer!"

Immediately afterwards, the sound of bullets coming in and objects being shot in all directions was heard.

The old man's expression suddenly flinched and he blurted out, "Miss ..... They're looking for us ....."

The girl's expression couldn't help but be horrified, she was about to see the last coin, but the old man had already taken out a pistol from his waist and stepped back in front of her, his expression was solemn as he said, "Miss, don't worry, as long as the old slave is still alive, he will protect you to the death!"

Just as he finished speaking, he heard a sound of footsteps approaching, and many bullets even hit the walls of the study.

Immediately afterwards, the door of the study was suddenly kicked open and several men in black with carbines quickly rushed in.

The old man did not hesitate to shoot at the leader of the group, but the leader of the group easily dodged the bullets fired from his gun, then rushed forward and grabbed the wrist of the old man holding the gun, making the old man unable to move.

Then, with a cruel smile on his face, he suddenly took out a dagger from somewhere with his other hand and raised his hand to cut off the old man's arm by the roots.

The girl hastily said in a loud voice, "Take whatever you want, just don't touch my grandfather!"

The man at the head of the group looked at the girl with a cold smile and said, "Sorry little girl, we're not here to rob you, we're here to take you two away."

A hint of panic flashed across the girl's expression, but she said with an air of calmness, "We are just ordinary people, we don't have much money or family money, kidnapping us won't bring you any benefits ....."

The man at the head said with a smile, "Little girl, when I came in just now, I noticed that the bowls used to feed the cats in your house are all official kiln Yuan celadon, and the celadon in this house alone is worth at least a few hundred million dollars, right? Do you really think I don't know anything and would be fooled by a young girl like you?"

When the girl heard this, she said without thinking, "Since you know what you're doing, take all the porcelains, just let me and my grandfather live!"

The man at the head said in a cold voice, "Don't worry, I won't kill you, because the order I got was to bring you two back alive!"

As soon as the old man heard this, he hurriedly said, "Good! I'll go with you, but my granddaughter is still young, so you should give her a break!"

The man at the head of the group laughed disdainfully, "Old man, all your men outside are dead, what qualifications do you have to negotiate terms with me?"

After saying that, his expression instantly changed to one of reverence and he said with reverence, "Lord Ying has ordered that you two should go to him alive! Remember, this is an honour for you both! Even I have never had the chance to see the true face of the Ying Lord!"

At this point, he suddenly smiled with excitement and said, "But this time, thanks to you two, maybe I will have the chance to meet the British Lord after I have made a miraculous achievement!"

At that moment, a cold voice suddenly came from outside the door, "Sorry, you won't have that chance!"

Chapter 4979

Ye Chen's words caused the ten people in the study to be shocked beyond belief.

The man at the head of the group turned around and saw Ye Chen appearing alone at the door of the study and frowned questioningly, "Who are you?"

"Me?" Ye Chen grunted and said, "I'm someone that all eight of you combined can't afford to mess with."

The man froze and then laughed contemptuously, "What a joke! You're not afraid to flash your back before you say big words, with just one of you, you want to go against the eight of us, do you know where I come from?"

Ye Chen smiled and nodded, "Yes, aren't you the commander of the Primus Guard? Not to mention the eight of you, even if there are eighty of you, so what?"

The man didn't expect Ye Chen to know his background, and while he was surprised, his expression became incomparably gloomy, and his eyes were full of killing intent as he said coldly, "Kid, you really want to die!"

After saying that, he immediately picked up his gun and was about to pull the trigger at Ye Chen.

Ye Chen did not dodge at all, his hand suddenly flashed with a cold light, and immediately afterwards, he heard the crisp sound of the other side pulling the trigger, but strangely enough, apart from the click, no one heard the sound of the gun.

He looked down at the assault rifle in his hand subconsciously and found that there was nothing unusual about it, but for some reason, it just wouldn't fire.

So he subconsciously tried to pull the bolt again, but to his surprise, he had just pulled the bolt, and suddenly the entire cap of the rifle was pulled off by itself!

He was so shocked that he thought something was wrong with the rifle.

At that moment, one of his men beside him pointed at the gun in his hand as if he had seen the devil and stammered, "Command ..... Commanding officer ..... Your gun ....."

The man at the head of the group fixed his eyes on it and was scared out of his wits!

He realized with a start that his own gun, not simply the top cap had been ripped off by itself.

His gun had been sliced open from the centre of the muzzle!

Not only had the barrel been cut in half, but even the bullet that was pressed into the chamber had been cut flush into a flat surface, as if it were a textbook, revealing the cross-section of the 5.56mm calibre, in which one could clearly see all the structure, the bullet head, the eggshell, the gunpowder and the primer.

His entire body was already stunned, subconsciously looking up at Ye Chen, his voice even with a few trembling as he asked: "You ..... How did you do that ....."

Ye Chen lit up the soul piercing blade in his hand, which was refined from giant clams, and said with a smile, "Here, it was by this."

The man frowned and said offhandedly, "How can a mere piece of shell cut through an a*sault rifle made of steel!"

Chapter 4980

"Don't believe me?" Ye Chen raised his eyebrows, smiled playfully and spoke, "It seems that the old saying is right, this man, he really won't shed a tear until he sees the coffin!"

As he said that, Ye Chen's expression suddenly turned cold as he said in a stern voice, "Since you don't believe me, let you try it!"

As soon as the words left his mouth, Ye Chen's hand once again flashed with cold light.

This time, before the man in charge could react, he saw the other half of the a*sault rifle in his hand, which actually fell from mid-air as well.

Just as he was wondering how Ye Chen had managed to do it, he suddenly felt a sharp pain coming from his right shoulder.

Instinctively, he looked down at the painful spot, only to discover that only a bowl-sized wound was already left on his right shoulder!

The wound was neatly and completely on a flat surface, in which the flesh and sinews were clearly visible, and there was a large amount of blood gushing out!

His whole brain was dizzy and he hurriedly looked at the ground again, only then did he realise that what he had just dropped was not just half an a*sault rifle, but half an a*sault rifle, together with his whole right arm!

"Ah!!!"

The sharp pain made his whole body almost collapse, and he looked at Ye Chen as if he had seen a ghost.

After about three seconds of extreme fear, he suddenly shouted, "Hurry! Kill him quickly! Quickly kill him!!!"

The other seven men also instantly came back to their senses, and one by one, they were instinctively about to shoot with their guns.

Ye Chen looked around the week with a stern look, his solemn aura suddenly burst out, and the whole man shouted, "Who dares!"

The assault rifle in his hand seemed to weigh a thousand pounds, and he was unable to lift it at all!

The man at the head of the group was already desperate and broke down in a fury: "You greedy sons of b*tches! Do you think he'll let you go?"

The crowd was too frightened to say anything.

It was because they all knew that if Ye Chen could cut the commander's assault rifle and cut his arm, he could cut their heads off.

Therefore, in order to avoid the tragic sight of their heads being cut off, no one dared to risk pointing their guns at Ye Chen at this moment.

Ye Chen glanced at the seven men and chided in a cold voice, "All put your guns down!"

As soon as the seven men heard this, they hurriedly threw their guns out in unison, clanking them to the ground.

The man at the head of the group was completely desperate, he knew that once these seven men had handed over their guns, he would have no chance of turning the tables.

So, he looked at the seven men with a desperate look on his face and said, "You greedy people, don't forget that even if you can survive today, once the seven days are up, once you don't get the medicine to renew your lives, your whole body will still burst and die!"