Chapter 251 Feeling Suspicious

As Anthony knew he alone could excite Kyle, the latter would surely be thrilled by the three of them.

However, he didn't want to hide that matter for long.

Before finding a way to adjust the relationship between Kenneth and Darknetz, Anthony chose to keep it a secret for now. Even if there was a solution, he didn't really care about it being exposed or not.

Anthony looked at her and said, "I will solve the current problem as soon as possible. Just give me some time."

"Just do it as soon as possible. Kyle has a lot of complaints about me now, and those who don't know thought I've been turned against!" replied Thalia.

"Don't worry. Although he said that, he will never doubt your loyalty to Darknetz," Anthony responded confidently.

Hearing that, Thalia raised her eyebrows proudly. "That's for sure. After all, I am also a veteran of Darknetz."

"So, I'll still need your help to handle this matter!" Anthony looked at her and smiled.

"I have no problem with that..." Suddenly, Thalia knitted her brows as she felt that something was wrong.

Looking at Anthony, she narrowed her eyes. "I think I've been dragged into another situation by you again."

"Well, you are," Benjamin confirmed.

At that, Thalia was rendered speechless.

Then, Denise chirped, "It's okay, Thalia. You can completely blame my brother on this matter and say that he threatened you. After all, as far as his skills are concerned, he does have this ability."

Is she... bragging?

However, after thinking that Anthony really had this ability, Thalia gave up on that thought.

"See, at least Denise cares about me... unlike you two!" Thalia rolled her eyes at Anthony and Benjamin. She then looked at Denise and continued, "Denise, you must always side with me in the future because we are the only girls in Darknetz. We mustn't fight, and we must stick together, okay?"

Nodding, Denise replied, "Of course!"

Hearing that, Thalia smiled with satisfaction. "Good girl. Don't you worry. When you train at Darknetz, I will definitely take good care of you and make sure that you become the second Darknetz can't let go of."

Hearing that, Denise was stunned for a moment, and her eyes flashed with a trace of doubt. Even so, she then nodded and replied, "Yeah. Okay, deal."

"Deal!"

At that time, Anthony and Benjamin on the side watched them and knew what Denise was thinking. It was just that the conversation did not continue further.

Let's just give her some more time.

As the four of them were talking, Natasha and Kenneth walked toward them.

"You look happy. What are you guys talking about?" Natasha asked with a smile.

Seeing Natasha, Thalia sighed inwardly, feeling that the woman standing outside earlier was no longer pitiful.

The two of them were not on the same level at all, and that woman was just humiliating herself.

This useless man, Kenneth, is so lucky. Not only are his children impressive, but his wife is stunning. God, why are you so unfair?

As Thalia was lost in thoughts, Denise raised her arm to show her new watch. "Nat, this watch is a birthday present that Thalia gave us. Does it look good?"

Natasha glanced at the watch on Denise's wrist. Although it looked no different from an ordinary watch, it was exquisitely crafted. At first glance, Natasha knew that the watch was custom-made and of great value.

It seems that Thalia gave a lot for these.

However, those special watches made Natasha have an epiphany.

Despite that, she still looked calm on the surface as if she didn't recognize anything. Natasha then said with a smile, "Yes, it's beautiful, but it must be expensive, right?" Those words were obviously aimed at Thalia.

Smiling, Thalia replied, "Um, it's fine. It was not that expensive. The most important thing is that the three of them like it!"

Facing a beauty, Thalia was kind.

Suddenly, Kenneth stretched out his hand and inspected the watch that Denise was wearing. His dark eyes flashed with a hint of shrewdness. "Yes, it looks very nice, but I have never seen this style before. Where did you buy it?"

He raised his head and stared at Thalia.

Although Kenneth was a sharp man, the items from Darknetz were not something that he could just look at and uncover clues. Moreover, Thalia had even deliberately replaced the watch cases and redesigned them. Hence, there were only three of those on the market, and nobody would ever find out.

The most important thing was that the watches' true functions could not be used unless their codes were keyed in, so even if Kenneth had his suspicions, there was no evidence, and he could not find any problems with it.

With a smile, Thalia replied, "I didn't buy it. It was made by a friend of mine."

"Oh, really? Your friend has good taste, then. It just so happens that I want to customize a watch as well. Maybe you can introduce your friend to me?" asked Kenneth.

"I'm afraid not." Thalia was not polite at all.

"Why's that?"

"My friend doesn't like men and refuses to serve them," Thalia uttered smilingly.

At that moment, Kenneth looked at Anthony and Benjamin.

Seeing that, Thalia continued, "Those two don't count because they're undeveloped kids. They're not men."

Upon hearing that, Anthony and Benjamin were left speechless, as they felt insulted.

Kenneth didn't really want a watch; he was just testing her. After Kenneth heard her say that, a meaningful smile appeared on his face. "What a pity. I didn't know such a strange person exists."

"You're wealthy. There must be another skilled person that you can find," stated Thalia.

"Hmm, well, perhaps that's all I can do for now."

The conversation between the two sounded normal, but everyone present could feel something different.

One was repeatedly testing the other, while the other was playing dumb.

The situation was interesting.

Natasha knew that Kenneth must also have doubts about Thalia's identity. From the time he was in the hospital until the present, Thalia had always been around Anthony. Even if she didn't do anything harmful and even protected Anthony, given Kenneth's character, he would definitely be skeptical about that matter.

Closing her eyes, Natasha seemed indifferent, making people unable to read her.

At the same time, Thalia grumbled quietly in her mind.

I don't care if Kenneth suspects me or knows I'm from Darknetz. I'm not the only one here that's from there. Even all three of his children are. I wonder how he'll react when he finds out. Perhaps... it'll be satisfactory for me! Haha!

Even with such thoughts in her mind, Thalia was still calm on the surface.

At that moment, Liam suddenly shouted, "It's almost time, kids! We should light the candles and make a wish!"

Hearing Liam's voice, they all walked over.

"But some people haven't arrived yet!"

"There's still someone coming?" asked Liam.

Natasha glanced at the time, wondering if Spencer had seen the message.

Just as they were talking, a figure entered through the door.
