

A Father 275

Chapter 275: Ranked on the Dao City Prodigy Leaderboard, My Daughter is 4 Years Old

The metal tubes began to glow red-hot as they were filled with energy, like enraged beasts, bursting with extreme light and heat!

The six metal tubes of the Namo Immortal Artisan Gatling heated up, and the Spirit Wood Ravens within began to roar forth!

Bursts of golden light sprayed out from the barrel.

Dada dada

Streams of golden light, like a divine sword that tore through the heavens and split the darkness, drew long golden lines towards the Golden Third Crown Prince, who was soaring on the Golden Wind Fire Wheel!

Boom boom boom!

The sound of explosions vented throughout the Divine Palace, with wild air currents constantly raging and impacting!

A series of brilliant fireworks burst forth, adorning the Golden Temple, continuously blooming in mid-air!

The shockwave spread out, stirring the air!

Li Che had set three power levels for Xi Xi's Namo Immortal Artisan Gatling, and clearly, when facing the Golden Third Crown Prince, in this unreasonable challenge set by the Golden Temple, she chose the highest firepower!

Even if it were a being from myths, stepping into reality!

So what?

As long as the firepower was sufficient, there would be no trace of fear in Xi Xi's heart, only a fervor for setting off fireworks!

The little boy, cast in gold, his eyes shimmering like gilded, emitted golden smoke that continuously drew serpentine golden curves in the air.

The Wind Fire Wheel kept spinning under his gold-cast feet, sparks flying, air howling, carrying his body and dodging with ultimate speed left and right in the air.

That speed...

Was really too fast!

Though floating in the air, it seemed as if he was walking on flat ground, moving so effortlessly, so agilely!

However, Xi Xi was not holding back at all, firing at full power, constantly shifting the barrel, hot and rotating rapidly every second!

Like golden light swords relentlessly shooting out like flying swords!

Plunging into the void, slashing swiftly!

Bang bang bang!

Although unable to hit the gold-cast Third Crown Prince, she still forcefully suppressed him in the distant air, preventing him from approaching Xi Xi!

Bang!

Suddenly, a thunderous explosion blasted open!

Xi Xi's face showed a brilliant smile because a tremendously huge firework had burst into light and heat, enveloped in black smoke, exploding in the air!

Hit!

The gold-cast Third Crown Prince was hit by her shot!

Bursting out into supremely magnificent fireworks!

The wild air currents, forming concentric ripples, continuously dispersed and stirred into a fierce wind, pressing the clothes, sewn by her mother Zhang Ya, tightly against her body.

Xi Xi kneeled and stood, her small body carrying the Immortal Artisan Gatling, firm like a rock in the wild wind.

Her face was full of an excited smile.

The barrel glowed red, scorching hot, aiming at the exploding fireworks, furiously shooting out Spirit Wood Ravens!

In the highest firepower state, the explosion was stronger, the penetration also stronger!

But...

Li Che had only prepared eight hundred enhanced Spirit Wood Ravens for Xi Xi.

Boom boom boom boom boom!

One shot hit, followed by rampant bombing.

Xi Xi was almost a natural at setting off fireworks; the range, accuracy, and angle control, if categorized by Martial Technique, were at least at the Great Achievement Level.

Of course, compared with Li Che, who possessed the Immortal Artisan Dao Fruit, there was naturally still a gap.

In the midst of the exploding fireworks...

Xi Xi suddenly stopped the output of firepower, and with a leap...

Bang!

A Golden Fire-tipped Spear forcefully struck the ground. This wasn't the real Purple Flame Serpentine Spear, the real one was in Xi Xi's arm.

But the power was also extremely formidable.

The floor of the temple directly caved in, pierced through, with radial cracks instantly expanding!

As Xi Xi just stabilized her stance, the flesh on her face trembled.

She saw above the sky, the exploding fireworks suddenly stirred as if swallowed and inhaled, all converging upon the Golden Wind Fire Wheel above.

The Golden Third Crown Prince's eyes were sharp, his gilded eyes bursting with a brilliant fighting spirit!

With a bang...

The flames from the exploding Spirit Wood Raven transformed in the air into two side-by-side horizontal fire dragons beneath the feet of the Third Crown Prince!

Like the ultimate compressed ejection force, the Third Crown Prince's speed was too fast!

Xi Xi didn't hesitate at all, lifting the Immortal Artisan Gatling in her hands, the barrel began to heat and rotate furiously!

The final few dozen Spirit Wood Ravens turned into golden light swords, roaring and bursting forth.

However, the Golden Third Crown Prince, even within the airtight light swords...

Moved like a dragon!

Two fire dragons twisted like twining ropes then fiercely crashed in front of Xi Xi!

Xi Xi's body trembled, only feeling the temple's ground, seeming to emit a long-lasting roar under the massive impact of the Golden Third Crown Prince's landing!

Boom!

The Golden Third Crown Prince raised his fingers, and in the distance, the Golden Fire-tipped Spear stuck in the ground vibrated and shot towards him, grabbed in his hand.

Violently swung, with fire snakes entwining, he swung with a terrifying arc, heavily smashing down towards Xi Xi!

Xi Xi's expression was solemn, but in her mind, she mused, "The firepower is low... Next time, I need to ask Master Niu Niu for more Ravens."

With sufficient firepower, Xi Xi's heart would be at ease!

The Qianyuan Diamond Circle trembled at her neck, suddenly snapping out, colliding with the Golden Fire-tipped Spear being smashed down by the Third Crown Prince.

This Seven Elemental Treasure was powerful, but currently, Xi Xi could only barely activate it, exerting only a little of its power.

Dang

With a clear sound, the Qianyuan Diamond Circle was violently knocked aside, falling far away.
