

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 79 - 80

Bai Rong went to the hospital with Liu Yan and heard the nurses gossiping as soon as they stepped out of the elevator.

“I can’t believe how much of a scumbag that deputy director of the Ministry of Health is!

That’s why they say handsome men are all nothing but trouble, womanizing everywhere just because they’re rich and powerful! How horrible!” Nurse A said.

“I heard his marriage is kept hidden! It must feel terrible being his wife, having to deal with him cheating on her like that!” Nurse B said.

“I don’t understand women these days. The celebrity who got famous on the internet previously had married a popular and beautiful woman, but he ended up having sex with many young models anyway. He even said that he was hunting for beauties.

It was disgusting! Most importantly, the actress hasn’t divorced him yet! It makes me so angry!”

Nurse A said again.

“Hey, what are you all talking about?” Liu Yan smiled as she asked.

“Yeah, let’s hear it!

There’s no such thing as too much gossip!”

“Dr. Liu, haven’t you been on the internet? It’s gone viral now! The deputy director of the Ministry of Health had even come to visit a pregnant woman in the VIP ward previously. He could be the one who got her pregnant for all we know!” Nurse A said excitedly.

“What about him? I barely have enough time to sleep, let alone surf the internet. I feel like I’ve missed out on so much!” Liu Yan stopped walking towards her office and dragged Bai Rong over to listen in on the conversation.

“I think that scumbag was called…… Su Xuyan. Yes, that’s the name.

There was quite a lot of news about him on the internet. He sleeps with different women very often, and has slept with more than thirty in the past three years.” Nurse A said.

“More than thirty?” Liu Yan looked at Bai Rong in shock.

Bai Rong was calm and showed no change in emotions.

“Yeah, I bet the Central Commission for Discipline Inspection will look for him. A person like him seriously violates discipline and is expected to step down.” Nurse A said.

“Dr. Liu, you can see more about it online. The comment section has a lot more interesting things to read about it than what we’re saying, as we don’t know this

Deputy Director Su, but a lot of the netizens do. They’re even talking about that photograph. Go take a look!” Nurse

B said.

“Alright, I will!” Liu Yan dragged Bai Rong away, “Who would dare do that to Su Xuyan? I bet

it’s Gu Mingchen! Do you believe it?”

Liu Yan realized she misspoke after saying that, as she shouldn’t have mentioned Gu Mingchen in front of Bai Rong.

She looked at Bai Rong and saw that she had already gotten over it all. Liu Yan went into Bai Rong's office with her and quickly checked the rumors on her phone.

“This Gu Mingchen sure is something. He exposed so much evidence that I feel we might have done all that for nothing!” Liu Yan said excitedly, before realizing she had misspoke again.

She slapped herself and looked at Bai Rong apologetically, “I'm sorry!” “It's okay.” Bai Rong said softly as she sat down and checked her schedule for the day.

“I bet your divorce with Su Xuyan is secured now that all these evidence are exposed, right?”

Liu Yan said.

“I don't know, but I think the possibility is quite high. I'll talk to Su Xuyan later.” Bai Rong's phone rang right as she said that.

She saw that it was Su Xuyan and answered.

“The stuff on the internet, was it Gu Mingchen's doing?” Su Xuyan laughed as he asked, as if none of it affected him much.

“I don't know. Let's meet up at noon.” Bai Rong answered directly.

“Heh, why do I feel like it's so rare that you'd ask me to meet up now?”

Su Xuyan said mockingly as he walked towards his office, and his expression changed when he saw military vehicles parked there.

“Then are we meeting or not?” Bai Rong asked.

“I’ll contact you later.” Su Xuyan hung up and saw Lieutenant Shang get out of the car, followed by six soldiers.

“Deputy Director Su, please get in the car.” Lieutenant Shang said in a polite and professional manner, leaving Su Xuyan no room for refusal.

Su Xuyan smiled and shrugged as he got into the car.

He saw Gu Mingchen and asked, “Go on, Chief Gu. What is it?”

Gu Mingchen looked at him and narrowed his eyes before saying directly, “Get divorced with Bai Rong. If you do, I will let you keep your position as deputy director, and even get you promoted to Director.”

“Heh, a wife in exchange for a position? Seems like marrying Bai Rong isn’t a total loss after all.” Su Xuyan smiled devilishly.

“You don’t even like her anyway, right?” Gu Mingchen said coldly.

“But there are others who do. You see, I have this bad habit of hogging things that other people want to myself even if I don’t like it. I just enjoy not letting others get what they want.

Seeing the look on their faces when that happens makes me feel great.” Su Xuyan said sarcastically.

“All it takes is one word from me, and you will be completely finished. Do you believe me?”

Gu Mingchen said coldly.

“Of course I believe you, but I also like challenges. So, go ahead and try to end me, see if I will do the same to you. Besides, your word won’t be necessary as I’m here to resign. Hehe.”

Su Xuyan chuckled and got out of the car.

Gu Mingchen frowned as he felt Su Xuyan's identity was not as simple as it seemed.

Su Xuyan's phone rang as soon as he left the office.

He saw who the caller was, got into his car and smiled as he asked, "Is it arranged?"

"The men are at your command. Apart from that, I found out some things about Gu Mingchen that you might be interested in hearing."

"Heh, go on then! Spit it out, I'm not a very patient person!" Su Xuyan started the car and drove off.

"I'll tell you when we meet."

In the afternoon, Bai Rong was resting on her desk after completing a surgery as she didn't sleep well the night before.

Her phone rang, and she answered when she saw that it was Su Xuyan.

"Meet me at Blue Mountain Café near the hospital in ten minutes." Su Xuyan hung up after saying that.

Bai Rong quickly grabbed her phone and handbag as she left.

Soon, she had arrived at the venue but didn't see Su Xuyan so she gave him a call.

"I'm here. Where are you?" Bai Rong asked while scanning the area around her.

"Come to the second room on the second floor." Su Xuyan smiled.

Bai Rong went to the second floor.

The room was very dark, illuminated only by a rose-shaped candle on the table.

The soft music playing from the rose-shaped speakers on the wall made the atmosphere in the room very romantic, but it was not suitable for them.

“Sit.” Su Xuyan nodded at the seat in front of him.

Bai Rong sat down and said directly, “I have video evidence of you having intercourse with Xing Jinnian.”

Su Xuyan laughed as he stirred the coffee with a spoon, “What, you’re now teaming up with Gu Mingchen against me?”

You Owe Me, My Love Chapter 80

Bai Rong was calm as she looked at Su Xuyan, “My personal matters have nothing to do with him. I don’t have feelings for him, so don’t get him mixed up in this.”

Su Xuyan smiled as he stared at Bai Rong, “Are you defending him? Or are you just afraid of me? I’m surprised to see how powerful I am to you.”

“I’m just being realistic. I couldn’t know a person well in four years, let alone a month. I know what I want.” Bai Rong said rationally.

“It’s best if you really think so. I’ll also warn you not to fall in love with Gu Mingchen, because he won’t love you. There’s someone else he loves.” Su Xuyan said with certainty.

Bai Rong showed no emotion except for her eyes that looked slightly tired, “Let’s get back to business. You’re finished if I release this video.”

“What do you mean finished?” Su Xuyan asked as he gracefully took a sip of his coffee.

The way he was being too calm about it was scary.

“I’m talking about your future in politics. A married man like yourself having intercourse with other women like that. Or must you see the video yourself?” Bai Rong played the video on her phone and handed it to him.

Su Xuyan watched the video. It was 30 minutes long and the events took place after he came out of the police station late at night yesterday.

A fierce look flashed through his eyes, “You’ve installed a pinhole camera in the bathroom.”

Bai Rong lowered her gaze and closed her eyes.

Xing Jinnian was the one who installed the pinhole camera, but Bai Rong didn’t want to ruin their relationship at the moment, so she took the blame.

“Let’s just get a divorce, Su Xuyan. You know your videos on Liu Yan involve the prince as well. Just as you wouldn’t easily upload it online, I won’t upload this either. All I want is a peaceful life, and won’t affect your future.” Bai Rong said softly.

“Hmph!” Su Xuyan slammed the mug heavily on the table, spilling some of the coffee out,

“Didn’t Gu Mingchen tell you? I’ve already resigned. Do you think I’m afraid of your video?”

Bai Rong was shocked, “You’ve resigned?!”

Su Xuyan tapped the table lightly, “Is it that strange that I don’t care much for a minor position like the deputy director of the Ministry of Health?”

Bai Rong felt a chill travel from her head to toe.

She had thought that she was close to being free from this hell, and had worked hard for it.

But in the end, she was nothing more than a circus clown to Su Xuyan.

Tears flowed silently from her eyes as she felt disappointed and terrifyingly hollow on the inside, having given her all for nothing.

“Su Xuyan, if there is a next life, I never want to meet you nor fall in love with you ever again.”

Bai Rong kept her phone and stood up.

“Hold it right there.” Su Xuyan called out and frowned at her.

Her tears seemed to have softened his heart a little.

“Why are you crying?” Su Xuyan asked.

Bai Rong smiled, realizing she shouldn’t have cried as it wouldn’t solve anything.

“A person like you would never understand people like us who struggle with all our might just to survive. I don’t think I owe you anything more. If you still aren’t satisfied, I’ll pay you with my life. At least my soul will be free that way.” Bai Rong said coldly and walked towards the door.

Su Xuyan grabbed hold of her arm and his eyes narrowed as he stared at her pale face,

“What do you mean by that?”

Bai Rong took a deep breath as she looked at him.

He had the looks of an angel but the heart of a devil.

“I just feel so tired. Perhaps I’ve done a lot of bad things in my past life, so I’m destined to never be happy in this life. I don’t need you to remember me, but you are forever in my debt and will suffer in your next life.” Bai Rong said as she tried to brush his arm off, but his grip was tight and he wouldn’t let go.

Bai Rong felt her arm going numb from the pain and stared coldly at him.

“Why must you get divorced? I can give you an easy life and plenty of money, isn’t that enough for you? You even hold the title of Mrs. Su! You have so much more than Xing Jinnian, and yet you want to die?” Su Xuyan couldn’t understand her.

“I need money that is not given by others, but earned by myself so that I may use it with a clear conscience. I want a marriage that is loyal, and the easy life that I seek is a peace of mind, to feel warmth when I come home instead of desolation.” Bai Rong smiled, “Someone like you won’t understand, because you don’t even want to love.”

“Then what about you? You claim to love me but you’re being with Gu Mingchen. Is that how you show your love?” Su Xuyan broke out of his usual graceful character and showed his true emotions.

“Why would I be so sad if I didn’t love you? Seeing you with other women felt like I was being cut on my heart with a knife. Your name was the only one on my heart, but you cut it all off and turned me into someone who doesn’t know how to love as well. Do you still think I would be able to love anyone now? I won't. In fact, I don't even know what meaning there is for me to keep living now!" Bai Rong got worked up as well, her veins protruding from her neck.

Even she found herself hideous at that time.

Su Xuyan stared blankly at Bai Rong, "The women who are with me are willing to share me with others. They would not be angry or sad, and treated each other like sisters."

Bai Rong didn't want to say anything anymore, as Su Xuyan would never understand how he had hurt her.

Perhaps, she should never have given him her love to begin with.

She had thought that she wouldn't cry anymore, but a wall in her heart was broken and her tears started falling as soon as she turned away.

She was crying out tears that were suppressed during the past three three years.

"Go be with other women then." Bai Rong wanted to smile but couldn't bring herself to.

She shouldn't have blamed Su Xuyan, as she had only herself to blame for loving him when all he wanted was to fool around.

She wanted to maintain her pride in the very last moment.

Su Xuyan felt a slight pain in his heart as he looked at Bai Rong.

He didn't want Bai Rong to die.

"Alright, I agree to divorce you." Su Xuyan said.

Bai Rong looked suspiciously at Su Xuyan; her eyes red from crying.

She couldn't believe that he would actually agree to divorce her.

“But, I have a request. You must meet me twice a week, and not less than three hours each time. Don't worry, I won't lay a hand on you unless you want me to. There are plenty of women who would let me, and I simply don't have the patience to play games with you.

However, you must come to the designated location whenever I summon you.” Su Xuyan said.

Even he didn't understand why he came up with such a strange condition.

Perhaps he was worried that he would never be able to see her again, so at least he could still see her twice a week with such a condition.

He didn't want to lose her completely.
