Is this woman for real I wonder, because she must have a death wish. She most know that Dagmar doesn't like her and that I have no interest in her, what so ever

"Maddox, will you be attending our party, tonight?" She asks me, while trying to look seductive as she looks in to my eyes. Cole is laughing his ass off in my head and I have to restrain myself from laughing out loud. However Elly was not afraid of letting her know what she thought of Sienna. "Do you really believe he would be interested in a skank like you? Grow up and stop trying to get in bed with every Alpha that passes through this pack." Sienna's jaw drops and my men actually start laughing out loud and I can even hear Dagmar giggling. Sienna jumps up and takes a swing at Elly or at least she tries to.

But Elly has improved during her training and it takes no effort at all for her to block Sienna, James steps between the women and sends Sienna to go sit with her Father, he tells Elly to go sit next to me and then orders everyone to finish lunch. "We still Have a few hours' time for training. You need all the -training you can get." He sits back down himself and continues to eat his lunch. I see that Dagmar has finished and I pull her close to me. I kiss the top of her head and I put her head under my chin.

From the corner of my eyes I see Sienna staring dagger at the woman in my arms and for a second I feel like giving control to Cole. But I know that we need every person that can fight when the Evil Moon Pack gets here. Dagmar

When I see that almost everyone is finished with their lunch, I get up and tell them to get back to their group. The High-ranking Pack-members are the ones that start to mumble and it seems they are not willing to get back to training. Because I have had enough of these idiots, I am going to do something drastic. "Well, it looks like these Packs don't need our help. Let us go back to the house and pack up, then we can leave first thing in the morning."

After saying that I turn on my heels and start walking away. Maddox gets up as well and puts his arm around my shoulder as we walk away. Soon the rest of our Pack follow us, but before we can reach the tree-line one of the Warriors calls out "You can't leave, we cannot defeat them. We need you or we will be dead." Samantha turns to him and says "Maybe your Alpha's should have thought of that before defying Dagmar."

She looks at Alpha Nathan and continuous "I don't know what she did to you or these Packs. But your behavior is despicable, they have come here to try and stop the Evil Moon Pack. All they have asked for, is for your Warriors to train harder than they are used to. And all Grow up. Because if you do not step up right now, we will walk away." She turns back to our group and she has a small smile on her face.

"Fine. We will do as she ask." Alpha Nathan reluctantly says. I nod at Samantha and everyone splits up again, they start training again and I make my way through the groups.

When necessary I stop to give pointers or show a certain move. Even the Alpha's are participating and they are not that bad. When Alpha Jonas is able to get the drop on Matteo, I stop to compliment him on his move.

He looks shocked that I would acknowledge his abilities and he mutters a thank you. We stay at it for a few more hours and then I call it a day. Uncle James tells everyone to go back to their rooms, to freshen up and to prepare for the Full Moon. Maddox

After training we head back to the house to get ready for the evening. Like back home, these Packs make a feast out of the Full Moon. So we were invited as well, not that it would have mattered.

We would be celebrating the Full Moon and I cannot wait until midnight. While I walk in to our room, my mind starts to wander. "We will soon find out." Cole says and I know he is right.

Tonight we will find out if we are getting a second chance. And if it turns out she is our second chance, I will toss her over my shoulder and take her back up to our room. And then Cole shows me very vivid. images of what he has in store for Dagmar. And it makes my cock rock-hard and I know I'll have to take care of this right now. A knock on the door startles me for a second. "Come in," I call out and when the door opens I see Dagmar standing just outside our room.

She looks at me and I get a feeling she is a bit uncomfortable. "Come in. Babygirl. What can I do for you?" I ask her and then I smell it, she is aroused and before can control myself I'm standing in front of her.

Pulling her in my arms I try to regain my control, but when I hear her moan, I am lost. I grab her hair and make her look up at me, then I slam my lips to hers.

She gasps and I take advantage to gain entrance, my tongue slips in to her mouth. As our tongues starts their dance, my hand travels down her body. Holding her hip I step back in to our room and close the door behind us, our kiss deepens. Another knock on the door makes us jump apart, leaving us both breathing heavily. As our breathing slows down, I call out to whomever is in front of the door to come in.

James and Rico walk in and they both look at us as if they know what was about to happen. Cole wants to kick them out and continue what they have interrupted But I convince him that it will be better and sweeter after the Full Moon, when we will be able to tell if she is our second chance.

GUINE

"Is there something you need from me?" I ask James and Rico, while I see a pretty pink color on Dagmar's cheeks. My body blocks their view of Dagmar and I know she has evened out her breathing even more.

She steps around me and looks at her Uncle, James holds out his tablet and the look on his face tells me none of us will like what he is about to tell us. "They are moving closer. At this raid, they will be here by dawn."

Dagmar looks at the images displayed on the screen and curses under her breath. With the Full Moon they probably hope the Packs will have partied all night and they want to take advantage of that. Knowing that most Packs have a feast at Full Moon, I can understand their way of thinking. But I will make sure that they are in for a surprise.

"Get everyone to the meeting room. Our Squad, the Alpha's, Beta's and Gamma's. No excuses from anyone." I order Rico. I turn around to Dagmar and see that she is concentrating on the images. "What is it, Babygirl?" She looks up at me and sighs. "This is bad, the way I cut her off and say: "The earliest they will be here is dawn. Don't worry, we can still celebrate the Full Moon." Dagmar

As I look at Maddox, I realize that he has not seen what I did and I shake my head. "We don't have that long. The first group will arrive in a few hours."

Maddox looks at me as if he does not understand what I am saying, so I show him the images and point out the small groups that are moving in. When he sees what I am pointing at, he starts cursing and walks out of his room.

I follow him with the tablet pressed to my chest. As we exit the house, Marcus makes his way over to us and he looks at me as if to ask what is going on. I just shake my head and tell him to be patient. Walking in to the Pack-house I see that there are more people than just the ones Maddox asked for. Approaching Alpha Adam, he asks why all these people are here.

Alpha Adam explains that they are the best Warriors the Packs have and that he thought it would be wise if they would hear firsthand what was going on. "Damn, the man actually has a brain." Maddox mutters.

I mind-link the rest of our pack-members and tell them to get to the Pack-house immediately.

As Jenna is setting up our equipment, Chris approaches me and he is holding a tablet as well. He shows me the intel he had gone over with Maddox the day before He tells me their interpretation of it and he tells me that if they had paid closer attention they probably would have seen it then.

Looking at both images I see that they could not have seen it coming. I decide not to show everyone at the same time. Alpha Jonas is the first one to demand answers and the rest just nod their heads in agreement.

I walk to the front of the room and connect my tablet to the screen. Maddox tells everyone to quiet down, o we can begin with the intel we have collected. He steps aside and leans against the wall to my left.

The first image I show is the one Chris showed me and explain what can be seen and what it meant, by using a timeline.

Then I explain that we had just received new intel and that that was the cause of this meeting. I pull it up. placing it next to the first image and I can see that no one is seeing what I had seen.

"What is the panic about? It will take them hours to get here. And their numbers are less than our Packs combined." Leon says and I sigh. I point to the first image and tell him he is correct when it comes to that picture.

Then I ask him to take a closer look at the second image and to compare it with the first one. He does as I ask, at first he doesn't see it and then he looks surprised when he sees what I meant.

All he says is "Fuck," and walks back to his seat. I show that in the first image it looks as if there are not that many members of the Evil Moon Pack. But pointing at the second image. I show them that there are multiple smaller groups moving a head of the larger groups. The amount of members in the smaller groups combined, add up to the same numbers as the larger groups. And with that they realize that they will be outnumbered by them.

They now understand that it will only take them hours to get here and that they will be here before the Full Moon.

James

That niece of mine is a smart one. I had not seen it and neither did Rico or Maddox. After Dagmar is finished with the intel, Leon asks what she has come up with. I'm surprised that he would ask her for advice, but then again the guy did not strike me as dumb. Alpha Nathan gets up and walks toward Dagmar, I wonder what he is up to, but what he does next has even the Pack Warriors on edge.

"We don't need a woman to tell us what to do. We will manage this our way. Make sure that all the women and children are in the shelters and I want all the Warriors to gather in front of the Pack-house. We will take it from here." He says while looking at Dagmar. "John, make sure all the women get into the shelters, there will be no exceptions." Alpha Nathan looks at John, John just shakes his head and turns towards Alice and Maggie.

John looks at him "I am not disobeying my Alpha. My Alpha ordered me to look after Alice and Maggie and that is what I will do. We can all see the dumbfounded look on his face, so I decide to clarify the situation to Alpha Jonas. After I tell him that John left the Crescent Moon Pack and joined our Pack, he looks at Alpha Nathan "Is this true? Did he leave your Pack?" Alpha Nathan just neds his head.

One of the warriors gets up and says "Sorry, normally wouldn't disagree with my Alpha, but seeing the fact that our lives depend on it I am going to follow whatever Dagmar tells me to do. I hope you can understand this, Alpha Adam." Alpha Adam looks at the Warrior and tells everyone to follow my orders, no matter which Pack they are from

- Alpha Nathan isn't too happy with that, but Alpha Jonas backs Alpha Adam up and even the future Alpha's back him up. Alpha Nathan has no choice, he has to agree to this course of action.

After that we discuss all the options we have, we decide that the women are allowed to decide for themselves, fight, or shelter. All Pack-members are summoned to the Pack-house of the Black Moon Pack.

In big lines we sketch the situation and give the women the choices they have. Maggie and Alice tell me that they will take the children to the shelter and that they will be outside to protect them.

John will join them, so that makes me feel a bit better. Most of the women that participated in our training decide to stay and help in any way they can. The other women decide to follow the example Alice and Maggie had set. Dagmar

We escort the ones that will stay in the shelters and I am not surprised to see Sienna join the women in the shelters. That the Alpha's want their Mates in the shelters surprises me, because they are not fated and I doubt it is out of love. Uncle James seems to understand my thoughts and he tells me through mind-link that he believes he knows the reason. It turns out I had missed a conversation between the Alpha's and their sons.

The boys wanted to stay and fight, but the Alpha's wanted them to go to the shelters. Looks like the boys have more balls then their fathers. "If those boys die, they will no longer have heirs. So they have to make sure their Mates survive." I nod because that makes sense. My phone buzzes and the caller-ID shows me it is Mason. "What." I greet him and he starts talking right away. We both know that we have no time to waste.

We only have minutes left before the first groups will be here and I make sure everyone is alerted to the coming threat. Three Warriors are standing beside me had asked for a Warrior from each pack to make sure we would all be on the same page.

The larger groups still have hours ahead of them and we hope we can take care of these smaller groups

We had spread the twelve Lycans along the outer border of the Pack's territories and they were accompanied by Warriors.

Soon I am informed about the first wounded, but it looks like the deaths are only on our enemy's side. The wounded that can get themselves to safety, do so and the ones that need help are handed off to the women that are our last line of defense.

All the Pack-Doctors are taking care of the wounded and once treated they are sent back out in to the fights. The Warriors and I are staying between the border and the Pack-house. We keep an eye out for any enciny Warriors that slipped through, but so far no one managed to get across the borders.

Maddox

After Dagmar warns us about their ETA, we get in to position. We don't have to wait long before the first. wave of Warriors arrive and after that they keep coming.

From the corner of my eye I see Paul taking down one after the other and I am glad he is on my side. Fort every enemy Warrior he takes down, I take down two of three and little by little we gain control of the situation.

Then I hear a familiar howl, so I link Julian to ask what happened. He tells me that Glenn got injured and that it looks bad. "Paul, can you oversee the situation here? I need to relief Julian, Glenn got injured," "Go, if I need help, I will let you know." And in the meantime he takes down another enemy.

I let Julian know I am on my way and that he has to take Glenn to the Pack-Doctors. Getting to his position I see that most of the enemy warriors are taken care of

So all I have to do is keep control of the situation and our Warriors. They have given their all and I can see the fatigue on their faces. I tell them to team up to spare their strength and I join in the fight.

The stream of enemy Warriors lessens and it looks like we have defeated this first wave. I link Dagmar and tell her to contact Mason, I want to know what lies ahead of us.

After a few minutes she lets me know that there are no more enemies around and that we are in the clear

After informing everyone. I let them head back to the Pick-house. We keep a few Warriors on the lookout, but with Mason's intel I do not expect any trouble soon

I ask Jeff, Josh and Eric, the Warriors who stayed with me, to get everyone out of the shelters. Then I turn: to the Doctors and ask them if we had any fatalities.

They shake their heads and I feel relieved. As I turn around, I see Julian pacing not far from me and then I see a Doctor working on someone, it takes a second before I realize it is Glenn. 1 over to Julian and pull him in to a hug. There is a lot of blood, but I am not sure it all belongs to him. We just have to wait, until the Doctor is able to up-date us on Glenn's status.

Suddenly I hear a growl, I shake my head and turn towards Maddox. He doesn't look happy and I can see that Cole is pushing forward, I give Julian a small smile before walking over to Maddox.

"How can you be jealous? He is our friend and he is hurting right now." I look up at Maddox. "Sorry, you are right. But I can't help feeling this way. They say to me.

Someone clears his throat behind me, I turn to see Uncle James standing there. I turn away from Maddox and jump into my Uncle's arms, hugging him, I tell him I am glad he is safe.

The second he puts me down, Maddox pulls me back in his arms and nuzzles my neck. Feeling his arms around me calms my nerves and I hope the Doctor will be giving us an up-date on Glenn soon. Seeing my friend upset is unsettling to me.

"Should we bring out the food?" Lily asks and I am grateful for the distraction she gives me. "Please, do. We need to eat and it will make it easier to strategies." Lily gets a few others to help her and soon all the food is brought outside.

Mason and Stephan keep up-dating us on the Evil Moon Pack. I start to relax a little when I see Julian and Glenn approaching. "Good to see you back on your feet, Glenn." He looks at Rico and then starts to sign.

"You do realize you can just link me?" Rico asks him, that makes Glenn smile and then he links all of us. "Alpha, thank you for allowing Julian to bring me back here. That Wolf caught me by surprise. I'm glad I am on my feet again, because we all know this isn't over yet." We all nod because he is right.

Maddox

Just one more hour, just a little longer. Cole is pacing in my head and he is driving me nuts. I tell him to relax, but he is as nervous as I am. So I know it is pointless, but I try anyway.

She is sitting right next to me and I can feel that she is nervous as well. Every member of my Pack is sitting. around us, some are eating and others are talking.

When we go home, how will your Pack respond to all the new members?" Lucy asks. I smile at her and say "I am glad you already consider it home. And do not worry, they will welcome all of you with open arms.

They have been informed about your backgrounds and the situation we found you in. They are glad I stepped up, they would have been displeased if I hadn't Somehow it seems as if they all had been worried about being welcome. But I could see they were all relieved, after hearing my answer.

As we are tall about home, about the Pack and the territory, the time passes and suddenly I feel a pull. It feels as if there is a rope attached to my heart and someone or something is pulling it.

I have felt this before and I realize what that means, my Mate is near. Looking next to me, I see Dagmar is no longer there and I start to panic. I jump up and I start looking around me to find out where she is.

And then we lock eyes, my body has a mind of its own as I make my way over to her. A huge smile forms on her face when she realizes what is going on and I hope we have some time before the Evil Moon Pack gets here.

Pulling her in my arms, I lower my head and capture her lips in a kiss. I break off the kiss and toss her over my shoulder. Without a word I walk to the house as fast as I can.

Inside I run up the stairs, two at a time. The smell of her arousal becomes stronger and stronger. I open the door and kick it closed behind me, when I reach the bed I dump her on it.

She giggles while she looks up at me. The next second slow, I know I won't be able to. I need this woman and am on top of her, even though I want to take it need her now.

"Sorry, I want to take it slow, but.... She cuts me of by slamming her lips to mine. When we break the kiss she says "I don't want slow. I just want you, right now."

Then she pulls me closer again and starts to pull on my shirt. I help her to take it off and it lands somewhere across the room. We both start pulling at our clothes, we are in a hurry to feel each other's skin.

Then I hold her naked body to mine and my lips kiss down her neck. Her hands tangle in my hair and I let my hands glide down her body. The lower my hands go the more she starts to wiggle.

One hand stays on her breast as the other slides down between her legs. She parts her legs to grant me access to her pussy. My finger finds her clit and my head lowers towards her breast to suck in a nipple.

As I push down on her clit, she lets out a moan and I p even more pressure on it. She starts to grind against my hand and I know she needs more, she wants more. I abandon her breast and kiss further down her body until I am nestled in between her legs.

I slowly lick her slit and she screams out in pleasure. My finger slides into her pussy and I start moving it in and out, over, and over. Her body starts to tense and know she is getting closer to release.

Then she falls over the edge and screams my name as she comes undone..

As I walk in to the house, I link my roommates and tell them to find another place to sleep. I run up the stairs, open the door and after I have closed the door I put Lily down.

I cup her face and start kissing her, slowly at first and then I deepen the kiss. I do not waste time, I pull my shirt off and when I look at her face, I see that she is blushing.

She drops her gaze and I put a finger under her chin, making her looking up at me. "I want and need you, Little One. Nero wants us to mark you as ours. I will never intentionally hurt you. Do you understand me, Lily?" I look into her eyes because I want to make sure she understands us.

Lily

Hearing Marcus say those words, I know he is being truthful. "I know neither one of you will ever hurt me. It is just... I don't know what to do?" I mutter. He smiles at me and pulls me close to him.

He makes me look up at him again and I see his Lycan pushing forward. "Hi, Nero." Is all I can whisper. Then I feel his lips on mine and this time I lean in his touch.

Within minutes we have tossed all our clothes aside and our hands are roaming over the other one's body. When he moves his hand between my legs, I let out a moan and a warm feeling starts building in my core.

He slips a finger inside me and my body starts to shiver from pleasure. Then he drops to his knees, he one of my legs over his shoulder to open me up and the next thing I feel is his tongue.

A Gamma's Revenge Chapter 128 #Finished

After dinner is over, I help Samantha and a few other pack-members clearing and cleaning the tables. We take the dishes to the kitchen and I wait out on the porch as they clean the dishes and put them away.

As soon as Samantha walks out of the Pack-house, I step next to her and offer her my arm. We walk back to the clearing and I look around at all the Werewolves and Lycans.

Tonight some of them might find their Mate and a part of me was hoping that I will be one of them. I see that John is still watching Alice and Maggie and I know he will not leave one of them alone.

Samantha and I keep walking, until we have left most people behind us. I can feel that it is close to midnight and I look at the woman by my side. And then it happens, the pull at my heart and I toss her over my shoulder and start walking. Samantha

Tonight is my first Full Moon outside and I know a lot more will follow. No longer being locked up, no longer waiting because tonight I might find my mate. And if I do not, then I know in my new Pack I will be enjoying every Full Moon, until the day that I find my Mate

"I hope we don't have to wait that long. I hope he is right here Jess says in my head. I give her a smile, because I am hoping the same thing. All of a sudden, my chest feels funny, but before I can say anything Rico tosses me over his shoulder and starts walking In my head Jess is jumping up and down and in an annoying sing-song voice I hear "Mate" over and over. My checks flush, because I feel a bit embarrassed and I try to get free from his hold on me.

My movements make him stop walking and I nearly fall of his shoulder. "Don't move. I don't want to drop you, Beautiful." And then he starts walking again.

Rico

I run to my room with Samantha hanging over my shoulder, in the meantime I have informed the others to stay out of the room.

Because I do not need an audience for what I am going to do to her tonight. After I close the door, I let her slide down my body and as soon as she is standing. I cup her face and start kissing her. Within seconds I am holding her naked body to mine and I can hear Jax purring in my head. I hear her gasp and I look at her face "What is wrong. Beautiful?" I ask her, turns out that Jax actually purred out loud.

"My apologies for startling you, Beautiful." He says and Samantha looks up with wide eyes. Then a smile appears on her face and she stands on her tip-toes to kiss me.

I pull her closer to me and deepen the kiss. We make our way over to the bed and lay down next to one another. I kiss my way down her cheek to the spot where my mark will be, very soon.

I suck and lick at the spot and I can smell her arousal filling the air. I trail kisses down to her breasts and my hands glide down her body.

This man is driving me insane with his lips and hands. My core is heating up fast and I know he can smell my excitement. There is no way I am going to last long he keeps this up.

My back arches of the bed when he slips a finger into my pussy and I can't stop myself from moaning. Then my head shoots up to look at Rico, his head is between my legs and his tongue is sucking on my clit. He adds another finger and starts moving them in and out of my pussy faster and faster. My hands crush the sheets between my fingers and I can't stop myself as I whisper his name under my breath.

He does not stop or slow down and I know I do not want him to. Soon his assault on my pussy sends me over the edge and before I can catch my breath, he thrusts his cock inside me and stills his movements.

It only hurts for a second and as soon as I feel my body adjust, I move my hips towards him. The movement makes him groan and I can see that Jax is pushing forward.

And then he starts pulling his cock out till only the head is still in side, he slides his cock back in and starts repeating the motion in a slow pace.

He increases the thrusts a little and a moan slips from my mouth. And even though this feels amazing. I want more and I tell him.

Rico

Hearing her say she wants more, is the best thing I have ever heard and it makes me lose control. I slam my cock back inside her, over and over again. Jax is thrilled that she wants this and he wants to make sure we give her what she wants and needs. I can feel my cock twitch and I know I am close. So / lower my head and let my lips glide from her shoulder to her marking spot. As soon as I reach the spet I can feel my canines grow in my mouth.

I sink them in to her flesh and at the same time I feel her canines in my marking spot. The sensation makes me come harder than ever before and I feel her pussy clenching around my cock, as she screams my name.

I put my forehead to hers and I look into her eyes. We are both slowly catching our breath, I kiss the tip of her nose and lay down next to her. "You're mine, Jax and I will always keep you safe." I whisper into her

The full moon is getting closer and I miss my Mate. Since I met her, I have not been away from her during a Full Moon and I miss her, like crazy. Sitting next to me, is Maggie and across from us, are Alice and John.

"Is something wrong? Maggie asks me. "You seemed to be far in thought." I look at her and sigh. "I just miss my Mate. This is the first Full Moon we are apart since we met."

She gives me a smile and puts her hand on my arm. "I'm sure, she is thinking about you too." And I know that she is right. Elsa will be thinking about me right now..

From the corner of my eye, I see John stiffen and his head snaps to his right. Next thing I know he jumps up, grabs Alice, and walks away. I link him and tell him to take my room, that I will make sure no one will disturb them and that I will look after Maggie. He thanks me and makes a bee-line for the house.

Maggie and I watch them as they enter the house. After a few minutes I hear her sigh and when I look at her I see sadness in her eyes. I put my hand on her armand I tell her the night is not over yet.

She looks at me, she gives me a small smile and I pull her in for a hug. "Maybe it is good you didn't find him tonight. What if it had been a male from one of these Packs?" I say to her and then we both start. laughing.

"You're probably right. But seeing Alice and John, makes me realize that I want a Mate. Even though for years I have wondered why someone would want me. And that I didn't deserve one."

I can tell she really believes she does not deserve a Mate, so I turn towards her and tell her that everyone deserves a Mate. That, back home, there are more than enough unmated males and that she just needs to wait a little longer.

John

Sitting here, talking with James, Alice, and Maggie, I am glad I took Alpha Maddox up on his invitation. And it feels good to see all the so-called Omega's out here.

They deserve a chance at happiness too, I just hope noge will be fated to one of our former Pack- members. Because I know most will make them stay here, even though Alpha Maddox made it clear that the invitation included them as well.

While those thoughts run through my mind, I feel something tugging at me and then I hear Alice gasp. As my head snaps towards her, I figure out what is going on and I do not waste a second.

I jump up, pulling her up with me. Not quite sure where to go, I start walking towards the tree-line. "Take my room, I'll tell the others to stay away. And do not worry about Maggie, she is safe with me." Gamma James says through the mind-link. I thank him as I turn to the house and keep walking, still holding on to Alice.

Maggie

I see the surprised look in Alice her eyes, when she realizes that John is her Mate. I am happy for them and I know John will treat her right.

And I start to feel sad, then I feel a hand on my arm and I see it is Gamma James. He is trying to comfort me, when he tells me there are a lot of unmated males back home and I feel a bit better.

Then he asks me what if it had been someone from here, I cannot stop myself from laughing. We talk for a while and then Gamma James suggest we crash in the living-room. Walking into the house I see most of our Pack are in the living-room.

"Why are you all down here? Go to bed." Gamma James orders. As I look around I see a few more faces missing and I start laughing, everyone looks at me and Camma James asks what it is.

Once I done laughing. I ask him to look around the room and tell me what he sees. But apparently he still hasn't noticed what is going on and he is not the only one.

Then, as I start to point out that there are certain people missing, his jaw drops and he sees that I am correct. "Who will be mated?" Elly asks and everyone agrees on the first couple; Maddox and Dagmar.

James and I confirm the second couple: John and Alice Donnie contributes the third couple: Julian and Glenn. That catches us all of guard, but it does not bother us. Paul tells us the fourth couple is Marcus and Lily. He also tells us that Rico and Samantha are the fifth couple.

James

After Maggie pointed out certain people were missing, we started guessing on which couple had been formed. We all agree on Maddox and Dagmar. And even though most are surprised by Julian being mated to Glenn, I am not. When we have matched up five couples and we have confirmation from at least one person who witnessed it, Paul points out that Lance and Jenny are missing alse. Could it be that they are still outside or did they find their mates? As we are discussing where they might be, the front door opens and Jenna walks in. I ask her if she knows where Lance and Jenny are, but she does not seem to hear me,

That is when I see that her focus is on Paul and I pull Maggie to the side as he walks over to Jenna. He tosses her over his shoulder and runs upstairs, I call after them to take Jenna's room.

"It looks like we are banished from our rooms and beds I say with a chuckle. Carlos looks at me and th he walks off, but I have no idea what he is going to do. When he gets back, there is a huge smile on his face and I look at him. "Turns out we were right on our sixth couple and I know where they are." He says with a huge smile on his face. That is when it hits me, we had figured out six couples and there are seven rooms.

"Well, looks like there will be a huge party when we get home." Chris says and we all agree. We explain to our new members that we always celebrate our new couples, no matter where they come from or what their rank is. After that we settle in for the night and one after the other drifts of to sleep.

After a few minutes I come down from my high and 1 look down at Maddox. He starts to crawl up my body and, in the meantime, he trails kisses over my belly. I can see his huge cock and a part of me is anxious.

Will it even fit? Will it hurt? Then I realize that he is watching me and he tells me not to worry. He kisses my lips. I grant him access and he deepens the kiss. I can feel the heat in my core building again as one of his hands cups a breast. He takes my nipple between his thumb and finger, it slightly hurts and then turns to pleasure. I never knew a little pain could feel this good. He moves himself between my legs and his rock-hard cock slides against my clit.

I moan again and again as he keeps moving his cock up and down. I know I am close, I know I can't take much more before I will climax again and then it happens. I scream his name when he makes me come

And luckily he understands my intent, he start moving faster and then he shift slightly, thrusting his cock deeper inside me. "Harder." I moan and Maddox is more than willing to accommodate me. And every time he thrusts in to my core, I moan loudly. His cock finds my sensitive spot and I moan even louder.

He keeps thrusting in and out, I feel the tension build inside me and then I come, harder than before. My pussy clenches around his cock and then he shoots his load in my pussy. Maddox

She puts it at the entrance of her pussy and lets herself down on my cock. I put my hands on her hips and start guiding her up and down my hard-on. She throws her head back and starts to move faster up and down. Damn, she looks so hot sitting on my cock and I have the best view of her breasts, which are bouncing up and down as well.

Dagmar

Being on top feels amazing, the angle of his cock sliding in and out of me, makes my pussy become wetter and wetter. I start to move wilder on his cock and by the sound of his groans he is enjoying this as much as I am.

Then his hands move up to my breasts, he pinches my nipples and a moan escapes my mouth. One of his hands makes his way back down and then I feel his thumb on my clit.

He presses down on it, just a bit harder every time and soon I am panting. He keeps the pressure on my clit, then he tells me to move faster and I happily comply.

It does not take long before I orgasm again and as I clench on his cock, he comes as well.

I sprawl myself on his chest, I can hear his heart beat out of control and I know mine is not doing much better at the moment. As my breathing slows down, I lift my head and look at him with a smile on my face.

"I love you, Maddox. If this is my last night..." Maddox cuts me off by shaking his head. "Babygirl, don't say that. No one knows what the morning will bring. But it is something I cannot think about right now. Just hold me."

And I lay my head back on his chest, listening to his heartbeat as I drift off to sleep.

Maddox

Holding her in my arms is the best feeling ever and I meant what I said. Right now, I do not want to think about what the morning might bring. I want to enjoy the way she makes me feel.

"We will stay close to our mate." Cole says and I nod my head. "Just remember, she knows how to handle herself. We will only lend a hand when she is in immediate danger." I tell him. We both know that she will never forgive us if we interfere without good reason. "I wonder if some of our men have found their Mate. And I hope that some of our new members were also lucky. Even though I hope none of them found someone in one of these Packs, Cole states.

I smile at him and tell him that I hope the same thing. We both feel content holding our Mate and I cannot help but smile. Looking at Dagmar, my smile becomes bigger. She looks so adorable, laying sprawled across my chest. "We are so lucky to have her." Is the last thing I say to Cole, before I fall asleep.

A push against my shoulder wakes me and it takes me second to figure out where I am. Then I recall the events from last night and a smile spreads across my face.

"James." A soft voice next to me whispers. With a jolt I sit up and look at Maggie. "What is it, Maggie?" I ask her, she holds out a phone to me and says it is Mason.

I can tell the phone isn't mine and for a second I look confused. "It's Dagmar's and I didn't know if it was wise to wake her." She says softly. I take the phone from her hand and ask Mason why he called.

He tells me that within the next half hour the second enemy wave will be upon us. And that their reinforcements will be there about an hour after that. Ithank him for the intel, then I turn to Maggie and ask her if she can start making breakfast.

"Make sure it is something we can cat on the run, we have about 30 minutes." She jumps up and she wakes up Elly, Lucy, June, and Ella. On their way to the kitchen, she fills them in and within seconds I hear them moving around the kitchen.

I mind-link everyone to alert them to the danger, then realize I cannot contact the Alpha's. A knock on the door, tells me that at least someone from the Packs is awake.

1 open the door to see Jeff standing on the front porch. Before he can say anything I tell him to alert the others, that the enemy will be knocking on our door in less than 30 minutes.

I see his eyes glaze and I know that the alarm will be sounded soon. As I am about to close the door, I realize that Jeff is still standing there. I ask him if there is something I can do for him and he nods his head.

At that same moment I hear feet storming down the stairs, Jeff tells me he would like to talk to us. Maddox invites him in for breakfast, so he can talk while we cat. When Maggie hands him a plate, he tells her he already ate. Maddox "Enemy will be arriving in 30 minutes." Sounds through the mind-link and as I jump up, Dagmar glides of my body on to the ground.

"Babygirl, I'm sorry." I say. "You can blame your Uncle for that one." I growl and she starts laughing. "It's okay. I don't break that easily." She says jokingly. Using our speed, we get ready in a few minutes and as we head down, we are met with other couples emerging from the rooms on our floor.

And by the time we are gathered in the hallway, I have a smile on my face. "I would like to talk to you about something." I hear a Warrior say. The guy looks familiar, but I cannot place him, so I invite him in and tell him to start talking.

He tells me that Josh, Eric, and himself were sent to the farthest border there is at the Full Moon. They were sent there as punishment.

"Why did the Alpha's think it was necessary to punish you?" I ask. He explains that the Alpha's had not appreciated them volunteering to stay with Dagmar.

"What would they gain by sending you there, Jeff?" Dagmar asks and I am curious about the answer as well. He tells her that this way they would remain mate-less if one of the so called Omega's was their Mate.

Because the distance was too far for the bond to snap in place. Before she can respond I grab her arm and pull her on my lap "Calm down, Babygirl. I fix this." I tell her in the mind-link.

"Jett, I hereby extend the invitation to you, Eric and Josh to join my Pack. Will you let them know?" Jeff looks at me and then his eyes glaze over, within minutes Eric and Josh show up. All three accept the invitation and we complete the oath immediately. "Let's get going. The enemy is closing in. No time to lose," Rico yells before he runs out the door. Samantha is on his heels and I see Alice and Maggie looking at each other.

"John, escort Alice and Maggie to one of the shelters and help them keep the children safe." I shout towards him, as I run out the door.

"On it. Alpha." Dagmar and the rest are on my tail, as I order through the mind-link that they are to report to their previous post. "Make sure you tell them to report to their Pack-members what is happening and report to me if someone breaches the border." I tell them through the link.

Dagmar stays close to me, this time she is not staying behind.

John reports that he and the girls made it to one of the shelters and that they are in position. One by one my men report that they are in position. As Dagmar and I approach our post, Glenn reports the arrival of the first enemy-warriors.

Every group consist of a Lycan and members of each Pack, this way everyone is up to date on the circumstances as they happen. The south border is the first to get hit and within minutes they attack from all sides.

I let Cole push forward and we charge the Wolves that are coming. A wolf charges at me, head on, and we grab his head in our claws and snap it. Around us bodies are dropping, the smell of blood and death becomes stronger and stronger. Dagmar is fighting of two wolves and for a second we want to go to her, but then a whimper to my right draws our attention. June is surrounded by five wolves and one has his teeth in her hindleg.

As I am fighting two Wolves, I feel his eyes on me and then I hear a whimper. I see that June is in trouble and then I see Cole taking complete control. I am still amazed at the sight of Cole, despite the fact that I have seen him before.

I know he will help June to fight of those Wolves and I decide playtime is over. I jump up and turn midair to land on one of the Wolves back, my claws come out and I rip his head off.

The other Wolf startles and that is his downfall, because I take that as the opportunity to end him as well. It have a few seconds to breath and I use those to check for a message from Mason.

His message tells me we have seven minutes until the next wave. I alert the others through the link and I yell it our loud to the Warriors around me. Three of them step back, while the rest step in front of them and then I see their eyes glaze over.

We all get back in to position and await the next wave of Warriors to crash in to us. This group is bigger and apparently better trained, because it is more difficult to take them down.

But I manage to take down the Wolves that charge at me and Emma is having a field day. She pushes forward a little bit more, when another Wolf charges at me and this one is even tougher than the rest.

Suddenly I feel a pain in my shoulder. "Fuck, the idiot slashed us. Now I am pissed." Emma growls in my head. And then she pushes forward as far as she can, without pushing me to the back.

We turn on our heels and face our enemy head on. He lunges at us, but just before he reaches us we step to the side and our claw slashes his neck wide open. His body hits the ground with a huge thud and his life is

Maddox

Wave after wave, the enemy hits us and they are stronger then the last wave. And with every wave it becomes harder to strike them down. During the third wave, we had our first casualty and I was relieved it was not one of mine. Dagmar teamed up with a Warrior during the third wave and they are dropping bodies as fast as they can. Cole and I are proud of her, she is fearless and she doesn't back down during the fights.

Then I hear a mournful howl and soon more howls are heard, Alpha Nathan is gone. Part of me is not saddened by it, but the other part of me knows he gave everything he had.

Marcus had linked me during the second and third wave, letting me know that Alpha Nathan was a skilled fighter. It had surprised both of us and because of that I feel sad for the foss of a good warrior.

Then Dagmar links me that the fourth wave is coming and that that will be the last of it. It looks like Dagmar will be facing her nightmare soon and Cole and I are not happy about that.

We know she will not back down, she will face him head on and we will by her side. I alert my members to stay on their posts, I tell them to keep an eye out for Alpha Max, his Beta Geoff, and his Gamma Henry.

I tell them to make sure everyone knows I want them alive, because I want to make sure that Dagmar and I end their reign of terror. One by one they check in to let me know that everyone is informed of the order. Than wa

Bright green eyes, a devilish face and then he emergence from the forest.

Alpha Max is flanked by his Beta and Gamma, they are in their human form and behind them are many Wolves. I link my Pack-members, asking them how many of the enemy are in front of them.

And the answer shocks me because they all tell me the same thing: none. Maddox orders through the link that they need to leave the Packs in charge of guarding the borders and then they have to get to us as soon as possible.

A smirk appears on my face when I realize that Alpha Max does not recognize me. He is looking around and he starts to look angrier and angrier the more he looks around.

Emma and I decide to spice things up "Looking for something. Sir." I ask sweetly and his head snaps towards me. A Wolf appears from the forest, he's wounded and I know it is the Wolf that lunged at me earlier.

"You said she was here, but I don't see her." He growls at the Wolf. I can feel Maddox right behind me and I can feel the others approach. The Wolf shifts, once in his human form he points at me. "That is her, Alpha. I'm positive." He states. Alpha Max turns his head my way, I see a smile on his face. But the second he looks at me, his face falls and I know what the cause of that is. His eyes are glued to the mark on my neck and then he lets out a growl.

"You are mine. Who's mark do you wear?" He yells. Maddox steps next to me and puts his hand on my lower back. No one has to tell Alpha Max that this is the man that marked me, because he can see my mark on Maddox's neck. 892

Looking towards the woman, the one I have been looking for, I see a mark on her neck. "You are mine. Who's mark do you wear?" I yell at her. I see Alpha Madlox stepping next to her, he puts his hand on her. lower back and then I see her mark on his neck.

I feel Geoff and Henry tense, I know what is going through their minds and I feel the same way. She is supposed to be mine, I searched for years after I thought I had lost my chance and now she is marked by another.

"What the hell do you want?" She hisses in my direction. She is surrounded by Lycans and Werewolves, she does not resemble the girl I saw twelve years ago.

But my Wolf tells me it is her and he cannot wait to have her. He pushes forward, takes a step towards them and growls. "You are ours, one way or the other."

She does not blink an eye as she keeps her eyes on us. I am not yours and I never will be. And I would rather die than end up with you." The determination on her face tells me that she will fight me every step of the way.

But I know she will be mine, we are undefeated and there is no way these pups can beat us.

Henry links me that they are trying to surround us, so tell my men we will have some fun soon. "Okay, let me tell you a story. Maybe that will answer some of your questions."

I look at her and start telling her my story. "Centuries ago, one of my ancestors found out that the Alpha of a neighboring Pack had been mated to a female Alpha. She made that Pack the strongest there was and my ancestor did not like that.

He wanted her for himself, he wanted the power she gave that Pack. So he came up with a plan to kidnap her, hoping to weaken her Alpha and his Pack. Knowing her Alpha was ordered to appear in front of the Council, he ordered his men to take her, while he was at that meeting as well.

Keeping her locked up, bound with silver and wolfsbane in her water, he was able to attack that Pack and kill her Alpha. After that he forcefully marked her, gaining her powers for his Pack.

Unfortunately, she escaped the attention of her Guard one day and took her own life. After that, every Alpha in our pack has been looking for a new female Alpha. We made sure we had informants in as many Packs as possible, but it was not one of them that informed me about you.

Actually, you have your Uncle to thank for that. Finding his Mate, left a woman scorned and she sold you out. Can you imagine my surprise, when I found out that there were two female Alpha's in your pack. The rest is history, as they say." Dagmar

My entire pack slaughtered, because of a power hungry Alpha. Emma and I want to rip his head off and after that we will wipe out the rest of his pack. Maddox starts running circles on my back, because he can sense my mood and he wants to keep me from doing something rash.

Grateful for his presence and confidence in me, I turn towards him and put my arms around his waist, inhaling his scent. Someone starts growling and I know exactly who it is.

Maddox tells everyone to stay alert, to keep an eye on any movement from their side. From the corner of my eye, I see movement within the forest and then Jeff inks us. He is with the Warriors from the Packs: and they have the enemy surrounded. He tells us that Alpha Owen had ordered the Warriors to help out and for a second I wanna ask who Alpha. Owen is, but then I remember the loss of Alpha Nathan

I tell everyone to wait for my signal, because I want to make sure that we can win this fight. My pack- members move slightly, they keep their eyes on the enemy and are waiting for me to make my move.

"You will pay for what you did. Even if it is the last thing I will ever do. Your reign of terror is over, Alpha Max. For a second I see something glimmer in his eyes but it is gone before I can tell what it is.

His men look a little worried after hearing my words and I take that small distraction to lunge at him. He blocks my attack, but as I spin around I'm able to claw at his back.

His Gamma and Beta, both shift, before they get attacked by Cole. His Lycan form is bigger and broader than that of an Alpha Wolf, by definition a Lycan is bigger than a Wolf and being an Alpha Lycan makes him even bigger.

Cole is as dark as the night, his claws are long and his canines would scare the shit out of most Wolves. I am facing Max, determination in my eyes and he lunges at me.

Jumping out of the way, I feel one of his claws dig in to my shoulder and I cry out in pain. Hearing him chuckle makes me lose control of Emma, I shift while making a turn towards him and then it is our turn to chuckle.

The surprised look on his face, when he gets confronted with Emma, is priceless. Apparently, no one informed him that an female Alpha is an extraordinary sight.

Emma takes advantage of his temporary distraction, not wasting a second she jumps up, turning mid-air, she lands on his back. However, he recovers fast and is able to throw her of his back before she can bite down. And then he shifts back to his human form, I do the same and Emma and I wonder why he shifted back. Whimpers can be heard all around us, I can smell the scent of death and blood.

Emma and I keep our eyes on Max, while circling him. That way we can see what is going on around us, I see our pack-members fighting the enemy, some in human form, some in Lycan or wolf form.

It is good to see them collaborating with the Warriors Alpha Owen sent From the corner of my eye, I see Cole fighting Geoff and Henry and I know Cole is toying with them. He is bleeding, but not enough for me to get worried. "That mate of yours will be gone, soon enough and then your will be mine." I hear Max say and it is as if Cole had been waiting for a sign.

He grabs Geoff by his hindleg and clamps down his jaw, Geoff starts to whimper in pain, Then Cole tosses him aside and turns his attention to Henry.

Chapter 134 Colé

I can smell my Babygirl and I know she is injured, but fine. And that is what keeps me going. I am waiting for them to screw up and when they do, I will take them down.

When I hear Alpha Max speaking to Dagmar, I decide is time to stop playing. Geoff is the first one to receive some of my anger, as I toss him aside 1 turn to Henry and by the look on his face he knows his time is up.

I jump on his back to pin him to the ground and then close my canines around his neck, squeezing the life out of him. Knowing that Geoff is still breathing, keeps me alert and I quickly glance at my mate, she is focused on Max and does not see the threat coming from behind.

Just as two Wolves prepare to lunge at her, she jumps up and shifts mid-air. Before I can blink, she has taken both their heads off and I can't help but feel proud of her.

I can feel Geoff creeping closer and I let him think that he can surprise me. When he is so close that he can no longer escape, I turn around and snap his head. His body drops to the ground and I drop his head next - to it.

I turn my attention to the rest of our enemies and I can tell that Alpha Max kept his strongest men for last. Looking at our side, I see that we have lost a few men and women and a lot of them are wounded.

I all so see the determination in the eyes of those still fighting. Keeping an eye on our girl, I decide to help out Lucy and Elly. They are up against some bulky wolves and I can see the exhaustion on their faces.

I jump between the women, knocking down two wolves in the process. The three of us make a game out of it, I knock them down and the girls finish them off. The grin on the girls faces gets bigger and bigger, the more Wolves we take down.

Some of the enemy Wolves retreat, not willing to lose their lives for a power-hungry Alpha. My men tell me to keep an eye on Dagmar, that they will keep the remainder of the enemy at bay.. Emma Alpha Max keeps staring at her, but his face pales when he realizes that Cole had been toying with his men. Dagmar takes advantage of his gaze traveling to his dead Gamma and Beta.

She leaps in to the air and lets me take over. Shifting mid-air, I land on his back and pin him to the ground. Before he can defend himself, I grabs his neck with my canines and rips his head off.

Howls are heard from his pack as his head lands on the ground with a thud. Looking over my shoulder, I see those that can, take off and those that are badly wounded get taken care of by our Pack-members.

The ones with light injuries get surrounded and they strender without hesitation. We will turn them over to the Council and they will deal with them accordingly

Stepping away from his body, l'bump into something and without thinking about it I attack. But luckily he is fast enough to dodge me and I turn my head towards him.

Cole me and presses his body against mine I put my head beneath his and he moves even es up to closer to me. "It is over, Babygirl." Cole says in the mind-link and I hear our Pack-members howl in joy

I press myself closer to Cole, calming myself down by inhaling his scent. Cole nuzzles my neck, doing the same thing I am doing, letting our mate's scent calm us down from the fight. Before approaching us, Uncle James links us and lets us know that the enemy is secure. When he reaches. us, he puts clothes in front of us and we both shift back to our human form. Maddox

While putting some clothes on, I look around us and see that none of my Pack-members are severely

Pack. injured. It has been one hell of a fight and it surprises me that I have not lost a member of my

"Get them on their feet, we will put them in the cells at the Pack-houses. The Council can deal with them. I have had enough of these fucking idiots." I say to no one in particular. Dagmar puts her arm around my waist and I kiss her forehead, while pulling her close to me. We walk back to the Pack-house of the Black Moon Pack with our prisoners in tow.

The slash on Dagmar's shoulder has already healed and the same goes for my injuries. "Alpha Maddox, why are those men still alive?" Alpha Adam asks. But before I am able to answer him, his son responds "Father, the Council will deal with them. They will answer for their crimes and a trail will give their victims. some closure." It looks like the kid has a brain and a conscience..

While I was concentrating on Alpha Adam and his son, Dagmar stepped away from me and now I am looking around for her. I see her sitting next to Alpha Owen, an arm around his shoulder.

Under normal circumstances Cole and I would be jealous and would want to rip his head off, but we know what he lost. So I walk over to them and put a hand on his shoulder

"I am sorry for your loss, Owen. Your father was a skilled fighter and I know he gave everything he had." Dagmar looks up at me with eyes filled with sorrow. "He lost more than just his father, Maddox. His mother...." Her voice trails off, she does not have to finish because I know what she wanted to say.

Then Alpha Adam tells Owen to man up, to quit whining, after all he is an Alpha now and should not show weakness in front of his pack.

"Father, shut the fuck up, before I make you." Andrew growls at his father. "I think it is time you step down. Either you do it willingly or I will challenge you for the title."

Everyone looks at Andrew and I for one will like to hear Alpha Adams response. It probably will be for the best if that asshole steps down, but I doubt that he will do it willingly.

Alpha Adam growls at his son, he lunges forward and tries to pin Andrew down. But apparently, Andrew has been paying attention during training, because he side-steps and with his claw he slashes his father's back.

The Alpha stumbles a little, gets his footing back and lashes out at Andrew again. I hear his mother yelling for them to stop, but they don't hear her and I put my arms around her to keep her back.

She fights me, hoping she can get free, but it does not take her long to figure out that I am not letting her go. Andrew keeps coming at his father and he turns out to be stronger than his father had figured.

Alpha Adam tries to overtake his son, but it does not do him any good. He lunges at Andrew, aiming for his jugular. For a second I fear that he will succeed in his attempt to win this fight and again Andrew surprises me as he is just able to avoid the attack.

As he turns, his claws slice through his father's throat and the fight is over as Alpha Adams lifeless body drops to the ground.

I loosen my hold on his mother and she runs towards the men. Thinking she will run to her Mate and grieve, I do nothing to stop her. What none of us expect happens, when she is close to her Mate and Son she shifts and lunges for Andrew.

He is not expecting her attack, but luckily for him Leon reacts fast enough to pin her to the ground. Alpha Owen runs towards them and in his Alpha voice he orders her to shift.

Leon holds on to her, not willing to let her go, afraid she might try again to attack her own Son. Maddox steps forward, he looks at Andrew and says "You decide what you want to do with her. But her actions are punishable by death, seeing the fact she attacked an Alpha." Andrew looks at his mother, she looks at him with a murderous glare and says "You better end me, Son. Otherwise you will always be looking over your shoulder." Her remark makes no sense to me and I look at Uncle James for answers.

He walks over to where she is being held, he gets down on one knee and makes her look at him. "Why do you care? He was your chosen Mate and everyone knows how he treaded you." Uncle James asks her.

"You are partially right, our parents made the decision for us. But luckily we were fated Mates. It was just an act to the outside world." My jaw drops at this admission and I know I'm not the only one. Maddox

Hearing her talk, I can hear the heartache in her voice. can tell she is heartbroken and I am afraid that she will not recover from the loss of her mate.

Andrew kneels down in front of his Mother with a sad look on his face. He asks her why his Father would cheat on her if she was his fated Mate and her head snaps up to him.

"Liar, he would never do that to me." She yells at him and I wonder why he made that comment. "Adam, cha mould kora falt it if he had humn chanting Cha un homm hoan in a lot of main" I rall him

He looks at his Mother and asks her if she tell about the pain she would feel once a month for 2 to 3 days. She nods and tells him that she always had gone through pain when she had her period, but that after being marked by her Mate it had gotten worse. Adam doesn't have to explain to me what he had mean with his comment, because she just gave the answer herself.

"Mom, it was on those days that he was cheating on you. You would be locked in your room for days and Dad would go off to find someone to spend those days with.

He even told Alpha Jonas and Alpha Nathan that you were dumb enough to believe him, when he had told you that the increase of pain had to do with being marked by your Matc."

Leon jumps up, letting go of her and he grabs his father by the throat. "Is what he says true, father?" All Alpha Jonas can do is nod his head. Andrew holds his Mother while she is sobbing loudly, he rocks her in his arms and I actually feel sorry for the woman. Leon has drop his Father and looks down at him. "Do you want to join Alpha Adam and Alpha Nathan or will you step down willingly?" Leon asks him and shock crosses Alpha Jonas' face.

He gets up from the ground and stands in front of his Son. "I, Alpha Jonas, hereby hand over the title of Alpha to my Son, Leon." And with that a new generation of Alpha's is taking over these Packs. Dagmar

It is close to dinner-time when we get back to the house All I want right now is a hot bath and some peace. and quiet. Before I can walk up the steps, Alpha Andrew calls my name and I turn to face him. "Thank you for everything you did. I know I was being an asshole when we met, but you met my Father." He says and we both laugh..

"There is enough room in the Pack-house. So, I would like to invite you to stay there. I believe the Guest-house is a bit crowded." And we all laugh at his statement

"Thank you, Alpha Andrew. I think a few of us might take you up on that offer. Unless they want to spend another night in the living-room." I say with a smile on my face.

"I am not spending another night on a couch." I hear Uncle James mutter. And I know that all our unmated pack-members will join Uncle James and move to the Pack-house. 892

Then he turns to Lily and apologizes to her and the other so-called Omega's for the way they had been treated. "I know that this does not make up for anything we put you through. But I hope you all find your Mate and will be able to put this behind you."

Lily looks at him and with a small smile on her face she says "Alpha Andrew, I hope you learned a valuable lesson from this. I know that I will be able to put this behind me with the help of my Mate." After that she looks up at Marcus and puts her arms around his waist. Maggie asks through the mind-link. if anyone wants her to prepare dinner or that we are willing to take a chance on their cooking. We all burst out in laughter and Andrew looks at us, confused. Maggie tells him what she said and to my surprise he starts to laugh as well.

"You are right. When it comes to cooking and the rest of your chores, we suck at them. I will probably burn down the house trying to cook." And that makes us laugh even harder.

"Maggie, if you want to cook, you can. But know that no one will ever expect you to do it. Is that understood?" Maddox says to her. "Yes, Alpha." She says before making her way to the Pack-house.

Alice, June and John follow her and I know that they will be safe with John watching them. Then Eric asks permission to go with them, so he can keep an eye on them as well.

Maddox nods and Eric turns towards the Pack-house, stopping in front of Alpha Andrew. "No offense, Alpha Andrew. But there are some Pack-members I don't trust." Andrew nods his head, understanding what he is talking about. Maddox

I swell with pride when I hear Eric talking to Alpha Andrew. This man is not afraid to show an Alpha where his priorities lay.

"Why don't we all go freshen up? Then we will meet each other at the Pack-house for dinner." I say and everyone agrees with me. I put my arm around Dagmar's shoulder and walk in to the house with her.

James tells the unmated members to grab their stuff and make their way to the Pack-house. We all walk upstairs and disappear in our rooms. Because Dagmar and I do not have other roommates, we are alone the second we close the door behind us.

I grab her by the waist, lifting her up and she wraps her legs around my waist. I make my way to the bathroom, holding her close to me and she nuzzles my neck. Cole is purring in my head at her show of affection, Dagmar giggles and I realize that Cole was not quiet when he started purring.

In the bathroom I sit her down on the counter and turn on the shower. Turning towards her, my jaw drops, because our Babygirl was butt naked. "How the hell did she do that." Cole says in my head and I can't answer him. First of all because I don't have the answer second of all I am to distracted by the view in front of me.

Making my way over to her, I rip of my own clothes and the second I am in front of her our lips smash Together. Pulling her up, I step back and head in to the shower.

I can feel it the second Cole takes over, he is pounding into my core and I am loving every second of it. He lowers his head, licking one of my nipples and my head falls back, my eyes closing at the sensation coursing through my body. Then he slows down, my head snaps to his and I look at him, wondering way he is slowing down. "Sorry, Babygirl. I could not stop myself. This feels so good and I have been waiting for years."

I shake my head and give him a little smile. "You did nothing wrong. I... Not sure how to tell him, I let the sentence trail of "Babygirl, you can tell us anything. We love you, no matter what." Looking into his eyes I can see he is being truthful and decide to take a chance. "Please, Cole. I need you as much as you need me."

The second I am finished speaking, he slams his lips to nine and starts pounding into my core again. I open my lips, letting him in to deepen the kiss and I start moving my hips towards him.

We do not last long, both climaxing at the same time. He holds me close as we both catch our breath and I put my head in his neck, enjoying his embrace. Once we are breathing normal again, we actually get showered and get dressed. We walk down the stairs, expecting to be the last ones. But as we are to go down the last flight of stairs, we hear noise behind us and when we turn around we see Lance, Jenny, Jenna and Paul.

We are about to move to the front door when Samantha and Rico come down the stairs and I cannot help but smile. "Why are you smiling, Babygirl?" Maddox asks through the mind-link. "Just seeing our friends and family happy." I reply, He pulls me in for a hug and puts a kiss on the top of my head. "Okay, we better get going. Before there is nothing left." Paul says and we all walk out the door.

Walking in to the Pack-house I can tell the atmospheres tense and I link Eric to find out what happened. He informs me that Sienna and a few of her friends tried to attack Lily, Alice, and June.

But Alpha Andrew and Alpha Owen had stepped in and had banned them from the Pack-house for the time being. "She probably put up a huge fight, when she got banned, didn't she?" I ask him and he confirms my suspicion.

I tell him to make sure that he and John keep an eye on the girls. I follow Dagmar's scent and find her in the living-room, talking to Elly and Lucy. They are talking about home, the Pack they now belong to and I can see smiles on their faces.

"They will be happy there and with a little luck, they will find their Mates there too. James says. Then Lily walks in telling us the girls finished preparing dinner. So everyone makes their way over to the dining-room.

As we sit down. Matteo links me and I have to restrain myself from showing any emotion. The girls out did themselves tonight and I know I am going to enjoy my meal, even though I fear someone may Που We all put food on our plates and then the table goes quiet as everyone is looking at Dagmar. She looks around the table and I can tell she is starting to feel uncomfortable.

"What." She says to no one in particular. I keep my mouth shut, knowing that someone will dig their own grave and I do not have to wait long for it. Matteo looks at her and says "No one eats, until our Luna has...7 But he does not even get the chance to finish. Dagmar has jumped on the table and is holding him in the air by his throat. He is gasping for air and tries to pry her hands away from his neck, but I know he will not be able to.

His breathing becomes less and less and I decide to put a stop to it. "Babygirl, will you be so kind to not murder one of our Warriors?" I ask her and she looks at me over her shoulder.

Then she drops Matteo and jumps into my arms, putting her face in my neck.

After we sit down, she looks at Matteo and I have a feeling that my night might not be so great after all. "Don't ever say that again, Matteo. Next time you will not survive." She says looking him dead in the eye.

I clear my throat and she turns her attention to me. I hear Cole chuckle in my head and he wishes me luck with this talk, as he says.

-Babygirl, Matteo is actually correct in what he said. No one starts eating, until the Luna has had the first bite." She looks at me as if I am speaking some foreign language.

"Let me try this in a different way. You are my Mate and I am the Alpha, so what does that make you, Babygirl?" I ask her and she needs a minute to process the information.

Then her jaw drops, her eyes widen and then she jumps up and runs out of the room. I run after her, not at full speed, because I realize she needs some time to coop with what I told her. I do not lose sight of her and follow her to the field of Camellia's her mother planted. Dagmar

At first I thought Matteo was messing with me, but after Maddox explained what he meant, I panicked and ran. He is right though, being his Mate, makes me the Lama of his Pack.

But I do not know how to be a Luna and I do not know anyone who could teach me how to be one. When 1 smell a familiar scent I stop running and I find myself surrounded by Camellia's.

Seeing the flowers my Mom planted all those years ago I fall to my knees and start sobbing. Arms wrap around me and I feel safe, I feel at home. He does not say a word, he just holds me and lets me cry.

I can feel Cole's presence and I curl into their body. When I finally have calmed down to face Maddox, I lift up my head and see that it is already dark.

Looks like it took me longer this time to calm down and then my stomach grumbles. Maddox chuckles and I laugh while turning to face him.

"Sorry, I ran. But I just panicked, I do not know how to be a Luna. What if I mess up? What if I say something wrong? What if I." Maddox puts a finger on my lips to stop me from rambling.

"You will do fine, Babygirl. You have always been there for those that needed to talk. For those that needed a problem solved. You were there when Owen needed someone.

Listening to him, I realize he is right. Sometimes things would come up he didn't know how to handle and he would always ask me to help him out. And I always loved taking care of the issue's he couldn't solve.or which made him feel uncomfortable.

And I know I can always relay on him and my family to help me if I am at a loss. I smile at him and I tell him that I will do my best as long as he promises to be there to catch me when I fall.

"I will always catch you when you fall. You can count on that, Babygirl." I throw my arms around his neck and I pull him down to me for a kiss. A kiss that starts small, but gets deeper and hotter fast.

Unfortunately my stomach decides to be the party-pooper and starts to grumble again. We pull away from each other and he smiles at me. "Let us go, Babygirl. Maybe if we're lucky they saved us some dinner. Maddox says.

When I see her fall to her knees, Cole starts pacing in my head, we are both worried she might be hurt and then we hear her cry. We know better than to ask questions, so we do the one thing we know will help.

We wrap

her in our arms and I give way to Cole, so he can calm her down. Hearing she fears she might not be a good Luna, makes me feel sad and I start pointing out that she has nothing to worry about.

When her stomach starts to grumble, I smile at her and we make our way back to the Pack-house. We both need some food and then I have every intention to continue what we started out in that field of Camellia's. Walking in to the Pack-house, I linked James to ask if there was any food left for us. "In the Kitchen. Maggie and I put it in the fridge and are guarding it for you. Is his answer.

"Maggie, thank you for saving us some dinner. I say, while looking at James. He looks at Dagmar and I can tell something did not go as planned. "James, what is it? I ask him, putting an arm around her waist. He tells us that after we left, Sienna had made a scene outside and it had escalated completely. We both look at him, then he sighs and continues.

"Sienna apparently listened in on what happened at the dinner-table and she said that Dagmar was not cut out to be a Luna. That really pissed off Lily and she attacked Sienna for disrespecting our Luna.

They had to bring Sienna to the infirmary, Lily really did a number on her, Maddox. Marcus had trouble pulling her of Sienna." Dagmar looks at her Uncle and then she starts laughing.

We all look at her with surprised looks on our faces. "Sorry, but I think this was not just about me. I think she used me as an excuse to show that girl, she had had enough of her bullshit."

She starts laughing again and I cannot help but join her I also think that Dagmar is right and I can't blame Lily for reacting the way she did.

"What happened to Lily?" Dagmar asks, making me look at her. "Alpha Andrew told Marcus to take her to the Guest-house and to keep her there for as long as we are still here." Maggie answers.

I nod, understanding why Andrew made that decision and I hope Marcus is able to convince Lily that it is best to stay indoors. In the meantime Dagmar and I have finished our dinner and I tell James and Maggie to go to bed.

Getting up from my seat, I grab Dagmar's hand and walk out of the kitchen. In the hallway we run into Alpha Andrew and for a second I want to keep walking

However Dagmar pulls me to a stop and I look at her before turning my attention to Alpha Andrew. "How is Sienna doing." I ask him. He looks at me and says "She'll live. But Lily got her good, though."

A smile creeps on to his face and he walks past us towards the stairs. "It wasn't as if she didn't have it coming. Just surprised by who finally handed her her ass." And with that he walks up the stairs. Dagmar

"Look at me, Lily." Maddox says with a stern voice. Her head snaps up and I see Marcus stepping out of their room, keeping his eyes on Lily. Lily looks worried and looking at his face, does not case her nerves ar all.

Then Maddox starts laughing and you can see the confusion on her face. "Don't worry, Lily. Even if Alpha Andrew had been mad, I would have handled it. Luckily, he feels the same way, I do.

He was just surprised you were the one who handed he ass to her." Her jaw drops, Marcus is chuckling behind her, and we hear laughter coming from another room down the hall.

We wish them goodnight and walk to our room. "Maddox, did you inform the home-front on the newly mated couples?" I ask him, he looks at me shaking his head. "Why don't we let that be a surprise, Babygirl." He says.

I smile at him, because I know why he wants to keep it a secret just a little longer. I wonder if I should link everyone to tell them, but decide against it. Not everyone will like me interrupting them right now and a smile spreads across my face.

Maddox asks me why I'm smiling, so I tell him and he agrees with me. We are both exhausted, so we take of our clothes and crawl into bed. He pulls me close to him and I snuggle in to his side. It does not take us long to drift off to sleep.

I look into those bright green eyes and hear him say "Every Alpha since then has been looking for a female Alpha, to get her powers for our Pack. You will be mine one way or the other."

I jolt up from my sleep and a shiver runs down my spine. Maddox pulls me into his arms and asks me what is wrong, I tell him I dreamt of Alpha Max and I can feel that Cole is getting angry.

"Maddox, Cole. I dreamt of what he said at the battlefield. About the powers a female Alpha can bring to a Pack." I explain to them. I can tell that Maddox and Cole are talking and I can see his facial expression change, which is a funny sight to see and it makes me giggle. "What is so funny, Babygirl?" Cole growls at me. "Oh, shush, you idiot. It is just funny seeing the two of you communicate." I say, while I am still giggling.

Cole pushes me back on the bed and straddles my waist "Did you just call me an idiot." He says, while looking me dead in the eye. I gulp, realizing that was not a smart move, calling a Lycan an idiot.

"I'm sorry, Cole. It just slipped out." I say, but I know I am in trouble. In a flash he has put me on his lap, my ass up in the air and before I can react, his hand collides with my bottom.

I shriek, but instead of just feeling pain, it quickly turns into pleasure and when he smacks his hand to my bottom a second time, I actually moan. Cole chuckles, smacking my bottom again and again.

I moan even louder and I can feel my panties getting damp. I didn't think I would like getting spanked, but I do like it and I know I will get myself in trouble again, just so Cole can punish me in this delicious way some more.

"You like this, don't you, Babygirl. I can smell your arousal." He whispers near my ear and a loud moan escapes my lips.

Cole

When she called us an idiot, I pushed forward and I knew exactly what I was going to do. "Cole, don't scare her. She might not like this." Maddox says in my head.

As my hand connects with her ass, I can feel that she is urprised and then the most delectable smell hits me. I keep smacking her ass at a consistent pace and with every smack her moans become louder.

One hand caresses her red ass and the other slides between her legs. Her panties are soaking wet, my hand cups her pussy and she pushes herself against our hand

I love how she reacts to us and I know it won't take long before she is ready for me. I slip my hand into her panties and put pressure on her clit, making her moan again. Needing full excess, I tear her panties and push a finger inside her. start pushing my finger in and out of her pussy and I add a second finger. She is so wet that my fingers slide in and out easily. I start fingerfucking her faster and harder, knowing she loves it and I can feel my cock harden as she moans. That is it, Babygirl. Keep those legs spread." I groan. I keep my fingers slipping in and out of her faster and harder, I want to make her come hard. And I know. it will not take long before she is going over the edge. Her moans become louder and she starts moving against my hand more wildly, losing control of her movements.

Not slowing down for a second on assaulting her pussy push her over the edge and she climaxes hard on my fingers. As she comes down from her high, I slow down and one by one I remove my fingers. "Don't do it, Cole. You will scare her off." Maddox says in my head, knowing what I am going to do.

Cole slows down, slipping one finger after another out of my pussy, he stretched me to the limit and I loved every second of it. Sliding his last finger out, I feel it is making it is way up my ass and I wonder if he is going to do what I think he is up to. I am not sure if I will like what he might be up to, but I know I will try it anyway. Slowly his finger slides up higher and higher, getting closer to my backdoor and then I feel him putting his finger to my back-

e slight pressure feels good, it surprises me that it feels good. Because I don't stop him, he puts more pressure and I feel his finger, that is slippery from my juice, slip in the my backdoor. For a second I freeze and I hear him ask if I want him to stop. "No, don't stop. It feels good, but just take it slow." Is my response. He pushes his finger in further and further, I moan as he goes deeper in to my ass. Then he starts to move his finger in and out of me, the faster he goes, the more I moan and I tell him I want more. He adds a second finger and the sting of him stretching my ass, turns into pleasure. He picks up his pace again and I love how it makes me feel. He moves his other hand to my breast and start to pinch my nipple, I never knew I would like some pain with my pleasure and I moan loudly.

As if he was waiting for a sign from me, he starts fingerfucking my ass harder and faster. "Soon, Babygirl, soon." He whispers in my ear and I wonder what he means by that.

But before I can ask or think about it, he slams in me even harder and then I come, harder than ever before. I scream his name as he pushes me into my next climax. He barely gives me time to breath, because he flips me on my back and thrusts his cock into my pussy, hard and rough.

A loud moan escapes my lips as he slams himself balls cep into my core. He doesn't slow down, he starts fucking me harder and faster and I can feel him hitting my sensitive spot over and over. I feel my next orgasm build and I feel his cock growing slightly inside me, just before we both climax.

We fell asleep after that and suddenly I wake up, realization hitting me in my dream. In my dream I am in the same position on Cole's lap as earlier tonight, but in my dream he doesn't flip me on my back.

No, in my dream he bends me over the side of the bed using the juices from my pussy he slowly pushes his cock into my ass. He leans towards my ear and whisper "I told you, soon, Babygirl."

And then he starts pounding in to me, fast and hard. He slips a hand around my waist and finds his way to my clit. He slides two fingers in my pussy and his thumb on my clit, while still pounding my backdoor.

He isn't gentle, he takes me hard and rough and I start moaning louder. I pushed back against his body, Slamming into my body harder and harder, I feel the heat building up in my body and as I am about to come, I woke up. Going over my dream, I hope this is what Cole meant when he had said "Soon, Babygirl, soon." After that I fell asleep again.

Waking up, I look beside me to find Dagmar still asleep. Cole and I are feeling unsatisfied, it takes me a while to figure out why. It is not until Cole starts to show me images of us and Dagmar, explaining that we had a dream about her and that it had ended rather abruptly, leaving us with a rock-hard cock.

I am a little embarrassed looking at the images, it is a part of us that we never showed to Gina. It was something we did before we met her and once we got to know her better, we knew that she would never indulge us. But I also know that Cole wants to find out if we can make this dream a reality, because Dagmar seemed to enjoy our actions last night. Dagmar starts to stir, she slowly opens her eyes and a smile spreads across her face.

I bend my head down and capture her lips with mine. A knock on the door makes me groan against her lips and she starts to giggle.

"Who is it." I growl towards the door, as I get out of bed. "It's Eric, Alpha Maddox. Dagmar's phone was still downstairs and there is a guy named Stephan on the line for her."

I hear from the other side of the door. Opening the door just a little, I reach out my hand to grab the phone. "We will be right down." I say as I close the door in his face.

Luckily, Eric had put the call on hold, so Stephan had not heard the conversation. Dagmar gets the phone to answer Stephan and I decide to get ready.

Walking in to the bathroom, I hear her talking to Stephan and Cole is getting agitated. "Something is wrong with Mate. He keeps saying it, over and over.

Having him pacing in my head and repeating those words, make me feel uncomfortable and I make my way back in to the room. The look on her face tells me that Cole is right, something is wrong. When she sees me walking out of the bathroom, she jumps up and throws herself in to my arms, now I know something is definitely wrong.

Dagmar

As I take the phone from Maddox, I see that Eric put the call on hold and I release a breath, I did not know I was holding.

At least for the time being only the Pack-members that are with us, know that I am his second chance Mate and I feel relief wash over me. "Hello, Stephan. What has you calling this early?" I ask him

I know Uncle James had informed him and Mason yesterday of the outcome of the fight with Alpha Max, so I was rather curious as to this call. Stephan sighs before he starts talking.

I jump up and throw myself at him, he grabs me at the waist and pulls me close to him. Giving me the chance to calm down by inhaling his scent before he starts to pull away and I know he wants to ask questions.

"Better save your breath, everyone needs to hear this." say, looking him in the eye. He knows better than to try and get answers I am not willing to give, so he keeps his mouth shut.

I go to the bathroom, do my morning ritual, and get dressed. We walk out the room together, on the way down we knock on every door and tell the occupants to get dressed and report to the Pack-house.

As we reach the bottom of the stairs, we can hear the first members coming down the stairs. We wait for everyone to gather in the hallway, before we go to the Pack-house and in the meantime I link Uncle James to make sure everyone gets woken up.

Lily and Alice rush passed us and Marcus and John are following close behind. We are looking a little. confused until John shouts over his shoulder "They want a decent breakfast." We all start laughing and follow them to the Pack-house. James

"Uncle, wake everyone and ask Alpha Andrew to warn the others Packs. We need them at the Pack-house, fast. I get dressed fast and start waking everyone up. I knock on Andrew's door and he opens it immediately.

"I heard noises, what is going on?' He asks and I tell him he needs to alert the other Alpha's and have every Pack-member come to the Pack-house. He nods and his eyes glaze over.

At the top of the stairs Maggie rushes past me and I tell her to slow down. "Sorry, Gamma James. Lily and Alice are on their way, we are going to fix some breakfast."

I want to tell her to call me James, but she is already rushing down the stairs. After we had gotten to the Pack-house last night, I spend some time talking to Maggie. She had asked me to go through her file with her and I had looked at her in surprise.

She said she had not read it yet, because she did not know if she could handle it, I got her file and sat down on a couch with her. We learned that her parents were fated Mates, that she was the youngest of three and that she had turned eighteen, three months ago. The survivors of her old pack had been scattered all over the place, but none were related to her. She had started crying after we had gone through the entire file. I had pulled her in my arms and asked her why she was crying.

She told me that she did not know what to do now, she was all alone and vending for herself was something she feared. She said she was glad she would be going home with us, because she knew she would never be happy here.

After walked her to her room, I walked back down stairs and called home. I was in desperate need of hearing my mate's voice. "James, what is wrong?" she asked and I chuckled.

Me knew I would not have called her at this hour if everything was fine. I told her about my conversation with Maggie, about her worries and fears. She told me not to worry, that everything would work out and that Maggie would find her place in our Pack.

I told her about the other new pack-members, but I left out the part of our newly mated couples. We talked for over an hour and when she heard me yawn, he told me to go to bed. I fell asleep quickly.

After breakfast we walk out to meet the members of all the Packs, I know that my news will be unsettling for most and I intend to keep them out of harm's way.

"This morning I received a call from one of our tech-guys. The Evil Moon Pack has re-grouped and is heading this way. We know where they will attack and we know why they are here. Because of that I will not ask you to fight this battle.

You need to get everyone to the shelters and put a perimeter of guards around it. I do not expect them to come this far on to your territory, but you need to be prepared just in case. After I finish speaking. I hear a lot of murmurs and one Warrior steps forward. "Alpha Andrew, I am not being disrespectful to you, but I am not going to stand at the side-line. I will be joining Luna Dagmar in this fight." Alpha Andrew looks at him, then he looks around the people in front of us.

-I will not order you to fight this battle, those that want to help are free to do so. But I hope you also understand that Luna Dagmar is right, the women and children need to be protected."

All the warriors walk to the side of the Pack-house and after a few minutes they return. The same Warrior walks up to me and says "Luna Dagmar, the mated Warriors will stay behind. The rest of us will be joining you and your team." And I know that there is nothing I can say to change their minds.

"Thank you. We accept your help, but on one condition You are our back-line, you take down the ones that get through, the ones that fall down wounded." I say looking at the Warriors and they nod their heads.

I send Mason a message, telling him to notify me when the enemy is half an hour away. After that we start talking strategy, we make sure every detail is worked out and ten minutes after we are done Mason lets me know it is time.

"In half an hour the enemy will be knocking on our door. Let's get going, we need to be ready." And everyone moves away from the Pack-house.

John says goodbye to Alice and kisses her forehead before he walks away. I know Marcus and Rico have tried to convince Lily and Samantha to stay at the shelter, but they both lots the argument,

It made me giggle, until 1 looked at Maddox and I knew he had thought about asking me to stay behind.

Maddox

Hearing Marcus and Rico talking to their mates, I know I want to do the same thing. "If you want to live, I suggest you say nothing to Mate." Cole states in my head and I know he is right.

Dagmar will not like it if I mention this and I know there is nothing I can say or do to make her sit this one out. Cole and I both sigh and I curse under my breath.

We both want to protect her, but we are also aware of the fact that she is a tough and seasoned warrior. We will stay close to her and help out where it is needed. Walking to the border. I grab her hand and it calms me down a little. "Thank you." She whispers and I look at her in surprise.

"For not asking me to sit this one out." I pull her into my side and kiss her on the top of her head. "I would never do that. I like breathing." I say in response and we both laugh.

Dagmar tells us to get to our posts and to keep out of sight. It doesn't take long before we see the first Wolves appear in the tree-line. Then I see a Lycan appear and I feel Cole pushing forward.

"Calm down, Buddy. We need them out in the open." He starts pacing in my head, anger radiating from him and I can't blame him. I still do not understand why she would do this to Dagmar.

"Because she knew about your feelings for Dagmar. It wouldn't surprise me if she had a hand in the attack twelve years ago as well." Matteo says through the mind-link.

I think about his words and all of a sudden puzzle-pieces fall in to place. But I have no time to think it through, because the Wolves emerge from the tree-line They tread lightly, looking around for danger. But they will not find danger until it is too late for them to react. Matteo

Alpha Maddox sees Grace standing amidst the Wolves and I know he still does not understand why she would do this. I tell him she was aware of his feelings for Dagmar.

I will tell him and Dagmar the entire story once this is over, maybe on our way home. I will tell them about the day I found her at Luna Gina's grave, talking to herself about it being her that should become Luna.

That she would not let a little girl take the place that belonged to her. After we found out she had left, I started to wonder if she could be behind this all. If she had convinced Alpha Max to drop bread-crumbs.

But why had she waited this long, I had been aware of this for close to eight years. I knew I would not be able to find the answers by myself, but with the help of my friends I knew we would be able to solve this puzzle.

Dagmar

From my spot I have a clear view of the tree line and then I see a familiar Lycan. Emma starts to push forward, a part of me wants to let her take over, but I also know we need the element of surprise.

"Please Emma. Stay calm, we will get her and maybe a few answers." Emma stays close to the surface and I let her, knowing I need all the strength she can give me. I crouch down even further, making sure that I cannot be seen and one by one the Wolves emerge from the forest.

Through the mind-link I tell everyone to wait for my order, they all confirm my order and I relax just a little. Then Jill, Grace's Lycan, walks out of the forest and I have to control myself from jumping out of my hiding place.

Jill and the Wolves are moving closer to the border and I am hoping they are unaware of the fact that we knew they were coming. Two Wolves hurry to the front once she stops walking and they place a few bags in front of her

Then she shifts to her human form and so do about half of the Wolves with her. One of the men opens the bags and tosses the contents on the ground, then someone starts to cuss.

It takes me a second to see why, but I have to stifle a laugh when I see that the clothes are all covered in bright orange paint. "I hope we find whoever did that, so I can give them a big thank you." I hear Julian chuckle through the mind-link.

Seeing the paint on the clothes, reminds me of the day Rico walked in to the living-room in light pink clothing. Gina and Elsa had gotten into a laughing fit, which had only pissed him off even more.

None of us needed to ask who was responsible for it, because there was only one person that would do it and would be able to get away with it. Julian walked in and when he saw Rico his jaw dropped "What the hell did you do?" He asked Rico, even though we knew he already knew the answer.

Movement near the tree line pulls me out of the memory and I focus on the situation at hand. I see the Wolves are out of the forest, they close in on Grace and she turns around to face them.

that all

"Alpha Maddox and his pack are the ones that killed your Alpha and they will pay for it with their life. Kill any Wolf or Human you come across, no matter what Pack they are from. You will get your revenge." She speaks loud and clear to the men and Wolves, they all nod their heads and I realize they are hoping to surprise us with this attack.

She turns around and starts walking towards the border the men and Wolves following her. As soon as they cross the border, we get out of our hiding places and surround them.

"I am right here." I say and Grace stops. Looking at me, she starts to smile and Cole lets out a loud growl, "Oh, Babe. Why do you react that way? We used to have fun together, remember."

I look her dead in the eye and ask "Are you delusional, Grace?" Her face contorts and then she looks at Dagmar. And I can tell by the smirk on her face that there is something I don't remember.

"He will never be yours, little girl. He is mine, he has always been mine." Dagmar and I look at each other and then Dagmar shrugs her shoulders. Through the mind-link we hear that the Evil Moon Pack is fully surrounded and that everyone is in position.

"Don't you remember the nights we spend together, after Gina died?" Grace asks me and truth be told I don't remember, but then again the first few weeks are a daze.

It is Rico that answers her "Of course he does not remember, but I also know he never spend one night with you. We never let him out of our sights after Gina died.

We knew what that loss could do to him. And besides that, his focus was on comforting Dagmar. So quiet playing games,

Bitch." I can hear in his voice that he is telling the truth and I can feel Dagmar relaxing-

But I can't understand why she sounded so convinced when she said those words and I say this through the mind-link, because I want them to help me understand. James is the one to answer "Elsa saw her sneaking in to your room a few times, while you were with Dagmar.

We don't know what she was doing in there, but she was always gone in the morning when I would walk you back to your room."

Daginar

Looking at the woman, I once considered my second Mom, all I feel is hatred. I can see that the men that are with her are becoming restless and I tell my Pack to get ready.

But training with Maddox all these years has prepared me for this. Maddox would make us train in teams, to make sure we would always have the others back.

At first I had hated the method, but the more we trained in teams, the more I understood why. I knew, from every member in my Squad, what their strength and weakness was and they knew mine.

Fighting in teams made it easier to take down an enemy Warrior and right know we were all benefitting from that training. Maddox shouts through the mind-link that he wants Grace alive, that he has a few questions for her.

I know I have a few of my own for her, so Emma and I don't disagree with him on this. While fighting off a Wolf, I realize that I am better at pushing him away than normally.

It seems as if I have more strength in my arms, but it doesn't make sense to me and I push the thought aside. Maddox and I keep our backs towards the other and keep circling, taking our enemies down.

As we are tossing aside wounded Wolves and men, I see from the corner of my eyes that they are dealt. with by the Warriors and little by little their number subsides.

I can tell I have a few bruises and scrapes, but that is all I have trained with Lycans most of my life and they are stronger and tougher than Wolves, but still it surprises me that I have no bigger wounds.

A huge guy charges at me and for a second I fear this is a fight I might not win. He lunges at me and grabs my legs on his way to the ground. My back slams in to the ground, blowing the wind out of my lungs for second.

I manage to free one of my legs and aim for his head, unfortunately I connect with his shoulder. He tries to get hold of my leg again, but I make sure it is out of his reach. Turning my body, I am able to free myself completely and without a thought I jump on his back. With both hands I grab his face and I snap his neck.

I am no longer able to see Grace and I wonder if someone captured her already. Three Wolves charge at me, while Dagmar gets attacked by a man. I can feel that she hits the ground and that the wind gets knocked out of her, but she regains her breath fast. She is fighting the guy every way she can, the Wolves that are coming for me are pretty huge and for a second I want to shift to my Lycan form. I jump up as one of them lunges at me, I'land on the Wolf to his left and I grab hold of his head, pulling it back and snapping his neck. Startled by what I just did, one of the remaining two Wolves knocks me on my back and he aims for my jugular.

I am capable of dodging the attack and I lunge at the other Wolf. I extend my claws and rip his throat out, before I land on the ground. Then I turn my focus on the last Wolf in front of me and from the corner of my eye, I see Dagmar snapping the guy's neck. "What the fuck."I hear Cole mutter in my head, I ignore him and lunge for the Wolf. I jump on his back, him around and pin him to the ground. Just as I am about to slam my claw into his chest, Rico calls through the mind-link that we need him alive. flip

In my Alpha voice I command him to shift and then I turn my claw in to a fist, punching his lights out. My Pack-members gather around the unconscious guy and I can see that no one is injured, badly.

Matteo stops next to me and he has a strange look on his face. "Was it just me or did something seem off to you as well?" He asks, Lance, Paul and Glenn nod their heads and I have to admit that he is right.

Snapping a Wolfs neck is not an easy task in human form and I had done it with ease. I had even seen Dagmar snapping the neck of a man that was bulkier than me.

Dagmar

Matteo is right, going over this last fight and the one after the Full Moon, something did change for all of us. Was Alpha Max right? Did this have something to do with me?

Emma and I go over the fights in our mind and we come to the conclusion that Matteo is not losing his mind. "Matteo, can you explain yourself? What did you notice during the fight?" I ask him.

He points out that during the battles each wave had contained stronger and better trained men. And that the ones that had ran at the end of the last battle, were the ones that had shown up with Grace.

He tells us that as a Lycan he had no trouble with the Wolves of the Evil Moon Pack, but that he had feared that our new members might run in to trouble. He explains that they had surprised him by defeating the enemy in pairs, that they had teamed up as we had been taught by Alpha Maddox.

Julian, Sam and Chris confirm what Matteo explained and Lance looks at me "Luna Dagmar, do you think Alpha Max was telling the truth?" He asks me.

One of the Warriors of the Crescent Moon Pack steps forward, he bows his head to me and Maddox and says "She ran back to the tree line as soon as the fight started. Six Warriors went after her, but they lost her near the mountain ridge."

Maddox

I send Rico, Marcus and Matteo with one of the Warriors that had tailed Grace to see if they could pick up. anything. I tell Dagmar to contact Mason or Stephan to see if they can come up with anything.

I am furious about the fact that we lost Grace and will not get answers anytime soon. I feel two arms sliding around my waist and a smile appears on my face. This woman knows exactly what I need and I am the luckiest man in the world, because I have her by my side.

I turn in her embrace, lowering my head so that I can kiss her and then someone clears his throat. I growl as I look at the person that interrupted me from kissing my mate.

Glenn is standing to my left and by the look on his face it is clear that he was the one that had interrupted me. I ask him what he wants and through the mind-link he tells me that our prisoner is awake.

With Dagmar still in my arms, I turn to the man on the ground and tell him to get up. "Try anything and my men have permission to tear you apart." I growl at him. We bring him to the Pack-house and I ask Alpha Andrew if they have a cell we can put him in.

He orders a few Warriors to take him to the dungeon and to stand guard near his cell. We gather in Alpha Andrew's office to discuss the interrogation of the prisoner. Outside the office we hear a ruckus, the door slams open and in walks Sienna. "Sorry, Alpha. I tried to stop her." Samantha says, looking at me. "I am the Beta, so you better back off." Sienna yells at Samantha and I hear a growl coming from Rico.

He steps in between them, shielding Samantha from Sienna by putting his arms around her. "Sienna," Alpha Andrew says calmly "I don't believe I appointed you as my Beta. That is still your father's job. Her head snaps towards Andrew and I have to turn away so she cannot see the grin on my face.

Hearing those words come from Alpha Andrew's mouth is a surprise to say the least. And by the looks of it, Sienna had not seen that one coming. I can understand why she assumed she'd become the new Beta, because when an Alpha gets replaced that usually goes for the Gamma and Beta too.

She looks at Andrew in shock, anger flashing in her eyes and she shouts at him "It is my birth right to become Beta." Andrew just shakes his head and sits down behind his desk.

"Sorry, Sienna. But it is the birth right for the first born He states flatly. Casps are heard through the office and Sienna's Father jumps up, a look of shock on his face.

Sienna asks her Father what Andrew is talking about, but he looks as if he does not have the answer to that question. Then she turns to Andrew and asks "Alpha, what are you talking about? My parents only have one child and that is me."

Andrew looks from Sienna to her father and back at Sienna again. Then a young man I have seen with Alpha Andrew over the past few days gets up and then I see a familiarity in his face, I had not noticed - before.

"I am the first born Beta to your Family line, Sienna." She turns to face him and then she looks at her Father. Her Father shakes his head "No, that is not possible. I never....." He lets the sentence trail off as if he all of a sudden he remembers something. His eyes start to widen, he turns to the young man looking at him for a second and then he runs from the room. Sienna asks Alpha Andrew if he can explain this to her, because it doesn't make sense to her.

We are all curious as to what this is, but I think we should at least give Sienna the choice. "Sienna, if you want us to leave, just say so? I can understand if this is something you would like to keep private." She shakes her head, says she does appreciate the gesture but wants us to stay.

Maddox

After that, Alpha Andrew explains that a first born in a line of Alpha's, Beta's or Gamma's is the strongest or best within everything they get trained for. He had started questioning Sienna's first born right when she had failed at a simple assignment during her first year of training.

He had kept an eye on her progress, hoping he had been wrong. But after a few years he had realized she could not be the first born in the Beta line. There had been another reason for him to question her birth right.

During his first year of training, he had met Neill, the next Gamma, and David, Both he and Neill had seen the familiarities between their Beta and David. Every time they had brought up his parents, he had told them he had never met his father and his mother refused to talk about him.

Over the years the three of them had become close friends and one day he and Neill had decided to express their suspicions to David.

David had needed some time to think over what they had revealed and after a few days he had asked them. to accompany him home, to talk to his mother. When Andrew had spoken about his suspicions to David's mother, she had admitted that she had had a one-night stand with the Beta, before he liad taken a chosen

The boys had kept their promise to never reveal the secret even though David's mother had died years

After Andrew is finished with the story, he looks at Sienna and apologizes to her.

"Alpha, you have nothing to be sorry for. My Father is the one that will be sorry." Then she turns to David "Alpha Andrew is right. You will make a better Beta, than I ever could." Before she can walk away, David puts his hand on her shoulder and pulls her in for a hug. For a second, she stiffens and then relaxes into the hold he has on her. Taking a small step back, he looks her in the eye and says "I never held it against you. I hope one day I will be allowed to introduce you as my baby sister."

I can see tears gathering in her eyes, she nods and says with a small smile on her face "I always hoped for a sibling and now I have a big brother."

The fork I was lifting to my mouth drops from my hand and I look at him with my mouth still hanging open. Dagmar jumps up, runs around the table at high speed and puts her arms around her Uncle, hugging him tightly.

Cheers are coming from our Pack-members and Alpha Andrew decides to rescue me from further embarrassment by pushing my mouth closed, which makes James chuckle and I mumble a thank you to Andrew. I get up to hug my brother in law and congratulate him on his first pup.

Hearing Uncle James say to Maddox that his Sister and Nephew were doing fine, puts a huge smile on my face and I know my Uncle will be a great father, Maddox pushes him out of the room and states that Aunt Elsa has morning sickness. We sit down again to finish lunch, still keeping an eye on Sienna I finally see what I had been looking for. I link Maddox and tell him I need some time to talk to Sienna, because I figured out what it is about Sienna I could not place. He tells me that he will make sure I get a chance to talk to her and he kisses me on the top of my head. Alpha Andrew gets up from the table and asks if we are ready to discuss our prisoner.

Maddox nods and we follow Andrew back to his office. Sienna offers to help Maggie and Alice and they accept her help without any judgement. As we sit in the office discussing the prisoner, David points out that something seems to be of with Sienna. "I noticed that too and I think I might know what it is. But I need to talk to her one on one, I am not sure she will open up with any of you around." David nods his head and Alpha Andrew says he will send her in after we are done.

It does not take us long to come up with a plan to interrogate our prisoner. We know what we want to get out of him and we know how we want to try and get that information out of him.

Finding out if there is even an Evil Moon Pack left, now that the Alpha is dead is our first priority. Second is to find out how long Grace has been feeding them information and if she still poses a threat.

And then anything else he is willing to share with us. "Who is Grace and why is that information so important to you, Alpha Maddox?" Neill asks. We can all see that this question startled Maddox and I decide to answer in his place. "Grace was his Sister in law, her Sister Gina was his first mate. She died in the attack on Blue Moon Pack, twelve years ago. Grace is the one that looked after me when I got there and she was like a second Mom to 1. me.

We want to know if she was behind the attack back then and why she sold me out this time." Neill, David and Andrew look at me in shock.

"We will do whatever we need to, to get you the answers you are looking for, Luna Dagmar Alpha Andrew says. Then they get up and walk to the door, just before he opens the door Andrew tells me he will send Sienna in. Sienna Thelp Maggie and Alice clear the table and we bring the dirty dishes to the kitchen. I know I have been at bitch to the Omega's all my life, but it was the way I was raised. So I apologize to them as we are working in the kitchen. I tell them that my parents always emphasized that I was more important than an Omega. That I was taught that they were worthless, but that in the last few days I had come to the realization that my parents had been wrong. I tell them that I will chance" no matter what mirare cu or do. When I point this out to her, I see her blush and Maggie starts to laugh. "Don't worry about John. That is normal for a Mate to do, especially when they are newly mated" And Alice's face turns an even deeper red, which makes Maggie laugh even harder. She tells Alice to get out of the kitchen and to spend some time with her Mate, Alice wants to object. because they are not finished yet. I side with Maggie and tell Alice that we can take care of things here.

Maggie and I finish up in the kitchen and when we walk in to the hallway. Alpha Andrew tells me that Luna Dagmar is waiting for me in his office.

I wonder what this is about and I start to get a little nervous. "What do you think this is about?" I ask my Wolf, Jess. She does not have an answer for me, but reassures me that we will be fine.

I knock on the door, before I open it and walk in to see Dagmar sitting on a couch. "Sienna, please sit down. We need to talk." She says gently and I realize she is not mad at me. I release a sigh of relief and sit down on a couch across from her. "What is it you would like to talk about, Luna Dagmar?" I ask her with the respect she deserves as a Luna.

Dagmar

I can tell Sienna is nervous as she enters the office, so I put her at ease immediately. She is smart enough to show me the respect, that comes with me being Alpha Maddox's Mate.

"Sienna, from the day we met, I have had a feeling something was off. And I could not figure it out what is was. I do not like unanswered questions and I will always try to find the answer.

In your case it took me a long time and I am still not sure if I have figured it out correctly. Also I am not the only that noticed it, your Brother pointed it out a few minutes ago and I told him I have an idea as to what it is, that is why Alpha Andrew send you in here." I allow Sienna to process what I have said, before I continue talking. "I believe your parents never had your best interest at heart, they only did what was best for them.

I could see at lunch that Mates make you uncomfortable and I think that is because they never explained it to you. Every time a man comes near you, you want to run for the nearest exit. Can you tell me why that is?"

I wait for her to answer my question, I can see she is arguing with her Wolf and after a few minutes she looks up at me. "Luna Dagmar, promise me you will not tell anyone, what I am about to tell you?"

I tell her I cannot keep secrets from my mate, but I promise her that neither one of us will ever tell anyone else. She starts to tell me about her upbringing, about the values her parent instilled on her. She tells me what her mother shared with her on Mates and how the female gets treated by her Mate. The more she tells me, the better I understand what is going on in her head and why she is wary of men.

Tknow it will take time for her to learn that everything her parents told her was a lie. I tell her that her secret is safe with me and Maddox and that I will talk to Alpha Andrew about taking her with us when we go home. She looks at me in shock and I shake my head "No, not to join our Pack, but to learn that your parents were wrong on a lot of things. I want you to see that there are other ways. And I think staying with another pack will make you see that a lot of what your parents taught you were just lies."

We talk for a little while longer and in the end Sienna agrees with me that a change of scenery will do her a lot of good. We leave the office in search for my Pack-members and when we get outside, we see Maggie sitting at a table with Josh and Eric. For a second I feel Sienna tense, but then she steps forward and calls out to Maggie. Maggie greets her with a smile, pats the seat next to her and introduces her to Josh and Eric.

It takes her awhile before she is comfortable enough to talk to the guys, but soon they are talking about everything that has happened.

I follow Alpha Andrew down the hall to the back door, David and Neill are walking behind me and James and Rico close the ranks. We are heading for the dungeons and Cole is pacing in my head.

We are both hoping to get answers from the guy and hopefully a lead on Grace and her where abouts. Questions still run through my mind, because nothing makes sense to me when it comes to her actions towards me or Dagmar. Grace was the one that kept her occupied during the day, avoiding any mention of her Family or Pack. She would scold those that did bring those subjects up and he would always do whatever she could to take care of Dagmar, Schoolwork, shopping or just girl-talk, whatever it was Dagmar needed, Grace took care of it. Even after Dagmar turned eighteen, she did not treat her any different.

Grace had acted like her Mom up to the day we left for the Black Moon Pack. We now knew it had all been an act, but we still did not know why.

We make our way towards the cell, when Matteo steps around the corner and the look he gives me does. not predict anything good. Through the link he tells me that the Warriors had asked questions without torturing the guy, but all he had done was laugh and say that this was not over yet.

Neill opens up the cell, grabs the guy and pulls him further to the back of the dungeons. It's then that I see a large space, with a chair in the center and on the walls are tools, which can be used for torture.

The guy gets chained to the chair with silver cuffs and when he leans his back to the rear of the seat, he jolts back up. He hisses in pain and as I look closer at the chair I can see it is laced with wolfsbane. At least he will not heal to fast. Let's have some fun." Cole says and smirk at him in my head.

James

I take a step towards the man cuffed to the chair and ask him his name. He looks a little confused, so I tell him that it will make talking to each other a lot easier. tell him my name after he says his name is Greg.

"Well, Greg. First the easy questions and then we will get to the harder ones." I ask him if his Pack had been attacked by the Evil Moon Pack and he confirms that they did.

I ask him if he was the only survivor, he tells me that there had been eleven of his pack that had survived. One of them being the Alpha's daughter, but Max had killed her once he had found out she was not a female Alpha. Then I ask him why he had chosen Max's side, he looks at me, a sadness in his eyes, and he says "My mate was one of the survivors, he held her life over my head at every turn and I would have done anything to save her."

I know anyone with a mate would do whatever they had to, to safe their mate from harm. We would go through hell and back to safe our mate. I dread to ask the next question, but I know I have to know the answer.

"Where is your mate?" I ask and the room turns quiet. A tear slides down his cheek and I fear that I will hate the answer he is about to give us. "I don't know. All I know it that she is still alive.

I let out a sigh of relief and ask him if he knows any of the hide-outs Max used. He nods and asks for a map, so he can point them out to us. Maddox has opened the mind-link and tells us that we will find his Mate and any other prisoners Max was holding With a signal from his head he gets Alpha Andrew to follow him out of the dungeons and he tells me to keep questioning Greg.

Maddox

1 lead Alpha Andrew out of the dungeons, because I don't want Greg to hear what I have to discuss. But as I had already figured out earlier Alpha Andrew is smarter than his father was.

"You want to keep him alive, maybe even pardon him, don't you?" He asks. I nod my head and I am about to tell him why when David responds "He was forced to do what he did, most of them probably were.

Once we know the locations of the hide-outs, I will contact the nearest packs and ask them for help. I tell them I want to bring Greg back to my Pack, but that he needs to prove himself to me and my Pack, before he will be able to move around without a guard. Alpha Andrew agrees with me and asks me what I want to do next.

The three of us discuss the options there are and we make the decision to send my Pack-members to the Packs that will help out freeing Alpha Max's captives.

Alpha Andrew offers to talk to Leon and Owen, so they can search the hide-outs closest to their Packs. I link James and Rico with the plan and tell them to meet me at the Guest-house as soon as they are done with questioning Greg. Rico asks if I want Greg present at the meeting and I tell him to put Greg back in his cell, the less he knows, the better it is for now. It does not take me long to find Dagmar and I am surprised to see Sienna sitting with her and Maggie. They are talking and laughing, so I keep my distance because I don't want to disturb them. Not that it helps, because after a few seconds Dagmar looks over her shoulder and smiles at me.

She says something to the girls while she keeps her eyes on me and it sends the girls into a fit of laughter.

Dagmar

I feel his presence the second he comes around the corner of the Pack-house. Smiling I look over my shoulder and say "Looks like my Guard is back." Maggie and Sienna start laughing.

Even though they both know that I am basically telling the truth. After Josh and Eric had left us by ourselves, I had explained to Sienna and Maggie that a Mate would be very overprotective, especially if the Mate was a male.

I had told them to watch mated couples to see how they interact and how they react to others. Maggie had asked if it was normal for mated couples to spend their time apart and I had looked at her rather confused.

She and Sienna had told me that the only time the High-ranking Pack-members were with their Mates- was during the night or in the dining room. My jaw had drop at that information and they knew the answer without me answering it. So I told them that it was as if a part of me was missing Maddox was not near me. That he made me feel warm, comfortable and safe, that they would notice the mated couples would always be touching and that Maggie had just told us she could not wait to find her mate, when I had sensed Maddox behind us. I truly hope that Maggie will find her Mate, back home. She deserves to find happiness and a family of her own. Maddox walks up behind me, lifts me up and sits down next to Sienna with me on his lap. Maggie looks at Sienna and they both smile at each other with a knowing look in their eyes.

"Maddox, I have asked Sienna to come home with us to visit. So she can leave this place behind for a little while." He knows I am not asking for permission, just telling him that she will be coming with us.

"You will have to explain that to me later. But it is fine with me." I tell her through our mind-link. "Sienna, we will talk to Alpha Andrew and your Brother about your visit.

But you will have to excuse us, because we have a few things to discuss with our Pack-members." I say, looking at Sienna. She does not seem to upset with it and she starts walking to the Pack-house. "Alpha Maddox, do you need me at that meeting?" Maggie asks me and I tell her she does not have to be present. As she gets up, she calls out to Sienna and tells me she will help her pack for her visit. Dagmar gets of my lap and grabs my hand as she pulls me of the bench. We both look surprised, because she was able to do it without much effort and I start to think that maybe there was some truth to Alpha Max's story.

Walking into the Guest-house I hear Alice and John arguing and I ask what is going on. Alice tells me she does not think she should be present at the meeting, but John does not want to leave her out of his sight.

I smile at him knowingly and tell him Alice can go to the Pack-house to help Maggie and Sienna pack. He looks at me as if I had gone mad. Dagmar giggles at the look on John's face and then tells him that Sienna is not that bad, just raised by the wrong people. Alice looks at him and says "I'll be alright, Maggie is with me and when something goes wrong. I will link you immediately." She kisses him and walks out of the house.

Dagmar

I wonder why Maddox has called this meeting and I think it has something to do with our prisoner. Rico and Uncle James are the last to enter the living room and then Maddox asks us all to sit down and listen to what he has to say.

He tells us the prisoner's name is Greg and that his Pack was attacked by the Evil Moon Pack. When he tells us what happened to the Alpha's daughter, I am glad that we have already taken care of him.

He tells us about Greg's Mate, the threats and the information Greg has provided concerning the hide-outs. He tells us the plans he has made with Alpha Andrew and Beta David and his intentions when it comes to Greg.

He looks around the room to see if anyone has objections, but I know he won't find them. Then Uncle James starts to talk "Greg also gave us some strange information concerning Grace

From what he had heard, she had offered intel in exchange for an Alpha. I asked him if he knew what she wanted with an Alpha. Greg was able to tell us she needed an Alpha for her offspring. But he was not sure what the reason behind it was." When he is finished talking, I am seeing red and I run from the room.

But I am not fast enough, because Emma has pushed through, before I can open the front door. She does not stop and the door comes off its hinges as she barges through it.

I hear Maddox calling, but Emma is not listening and I cannot and will not stop her. We both need to blow of some steam and the easiest and fastest way for us to do that, is running As Emma is running through the forest, I

After Emma barged through the door, I tell the others she will be fine and that she just needs to blow of some steam. "Greg has pointed out the hide-outs on a map and with that information David has contacted the packs that are closest to the locations.

He has asked them to search for any survivors and to take them back to their territories, they know these people are victims of the Evil Moon Pack. I want to send you to those Packs to help with the search and to talk to the survivors they find.

Gather as much information as you can, before you come back here. Once all locations have been searched and all survivors have been questioned, we will head home to process it all.

Greg's Mate is a woman named Eleanor, but Greg calls her Nora. Whoever finds her, brings her back here. Dagmar, James and I will stay here and help out Alpha Andrew. John, I would like you to stay here to look after Alice and Maggie." I see relief washing over his face and he tells me he is going to inform the girls.

With the others I go over the plan to search the hide-outs and how I want to divide them in to teams. The mated couples make five teams and I divide the seven ummated members into three teams.

I tell them to report to Beta David, he will give them the information they need. James and Rico accompany them as I wait for my Mate to return. After a few hours Cole tells me to get some clothes for Dagmar, because our Mate is back.

As I see Emma approaching, I know the run has done her some good and I know that our presence can resolve the rest. Holding her, I finally relax and I pull her even closer to my body.

With an arm around her shoulders I guide her to the Pack-house. Andrew, Leon and Owen are in the living room and I ask them where Rico and James are. Owen tells me, they went back to talk to Greg.

As I sit down on the couch, I realize I should apologize to Andrew for breaking down the door. "Alpha Andrew, I am sorry for breaking down the front door. Emma pushed through faster than I had expected."

He shakes his head and says "Please, just call me Andrew. It is not necessary to apologize. I have broken down a few doors of my own over the years, I believe it is already replaced."

I look at Maddox and he confirms that the door is already replaced. I see Maggie, Alice, Sienna and John in the kitchen, but no one else.

"Maddox, where are the others?" I ask him and he explains that he had informed them of the plans he made with Alpha Andrew and Beta David and that they had left for the Packs that would be helping out in searching the hide-outs.

He sees the disappointment on my face and he chuckles. "We will be staying here to search the hide-outs near this territory." He explains. And I am glad I will be able to do something in our quest for answers.

In the morning we leave for the first location, half an hour drive away. We go through the house from top to bottom, but we find nothing of interest. Around noon we hit the second location and again nothing.

Andrew wants to hit one more location before returning home and we all agree that that will be the last one for today. Forty minutes later we pull up to a mansion and we spread out to search it.

Owen finds an office with a lot of paperwork and a computer, I tell him to load it in one of the SUV's. Two Warriors help him clear out the office, when I hear a fait knocking

I warn Maddox and Rico through the mind-link and signal Andrew and Uncle James to be quiet. We listen intently for the sound and then we hear the knocking again.

It takes us about twenty minutes to locate where it is coming from and another ten minutes to find the excess point, Maddox heads down the stairs first and I follow close behind.

It turns out to be a basement and in it are dozens of cages. Each cage is occupied by a female She-wolf, some of them are dead, but most of them are still alive. We open the cages one by one, the Warriors have gotten bottles of water out of a car and I hand them out to the she-wolves.

I ask one of them how the others died, she tells me they had been mated and had gone through agony for a long time when their Mates had died. None of their Guards had helped them as they had gone through the pain and in the end they had died, one by one.

I ask her if she knows why their Mates had fought a battle that was not theirs, even though l'already knew the answer. She confirms what Greg had told us, Alpha Max had told them to fight for him or he would kill Their Mate.

I tell the Warriors to go to the forest and dig a deep, large grave. I tell the She-wolves that they are free and that they can come with us to the Blood Moon Pack and their allies to figure out what they want to do. They all accept my invitation and slowly we make are way back upstairs. Last night we arrived at a Pack near one of the hide-outs used by the Evil Moon Pack. After talking to the Alpha and his Gamma, we went to our room and Lily had fallen asleep as soon as her head hit the pillow.

I spent some time just looking at her, this woman was mine and I knew I would do anything to keep her safe. Nero was content just holding her and I had jokingly called him a love-sick puppy, which had caused him to growl at me. Holding her close, I had finally drifted off to sleep. I wake up because Lily is staring at my groin.

Apparently somewhere during the night the sheet had slipped of the bed and she had woken up to see me in my birthday suit.

I slightly open my eyes to watch my beautiful Mate as she looks at me with lust in her eyes. She is still unaware of the fact that I am awake and Nero is getting excited as she slowly reaches out her hand. My cock grows hard and a deep red blush appears on her cheeks.

Her hand stops moving towards my cock and I have to suppress the intention to groan. I see her eyes glide up my body, hardening my cock even further and that makes her snap her eyes back to my cock.

She start moving her hand again and just as she is about to touch it, Nero decides to step in. "You better finish what you start, Little One." He growls and that makes Lily jump.

I grab her hand, pulling her on top of my body and I start kissing her. Within seconds the kiss has deepened and my hand slides down her back, ending on her ass.

Nero flashes an image in my head and my cock hardens even more, causing Lily to moan as she feels it grow. I pull her up by the hips and with one thrust I bury my cock inside her pussy.

She pushes herself on to her knees and starts moving up and down my cock. "Lily, this feels so good." I moan and she starts moving faster and faster, my hands sliding up her sides to her breasts.

I start pinching her nipples and that makes her moan. It doesn't take long before we both climax, she slumps down on my chest to catch her breath. I pull my cock out of her and I let my hand slide between her legs from behind, slipping one finger inside her.

She is so soaking wet from our juices and I easily slide in a second finger, making her moan louder. I keep pounding my fingers in to her pussy and she starts meeting my thrusts in to her body.

Then I slowly pull my fingers out and replace them with my cock, slipping my fingers further up to her ass. Once she figures out what I am about to do, her head snaps up to meet my eyes and I hold her gaze.

With my finger on her ass, I start applying pressure on her back entrance. Her eyes widen as soon as my fingor slides in and as I push my finger deeper, she starts moaning as I start moving my cock and my linger.

I pick up my pace and add a second finger in her ass. Soon I'm pounding in and out of her and Lily tells me to move faster and harder. My movements become erratic, the more she moans and a groan escapes my lips.

Marcus

showered and dressed before we head down, in he dining room we are met by the Alpha. He tells us that they have looked at the locations, they were asked to search and they plotted the best course of action.

When he goes over it with me, I realize he made the right decisions and I tell him so. After we finish h our breakfast and head out to the cars, I even see a van and ask the Alpha about it.

He tells me it's for the survivors we might find or anything we might find at the hide-outs. The first one we are going to investigate in only a twenty minute drive away.

We pull up to a ruin of what looks like a church, just two outer walls are still standing. If it hadn't been for the intel we had, I would have driven past it. We get out of the cars and Lily tells me I have a message from Dagmar.

She informs us their first location was a bust and hopes we have more luck. Matteo reports their first location had been emptied out, most of the other teams report the same. I let Dagmar know we just arrived at our first location and Jenna reports the same. Lily

Looking at the screen, I see the reports from the other teams come in and I hope we have more luck. One of the Alpha's Warriors walks up to us and he tells me they found an entrance that leads underground.

I signal Marcus that he has to follow me, he nods and sends a message to Dagmar, before we head down the stairs. The place is dark, damp and cold, it gives me the creeps and I am glad that Marcus is right behind me.

At the bottom of the stairs the Alpha is waiting for us, signaling for us to be quiet. We can hear soft crying. coming from further down the corridor. I pick up my pace, not liking the sound I hear and without thinking about it I open the door.

I see cages lined up next to each other, barely any space between them and the scene in front of me makes my knees buckle. But before I can hit the ground, two strong arms are wrapped around me and I am glad Marcus is there to catch me. Every cage is occupied, but I can tell that they are dead and by the smell of it, they have been for a day or two. Then the soft crying starts again, it comes from the back of the space and I pull out of Marcus' arms.

He follows close behind me, he is the first to see where the crying is coming from and he grabs my arm to turn me around. "You don't want to see that, Little One

I nod my head in understanding and stay where I am as he steps around me. The sound of iron being cut is heard from behind me, but I still don't turn around.

Suddenly he is standing in front of me, holding a little bundle in his arms and two green eyes are staring up at me. He places the baby in my arms and leads me out of the space, back up the stairs and into the fresh air.

Walking to the nearest car, Marcus calls over the Pack-octor and he examens the baby in my arms. "This little boy will be fine. We just have to make sure he gets fluids and food."

He leaves us and walks over to the Alpha, only to be informed that the baby was the only one still alive.

Marcus sends out a message to let the others know that we only found one survivor. I can see on the screen that Jenna had been unlucky too and were heading to their second location.

After a few minutes we all get back in the cars and head for our second location of the day. The Alpha's schedule had shown that starting tomorrow we would be searching one location a day, because of the distance. Our second location only turns up a smashed computer, but Dagmar instructs us to bring it along anyway.

She is hoping one of the tech-guys can still retrieve information from it. Right now, I am sitting in the infirmary with the baby boy we rescued. He starts crying every time Marcus or I have to hand him over to one of the medical staff.

When a nurse asks us to put him in a crib, so we can retire for the night, my head snaps up at Marcus. "We will be taking him with us as soon as the Doctor gives him the all clear. Marcus says and I hug the baby boy a little closer.

She looks at us and just nods her head. Walking away, she says that she will inform the Doctor. After we get back to our room, I contact Luna Dagmar and explain to her what we found.

I ask her if it is okay if I stay at the Pack-house with the baby boy. In the middle of the night we get woken up by crying and as I walk around the room to quiet him down Marcus says "Maybe we should name him. We can't keep calling him Baby"

I giggle at his remark, but he is right, the baby boy needs a name. After putting him back in his crib, we sit down on the bed and just stare at the sleeping boy next to our bed. "What would you like to name him. Little One."

I think about it, a smile appears on my face and I say "Jason. And I would like to take him home with us, Marcus. He has no family left." Marcus moves further on the bed, pulling me with him and soon the three of us are fast asleep.

only Luna Dagmar

Today is the third day of our search for survivors of Alpha Max's reign of terror. So far and Marcus had found survivors and after every search that comes up empty, I know the chances of finding anyone alive will become smaller and smaller.

The location we head to today is an hour drive away from the Pack we are staying with. I am glad I have my Mate with me, Glenn is able to calm Leo down every time we come up empty.

Glenn can tell something is bothering me and even though I chalk it up to the search, he knows I am lying. It's not that I don't want to tell him, but I don't know how.

Everyone avoids talking about it to me, knowing it will only upset me. My mind starts to wander and I find myself reliving that day, five years ago. When the car daves through a bump in the road, I get pulled from my thoughts.

"Let's just hope that one of these days we will find Norar I hear Glenn mutter through the mind-link and I agree with him, because it is not easy for Alpha Maddox to return every day without hope for Greg. I see a house appear in front of us and I hope today will be our lucky day.

The Alpha divides us into groups and we start searching the house. Every time someone calls out "Clear", I get more distraught and I slowly make my way to the attic of the house.

Checking every room as I go, but all the rooms are empty and so is the attic. "Julian, what is that?" Glenn is standing in front of a window pointing at something. As I stand next to him, I see a building outback, I grab his arm and I head back down.

Two of the Alpha's men come with us, the building is empty. Then one of the men waves his hand at us. putting a finger to his mouth and we quietly walk over to him.

We can see a large ring on the floor and as he pulls it, we can see a stairs leading down. In the basement o the building we find about ten cages and as I look at the first two, my heart sinks.

Both She-wolves are dead and I fear for more bodies as we walk past the cages. The third cage is empty. but the three after that contain a body. One more empty cage and I can see that the one next to it holds another body. Another empty cage, the last also contains a body and for a second I think my worst fear is coming true.

But then the She-wolf lifts her head and I release a sigh of relief. I quickly walk over to the cage, cutting the lock to open the door and I get down on my knees,

From the description Greg had given us, I think I may Have found his Mate. "Nora?" I ask quietly, she looks at me and starts crying. "Move to the side, Julian. You are scaring her." Glenn tells me in our mind-link and I do as he says.

Glenn looks at the woman, she stares back at him and then she sees the scares on his throat. "Are you here to kill me?" She asks and Glenn starts to shake his head. I softly tell her that we had defeated Alpha Max and that we were searching his hide-outs in hopes to find survivors.

Glenn holds out his hand and stays still until she reaches out to grab hold of it. We make our way back up and we wait inside the building for her eyes to adjust to the light.

Clann muided her in ana of the cars and I contact Alpha Maddow "Iulian Thane vou had better luck tadane than the rest of us." I hear him growl. I inform him that we had found a basement with ten cages, three of them empty, six of them with bodies.

"Alpha, in the last cage we found Nora. She is with Glen and a Pack-Doctor is checking on her, as we speak." I ask him if we can tell her that Greg is in our custody, but on our side and he gives me permission to tell her, but only if she asks. Glenn

These searches are killing me, so far most of the hide-outs had been emptied out and in some all we had found were bodies. I am glad we have finally found Nors, at least one couple survived that Madman.

Looking at Julian, I remember the look on his face when he had first seen Nora and then relief as she had looked up. I think my mate has some explaining to do tonight and I won't take no for an answer.

"She is fine. Keep her hydrated until we can get her to the infirmary." The Pack-Doctor says. I sit down next to Nora in the car and hold out a bottle of water.

Hesitantly she reaches for it and I can tell that she is still a bit in shock. "How many survived the battle?" Nora stares at her hands as she asks me the question.

Through our mind-link I ask Julian if he can tell Nora that Greg survived. He tells me he will do that, but that Alpha Maddox will not inform Greg just yet. She finally looks up at me and I motion towards Julian, he says "Greg is the only one, he is in our custody and he gave us the information on the hide-outs."

And I see a sign of relief in her eyes. She starts sobbing quietly and slowly drifts off to sleep.
