

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 3442

The Fat Old Man was stunned for a moment. On second thought, it was a good thing that the scourge had left so that he would not be implicated. Otherwise, even if he reported it, he might get into trouble.

However, what about this little girl?

The fat old man lowered his head and looked at the little girl. Was this really the child that the girl had abducted?

That was not right. When that little girl came in, she was clearly alone. When did this child come in?

The Fat Old Man thought about it again. This little girl was small. Perhaps he didn't notice when she came in?

The fat old man bent down and asked little nine kindly, "Little girl, when did you come in? You call that little girl sister? Is she really your sister?"

Little Nine had an innocent and romantic look on her face. "I just came in. Sister bought me candy to eat. I like sister."

When the fat old man heard this, he thought for a while. He guessed that the smelly girl had used candy to trick this little girl. She was really wicked!

"Little Doll, where do you come from? Grandpa will send you home."

Little nine bit her finger and looked at the fat old man blankly. "My house is a very, very big yard. There are many, many rooms inside. Sob, sob, I want my mother, sob, I want my father..."

The Fat Old Man immediately felt numb!

Although he was greedy for money, when such a delicate little girl cried, it was simply heartbreaking!

Moreover, he heard little nine say that there were many, many yards in the house. That was definitely a rich family. If he sent the little girl back, he might receive a great reward.

When the fat old man thought of this, his eyes flashed with a bright light. This was a good opportunity to make a fortune!

The Fat Old Man revealed an amiable smile and comforted, "Little child, Grandpa will help you find a home. Come, Grandpa will give you candy to eat."

When Little Nine ate the candy, she immediately stopped crying and said with a smile, "Grandpa is really a good person! Grandpa will make a Fortune!"

The fat old man immediately smiled so much that he could not close his mouth. This little girl really knew how to talk.

Just as the fat old man was laughing and teasing little nine, there was a commotion outside. The Fat Old Man's heart tightened, but when he remembered that the little girl had already escaped and was dead without any evidence, the government could not do anything to him.

Therefore, he carried little nine out of the inner room.

Sure enough, there were soldiers interrogating the employees. The employees in the shop were all trained by the Fat Old Man. Moreover, if something happened to the fat old man, they would not be able to recover. Therefore, they answered very carefully and did not say anything.

The Fat Old Man saw that the leader was an acquaintance and said with a smile, "Boss Li, why are you free today? What Happened?"

The little leader nodded to the fat old man. "The higher-ups asked to search a little girl. Every house must be searched. This is a routine matter. Boss Zheng, don't mind."

"What are you talking about? We are people of Starry Night City, so we naturally have to cooperate with the government. You can search as much as you want. This is a registered customer. You can check it."

As the fat old man spoke, he handed the guest registration book to the little leader. The little leader took the book and looked curiously at the little girl behind the Fat Old Man. He asked, "Boss Zheng, is this little girl your granddaughter?"

The fat old man smiled and said, "She's the child of a distant relative. She asked me to take care of her for a few days. I'll send her back in a few days."

The little leader praised her a few times and did not ask any more questions. Then, he led the soldiers and began to search the guest room.

The Fat Old Man was still a little nervous. He did not know if that smelly girl had really left. If she had not left, he would be in big trouble!
