

Ye Chen 4991

Chapter 4991

When the old man heard Lin Wan'er's words, he hurriedly asked after her, "Miss, does that person know that he has failed?"

Lin Wan'er shook her head, "Of course he doesn't know, otherwise, how would he let us go so easily?"

Hearing this, the old man could not help but sigh, "It seems that even the most skillful tactics are of little use in your body, young lady."

Lin Wan'er sighed despondently and said ruefully, "My father has left me few skills, this is one of them, I guess."

After saying this, she said to the old man, "Go and pack up your things, don't want anything else except the necessary things."

The old man nodded respectfully and turned to leave the study.

After the old man left, Lin Wan'er took out a modest wooden spirit tablet from the drawer of her desk, on which were written eight large characters: the spirit tablet of her late father, Lin Chiru.

Lin Wan'er looked at the spirit tablet carefully and said in a low voice: "Father, my daughter is unfilial. The ring that you left me at your death's door was given to someone else. In his hands, the ring should be able to bring out its true effectiveness."

He said, "Father, Ye Chen and we have the same enemy, and it seems that he is still in the shadows, so maybe in the future he can kill our common enemy and fulfill your last wish!"

Then, Lin Wan'er fell into silence.

She couldn't help but recall that the ring had once made a sword call in Ye Chen's hand, and that sword call was crisp and haunting.

With this in mind, she secretly made a decision and then put the spirit tablet and the nine coins on the table into her backpack, and walked out of the study.

Outside the villa, the old man was packing up his things.

He dragged some unnecessary things out of one of the cars, one after another, and finally sorted out two large boxes.

Minus Lin Wan'er coming out, the old man hurriedly went forward and asked, "Miss, your blue and white porcelain, do you still have it with you?"

Lin Wan'er hesitated for a moment and sighed softly, "I'd better take it with me, after all, it's a Chinese thing, if I leave it here, it might be ruined by someone who doesn't understand."

Saying that, she added, "Take all the blue and white porcelain that has been packed away, when you return to China, you can donate it to the museum."

The old man asked, full of surprise, "Miss, aren't you going to the Far East in Russia? We have a stable and safe industry there, and going there is less likely to be found than returning to China."

Lin Wan'er shook her head and said indifferently, "I'm not going to Russia, I'm going to China to find that Mr. Ye today, he's a man, he must be very interesting."

The old man couldn't help but say, "Miss, there are 1.4 billion people in the huge China, where are we going to find the Mr. Ye you mentioned?"

Lin Wan'er said, "Mr. Ye speaks Mandarin very well, his words are correct and his pronunciation is accurate, you can hardly hear any traces of accent, so I presume that he is most likely from the north, and most likely Yanjing or several provinces and cities around Yanjing, when the time comes, let's fly to Yanjing first and look for clues in Yanjing."

"Good!" The old man nodded, "Then let's go to Yanjing!"

After Ye Chen returned to Bergen Airport and retrieved his car, he followed the same route back to Helena's palace.

During this journey, his mind had been on that strange ring.

So, while holding the steering wheel in his left hand, he kept clutching the ring in his right hand, rubbing it in his hand and releasing some aura into it, trying to figure out the real purpose of this thing.

There was a strong mutual attraction between this ring and the aura, but the strange thing was that the aura was not transformed into it, which made Ye Chen's heart very surprised.

According to the law of conservation of energy, energy is a kind of existence that can neither appear nor disappear out of thin air.

Chapter 4992

It was like a basin of hot water left outside, even if it eventually cooled down, that heat did not disappear out of thin air, but was released into nature through the air as well as other objects.

The heat of a basin of water, however, seems somewhat insignificant to nature as a whole.

But even if it was minuscule, it was still tangible.

However, the spiritual qi that Ye Chen had sent into the ring one after another, disappeared as if it had sunk into the sea, without any response.

Ye Chen felt more and more strange. In his opinion, the principle of a magic weapon was equivalent to an electrical appliance, except that a magic weapon needed to be driven by aura, while an electrical appliance needed to be driven by electricity.

If electricity was channeled to a water heater, it would be converted into heat energy; if electricity was channeled to an electric motor, it would be converted into kinetic energy; if electricity was channeled to an electric bulb, it would be converted into light energy, and if electricity was channeled to an electrolysis device, it would be converted into chemical energy.

It is just like channeling aura to a thunderstorm order and being able to transform it into lightning that falls from the sky, or channeling aura to a soul piercing blade and being able to transform it into an indestructible sharp blade, but this ring has swallowed so much of one's aura, yet it has only transformed into a few humming sounds.

A ring that emitted a sound similar to the sound of a sword buzzing, which was also strange in itself.

This phenomenon was bizarrely unexplainable, as if an electric fan was energised and the fan blades did not turn or produce any wind, yet it made a sound of blowing wind out of thin air.

While wondering, Ye Chen kept sending spiritual energy into the ring like a gambler who had lost his eyes and kept throwing chips at the gambling table.

All the while, until half of the aura in his body had hit the water, Ye Chen still didn't get any feedback other than the buzzing fame.

He was a little exasperated.

While he was still at his destination, he simply took out a Peiyuan Dan and squeezed it on his fingertips along with that ring, then with a grit of his teeth, he forcibly channeled almost ninety percent of his body's spiritual energy into this ring.

He felt that if he put the vast majority of his spiritual energy into it, this D*mn thing would more or less give him a little different feedback.

But what he didn't expect was that the ring was still like a black hole of aura, after devouring so much of his own aura, it still didn't change at all.

Ye Chen had no choice but to throw a Peiyuan Dan into his mouth in order to fill the deficit of spiritual energy in his body, and when the surging spiritual energy spread rapidly, he once again transferred nearly half of his spiritual energy into the ring, but the result still disappointed him to no end.

At a certain moment, Ye Chen could not wait to take out another Peiyuan Dan and fight to the death against this pitiful ring.

However, reason eventually overcame his impulsiveness.

The Peiyuan Dan was precious, so there was no need to put all of his Peiyuan Dan into the ring for such a pitiful ring.

In the current situation, it was wisest to stop losing money in time.

Although he hadn't been able to figure out what the magic of this ring was, his subconscious mind told him that it was definitely not simple.

To know that this was something that even that mysterious British Lord couldn't wait to obtain, and that even that kind of high and mighty person had gone to great lengths to obtain it, proved that it must have some kind of value that he didn't know about yet!

So, this ring must be kept well, it might be of great use in the future.

What's more, this thing had swallowed more than one Peiyuan Dan's aura and invested so much in it, so he must find a chance to make it spit out the capital with interest!

Chapter 4993

Putting away the ring, Ye Chen continued to drive on.

And he also silently reviewed the day's passage in his mind.

The eight primus guards were nothing special, but the girl named Lin Wan'er always gave Ye Chen a hazy sense of mystery.

Although he had used psychological hints on Lin Wan'er and there were no loopholes in what Lin Wan'er said, Ye Chen still had a vague feeling that something was not quite right.

However, after thinking about it, he could not figure out what was wrong.

At this time, an image suddenly flashed in his mind.

It was the desk in front of Lin Wan'er at that time.

On that desk, there were nine copper coins.

And those nine bronze coins seemed to be a complex divination trigram.

Thinking of this, Ye Chen suddenly thought of the Nine Mysterious Heavenly Scriptures, about the eight trigrams of the I Ching and divination.

Among them, in the Six Lines and Eight Trigrams, there is a method of using three copper coins to divine and tell trigrams.

So, three bronze coins Ye Chen could read, but nine, he was a bit confused.

After all, it was something that had not even been recorded in the Nine Xuantian Scriptures.

Thinking of this, he could not help but take out his mobile phone and call Lai Qing Hua, a feng shui master in the United States.

Lai Qinghua, among the people Ye Chen knew, was one of the strongest in Yijing and Bagua, so Ye Chen intended to ask him for advice on the nine copper coins divination, and what exactly was the path.

Soon, the phone call came through.

Due to the time difference, Lai Qing Hua, who was in Los Angeles, had only just finished his dinner at this time.

When he received Ye Chen's call, he was very excited and said respectfully, "Young Master Ye!"

Ye Chen politely said, "Old Mr. Lai, I am taking the liberty to disturb you because I have something to ask you."

Lai Qinghua said, "Young Master Ye, I wouldn't dare to ask for advice, if you have any questions, just ask me at any time!"

Ye Chen didn't bother with formalities and went straight to the point, "Old Mr. Lai, you have been divining and telling fortunes for many years, have you ever seen anyone use nine copper coins to tell fortunes?"

"Nine copper coins?" Lai Qing Hua exclaimed, "If it is the method of six lines and eight trigrams, then even three copper coins, which also contains a lot of information, if you want to quickly and accurately see the trigrams, you need to have a strong memory and mental arithmetic talent, if you use nine copper coins, then every three copper coins for a group, this is three groups of trigrams, and three groups of trigrams each as a whole, and can form a deeper and more detailed trigrams"

"So, if you use nine copper coins, that is to be divided into four groups of trigrams to calculate the trigrams, this amount of arithmetic is equivalent to raising the difficulty of guessing a 2-digit code to 12 digits, this technique is at the top of the I Ching Bagua, there is a nickname called 'near god trigrams', that is, those who can calculate this kind of trigrams, their understanding of comprehension of the eight trigrams of the I Ching is already considered to be out of this world."

Speaking of this, Lai Qing Hua sighed again, "However, the Near God Trigram has been lost to this day, I only heard about it from my grandfather when I was very young, but I have never seen anyone who could actually do it."

Ye Chen was puzzled, "But I've seen someone use nine copper coins to set up a trigram, and that trigram doesn't look like it was thrown away randomly, could that person really have such a skill?"

"This" Lai Qing Hua spoke, "I have not seen the trigram you mentioned, so I cannot confirm whether that person really has the skills, but from my experience, it is indeed unlikely, the probability of coincidence is higher."

Hearing this, Ye Chen felt even stranger in his heart.

That Lin Wan'er, the ring that Lin Wan'er gave, and the trigram that that Lin Wan'er posed, all seemed a bit off.

But if one went by Lai Qinghua's words, it shouldn't be possible for her, a girl, to master something like the Near Divine Trigram, which wasn't even recorded in the Jiu Xuan Tian Jing.

Thinking of this, he could not help but think in his mind, "I wonder what the origin of that Lin Wan'er, her parents and grandfather is? If I have the chance to see her again in the future, I must find a way to find out!"

With this in mind, he said to Lai Qing Hua, "Thank you, Mr. Lai, I'll think about it myself."

By the time Ye Chen arrived at the palace, the sky was already getting lighter.

Bergen Airport, too, had begun a busy day of its own.

Whether it was passenger or cargo, all the work was going on in an orderly manner, and no one realised that it was in this airport that eight of their colleagues had lost their lives.

Chapter 4994

The eight stevedores, who were originally on the evening shift and were working on a one-off basis, worked until the early hours of this morning yesterday and will be off until tomorrow afternoon, so no one will be suspicious if they are not seen here.

As for the families of these eight people, these eight people had already greeted them when they were alive, claiming that they had some deadlines to pick up and would be home late, so their families didn't notice anything unusual either.

At this very moment, in a farm on the southern outskirts of Bergen, a number of bodies lie long dead inside the house.

A sign outside the farm gate reads in English: "Property in trade here."

It was the kind of place that not many people would pass by, and if they did, they would not be interested in the farm if they saw the sign.

If the mysterious organisation doesn't send anyone else to find out what's going on, it won't be possible to wait until the bodies are heavily decomposed and the smell stretches for hundreds of metres.

But that would take at least five to seven days or more.

So this would buy Lin Wan'er more than enough time to escape from northern Europe.

The seven primus guards, having travelled through the night and the stars, also reached the top of the highest mountain in the city of Ossou just after sunrise.

It was somewhat humiliating to say that the highest peak in Ossou City was not even 500 metres above sea level.

As for Ye Chen.

He was in an extraordinarily depressed mood after returning to his palace.

After all, he had put in a Peiyuan Dan for that ring, and it couldn't be said that he hadn't even heard a sound, only that he had really only heard a few sounds.

Although Ye Chen was not a stingy person, the Peiyuan Dan was really precious, so the more he thought about it and wasted it, the more painful it was.

In order to wait for Ye Chen's return, Helena had not slept all night.

She couldn't help but think of that conversation with her grandmother in her mind, and her mind was very confused.

She knew that the best outcome for her current situation was to conceive Ye Chen's child as soon as possible.

However, she also knew that not only was Ye Chen already married and surrounded by numerous suitors, Ye Chen had no feelings for herself at all.

Under such circumstances, how could she make Ye Chen willingly have something with herself?

So, every time she thought of this, Helena wanted to give up this unrealistic idea several times.

However, when she thought of the current situation of herself and the entire Nordic royal family, she could not think of a better solution.

Moreover, Helena knew very well that her grandmother had not been open with her before, and that she had been talking about borrowing a king or queen from another European royal family in the future if she did not have an heir.

But Helena knew in her heart that if she really did not have an heir, then when she died, the Nordic government, as well as the Nordic people, would definitely invite her cousin Olivia's line back to inherit the throne.

If Olivia has children, then the chances are that her children will become Nordic kings or queens.

This was definitely something Helena would rather die than see.

She had only managed to get the throne from Olivia with Ye Chen's help. If Olivia's descendants were to take the throne back after her death, she would rather have the entire Nordic royal family recede from history.

The tumultuous thoughts and tangled realities had left Helena physically and mentally exhausted.

If she had chosen to stay in China, perhaps she would have been closer to Ye Chen and would not have had to worry about the royal family.

What she really missed was the feeling of Ye Chen standing in front of her and waving his sword to clear the way for her.

At that moment, Helena heard a sound of an engine from far away.

She hurriedly got up and went to the window, seeing that it was the car driven by Ye Chen driving back to the palace, and the first thing she did was to rush out of the door and quickly go downstairs.

When she arrived downstairs, Ye Chen had just parked the car.

Seeing Ye Chen get down from the car, Helena hurriedly went forward and said respectfully, "Mr. Ye, what took you so long to go out I have been very worried"

Ye Chen smiled slightly and said, "Things were a little more complicated than I thought, but fortunately it was all resolved smoothly."

Helena breathed a sigh of relief and hurriedly asked again, "Mr. Ye, you have been out for so long without eating, you must be hungry, right? I'll have the cook prepare breakfast for you!"

Ye Chen shook his head with a tired look on his face and said casually, "I don't have an appetite for food, so please arrange a room for me and let me catch up on my sleep first!"

Chapter 4995

In fact, to Ye Chen, sleep had long been dispensable.

Even if he hadn't slept all the time, his body wouldn't feel exhausted.

However, just now, he had transferred a large amount of spiritual energy into that ring, and even after taking a cultivation pill, he had only been able to fully replenish it. Such a rapid consumption of spiritual energy had really made his body feel a bit tired.

Seeing Ye Chen's weary face, Helena hurriedly said, "Mr Ye, please follow me."

As the palace was in a state of disrepair, there were only a few rooms readily available for occupancy, and Helena, not knowing exactly what she was driven by, took Ye Chen directly to his own bedroom in this palace.

Ye Chen was new to this place and did not know much about the internal structure and distribution of this palace, plus his body was feeling rare and weary, so he followed Helena to that bedroom.

This was the largest bedroom in the palace, or to be more precise, it should be a large suite.

Every piece of furniture, ornament and even the flooring and chandeliers were at least a hundred years old. The classical beauty of Scandinavia was artistic, but after all, it was old and poorly maintained, and the room carried a musty smell that was difficult to remove.

Helena had been in the suite for half the night and had got used to the smell, but when she went out and came back in, it became very noticeable again.

She could not help but frown slightly and said with an apologetic face, "Sorry Mr. Ye, the room smells musty, apart from being a bit old, it might also be related to the rainy weather here in Bergen."

Ye Chen laughed casually, "No matter, it's good enough."

Helena bowed slightly, pointed to the bedroom inside and said to Ye Chen, "Mr. Ye, the bedroom is inside, you can rest for a while first!"

"Good." Ye Chen nodded and said, "You don't need to mind me, I'll squint a little and think about something in the meantime, if I'm not up before noon, please come and call me."

"Yes!" Helena nodded her head respectfully and agreed, then pursed her vermilion lips slightly and said to Ye Chen, "Mr. Ye, let me help you tidy up the bed couch, the bed couch in this bedroom is still untidy and a bit messy."

Ye Chen was a little surprised, and before he could ask, Helena hurriedly stepped into the bedroom first.

Ye Chen followed her to the bedroom, only to find that on the wide bed, the quilt had been lifted halfway, and the bedskirt was slightly crumpled, obviously a sign that someone had slept there.

Moreover, the room smelled faintly ethereal, exactly the same as the perfume on Helena's body.

This made him ask her, "Helena, is this your bedroom?"

Helena blushed with shame and stammered, "Sorry Mr. Ye, most of the rooms here have been dusty for too long and are really not suitable to be used for guests, only this room is quite decent, so it's hard for you to rest here. Please don't mind"

Ye Chen shook his head, "I don't mind, it's just that if I sleep here, it's not like I'm occupying a nest, and it will also affect your rest."

"No no." Helena waved her hand without thinking, "I'm already awake, you can rest, I'll sit outside on the sofa for a while and then go down."

Hearing this, Ye Chen did not insist any further.

No one could have imagined that Helena, the Scandinavian empress who had attracted the attention of the whole world and made all the powerful and noble people compete for her attention, would willingly tidy up Ye Chen's bed for him like a personal maid.

Chapter 4996

Helena never thought about what she, as an empress, should or should not do.

She only knew that when facing Ye Chen, she could put aside all the pride and reserve of an empress and willingly do anything for him.

Besides, at this moment, her restless heart was happy and ashamed at the thought that Ye Chen was about to sleep in this bed that she had just slept in.

After Helena helped Ye Chen tidy up the bed, she said with a respectful face, "Mr. Ye, please rest first, and if you need anything, please feel free to let me know."

"Okay, thanks." Ye Chen smiled and nodded his head, and after saying thank you, he watched Helena exit the room.

Afterwards, Ye Chen washed up in the bathroom in the room, somewhat tiredly took off his clothes and placed them neatly on the bench at the end of the bed, with the exception of his underwear all over his body, except for the ring, which he clutched in his palm.

Immediately afterwards, he lay down on the bed, which was still warm and had a lingering fragrance.

When he thought that the warmth and fragrance came from the beautiful Helena, Ye Chen was in a trance and in a trance.

However, when he thought of the dumb ring in his hand, Ye Chen could not help but feel some pain in his heart.

He put the ring on his fingertips and kept turning it around, hesitating, but he couldn't help but put some more spiritual energy into it.

As a result, as usual, the ring did not show anything other than a buzzing sound, which seemed to tell him that he had received his feelings.

Was he letting a ring scam him?

How could this D*mn thing be as shameless as those fraudulent pig killing trays on the internet and fraudulent online gambling?

Even those pig killers in northern Burma who scam people on the internet while being electrocuted and trembling with their fingers pretending to be beautiful or rich, would at least be extremely caring and warm to their targets while scamming them.

In comparison, this ring's professional conduct was worse than even a scammer.

In his mind, he thought, "Could it be that I opened the ring in the wrong way?"

Thinking of this, he immediately put the ring on the middle finger of his left hand, and then sent some spiritual energy into it to see if it had to be worn on top of his finger to trigger it.

However, even though he had already put the ring on his finger, the ring was still as shameless as usual.

Seeing that a lot of aura had been taken away again, Ye Chen was really angry.

But when he thought that he had invested so much spiritual energy, it would be unbearable to just give up.

After all, he was dealing with a ring, not some insatiable internet scammer.

Thinking about it, he gritted his teeth and continued to reassure himself, "Maybe it's the wrong finger to wear? Try again with another finger!"

As the ring just wouldn't fit into his thumb, Ye Chen tried it on all the other eight fingers in turn.

After trying it, he was so angry that his entire mind had completely collapsed.

The purpose of the pig killers is to squeeze every penny out of their victims, while the purpose of this ring is perhaps to squeeze every bit of aura out of oneself

Chapter 4997

At the thought of this, Ye Chen's heart was in a state of dismay.

At this moment, the spiritual energy in his body had once again been consumed by more than 90%, his whole body was very tired and his heart was extraordinarily decadent.

He was like a gambler who had woken up and realised that he had lost too much in this scam.

In this instant, Ye Chen wanted to take another Peiyuan Dan, but on second thought, if he took another Peiyuan Dan, what difference would it make to those victims who had fallen deep into the scam?

What he needed to do now was to stop his losses in time and not have any more illusions about this ring!

Thinking of this, the exhausted Ye Chen took the ring off and clutched it in his hand, no longer sending any spiritual energy into it.

At the same time, he couldn't help but think of that Lin Wan'er.

This girl, he thought, seemed extremely uncomplicated.

Not to mention whether there were any unknown secrets inside the ring, the fact that she had decided to give it to herself in an instant was enough to show that she had the courage to do something extraordinary.

Moreover, if the nine copper coins she saw were indeed trigrams, then this girl's attainment in Yijing and Bagua was even a long way ahead of Lai Qing Hua's.

Lai Qing Hua was the best of the best in I Ching and Bagua and the secret art of Feng Shui, and it would not be too much to say that he was the Einstein of divination and Feng Shui.

It seemed that the only way to solve this series of riddles was to let Lin Wan'er answer them herself.

With the significant consumption of spiritual energy, as well as the constant thinking in his head, Ye Chen felt his body's weariness growing stronger and stronger, like an ordinary person who had stayed up for three days and three nights, and his whole body was already at the critical point of slumber.

Thus, he unknowingly slowly closed his eyes and completely fell asleep.

About half an hour later.

When Ye Chen was already asleep, Helena, who had been sitting uncomfortably in the parlour, suddenly stood up from the sofa after a long and intense mental struggle.

In a bit of a panic, she pulled out her phone and found the date record of her last period, followed by an online search for an ovulation calculator.

When she entered the start and end dates of her last period, and the average time between her periods, the little app gave her a pop-up with a pink heart symbol and a line that read, "Congratulations you are currently ovulating, this is the perfect time to start a new pregnancy!"

At the sight of the line, Helena's expression first rose to one of surprise, and then became determined as if she had made a big decision.

Afterwards, Helena took a deep breath and, with anxious apprehension, walked to the bedroom door and gently pushed it open.

After a moment of silence, Helena looked at the sleeping Ye Chen and slowly stretched out her white hands, looped them behind her back and unzipped the long zip on the back of her dress.

With the zip unzipped, Helena's stunning back was almost completely exposed to the air.

Then the entire dress slid down from her tender shoulders and instantly fell around her slender, sexy ankles

Chapter 4998

It had been a long time since Ye Chen had experienced, as he had today, such a deep sleep.

He was completely unaware of Helena's arrival, and of Helena's series of actions.

And at this moment, Helena's whole person was already so tense that even the rhythm of her breathing was completely disordered.

The courage that had just boned up had been consumed in taking this step up to the present.

At the moment that long skirt fell on her feet, it was as if Helena had been cast into a fixation spell, standing still and looking at Ye Chen for a full five minutes.

She needed to keep giving herself a pep talk so that she could take another brave step forward.

The weather in Bergen was rainy and overcast, and even the midday temperature in the middle of summer did not feel hot, let alone the early morning temperature, which was even a little cooler.

Helena stood still and soon felt her body had frozen a little stiff.

She felt that her exposed skin was already covered in goose bumps and her body shivered uncontrollably.

At this moment, Helena gritted her teeth and once again looped her hands behind her back and unhooked the hooks on the back of her upper underwear.

Immediately afterwards, the last strands of soft fabric were removed from Helena's body.

At this moment, her body only felt a chill more than ever, so without any further hesitation, she hurriedly lifted the quilt on the other side of Ye Chen's body, shivering, and got in decisively and dryly.

At that moment, the nest was already warmed up by Ye Chen's body.

That masculine body was emitting heat in a constant stream.

Once Helena got into the nest, she felt that warm feeling and the coldness of her body was instantly relieved.

Her first thought was to hug Ye Chen tightly, and to let their bodies and skin touch as much as possible, so as to warm her already cold body quickly.

At that moment, Ye Chen still showed no signs of waking up.

The moment Helena hugged Ye Chen tightly, she had already prepared for the fact that Ye Chen would suddenly wake up.

After all, Ye Chen's strength was unbelievably powerful, and it was impossible for him not to notice such an adventurous and daring act of his own.

Moreover, Helena had even prepared herself to confess her love to Ye Chen immediately the moment he woke up.

But what she did not expect was that Ye Chen beside her was not moving at all.

Even though she had subconsciously hugged him tightly, he still did not react.

Helena was a bit stunned for a while.

She did not know whether Ye Chen had really not woken up, or whether he had already woken up but was still pretending to be asleep on purpose.

She looked carefully at Ye Chen's side face, looked at his eyelashes that fluttered with his breathing, listened to his breathing and heartbeat, and then Helena realised that Ye Chen was really asleep!

She had never imagined that this man, who was almost like a god in her eyes, would also be sleeping like a baby, so sweetly and so well behaved.

At this moment, for the first time, she also found some affection from Ye Chen.

So, she still hugged Ye Chen tightly, while staring at his side face, and said softly with great emotion: "Ye Chen Do you know how much I love you in my heart? If I were that lucky to be with you, not to mention the Nordic Queen, even if I were to die immediately, I don't think I would have any hesitation"

Chapter 4999

When she said this, she suddenly smiled to herself again, "If you heard these words, you would definitely think in your heart that this woman must be lying, right? After all, in the eyes of others, I am clearly power hungry and my biggest dream is to one day wait for the throne of the Queen and have the world look up to me"

The reason I travelled all the way to Yanjing to join the Ye family in marriage was not because I was greedy for glory and wealth, I just wanted to sell my happiness in exchange for my mother's peace, and if I refused to marry Ye Feng, my mother would surely vanish into thin air. At that time, the only way for me to save her life was to obey the royal family's arrangement"

"However, this is to many people including your cousin Ye Feng, I am just a down and out royal who has crossed the ocean trying to climb on his ladder for glory and wealth, I am sure you must have thought the same thing when we first met?"

Here, Helena's voice had become slightly choked: "As for ascending the throne to become the new Queen, this is even less what I had in mind You helped me out and took care of Olivia's threat for me, my biggest dream at that time was to be able to save my mother and settle in China with you, even if you didn't have me in your heart, I was still willing to live around you, but I didn't expect that you would ask my grandmother to give me the throne"

With a sigh, Helena looked at Ye Chen with a sorrowful face and said, "Do you know that I might be forced by you to become the most famous single woman in this world? If I don't have the chance to get together with you in this life, I am destined to end up alone, if I am just an ordinary woman living somewhere in this world, it doesn't matter even if I end up alone, but you have pushed me into the position of the Nordic Queen, the seat of all eyes

"Do you want me to end up as a single old woman who will end up alone in the limelight? The whole world will be laughing at me then, and these unscrupulous media in the West will surely make up a lot of fake news about me to get attention;"

"They will say that I am sexually frigid, they will say that I am gay, and they will even falsely accuse me of fornicating with others, and then all kinds of negative fake news will be flying all over the place, and I, as the Nordic Queen, can only choose to keep silent in order not to fall into a situation where I am getting more and more black, and my whole life is so long, what do you think, how are you going to compensate me?"

At this point, Helena suddenly rolled onto her back and lay beside Ye Chen, her clear and translucent eyes staring at Ye Chen moment by moment, her expression serious, even with a bit of pleading, she said softly: "Ye Chen, I don't expect to have any more possibilities with you in this life, I only want to beg you to give me a child, a child that belongs to both of us, the Nordic royal family, which has no successor, will need The Nordic royal family, which has no one to succeed it, needs a person with a similar bloodline to inherit the throne, and a lifetime is too long, and I would like to have someone to accompany"

At this time, Ye Chen, still in a deep sleep, was not aware of Helena's arrival, let alone what Helena had said in her ear.

And at the same time, Helena was already in the depths of her love.

She took the initiative to probe towards Ye Chen, and her vermilion lips gently kissed him.

Helena was instantly immersed in the kiss and could not extricate herself, and the urge was like a big invisible hand, desperately pushing her to continue a step forward.

But just then, she looked at Ye Chen's handsome and decent, yet always sleeping face, and suddenly felt some frustration in her heart.

She looked at Ye Chen and asked him softly, "If you wake up now and see me like this, you must be very disappointed"

Chapter 5000

Only, Ye Chen, who was sleeping in front of her eyes, still had no response.

And when Helena saw that Ye Chen did not respond half-heartedly, the sadness in her heart was suddenly magnified rapidly.

The tears in her eyes as she looked at Ye Chen were now linked in a thread.

She gently stroked Ye Chen's face and choked in a low voice: "I can see that from the first day I met you, you have been distancing yourself from me, and in your heart, I must be a very realistic, very profit-seeking, and even a woman who will do anything to get to the top"

"If I had just had sex with you without you knowing anything about it, while being lucky enough to carry your child, you must have looked down on me even more in your heart, right?"

"You might even be discriminating and prejudiced against our child because you despise me"

"If I don't get pregnant with your child, then you might turn away from me and never see me again in your life because you despise me, right?"

At that, Helena wiped away her tears and said firmly, "No I will not give you another chance to deepen this misconception Absolutely not! Life is still young, and I will make you change your misconceptions about me in an honorable way, so that you will know that apart from that poor mother of mine, the only person in this world that I can really care about is you!"

After saying this, Helena leaned down again and kissed Ye Chen lightly on the lips before curling up in the crook of his arm like a kitten.

Helena, who was hiding in Ye Chen's arms, could not help but laugh softly and said with a wooing voice, "I want to hold you and sleep for an hour, promise me that I must not wake up for this hour, so that I can leave here with dignity after I wake up."

After saying that, she pressed her face against Ye Chen's heart and slowly closed her eyes.

At this moment, Helena felt that she was the happiest woman in this world.

Only, the only regret was that because she was afraid that Ye Chen would wake up earlier than she did, Helena did not dare to let herself sleep thoroughly, and although she was full of happiness, she was more or less careful and apprehensive.

This hour was the most satisfying hour she had ever had since she became an adult.

Only when she saw that the wall clock was already pointing to nine o'clock did she gently get out of bed, gently put her clothes back on, then tidied up the half of the bed she had slept on, and pinched up the hair that had accidentally fallen on Ye Chen's arm.

After doing all this, she gazed at Ye Chen and uncontrollably kissed him again before reluctantly walking out of the room and carefully shutting the door again.

It was almost noon when Ye Chen slowly opened his eyes.

He felt that he had experienced the longest yet most restful sleep since he had his memories.

This sleep had not significantly replenished his aura, but it had improved his spirits greatly.

He slowly got up from the bed and stretched his arms out to stretch his body freely, when he suddenly felt a very familiar fragrance on him.

It was the same scent as Helena's.

Although Ye Chen had smelled this fragrance when he first entered this room and even when he was lying on the bed, he clearly felt that this fragrance was even stronger than the fragrance that was already on this bed when he was lying on it.

In his heart, Ye Chen knew very well that fragrance was something that was constantly depleted, so the fact that the smell was even stronger than before could only mean that it had been replenished in the middle of his sleep.

Thinking of this, Ye Chen subconsciously reached his hand into the comforter on the other side of the bed, and could clearly feel that there was still a faint trace of residual warmth on the other side of the comforter where no one was sleeping.

At this moment, Ye Chen suddenly realized something. He subconsciously lifted the covers and looked down at his underwear, and was only slightly relieved when he found that they were still intact.
