

A Father 104

Chapter 104: Forging the First Divine Foundation, Desire-Comparing Carnal Kannon (2)

A rank-breaking transformation!

...

...

Li Che exhaled, his breath turbulent as a blade's edge, slicing through the air.

With a thought, the millstone-like Foundation Wheel appeared behind his head, trailing his movements yet always positioned at the back of his mind.

The Divinity of Wrath from heaven and earth swarmed toward him like mosquitoes lured by light, converging into the Foundation Wheel, strengthening it.

"The casting of the Foundation Wheel is complete; I've stepped into the Primary God-Base Realm, yet I must not be careless. According to the Divine Foundation Technique, a freshly cast Foundation is prone to collapse. The higher the rank of Foundation, the more likely it is to rebound against its master. Therefore, more time is needed to solidify the Foundation Wheel..."

"A typical Foundation Wheel of the Ten Cities would take about ten days to stabilize, the Nine Luminaries' would need thirty days, and the Eight Extremes Foundation Wheel requires a hundred days to Solidify Wheel!"

The corners of Li Che's lips lifted slightly.

Opening his eyes, a faint glow emanated from them, like mirrors cleansed of all dust, reflecting the flow of light from heaven and earth. Experience more tales on .com

To his astonishment, he found his five senses had become sharper, as if he could manipulate them at will, extending their perception to its limit, reaching a distance of thirty feet!

"Is this the 'Divine Sense' spoken of by Divine Base Cultivators? Is it due to the Divinity impacting the brain and breaking through the heavenly gate?"

Li Che, unable to contain his joy, played with his Divine Sense, like a child who had received a new toy.

This was different from the perception offered by the Heaven and Earth chessboard when he used the "Chess Saint" Dao Fruit.

The Heaven and Earth chessboard provided a bird's-eye view to observe everything.

It only needed the consumption of Divinity to peer through. f

However, Divine Sense did not require the consumption of Divinity and was more akin to a refinement and transformation of the five senses and consciousness, as if it were an extension of bodily organs.

Compared to Nurturing Nature, the Divine Base Realm indeed represented a tremendous transformation.

Suddenly, Li Che caught an extremely faint cracking sound close to his ear.

The three Spirit Infant Wood Carvings, gorged with the blood of sacrificial animals, started to show cracks beneath the dried layers of blood, then began splitting apart.

Three strands of Divinity surged from within, seeping into Li Che's Foundation Wheel.

After sensing them, Li Che couldn't help but be astonished.

These were three Techniques.

One Divine Secret Technique, one Divine Martial Arts...

And one for advancing the Foundation...

The Co-casting Method!

...

Fei Lei City, Inner City.

After his breakthrough to the Divine Base, Li Che returned to his study, clutching the Divine Chess Piece.

Sitting in his chair, he couldn't help but lift the corners of his lips.

In three years' time, from initially Nurturing Nature to forging a Divine Foundation... at such a pace, there might not be many in Fei Lei City, perhaps even in the entire Golden Light Prefecture City, who could match him, right? R

Also, as he closed his eyes, his mind connected to his Foundation Wheel, upon which text seemed to appear.

It was exactly the feedback from the Dharma after the three Spiritual Wood Carvings shattered.

Like receiving matching Dharma after breaking through the Foundation with a ritualistic method.

The Divine Secret Technique "Furious True Lord's Life-taking Pupil", the Divine Martial Arts "Furious True Lord's Triple-Blade"!

Three statues conferred three Dharma!

There was also the Co-casting Method for the Foundation, which he had already become familiar with through the analysis of the Qian Xi Hands.

The quality of both the Divine Secret Technique and Divine Martial Arts was of the Eight Extremes, Low Grade, which absolutely thrilled Li Che.

Of course, the higher the rank, the more difficult the cultivation would be.

But for Divine Secret Techniques, Li Che certainly had a headache.

As for Divine Martial Arts, with the "Dragon Elephant Vajra" Dao Fruit, Li Che would feel at ease.

With a smile brimming on his face, he retracted his Divine Sense from the Foundation Wheel.

With a thought.

[Dao Fruit: Pure Heart (LV2,0%)]

Looking at the information displayed in flowing light.

Li Che was in high spirits; casting the Three-Eyed Fierce True Lord's Foundation had greatly increased the maturity of the Pure Heart Dao Fruit, even breaking through barriers and reaching level LV2.

"It seems... aside from slowly accumulating the Divinity of Pure Heart, casting the Foundation is also a way to quickly increase the maturity of Dao Fruits. If I cast a few more Foundations, I should be able to bring the maturity of the Pure Heart Dao Fruit to LV3 and possibly obtain a Prototype of Divine Powers, right?"

"I am quite curious about what the Prototype of Divine Powers of 'Pure Heart' will be like."

Li Che felt a tingle of anticipation.

With the Pure Heart Dao Fruit now at LV2, with a single thought, Li Che could completely conceal even the aura of his Foundation.

The "Dragon Elephant Vajra" Dao Fruit could conceal vitality, "Pure Heart" could conceal Divinity, "Chess Saint" Dao Fruit could survey the terrain and situation, while "Immortal Artisan" Dao Fruit could craft Hidden Weapons.

Lucky fellow!

That summary made Li Che feel like he was walking further along the path of slyness.

...

As night fell and the temperature dropped sharply, snow drifted through the heavens and earth.

The soundly sleeping Xi Xi caught the savory scent of a chicken leg and unconsciously opened her eyes.

She found herself unexpectedly in the firewood shed.

A towering figure resembling a mountain, wearing a cute Cute Bull Mask, dangled a chicken leg teasingly in front of her.

Xi Xi was overjoyed and fixed her gaze on the chicken leg: "Master Niu Niu! Xi Xi has missed you so much!"

Bull Demon: "..."

After handing her the chicken leg, he spread out his vital energy to drive away the cold for Xi Xi.

He then took out a specially customized mini "Namo Gatling Wooden Crow" for Xi Xi, loaded with three thousand Wooden Crows.

"Use this to protect yourself," the Bull Demon's deep voice echoed.

Upon seeing the big toy, Xi Xi's eyes lit up instantly, and even the chicken leg lost its allure.

Quickly finishing the chicken leg, she clung to the Namo Gatling, her happiness soaring—Xi Xi could enjoy fireworks again!

The Bull Demon crouched his hefty frame, yet tenderly stroked Xi Xi's head.

"Safety is the most important thing. If you encounter any great danger, just call for Master Niu Niu, and Master Niu Niu will immediately appear by your side."
