

Signing In For Eight Years, I Was Exposed As A Zillionaire!

Chapter 16

The Big Shots Are All Here

Ye Xuan nodded his head and walked towards the café where Liu Yun was.

Then, a strange scene appeared in Huaxing Plaza. An eight-year-old boy was walking in front, a peerless beauty was half a step behind him, and a group of young masters and young ladies were following behind.

After entering the shop and entering the private room, Ye Xuan ordered a few cups of coffee. Then, Liu Yanran started to chat with Ye Xuan.

Outside Huaxing Plaza, it was past nine o'clock and the number of customers was increasing. Many people were shopping.

Then, luxury cars arrived one after another.

“Look, it’s a Mercedes-Benz S-Class.”

“There are several luxury cars behind them. What does this mean?”

“Who knows. However, the people sitting in the cars are definitely big shots,” said someone. Many people beside him looked at him. Did he need to say that?

These must be the cars of big shots.

After the cars were parked, a few men in suits got out. One of them said, “Presidents, you’re all quite early.”

“Alright, cut the crap.” Zhang Tianxing looked at the President’s teasing expression and said softly, “I called Mr. Ye earlier and heard Liu Yanran’s voice on the phone. If we continue to mock and ridicule here and waste time, we won’t be able to get anything, let alone strike a deal.”

“Anyway, it’s not like you don’t know how powerful Liu Yanran is.”

After Zhang Tianxing spoke, the Presidents shuddered. Liu Yanran?

This name left a deep impression on them, but they hated it.

During this period of time, Liu Yanran had snatched countless savings away from them.

However, it was different this time. They could not let her snatch their money again.

After confirming their target, they headed towards the address Ye Xuan gave them.

A while later.

Everyone entered the private room.

“Presidents, you’re here.”

At this moment, Liu Yanran looked at the group of Presidents and exchanged glances with them. Sparks were about to burst out from their eyes. After all, they were all competitors. It was not surprising for them to be at daggers drawn.

“Director Liu.”

They exchanged pleasantries with Liu Yanran on the surface. Then, they began to search for Mr. Ye in the private room. Then, they looked at Ye Xuan, who was sitting on the main seat.

The rest of the young masters and young ladies sat at the side. From the looks of this...

Even the Presidents, who had extensive life experiences, were stunned.

East Sea Bank President Zhang Tianxing then looked at Ye Xuan who was sitting on the main seat and asked, “Mr. Ye?”

Looking at their shocked expressions, as if they had been baptized, Liu Yanran secretly laughed in her heart. However, her expression froze. It seemed that when she came in just now, she had the same expression...

It was like the pot calling the kettle black.

However, the little devil in her heart had already come out. She looked at the stunned Presidents in front of her and bit her lips. She tried her best to suppress her evil smile. She thought, “I’ll give you more spice now!”

Then, she coughed and attracted the attention of the Presidents. After that, she pouted at Ye Xuan’s wrist.

The group of Presidents also looked in the direction Liu Yanran indicated.

They took one glance!

They only took one glance!

Everyone was silent!

This watch?!

For a moment, the originally noisy private room fell silent. Even a pin drop could be heard clearly.

This!

This was the Patek Philippe Duke Watch!

This was their dream!

But now, this dream was on a child’s wrist!

Their dream had been shattered...

Was this the life of a rich man?

The doubts in their hearts were dispelled. The person who could wear their dreams on his wrist was definitely Mr. Ye!

The aura around them dissipated as well. All of them arched their backs.

“Mr. Ye, I’m the president of the East Sea Bank, Zhang Tianxing.”

“Hello, Mr. Ye. I’m Liu Ye, the President of the Jinling branch of the Industrial and Commercial Bank of China.”

“Hello, Mr. Ye...”

Voices sounded one after another. These people were usually big shots, but they now bowed and introduced themselves.

Meanwhile, Liu Yun and the other young masters and young ladies listened to these Presidents introduce themselves. Looking at the respectful expressions of the Presidents, they moved closer to each other, as if they were hugging each other and trembling.

These people were all above their fathers. However, they were now gathered here and addressed Ye Xuan as Mr. Ye. They suspected that these big shots were not even so respectful to their fathers.

They looked at Ye Xuan. At this moment, Ye Xuan’s position in their hearts rose up once more. He was unreachable!

Liu Yun was speechless. What kind of ruthless person was this? Didn’t they agree that he was just a rich second-generation heir who tipped the streamer? What’s going on now? He couldn’t take it anymore. He was going to faint. It was too scary!

Lin Yuhan was speechless. He seemed to have contradicted Brother Ye yesterday. Brother Ye wouldn't mess with him, right?

Gong Xiaohan was also silent. Although Brother Ye was young, she could wait. Anyway, she was only 17 years old, so she could still afford to wait.

The young masters and young ladies at the side had different thoughts.

Ye Xuan looked at the big shots in front of him and sat down on the main seat, "Okay, I understand what everyone means. Everyone is here for the savings in my hands. Tell me your conditions. I will deposit the money with whoever has the better conditions."

The moment Ye Xuan said that, everyone was pumped up. After all, how much matured savings did Ye Xuan have?

Sixty billion!

He had 60 billion in savings!

Now, they were like vagrants picking up bottles by the roadside. They were hungry and cold, and suddenly saw a feast. They were excited, and their chests heaved.

Although they had seen big scenes before, they had never seen such a big scene.

Ye Xuan drank his cappuccino on the main seat. His childish face gave off an indescribable sense of maturity to everyone. It was as if the person sitting there wasn't an eight-year-old child but a mature company chairman.

Then, Ye Xuan looked at them, "Who wants to go first?"

The moment he said this, they fell silent. Right now, they already stated their conditions in their hearts. However, there was no benefit in saying it out loud first. It would be better if they said it at the end. After all, after listening to the conditions of the people in front, they could increase or decrease their conditions at any time. There was a chance to kill their competitors.

However, whoever spoke first would usually not have a chance to compete.

Therefore, the entire venue was silent.

“Ah? Since none of you are going to say anything, I’ll call people one by one.”

Ye Xuan’s voice was heard. Even so, they remained silent. However, Liu Yanran looked proud when she heard Ye Xuan’s words. After all, she was the first to arrive. Moreover, she had been with Mr. Ye for so long. Mr. Ye would definitely favor her, right?

After all, even children liked beautiful big sisters, right?

Right?

However, in the next moment, Ye Xuan pointed at Liu Yanran, “Director Liu, you came first. You go first.”

Liu Yanran was dumbfounded.

Had Mr. Ye forgotten their friendship just now?

She had come to look for him so early and dressed up meticulously. Was this the outcome?
