

CHAPTER 40

LILY

Wow well breakfast was definitely...eventful

Donny stood there tired looking, but they soon widened when his eyes flashed with recognition.

"Dylan? Eudora? Kurt?"

Eudora screams as she stood up, "Oh My lil baby!" She went and threw herself at Donny. He caught as a smile formed on his lips.

She stood back on the ground and grabbed his cheeks and squeezed them, "You look SO much like a man now! Oh my goodness." Her eyes watered like a tearful and proud mother.

Donny leans down and kisses Eudora on the cheek, "It's good to see your, Eudora."

She smiles, "I'm so happy to see you too, DonDon."

Donny nods at Eudora's brother, "Kurt. Good to see ya."

Kurt blew him and kiss, "You too sugar."

Donny's eyes travelled throughout the room and they landed on Dylan, "What are you doing here exactly?" He said with a tinge of malice.

Dylan smiles, "Good to see you too, old friend. How's Anna?"

Donny roles his eyes, "Why would you wanna know? You don't care."

Dylan smirks, "She's my own flesh and blood, how could I not care?"

Donny sits at the table, "You haven't visited her in years. She thinks you're still dead."

Dylan shrugs, "I might as well be."

"Wait a second," I interrupted, "How is there a connection between Dylan and your former love, Anna?" I asked Donny.

Donny glared at Dylan and said, "Dylan is Anna's brother."

My brows raised in shock but then soon pulled together in confusion, "But how are you-"

"Young?" Dylan finished my sentence. He laughs, "Anna and I were twins, ya see. Our family was no normal family. Even among other Divinitians, we were rare."

I frowned, "Divinitians?"

Dylan sits forward, "You know the Divinitians?"

"No? What is it?"

"Like all of the di erent kinds of magic people there are?" Dylan told me as if I had already known.

I stayed silent which only confirmed my confusion to Dylan, "Do you know the Metamorphians?" He asks.

I shook my head, "No. What are these?"

Dylan laughs, "That's quite funny considering you're fucking mated to one." He raises his arms and shouts, "Does this girl know nothing of Arcanic races here?"

Zeus interfere, "She isn't Arcanus Born. She's a werewolf from the human world. She doesn't know anything of Arcanic history."

Dylan sighs and then explains, "Arcanus isn't just all supernaturals in one realm. There is still categories of people, ya followin love?"

I nodded my head.

"Okay," Dylan continues, "In the human world there are di erent people from di erent parts of earth, yes? There are Asians, Europeans, westerners, Africans etc. But within those places are also di erent people. Where there are Asians, there isn't just one type of Asian. There is Japan, China, Korea, Philippines, Vietnam, Cambodia etc. There a lot of di erent types of Asians. That is the same for us."

My mind was slowly wrapping around the idea, "So like there's di erent subcategories within the categories of The Arcanic people?"

Dylan stared at me for a moment and then shook his head, "Don't use big words while I'm high. It doesn't settle well with me."

STORY CONTINUES BELOW

I roll my eyes, "Continue then."

And he does, "Anyways. Where were we?...oh ASIANS! Yea of course. It is the same for us. There are magical people but there isn't just one type of magical person. There are witches, wizards, Warlocks, Necromancers, elemental witchcra etc. Same goes for Werewolves, there isn't just one type of shape shi er. There are people who can turn into di erent types of big cats. They can have shi into any person. There are some that can even shape into multiple living creatures."

"So Divination is the-"

"It is the Magical people sector, I guess." He said while taking another drag of his cigarette.

Someone began to clap. I turn around and saw Sozin leaning against the wall, "I can't believe you gave a lecture while high...and it actually sounded legit."

Dylan rolls his eyes, "It shouldn't be surprisin to ya. And I can't believe you're talking while sober."

Sozin's eyes widen and he kicks o the wall, "Dylan's right! Why am I still sober right now? Where the hell is my damn alcohol?! I haven't had any today!"

"It's 6:30 AM, Sozin." I said to him.

He looks still confused as he stared at me, "And your point is?"

I roll my eyes.

Zeus steps forward, "Okay everyone just calm down and sit at the table."

Sozin said, "How do you expect us to be calm in a time like this?"

"By shutting the fuck up." Zeus growls.

Sozin becomes silent as he rolls his eyes when sitting at the table.

Zeus sits at the head of the table. He turns to me and and nods his head toward the chair beside him. I quietly come and sit down and Zeus instantly grabs my hand and holds it tight.

Sozin smirks, "So I'm guessing things are resolved between you two."

"Actually-" but I was soon cut o my Zeus

"It's actually none of your business. And that's not the focus of this right now. Nikolai is coming here."

That just sucked the joy and light right out of everyone's faces. They all became serious and were listening intently.

"He will come...and he's gonna come hard. He's not coming just to kill everyone...he's coming to win and that means to have all the power he could ever want."

"Looks like you're gonna need some help."

A voice echoed out from the door. I turn and my spirits were on high when I saw my cousin, Xavier.

He steps in with my other cousins, Kieth and Milo.

Zeus stands and said in a low voice, "Why have you come?"

Xavier's eyes flicker to me for a moment before staring at Zeus, "Because you took care of our Lily. For that I will fight. I've brought my army. My father is bringing the other half tomorrow."

I frowned and shook my head, "No! They shouldn't come. They could be killed."

Xavier winks at me, "Have a little faith, Lil. There's a reason why we're the best of the best."

Zeus nods his head, "Thank you. I do not like having help in most situations. But considering the type of predicament we are in...I am grateful."

Xavier bows his head in respect.

Zeus turns to Sozin, "Lead Xavier's army to the camping grounds, south of our territory where the rest of our army is. Inform them of the changes"

Sozin goes and does as Zeus said.

"I have a question." I said. Everyone stopped what they're doing and turned to me, "Could Demora help us somehow?"

Zeus clinches his jaw, "No," he said through his teeth, "She can not interfere with anything that may involve the curse. Besides she's o in La La Land right now doing who knows what."

I rubbed my eyes as I felt the stress creeping in. I stood back and leaned against the wall. The back of my head was developed a slow and painful headache that maid my eyes ache. I kicked o the wall and silently walked out of that stress saturated room. I inhaled and filled my lungs with an much oxygen as they could hold and I released, exhaling.

"Relaxsss... My consciousness told me...at least I think it was anyways. The voice was so so and echoing in my head, making it sound so inviting and comforting."

I instantly relaxed. I felt my shoulders sag as my nerves began to become like noodles almost.

" You have been through too much, child". The voice said to me. I nodded in agreement. I have been through too much. I don't deserve this. My whole life as been such a hardship. When will I be able to relax!

" Go through the door...The voice told me. I felt my head automatically look down the dark hall to my le . A door opens by itself, waiting for me to step through.

I shook my head and rubbed my eyes, "I need to get back to Zeus." I said to myself.

" Relax... The voice told me and for some reason I obeyed its command. Any stress or anxiety I had, vanished. And I loved it.

" Zeus...he is using you still. You have fallen for his tric!t told me.

"I have?" Tears welled up in my eyes, "I thought he cared about me."

" My poor child...he does not. You are only his curse breaker. He knew the only way to convince you to do this willingly is to have you fall in lo!e.

"Love? is that what I feel for him?" Tears ran down my cheeks. In the air I saw a glowing form. My eyes widened in amazement. A warm and inviting light that made me feel amazing. It was like a floating entity.

" I can make all of this go away! The so voice whispered into my ears, " I can make the war go away, Nikolai go away, pain go away, heartbreak go away.....I can make Zeus go away.

I nodded my head. The idea of all of this going away...sounds perfect...it's exactly what I need.

"Y ou will be free to do whatever you want!The whispers said, " All you have to do...is walk through that door!

I felt like I was having this outer body experience. I walked down the hall, I couldn't even feel myself walking. It was like I was just moving toward the door....because I want to go there. I want to go through that door.

I smiled as I was about to step out of the door.

"NO! LILY DON'T!" A voice roared. My frowned and spun my head around and my eye widened. I blinked my wide eyes as I took in my surroundings. I wasn't in the hall, I was at the very top of that ruined tower...the tower that was supposed to reach the heavens. I looked down and saw I was about step over the edge...falling to my death. What the hell is happening?

I looked up and saw the warm glowing form disappear into nothing.

I spun around and saw Zeus sprinting towards me. I shakily stepped o of the stone ledge. My legs were shaky as I couldn't wrap my head around what just happened.

Zeus wraps his arms around my waist and li s my o the ledge, "Lily!" He spins me around. He cups my face and searches is for any sign of harm. His eyes roam body too. I was scared because I didn't understand how I even got here.

"How am I here?" I asked Zeus.

He looked down at me in deep concern, "What? Lily you've been gone for an hour. I've been trying to find you this whole time."

"An HOUR?" I said in shock. Something...or someone got into my head. I almost jumped o the bloody tower! I wrapped my arms around Zeus and clung to him.

But Zeus pulls back and cups my face. He looks into my eyes and searches for something, "What happened?"

"The voices," I said, my mind still muddled, "The voices...they....th-they told me things."

"The voices? What did they sound like?" Zeus asks.

"I-I don't know, th-they just-"

Zeus's brows creased into an even more concerned, "How did they make you feel?"

"Good. I felt good." I said slowly

Zeus's jaw tensed. His nose flared. He holds me close to his body as he marches down the snowy mountain.

"Wait! What is gong on? What was that thing?"

"I don't know, but some divinitian wants you dead."

Why does every one want me bloody dead all AT ONCE! Can there at least be a line and take turns!
