

THE SECRET IS OUT

JOHNNYS POV

After I left the house where Paty was staying I bumped into Jeff who I guess was also going to talk with her but I told him what she had said and we stayed close by talking of how we were going to get Paty to talk with us when we saw her coming out of the house in a sports bra and some running pants and started to walk to the tree line and began to run, I turned to look at Jeff who was already looking at me and we both started to run after her keeping a good distance from her. As she ran in her human form she was keeping a good pace as well as dodging fallen branches and tree trunks until we got to the cliff, both Jeff and I staid close but at the same time distant so we could observe what she did. She was looking at the cliff thinking for awhile until she started to shift into her wolf, after she nish shifting in front was the half white half black wolf that had saved me, Jeff and Jack a few months back. How could we not tell it was her even though we didn't know what her wolf looked her scent would have given her away but it didn't which means she must have masked it while her and her pack were helping us when we were visiting a pack in Oregon, she stood in front of me and Jeff in a protective stand but we thought it was to help some strangers to her but I now know it was her protecting people she knew and Maggie was doing the same but she stood over Jack who was her mate and that's when they met.

She stretched out and then laid down on the grown with her head on her paws while she looked at the stars that were starting to come out we then started to see tears fall from her eyes and Cesar started to whine in my head wanting to go and convert our mate but before either one of Jeff or me could do anything out of nowhere a big black wolf came and laid next to Paty while laying his head on top of hers, Paty didn't move but to only get closer to the wolf which made me and Jeff really mad because neither one of us knew who it was. The black wolf shifted into his human form and Paty laid her head on his lap while he strocked it which was making me even more angry, when we saw Paty shift into her human form she had her sports bra and running pants on but kept her head on this strangers lap while he played with her hair.

"What are you doing here, you know it dangerous" Paty said

"I could feel your sadness baby girl now tell me what is wrong" the man said

"I don't want to be here, I want to be back home where I belong" she said

"You belong here not there" the man said

"No I don't" she said

"You know what I think" he said

"What" she asked

"You still love him and you are afraid of showing it because you are afraid he will reject you once again but he won't" the man said

"How do you know papa" she said

At that moment I turned to look at Jeff who was looking at me with the same question on his mind, so we both turned and continued to listen in the conversation.

"Because if he tried to talk to you in the house and then staid outside talking to Jeffrey trying to gure out how they were going to get you to talk with them, it's a sign that they both feel bad for what they did to you" the man said

"Can I ask you something papa" she asked

"What is it baby girl" the man said

"Why didn't mom tell me you were my real father" she said

"Well because you were in danger baby girl, even though you still are you are more safe here then at your house" the man said

"Papa when will the war start, I want to get started with the training but I need to know how much time we have" she said

"You still have along time for that baby girl but when the time comes I will be there by your side" the man said

"Thank you papa for being here for me when I needed you the most" she said

"Don't forget that you are the daughter and princes of the underworld, your wolf is half black because of being the daughter of a fallen angel and half white because of your mom being an angel daughter of the moon goddess o and tell the boys to stop calling me Lucifer when they want to talk with me they can just say grandpa or grandfather and I will be there for them" Lucifer said

"I will papa" she said as she kissed his cheek

"You boys can come out now but make sure you are properly dressed one of you may be her mate and the other her brother but I don't care" Lucifer said
