

A Glitched 461

Chapter 461 A Brand New Familiar!

Since the moment he meet Verde that his life slowly changed, as he lived many new experiences, and ultimately managed to reach an understanding with his father that he would take care of the eggs and would rise them and show him that dragons raised with care could still be strong.

Like this, he raised a whole clutch of eggs from there, and the weakest and smallest yet the most adventurous and brave of them all was Ignatius, whom Agni day after day troubled himself in raising due to all he little shenanigans that the dragon made.

I can see why he loves the little Ignatius so much; he has been his most protected one. And he raised him with lots of care so he could become decently strong to be recognized by their father. But at the end, when Ignatius heard about the Heroes finally ending the demon war, he thought they were a fitting challenge for someone like him and recklessly flew to the continent of Cloudia, meeting his end.

Knowing that his little brother died so gruesomely probably hurt him a lot... I can really feel his sadness and sorrow when he learned that.

When the visions ended, I found myself floating in the middle of the space of my soul scape, finding Agni in front of me.

"So you've seen my memories, or part of them?" He asked.

"Yeah... Now I understand more about what has happened. It is quite sad... I am sorry for what my parents did to Ignatius. I was too young back then, I wasn't able to stop them. But if I could, I would had done it..." I sighed.

"Hmm... You're an honest girl. I can tell why you've managed to tame my hyperactive and prideful little brother. He's quite the gremlin of a dragon, isn't he?" Laughed Agni.

"Hahaha, yeah, he's always getting angry and then getting happy over the most ridiculous of things. Sometimes I don't even know what to with him!" I laughed with him.

"Heh, you really do know him. I suppose his life might had ended there, but a new one started when he became your Spirit. I suppose... I can lend him to you. Make sure to take good care of my little brother, you hear me?" He asked.

"Yeah! I will!" I said.

"Hmm! I've seen fragments of your own memories as well. This "System" power you possess is certainly a very intriguing magic... And you... you are not from this world?" He asked.

"Ah.... W-Well... Please don't tell my parents!" I asked.

"Don't worry, your secret will die with me." Said Agni. "But I find it quite intriguing, a soul from another world... You're certainly not the same as those disgusting True Demons, your previous life was that of a mere human at that... You're very interesting. If your soul was stronger, I might had considered a permanent contract, but for now, a temporary one will do!"

FLASH!

Suddenly, I felt Agni's soul and magic connect with me, as I felt an enormous flow of immense quantities of power flowing through my body and my soul. It felt as if all my capabilities were skyrocketing!

"A-Amazing, this power...!" I said in surprise.

"Take it all! Your power is also impressive. I'll take as much of that endless Mana you've got!" Laughed Agni.

Like that, both of us opened our eyes. Not even a second happened outside but it felt like we talked for several minutes, getting to know one another better.

"It's done!" I said.

"S-Sylphy... your body!" Aquarina suddenly pointed out as I realized my body had temporarily changed a bit.

My skin turned tanned, and I was growing red scales over my arms and legs, and a bit over my neck. My eyes resembled those of reptiles, shining with bright golden light. My red hair had grown longer and blazed as if it were made of fire. And I even had a long dragon tail and tiny dragon horns over my forehead!

And... eh?! I've got two small wings in my back?!

"W-Woah... What is this?!" I asked.

"Amazing!" Ninhursag pointed out. "Due to the contract with such an immensely strong dragon as Agni, Sylphy's Beast Aura has completely evolved to its latest stage, and you've even unlocked Polymorph and Spirit Fusion... temporarily, of course."

"So that's why she changed?" Asked my mother. "I would had not know what to say if I knew she would remain like that forever..."

I looked at my own scaled hands, even my nails were now black, growing sharp as steel like those of dragons. I felt an enormous quantity of power flowing through me... But I knew my mother wouldn't let me fight against those True Demon Dukes. At the very least, I can support Agni now with Spiritual Blessing!

"Spiritual Blessing!"

FLASH!

Agni quickly received all my power, combined with the Spirit Master Class that seemed to also affect Familiar that were not exactly spirits, his entire power suddenly multiplied by four times!

FLUOOOSSSH!

An enormous storm of flames erupted from Agni's entire body, an eruption of pure blazing power!

"UOOOHHHH! T-This is it!" Agni laughed. "Amazing! This is just amazing!" He said. "With this power, I can demolish anything...!"

Agni viciously looked into the two other True Demon Dukes, his eyes flaring with power. Lilith and Astaroth noticed him as another heavy hitter, as Astaroth decided to step in instead of Lilith.

"Let me take him on, my lady. He seems eager!" Said Astaroth.

"Very well! Make sure to torture him lots and lots, Astaroth!" Laughed Lilith.

"I will! With utmost pleasure!" Astaroth laughed with his snake head.

Agni quickly looked back at me and then at Ignatius.

"Sylphy, I am going now! Stay here and protect your mother and everyone here, and my little brother as well! I will be lending you my Draconic Arts, make sure to use them well!" He said.

"I will!" I said, as I quickly decided to unsheathe my sword and confront the army of almost a hundred True Red Demons marching towards us.

"Let me give you a hand as well!" My mother also enhanced Agni with her buffs, as the dragon nodded and flew into the skies.

FLASH!

Agni flew into the skies like a meteor, clashing against the vicious Astaroth with all his strength!

CLAAASSSH!!!

Chapter 462 Agni VS Astaroth

CLAAASH!

An enormous Ancient True Dragon clashed against a Duke From "Hell" as an enormous shockwave resonated across the skies. Agni not only received the boost of my own Spiritual Blessing and my Class, but he was also receiving the amazing boost of my mother's Enhancement Spell, making him even stronger. His enormous draconic claws easily began to pierce through the scales of Astaroth, as the ferocious snake-headed demon hissed back and tried to bite through his skin.

However, it seemed completely impossible! Agni used the Draconic Art: Orichalcum Body to temporarily make his skin as hard as the hardest metal there is in this world, apparently, and made it near impossible for the jaws of this Demon to pierce through them.

CLANK! CLANK!

"Ohooo! Your scales are very hard...!" Astaroth recognized.

"And my fist is harder!" Agni roared, his enormous draconic fists suddenly were covered by flames, as he unleashed an enormous barrage of fists against the entire face of Astaroth!

"Draconic Arts: Dragon Meteor!"

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

"SHAAAAHAHAHAHAHA!"

However, as Astaroth was being demolished, he suddenly began to laugh. His entire body was being shrouded by enormous wounds, and he laughed.

"So interesting! Amusing, even!"

"What are you laughing at?! I am beating the shit out of you!"

Agni furiously swept Astaroth across the skies using his tail, enhancing the tip and shaping it as a sharp spear, mercilessly piercing through the chest of Astaroth, and making him vomit a mouthful of blood.

CRASH!

"SHAAHAHA..."

"You're dead!"

Agni looked at Astaroth, but somehow, Astaroth remained alive...

"Is that so? Can you tell me... how many heads do you see?"

As I shared the senses of Agni, I was not able to see what was wrong with his senses, but seconds after, something, a horrendous pain, took over Agni's senses and his entire body, as he felt like he was somehow completely paralyzed!

"Nnnggh?!"

Not only his senses were being played with, but he suddenly saw something horrid! All the wounds he had inflicted to Astaroth disappeared; he was completely unscathed.

And Astaroth wasn't even in front of him... Agni had been fighting nothing but air this entire time. Everything was a strange illusion, a hallucination.

"Shaaa... Did you like my new toxin? It took me a bit of time to adjust it for you, but what do you think? Isn't it amusing? Are you seeing things now? How many heads can you see? Eh? Ehhh?" Asked Astaroth behind him.

"W-What... What kind of poison?! Guhh...!" Agni suddenly felt nausea, vomiting anything he had inside his stomach, and blood. "I-I am a dragon, how come this poison affects me?! I am immune to such things...!"

"Immune? There is nothing like immunity when it come to toxins!" Laughed Astaroth. "Something, always, will work in you, no matter what."

"Bastard!!!" Agni roared furiously, encompassing his entire body with flames. The flames flowed across his entire body, every vein, and like this, he managed to purify the toxins, regaining his consciousness.

"I'LL KILL YOU! ROOOARRR!"

Agni roared furiously, flapping his wings as he managed to regain his consciousness. But the strange thing is... when did Astaroth got poison inside of him? When he bite him? But there are no wounds over his body... This is weird, very weird!

"Agni! Wait, don't get close to him!" I said.

"What?! But if I don't get closer how can I beat him?!" Agni asked furiously.

"No! He has something that can manipulate your own body and generate toxins, he doesn't even need to properly create them out of his body... It's strange, but it could be said he is doing alchemy with your own body!" I said.

"What?! Is that even possible?!" He wondered.

"I don't know but remember that this thing comes from another world entirely, whatever rules he has in his powers are completely different than our own!" I said.

"Right..." Agni quickly calmed down, keeping a distance from Astaroth.

"Hmm? Oh, so you realized." Astaroth said with a cocky smile. "I guess my Demonic Alchemy is indeed quite powerful, huh? But I cannot directly target someone far away from me, sadly... Of course, I can still do things such as directly changing the composition of the oxygen surrounding me like this..."

POOF!

Suddenly, purple-colored smoke emerged, as the laughter of Astaroth resonated across the skies, the purple smoke began to spiral around constantly, beginning to grow larger and moving upwards!

FLUOOOSSH!

An enormous tornado of poison flew towards Agni!

"Like hell this will affect me!" Agni roared, gathering Mana into his throat by absorbing the one I naturally gave to him as my Familiar, his entire throat quickly bulged like a frog and then...!

BOOOOOMMMM!!!

An enormous beam of blazing flames came from his breath attack, impacting the tornado of purple smoke and consuming it entirely, quickly reaching Astaroth.

However, the snake quickly evaded the powerful attack, flying upwards and then waving his snake hands, suddenly generating an enormous sphere of purple goo out of the saliva coming from his snake heads.

"Poisonous Demonic Slime!"

FLASH!

The mass of goo suddenly began to move on its own, expanding constantly to a ridiculous size and attempting to capture Agni within it!

"Drown in poison!" He laughed. "Shaahahahah!"

"He can create slimes made of poison... Well, this is nothing much...! Dragon Magic: Draconic Super Nova!"

FLAAAASH!

Agni immediately conjured special Dragon Magic with barely any chanting, as enormous magic circles appeared around him, unleashing gigantic spheres of flames the size that easily surpassed fifty meters each, and all of them flew towards Astaroth at the same time, burning and evaporating his slime in the process!

"Hmph...!" Astaroth unleashed a wave of his enormous Demonic Aura, attempting to easily shield himself from this mere attack, however...!

BOOOOOMMM!

His barrier of Demonic Energy was easily destroyed, as the rest of the hits reached his body for real this time, as his face was filled with shock!

"Wh-Whaaat?!"

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOOOMMM!!!

His entire body began to be charred alive!

Chapter 463 Faylen VS Lilith

While my father fought Berith and Agni fought against Astaroth, I looked into the distance, Lilith was slowly flying towards us. Her wings were black and feathered, like those of a raven. And her smile was incredibly sickening. She was going to target us, for sure, and she commanded the other Demons with a smile while using her very presence as a way to enhance their morale. The giant demons, who the smallest was around four meters, were all rushing here, and quickly began to attack mother's Holy Light Fortress using their magic from afar even before getting here.

"Knock, knock! Hello thereeee~ Why don't you come out of your house for a little bit, lady Hero? Oh my! You've surely got a bunch of beautiful children here! I would love to pet them and play with them!" Lilith said, her enormous hands reached the Fortress and began knocking in the entire barrier. Her body size easily increased over time, reaching over thirty meters, she was enormous.

"If you don't want to play with us then I'll have to force my way through~ It is always more exciting that way anyways!" Laughed Lilith, as her enormous hands suddenly grew sharp and long nails, which began to attack the barrier mother erected even faster, cracks continuously emerged over the barrier, but she was still unable to break it, although she was very persistent.

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

"Come onnn~ I just want to play!" She said teasingly.

"Nnngh... My Mana is getting consumed so quick..." My mother muttered. "If this keeps up, I'll pass out from using too much Mana." She cried. "Sylphy, please, lend me your strength."

"My strength?!" I asked.

"Your Mana... It surpasses everything I have ever thought possible for a person, you have... like an endless amount! Could it be possible you can share some with me?" She asked.

"The Mana...! Sure!" I said, quickly beginning to give my mother more and more Mana, although I already began to feel like my soul was getting a lot of pain.

"But how do we deal with this Demon?" I asked.

"P-Papa and mama should get here soon enough!" Aquarina said. "I heard their voices!"

It seems that her parents spoke to Aquarina through telepathy, telling her that they were moving here.

"No! Aquarina, tell them to destroy the pillars! If they come here they'll be doing exactly what they want! If this Miasma Domain keeps up for too long, we'll be surrounded by too many monsters to handle!" My mother said.

"What? But...!" Aquarina felt surprised.

"Tell them that, Aquarina!" My mother ordered Aquarina, as she quickly spoke to her parents through her ring, which seemed to connect to them through a special method, allowing her to speak to them through Telepathy.

"Papa, mama! Aunt Faylen says that you have to take down the other pillars and not come here!" Said Aquarina.

"What?! But there are three True Demon Dukes there!" Shade said.

"Faylen! What are you even talking about?!" Nepheline furiously spoke through the ring.

"Just do as I say! If we destroy the Miasma Domain, the demons will weaken! This entire world is composed of foreign elements that are harmful to them, this is why they often become weakened in here if they don't eat a lot of miasma or souls... This Miasma Domain is made so they can exert a large quantity of their original power, so do as I say!" My mother said.

"Damn it... But you better take care of Aquarina!" Nepheline roared angrily.

"Fine, we'll do it as quickly as possible then!" Shade said.

"Leave it to me... Pregnant or not, I am still one of the strongest of the Heroes!" My mother said with a cocky smirk, as she quickly glanced at the demons surrounding us and at Lilith.

She suddenly relaxed, slowly walking forward. An enormous owl and a crane appeared at her side, suddenly merging with her body. Her appearance suddenly became beautiful and angelic, with feathered wings behind her back and long white hair, with glowing golden eyes.

"Divine Light Magic: Light Mirage!"

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

Suddenly, several clones of herself emerged, over twenty of them, which all flew towards the skies using their wings, reaching the outside of the barrier and beginning to attack the demons with beams of holy light, pestering the enormous Lilith like flies.

"Nggh?! Is this everything you can do?!" She roared furiously.

"Not everything." My mother said, beginning to suddenly form an incantation all while keeping up the barrier and also controlling mirages which she was producing constantly, she was casting three spells at the same time! How can she even do this?!

"I've devised this spell just to deal with you true demons after what happened years ago when we almost were defeated by you!"

My mother suddenly hit the ground with her golden staff, imbuing the floor itself with a holy domain and then, the holy domain expanded outside, showing up as countless of runes in the floor.

"Divine Light Magic: Exorcism!"

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

Suddenly, all of the True Demons saw a bright light coming from the floor they were accidentally stepping on. The light quickly consumed their bodies entirely, turning them into particles of light!

"WH-WHAT?!"

"GYAAAAHHH...!"

"N-NO! NOT YET!"

The True Demons were all screaming, but it didn't seem like it particularly hurt them, in fact, this was an entirely different spell on its totality.

"What is this?!" Lilith muttered, flying into the skies to evade the light coming from the floor.

"Killing you demons is really a pain, so I've devised a spell that can send you all back to your world!" Said my mother. "It is tremendously exhausting to conjure, but you're all getting out of my world!"

"S-She's actually exorcizing us back to our world?!"

"Agghhh!"

"I had yet to feast in humans!"

"Not yet... Noooo!"

The True Demons screamed, as they were unable to get any prey before getting sent back home by my mother without their permission. Apparently Shade and Nepheline had managed to evacuate most of the survivors of the Noble District to an underground area where they were being guarded by their spirits and sealed in a chamber, according to Aquarina, so the amount of casualties had been reduced a lot since then. These demons and their obsession for sacrifices was quickly stopped!

"You damn bitch! You dare negate my children the privilege of your blood?! Who do you think you are, lowly rats?!" Lilith showed her true colors as her beautiful appearance slowly shapeshifted into a horrendous monster. "I'll cut you into pieces and feast in your guts!"

Her enormous claws began to hit the barrier more strongly than ever!

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

What should we do now?! My mother seems to be about to collapse over exhaustion...

If this keeps up for too long...

I... I have to fight myself!

Chapter 464 The Trust Of A Mother

CLASH!

CLASH!

CLASH!

The sound of Lilith's claws piercing through the barrier resonated across the entire noble district. Her wicked laughter was annoying to hear, and her enormous body and presence only made things more horrible to bear. My mother's Light Mirage Clones constantly attacked her, fusing herself with her Light Spirits to give her greater power in battle.

Of course, her real body was here in the safety of the barrier. However, her barrier was constantly shattering and reconstructing itself. My mother's Mana was incredibly vast but she had been forced to spend almost all of it through these last desperate minutes of battle. I already feed her another two more Leaves of Life, leaving me only a few.

She was growing more tired, and although the leaves kept her up, that wouldn't last forever. I had to intervene. But how can I even do something? I was currently helping Aquarina, Zack, and Ninhursag in defeating the surrounding demons that began hitting the barrier. Thanks to mother's enhancement buff magic, we were able to unleash stronger magic, and our spirits were able to hit harder. Even Pyuku was unleashing his power as storms of fireballs and arrows began firing out of his own body from the abilities he had copied from the goblins he ate.

However, that's not enough, my mother was clearly losing against Lilith. My father was fighting against Berith and seemed that both were almost equal in power, and Agni was furiously fighting against Astaroth, who seemed to be able to heal from burn wounds by shedding off his scales like a snake does... Meanwhile Shade and Nepheline are chasing around the pillars of the Miasmic Domain to destroy it and weaken both monsters and demons, while also stopping the Dungeon Breaks from occurring.

Nevertheless, my mother is the one struggling the most, only capable of hitting Lilith using her Mirages, which seem to do absolutely no damage. Exorcism doesn't work in such a powerful demon either. Lilith seems packed with demonic energy, probably a benefit of being a high ranked demon that has the title of "Duchess of Hell" and even a "Concubine of the King of Hell, Lucifer". She's not someone that can be dealt with easily.

Meanwhile, Mary, the Lord of this Fiefdom, and Mist are unconscious after seeing so many scary things, and were lying over the ground right now, behind mother. To make things worse, if mother grows too exhausted to the point the Leaves of Life have no more effect on her, the barrier might break and everything will be lost.

I... I didn't made a contract with Agni to merely help him, I also acquired a lot of power, and this momentary change in my body... It all means only one single thing, that I have the power to make a change now.

But can I really defeat Lilith?

No... it is impossible.

No matter how much I think about it, I can't.

But if I receive my mother's aid in healing and buff spells, and even barriers...

There might be to be some possibility.

But would my mother let me go? She had always been so overly protective with me, and with justification. After all I am eight years old, almost nine now, but still, I am far too young to jump into battle like this. However, the situation is dire.

"Mom!" I said, as I looked at my mother gritting her teeth. I looked back into my own scaly hands, the long claws I had, even the new tail and my little wings, and even the horns atop my forehead. My red hair that seemed to be made of flames... I was too powerup to just waste this opportunity!

My mother seemed to have read my mind, sighing.

"I know what you're thinking about, Sylph... But no, I can't let you-"

"But we are going to die before Shade or Nepheline can come to help us! You're about to collapse, the leaves are no longer effective, right?"

"Ungh..."

My mother gritted her teeth, as the barrier suddenly began to gain more and more cracks, they were healing way too slow now, and Lilith knew that, suddenly beginning to laugh, as she raised her enormous arms and began loading a gigantic sphere of darkness and demonic energy of red color.

"Fufu, I guess you're about to perish now. Here, this is my farewell gift for you, hero!" Lilith laughed, suddenly launching the sphere towards us.

"MOM!" I cried, as my mother quickly began to cry.

"BUT SURVIVE! Okay?! Don't... DIE!" She cried.

"As long as you help me, I can assure you I won't die!" I roared back at her, as scales suddenly began to grow more and more over my body, forming a natural Draconic Armor. The Scales merged with my own equipment as well, covering me with them, even my sword began to change shape, growing twice as large! Is this the true power of a fully awakened Beast Spirit?!

"Alright... alright!" My mother cried. "Here, my last power, take it all!"

FLAAASH!

Without any other options, my mother desperately imbued every other buffing magic spell she knew, as my entire body began to feel incredibly powerful, an aura of magic and draconic force started to emerge, as a furious dragon roared from within my own aura.

"ROOOAARRRR!"

"T-This is incredible..." My mother muttered. "Even if temporary, the contract with the dragon really made you strong... Alright, I'll aid you with barriers and healing magic, Sylph, remember everything I and your father have taught you until now!"

My mother suddenly hugged me, kissing my forehead.

"I love you."

"I love you too! I'll come back right away!"

I gave a kiss to my mother's cheek, as my wings extended and grew three times their small original size, flaring with golden flames. Currently, Naturia, Alice, and Ignatius were merging their elements together to form Divine Fire, which covered my entire body.

FLAAASH!

Without hesitating, I flew into the skies, passing through the barrier, and confronting the enormous True Demon, Lilith.

CLASH!

Chapter 465 Sylph VS Lilith

I reached the skies as Furoh quickly emerged out of my Soul Scape alongside Beelzebub. They wanted to help as well, even if their help might not be that much, somehow, they were also being affected by my Beast Aura. It appears that such a power is shared with all Familiars through our connection. This added with my high Level [Spiritual Blessing] Skill and the Class I took [Spirit Master] their power has been enhanced tens of times over.

I felt my entire body beginning to flow with a stream of Draconic Force, a special energy that was made by refining Mana with a Dragon's True Blood, something that only Pure Dragons could utilize to unleash Draconic Arts, but apparently, thanks to my connection with Agni, he was able to share such energy with me, and he was willingly infusing a large quantity to me the moment he saw me jumping to battle.

"ROOOAARRR!"

My Draconic Aura surged from my body, resembling Ignatius himself, who slowly began to merge with my own Aura almost naturally, enhancing my power further. Could this be because this Aura is due to me having eaten his flesh and bathed in his blood? Although it sounds crude, our connection is way stronger if we take this into consideration!

"Let's go Sylphy! Beat the shit out of that demon whore!" Ignatius roared furiously; his enormous presence emerged as a ghost made of infernal flames behind my back.

"Foo! Foo!" Naturia cheered, as she had merged into my chest, imbuing her Life force into my entire body.

"I will always stay at your side, Sylphy! Let's do this! Your greatest challenge yet!" Said Alice, her entire being had been merged with my soul since I was reborn in this world.

"I am not as strong as you guys, but I will do everything I can to help as well!" Furoh roared, emerging in his Fenrir form.

"Fighting a damn True Demon wasn't something I expected to do when I made a contract with you, damn it!" Beelzebub cried, he seemed the most scared, but still remained at my side, willing to fight.

Lilith looked at me as she saw the enormous sphere of demonic energy reaching me.

"Hahaha! Have you jumped to your sure death, foolish elf child? I will enjoy devouring your charred corpse later!" Lilith laughed, her long tongue began dangling disgustingly.

"That's not going to happen...!" I roared.

"Sylph, take this knowledge!"

Suddenly, I heard Agni's voice whisper into my mind, as I felt a stream of dragon knowledge reaching my mind.

These were the ways of conjuring Draconic Arts...!

"Use my Draconic Arts! I think you should be able to use them to fight the demon, do your best! Don't disappoint me now that I've got such high expectations!" The old dragon said.

"No way I will disappoint you!" I roared back, as my blade suddenly grew twice as big once more, reaching up to five meters of length. The handle was completely covered on red scales, and the blade had turned completely black like the claws of a dragon, there was even a red jewel in the handle, resembling the eye of a dragon...!

As I confronted the enormous, fifty-meter-big sphere of a ridiculous amount of demonic energy and darkness, I closed my eyes and remained calm, seconds before the sphere were to hit me.

Within my mind, I began gathering and assessing all the knowledge I acquired and merged it with my own techniques and even my own Skills. Until finally, I created something brand new.

I opened my eyes once more, as Divine Flames flared from within, the fury of the Dragon Aura enhancing my power and arms, as I swung my sword with everything I had!

"Dragon Blade Arts: Hellfire Slash!"

FLAAAASH!

An enormous eruption of Draconic Flames merged with Divine Flames emerged, forming into a furious dragon coming from the powerful slash of my blade, and clashing against Lilith's strongest attack yet!

CLAAAASSSSHH!

"E-Eh?!"

Lilith suddenly was shocked, as the slicing attack pierced through her own blow, slicing it in half and then making it explode in midair to two separate directions.

BOOOOMMM!!!

"I-Impossible...! You're just a child with a dragon's power, how come you're so powerful to be able to slice through- Ngh?!"

CLAAASH!

And right after that, an enormous dragon, almost identical to Agni, clashed against Lilith and punched her in the face!

"AGGH...!"

Divine Flames erupted from his fist as it began to burn through her beautiful face, she screamed furiously, hitting the dragon who began to evade her blows.

"Way to go, Furoh!" I roared, reaching up to him.

Indeed, this was Furoh!

A mimic such as him is capable of shaping into many shapes and imitate even the most fearsome of foes. With his unique skills gained with the power of giving him a System Status, Furoh can even take a small percentage of the power of the beings he mimics, and he choose nobody else than Agni!

Thanks to absorbing and being connected to my Beast Aura, he was able to acquire a share of such power, and even merged the Dragon Force flowing through me into his own body, his mimicry capabilities temporarily leveled up through such a way, and he was even able to hit Lilith strongly, burning her stupid face.

"You lowly scum!" Lilith immediately confronted Furoh as her shape suddenly grew more grotesque, countless black scales grew over her body, forming an armor, and two pairs of arms popped out of her torso, wearing gigantic black weapons!

"Dragon Meteor!"

CLAAASHHH!!

Her blows reached Furoh, as he unleashed a Dragon Meteor copy of lower power, which barely managed to help him resist and parry the initial barrage of blows from Lilith's Cursed Weapons, but that was more than enough time for me to reach the damned demon woman with everything I had, now from the back!

Combining my Light Magic with Fire Magic, Life Magic, and the power of Alice's Divine Runes, I imbued it all into my blade, and then...!

"Dragon... BREAKER!"

CLAAAASH!

An enormous barrage of countless horizontal and vertical red aura slashes were unleashed from my sword, attacking Lilith from the back and even piercing through her armor and tough skin!

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH!

"Unnghh...?! T-This is...! You're damaging me?! I am the Duchess of Hell! How come...?!"

Lilith was left flabbergasted, but that wasn't even the end of it!

I concentrated a million Ember in a few seconds thanks to the enhanced processing power I acquired through my contract with Agni, and then, fused it with Dragon Force!

"Dragon... NOVA!"

FLAAASH!

Chapter 466 Intense Blazing Fight!

An enormous sphere of energy made up by a Million Embers emerged right before my blade, right on top of it! It was already incredibly strong, as I had tried it out before against mere centipedes back in our Dungeon Exploration, but now, I had ramped the power by a literal million times and added Dragon Force on top of it for maximum damage output.

And I simply called it...

"Dragon... NOVA!"

FLAAASH!

An enormous sphere of draconic and divine flames emerged, as I launched it with everything I had against the True Demon in front of me using my blade!

CLAAAAASH!

The sphere reached Lilith, impacting the back of her head, and burning her long hair, making her scream in agony.

"AAAGHH! MY HAAAAIIRRR...!" She roared furiously. "You little bitch! I cult you to shred- AGH!"

However, the enormous jaws of Furoh bit through one of Lilith's arms, stopping her from confronting me even for a few seconds, enough time for me to reach Lilith and unleash a Divine Dragon Fire Storm using Embers, Dragon Force, and Divine Fire all together!

FLUOOOSSSHHH!

"AKH...! T-This damn fire! Why does it hurt so much?!" Lilith screamed in pain a lot, but she was incredibly tough, she was tanking all my hits and although wounds began emerging here and there, she was still standing like nothing, without any apparent exhaustion.

She seemed overly superficial, caring too much about her own appearance, her face, her hair, and even her nails. Because of this, she was constantly getting distracted. The way to fight this lustful and selfish demon was to attack such weak points!

"You've got some pretty toenails here, lady, let me poison them for you!" Beelzebub laughed, stealthily flying to Lilith's legs and then dumping a sea of corrosive acidic venom out of his fly jaws.

"GYAAAAAAH!" Lilith cried, shocked and angered, as she quickly kicked Beelzebub away, while beginning to sob ridiculously. "M-My toenails! I've put so much time taking care of them! Y-YOU LITTLE DAMN GIRL!"

CLAAASH!

Lilith lost her temper, furiously clashing against me as she unleashed a simple body slam, consecutively with three enormous spheres of darkness and demonic energy, which she controlled with her own mind through telekinesis of some sort, firing them at me as if they were tracking me.

"Damn it...!"

I concentrated all of my mind as I remembered my father's teachings. The movements to parry and everything else, I put them all into testing now!

"HYAAAA!"

I swung my blade precisely yet furiously, slashing a first sphere, which quickly exploded too close to me.

BOOOOMMM!

A barrier of light materialized around my body, protecting me from the deadly attack. However, the impact alone ended pushing me away. I quickly flapped my wings to quickly intercept two enormous thirty-meter-big spheres of demonic energy coming my way at the same time.

To destroy both at the same time, I had to go even further beyond! I quickly imbued my blade with most of my Dragon Force, and then gathered Divine Flames and two million Ember in a few seconds. My blade erupted with golden flames, growing several times its own size, and with a horizontal slash, I unleashed all the power within the sword.

"Dragon Blade Arts: Blazing Claw!"

SLAAASH!

The enormous amount of flames coming from the blade suddenly shaped as sharp, draconic claws, and impacted against the two enormous spheres. The phantom of a furious dragon emerged from within my body, Ignatius, who seemed to take over my own attack, swinging his blazing claws and slicing the two spheres into pieces.

BOOOM! BOOOOOMMM!!!

Both exploded consecutively, as the barrier mother set over me protected me from the dangerous demonic energy that could damage the body of a person or even poison it, although with my current transformation, I could bear with it for a bit.

"You have yet to deal with me!"

CLASH!

Lilith's leg suddenly flashed across the sky, the enormous limb hitting me as if I were a ball and striking me down into the ground!

BOOOM!

"Ungh...!"

I saw the barrier of light gaining more and more cracks, but through my own Mana input, the barrier regenerated quickly after. Thanks to my current form, my soul was reinforced at least a hundred times, it was way stronger than before, and thanks to that, I was able to stand back up again almost unscathed while spending a lot of Mana constantly. I had wondered before if I truly had endless Mana, but there's no doubt now, I really do...

As long as I got enough enchantments into my soul to bear with the enormous burden that it takes, I can exceed my own limits temporarily. I have to take this opportunity to use all I have and defeat Lilith, somehow.

"Now I've got you where I wanted! That damn barrier will shatter in no time against my stomach!"

Lilith roared furiously, rushing to my side, her stomach suddenly opened grotesquely, as the mouth inside emerged as if it were some sort of hellish worm with countless sharp fangs and a long and disgusting tongue, reaching up to me and biting through the barrier!

Crack...! Crack!

The barrier immediately began to crack faster than I could heal it, but I wasn't intending to sit down here and watch as she attempts to eat me whole! Now that I've got her stomach so close...

"Ignatius, help me out!"

"Right away!"

Ignatius Spirit surged from within my body, unleashing a storm of flames that suddenly compacted itself within my sword. The sword suddenly changed its shape once more, as its tip resembled an enormous red dragon made of pure metal! What the heck? He can do this?!

"This must be the Embodiment Power that your parents use with their weapons!" Alice said. "Your father's equipment and weapon always change depending on the Spirits he Fuses with, this should be something similar...!"

"Amazing...! With this...!" I quickly touched the sword, which now resembled more like an enormous cannon, as I began infusing a million Embers and all my Mana possible inside!

"Draconic... CANNON!"

FLAAASH!

An enormous arc of flames erupted from within the cannon, reaching the insides of Lilith's stomach.

BOOOOOOMMMM!!!

Chapter 467 Furoh Joins In

"Guh?! Gueaghh...!"

Lilith suddenly vomited a mouthful of blood from her main head, as her stomach suddenly began to inflate like a balloon as I filled it all with Draconic Divine Flames, burning through all her insides!

"AAGGGGGHHH...!"

Lilith's agonizing scream was heard by the other two Demon Dukes with her, which were her retainers. Berith and Astaroth immediately looked at her.

"Lady Lilith!" They said at the same time, attempting to come for her aid, only for my father and Agni to stop both of them, unleashing countless attacks against them to keep them at bay.

"Unnnngghh..! Aghh! M-My insides..! AAAGGH...!"

Lilith suddenly stepped back, as she tried to stand up but suddenly fell into the ground, shaking the surroundings as if she had provoked a earthquake.

BAAAM!

Did that do it?!

I quickly stood up and jumped around the rubble while Ignatius, almost completely exhausted, returned my sword back to the previous appearance it had.

"Did that kill her?!" I wondered.

"No, she's still alive!" Said my mother, suddenly speaking to me through Telepathy. "However, she's clearly very weakened, you should try to slay her right away before she regenerates back!"

"Mom! But how can I kill a True Demon?" I wondered. "Beheading her?"

"No, that won't do for a True Demon Duchess such as her. Every True Demon has a weak spot, that's called their Demonic Core. It is inside of their chests and contains their lifeblood and demonic energy together. As it shatters, they grow very weak, aim at it with everything you've got and take her down!" Said my mother. "I will give you my support using my Mirages, hurry, Sylphy!"

"Okay, got it! Count on me!" I said, using my wings to fly faster towards Lilith. It felt as if I could use them without problems.

FLASH!

Suddenly, a blue slime jumped over my head, it was Pyuku?!

"Sylphy! It's me." Said the slime, it was Furoh!

"Furoh! Are you okay?" I asked.

"Yeah, I've recovered after a bit. I discovered I can eat rubble to recover my wounds faster, it seems that Gluttony works like that." Said Furoh.

"That's a relief... Let's go now, I'll need your assistance! We have to find the True Demon's Core and shatter it!" I said.

"Where could that be?" Furoh wondered.

"Alice is currently analyzing Lilith from afar." I said.

"Sylphy, I am done analyzing, I used a few thousand EXP you've accumulated to hasten my processing power, sorry."

"It is fine, show it to me!"

Suddenly, a magic window appeared in front of me, Alice's powers had been advancing over time, and now she even managed to become capable of analyze things in greater detail. Back then she could only analyze smaller things, but now, she even analyzed the entire structure of a True Demon, showing me Lilith's strange internal anatomy.

A red dot appeared right in the middle of her chest, spherical in shape and glowing with bright red aura, that must be the True Demon Core! If we can shatter that, Lilith would either die or weaken enough to be killed more easily.

"It is in her chest, Furoh!" I said. "Can more can you turn into?"

"Well..."

FLASH!

Suddenly Furoh turned into a doppelganger of... myself?!

"I am not as strong as you, but I think I could assist you in this form, Sylphy!"

"Uwah! This is a bit weird but I guess we don't really got time... Wait, can't you turn into mom or my father?"

"I can't bring even a bit of their power, but my connection with you, and your connection with that dragon made it easier for me to turn into the dragon and on you in this dragon form. I can't turn into the demons either."

"I see, well, let's do it then!"

We flew together into the skies, reaching Lilith's enormous body in the floor. She had destroyed many empty buildings while falling into the ground and was currently slowly regenerating her painful wounds.

"Uunggh...! Y-You damn little rat...!" She muttered, quickly directing her gaze towards me. "Don't you dare come near me...!"

"You're not the one to decide that!" I roared, quickly flying down towards her like a blazing meteor with Furoh at my side, the two of us looked almost identical, as our flames converged together Ignatius, Naturia, and Alice also helped, and even Beelzebub emerged above Lilith's face, suddenly multiplying into countless flies from his small maggot-like form, annoying her.

BBBZZZZ...!

"Ungh! Flies?! D-Damn it!" Lilith cried, quickly pointing a free hand as we fell towards her. "You've forced my hand now...! Dominus Infernos!"

FLUOOOOSSSHH!

Suddenly, Lilith's surroundings changed completely, as an enormous inferno of demonic flames erupted from around her surroundings, turning everything around her into ashes! These infernal flames were not normal either, as they possessed millions of wailing souls within, all of them directed towards us!

"Burn to ashes! Terminus Infernos!"

TRUUUUMMMM...!

The flames converged into an enormous arc of fire that spiraled upwards, reaching up to us!

FLUOOOOSHHH!!!

"S-Shit, Furoh, evade! Evade!" I said.

"Uungh! This fire is way too hot!" Furoh roared, suddenly flying around the enormous tower of flames alongside me, as I pointed my sword towards Lilith and began gathering my magic. Her face as she saw us barely evading her deadly blow was of complete disbelief.

"Y-Youuu! Wall of Flesh! I summon you!"

FLAAASH!

However, before I could even reach her, a sudden tremor happened as an enormous, hundred-meter-big demonic circle appeared in the middle of thin air, a gigantic and grotesque wall of flesh with countless tentacles and eyes appeared, blocking our path!

"Dragon... NOVA!"

I quickly unleashed my strongest Dragon Nova, as an enormous sphere of flames emerged out of the palm of my hand. Without doubting, I fired it against the enormous wall of flesh, while Furoh copied my movements and unleashed a second one, although half as big!

BOOMM! BOOOOOMMMMM!!!

The two consecutive explosions were good enough to burn through an enormous part of the wall of flesh, as it suddenly began to dissipate into ashes right away!

"Ah?! Y-You destroyed that defensive demon?!" Muttered Lilith in surprise.

"And now's your turn! Dragon... BREAKER!"

CLAAASHH!!!

Chapter 468 Unlocking A New Power!

I reached Lilith's chest with Furoh, as I managed to pierce through her chest after Furoh unleashed a storm of dragon flames against her to distract her. Lilith's various arms with her cursed weapons attempted to slice me midway through, but rays of holy light came from the skies, as my mother's mirages stopped her right in time for my blade to reach her.

CLAAAASHH!!!

I felt my sword slowly slicing through her incredibly tough skin, as I gritted my teeth and continued pushing forward, reaching her tough bones, and shattering them, and then slicing through anything else until I sensed something, an enormous quantity of Demonic Power coming from within the interior of her chest.

"Aaagghh! S-Stop, don't you dare...!" Lilith roared furiously, as she suddenly destroyed my mother's Mirages.

Her enormous arms quickly moved towards me to grab me and throw me away, but Furoh quickly defended me, turning into an enormous dragon similar to Agni and singlehandedly stopping her. However, Beelzebub also appeared, supporting him by unleashing hundreds of Darkness Spheres.

"Uugh...! You persistent little rats...!" Lilith cried furious, as I reached the depths of her chest, finding her glowing True Demon Core. "Stop! Don't you dare!"

"Divine Dragon Meteor!"

Gathering all of my Mana and Dragon Force into my body and sword, a storm of divine flames exploded out of my weapon and body, shaping as dozens of furious dragons made of golden flames, and impacting Lilith's Demon Core while I pointed my weapon and swung my blade with everything I had!

CLAAAASSSSHH!!!

The enormous impact unleashed a gigantic amount of smoke everywhere, as I felt as if my sword hit something almost completely impenetrable. The moment I opened my eyes...

"Eh?"

"You're going to need more than wits to pierce through the Demon Core of someone such as myself!"

Lilith suddenly began to laugh, as if her entire desperation was a whole act! In mere seconds, countless tentacles emerged out of her open flesh, trying to catch me!

I moved almost instinctively, slicing through all of them while gritting my teeth. Her Demon Core was so hard that even all my strength was incapable of even scratching it! Is it harder than even a diamond?!

Countless more tentacles appeared nonstop as I conjured two Dragon Novas at the same time, firing them at separate directions and burning through the flesh of Lilith.

BOOM! BOOM!

However, her flesh immediately regrew anew, and even bone blades began to grow everywhere, trying to pierce through me!

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

I evaded and parried as many as I could, but I was being left without many options now...!

If only I could change into my Demon Slayer Class right now... however, my Spirit Master Class is currently buffing everyone, if I change it now, I will end up weakening rather than growing any stronger.

"Alice, is there a way to utilize all this EXP I've accumulated? Leveling up Skills won't do much of a difference, right?" I asked desperately, evading tentacles, and destroying bones as I tried to not run away too far from the Demon Core exposed to me.

"I am already calculating something... You've currently accumulated over a million EXP due to all the monsters that had been slain not only by you but the rest of your family and friends... Rather than fixing any functions, perhaps adding something new should do the trick..." She said.

"What? Is there something new?" I wondered.

"Well yes, and that's a Subclass!"

"Subclass?!"

Ding!

[You have exchanged 1200000 EXP]

[System has been restructured permanently]

[A new function has been unlocked: [Subclass]!]

[Your [Subclass] has been automatically set as [Alchemist]!]

[You learned the [Alchemy] Skill]

"This is...?!"

"It is similar to Classes, with this, you can have two at the same time, pretty much! You even gained a new Skill and everything, but that can be ignored for now, using System Modification, you can modify the Alchemist Subclass into some of the other Classes you've modified before!"

"Then with this, I can have Demon Slayer on top of Spirit Master!"

<#23a System>

[System Owner]: [Sylph Natoria Bravo]

[Magic Circle]: [Tier 2: Rank 8: Elemental Magic Circle]

[Physique]: [Tier 2: Rank 3: Yggdrasil's Eden Physique]

[Level]: [1/#523a]

[Class]: [Spirit Master]

[Subclass]: [Alchemist] -> [Demon Slayer]

[HP]: [1/1]

[MP]: [20/20]

[Strength]: [89] -> [150]

[Defense]: [3] -> [1]

[Magic]: [50] -> [100]

[Resistance]: [10] -> [1]

[Agility]: [50]

[Luck]: [-10]

[Charm]: [-100] -> [-200]

I quickly lowered my own Charm to a minus -100 once more, surpassing all the limits I had before, most likely thanks to this new Subclass, as I felt my blade suddenly gain a red and bloodthirsty aura! The power of the Demon Slayer Class is already activating... the power to deal incredible bonus damage to True Demons and even pierce through their defenses.

However, when I lowered my Charm to -200, something very weird began to happen, my entire body began to grow even more scales, and I looked slightly monstrous, more than before. Alongside that, an intimidating black aura emerged from my body, suddenly intimidating even the tentacles of Lilith for a few seconds!

"T-This presence...?! G-Get off my chest already!" The enormous True Demon shook the ground furiously, but I didn't let go, as I quickly reached her Core once more and then pointed my sword at the crystal.

"RAAAAH!"

FLAAASH!

My sword unleashed a bloodthirsty red aura, as it suddenly began to slowly pierce through the crystal!

CLASH!

"Unghh?!"

Lilith cried in agony as she suddenly couldn't move anymore.

"S-Stop...! DON'T!"

I felt as if my sword was slowly getting through the Demon Core, centimeter by centimeter. I had to grit my teeth and boost my strength using my stat shuffle spell to the limit, putting all points into Strength alone!

CRACK... CRACK...!

"A-AGGH...! I can't be defeated by you! Not a little girl!" Lilith began to panic, as her arms quickly reached up to me, but seconds before grabbing me, a flash of red light emerged from within her core, countless cracks began to come out from within, and then... it shattered!

"Demon... BREAKER!"

CRAAASH!

Chapter 469 Lilith's Defeat

I concentrated within my blade and my arms all the teachings I was given by my father, as I closed my eyes and gritted my teeth. My aura exploded, unleashing a gigantic dragon that boosted the speed and strength of my blade once more, finally managing to get through the crystal's incredible endurance!

Crack...! CRACK!

"Demon... BREAKER!"

CRAAASH!

The True Demon Core began to gain countless of cracks constantly, as if it were a never-ending chain reaction. In mere seconds, the entire crystal ball shattered into pieces, as an enormous quantity of Demonic Energy exploded out like red smoke.

"Nnngghh?! AAAGGGGGHHHHH...!"

Lilith's scream resonated across the entire noble district; her True Demon Core was truly shattered this time!

I immediately used my wings to fly away to not let the Demonic Essence capture me, as I saw from afar how Lilith's entire body completely grew pale and lifeless. Was that really the way to kill True Demons?

"YOUUUUU...!"

However, to my expectations, that wasn't it!

An enormous phantom made of red energy emerged before my eyes, it was Lilith! Did she just become a ghost now?!

"I'll take you to Hell with me!" Lilith's phantasmal claws reached up to me, grasping my entire body. She easily shattered the barriers my mother set over me, as her darkness and demonic energy suddenly began to take over my entire body.

Pain and agony began to quickly take over all my senses, as my eyes began to bleed and feel like they were about to burst, my mouth continuously was vomiting blood and I felt as if all my insides were twisting and exploding one after the other!

"Nnnnggh...! L-Let go of me!"

"I'll crush your insides! Suffer, scream, and cry!"

I couldn't help but scream like a mad dog with everything I had, furiously unleashing countless divine flames, or anything I could possibly use. Lilith's phantom seemed strangely more resilient than her own body!

"Sylphy!!!" Alice and everybody else cried, as I couldn't free myself from Lilith's grasp no matter how hard I tried, and all my familiars seemed completely sealed by her powers too.

"How are you not dead yet?! I am sure that I infected you with Demonic Miasma! What is this...? AGH?!"

Suddenly, from within the depths of my very soul, a sphere of pure darkness opened its single red eye. His chained body quickly freed itself, as a malicious smile surged on his large and serrated mouth.

It was the Curse.

Ding!

[Large quantities of pure Negative Energy and Foreign Essences similar to Negative Energy has been detected.]

[The [Curse of the Devourer of Darkness] has been automatically activated.]

[Curse]: [Curse of the Devourer of Darkness]

A curse that originally was meant to carry the hatred and resentment of an Ancient Demon King and slowly accumulate into a deadly disease that would kill his enemies, one way or another. However, it has been modified to instead, be able to absorb such Negative Energy and devour it, completely destroying it and, at the same time, absorbing its power to grow stronger, enhancing the carrier in the process. The carrier of this curse, however, suffers every time it absorbs this darkness.

This curse...? So it activates whenever it feels like?!

FLUOOOSSSH!

Within the depths of my soul, a black hole opened, and from within, a creepy red eye glared at Lilith, her phantasmal presence suddenly began to be absorbed, syphoned almost completely inside of my own soul.

"AAAAAAGGGH! B-BERITH! ASTAROTH! HELP MEEEEEE!" Lilith began to scream in agony as she tried to crawl away from me, completely scared of my Curse.

However, a sickly smile surged in my lips as I spit a mouthful of blood from my mouth. My eyes were completely destroyed but I could still sense her through my enhanced senses, without even doubting it, I manipulated this darkness within my soul and directed it towards her!

"You're not going anywhere...!"

"T-This is impossible...! Our bodies when summoned here are merely vessels created by magic, how come you can directly damage my Soul?!"

Lilith began to scream desperately, screaming her lungs out, or well, she didn't even have lungs anymore. I didn't respond to her words, as my mind was going numb, the more time I took doing this, the more it felt like I was being bathed in pure agony. One of the aftereffects of absorbing this negative energy was that I also experienced it.

I experienced all of the darkness of Lilith, her lust, her selfishness, her wicked heart. It made me sick, it made me want to tear apart my entire skin. But I bear with it, gritting my teeth until they shattered, and her soul finally was absorbed as her last cries couldn't be answered by Berith or Astaroth, as both of them were being stopped by my father and Agni.

"NOOOOOOO...!"

Lilith's last scream resonated across the surrounding ruins, as she suddenly disappeared from within the black hole inside of my soul...

"This is indeed an exquisite meal!"

The laughter of the Curse's personification could be heard from within the interior of my Soul, as I felt an enormous surge of power take over my body and soul... However, I felt so numb that my body simply fell from the sky, several hundreds of meters above the sky.

POOF!

Suddenly, I felt as if I fell over something very soft and gelatinous.

"We did it Sylphy! Hang in there! I'll bring you back to your mother!"

I heard the voice of Furoh as he swiftly carried me over his fluffy Fenrir form back, while my spirits seemed to be taking care of me. The sound of explosions, trees growing out of the ground and piercing several monsters and true demons, and the screams of creatures resonated, but I couldn't see anything.

I felt like passing out at any moment, but I resisted, not wanting to give up yet. I might have somehow killed Lilith, but the battle was far from over...

Until then, I felt the warmth of holy light of my mother's magic alleviating my pained body, as her warm tears fell over my face, and she hugged me and kissed me dearly.

"I-I did it... mom... Like... I promised you.."

"You reckless girl...!" She reprimanded me in between tears. "Yeah... you really did it."

Chapter 470 A Father's Resolve

Berith and Astaroth were constantly fighting against Allan and Agni without stopping. Many times the cries of Lilith resonated from below the ground, as the two, as her servants, tried to go for her aid, but they were stopped every time. The power of their master was, in fact, not so good at physical combat. Apparently Lilith specialized in the power of enchanting and creating illusions, but due to being summoned here, such powers were not as strong as the others. It didn't help that she disliked being burned or hit in delicate areas due to being overly obsessed with her own appearance.

Berith and Astaroth knew of their lady's weaknesses, and how much they were being targeted by the mysterious little girl who had gained the power of the Ancient Dragon one of them was fighting to the death. However, every time they were about to go aid Lilith, they were stopped over and over again by Allan and Agni, who were cheering for Sylph in the background. Her father was shocked, of course, to see his daughter fighting a True Demon 1v1, and was about to personally go and help her, even if it means he had to handle both Berith and Lilith at the same time, for his daughter that was nothing, even if it meant that he would have to destroy his own body in the process.

However, to his surprise, Sylph's amazing power was the real deal. After her unexpected Familiar Contract with the powerful Ancient Dragon Agni, she gained an unprecedented amount of incredible strength. Although it was only temporary as long as this entire battle lasted, it made her strong enough to fight against Lilith while her mother supported her with healing magic, buffing magic, and barrier magic. Somehow, it was possible for Sylph to go something completely beyond her current levels of strength.

At the end, she unleashed a tremendous amount of power, using once more that mysterious magic power that she had since being born, which both of her parents had already noticed. Her ability to suddenly conjure or bring out power without the necessity of the required chanting or the specific knowledge to use mana, she was gifted since being born, and her System was one of the reasons behind her incredible power. The System by itself was completely unknown to them, but they did know about its power, something they merely called her "Talent".

However, even with the aid of Agni's powerful Contract and Dragon Force Energy boosting her magic and physical strength, it was still completely insane that Sylphy was able to do all of that and more. And even went as far as shattering Lilith's Demon Core. In that time, both Allan and Agni thought Lilith was miraculously defeated, and realized she was actually weaker than her servants... however, that only lasted a few seconds as Lilith's phantasmal presence emerged, capturing Sylphy.

"Sylphy?!" Allan cried, as he saw Sylphy bleeding from most of her orifices as she was being infected with Demonic Miasma. She was dying!

"GET AWAY FROM MY DAUGHTEEEEER!"

Allan rushed to aid her with everything he had, but Berith stopped her, clashing against him!

CLASH!

"You've not let me aid milady in all this time, now I won't let you aid your child, hero! Confront me!" Berith, whose entire body was covered in countless wounds inflicted by Allan furiously fought back with everything he had, his Cursed Pike unleashing blasts of demonic energy which Allan constantly parried and blocked, although some ended hitting him directly, slowly weakening his physical strength, but it wasn't as if Berith was any better. Their fight was one of endurance, and Berith was slowly falling behind. However, he still had enough power to stop Allan!

CLASH! CLASH! CLAAASH!

"Get off my way!" Allan roared, furiously unleashing a storm of endless flames against Berith, who tanked it all with his bare body and unleashed countless piercing attacks using his Pike, throwing Allan back several times.

"I won't falter! Milady's vessel might be destroyed, but us demons can last even without a body, as long as our Demonic Souls exists. This is why we store our Demonic Cores inside our bodies..." Said Berith, revealing a weakness to Allan because he recognized his strength and braveness. "Now milady is putting her entire being into fighting, she is showing her truest self! I cannot simply let you intervene in such a moment for her!"

Berith roared furiously, even as a wicked demon that enjoyed bathing in the blood of his foes and devour the souls of the damned, he had an immense feeling of honor, pride, and dedication and loyalty to his master.

"I don't give a damn!" Allan roared, like a mad dog, he continued fighting while gritting his teeth as he saw his daughter being killed in front of his eyes.

"SYLPHYYYYYY!"

Suddenly, his roar was so loud that an enormous ray of flames emerged from his entire body, the combination of all his spirits' power, reaching Lilith from behind. Sylphy was unable to see anything as she was blinded, but Lilith was impacted by an enormous attack, which left her completely weakened!

BOOOOMMM!

"UNGH?!" Lilith muttered, and right in that moment, Sylph's curse activated, beginning to devour Lilith's weakened Demonic Soul.

"YOU DISHONORABLE BASTARD!!!" Berith roared furiously, clashing against Sylph's father, as Allan noticed his daughter awakening some sort of Darkness Attribute Spell of high Tier he could only speculate to be something similar to the [Black Hole] Tier 8 Spell, something only Shade could use, and limitedly. However, he had no time to wonder as he had to fight Berith's full strength, completely furious about what Allan had done.

CLASH! CLASH! CLAAASH!

Allan's katana-shaped sword continued clashing against Berith's enormous pike, as Lilith's screams of agony as she asked for the aid of her servants could never be answered, as she was ultimately consumed completely, something these two demons had never seen before.

"Lady Lilith... T-This can't be... No...! Her soul... Her soul was eaten?!" Berith began to cry in front of Allan, as Sylph's face distorted in surprise. "You bastards...! This wasn't supposed to go this way! ROOAAAAAHHH!!!"

CLAAASH!
