

A Father 248

Chapter 248: Replica of Third Crown Prince Xi Xi, Concept of a Mushroom Cloud Firework

Golden light swirled, forming hints, spreading slowly before his eyes.

The fourth Dao Fruit bore the prototype of a fourth Divine Skill!

The [Chess Saint] Dao Fruit finally advanced to LV3!

After siphoning Shangguan Zhengheng's Divinity, absorbing the Divinity of an Illusory Phase Cultivator brought a significant increase in maturity.

But Li Che felt that the most significant improvement came from within the Golden Temple.

He directed his hand towards the claw extended by the statue of the Golden Heavenly King Temple God.

The black gold Temple God Divinity Chess Piece he absorbed directly caused the [Chess Saint] Chess Piece, which had been stuck at LV2, to transform and reach the LV3 level!

Following Thousand Analyzing Hands, Ascending the Tower, and Soul Capturing, another prototype of Divine Powers was born!

Li Che had always looked forward to the prototype of Divine Powers from the [Chess Saint] Dao Fruit.

In his view, prototypes of Divine Powers... were somewhat like enhanced versions of Divine Secret Techniques, more powerful and born from the Dao Fruit.

Extremely extraordinary, hence Li Che had always been eager to see it.

Within his chest, the [Chess Saint] pounded more rapidly than ever before.

Li Che closed his eyes, his spirit seemingly on the Heaven and Earth chessboard expanded by the Dao Fruit.

[Prototype of Divine Powers (Chess Saint - Great Avalanche): Chess as high mountains, momentum like the sky collapsing, the god of Great Avalanches, unseen by the gods]

The introduction emerged as flowing golden text, moving slowly before his eyes.

Li Che's emotions calmed down, his eyes shimmering as his Divine Sense spread out to perceive.

He could tell that under the expansion of his Heaven and Earth chessboard, his range of perception was wider, and... no matter how high his perspective was pulled, he could still see the scene clearly.

Meaning, the range and freedom he had using the Thunder Chess Piece to move about were greater and more unfettered.

Not just that...

Li Che could even... vaguely obtain the perspective of others through the Chess Pieces placed on them.

With a slight movement of his mind, blue smoke rose, as if a mirror were being wiped clean, revealing ripples in the scene in front of him.

In the scene, Xi Xi was being held by Sang Guanyin, the two of them walking slowly down the mountain path, bracing against the cold wind.

Unaware of what the two were talking about, though the images were there, the sound was not yet in sync.

Li Che felt once the [Chess Saint] Dao Fruit's level of maturity increased, he should be able to transmit sound as well.

He raised his hand and wiped it, the image instantly changing.

His wife, Zhang Ya, was under an oil lamp in the house, diligently practicing martial arts, large beads of sweat sliding down her forehead.

Not wanting to hold back her husband and daughter, Zhang Ya was also working hard to improve herself.

Li Che's lips curled into a smile as he flicked his finger, and all the images instantly dissipated.

Closing his eyes, he sensed the efficacy of the Divine Power prototype "Great Avalanche."

This effect, like Ascending the Tower and Soul Capturing at the start, was completely baffling to him, void of any clues.

Even with a description, Li Che read it but might as well have not seen it at all.

However, as feedback flooded in, Li Che gradually understood the meaning of "Great Avalanche."

"So it's like that... It's a form of might, isn't it?"

"Like the god of Great Avalanches, the maximum oppression, it's more like... an enhanced form of Rank oppression!"

Li Che mused.

Apart from that, there was the accumulation and explosive power of Divinity Chess Pieces...

And even, the ability to imbue the Divinity Chess Pieces... with lethal force!

Within the room, Li Che sat quietly in meditation.

He raised his hand, and instantly there were two black Chess Pieces in his palm.

The two Divinity Chess Pieces drawn from Liu Jinsong, the former deputy leader of the Fishing Gang who he had killed, intertwined and hovered in his palm.

"Prototype of Divine Powers, Chess Saint - Great Avalanche!"

Li Che's thoughts moved slightly.

He looked up, his black hair flying wildly behind him.

And his pupils seemed to transform in an instant.

The white of his eyes became a net of black intersecting lines covering it, and the dark pupils turned into Chess Pieces on a stellar position of the chessboard.

In a flash, the two black Chess Pieces in his palm merged abruptly, containing bubbling Divinity like boiling water, tumultuous and restless!

With a flick of his finger.

The Chess Piece immediately turned into a straight black line, shooting out and striking the ground in the courtyard.

An explosion roared, and airstreams surged, dust billowed, and stones howled!

The powerful shockwave spread out like ripples.

Li Che's stacked Divinity formed a wall of Divine energy in front of him, blocking all the flying debris.

"To think that it could detonate a Chess Piece..."

"And the power is incredibly formidable! The Chess Piece, condensed from the Divinity of an Illusory Phase Cultivator, carries the pressure of the Illusory Phase, and when detonated, its power is not weaker than the attack of an Illusory Phase Cultivator."

"And this is just with two Chess Pieces..."

"What if there were more?"

The thought occurred to Li Che, and without hesitation, he acted on it.

He lifted his palm.

In an instant, all the Divinity Chess Pieces drawn from Liu Jinsong began to converge in his palm, merging!

The countless Chess Pieces fused into one the size of a fist.

This was the gathered lifetime Divinity of an Illusory Phase Realm Cultivator.

The large black Chess Piece, floating above Li Che's palm, had restless bulges on its surface from time to time, as though boiling water was rolling inside, containing an extremely terrifying destructive force.

If thrown, it would probably level his small courtyard on the spot.

No...

Not just his small courtyard!

Just how strong the destructive force was, even Li Che had no idea.

After all, the lifelong accumulated power of an Illusory Phase Realm Cultivator, forged together, and unleashed in an explosive burst...

How terrifying would that be?

And this was only the Divinity gathered from one Illusory Phase Cultivator. If it were two, three... or even a hundred, a thousand Illusory Phase Cultivators' Divinity... detonated at the same time!
