

Ye Chen 5011

Chapter 5011

Her father was surprised and asked, "Who are they you talking about? What's happening?"

Lolita said angrily, "It's not that human rights group you're buttressing! They have no respect for me at all, they asked me to come over to stand for them today and promised to give me a Hermes Himalayan handbag, only to suddenly break the deal and throw me off the bus!"

Saying this, she continued aggressively, "Dad! From today onwards, I must draw a clear line with these people, from now on I am who I am and whatever I want to do has nothing to do with them anymore!"

Lolita thought her words would make her father feel sorry for her and support the decision she had just made, but she never dreamed that her father on the other end of the line would suddenly become furious!

He yelled through the phone, "Lolita, are you out of your mind? Do you have any idea how your day, and the day of our family, came to be?"

Lolita subconsciously blurted out, "I worked hard for it, of course! I fought for it by not going to school every day, by holding signs and protesting, by disliking the sky and the earth and the air! If it wasn't for my hard work, our family would not be here today!"

As soon as Lolita's father heard this, he scolded, "Shut up! If they hadn't been working behind the scenes, even if you had dropped out of school at a young age and shouted your voice out in the street, no one would have given you a second glance!"

"You have to remember! They're behind all the marketing scripts you've gotten today, they're behind all the media coverage of you, they're the ones who've been paying for it, and they're the ones who've been working intensively with the national media to give you a series of protest directions!"

"Don't forget that even your most famous slogan, 'How dare you', was created for you by their planners, otherwise, do you think you can rise to worldwide fame just by jumping out and screaming a few words?!"

Lolita was a bit dumbfounded by her father's dislike, and only after a moment did she come back to her senses and say discontentedly, "So what if they made me famous? I am now a world renowned environmentalist, my influence is here and I no longer need any help from them to create a lot of value!"

Lolita's father scolded angrily, "Is there something wrong with your brain? Have you ever thought that when you were promoted by them, you were just a child in your early teens, and you were following their instructions like a puppet on a string, they must have a lot of evidence in their hands. Your mother's and my dreams of being part of high society will be shattered! Our whole family will be knocked back down to the bottom of the pile!"

In fact, Lolita's father, had one more thing to say that had not been said.

Although he did not know the exact background of this humane organisation, he knew that this organisation was very ruthless, and if he really went against them, he might invite death one day.

Lolita was also taken aback by her father's words. She was so simple-minded that she did not realise that she had countless leverage in the other side's hands.

If she were to reveal these details, she would be ruined and would never be able to recover.

Lolita, who was in a state of despair, could only silently get up from the ground, patted the dust on her body, took a mask out of her pocket, put it on, paced to the roadside and hailed a taxi.

Chapter 5012

The reason for the mask was that she herself had been calling for environmental protection, and even for people all over the world to stop driving cars; according to the views she had been stressing in the outside world, driving was a sin, let alone taking a taxi, and if someone caught her taking a taxi, they would be afraid to poke her in the spine.

As Lolita depressedly left the airport, the shipment was pa*sing through customs.

As there was nothing unusual about the goods, and they were all charity materials, customs cleared them quickly.

So that Boeing 777 finally returned to Nigeria at the scheduled time with a plane full of cargo.

What the outside world does not know is that this imposing castle is in fact only the tip of the iceberg.

Beneath the castle, the entire island has been completely hollowed out, and the scale of the buildings inside is more than a hundred times larger than the ground.

At this moment, in the hall in the middle of the castle, a man in his forties, richly dressed, knelt down on one knee, looked at the empty throne in front of him and said respectfully, "British Lord! The plane has been withdrawn to Nigeria, the other seven primus guards, there is no clue yet."

Immediately, the cold, machine-like voice came from the large hall, "Keep looking! Even if we have to dig into the ground, we have to find them!"

The man clasped his hands above his head and said respectfully, "My subordinates obey my orders!"

The British Lord's voice came again, "Lin Wan'er must have left Northern Europe, send your men to infiltrate Mongolia, the Russian Far East, Alaska, Canada's Yukon and Nunavut, as she was nearly captured this time, she will probably flee to these sparsely populated countries and regions."

The man was slightly stunned and said, somewhat nervously, "Lord British! My subordinate has a question that I dare to ask you for an answer!"

Lord Ying said indifferently, "Speak!"

The a*sa*sination of the An family in New York was so carefully planned, but in the end, none of the dead soldiers we sent came back, and not even a single body was found. Do you think there could be a connection between these two events?”

“Connection?” Lord Ying asked coldly, “Do you think that someone is secretly killing us?”

The man said, “I can’t say, I just think that both incidents are too fishy. We have definite information on both incidents, whether it’s the An Family or Lin Wan’er, they don’t have the strength to resist us, but things turned out to be the loss of all the men we sent, which is a bit unbelievable.”

Lord Ying said indifferently, “The An family is a top family in the open world, and is somehow considered a public figure, but Lin Wan’er is a small fox who hides everywhere, and those under her have no chance to have any contact with the outside world on a regular basis, and this time she was able to find out about her only because she just couldn’t resist herself and bought a piece of celadon porcelain in an antique shop in Northern Europe before revealing her identity. So I don’t think there should be any direct connection between them.”

The man nodded and exclaimed, “It’s still you, Lord Ying, who is the most resourceful, using just some celadon porcelain to hook Lin Wan’er out!”

Saying that, he hurriedly asked again, “Should we get another batch of top-notch celadon porcelains and plant them in antique shops around the world, waiting for Lin Wan’er to take the bait?”

“No need.” Lord Ying said coldly, “Lin Wan’er is the most cunning fox, she will never fall into the same trap twice, and even the best celadon porcelain will not be able to lure her out!”

Chapter 5013

At this moment, the man respectfully asked, “Lord Ying, how credible do you think that the words left by Lin Wan’er are?”

Lord Ying was silent for a moment and said in a cold voice, “Her character, similar to her father’s, although resourceful and even wise and almost demonic, rarely engages in any intrigue, so I believe those eight words she wrote.”

Even if I see these eight words and even if I believe she is not lying, there is no way I will give up hunting her before I find the ring. It was just to provoke me!”

The man couldn’t help but say, “Lord Ying! If Lin Wan’er is not lying, does that mean that she has abandoned the ring somewhere in Northern Europe?”

Lord Ying said, “Although that ring is of little use to her, it is of profound significance and she would never have abandoned it to save her life.”

The man added, “Could it be in a bank safe somewhere? A ring that is kept in a bank safe with other things would not normally attract much attention, bank safes are extremely secure and identity verification is done using fingerprints and irises, so she could have used a false identity to store the ring and then taken it out whenever she needed it.”

“Nor is that possible.” If I wanted to, my Jin Yi guards could open all the bank safes in Northern Europe overnight to see what was going on, so how could she take such a risk? .”

The man said with some confusion, "Lord British, if the ring is not in her possession as you say, but she did not just throw it away, she must have had a very good way of keeping it, so where do you think it went? Or rather, in what way was it remotely kept by her?"

Lord Ying was silent for a few seconds and said indifferently, "I don't know what you're talking about, the only thing I can be sure of at the moment is that although the ring isn't in Lin Wan'er's possession, Lin Wan'er is the only lead we have at the moment, so all efforts must be made to find her out for me!"

After saying that, he gave a slight pause and continued, "This time, let Uncle Changsheng personally come out, you immediately summon him over to see me!"

The man's heart was shocked, for the Chang Sheng Bo that Lord Ying spoke of was the head of the Four Great Counts.

Each of these four earls was given their titles by the British Lord, namely, Chang Sheng Bo, Ding Yuan Bo, Jian Gong Bo and Zhong Yong Bo.

They have followed Lord Ying for many years and have contributed to the development of the forces under his command.

In addition to being the first of the four Counts, Uncle Changsheng was also the strongest of the four Counts, and was the veritable number two of the whole organisation.

The man himself, on the other hand, was the last of the Four Great Counts, the loyal and brave uncle.

Within this organisation, his contribution was not as good as the first three Counts, but because of his absolute loyalty to the British Lord, he was made a loyal and brave uncle, often at his disposal around the British Lord.

In the opinion of the loyal brave uncle, ordering Chang Sheng Bo to track down Lin Wan Er was really like killing a chicken with a slaughtering knife.

However, he did not dare to question his Lord's decision, so without thinking, he said, "Lord Ying, I will go and summon Uncle Changsheng."

A few minutes later.

A middle-aged man in a daoist robe and with an immortal style entered the main hall with flowing steps.

Chapter 5014

As soon as he entered, he knelt on one knee and, after saluting the empty throne, said respectfully, "Lord Ying, Uncle Zhong Yong said that you had summoned your subordinate for something, I wonder what your orders are?"

The low voice of Lord Ying came out, "Uncle Changsheng, I give you five years to find out the whereabouts of Lin Wan'er, in these five years, I don't care where you go or what methods you use, I will give you whatever you want, you don't need to go through me to make any decision, I just want you to bring Lin Wan'er to me alive within the five-year period, can you do that? "

Uncle Changsheng was slightly stunned, then he clasped his hands together and said in a loud voice, "Since Lord Ying is willing to give this task to my subordinate, then I will definitely do my best to bring Lin Wan'er back as soon as possible!"

The British Lord gave a hint and spoke, "For these five years, I will give you five hundred million dollars as funding, and after the job is done, I will give you five small cultivation pills as a reward!"

As soon as Uncle Changsheng heard the words "Little Cultivation Pill", his whole body was instantly surprised and said, "My subordinate, kowtow to the British Lord!"

After saying that, he immediately bent down and heavily bowed in thanks.

After that, he raised his head and asked respectfully, "Ying Lord, you know Lin Wan'er best, so I wonder if you have any clues or advice to give to my subordinates regarding Lin Wan'er's whereabouts?"

Lord Ying said indifferently, "I know her and I know her father, but they have both done things that I never expected, perhaps my understanding of them is so solidified that I have fallen into a strange circle of making one mistake after another, so Uncle Changsheng should not ask me for advice, go all by your own intuition, it might work wonders."

"Good!" Uncle Changsheng nodded heavily, "Lord Ying, my subordinate knows!"

Lord Ying asked curiously, "I wonder if Uncle Changsheng already has a plan?"

Uncle Changsheng arched his hand and said, "Back to Lord Ying, I plan to visit China!"

The British Lord was surprised and asked, "You think Lin Wan'er will return to China?"

Chang Sheng Bo smiled and said, "I did not feel so, I just subconsciously thought that China was more likely."

"Good!" Lord Ying hummed twice in a rare moment, "Haha, since you have this intuition, then go! Don't delay for a single moment!"

Without a second thought, Chang Sheng Bo said, "My subordinate follows orders!"

Meanwhile.

Ye Chen, along with Hong Wu and Chen Zekai, arrived at the airport in Aosu City directly in Helena's royal helicopter.

As they were the royal guests of honour, Ye Chen's few people did not even need to go to customs in person, as long as they handed their passports to the royal family's butler, they could complete customs clearance.

The helicopter landed directly in front of the hangar of Ye Chen's Concorde, and Ye Chen was then the first to jump out of the helicopter.

Afterwards, Ye Chen then said to Helena, "Helena, you don't need to toss down any more, just let the pilot take off back."

Helena shook her head with a face full of reluctance and said, "Mr Ye, I'd better take you to the plane, anyway, the place has been cordoned off in advance, no one else will see me."

Seeing her insistent expression, Ye Chen had no choice but to extend a hand to her and help her down from the helicopter.

Inside the hangar at that moment, the Concorde was already prepared.

The captain, as well as the rest of the crew, were waiting below the aircraft.

When Helena accompanied Ye Chen into the hangar, Ye Chen instructed her, "Be sure to pay attention to safety during this recent period, and if you find anything unusual, notify me at the first opportunity."

Helena nodded gently, her eyes red and shining with tears at the same time.

She knew that once she said goodbye to Ye Chen today, she did not know when she would see him again in the future.

Chapter 5015

Moreover, Helena also knew in her heart that among so many women who loved Ye Chen deeply, she was the most special one.

Everyone else had a free life and didn't have to care about outside opinions and comments, but she was the only one who still carried a halo of Nordic royalty.

Rather than a halo, it was a shackle.

Because of the existence of this yoke, one's departure from Northern Europe to any part of this world must rise to the diplomatic and political level, and if one wants to leave Northern Europe to see Ye Chen anywhere, it is simply a fool's errand, there is no chance at all.

So the only chance to really build Ye Chen, and to get along with him in a normal way, is for Ye Chen to come to Northern Europe and find himself.

However, she even Ye Chen's style of action, in case it was not necessary, he would definitely not come to Northern Europe to meet with himself.

Thinking of this, Helena's heart was sad and reluctant, so she looked at Ye Chen and said in a soft choked voice, "Mr. Ye, if you have time, you must come to Northern Europe again, and if you can't come, don't forget me"

Ye Chen saw that her tears were already flowing out uncontrollably, thinking back to the strange things he noticed in her boudoir this morning, he couldn't help but feel a little bit of pain in his heart.

The actual fact is, although there are no outsiders here, but after all, it is also crowded, not only Hong Wu and Chen Zekai are there, the crew is there, and the royal guards are also all around.

Therefore, Ye Chen could only say comfortingly, "Helena, I will definitely come again if I have the chance, you must take care of yourself in Northern Europe."

Hearing these words from Ye Chen, Helena's heart suddenly warmed up, showing a rare trace of joy as she nodded her head repeatedly, "Mr. Ye, no matter what time it is, as long as you tell me that you are coming to Northern Europe, I will definitely wait for you in Osu City!"

Ye Chen nodded slightly and spoke, "Alright, let's send it here, we're boarding the plane."

Helena nodded her head with tears in her eyes, at this moment, she wanted to hug Ye Chen gently and press her face gently against his chest for three to five seconds.

However, she also knew that she simply could not behave in such a way on such an occasion.

So, she could only maintain a half-meter distance from Ye Chen and spoke, "Mr. Ye, then I wish you a safe journey!"

"Good." Ye Chen nodded and once again instructed, "You take care of yourself as well, bye."

"Bye"

The captain and crew quickly took their places and prepared for take-off.

At this moment, Helena's group had not yet left, they just retreated to a safe distance away, as if they were going to see Ye Chen's plane off first.

The captain came to Ye Chen and said, "Young master, we will take off in ten minutes and are expected to arrive in Providence in three hours."

Saying that, he added, "It is now three in the afternoon Nordic time, nine in the morning New York time, and we should have no problem landing before twelve noon New York time."

Ye Chen waved his hand, smiled and asked, "It shouldn't take long to fly from here to Syria, right?"

The captain thought for a moment and said, "The route distance should be a little over three thousand less than four thousand kilometres, and with our flight speed, it will only take two hours counting take-off and landing."

"Good." Ye Chen nodded and waved his hand, smiling, "Then we'll fly straight to Damascus."

The captain froze and subconsciously asked, "Fly to Syria?"

Ye Chen nodded and said, "Yes, fly to Syria."

The seven Primus Guards had already followed Wan Breaking Army and the generals of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall and returned to Syria ahead of schedule.

And the severe poison in these seven people's bodies, Ye Chen had not yet lifted it for them.

Besides, Ye Chen still wanted to meet Li Yalin, Five-Four-Seven, and that old brother he had just met on the way to Mexico, Lang Hongjun.

Chapter 5016

Two hours later, the Concorde airliner Ye Chen was on landed in Damascus, the capital of Syria.

When Ye Chen stepped off the plane, Wan Bajun hurriedly approached him and said respectfully, "Mr Ye, I thought you would return to the United States directly from Northern Europe, but I didn't expect you to make such a long detour to Syria."

Ye Chen smiled: "The seven people you brought back still have a poison in their bodies that is strong enough to kill them, if they are not relieved, these seven people will die within a few days."

After saying that, Ye Chen asked him, "Those seven people, have they all settled down?"

"Settled." Wan Xiaojun said, "To avoid any accidents, I have left Chen Zhonglei behind and asked him to bring a few five-star warriors to guard the gang."

"Good." Ye Chen nodded and said, "These few people are in a different situation from Five-Four-Seven, they have already confessed to me something related to that mysterious organization when they were in Burgan, later on you call Inspector Li and Five-Four-Seven over together and touch on the clues in depth again to see if you can find anything new."

Wan Bajun immediately said respectfully, "Okay Mr. Ye, when we arrive at the base, my subordinates will immediately make arrangements."

Then, Wan Bajun asked, "Right, Mr. Ye, how long do you plan to stay in Syria this time? Do you want my subordinates to arrange accommodation for you in advance?"

"No need." Ye Chen smiled, "I've come to finish my business, and then I'll go back to the United States after a casual visit, so I'll take this opportunity to meet old acquaintances."

Wan Bajun said, "Mr Ye, you really have a lot of old acquaintances here, Commander Hamid just happens to be at the base, he has been talking about you, but I haven't told him you are coming."

Ye Chen asked curiously, "Why is this old man here at the base of the Ten Thousand Dragon Temple?"

Wan Bajun explained, "Commander Hamid has been coming more frequently recently, apart from cooperation and exchange, he also mainly wants to learn some experience from the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple here, although we are late in starting work on the infrastructure piece as a whole, the scale and efficiency of our infrastructure advancement is much higher than his."

Saying that, Wan Bajun added, "Mr. Ye, let's depart there now, we still have to work hard for you to land in Damascus this time, if you come back in two months, our own runway will be put into use, by then there is no need to transit in Damascus at all, just land directly at the runway of the base."

Ye Chen nodded and asked him curiously, "What is the official attitude on the side of the plane bypa*sing customs and landing directly at the base?"

Wan Bajun explained, "My subordinates have all greeted, if it's just people entering and leaving the country, the Damascus side basically turns a blind eye and doesn't need to go through customs."

Chapter 5017

The situation over here is still very complicated, Damascus can't manage all the borders at all, before the opposition's people and materials entered and left the country just like a game, so now Damascus basically doesn't ask questions, besides, Damascus as a whole is very friendly to us, after all, with us here, we can mediate between the domestic It's a rare ceasefire now, everyone wants to not attack each other and a lot of things are just a formality;"

"In addition to that, there is a more important point that the Damascus side is very clear that we are only looking for a place to live in Syria and do not want to make any profit from Syria, unlike the Americans, who have their eyes on the oil resources here, so they are more willing to maintain this cooperative relationship with us."

"That's good." Hearing this, Ye Chen was instantly quite relieved.

Once an organisation like the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple wanted to grow bigger and stronger, it would not be treated well no matter which country it was in, and now that it could put down roots in Syria, it was a solution to the pressing need to grow and develop.

It was also because of the complex internal situation here that it gave the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple a chance to develop without fear.

However, Ye Chen was also very clear in his heart.

It was not a long term solution to live under the hedge of others.

In the future, he must find a way to buy a piece of land so that the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall could prepare a permanent base without any worries.

Afterwards, Ye Chen and Wan Breaking Army, together with the others, boarded the helicopters of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall.

The five helicopters took off almost simultaneously and flew towards the base of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple.

After an hour of flight, the helicopters had arrived over the base.

From the air, one could see that the base of the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple was currently a huge construction site, with buildings under construction and dusty transport vehicles everywhere.

On the east side of the base is an airstrip that has already taken shape.

Seeing the construction of the entire base in full swing, Ye Chen could not help but feel a sense of relief.

The Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons was currently his strongest strike force apart from himself, and it would have a very significant role in every step he took in the future, especially in the battle against that mysterious organisation.

Therefore, he hoped that the strength of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall would continue to grow and refine, and his goal for the first stage of the development of the overall strength of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall was to be able to counter all the dead soldiers of that mysterious organisation.

As for that mysterious and unpredictable Ying Master, Ye Chen intended to keep him to himself and use his own power to defeat him completely.

The helicopter landed slowly in the core area right in the middle of the base.

On the south side of the core area, there was a cube building, which was about 20 metres high, with a huge, north-south hollow at the bottom, and a track that was much narrower than normal train tracks running through it.

Chapter 5018

From the void, one could see that inside the building was a huge lift constructed from a steel frame, with a steel cable as thick as a baby's arm dangling in the middle.

Wan Bajun introduced to Ye Chen, "Mr Ye, this is the main shaft of the underground fortification, its current vertical depth is around one hundred and twenty metres, the first phase of the underground fortification is currently being dug horizontally at this depth, this lifting device is the cage, the equipment, personnel and the excavated rocks basically all go in and out from here."

As he said that, he pointed to another similar cube building in the distance and introduced, "That one is the secondary shaft of the underground fortification, the depth is the same as the main shaft, it mainly undertakes to ventilate all the underground working faces as well as drainage."

Ye Chen nodded and spoke, "The current spy satellites and drones are too advanced, and the surface facilities can't even escape Google's satellites, so in the future the underground fortifications will be the top priority."

Wan Bajun immediately said, "Don't worry, Mr. Ye, more than 65% of the current infrastructure budget has been given to underground fortifications. In the future, the underground fortifications will not only be able to meet the living and storage of all personnel and materials, but also shoulder most of the daily training needs, and at the same time, we will establish a safe energy storage and backup energy system underground, which is sufficient to deal with most emergency situations."

As he spoke, a large, square steel cage was lifted up by a lifting device underneath the cube.

Interestingly, the cage had two levels, the top level was occupied by people, while the bottom level held a railcar.

Once the cage had come to a standstill, the dozen or so men in helmets standing on the upper level stepped out of it and walked down the second flight of stairs to the first level.

The workers waiting on the first floor, however, went straight into the steel cage on the ground floor, fixed the haul rope to the ore car filled with rubble, and then hauled the car along the track towards the loading yard a few hundred metres away, while at the other end, the workers pushed an empty ore car into the cage.

The entire steel cage was then lowered back down into the ground.

Ye Chen watched the whole process and could not help but frown, "Broken Army, relying on this straight up and down cage to transport people and materials is too inefficient a turnaround, isn't it? At most, a few dozen people or a few tons of cargo can be loaded and unloaded at a time, even if the trip takes a few minutes, in times of emergency this efficiency is still a drop in the bucket."

Wan Bajun hurriedly said, "Mr. Ye you are right, at present these two shafts are actually the configuration for the construction stage, the underground fortifications are still only in the primary stage, so they are paired with these two shafts to carry out the underground construction;"

"However, the next step will be to build a hub building on the west side of the airport runway, covering an area of over 100,000 square metres, and then from the internal level of the hub building, a two-lane ramp shaft will be excavated directly for vehicle access;"

Chapter 5019

"The ramp shaft would run from the ground level of the building straight into the underground fortifications, like a tunnel with a steeper gradient, once completed, personnel, vehicles and equipment would all drive up and down from here, the overall turnaround speed would achieve a geometric increase and the convenience would be no different from the ground level."

Ye Chen nodded: "How many workers are working down the shaft at the same time now?"

Wan Bajun said, "We are now speeding up the progress regardless of the cost, so there are five to six hundred people working at the same time, counting all types of work underground."

Ye Chen asked, "By the way, what are the Sicilian mafia that we got back from Canada doing now?"

Wan Bajun laughed: "The Sicilian mafia are all integrated into the digging team, specialising in building underground fortifications. labour laws, as long as we don't tire them out."

Ye Chen couldn't help but laugh: "After all, it's over 800 Sicilian elites, they don't feel tired even if they work 24 hours in a row for things like killing and arson and bullying, and working 12 hours down the well is certainly not a problem for them."

After saying that, Ye Chen asked, "By the way, what about those Hongmen's children?"

Wan Xiaojun laughed, "Mr. Ye, the boat that the Hongmen's children are on has not yet arrived."

Ye Chen was dumbfounded and lost his smile.

It was true that it was a long way from Hong Kong Island, and it would definitely not arrive without more than twenty days.

Just then, the double-decker cage was once again lifted up, and as soon as the upper iron grille was opened, Hamid, wearing a red helmet, came out from inside accompanied by several generals of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall.

Ye Chen recognised him at once and shouted from a distance, "Commander Ha!"

Shying away from his increasingly fat belly, Hamid looked over towards Ye Chen at the sound of his voice.

As soon as he saw that it was Ye Chen greeting him, he was overjoyed and shouted, "Aiya, Mr. Ye, senior brother Ye!"

Saying this, he took a few quick steps on his feet and ran over towards Ye Chen.

Quickly running in front of Ye Chen, Hamid gasped for breath while happily holding Ye Chen's hand and asked excitedly, "Elder brother Ye, when did you come?"

"Just arrived." Ye Chen smiled faintly, looked at his bulging belly and teased, "Older brother, you've gained a lot of weight recently, you seem to be living quite comfortably."

Hamid laughed and said, "Thanks to your blessing, old brother! Now that we're not at war anymore, all we do is sleep and eat every day, so we eat well and sleep well, so we've gained weight."

He turned around and pointed to the main shaft behind him and said with an envious look on his face, "Brother, this underground fortification of yours is really f*cking awesome! That tunnel is three or four metres high, compared to yours, my underground fortification there is just a rat hole!"

Ye Chen laughed and said to him, "Don't worry, when this side is almost built, I'll have Broken Army arrange for it to be upgraded for you guys as well."

Hearing this, Hamid's hands shook with excitement as he asked him excitedly, "Old Brother, is this true?"

Ye Chen nodded and smiled, "Of course, when have I ever told a lie?"

Saying that, Ye Chen added, "Did you see those hard-working Sicilian elites down there just now?"

"Sicilian elites?" Hamid asked curiously, "You mean those working Canadian mafia down there?"

"Right." Ye Chen nodded and smiled, "These people will be sent to you all together then too!"

Chapter 5020

Hamid's gratitude to Ye Chen had long been like a continuous flow of rivers and a flood of yellow rivers.

Without Ye Chen, he would have been taken away in a wave by the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple and the government army.

Not to mention that Ye Chen had also cured his leg, which had been crippled for decades, and given him a lot of money to strengthen his defence.

Now, with the Ten Thousand Dragons Temple mediating, it gave him a good opportunity to develop peacefully.

But what he did not expect was that even so, Ye Chen still did not ask for anything and was still very generous to himself.

With the current specifications of the underground fortifications of the Temple of Ten Thousand Dragons, even if they were presented on a small scale in their own base, it would be difficult to land without a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars.

To Hamid, this was something that he could not even think about.

But Ye Chen had agreed to help him build it for free without even thinking about it, and this generosity made Hamid's heart even more moved.

So, he shook Ye Chen's hand and said with certainty, "Brother Ye, Allah is above, if there is anything you need from me in the Middle East in the future, just say the word and I will do my best even if I have to risk my life!"

Ye Chen nodded his head and smiled, and said, "With this word from you, old brother, our efforts will be worth it."

To Ye Chen, Hamid was a friend, but even more so a comrade in arms.

As long as Hamid was able to firmly establish a friendly stance with himself, he would be able to continue to maintain this three-way balance in Syria, which would be greatly beneficial to the stable development of the Ten Thousand Dragons Hall.

Therefore, in order to keep Hamid from pulling too much crotch in this three-way balance, he had to give the assistance he needed, and the assistance he did not need or even dare to think about.

He then said to Wan Bajun, "Bajun, once our Phase I project is completed, we will first design a set of upgrade plans for Commander Ha's base, and then we will begin to start Phase I at Commander Ha's base, and all costs will be borne by the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons at that time."

Wan Bajun said without thinking, "Okay Mr. Ye, my subordinate understands."

Ye Chen nodded slightly and said to Hamid, "Old brother, I can't stay for long this time, I have to go back in a few hours, there are still quite a few things to deal with here, so I won't catch up with you, when I come over next time, we will find time to get together again."

Hamid said with some reluctance, "Brother Ye, you came all the way here and you're only going to stay for a few hours? At least leave a day to visit my brother's place and inspect the work there, we have changed a lot thanks to you!"

Ye Chen laughed, "I will definitely visit next time, but I really can't spare any extra time this time."
