Chapter 420

Chapter 420 What Are You Doing Here?

When Jenny met Stephanie's parents, both of them had unpleasant expressions on their faces, and it was obvious they never expected that Stephanie was the root of their problems.

What surprised them more was that their daughter had taken the initiative to go to her for their family's sake. Upon knowing that, they were angry and distressed.

Stephanie's father, Charles, thanked Jenny for informing them about the situation. "Jenny, thank you for telling us. Otherwise, we would have thought that we somehow miraculously solved all the problems that came out of nowhere," he said with a wry smile.

Jenny shook her head. "Let's not talk about that for now. We need to find a way to get Stephanie away from Paul."

Charles was torn between his anger toward Paul and his concern for Stephanie's safety. He knew rescuing Stephanie could ruin the Walkers' business, but his daughter's safety was his priority.

"Jenny, please bring Stephanie to us. We'll take her away. At worst, we'll leave Parrington, Charles said. He had decided; their daughter was much more important than their business.

Seeing that they valued Stephanie so much, Jenny was pleased.

"I came here today to tell you something."

Jenny suggested they take Stephanie away to Bardoff City, where the Spades could help them start anew and avoid the Wagners' influence.

As they hadn't expected her to plan so thoroughly and far ahead, they were at a loss for a while. "I know it's hard for you to leave Parrington, but for Stephanie-

"Jenny, say no more. We are willing to leave," Charles replied before Jenny could finish speaking. With her plan, not only could they rescue Stephanie, but they could also keep the Walkers from going bankrupt, which was great.

If remaining in Parrington meant that they would be harassed by that bastard Paul for the rest of their lives, then they might as well leave.

Jenny laughed and breathed a sigh of relief, "Okay, I'll go to Bardoff City soon to help you find out the situation in Bardoff City first. If possible, I'll first find a suitable place for your new headquarters there so that you can quietly move."

"I'll get Stephanie out after everything is settled and try not to attract Paul's attention," she added. Jenny was worried that if Paul knew about the plan, he would restrict Stephanie's freedom, making it difficult for her to leave.

Stephanie's parents nodded in agreement. "Jenny, we'll follow your plan."

The two of them had no plans of their own, and they trusted Jenny to take care of everything.

As she left their house, Jenny breathed a sigh of relief. It appeared that she had to speed up her plans to go to Bardoff City as there was no time left to waste.

After leaving the Walkers' place, Jenny hurriedly drove home to find Christopher and discuss plan to return to Bardoff City. However, she still didn't know which building Christopher lived in, so she had to call and ask him to come and find her.

As she approached her apartment, Jenny noticed a beautiful woman standing at the door.

"Hello," the woman greeted Jenny with a smile.

The woman seemed familiar. After a few seconds, a name popped up in her mind. "Natalia?"

"Yes, it's me," Natalia confirmed. She was surprised that Jenny knew who she was and seemed to be keeping tabs on Alec.

"What are you doing here?" Jenny asked, her expression darkening.
