

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1747

After listening to the young man's story, Yun Chujiu rolled her eyes and took out a porcelain bottle from her storage ring, she poured out two pills and stuffed them into their mouths. "This is my exclusive yanluo powder. If you don't have my antidote, you will die suddenly."

"Fairy, please spare my life! Fairy, please spare my life!"The two kept begging for mercy.

"It's not impossible to spare your life. After all, this money is just a worldly possession. It's nothing, but the premise is that you have to be obedient!"Yun chujiu held the sword and rubbed it against the young man's neck.

"Be obedient, be obedient. We will listen to you! What do you want us to do?"

"Do your family members know about this secret passage?"

"My family knows a little about it, but this secret passage is the foundation of our family. It has always been passed down to men and not to women. Only the father and son know the exact location of the secret passage."

"So only the two of you know the location. Then, wouldn't I be able to kill you once and for all?"Yun chujiu curled her lips. The foundation of our family? How Shameless!

“Fairy, please spare us! Fairy, please spare us! We will never dare to come in again!”The father and son were so frightened that their faces turned pale. They kept begging for mercy.

“Sigh, I am the most soft-hearted person. Listening to what you said, I am quite pitiful. However, if I let you go just like that, I can not guarantee that you will tell others about this secret. What do you think we should do?”Yun chujiu sighed and said.

“Fairy, fairy, we swear. We swear on our inner demons that we won’t tell anyone about this!”The two of them could not wait to start swearing, making the consequences of breaking the oath extremely serious.

Yun chujiu rolled her eyes. “Since you guys have sworn, we’ll let you guys off for now. Take us out First!”

“Yes! Yes!”

Yun chujiu opened their acupoints and brought the two of them to the exit. The young man found a hidden button and pressed it. A huge rock moved away.

Yun chujiu climbed up and found that it was a cave. The cave entrance was covered with rocks and vines. It was indeed very hidden.

“Come here and draw a map of this place. If you make a mistake, I will twist off your head and kick it like a ball!” Yun Chujiu said to the young man fiercely.

The young man was so scared that his hands were trembling. Not to mention drawing a map, even the lines could not be drawn straight. Yun Chujiu kicked him away and asked the middle-aged man to draw a new map.

The middle-aged man was slightly better. Although he was trembling a little, he still drew a map. Yun Chujiu looked around and found that this place was about a hundred li away from the river of forgetfulness city and less than thirty Li away from the Netherworld Palace.

“You can go now!” Yun Chujiu said lightly after she put away the map.

The father and son ran a few steps and immediately turned back. “Fairy, please give us the antidote!”

Yun Chujiu said with a smile, “Don’t worry. The Yama’s Bane will not act up immediately. You can still live for five or six days. It’s enough for you to arrange the funeral!”

The father and son were about to cry. They kneeled on the ground and begged for mercy, “Fairy, please spare my life! Fairy, please spare my life!”

“It’s not impossible for you to want the antidote, but you have to do something for me.”

“Fairy, let alone one, even a hundred is fine. Just tell me.”When they heard that they didn’t have to die, they naturally promised.

“Hurry to the river of forgetfulness city now and wait at the bell tower at the south of the city. Someone will naturally look for you. When the time comes, just listen to his instructions. I will ask him to give you the antidote,”Yun Chujiu said lightly.
