

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 1985

Empty-handed?

Everyone was even more confused. Could this fellow be trying to cheat people? !

But when Yun Chujiu revealed her thoughts, everyone was stunned!

Shopkeeper Pei was so excited that tears streamed down his face. "Miss Fang Cao, you're really a business genius! Our grocery store is saved!"

Yun chujiu smiled smugly. "This is just a small matter. Come, let's divide the work. In five days, the lottery draw will officially begin!"

Three days later, the people of Feng Li City and the nearby cities received a "Mo Ji's Lucky Draw" flyer. The gist of the Flyer was:

As long as you buy all the goods in Mo Ji's grocery store for one thousand high-grade spirit stones, you will get one lucky draw opportunity. The number of lucky draws can be accumulated, Buy More and you will get more.

One special prize, one hundred thousand high-grade spirit stones, five first-class prizes, ten thousand high-grade spirit stones. Second Prize: 10 Second Prize: 5,000 upper-grade spirit stones. Third Prize: 50 Third Prize: 1,000 upper-grade Spirit Stones.

Fourth Prize: 200 Fourth Prize: 300 upper-grade spirit stones. Fifth Prize: 500 Fifth Prize: 50 Upper-grade Spirit Stones. Last Prize: 1,000 Last Prize: 5 Upper-grade Spirit Stones.

For a moment, many people in the streets and alleys were talking about this:

"This moji grocery store is quite novel in the lottery. I've never heard of such a rewarding activity."

"What it says is quite tempting. What first prize, second prize, but can they win the lottery? It Can't be a lie, right?"

"Won't we know when we see it? Besides, even if they win the last prize, they'll get five high-grade spirit stones for nothing!"

“That makes sense. But, isn’t Mo Ji’s grocery store stupid? If they do this, won’t they lose money?”

“Who cares! If we win the lottery, if they don’t cash in, they’ll destroy his shop!”

..

Mo Xiaoting naturally heard about the huge commotion and quickly sent someone to call Yun Chujiu into the study room.

When Yun Chujiu entered, Mo Xiaoting’s expression was dark. By the time Yun Chujiu came out, Mo Xiaoting was so happy that he couldn’t close his mouth. He was proud that leaving the herb behind was the best decision he had ever made, this little girl was a once-in-a-lifetime business genius!

Mo Peng, Mo Chang and the others were gloating over Yun Chujiu’s misfortune. They felt that Yun Chujiu was throwing stones at their own feet. This BULLSH * t raffle was simply a scam. If they didn’t sell the goods, they would end up losing a lot of spirit stones, what a fool!

The Luo family members also watched coldly from the side. They felt that this raffle was simply nonsense. As a result, the Mo’s grocery store would soon close down.

Two days later, the front of the Mo's grocery store was filled with people who were watching the show. However, there were very few people who really went in to buy things, and most of them were on the fence.

In the middle of Moji's grocery store was a huge box that was guarded by a special person, after the customer had finished buying things and paid the money, the accountant would give him a ticket for the lucky draw according to the amount of money he had bought. The customer would then take the ticket and come over to the lucky draw.

The people who were watching the show craned their necks to see if anyone could win the prize.

Ten customers did not win anything in a row. The people who were watching the show immediately felt that this lucky draw was most likely a scam. Some people decided to disperse.

At this time, a hawk-nosed man holding a wooden tablet in his hand shouted in surprise, "Third-class prize! I won the third-class prize!"

Shopkeeper Pei smiled like a god of fortune, beaming as he handed over a thousand high-grade spirit stones, "Congratulations! Congratulations! This customer is really lucky!"
