

A Father 174

Chapter 174: Cunning and Treacherous Also Called a Hero, Li Qingshan Returns

...

The dense stench of blood gushed incessantly, like a fountain constantly spraying and splashing.

The entire hall was completely shrouded in the smell of blood, almost making one want to vomit.

Within the great hall of White Wave Hall, the piercing wind howled through, chilling everyone to the bone.

Bull Demon...

Bull Demon, oh!

His name alone struck terror into hearts!

Utterly vicious and evil!

The vice hall leader standing next to the leader of White Wave Hall was now trembling like chaff, his face deathly pale, his pupils the size of green beans.

He stared blankly at the towering figure next to him, who had casually twisted the head off the leader of White Wave Hall.

The wildly dancing jet-black hair, like lightning, set against the Cute Bull Mask... He was like an Asura!

"You... you..."

The vice hall leader was utterly terrified. Bull Demon's ferocious reputation was well known, resounding like thunder in his ears.

So many forces under the Fishing Gang had been slaughtered by the Bull Demon, yet they could do nothing against him!

Now, the Bull Demon had appeared in White Wave Hall, and it was finally their turn...

The vice hall leader was in utter despair. The appearance of the Bull Demon had been without warning, as if he had suddenly materialized beside the leader of White Wave Hall.

The leader of White Wave Hall, who had cultivated the Corpse Cultivation Technique and used the Death Qi to nourish his body to the peak of the Cursed Walking Corpse, half a step into the realm of the Cursed Iron Corpse, had his head twisted off by the Bull Demon...

Easier than twisting off a chicken's head...

This Bull Demon was ten times, a hundred times more terrifying than the rumors!

Li Che's eyes beneath his mask were ice-cold, void of any emotional fluctuation.

These people...

All deserved to die.

His gaze connected with the Heaven and Earth chessboard, and the Eight Extremes Corpse Curse Seal suppressed within the chessboard suddenly vibrated violently. A ring of invisible Corpse Qi spread out from his body as the center.

This made the Corpse Curse Marks on these people incredibly clear in his eyes!

This was a gift given to them by the Corpse God Cult, as well as a means of dragging them into the mire. The Corpse Curse Mark needed to be nourished by Death Qi. If they wanted to break through their cultivation, they would have to accumulate Death Qi.

Where did Death Qi come from?

Just like the leader of White Wave Hall, through killing... even eating people!

Bang!

His blood Qi burst forth. The vice hall leader had no intention of fighting back; he only wanted to escape!

The leader of White Wave Hall said that when the Bull Demon appeared, someone would come to deal with him. Where were they?

Where were they!!!

"Where are the people?!"

The roar came bellowing out of the vice hall leader's mouth.

Then, his body became immobilized, as if an invisible hand had gripped his throat. The terrifying high-level Divine Majesty, like ripples spreading, brushed over his body, and he became stiff on the spot, completely unable to move...

Such fearsome Divinity...

The vice hall leader felt his own Divinity trembling, unable to circulate even a trace. Suppressed utterly before the Rank.

Then, he saw a millstone-like Divine Foundation rising behind the Bull Demon, shining like a scorching sun.

Foundation Wheel rotation sent out blades of light that swept through in an instant, like countless bamboo leaves stirred by a fierce wind, a hurricane sweeping through, violently swirling within the hall.

Putt putt putt putt

All the experts of White Wave Hall within the hall were killed!

Li Che briefly activated Ascending Stance, the kind that didn't provide sustenance for Temple God Divinity, capable of being maintained for just a few breaths, convenient for a one-time absorption of Divinity...

With a clench of his hand, countless Divinity gathered from the corpses, condensing into Divine Chess Pieces, and were absorbed into the Heaven and Earth chessboard.

Li Che's powerful Divine Sense swept through, searching the bodies of the two vice hall leaders he had blown up and the leader whose head he had twisted off, scavenging the Qiankun Jade.

To kill without looting corpses, what difference was there from a salted fish?

"Bull Demon!!!"

"Don't you run!"

As Li Che was completing these actions, a terrifying aura suddenly erupted from outside White Wave Hall!

That was... the Divinity aura of an Illusory Phase Realm Cultivator!

Vast and majestic, as if a deity from afar had opened his eyes to look over, Divine Majesty swept over, threatening to obliterate everything.

And there was also the fearsome sound of cutting wind, as a Divine Archer from afar shot out a life-snatching arrow, heading straight for him!

On the arrow, blood Qi roared like python serpents, and wrapped in the meticulously condensed Perfection Foundation Divinity!

A very powerful arrow!

It sealed all angles and directions for the Bull Demon to escape!

But this was not the first time Li Che had encountered such a situation. This strong Divine Archer from the Divine Guard Army, whose archery was beyond compare, was much more powerful than the [Angry Cry Hundred Ghosts Thunderstorm Arrows] Li Che possessed.

And this Divine Archer was also very strong, with a Grandmaster Middle Boundary cultivation, his Divinity had reached Divine Base Perfection, on the verge of Observing Divine Likeness, nearing the Void Aspect.

The arrows he shot were more terrifying than cannon shells!

If it were about explosive power, it even surpassed his [Namo Fairy Craft Barrett]!

Immortal Work Barrett mainly had a long range, fast speed, strong penetration, plus the malicious nature of the Dragon Tooth Bodhi Bullets infused with Bodhi Blood Tears...

Which led to an extremely fearsome lethality!

But when it came to the power of explosions, it really wasn't a match for a single arrow from the Divine Archer filled with Grandmaster True Qi and Perfection Divine Foundation Divinity!

Two massive attacks came raging in, one from a Fisher Gang Illusory Phase expert, and one from a Divine Guard Army Divine Archer!

Almost simultaneously, thunderous assaults descended.

The terrible sense of oppression was nearly suffocating!

Boom!!!!

The terrifying explosion, like a mushroom cloud rising up, shook the ground, numerous cracks spider-webbing out, as if an earthquake had struck.

The meeting hall of White Wave Hall instantly collapsed into a deep pit, with bricks scattered and walls crumbled, leaving massive web-like radial cracks.

Amidst the billowing smoke, a figure stepped into the air and passed by with a sweep of his sleeve.
