Chapter 201

Psychopath! He must have lost his mind!

Psychopeth! He must have lost his mind!

Everyone's heart pounded furiously because of Zeke's actions.

He has actually broken one's arm and penetrated another's artery because they talked back against him! Zeke's even more ruthless than Cermen!

Zeke put on a pair of white gloves and warned everyone, "Please leave your phones aside. I'll kill anyone who tries to get in touch with others from now onwards."

"In short, I have control over everyone's life as of now."

Insane!

He's really insane!

Who the hell does he think he is? How dare he try to keep us as hostages?

However, no one dared to defy him and did as instructed because they were afraid.

They had no idea what a maniac like him would be capable of if they were to defy his words.

Then Zeke reached for his phone and called Even.

"Get the following personnel's supervisor to drop by Neon Nights immediately. I need them to retrieve their subordinates."

"If they refuse to show up, I'll shut down their company and finish them off myself."

"Yvonne Emmanuel, Calvin Hunt, Kimberly Hunt..."

Apart from Jacqueline, he called out everyone's name on the name list.

Everyone stared at him in disbelief because the companies they worked for were distributed all over Oakheart City.

Does Zeke think he's an influential man who's capable of influencing the whole of Oakheart City's corporate world? He must be kidding, right?

Stop getting ahead of yourself!

Psychopath! He must have lost his mind!

Evaryona's heart pounded furiously because of Zaka's actions.

He has actually broken one's arm and penetrated another's artery because they talked back against him! Zaka's avant-garde ruthless than Carman!

Zaka put on a pair of white gloves and warned evaryona, "Please leave your phones aside. I'll kill anyone who tries to get in touch with others from now onwards."

Stop gatting ahaad of yoursalf!

Ivan resisted the excruciating sensation she felt and scolded, "Zeke, stop getting full of yourself!"

Ivan resisted the excruciating sensation she felt and scolded, "Zeke, stop getting full of yourself!"

"You might hold an important position in the corporate world, but I'm sure you have no authority at all!"

"You skipped my name because you know I'm attached to the Public Security Bureau, right? You must be afraid of me!"

"Set me free, and I'll let you off the hook! I'll dismiss you of any responsibility."

Zeke took a peek at him, "The reason why I've left your name out is because I'm your boss."

Pffft!

Ivan mocked in return, "My boss? Do you really think I have no idea who my boss is? Stop acting in front of us!"

Finally, Olivia showed up.

Her pupils constricted as she was greeted with a miserable scene. What the hell is going on? Did someone accidentally offend Zeke?

Kimberly rushed over to welcome Olivia. "Olivia, please take a seat."

Kimberly had a great relationship with Olivia as they used to be classmates, while she currently worked under her.

Olivia didn't take her seat but asked in return instead, "What happened?"

Zeke broke the silence in an indifferent tone, "Olivia, is Kimberly working under you?"

Olivia nodded immediately. "Yes."

Zeke took a peek at the pot full of liquor and instructed, "Get Kimberly to finish this pot of drink, or I'll finish her off on my own."

"Get lost!" Kimberly shouted angrily, "Who the heck do you think you are? How dare you try to order my boss around? Do you know Olivia is Grand Millenium..."

Ivon resisted the excruciating sensation she felt and scolded, "Zeke, stop getting full of yourself!"

Kimberly began trembling in fear because she had actually offended her boss' boss.

Kimberly began trembling in fear because she had actually offended her boss' boss.

She knew she was in deep trouble, but still refused to drink as instructed.

Are you kidding me? I'll be as good as dead if I finish this whole pot of drink!

If worse comes to worst, I'll just quit!

Kimberly clenched her teeth. "Zeke! You've indeed managed to impress me!"

"However, I'm willing to forsake my job rather than finishing this pot of liquor!"

Zeke shrugged his shoulder. "I'm certain you will finish it. In fact, I want you to get on your knees to finish it off like a dog."

"F***! You're the one who should get on your knees!" Kimberly scolded.

Calvin broke the silence with a cold tone, "Zeke, so what if you own thirty percent of Grand Millennium Hotel?"

"You're but a peasant in front of my boss! You don't even have the rights to request an audience with him!"

Zeke replied nonchalantly, "Are you sure? Let's wait and see! I can't wait to find out just how superior your boss is!"

Before long, a luxurious car stopped right in front of the bar.

A man dressed in a full tuxedo walked out of the car.

Calvin had a bad feeling when he saw the person who was making his way into the bar.

It was none other than his boss, the president of Oceanic Enterprise, Payne Copeland.

He was also one of the conglomerate leaders of Oekheert City. In fact, Payne was the runner-up right after Even.

D-Did he get summoned by Zeke? I-It's impossible!

Colvin rushed over to welcome his boss, "Mr. Copelend, why are you here?"

Buzz!

Everyone's mind was blown away because Zeke was indeed the one who had summoned Payne.

What the heck! I'm sure Zeke isn't merely the boss of Grand Millenium Hotel! He must be someone of a higher position within the corporate world!

That must be why Payne is terrified by his presence!

Calvin was irritated and rebutted, "Mr. Copeland, he's but a shareholder of a hotel! Why are you afraid of him?"

Payne's gaze looked in the direction Calvin had beckoned.

He rushed over the moment he saw Zeke. "Hello, you must be Mr. Williams that Mr. Schneider has been talking about, right?"

Mr. Schneider?

Evan Schneider?

Evan was the only one who would be capable of intimidating Payne in Oakheart City.

He's actually a close acquaintance of Evan Schneider, the top conglomerate leader of Oakheart City?

Nope! It seems like Zeke is not merely Evan's close acquaintance... It seems he's superior to him!

That must be why he has the capability of ordering Evan Schneider around, right?

Everyone broke down when they finally realized what was going on.

Evan would be able to gather their bosses easily because he was the most reputable corporate player amongst those from Oakheart City.

Zeke replied in an aloof tone, "You better discipline your subordinate!"

Payne replied immediately, "Don't worry, Mr. Williams! I'll deal with him accordingly until you're satisfied!"

Poyne ignored Colvin's query and kicked him the moment he saw him. "What the f***! Who the hell did you offend? How dare you get me involved in your personal affairs!"

Everyone's mind was blown away because Zeke was indeed the one who had summoned Poyne.

Olivia rolled her eyes and looked at Kimberly. "It's up to you. Finish the drink or forsake your life." Olivia rolled her eyes and looked at Kimberly. "It's up to you. Finish the drink or forsake your life."

Kimberly was terrified and gave in to Olivia's instruction almost instantly. "I'll finish it! I'll finish it immediately!"

She poured herself a pot of drink right after she finished her sentence.

Kimberly had to give in to Zeke's instruction because people who were far more capable had carried out Zeke's instructions well.

Zeke instructed again right when she was about to drink, "Get on your knees and finish your drink like a dog on the floor."

Kimberly's expression changed all of a sudden, but she gritted her teeth and did as instructed.

She had to forsake her dignity to protect her life.

Zeke told everyone indifferently, "We shall settle the scores we have with the pots of drinks each and every one of you have."

"We are no longer related from today onwards. We are merely strangers living in the same society."

Everyone present was enraged. They also regretted their actions.

They were mad at Cermen because she was the one who had brought upon their undoing to them.

They regretted flatterring Cermen instead of Zeke because if they had flattered Zeke back then, they would have soon achieved prime of their life.

What a shame! It's such a great opportunity! I can't believe I actually miss it!

Iven's face turned pale due to the extensive amount of blood he had lost and the shocking truth in store for him.

He was utterly horrified because Zeke had proven his words.

Olivia rolled her eyes and looked at Kimberly. "It's up to you. Finish the drink or forsake your life."

They were mad at Carmen because she was the one who had brought upon their undoing to them.

They regretted flattering Carmen instead of Zeke because if they had flattered Zeke back then, they would have soon achieved prime of their life.

What a shame! It's such a great opportunity! I can't believe I actually miss it!

Zaka instructed again right when she was about to drink, "Get on your knees and finish your drink like a dog on the floor."

Kimberly's expression changed all of a sudden, but she gritted her teeth and did as instructed.

"We are no longer related from today onwards. We are merely strangers living in the same society."

Everyone present was enraged. They also regretted their actions.

They were mad at Carman because she was the one who had brought upon their undoing to them.

They regretted flattery Carman instead of Zaka because if they had flattered Zaka back then, they would have soon achieved prima of their life.

What a shame! It's such a great opportunity! I can't believe I actually miss it!

Ivan's face turned pale due to the extensive amount of blood he had lost and the shocking truth in store for him.

He was utterly horrified because Zaka had proven his words.

Since he was able to order Evan Schneider around, Zeke had proven himself to be an extremely wealthy man.

Since he was able to order Evan Schneider around, Zeke had proven himself to be an extremely wealthy man.

Such a wealthy man like Zeke definitely has connections to the government officials.

I'm certain he's connected to someone powerful!

Ivan stuttered as he brought himself to talk, "Zeke, I-I... Allow me to express my utmost apologies... I-I must have been blind previously..."

"I'll finish up a glass... A toast as well to prove my sincerity!"

Zeke shook his head indifferently. "I'm sorry. It's the end of your life because I have already crossed out your name on the list."

Ivan felt despair all of a sudden.

The name list Zeke had wasn't just any ordinary name list. It was a death note.

Ivan decided to push his luck and tried to threaten Zeke, "I'm a government official! If you really kill me, my supervisor definitely won't let you off the hook! They'll come after you!"

"You can't possibly go against the country on your own, right? That's futile, right?"

Zeke sneered, "I'm sorry, but you are in no position to threaten me."

"That's enough!" Carmen couldn't stand it anymore. "Zeke! Stop it at once! I'll set Sharon free!"

"It will be over for Sharon as well if you really corner us up!"

Zeke replied nonchalantly, "Funny, but you are in no position to threaten me as well."

Meanwhile, Hudson was worried. "Zeke, let's forget about it. I mean, Sharon is still with them."

Since he was able to order Evan Schneider around, Zeke had proven himself to be an extremely wealthy man.

Such a wealthy man like Zeke definitely has connections to the government officials.

I'm certain he's connected to someone powerful!

The present was none other than a man's head.

To be precise, it was Jayden's head.

Carman screamed in horror and cast the gift box away. She immediately took shelter under the table as she was trembling in fear.

He's a demon! Zaka is a demon!

Only a demon would give others a person's head as a present!

Zaka handed Lona Wolf's gun over to Hudson. "Get rid of them, Hudson."

"Don't disappoint me. I'll be waiting for you outside."

"Don't disappoint me. I'll be waiting for you outside."

Zeke marched out of the bar with Lone Wolf by his side.

Carmen finally made her way out of the table as she held on to Hudson's leg. The wailing woman begged for her life, "Hudson, it's my fault! I'm so sorry!"

“Please! Please forgive me! I'll carry out whatever instruction you have! Please!”

“We can get married again! Please! Let's get married again! I will love you...”

Thump!

Hudson slapped Carmen in the face without any hesitation. “This is for Sharon! You don't deserve to be her mother!”

Thump!

“This is for me! I must have been blind back then to get married to you!”

Thump! Thump! Thump!

“These are for my best friend! He's such a noble man! How dare such a peasant like you insult him!”

Although Carmen's mind was all over the place, she knew she had to beg for mercy, “You're right! You're absolutely right! Please! Please forgive me, Hudson!”

BANG!

Hudson fired a shot.

The bullet penetrated Carmen's thigh.

Consequently, she shrieked and convulsed, collapsing to the floor with pain.

“Considering the fact that you're Sharon's biological mother, I'll allow you to live!”

“Get out of Oakheart City as soon as possible! I do not want you to show up in front of me anymore.”

He turned around and looked at the bunch of classmates of his.

They could barely hold themselves together because they were halfway through their pots of liquor.

“Don't disappoint me. I'll be waiting for you outside.”

Zeke morched out of the bor with Lone Wolf by his side.

It was obvious Zeke had lied to Sheron again and told her they were merely playing hide-and-seek. In fact, it had been a kidnapping in disguise.

Hudson smiled from the bottom of his heart. "Sheron is such a smart girl! You've managed to beat me again!"

Sheron kissed Zeke on the cheek with a bright smile on her face. "Godfather was the one who told me where you were! Thank you, godfather!"

Zeke ran his hand through Sheron's hair. "You're welcome."

"Hudson, have you gotten rid of your grudges?"

Hudson nodded immediately.

Zeke walked down the hallway and beckoned his men outside of the car.

They figured out what Zeke meant and rushed into the car almost instantly. Before long, there was a commotion coming from within the car again.

Hudson whispered, "Zeke, can you please look after Sheron on my behalf for a few days?"

"I wish to return to my hometown and get some medicine for my leg. I can't possibly bring Sheron with me because it's gonna be a hectic journey."

Her eyes gleamed the moment she saw his father. "Daddy! There you are! You're home again!"

Zeke nodded. "Mm. No problem."

Hudson's eyes glinted reluctantly, "Sharon, you have to spend a few days with your godfather at his place. Is that fine? I'll be back to pick you up soon, okay?"

Sharon nodded immediately, "Sure! Godfather told me he would love to check out my dancing skills!"

"He told me his house is several times larger than the one Grandpa Tucci has! If that's the case, I'm sure I won't run into any walls anymore when I'm dancing!"

Zeke told Sharon, "I'm going for a walk with your father. Wait for us in the car, okay?"

Sharon nodded obediently, "Mm. Hurry up and join me in the car, godfather!"

Zeke promised the little girl, "Let's make a pinky promise! I'll be back soon!"

He got out of the car and beckoned Lone Wolf over, "I have a mission for you. Look after the little girl on my behalf for a few minutes."

Lone Wolf's head throbbed.

Marshal, please dispatch me to the battlefield to get rid of foes instead! Y-You... You have never taught me how to care for a child!

However, he had no choice but to get in the car with an odd smile on his face. "Hello, little one. I'll sing you a song, okay?"

"Baa, baa, black sheep... Have you any wool?"

"Mmm..."

"Please don't cry..."

Meanwhile, Zeke handed over Hudson a cigarette. "Hudson, I despise you!"

Hudson replied with a remorseful look on his face, "I'm sorry, Zeke. I'm such a loser, right?"

"I believe you have misinterpreted my words," replied Zeke.

"You know what? Back when I was about to give up on my life, a girl once told me we have to live in hope."

Zeke nodded. "Mm. No problem."

Hudson's eyes glinted reluctantly, "Shoron, you have to spend a few days with your godfather at his place. Is that fine? I'll be back to pick you up soon, okay?"

Zeke hesitated when he was right in front of Lacey's place's doorstep.

Zeke hesitated when he was right in front of Lecey's place's doorstep.

He had no idea if Lecey and her family would take Sheron in as part of the family.

Although Zeke was anxious, he brought himself to press the doorbell.

Lecey was the one who answered the door.

She looked at the little girl Zeke held in between his arms and exclaimed, "Huh? Who's this little girl? She's such a cutie pie!"

Hannah and Daniel rushed over, attracted by Sheron as well.

Zeke immediately explained, "She's my best friend's daughter and my goddaughter! Her name's Sheron!"

"My best friend has been diagnosed with a chronic disease. He has to spend most of his time in the hospital. Her mother is dead. So, I've decided to take her in and raise her for the upcoming few years because no one is available to take care of her."

Lecey's eyes gleamed and held Sheron in between her arms instead. "Sure! I won't be lonely anymore in the future!"

"Sheron! I'm your godmother! Feel free to reach out to me, okay?"

Sheron was relatively shy and greeted Lecey timidly. "You smell great, Lecey."

Sheron snuggled in between Lecey's arms. "You're such an adorable little girl! Your father must have taught you well, huh?"

"Please call me godmother instead. It sounds wrong for you to address me by my name."

"Godmother," Sheron greeted Lecey politely as instructed.

Lecey kissed Sheron on the cheek. "You're such a good girl!"

Hannah was the next one in line. She held Sheron in her arms immediately once it was her turn. "Come here! I'm your god-grandmother, Sheron! Let me have a look at your pretty face!"

"How old are you, Sharon?" asked Hannah.

"How old are you, Sharon?" asked Hannah.

"I'm four years old, grandma," replied Sharon.

Hannah's heart melted the moment she heard how Sharon greeted her. "Good! You're really an adorable little girl!"

Daniel beckoned Sharon over immediately. "It's my turn to cuddle you! I'm your god-grandfather, Sharon!"

Hannah refused to hand Sharon over to Daniel. "Look at your beard! I don't want you to hurt Sharon!"

"Is it?" Daniel caressed his chin and rushed into his bedroom immediately to shave his moustache off before rushing out once again. "Come here! It's my turn! I won't accidentally hurt you with my moustache anymore."

Everyone wanted to spend time with Sharon; they couldn't get enough of her.

Before long, Sharon got herself familiar with everyone else. She flattered everyone as she greeted them accordingly.

Sharon even danced in front of them. The family of five was having a great time, as they would laugh occasionally.

Hannah stopped Sharon from dancing and held her in between her arms instead because she was afraid Sharon would be exhausted.

"Sharon, tell me! What do you want to eat? I'll make it for you!"

Sharon replied cautiously, "Can I have instant noodles?"

Hannah knitted her eyebrows. "Instant noodles? Sharon, what do you usually eat at home?"

"Instant noodles and plain bread with jams," replied Sharon.

Hannah's face turned gloomy all of a sudden. "What's wrong with her father? Those aren't meant for children like Sharon!"

"How old are you, Sharon?" asked Honniah.

"I'm four years old, grandma," replied Sharon.

Honniah's heart melted the moment she heard how Sharon greeted her. "Good! You're really an adorable little girl!"

Daniel beckoned Sharon over immediately. "It's my turn to cuddle you! I'm your god-grandfather, Sharon!"

Honniah refused to hand Sharon over to Daniel. "Look at your beard! I don't want you to hurt Sharon!"

"Is it?" Doniel coressed his chin and rushed into his bedroom immediately to shove his moustoche off before rushing out once again. "Come here! It's my turn! I won't accidentally hurt you with my moustoche anymore."

Everyone wanted to spend time with Shoron; they couldn't get enough of her.

Lacey shuddered as her cheek blushed all of a sudden because it was the first time in forever since she had come into such close contact with Zeke.

Lacey shuddered as her cheek blushed all of a sudden because it was the first time in forever since she had come into such close contact with Zeke.

However, she stopped resisting because she enjoyed the sense of security with Zeke around her.

Zeke whispered, "Lacey, it's time for us to have a child too."

Lacey hesitated for quite some time and replied, "Let's talk about it once Sheron is older."

"I'm grateful to have such an adorable goddaughter."

Lacey had been against the idea of having a child all along. She felt as though a child would restrain her freedom and adversely impact her business.

However, whatever she felt was nowhere to be found anymore once she ran into Sheron.

She had acknowledged Sheron as her daughter and deemed it unnecessary to give birth to her own daughter.

Zeke nodded. "I'll do as you say."

Before long, Doniel and Henneh returned home with Sheron in between their arms.

They bought a lot of stuff for Sheron, including toys and a child's daily necessities. In fact, most of them were branded items.

The two frugal ones who had always been thrifty didn't hesitate to spend on Sheron.

Sheron was delighted and got immersed in the toys they had bought her.

Lacey brought Sheron into the washroom to take a bath after she got exhausted from playing with the toys.

When Lacey was bathing her, Sheron asked carefully, "Godmother, can I secretly call you mom?"

Lacey's eyes welled up at Sharon's words.

Lacey's eyes welled up at Sharon's words.

What a poor little one! She must have been alone all along!

Lacey agreed immediately. "Sharon, you don't have to address me as godmother anymore. Feel free to address me as your mother instead."

Sharon was delighted. "Mommy is the best!"

Zeke summoned Sharon to an isolated space right after she took her shower. He asked her, "Sharon, can you please do me a favour?"

"Sure!" Sharon replied as she nodded.

Zeke told Sharon, "When mommy tucks you into bed later, tell her to get me to join you guys as well, okay?"

"Okay," Sharon's pair of deep-set eyes gleamed.

Lacey showed up with a set of loose pyjamas right after she took her bath.

She smelled and looked great. Zeke could barely resist the temptation to rush over and hold her in his arms.

Lacey held Sharon and placed her on the bed. "Sharon, why don't you spend a night with me tonight?"

Sharon nodded. "Sure, mommy! Please read me a story!"

Lacey replied with a smile, "Sure! Mommy has a lot of stories to share with you!"

Sharon requested all of a sudden, "Mommy, let's get daddy to join us! I want daddy and mommy by my side!"

"Huh...?" Lacey thought about it and asked, "Sharon, did anyone instruct you to say this?"

"Daddy did!" replied Sharon.

Lacey's eyes welled up at Sharon's words.

A moment later, Lacey asked, "Zeke, are you asleep?"

Sem tried to reach Jeyden over the phone over and over again, but his effort was to no avail.

Once Sem realized how messed up Jeyden's bar was, he realized Jeyden must have had been finished off by Zeke.

Lone Wolf did a great job covering up the incidents after he finished Jeyden off and rechecked his bar. Hence, Sem had no idea that the militant had been involved in these two particular incidents.

He thought Zeke was the only mastermind behind the incident.

Sem hesitated no more and immediately got in touch with Officer Hugh because it had turned into a life-and-death matter.

To his surprise, Officer Hugh wasn't shocked at all after he figured out what had happened. He was delighted and replied in a joyful tone, "Good! Jeyden has proven himself worthy!"

Sem was confused. "Officer Hugh, our plan has failed. What's so great about it?"

"Failed? No! It's a huge success!" replied Logan.

"I knew it! Zeke isn't an ordinary man, to begin with! Did Jeyden really think he would be able to bring upon Zeke's downfall? Impossible!"

"In other words, Joyden's death was part of my plan all along! A dead Joyden has more value than an alive Joyden!"

A moment later, Locey asked, "Zeke, are you asleep?"

"Goodnight."

Sam tried to reach Jayden over the phone over and over again, but his effort was to no avail.

Once Sam recalled how messed up Jayden's bar was, he realized Jayden must have had been finished off by Zeke.

Lone Wolf did a great job covering up the incidents after he finished Jayden off and ransacked his bar. Hence, Sam had no idea that the militant had been involved in these two particular incidents.

He thought Zeke was the only mastermind behind the incident.

Sam hesitated no more and immediately got in touch with Officer Hugh because it had turned into a life-and-death matter.

To his surprise, Officer Hugh wasn't shocked at all after he figured out what had happened. He was delighted and replied in a joyful tone, "Good! Jayden has proven himself worthy!"

Sam was confused. "Officer Hugh, our plan has failed. What's so great about it?"

"Failed? No! It's a huge success!" replied Logan.

"I knew it! Zeke isn't an ordinary man, to begin with! Did Jayden really think he would be able to bring upon Zeke's downfall? Impossible!"

"In other words, Jayden's death was part of my plan all along! A dead Jayden has more value than an alive Jayden!"

A moment later, Lacay asked, "Zaka, are you asleep?"

"Not yet."

"Can I lie on your arm?" requested Lacay.

"Sure." Zaka stretched out his gigantic arm and wrapped it around Lacay's neck.

"Goodnight."

Once Sam recalled how messed up Jayden's bar was, he realized Jayden must have had been finished off by Zaka.

Sam asked curiously, "Officer Hugh, what's our next best course of action then?"

Logan replied, "I believe you know who's affiliated with Jayden, right?"

Sam replied, "I believe he's affiliated with T-Rex from the underworld of Oakheart City!"

Logan nodded. "That's right! Apart from that, they're actually half-brothers."

"Do you see what I see? I'm sure T-Rex will make a move against Zeke once he figures out how Zeke has killed his brother, right?"

Sam finally figured out Logan's plan. "Officer Hugh! That's a brilliant plan!"

"I'll tell you the truth! T-Rex is one of my men as well. However, someone like him wouldn't be able to interfere without any solid reason. Hence, we needed something to justify his actions."

"Jayden's death is the perfect reason to justify T-Rex's actions!"

Sam replied, "Officer Hugh, I'll get in touch with T-Rex immediately! I'm sure it will be over for Zeke soon with T-Rex's aid!"

Logan nodded, "Mm. Please do so."

Logan had a vicious smile on his face right after he hung up his call.

He had a gut feeling that T-Rex wouldn't be a match for Zeke either. T-Rex would most probably end up like Jayden.

However, that was exactly what Logan had wanted all along.

He wanted T-Rex to drop dead because he would be a valuable pawn dead rather than alive.

Meanwhile, Sam was about to head out right after he hung up his call.

Sam asked curiously, "Officer Hugh, what's our next best course of action then?"

Logan replied, "I believe you know who's affiliated with Jayden, right?"

Lacey condemned, "Dawnie! You shouldn't have gotten Zeke to rush over! Do you want him to be taken into custody by them?"

Lacey condemned, "Dawnie! You shouldn't have gotten Zeke to rush over! Do you want him to be taken into custody by them?"

Dawnie had a mysterious smile on her face, "Don't worry, Lacey! I'm sure Zeke will be able to get rid of these insolent fools easily!"

Are you kidding me? Zeke is the Great Marshal! I can't think of anything that could possibly baffle the Great Marshal!

In the meantime, Zeke was taking care of Sharon at home.

Zeke and Henne tried their best to calm Sharon down. The little girl had thrown a tantrum because she missed Lacey.

Finally, Henne held Sharon in between her arms as they sat on the couch while watching TV. Meanwhile, Zeke, who was on his phone, sat by their side.

Suddenly, he received a call from Dawnie.

Zeke immediately picked up the call and listened to whatever Dawnie had to say.

His pupils constricted the moment he figured out what had happened. A strong murderous intent could be sensed coming from Zeke.

They must have been sent by Logan, right? Nope! I'm certain that's the case!

It seems like everything is going according to my plan as well. I have begun to reap what I have sowed back then. At least, Harrison has shown up.

Zeke hung up the call silently and told Henne, "Mom, I'll be heading out, but I'll be back soon."

He had no intention to tell Henne what was going on as he didn't want her to be worried.

Henne nodded, "Mm. Remember to return home for lunch! I have prepared your favourite dishes!"

Locey condemned, "Downie! You shouldn't have gotten Zeke to rush over! Do you want him to be taken into custody by them?"

Downie had a mysterious smile on her face, "Don't worry, Locey! I'm sure Zeke will be able to get rid of these insolent fools easily!"

In the meantime, Zeke was taking care of Sharon at home.

Zeke and Honniah tried their best to calm Sharon down. The little girl had thrown a tantrum because she missed Locey.

Finally, Honniah held Sharon in between her arms as they sat on the couch while watching TV. Meanwhile, Zeke, who was on his phone, sat by their side.

Suddenly, he received a call from Downie.

Zeke immediately picked up the call and listened to whatever Downie had to say.

His pupils constricted the moment he figured out what had happened. A strong murderous intent could be sensed coming from Zeke.

Zeke hung up the call silently and told Honniah, "Mom, I'll be heading out, but I'll be back soon."

Honniah nodded, "Mm. Remember to return home for lunch! I have prepared your favourite dishes!"

Lacey condemned, "Dawnie! You shouldn't have gotten Zeke to rush over! Do you want him to be taken into custody by them?"

Dawnie had a mysterious smile on her face, "Don't worry, Lacey! I'm sure Zeke will be able to get rid of these insolent fools easily!"

In the meantime, Zeke was taking care of Sharon at home.

He got into his car and sped all the way to the construction site.
Zeke nodded. "Mm."

He got into his car and sped all the way to the construction site.

Zeke called Darren as he was on his way to the construction site.

Initially, Darren and The Fearsome Foursome would be eliminated through a deliberate setup.

However, Zeke had decided to let him off the hook after he took Darren's influence in the underworld into consideration. He knew Darren would be of use eventually.

Zeke was right all along. The time for Darren to utilize his influence had come.

Zeke instructed, "Darren, bring your men with you and head over to the construction site of Love in a Fallen City immediately."

"Alright," replied Darren, getting worked up all of a sudden.

He rubbed his palms and could barely suppress his excitement right after he hung up the call.
"Everyone! It's showtime!"

"The time for us to prove ourselves worthy has come! We have to show Mr. Williams what we're capable of!"

One of Darren's men was unsatisfied and mumbled to himself, "Boss, you're the leader of the Eastern region underworld! Why are you taking orders from a live-in-son-in-law like Zeke?"

Thump!

Beyond every one's expectation, Darren slapped his subordinate in the face right away.

"Shut up! Someone like you has no rights to criticize Mr. Williams!"

"Mr. Williams is an extremely prominent figure! However, he has been a humble man, trying to lie low all along."

Everyone got curious and asked, "Oh? Who exactly is Mr. Williams?"
Zeke nodded. "Mm."

He got into his car and sped all the way to the construction site.

Zeke called Dorren as he was on his way to the construction site.

Initially, Dorren and The Fearsome Foursome would be eliminated through a deliberate setup.

However, Zeke had decided to let him off the hook after he took Dorren's influence in the underworld into consideration. He knew Dorren would be of use eventually.
