It was Darren and his men. They rushed out of the car and made their way to Zeke's side. "Mr. Williams, who's the target?"

Darren showed up in a domineering manner and asked Zeke who should they beat up immediately.

Harrison burst into laughter the moment he saw Darren. "I thought Zeke had gotten someone formidable. It turns out it's but a bunch of defeated foes of mine. "

"What's wrong, Zeke? Is that all you have? These several wimps are your trump card?"

Harrison and his team of elites were indeed a capable bunch, but they couldn't possibly withstand such insane moves from Darren and his men.

Harrison and his team of elites were indeed a capable bunch, but they couldn't possibly withstand such insane moves from Darren and his men.

Before long, Harrison's men were etched all over their crotch erees. Some of his men's flesh was bitten off by Darren and his men.

Meanwhile, Darren and his men were in a miserable state as well. Blood was all over their faces as they had been severely injured because of the fight.

It was a chaotic scene, but Derren and his men refused to give in. They insisted on attacking their foes instead of defending themselves.

The aggressive and crazy bunch intimidated Harrison and his team of elites.

They were terrified deep down and thought to themselves. F***! They're a bunch who are willing to forsake their lives! Menies! They must have lost their minds!

Derren's men managed to turn the tide of the battle.

However, things were on the exact opposite for Derren and Harrison.

After all, Harrison used to be part of the special force. Derren definitely wouldn't be a match for Harrison in terms of physical condition, as the latter had undergone all sorts of training back in the day.

Harrison managed to outmatch Derren since the beginning of the fight. Derren could barely return the favour and defend himself.

Halfway through the match, Derren could barely see properly as he had been beaten up to the pulp.

In the end, Harrison dealt the decisive blow with everything he had and launched a knife-hand strike at Derren's head.

Suddenly, Derren felt a throbbing sensation as he slowly lost consciousness and fell to the ground.

My subordinates did a splendid job! What about me? Is this the end for me?

My subordinates did a splendid job! What about me? Is this the end for me?

Have I been defeated? The leader of the winning party has actually been defeated?

Have I been defeated? The leader of the winning party has actually been defeated?

No! That can't be!

Darren bit his tongue with all his might to remain conscious through the excruciating sensation he felt.

He grabbed a handful of soil and cast it in the direction of Harrison.

Darren managed to divert Harrison's attention. Hence, he made use of the opportunity and knocked on his crotch area with all his might, using his head.

Consequently, Harrison fell to the ground. He shrieked hysterically and held himself in the crotch area.

Darren took the opportunity and pounced on Harrison. He grabbed his hair and slapped him consecutively.

Harrison, who was infuriated, tried to choke Darren as well. "Damn it! You shameless man! Have you no shame at all?"

The battle had come to an end. The outcome was obvious.

Harrison's team of elites had been beaten up to a pulp. They were all passed out as a result of the fight.

Meanwhile, although Darren's men held their heads high. They had actually sustained their grave injuries as compared to their foes.

However, things were different for Darren and Harrison as they were in a deadlock. They couldn't outmatch one another no matter what.

Zeke instructed with a callous tone, "Darren, move away from Harrison. I'll show you how to fight."

"Harrison, join me for a sparring session."

Harrison and Darren finally moved away from one another.

Harrison got up on his own and reprimanded angrily, "F***! Do you really consider yourself a man? All you have up your sleeve is but dirty tricks!"

"Zeke, come at me fair and square! Don't disappoint me!"

"Stop getting ahead of yourself!" Harrison yelled and rushed towards Zeke.

Zeke finally made a move when Harrison sprinted about a meter away from him.

Zeke knitted his eyebrows when he took a peek at the man with suntanned skin.

Why the hell is this jerk here?

Dawn caressed Zeke's sturdy arms with a smile on her face. "Zeke, you're awesome! Why don't you teach me some martial arts?"

Zeke replied, "What exactly does a lady like you wish to achieve by picking up martial arts? Aren't you afraid you'll intimidate other men?"

"Not really! I'll spend the rest of my life taking care of your children if that's the case!" replied Dawn.

Zeke was irritated and instructed, "Hurry up and return to the office already! I believe you have to work as well, right?"

Dawn insisted, "Nope! Not unless you promise me to teach me some martial arts!"

Zeke ran out of options and decided to brush her off. "Fine! I'll teach you sometime in the future!"

"Thanks, Zeke!" Dawn finally took her leave.

Zeke took a peek at the man with suntanned skin. "Follow me."

He immediately followed Zeke as instructed.

They walked over to an isolated spot. Zeke reached for a cigarette while the man with suntanned skin helped him to light the cigarette using the lighter he had with him.

"Zeke! I'm here to join you!"

Zeke scolded him, "Sole Wolf! Why are you here? You should be on duty in the Southern region, aren't you?"

Sole Wolf replied, "Lone Wolf has told me you're currently going after a person with the name of Logan Hugh?"

"I used to work for the Militant Intel Department. I can help you investigate him!"

Zeke knitted his eyebrows when he took a peek at the man with suntanned skin.

Zeke replied, "What exactly does a lady like you wish to achieve by picking up mortal arts? Aren't you afraid you'll intimidate other men?"

"Fine! You get to stay! I'll have you to be stationed at the construction site."

Sole Wolf pursed his lips as he was unsatisfied. "Zeke! Don't you think that's inappropriate? I mean, I'm a general who has been reigning over the Northern region all along."

Zeke replied, "Shut up! The Great Marshal is but an executive-level employee! Have you heard any complaints coming from me?"

Sole Wolf remained silent when he registered Zeke's words.

Zeke finally returned to the construction site with Sole Wolf. Harrison's men, who were on their knees, greeted them.

"Mr. Williams! Please allow us to follow you!"

"We hereby pledge our allegiance to you! We will do anything for you from today onwards!"

"All we ask in return is for you to teach us that great skill of yours! We will be glad as long as we get to achieve ten percent of your overall capability!"

Obviously, they were charmed by the allmighty Great Marshal.

Zeke nodded and agreed to take them in because he was in desperate need of manpower. "Sure! You guys get to stay behind."

Everyone bowed and expressed their gratitude.

Zeke told Derren, "Listen to Sole Wolf's instruction from today onwards. He will be the one guiding you guys."

Everyone took a peek at Lone Wolf. Obviously, they refused to acknowledge him because he seemed like an ordinary peasant.

Seriously? What can a peasant like him do? Is he really capable of guiding us?

Zeke saw the expression they had on their faces and knew they were unsatisfied. "You guys should voice out your opinion if you're not satisfied with the arrangement I have in store."

Seriously? What can a peasant like him do? Is he really capable of guiding us?

Zeke saw the expression they had on their faces and knew they were unsatisfied. "You guys should voice out your opinion if you're not satisfied with the arrangement I have in store."

"Fina! You gat to stay! I'll hava you to ba stationad at tha construction sita."

Sola Wolf pursad his lips as ha was unsatisfiad. "Zaka! Don't you think that's inappropriata? I maan, I'm a ganaral who has baan rainging ovar tha Northarn ragion all along."

Zaka rapliad, "Shut up! Tha Graat Marshal is but an axacutiva-laval amployaa! Hava you haard any complains coming from ma?"

Sola Wolf remainad silant whan ha ragistarad Zaka's words.

Zaka finally raturad to tha construction sida with Sola Wolf. Harrison's man, who wara on thair knaas, graatad tham.

"Mr. Williams! Plaasa allow us to follow you!"

"Wa haraby pladga our allagianca to you! Wa will do anything for you from today onwards!"

"All wa ask in raturan is for you to taach us that graat skill of yours! Wa will ba glad as long as wa gat to achiava tan parcant of your ovarall capability!"

Evaryona bowad and axprassad thair gratituda.

Zaka told Darran, "Listen to Sole Wolf's instruction from today onwards. He will be the one guiding you guys."

Everyone took a look at Sole Wolf. Obviously, they refused to acknowledge him because he seemed like an ordinary peasant.

Seriously? What can a peasant like him do? Is he really capable of guiding us?

Zaka saw the expression they had on their faces and knew they were unsatisfied. "You guys should voice out your opinion if you're not satisfied with the arrangement I have in store."

"It's the survival of the fittest! Feel free to challenge him! I'll take the ones who manage to withstand three hits from him as my disciple."

"It's the survival of the fittest! Feel free to challenge him! I'll take the ones who manage to withstand three hits from him as my disciple."

Everyone's eyes gleamed all of a sudden.

Mr. Williams's disciple? This is such a great opportunity!

All it takes is to withstand three hits from Sole Wolf...

Everyone was tempted and decided to give it a try.

Darren bowed courteously. "Sole Wolf... I beg your pardon."

Sole Wolf replied with a wry smile on his face, "Erm... Taking on you guys one on one is a waste of time. Everyone, please come at me together."

What? He's asking all of us to attack him collectively?

What an arrogant man!

Everyone got worked up all of a sudden, as they couldn't wait to teach Sole Wolf a lesson.

Sole Wolf warned everyone, "Please show me some mercy, okay? I mean, we are of the same party now. Let's not cause unnecessary bloodshed!"

One of them got full of himself and replied, "Don't worry, Sole Wolf! We will definitely show you some mercy!"

Sole Wolf nodded. "That sounds pretty reassuring!"

He reached for the steel pipe within his reach nonchalantly as soon as he finished his sentence. "Come on!"

Creak!

Everyone was stupefied and stared at the steel pipe in disbelief.

That steel pipe had been sealed by cement in the wall.

However, Sole Wolf had managed to remove it by force easily. He had penetrated the cement walls with ease.

What the heck! He's as strong as Mr. Williams in terms of strength!

It seems like Mr. Williams is surrounded by all sorts of freaks, huh?

Although Harrison wasn't dead yet, he was on the brink of death.

Although Harrison wasn't dead yet, he was on the brink of death.

T-Rex's heart wrenched when he saw how pathetic Harrison was.

He couldn't wait to figure out the truth and asked, "Harrison, how many people did it take to beat you up to such a pathetic condition?"

Harrison, who was on the brink of death, replied, "One person... One move..."

"What!" T-Rex gasped in shock because he knew what Harrison was capable of.

At the very least, Harrison had always been on par with T-Rex in terms of capability.

However, all it took to render Harrison handicapped was one move by one person. T-Rex couldn't figure out how insanely strong his foe must have been.

Harrison asked, "What should we... do?"

T-Rex frowned and lit a cigarette.

He heaved a long sigh after quite some time. "We'll definitely seek vengeance, but not for the time being."

"We have to figure out what he's capable of as of now."

Harrison nodded in return because he had no courage to get in Zeke's way anymore.

It was such a horrible experience!

...

Logan called Sam that night.

"Sam, how are things on T-Rex's end?"

Sam replied, "It's pathetic. T-Rex's first attempt ended miserably."

"I've called him and tried to figure out what he would be up to next. However, he told me he would stay still for the time being."

Logan grunted and replied, "Hmph! What an unmotivated bunch!"

"It seems like we have to give him the push he needs!"

Logan sneered, "T-Rex's security company is his mainstay."

"If his company is set on fire, who do you think will be the first person to cross his mind?"

Sam replied almost instantly, "Zeke! Without a doubt!"

Logan nodded, "That's right! If his fortress is destroyed by his opponent, I'm sure he will give everything he has to seek vengeance, right?"

Sam smiled and replied, "Officer Hugh! That's a brilliant plan!"

"Don't worry! I'll get it done immediately!"

...

It was three o'clock in the morning. Jurassic Security Holdings, the one and only security services provider in Oakheart City, was set on fire.

The intense fire illuminated the city.

It had been going on for five consecutive hours until dawn before the fire was put out.

The twenty-story building had turned into a pile of rubbles by then.

Thankfully, the fire had occurred in the middle of the night while the building was completely isolated. Hence, no one was injured.

However, T-Rex sustained a serious financial blow due to the fire. It had caused him a loss of at least a hundred million.

The fire turned into a viral issue. It took Oakheart City by storm as all media covered the particular news.

T-Rex stood right in front of the pile of rubbles. His veins on his face were bulging as he gritted his teeth with all his might.

This is too much! Zeke! You shouldn't have pushed your luck!

Som asked in return, "Officer Hugh, whot do you hove in mind? Whot should we do?"

Logon sneered, "T-Rex's security compony is his moinstoy."

"If his compony is set on fire, who do you think will be the first person to cross his mind?"

Zeke's friend is an idiot, isn't he? How's that good news?

Lacey turned to Zeke and begged, "Zeke, let's call the police. They won't dare touch us if the police are here."

"Don't worry," Zeke comforted. "I'll handle this.

"How are we supposed to defend ourselves with only 20 people!" Lacey huffed in agitation.

"If Mr. Williams says we're fine, we'll be fine!" Sole Wolf assured. "Oh, right, Ms. Hinton, can I ask you for a favour?"

"What's is it?"

"Can you film me fighting later? It'll be a memorable scene!"

Lacey was hindered speechless.

Are all Zeke's friends like this?

Lacey was worried Sole Wolf would act recklessly. If a fight really broke out, he would surely suffer a loss. "Sole Wolf, you better listen to Zeke's order later. Don't act on your own."

"Don't worry. I owe my life to Mr. Williams. I'll do anything he asks me to," Sole Wolf laughed as he waved his hand. "I'll go warm up first."

Zeke asked Lacey to wait upstairs and warned her not to leave the building before he left with Darren.

As soon as Zeke was back down on the ground floor, his phone wouldn't stop ringing.

Zeke's friend is on idiot, isn't he? How's thot good news?

"Fine... Call the police and tell them to come a little later," Zeke said.

"Fine... Call the police and tell them to come a little later," Zeke said.

"Okay!"

When Zeke went through the door, T-Rex was already waiting for him.

300 men stood in front of Zeke, eager for bloodshed.

A crowd had already gathered around the mill as they wondered what was going on. Being able to witness 300 people gathering for a fight was a once-in-a-lifetime chance.

"Williams! Get the f**k out here!" T-Rex yelled. "Don't be a pussy!"

"You are looking for me?" Zeke asked.

"Come on, let's start fighting!" Sole Wolf said excitedly.

"Shut up!" Zeke berated Sole Wolf.

"Zeke Williams! F**k you! You're the one who burned down my company, aren't you?" T-Rex scolded.

"No, that wasn't me," Zeke replied.

"Hey! How dare you curse Mr. Williams? Do you want to die?" Sole Wolf roared and turned to Zeke.

"Let me have a go at him!"

"Shut up!" Zeke scolded Sole Wolf once again.

"Yeah, right! Like hell, I'll believe you!" T-Rex snorted. "I have enough proof to show that you're the one who set the fire! Either you pay for the damages or I'll burn this place down!"

"Fine... Call the police and tell them to come a little later," Zeke said.

“Okay!”

When Zaka went through the door, T-Rax was already waiting for him.

300 men stood in front of Zaka, eager for bloodshed.

A crowd had already gathered around the mill as they wondered what was going on. Being able to witness 300 people gathering for a fight was a once-in-a-lifetime chance.

“Williams! Get the f**k out here!” T-Rax yelled. “Don’t be a pussy!”

“You are looking for me?” Zaka asked.

“Come on, let’s start fighting!” Sola Wolf said excitedly.

“Shut up!” Zaka barked at Sola Wolf.

“Zaka Williams! F**k you! You’re the one who burned down my company, aren’t you?” T-Rax scolded.

“No, that wasn’t me,” Zaka replied.

“Aren’t you the one who’s supposed to pay me for the damage you made yesterday?” Zeke refuted.

“Please... I can’t hold it in any longer...” Sola Wolf begged.

“Shut up!”

“F**k! It looks like we’re doing this the hard way!” T-Rex cursed. “Fine! I’ll make sure to bring you down to your knees today! Take them down!”

All 300 men instantly drew their weapons consisting of bats, pipes, and more. The sound of their weapons clashing with each other was terrifying.

Zeke looked at the men Darren had brought with him. “Protect the office. No one is allowed to enter there!”

As for Darren’s men, they were all terrified. It was normal for them to feel that way since they had to fight against 300 people.

Despite their fear, they still followed Zeke’s order because they believed in him.

The men surrounded the office to protect it.

“What am I supposed to do then?” Sola Wolf asked, unable to hold his bloodlust in any longer.

"Aren't you the one who's supposed to pay me for the damage you made yesterday?" Zeke refuted.

"Please... I can't hold it in any longer..." Sole Wolf begged.

"Shut up!"

Finally, one of Darren's men was knocked down.

Finally, one of Darren's men was knocked down.

Zeke turned to smile at Sole Wolf. "They took your friend down. Aren't you going to take revenge for him?"

"Wait... Can I fight now?" Sole Wolf beamed.

Zeke nodded.

"You bastards! How dare you hurt my friends!" Sole Wolf roared. He then leapt off the lion statue next to him and charged towards T-Rex's men.

It was as if a tiger has leapt towards his prey.

Zeke smiled. He knew for a battle-crazed person like Sole Wolf, he had to make him hold his bloodlusts in until it couldn't be suppressed anymore.

That was the best way to make full use of Sole Wolf's strength.

As soon as Sole Wolf landed, he bent his body and extended his arms before charging forward. Anyone who stood in his way was knocked down instantly.

"Amazing!" Darren exclaimed. "Take their leader down first!"

"Leader my ass!" Sole Wolf scolded. He was against the idea because once he took T-Rex down, the enemy would've surrendered. That meant he wouldn't be able to fight any longer.

All types of bats and pipes were waved at Sole Wolf, but he chose not to evade it.

Finally, one of Dorren's men was knocked down.

Zeke turned to smile at Sole Wolf. "They took your friend down. Aren't you going to take revenge for him?"

Finally, one of Darren's man was knocked down.

Zeke turned to smile at Sole Wolf. "They took your friend down. Aren't you going to take revenge for him?"

Sole Wolf's skin was as hard as steel. He would feel pain from the attacks, but they wouldn't hurt him.

There was one problem with Sole Wolf, the more it hurt, the more excited he would become.

Sole Wolf snatched a pipe away and waved it at T-Rex's men. Anyone who was hit by the pipe was taken out in one hit.

It was as if Sole Wolf was a chainsaw; humans dropped one by one wherever he went.

The people who had gathered outside could not see what was going on in the middle of the fight. The only thing they could see was people falling one by one, which made them curious about what was happening.

Zeke remained still beside Darren's people. Any opponent who managed to approach him was taken care of instantly.

In just a few minutes, most of T-Rex's men were lying on the floor.

Some of the timid ones who had been standing in the back were terrified. They quickly turned around as they shouted, "Let me out!"

The mill turned into a slaughterhouse as Sole Wolf ran amok, taking anyone down in his way. Darren and his men guarded the door while Zeke remained as their last line of defence.

The people who had gathered outside could not see what was going on in the middle of the fight. The only thing they could see was people falling one by one, which made them curious about what was happening.

Zeke remained still beside Darren's people. Any opponent who managed to approach him was taken care of instantly.

In just a few minutes, most of T-rex's men were lying on the floor.

Some of the timid ones who had been standing in the back were terrified. They quickly turned around as they shouted, "Let me out!"

The mill turned into a slaughterhouse as Sole Wolf ran amok, taking anyone down in his way. Darren and his men guarded the door while Zeke remained as their last line of defence.

Sole Wolf's skin was as hard as steel. He would feel pain from the attacks, but they wouldn't hurt him.

There was one problem with Sole Wolf, the more it hurt, the more excited he would become.

Sole Wolf snatched the pipe away and waved it at T-Rex's men. Anyone who was hit by the pipe was taken out in one hit.

It was as if Sole Wolf was a chainsaw; humans dropped one by one wherever he went.

Despite people blocking his way, Sole Wolf did not raise his fists against them. Instead, he simply charged through them.

Despite people blocking his way, Sole Wolf did not raise his fists against them. Instead, he simply charged through them.

The people were pushed away as if a battering ram had just passed through them.

Sole Wolf easily cleared through the people; he showed no signs of slowing down.

T-Rex's people couldn't believe what they'd just experienced. They weren't qualified to stop Sole Wolf.

T-Rex had soon made it to his car.

Sole Wolf punched his fist through the car's window. Within seconds, he pulled T-Rex out of his car through the window.

T-Rex was completely terrified by then.

At first, he thought the only trouble he would have was dealing with Zeke, but he'd never expected another monster to appear as well.

T-Rex began to wonder exactly what kind of enemy he has made.

T-Rex tried to fight back, but Sole Wolf landed a punch on T-Rex's head, and the latter passed out instantly.

Sole Wolf then dragged T-Rex by his leg and walked back to Zeke.

Everyone made way for Sole Wolf. Not a single soul dared to stop him.

"You're amazing!" Darren exclaimed at Sole Wolf's prowess.

"Amazing my ass! This isn't even enough for a warmup!" Sole Wolf cursed.

Darren couldn't believe his ears as Sole Wolf had almost single-handedly taken down 300 people. If that was just a warm-up, he couldn't imagine what would happen if Sole Wolf were to get serious.

The people who had gathered to watch were left with their jaws dropped. Less than 30 people had just defeated more than 300 men.

It was a feat even movies couldn't show.

In the people's eyes, the black fighter was just like a harvesting machine, taking down anything in his way.

Sole Wolf dragged T-Rex to Zeke's side and sat on him. "How should we deal with him?"

T-Rex stared at Zeke with fear in his eyes. "W-who the hell are you guys?"

There was no way a normal citizen had such destructive power.

It was something only the best of the special forces could have.

Could it be... They're military soldiers? A thought flashed through T-Rex's mind.

"We're the owners of this land," Zeke smiled. "You have trespassed into my territory and injured my men. How should we settle this?"

T-Rex took a deep breath and argued, "You also burned my building and injured 300 of my men... Let's call it even..."

It was clear to see why T-Rex refused to sign the contract.

It was clear to see why T-Rex refused to sign the contract.

"Well, we aren't in a hurry anyway. You'll sign this one way or another," Zeke smiled.

Police Sirens could be heard not long after.

A dozen police cars surrounded the factory.

All of T-Rex's men were down on the ground with their hands up. Since there were more police than them, there was no way for them to escape.

"T-Rex!" the police captain roared. "You're under arrest for assault and disturbing the order. Please come with us!"

"Wait! Why am I the one being taken away? My men were all injured by Zeke Williams!" T-Rex cried.

The captain looked around and couldn't hold in his laughter. Most of the people that were lying on the ground were T-Rex's men.

As for the people aligned with Zeke, almost none of them were hurt.

It was an interesting scene to watch as no more than 30 people had defeated more than 300 people.

There was no way the captain would apprehend Zeke as he had just received a call from Colonel Lone Wolf.

"What? You should be ashamed of how weak you and your men are," the captain snorted. "You guys were the ones who came here to make a scene and got defeated by them. Now you want the law to protect you? Seriously, what's your point in even coming here? To pay more medical bills?"
