

SOMETHING WENT WRONG

LILYS POV (PATYS WOLF)

Its been three days that Paty had the meeting where they discussed the Blood Moon and what it meant and how they were going to tie Paty up to the bed with the shacks and the chains but today is the day we will be having the Blood Moon at midnight and I had other plans for them, I got up and took a shower then went and got a sexy night gown that Maggie had bought Paty when she was going to move and live with Jack. I changed and then went to make sure that the door was locked and opened the balcony door then went and laid down on the bed allowing just enough of my scent to be smelled but only my mate would be able to smell it, I was laying down on my bed and after what seemed like thirty minutes went by and he didn't come I went into the shower and started the water before taking the night gown off and stepping in the water.

When I got out of the shower I dried my body and my hair, I took a step into my room to find Johnny on my bed but when I saw his eyes I realized that it was Cesar, when he saw me he got up and walked towards me kissing me and walking me towards the bed once on the bed he laid me down and continued to kiss me on the lips while he got between my completely wet core, and started to rub his dk against it. Making me moan, he kept doing it for awhile. When he was positioning at my entrance there was a knock on the door, we ignored it until they knocked again.

"Answer or they wont go away" he told me in my ear so only I could hear

"What is it?" I asked

"Do you know where Johnny is?" my brother asked

"Lie to him" he told me in his alpha voice so I wont disobey

"No I just got out of the shower" I said

"Okay but if you see him tell him im looking for him" he said and left

I looked up to Cesar and he smiled at me and started to kiss me once again getting us back in the mood we were in before my brother knocked on the door, when he was positioned for the second time at my entrance he was about to push himself in when we heard another knock but then we heard my brother say that he just asked me and I said that I just got out of the shower so their was no way I knew where he was.

He started to kiss me again making me lay down on the bed, positioning himself at my core for the third time. He pushed the head of his dk in making me moan due to the pleasure, he started to kiss me to stop me from moaning before being heard while he pushing the rest of himself into me. When he was fully inside me he didn't move for awhile letting me get used to him, we kissed for what felt like several minutes before he started to move in and out of me.

He was being so gentle with me, it felt like we weren't having s*x we were making love. His hands were all over my body making my body tingle were ever he touched, he started to kiss my neck leaving hickies were ever he could. Making me moan when he hit my soft spot, just between my collarbone and my shoulder. He kept moving while kissing and touching me, making me feel a knot in my stomach at the same time making me moan louder as he moved faster and harder.

"God Lily your so tight, you feel so good" he said

"I cant breath right" I said

"Don't worry baby just hold on a little bit more, im almost there with you baby" he said

He started to go faster and faster until I was gasping for air, before I knew it I felt him grab my shoulders pulling me towards him as he thrusted into me. We were both moaning and enjoying each other, he kept his rhythm for a long time before he got more aggressive with his thrusting.

"God baby im about to come" he said

"Cesar" I whispered

"Let yourself go Lily" he said

And I did releasing my juices all over his dk, he lled my womb with his seeds. We both moaned each others names as we road our climax out, we were so out of breath. He layed his head on my chest as we both caught our breath, I was stroking his hair while he closed his eyes and I did the same. We were under the covers with our eyes close in each others arms when I was pulled off of him and he was dragged out of the room while we were both ghting to get loose to run to each others arms, just then I felt something poke me in the arm and I started to feel sleepy and before I knew it the darkness had taken over me.
