

Ye Chen 5441

Chapter 5441

Saying that, he hedged and added, "I have given this system a very secondary name, called the Kiss of Death."

He could not even catch a single shot of such a powerful shell, and if he really shot hundreds or thousands of rounds, even the Da Luo Golden Immortal would have to die here.

At that moment, Wan Bajun nodded in satisfaction and asked him again, "What if multiple targets appear at the same time?"

The weapons expert said, "If multiple targets appear at the same time, the system will also be the first to issue a warning, and if you choose to fire, the system will take the order of locking onto the targets, one by one, in this three-gun collaboration."

Saying that, the weapons expert further explained, "Because the hit is very fast, it basically takes less than a second to settle a target, so even if a dozen people come in at once, as long as the switch is pressed, the close defence guns will clean up one by one by themselves, and the battle is estimated to be settled within twenty seconds."

Immediately afterwards, he added, "Let me give you a simulation."

He then picked up the intercom and spoke, "All the primus guards waiting outside, come in together."

As soon as the words left his mouth, a dozen primus guards were rapidly bursting into the secondary guard range, and an alert popped up on the computer screen in front of Wan Bajun.

The close-in cannon had locked onto the first Primus guard to enter, the muzzle following his movement and fine-tuning.

At this point, the weapons expert said to Wan Breaking Jun, "Hall Master, you can actually choose to fire now, none of the three close defence cannons are loaded, you can press to try, this set of close defence cannons is not intelligent enough, even if it is not loaded, it will still be programmed to drive and make an attack flow."

Wan Breaking nodded and pressed the button to fire, immediately afterwards, the barrel of the close defence gun behind him began to rotate rapidly, followed by the turret, which also began to move rapidly as the barrel continued to rotate at high speed.

The turret was aimed at a dozen targets one after the other in quick succession, the barrel idling, and the whole process was very quick, but in less than twenty seconds, it came to a complete stop.

That weapons expert said with a smile, "For the close defence gun, it had just simulated the entire attack on these dozen people, it just wasn't loaded, so the barrel was just idling, but in its own eyes, it had already killed these targets all over, if it was in a loaded state and these dozen people were indeed intruders, it would have finished the battle by now and could start prepare to evacuate."

"That's good." Wan Bajun sighed in relief and laughed, "If that's the case, I'm afraid that even if the four earls came together, they wouldn't be able to escape."

“Definitely, you won’t be able to escape!” The weapons expert said with a smile, “Our artillery shells are fully powerful, although 30mm shells cannot penetrate the heavy armour of a main battle tank, but an ordinary light armoured vehicle, one shell can penetrate a hole as big as a cup, even if he is strong, he will have to meet the King of Hell if he receives two shells, we even if he is really strong, he can carry twenty shells, it is only a matter of a second or two, not to mention that Our guns are all on high ground and they are strong, so I’m afraid it will be difficult for them to threaten them, and once we open fire, they will only be passive, and then there will be no second way out but to die.”

“Good.” Wan Xiaojun smiled faintly and spoke, “I’ll be on guard here for this coming period of time, and I’ll take control of the system.”

After saying that, he said to his master Qiu Zhiyuan beside him, “Master, it is hard for you to inform this down, from this moment onwards, everyone is not allowed to leave the copper mine range without permission by half a step.”

Qiu Zhiyuan immediately said, “Yes, I’ll give the order right away!”

Wan Bajun said to a subordinate, “Have all the helicopters return to the cargo ship in the port and stand by 24 hours a day. enough time for the explosive bolts to detonate and make all the preparations before hoisting.”

The subordinate immediately said, “Yes, Hall Master, I will make arrangements immediately!”

Chapter 5442

After a banquet, Ou Bojun, the capital of Jian Gong, and Wu Shutong, the governor of the right army, quickly became acquainted with each other.

Ou Bojun felt that Wu Shutong was a real and powerful member of the British Lord’s inner circle, and naturally deserved his friendship;

On the other hand, Wu Shutong felt that since the British Lord had already taken the attitude of allowing the Four Earls to contact the Five Armies, it was only natural that he would have to deal with the Four Earls in the future, and since the other party was much more powerful than himself, it would be good to have a deeper friendship.

If Ou Bojun hadn’t been leaving for Cyprus in the evening, the two of them might have burned yellow paper and worshipped each other as brothers.

After lunch, Ou Bojun was kindly invited by Wu Shutong to join him in a car after the meal and travel around Naples.

The climate in Naples, at the southern end of the European continent, was warm and pleasant, and even a quick walk around the city put Ou Bojun in a good mood.

In the evening, Wu Shutong himself hosted a banquet to have a drink with Ou Bojun.

At the dinner table, the two men also worked out a plan to map out the copper mines in Cyprus.

The first thing the two men needed to confirm was whether the copper sectional governor, Ni Zhenyu, had secret contacts with foreign enemies.

So, the plan was that when Ou Bojun sneaked inside the copper mine and started to covertly monitor Ni Zhenyu, Wu Shutong would issue a new secret order to Ni Zhenyu, asking him to immediately send someone to Rome, Italy, on a top secret mission.

And Wu Shutong will then also send his masters to Rome in advance, waiting to covertly place controls on the Primus guards coming on the mission to see if they will be attacked or secretly collaborate with the enemy;

If there is a problem with Ni Zhenyu, he will definitely contact the outside world through other means as soon as he receives the secret order, so that once there is, he can be caught in flagrante delicto, and then follow the vine to find the organisations or individuals who collude with him inside and outside.

If Ni Zhenyu is clean, and Wu Shutong has found no problems with the Primus, then the odds are that the last incident in Northern Europe was not an internal leak.

After the two of them had discussed their plans and had had enough to eat, Wu Shutong saw that it was about time to go to the airport, so he said with a smile, "Uncle Jian Gong, I will take you to the airport!"

"Good!" Ou Bojun smilingly stood up, patted Wu Shutong's shoulder and said seriously, "Elder brother Wu, you and I are both loyal to the British Lord, in ancient times we were fellow soldiers, in modern times we are colleagues, from now on, there is no need to be so polite between you and me, you call me Elder brother Ou, I call you Elder brother Wu, from now on we will call each other brothers."

Wu Shu Tong said with a flattered face, "That's really an honour for me!"

After saying that, he hurriedly filled two more glasses of wine and handed one of them to Ou Bojun, excitedly saying, "Brother, let's drink another glass of wine! I wish you triumph in advance!"

Ou Bojun laughed and said, "Good, good! With your blessing, I'm sure I'll be able to win this trip to Cyprus! If we can find out what the problem is, you will also get the credit!"

Wu Shutong hurriedly said, "My good brother, to be honest with you, if we do find the problem in Cyprus this time, you will have solved a big problem for me! Otherwise, if in the future, if it causes more damage to the British Lord, his old man will definitely not let me off!"

He said with a firm expression, "Don't worry, this time, if there is a problem in Cyprus, I will definitely find out the problem.

Wu Shutong said with a grateful face as he held his glass of wine, "Old brother, nothing else to say, it's all in the wine!"

Ou Bojun smiled and said, "Good! I will drink this cup with old brother, and we will definitely be triumphant this time!"

Nine o'clock in the evening.

A business jet takes off from Naples airport to Larnaca International Airport in Cyprus.

On board the plane, Oubre was in a very relaxed state of mind; this trip to Cyprus was, in his opinion, no different from an ordinary person's trip to a chicken farm, and there was no need to worry about any danger at all.

Chapter 5443

Halfway through the flight, he suddenly took out his mobile phone and used the internal communication software of the Broken Qing Association to send a video call invitation to Ding Yuan Bo Yun Ruge, who was in the Far East.

Yun Ruge did not answer, but after rejecting his invitation, he sent back a voice: "What does Uncle Jian Gong want from me?"

Ou Bojun said with a smile, "Ruge, that place in the Far East must be very boring, right? I went to Naples today and found that the climate and atmosphere in Southern Europe are very nice, if you have the chance, why don't we both go there and have some fun together."

Yun Ru Ge said indifferently, "I'd rather not, I'd rather be alone."

Ou Bojun replied, "Ruge, why do you keep turning me away? After so many years, you should know my true feelings for you. If you look around, is there anyone under the sky who is more suitable for you than me?"

Yun Ru Ge's tone was unkind as she asked in return, "Why do I need someone else to suit me? You don't think that I still have any need for affection today, do you? What is the use of feelings? Can it increase your cultivation? Can I attain longevity?"

Ou Bojun sighed and laughed awkwardly, "Look at you, Ruge, although feelings can't increase cultivation or gain longevity, they can make one content! No matter how much you and I cultivate, we can't live forever, since we will die sooner or later, why not take some time out and have fun in time?"

Yun Ru Ge said coldly, "Sorry, I'm not interested in having fun."

Ou Bojun's tone became a little more urgent and asked her in return, "You can't die an unmarried girl, can you? If you're not looking for another half, you should at least have a son or daughter, otherwise who will build a monument for us and burn paper for us after we die?"

Yun Ruge said disdainfully, "A person's death is like a lamp going out. If I die, the best ending is to die without any worries and let this body return to dust and earth.

Aware of Yun Ruge's caution, Ou Bojun sighed helplessly and muttered, "It's not easy to come to this world, I don't want to die in obscurity, I want to be remembered and not forgotten after I die."

Yun Ruge replied with a grin, "Then hurry up and find a woman in the club to get married, let her give you a few more children, in the future, when you die, you will have descendants to burn paper on your grave."

Ou Bojun said resentfully, "Uncle Ding Yuan, I have repeatedly hinted at you, but you have always found various excuses to put me off. I am not good enough for you, Uncle Ding Yuan."

Yun Ru Ge laughed lightly and said, "Uncle Jian Gong is joking, how can Ru Ge be so valued by you? It is not that Ru Ge does not think highly of you, Ru Ge just wants to cultivate, if she can achieve longevity, everything worth having in this world will be available sooner or later; if she cannot achieve longevity, everything will be like passing clouds, unable to last forever, and Ru Ge does not like this feeling."

Ou Bojun was stunned for a moment and let out a long sigh, "How can long life be so easy to seek? Even if you are as strong as Lord Ying, you don't have the ability to do so."

Yun Ru Ge said indifferently, "Whether I ask or not is my business, whether I can ask or not is the business of the heavens, the two are not in conflict."

After saying that, Yun Ru Ge sent another voice, saying, "Uncle Jian Gong, although you and I are the same robe, we are not the same people in the end, so please don't waste your time on Ru Ge in the future, Uncle Jian Gong."

Ou Bojun was depressed in his heart, and at the same time mixed with a bit of sadness, a bit of anger as well as a bit of disbelief.

But since Yun Ruge had said so much, he really had no face to continue stalking her, so he sighed and said, "It's just that Uncle Ding Yuan has great ambitions, I know I'm not worthy of you, so I'm really naive today. You're a funny guy"

Yun Ru Ge laughed, "I am forgetful, I accidentally deleted Uncle Jian Gong's message by mistake just now, and I can't remember what Uncle Jian Gong said just now."

Ou Bojun knew that Yun Ruge was giving himself a step down, so he replied, "Since Uncle Jianyuan has deleted and forgotten it, then I will not mention it again, and I hope that you and I will both complete the task given by Lord Ying and return triumphantly!"

Chapter 5444

After Ou Bojun's side borrowed the slope, Yun Ruge also stopped talking to him and just returned an ok.

When Ou Bojun looked at these two letters, his mood suddenly became very bad.

Although he had known that Yun Ruge would reject him, after he was really rejected, he felt completely unacceptable in his heart.

He was not the humble gentleman he appeared to be in front of Yun Ru Ge. On the contrary, he was narrow-minded and held a grudge against anyone who had offended him.

In his view, Yun Ru Ge's refusal was a standard act of insensitivity.

So he couldn't help but curse to himself, "Yun Ruge, why are you so fucking arrogant in front of me? You don't like me, do you? Wait, I'll find a chance to make you fall in love with me sooner or later!"

For the rest of the flight, he had no place to vent his anger.

At 11.30pm, the plane landed at Larnaca International Airport and O'Brien walked out of the airport empty-handed.

It was late at night and it was drizzling in the southern part of Cyprus.

He hailed a taxi at the entrance to the airport and sped off in the direction of the copper mine.

Before setting off, Wu Shutong had already shown him the exact location of the mine and the plan of the mine.

According to his plan, he intended to first sneak into the main office building of the copper mine from the periphery of the mine, where the sectional governor Ni Zhenyu lived.

More than half an hour later.

A taxi pulled up at the edge of the road less than a kilometre from the copper mine.

The water temperature of the engine and the temperature of the bonnet were still high, but the car was empty, no passenger and no driver.

At that moment, in the woods to the north of the copper mine, Ou Bojun was hiding in the middle of a towering tree, hiding his form through the dense foliage while still being able to easily observe the movements on the north side of the mine through the gaps in the foliage.

And behind him, in another tree, hangs a body with its head in a different place.

The body's head had been ripped off with brute force, and the body was then suspended from a sturdy branch by the victim's own leather strap tied around both ankles.

The corpse's neck was still spurting blood outwards, while the blood mixed with the rainwater and converged in a red stream on the ground.

This corpse was the taxi driver who had just driven Ou Bojun over.

Ou Bojun had actually wanted to kill someone on the plane.

However, it was not practical to kill someone on the plane, and once the crew was frightened, it might even lead to an air crash.

So, he targeted the taxi driver.

The driver stopped at the side of the road as he had requested, but he lost his life in the process, so O'Brien dragged him into the woods and savagely chopped him up to vent his frustration.

Only after killing the driver did Ou Bojun finally calm down again, ignoring the corpse behind him, which was still dripping blood, and focusing all his attention on the copper mine not far away.

As Ou Bojun had already mastered his aura, his senses had been greatly enhanced, and he was able to spot the secret sentry on duty inside the copper mine even from a few hundred metres away.

There were quite a few hidden sentries inside the copper mine, but this did not surprise Ou Bojun, after all, this kind of deadly guard station was of great significance to the Broken Qing Society, and each one was built at great expense and with a lot of manpower and resources, so security was naturally a top priority.

Chapter 5445

The good thing was that these Primus guards were not very strong, their combined combat power was only at the level of five to eight star martial artists, and there was still a big gap between them and Ou Bojun, so Ou Bojun had full confidence that he could easily blend in and not be discovered.

Unlike Ye Chen, who had occasionally obtained the “Nine Xuan Heavenly Scriptures” and directly mastered the aura, Ou Bojun had cultivated from the Bright Realm martial artist little by little, from the Bright Realm, Dark Realm, Transformation Realm and Patriarch Realm, he had taken one step at a time and walked very solidly.

It was only when he broke through to the Patriarch realm that he truly mastered his aura, so don't look at his mastery of aura as only an introduction, but his practical combat ability as well as his practical combat experience were very powerful.

And a martial artist who can break through the Patriarchal realm step by step is definitely an unparalleled talent in the martial dao. Such a person has been practising martial arts for years, and his pursuit of martial arts far exceeds that of ordinary people, and this will subconsciously make him arrogant and become uncaring, even oblivious to modern technology.

Faced with this copper mine, and the sectarians, primus guards and dead soldiers within this copper mine, Ou Bojun had a sense of superiority as a king over the world. He felt that the people here, even the strongest sectarian, Ni Zhenyu, was only a Dark Realm martial artist, not even worthy to carry his shoes, and facing this kind of place, it was almost impossible for him to take any risks.

However, he did not know that in order to deal with martial arts wizards like him, Ye Chen had already abandoned the traditional way of using martial arts to control martial arts, and the three close defence cannons had already been loaded and electrified, ready to deal a fatal blow to his opponent at any time.

Ou Bojun sank down and carefully observed everything around him, trying to see if there were others like himself who were also secretly watching the copper mine.

However, after observing carefully for another ten minutes, he came to the conclusion that there was no one else out of the copper mine's periphery but himself.

This also meant that the copper mine was not being monitored by outsiders.

The probability was that the problem was inside the mine.

So, Ou Bojun decided that he would infiltrate now.

Before moving on, he took out his mobile phone and sent a message to Wu Shutong, the capital governor of the Right Army, which read: Old brother, no abnormalities have been found on the outskirts of the copper mine, I am ready to infiltrate, and will issue a secret order to Ni Zhenyu in ten minutes.

Soon, he received a reply from Wu Shutong, the content was simple: “Yes old brother!”

Ou Bojun did not know anything about technology.

If he had known more about technology, he would have known that the reason why this world was not ruled by martial artists was because the power of cutting-edge technology was so much stronger than the strength of martial artists.

He thought that the strength of everyone here was far below his, so he instinctively felt that there could be no one here who could threaten him.

However, he never dreamed that just at the three high points of this copper mine, there were three big killers that were enough to take his life.

Under the sky, there was no one arrogant enough to specifically hit people with a close-in defence cannon, it was like no one specifically robbing a bank in a main battle tank.

But in Ye Chen's case, everything became logical.

Chapter 5446

As Ou Bojun held his breath and quickly broke through towards the northern fence of the copper mine at a very fast speed and with a very low voice, he did not know that when he was still two hundred metres away from the fence, Wan Bajun's computer screen had already received an alarm.

At the same time, the servo motors of the three close-in defence guns turned rapidly, their muzzles adjusting in accordance with their respective predetermined striking positions as Oubertjun moved.

In this instant, Ou Bojun suddenly felt that something was wrong, and his intuition had a vague feeling of unease, as if multiple experts were watching him dead in the dark.

He couldn't help but wonder in his mind, "What's going on why does his heart always feel vaguely uneasy"

But in the next instant, he thought that maybe he was overthinking it.

After all, he had already broken through the Patriarch realm and was now no longer in the martial arts sequence. With his own strength, how many opponents could there be under the universal sky? In a place like this, how could another expert possibly set his sights on him?

He did not know that at this moment, Wan Bajun had already placed his finger on the top of the computer's Enter key.

As soon as he pressed the Enter key, the three close-in guns would strike at Ou Bojun's location and the surrounding area with the speed of lightning.

At this moment, Wan Bajun was already nervous and starting to sweat coldly, while his master Qiu Zhiyuan was standing right behind him, equally incomparably nervous, saying, "Bajun, fire! This man is moving so fast, he must be one of the Four Counts!"

Wan Bajun shook his head, "Master, I'm afraid he still has company, let's hold steady and wait until he enters the first alert range before firing!"

And at this moment, outside the fence.

Ou Bojun thought he had arrived under the fence unnoticed.

He radiated his aura to check and found the nearest primus guard, on top of a building about twenty metres away from him.

This distance was not far or close, but luckily it was late at night, and as he was agile and could hide all his scent, he thought it would be impossible to be discovered.

Although he was confident, he still felt vaguely uneasy when he looked at the high wall, his heart was always falling, he was always unsure, and he even felt as if someone was secretly watching him.

It was a strange feeling.

Ever since he had broken into the Dark Realm at a young age, he had never been afraid.

But here today, in just a few seconds, he had already twice felt an inexplicable unease and trepidation.

He did not understand where this uneasiness originated from, and his extreme confidence in his own strength allowed him to only temporarily attribute this uneasiness to Yun Ru Ge.

He couldn't help but curse in his heart, "Fucking Yun Ru Ge, you're disturbing my mind, I'll make you pay for it sooner or later!"

Immediately, he shook off his head, refocused his attention on the high wall in front of him, and with a deft flip, he floated down to the inner side of the fence.

At this moment, Wan Bajun's finger, was still hovering over the enter key.

The system once again gave a warning that the target had entered the level one alert range.

And Wan Bajun also found that there were no other targets in the secondary alert range of the return pattern.

This basically concluded that there was and was only one target.

So, he looked at the human silhouette marked by thermal imaging on the monitor and said indifferently, "Since there is only one of you, then you will be on your way alone!"

With that, he tapped his right middle finger, lightly, on the computer's enter key.

"Snapped"

Chapter 5447

As Wan Bajun's fingertips tapped on the keyboard, the three close defense guns, which had long been locked onto Ou Bojun, immediately rotated their pitch-black barrels.

Immediately afterwards, shells of 30mm calibre instantly gushed out from the eighteen barrels of the three guns!

A large number of warheads pierced through the camouflaged glass houses, following the ballistic trajectory known as the Kiss of Death, and spewing out a frenzy of fire at OBERGUN!

The speed of both the bullet and the shell was faster than the speed of sound, only at close range, the speed was not obvious, normally, if a person was sniped from hundreds of meters away, they would have been shot first and then heard the sound.

However, O'Brien had been cautiously observing his surroundings, and as the speed of light was much faster than the speed of sound and the initial velocity of the shells, O'Brien noticed that the three glass rooms on the roof of the building had shattered at the same time before he had even heard the sound or been hit by the close defence guns, and that tongues of fire at least a metre or two long had erupted from each of the glass rooms!

At that moment, he instantly realised that he had been ambushed!

Moreover, his keen senses had already perceived that a large number of extremely fast and powerful warheads had been fired at him from the three glass rooms, each of them coming with great force!

At this moment, Ou Bojun's mind was already terrified!

In a flash of lightning, he exploded his inner aura and ran desperately towards his right side!

Even though the speed of sound and the initial velocity of the warhead were much slower than the speed of light, the initial velocity of the AK-630's shells was 900 metres per second, so with such a short distance, the reaction time left for Ou Bojun was less than half a second!

Although Oubertjun was already running at full speed, he was still sadly aware that his current position, as well as the position ahead of him where he was trying to escape, was enveloped by those extremely fast warheads.

This also meant that it was impossible for him to escape!

In this instant, Ou Bojun was incomparably indignant, he could never have imagined that his entire cultivation would be so stifled and accounted for here!

What was even more pathetic was that the speed of the ak-630 close defence gun's shell was more than twice the speed of sound, and before Oubertun could even hear the sound of the gun, the shell had already hit his face.

The next moment, he felt a sharp pain in his right leg at the knee, and he lost consciousness from the knee down!

A shell from a close-in defence cannon hit his right leg just at the knee, the shell could even pierce through three-finger-thick armour and Oubertjun's flesh could not resist it.

Therefore, this shell directly blew his right knee joint to smithereens, and his right calf, along with his right foot, was blown up into the air.

Ou Bojun only felt a sudden loss of weight, and his whole body leaned uncontrollably towards the right front, but his body didn't even have time to hit the ground before he felt his right side of his body suffer heavy blows one after another.

Subconsciously, he looked down and was instantly scared out of his wits!

Where was his body at that moment?

His torso and the entire lower half of his body had been shattered into scraps of bone and flesh and blood!

Then, he felt his head spinning up all of a sudden.

The moment it spun up, he saw that his neck had been broken by a cannonball, and the tremendous force of it sent his head flying into mid-air like a gyroscope!

Worse still, his own body had not even had time to fall to the ground before it had been smashed into pieces

Chapter 5448

It was also at this moment that Ou Bojun learned that it turned out that after a person's head was cut off, he would not lose consciousness for the time being in the very first moment, or at least for that short half second period.

His brain could still think, his eyes could still see, and his ears could still hear the loud sound of the shells whistling!

The last consciousness of Ou Bojun was filled with anger and resentment.

He had never imagined that he would end up with a dead body. Compared to the taxi driver he had just killed out of anger, he had only lost his head, but I was afraid that I would not even be able to keep my head!

Before the spinning head hit the ground, shells continued to whistle around the perimeter, blasting the opposite wall to pieces, shell after shell.

And unfortunately for him, although Ou Bojun's body had become mush, his head, being a much smaller target and still spinning, had managed to deftly dodge the barrage of bullets.

Although the spectacle-type ballistic trajectory set by that weapon expert from the Hall of Ten Thousand Dragons was very strong, it had to prioritise a larger coverage area after all, so the ballistic density was not dense enough to reduce it to the size of a head.

It was because of this that O'Byrne's head was briefly preserved.

However, the searing heat of the warhead, as it shattered Oberkun's torso, burned those body tissues so hot and scorched that the air was filled with the smell of burnt meat.

The odour factor permeated the air, and even though Obojun could no longer breathe, the spinning head carried the smell into his nasal cavity, causing Obojun to even passively smell the eerie odour.

His remaining consciousness, however, sensed that his head was about to fall to the ground, and at this moment he felt a little grateful that he had at least kept his head intact.

But just as his head was about to fall to the ground, a shell from a close-in defence cannon went straight through the left eye socket of Olbermann!

At the moment the shell pierced his eye socket, Ou Bojun's mind went dead, and his last consciousness was that he had really lived up to Yun Ruge's words this time, and that dust would return to dust.

Then, the shell exploded with a loud bang, shattering his head!

And the last of Ou Bojun's consciousness also went up in smoke in this instant

The confident Ou Bojun had never thought that there would be anyone here who could threaten his safety, let alone that he would be here, dead and buried.

Both Wan Bajun and Qiu Zhiyuan witnessed the process of Ou Bojun being blown to smithereens through the monitor. Although they had expected this ending, they were both horrified and terrified at this time.

The two of them were able to see through Ou Bojun's fast-moving figure that Ou Bojun's strength was far above the two of them, and that bizarre, almost perverted reaction speed was simply not something a human could possess.

But so what?

Although Ou Bojun's speed is no faster than an ordinary person, but in front of the dense close defense shells, there is still no chance of escape and resistance.

A top expert had been wiped out in a matter of moments, and if such a weapon was used on the two of them, they were afraid that they would not even have a chance to react.

At this moment, the motor of the close defence cannon had stopped running.

This was because the system had decided that the target it had locked onto was completely dead.

The whole process, in fact, only lasted for about two seconds.

In those two seconds, the three close defence guns had fired a total of over 300 rounds.

Of these, less than one tenth of them actually hit Ou Bojun.

While Wan Bajun was shocked, he also realised that from now on, it was the beginning of Ye Chen's plan to overthrow the nest, so he immediately picked up the intercom and said offhandedly, "All listen to the order, follow the established plan and retreat in an orderly manner!"

Chapter 5449

At a command from Wan Breaking Jun, the bases of the three close defence guns suddenly emitted a series of explosions, and the close defence guns, which had been rigidly fixed to the concrete bases, were instantly unconnected.

Immediately afterwards, the bases of the glass houses were all blown off. The engineering team, which had been arranged for a long time, rushed up and pushed all the glass roofs downstairs, then docked the prepared slings and waited for the helicopters to come and lift them.

At the same time, the Primus guards and their families, who had already made preparations to evacuate, began to rush out of their rooms as quickly as firemen would.

They had very little luggage, for here they did not have many personal belongings.

And the dead soldiers and their families had been transferred to the ship days before, so the retreat could simply blow the place to rubble as soon as all the ground personnel were evacuated.

Right in the open area where Oberkun's body was shredded, nearly a thousand men quickly finished assembling in separate areas in the open, following steps that had been rehearsed many times before.

The vehicles used to transport the ore from the copper mine were all activated, each with its own designated parking place, and as soon as the vehicles came to a halt, a group of people waiting next to them began to climb on board.

At the same time, three helicopters came roaring into the sky.

They were on standby on the harbour freighter, as Wan Bajun had requested, and as soon as the guns sounded, they immediately started their engines and rushed over at breakneck speed.

By this time, a truck full of people had already left the copper mine one after another and sped towards the port.

The evacuation of hundreds of people was carried out in an orderly manner, as it had been rehearsed.

The helicopters also quickly lifted the three close-in guns and raced back to the port.

Because of the remote location of the copper mine, no official word had been received at this time.

And just ten minutes after the death of Ou Bojun, everyone at the scene had already been evacuated.

The fourth helicopter took Wan Bajun and Qiu Zhiyuan hundreds of metres into the air. Wan Bajun looked down at the brightly lit but empty copper mine and pressed the remote detonator in his hand.

Immediately afterwards, a series of loud explosions were heard from deep below the earth, which were more than a hundred times as loud as the noise of a close-in defence gun!

Then, a shocking scene appeared in front of Wan Bajun.

The ground of the copper mine began to collapse one after another, each time the ground shook, and along with it, the buildings on the ground, like paper mache, were quickly collapsed with it into debris.

As a result of the extensive renovations made by the Qing Breaking Society to the interior of the mine, there was a huge amount of space inside. When all this space collapsed, the entire floor of the mine soon formed a sinkhole more than ten metres deep, and the collapsed area was not only where the copper ore was on the ground, but also in the direction of the roadway that extended out.

Soon, the copper mine was in ruins.

Wan Bajun let out a long breath, took out his mobile phone and sent a message to Ye Chen: "Mr. Ye, the experts of the Broken Qing Society have been destroyed in ashes, the plan to overthrow the nest has been successfully completed!"

After saying that, he sent Ye Chen the video of the whole process recorded by the surveillance equipment.

It was early morning in Jinling.

Ye Chen had just gotten up from bed, and Xiao Churan was still asleep beside him.

He picked up his mobile phone and received the message and video from Wan Bajun. He was delighted and stepped onto the terrace before tapping the video on.

This footage was the entire monitoring of that defence system of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall.

It had been tracking and filming Ou Bojun from the moment it discovered him, so what Ye Chen saw was almost the entire process from the time Ou Bojun appeared to the time he was killed.

Although Ye Chen could not tell Ou Bojun's cultivation level from the video, he could tell, just like Wan Bajun, that the man was quite strong through his stance when he infiltrated the copper mine and his attempts to dodge the shells.

Let's not talk about whether he had mastered aura or not, just his speed and explosive power alone, Wan Bajun was no match for him.

If it was Wan Bajun who came into contact with him head-on, he might have been killed by the other party with a single move before he even recovered.

Chapter 5450

So, judging from this strength of the other party, he must be one of the Four Great Counts.

Ye Chen also breathed a sigh of relief and gave Wan Bajun a call back.

As soon as the call came through, Wan Bajun said respectfully, "Mr. Ye, you have seen the videos sent by your subordinates, right?"

"Seen it." Ye Chen smiled, "You guys did a very nice job, although the other party was very strong, they had absolutely no power to fight back, it was done very dry and clean!"

Wan Breaking Jun was busy saying, "Thanks to your good idea, Mr. Ye, otherwise, you asked my subordinates to think out of the box, my subordinates could not think of using a close defense cannon to deal with the super experts of the Broken Qing Society"

Wan Breaking Jun was not complimenting and flattering, but rather he admired Ye Chen's foresight from the bottom of his heart.

Wan Long Hall used to take missions all over the world, and had seen a lot of sword mountains and fire seas, Wan Broken Jun felt that not only was he personally strong, but he also had a high level of command of the battlefield.

However, for such a long time, Wan Long Temple had never thought of putting a great killing weapon like the Close Defence Cannon to use.

However, Ye Chen's phrase of under-fire phobia had given birth to this kind of brutal expert meat grinder, which was indeed a genius idea.

Ye Chen was not complacent about his bright idea, on the contrary, he had also developed a big shadow in his heart because of watching the video of Ou Bojun's ashes.

He felt that his own strength might not be too much stronger than Ou Bojun's.

Therefore, if Ou Bojun could not escape the stranglehold of the three close defence guns, he would not stand a chance either.

This also meant that he himself was still full of dangers in this world, too.

And the greatest danger of all is arrogance!

It was because he was too arrogant that Oubertjun did not survey the scene carefully.

If he had been cautious enough to observe the copper mine secretly from hundreds of metres away for a few days first, I am afraid it would not have been difficult for him to discover the strangeness of it.

Especially since the three close defence guns were hidden in the glass room on the roof of the building, if he had noticed the glass room and become suspicious of it, then he would not have taken such a risk to come in and get himself killed.

In fact, in Ye Chen's opinion, if Cyprus had been in his place tonight, if he had been as presumptuous as Ou Bojun, he would have ended up dead as well.

But as long as he was cautious enough and did not give the three close-in guns a chance to lock onto him, it would not be easy for the three close-in guns to hurt him.

Ye Chen felt that he had many ways to eliminate the threat of the three close-in defence cannons, one of which was to use the Lightning Stunning Order, while the second was to use the Soul Piercing Blade.

Although the thunderbolt could not break the steel cannon, it could at least completely destroy the cannon's circuitry. If the cannon lost its power, it would be like an electric car having its battery stolen, and the huge turret and thick barrel would not be able to move at all, let alone lock onto the target.

The power of the Soul Piercing Blade is even more arrogant, as it cuts through iron like mud, and if used against a close-in cannon, it could cut it off with a single blow.

Both of these methods would eliminate the threat of the gun.

But the point is that one must be cautious and careful enough to be able to spot the other side before they lock onto him.

Therefore, at this moment, Ye Chen was also exhorting himself in his mind that in future, he must act cautiously and carefully again.

Then, Ye Chen said to Wan Bajun, "Bajun, from now on, you and the generals of the Ten Thousand Dragon Hall must act with absolute caution and never leave opportunities for the enemy."

Wan Bajun immediately said, "Don't worry, Mr. Ye, my subordinate has personally experienced Ye Lingshan and Cypress these two times, I will not dare to be reckless at any time in the future"

Ye Chen gave a hmph and admonished, "Make sure to destroy all the clues, in addition, after all the members of the Primus Guard evacuate, let them float at sea first, don't dock for the next six months, I want the clues to be completely cut off at sea!"
