Chapter 272: Emperor Xi Xi Battles Golden Third Prince, Dragon Elephant Furnace Forges a True Grandmaster (2)

Now, her cultivation was as vast as a river, all transformed into the Divinity of Extreme Grief Wind Fire Subdue Dragon Third Prince!

Divinity interwove with the colors of wind and fire, flashing with brilliance and containing melancholic emotions, spilling out from Xi Xi's small body.

The doors of the Divine Palace thundered, sensing the source of her divinity as from the Golden Temple, and then slowly began to open.

Rumbling

The gates vibrated open, and the towering, majestic statue of the Golden Heavenly King appeared once more before Xi Xi.

Xi Xi immediately reined in her arrogant emotions and shrank her neck.

The statue towered over her, yet its eyes seemed very gentle; Xi Xi gradually relaxed her spirit.

Walking up to the statue, Xi Xi looked around; the Divine Palace was filled with extremely dense and rich divinity.

She felt that she could swallow and draw divinity into her body just by opening her mouth.

No wonder the Sect Master had said that the Golden Temple was an excellent cultivation treasure, surpassing any Cave Paradise.

Opening once every half-year, allowing Xi Xi to enter the Golden Temple, and after being beaten up, she must remember not just to cry, but to seize the time to cultivate.

Thinking of this, Xi Xi felt defiant.

She, Emperor Xi Xi, would definitely not cry!

Definitely not!

Xi Xi was very confident in herself, and she had even brought the fireworks mechanism made by Master Niu Niu!

The fireworks mechanism had three states; if necessary, she would activate the strongest firepower state!

Hmph

Xi Xi pouted and looked towards the statue.

Rumbling

"Godly Que verification, will commence."

"Strike with full force, hold nothing back!"

The booming sound suddenly exploded, and Xi Xi felt her eardrums greatly shaken; the little butterfly perched on her shoulder also trembled slightly.

Then, the scene before her eyes changed.

She widened her eyes, her long eyelashes trembling slightly.

She saw...

Below the Golden Statue.

Within the Treasure Pagoda.

A small figure slowly emerged, appearing purely cast in gold.

The figure's eyes sparkled with gold, two golden braids shooting upward.

Golden eyes like smoking fumes turned, landing on Xi Xi.

"Tch—"

The child figure chuckled, then with a step, leapt from the enormous palm of the Heavenly King Statue holding the pagoda.

Mid-air, a 360-degree roll, and a transformation occurred.

With a golden hoop on his head, golden silk ribbons around his arms, bare feet stepping on two Golden Wind Fire Wheels, he wielded a Golden Serpent Spear with Flame Tip!

Mid-air, his legs spread in a split, golden silk flying, the Golden Wind Fire Wheels on his feet spinning rapidly, countless sparks splendidly bursting forth.

Sparks danced, flying through the air!

An overwhelming oppressive force...

Came crashing down like a mountain!

Xi Xi was taken aback, her shoulder's little butterfly completely fluffed up!

No...

You let the Third Crown Prince take action?!

The Sect Master is such a liar, calling this a test?!

...

Golden Light Prefecture City.

Falling Flower Alley.

Li Che closed his eyes, and after swallowing the Eight Extremes martial pill, his stomach walls suddenly churned as if pounded by a medicinal hammer, instantly smashing the pill, and a massive burst of medicinal properties roared into his limbs!

His entire body's muscles and bones abruptly moved, making a "crackling" sound like burning kindling bursting into sparks!

Inside his body, the blood was boiling hot and tremendous; after the Nine Transformations of Divine Vein, the power of the Transformation Realm blended into his Inner Qi, at this moment, was like becoming a great elixir, mingling with Inner Qi, traveling along his meridians!

From the top of his head, from his shoulders and spine, from the lower abdomen Dan Tian, from his tailbone!

As if there was a blazing flame in his chest, indescribable, instantly igniting and expanding throughout his body!

[Dragon Elephant Vajra] Dao Fruit buzzed and pulsed!

His body's blood rushed like explosive rivers and waves!

To achieve the Grandmaster level, Li Che met all the conditions, mastering True Intent Ultimate Study and completing the merging of at least three Martial Arts of Transformation Realm.

All these conditions were met, breaking through to Grandmaster was mostly just a matter of course.

But breaking through to Grandmaster had one more key point, ultimately, it was about the strength of the physical body.

Why was the Cursed Copper Corpse powerful? It lay in the toughness of the body, unimaginably tough, forged by Death Qi and Corpse Qi, almost not considered a flesh body anymore, but rather as a category of weapons.

Thus unbending and indestructible!

The purpose of Grandmaster cultivation was also to temper the physical body, the foundation of martial arts practice lies in the body!

Inner Qi transforming into True Qi was an internal change, whereas the toughness and strength of the body's membrane was an external change!

From Channel Opening stepping into Grandmaster was a transformation where both the internal and external aspects of martial arts changed!

Rustling

Rustling!

The blood inside his body surged, flowing faster and faster; if at this moment, his skin was torn open even by a small cut, the blood ejected would even be more terrifying than a high-pressure water gun!

Comparable to a water jet in sharpness!

Li Che's entire body's skin turned a reddish color, the essence of Transformation Realm merged into his Inner Qi, which then coursed through his body, boiling his blood, and various essences of Transformation Realm appeared like illusory scenes, suspended around him.

There were roars of the White Tiger, continuous spear shadows, hundreds of ghosts crying, arrows entangling wind and thunder...

There was a Three-eyed Divine General wielding a Tri-Blade Knife, knife aura filling the heavens, there was Corpse God releasing Death Qi like smoke, pointing a finger!

All kinds of essences emerged endlessly!

Li Che's body became even more blisteringly hot, the surrounding air currents hanging dense, like in a furnace, emitting an astonishing fervent light and high temperature.

Li Che's eyes opened, seeming like two blazing flames burning.

According to his understanding, breaking through to Grandmaster shouldn't be this difficult, it shouldn't have so many phenomena...

"The breakthrough of Nine Transformations of Divine Vein... thus so difficult?"

Li Che pondered in his mind.

But he was neither fearful nor retreating.
