

THE PREGNANCY TEST

PATYS POV

Its been two weeks since Cesar and Lily took over Johnny and my body and mated once again, I am on my way to the store and buy a pregnancy test due to me not feeling well and having the same symptoms that I had when I found out I was pregnant with Alex and Axel. I have been keeping some distance between me and Johnny since I didn't know how to act around him, I do go in the same room when we have pack meetings but besides that I try to stay as far away from him the best I can. Alex and Axel have been spending time with him to learn more about being an alpha and it has been very helpful because the packs have started to get along with each other, theirs even talk about merging both packs into one but nothing oficial has been decided.

Once in the store I go to the pregnancy test section and grabbed a packet that had three pregnancy tests in it and I went to pay for it, as I started to walk back to my car I could feel like someone was following me but I couldn't smell or see them. I got into my car and started to drive back to the pack house where we are staying and park the car before getting out and going up to my room to take the test, once in my room I lock the room and go into the bathroom and do as the instructions say and place them on the counter top before washing my hands and going in to my room and getting on my computer to do some work while I waited for the results. When the alarm on my phone went off I went into the bathroom and grabbed all three test and looked at them, all three said the same result PREGNANT and that's when reality hit me one time after fourteen years I was once again pregnant with Johnny's baby or babies.

When I was close to my bed I started to smell like something rotten was in my room and when I turned around I saw three man standing on my balcony door, they charged at me and we started to ght while I heard people trying to break down the door of my room. Sometime during the ght I lost the pregnancy tests and the furniture of the room were all over, just a heard the hinges of the door almost give away I felt something poke me in the neck and I was out cold.

I woke up to a splitting head ache and I grabbed it trying to stop the pain but to no a due, I then heard a door open and then close as I opened my eyes I saw a man in a nice suite in front of me with a big smile on his face. He handed me a glass of water and a bottle of pain killers which I took and smelled making sure it wasn't poisoned or something,

"Don't worry Patricia its not poisoned so you can take it" the man said

"Who are you and what am I doing here" I asked

"Well you see I have some unnished business with your father and since we cant nd him we gured that once he nds out that his dear little girl is missing he will come out of hiding" the man said

"What is your name and what unnished business do you have with my father" I asked

"My name is Sebastian and the unnished business that I have with your father is that he was to marry my sister which he never did because of your mother" he said

"So you take me so he can come looking for me and then what are you going to force him to marry your sister" I asked

"No im going to kill him" he said

He left the room and locked it once again, I stood up and started to look for a way out of here but everything was looked or had metal bars on the outside so I couldn't get escape. I went back to the bed and sat down on it running my hands over my at stomach which wouldn't be at for a long time since I would start showing soon and who knows what this Sebastian guy would do to me, I tried to mind link with my pack but it was like someone had blocked the connection some way and I knew I was stuck here for some time. I looked down at my hands and promised to get out of here before my pups are born, one way or another I would get out and I would get back to my pack and to my family I just hope that everybody is already looking for me. Just then I remembered that I dropped the pregnancy tests during the ght and who knows who would nd them, the other thing that came to my mind is if there was a mole in the pack giving this Sebastian guy information on the packs.
