

A Glitched 701

Chapter 701 Healing The Farm Lands

Ding!

[A New [Special Quest] Has Been Generated: [Heal the Farmland And Make All Crops Regrow Anew!]

[Now that you've finished off the root of the problem, it's time to heal the land and use your amazing abilities as a [Farmer] to help regrow the entire farmland and the crops lost, which would had feed thousands of people living in Agarthia! It all depends on you and your friends now!]

[Completion Rewards: [250000 EXP] [125000 Shared EXP] [Spirit Tree Crystalized Branch (C Grade)] x2 [Earth Spirit Essence Potion (C Grade)] x2 [Divine Farmer's Elixir (B Grade)] x1 [???] x1]

[Time Limit: 24 Hours.]

A new Quest had popped up the moment we ended slaying the annoying pest of the city. I didn't realized before, but these monsters were brimming with some dark energy similar to the Demonic Power within Demon King Fragments... It is quite suspicious.

I do remember that also the Divine Ocean Dragon had this power, which was coming from the three goddesses wills I ate. What about that? Does this Chaos-like power originates from malice or corruption? It still a mystery...

Ah, talking about it, I was unable to butcher the body of the Dragon nor I even acquired the magic crystal! Did my parents looted it all for themselves? I'll have to ask for a part of the reward after all I defeated them with my friend's help.

"Anyways, lets get started, everyone. To clean the ground from all the burnt plants, let's first use [Clean] and then when everything on the surface is well clean, we can use [Soil Enrichment], [Soil Creation], and [Soil Enhancement]!" I said. "These are all Tier 1 or 2 Spells, right?"

"B-But to be able to completely clean this place we'll need enormous quantities of Mana, that's not something we can do in just a day, young lady..." Alicia said while raising an eyebrow, thinking I was delusional or something.

"Hahaha, well, her thought is what matters, look at her, she's willing to help us even more."

"Indeed, let's not put her down like this, Alicia."

The other farmers seemed willing to help. Everyone probably knew the spells, even my friends, so we immediately began moving

"Geez but still, with this- Huh?!"

FLUOOOOSH!

Ding!

[You have activated the effects of [Mana Usage: Lv10]!]

[You Received the Following Effects: Enhanced Control over Mana by +100%, Lessened Pressure of Mana Usage by -100%, and Enhanced Magic Spell Power by +50%.]

[You are now sharing great quantities of Mana with many people at once.]

With Mana Usage at Level 10, it was very easy to share my own Mana with my friends and nearby allies. The range wasn't infinite though, it was around twenty meters at most.

"Everyone, I can share with you a bit of my Mana, just stay within twenty meters from me and it should refill automatically." I said while waving my hand, dozens of farmers were all left perplexed.

"S-So much Mana, does the young lady has infinite mana or something?!"

"I have heard that Royal Elves have thousands of times more Mana than us Lesser Elves Bloodlines, but this is... impactful."

"I-I thought I was a pretty alright wizard and then young lady shares all her mana to us like it's nothing?!"

"Insane..."

The farmers were very impacted, maybe I shouldn't had gone so far? Well, now that we're at this, I might as well just keep helping and doing it much better.

So many effects! Now these are fitting classes! And if I merge this effect with the Yggdragon's Guardian Aura, then there's an amazing effect!

FLUOOOSH!

A gigantic tree emerged on my back, shaped as a powerful and beautiful dragon, which then began spreading around my surroundings, infusing its power into the soil, and slowly purifying it.

[The Effects of [Class]: [Master Farmer] and [Subclass]: [Druid] have converged with [Yggdragon's Guardian Spirit Aura]!]

[Several [Graceful Dragon Spirits] are being created, they're slowly making the soil richer and healing it from impurities!]

By changing Classes and then merging the Classes powers with my Yggdragon's Aura, and amazing effect was created. Hundreds of tiny Graceful Dragon Spirits were created in an instant, which began walking everywhere, filling the soil with nutrients, and also healing my friends' fatigue, mostly the farmers who were very tired.

The scene was almost magical and dreamy, as everyone saw in surprise as countless of tiny, green-colored spirit dragons flew everywhere, caressing and blessing the land. The farmers who had never seen my powers to this extent before were left even more flabbergasted.

"A-Amazing..."

"Is this the power of the young lady?!"

"Without a doubt, she's really the daughter of two heroes!"

"Amazing, just incredible!"

"This power... Is she creating small spirits out of her own Magical Aura? I had... never seen this before!"

"The soil is slowly healing, but we'll still need you guys help to make it even faster! I am counting on everyone!" I said with a smile.

"S-Sure!"

"For you anything young lady!"

"She's so lovely too! Man I wish my rebellious daughter was half as nice as her!"

"Alright boys and girls, let's do it!" Alicia commanded the rest of the farmers, beginning to plow the land slowly, with the aid of our magic and my auras converging together, this process became much smoother and faster.

Meanwhile in the background, my friends were looking at how popular I was getting, there were mixed reactions...

"She's getting cocky, huh?" Celeste wondered. "Though where did she got that dragon aura power? She didn't had it before..."

"That's how Sylphy is, she just develops brand new magic out of the blue." Laughed Zack. "Though I do remember she has been evolving her Beast Aura for a while now, it must be a new form of that using her primary elements and her spiritual abilities."

"Y-You're very observant of her, Zack." Said Mist in surprise. She suddenly squinted her eyes. "But aren't you a bit too observant? I-I've also been growing shtronger..."

"A-Ahaha... R-Right, a bad habit of mine... I used to have a crush on her..." Zack sighed. I think you should take a look at

"I-Is that so?" Mist wondered, feeling a bit jealous of me.

Ah... I knew Zack had a crush on me a few years ago. I do wonder if that's still lingering around or he has moved on. Mist is trying her best to conquer his heart but it is not the easiest thing. He's also obsessed with fighting and magic, so maybe his over analysis is due to that...

"Well he's all yours Mist, Sylphy's my girlfriend now." Aquarina said while puffing her chest.

"Nn! I'll do my besht!" Mist nodded while feeling motivated.

"Oh my, I'll support you from my sidelines Mist~" Celeste giggled. "If you ever need a love potion I can make you something similar... With side effects, maybe."

"L-Love Potion? Really?" Mist began to consider it.

"Mist I can hear you..." Zack sighed.

"A-Ah, I-I would never do that!" Mist said while shrugging, as she imbued the land with her light magic, using a wide-area version of the clean spell named [Purify].

"You guys over there! I can hear EVERYTHING you're saying." I sighed. "My little brother and Nephilim are diligently working out and you're just chatting a lot..."

"Okay girlboss, don't be so harsh on us~" Laughed Celeste.

"S-Sorry, I am a bit tired... Mister Teddy will do the job for me though!" Celica said.

"KUMAAA!" Mister Teddy was happily plowing the land.

"Naturia, Alice, can you merge your powers with my Aura to make it even faster?" I wondered.

"Sure can!" Said Alice.

"I will try, mama!" Naturia said happily. "Foo, foood!"

FLUOOOSH!

Their powers quickly converged with my aura, so much that the entire land began glowing brightly. After just half an hour of all our efforts combined, the entire land was not only purified, but it was now ready to grow any plant.

"I-It is done so soon?! Not even an hour has gone by!" Alicia was shocked.

"That's Sylphy for you! Her magic's so amazing its sometimes miraculous." Aquarina was very proud of me.

"Hahaha, come on, don't overexaggerate it now..." I giggled.

"Hehe, but it's true, you're amazing! Amazing!" Aquarina began praising me more and more.

"You're also incredible Aquarina... Don't overpraise me now or I'll get even more cocky." I giggled.

"Then I'll give you tons of kisses to reward you instead~!" Aquarina said, about to give me a rain of kisses all over my face.

"AHEM!" Alicia and the other farmers interrupted our lovey-dovey time.

"R-Right! A-Anyways, let's now plant the seeds and begin growing everything!" I said with a smile. Aquarina pouted a bit after I had to focus on what we had in front of us for now...

Like that, using Naturia's powers and my own Skills and Magic, with the aid of the Farmers, not only we modified existing seeds to make them grow faster, but I also made a few of my personal super seeds made out of combining different plants together.

After a few hours more, all the plants had grown rather substantially, and the entire field was now covered in beautifully greenery. We were finally done.

Ding!

[You have Completed the [Special Quest]: [Heal the Farmland And Make All Crops Regrow Anew!]

Chapter 703 Quest Complete!

"Wooaaaah! So pretty... It is all like it used to be now!" Aquarina was amazed. "We did it everyone!"

"Insane, I can't believe we got this done before the day were to even end..." Celeste was deeply surprised.

"I think we deserve a little break now, though. I don't really like doing farm work but I have to admit that I've underestimated Farmers, plowing the land for several hours consecutively is rather tiring, yeah." Zack sighed in relief.

"I'll give you a massage if you want~" Mist said, beginning to massage Zack's shoulders. "[Muscle Massage]!" She used her Light Magic to relieve Zack's muscle stress and exhaustion, making him sigh in relief.

"Hahhh~ T-That's really good, actually... Amazing, Mist..." Zack sighed in relief.

"Hehehe, happy to serve!" Mist smiled happily. "See? I-I can be a good wife...!"

"W-Wife?" Zack felt slightly intimidated by that word.

Celeste seemed to smile at Mist's advances as if she were her daughter. I suppose she must feel proud of how the formerly shy little demon girl had become bold enough to talk like this... Though I am not so sure who had influenced her in such a way. Wait, maybe Celeste.

"Thanks a lot for everything, young lady. Your magic and your abilities, and the aid of all your friends was a huge help, without all of you guys, we would had never been able to do all of this." Alicia said.

"Yeah, much thanks."

"It is crazy that you're not asking for any money..."

"A-Are you sure you don't want anything in exchange?"

"We could still pay you if you want!"

I quickly rejected their offer. This was all for free and for the benefit of the city. Also if I asked them money I would feel pretty bad... I can make my own selling Alchemy Products and Monster Materials anyways.

"No thank you, I feel like your smiles and happiness is rewarding enough, everyone. As the daughter of the Duchess of this place, I must also work for the benefit of the city and the citizens. If I ask for money I would only feel bad about it..." I sighed. "Thank you for your intentions though."

"Ah, young lady, you're so lovely!"

"Thank you for being so considerate."

"Please come visit whenever you want!"

"Whenever the crops are ready, we'll make sure to send the first batch to your house too!"

The farmers were all happy, and so do I. Once we were done, we made our way out of the farmlands and into our next destination, a restaurant because we were starving, and also one that required our help as well, we'll kill two birds with one stone in filling our bellies and getting another task done with this.

Oh, and of course, the Quest was completed as well.

Ding!

[You Have Completed The [Special Quest]: [Heal the Farmland And Make All Crops Regrow Anew!]

[Thanks to your amazing Magic Skills and the aid of all your friends, not only have you healed the entire farmland, but you've improved upon it, made it richer, and also helped all plants grow very quickly. In just a few days, new crops might begin popping up right away! Congratulations, not only you've gained the trust of all the farmers of Agarthia, but you've stopped a food crisis from hitting your city. This calls for a good set of rewards for your efforts, little lady!]I think you should take a look at

[You've Received Bonus Completion Rewards for completing the quest in less than 12 Hours!]

[Completion Rewards: [500000 EXP] [300000 Shared EXP] [Spirit Tree Crystalized Branch (B Grade)] x4 [Earth Spirit Essence Potion (B Grade)] x4 [Divine Farmer's Elixir (A Grade)] x2 [Farmer Class Skill Scroll (D Grade)] x1]

[Natura] [Ignatius] [Beelzebub] [Curse] [Furoh] [Glutton] [Sapphire] and [Scarlet] Levels have increased from Level 7 to Level 9!]

[Nephilim] Level has increased from Level 3 to Level 4!]

Ehehehe, and this is also a reason why I don't care about physical rewards anyways, when the System's Quest System rewards me with insane items whenever I help people or fight incredibly tough foes! This is yet another amazing harvest of valuable items~

Also everyone leveled up once more. These quests are really making everyone stronger without them doing much at all! Kind of a cheat, isn't it? I guess they benefit from the cheat.

Anyways, seems like I got myself another Skill Scroll! Are these going to be common now? That means I might end up getting tons of Skills from now on. Maybe this is finally a change from having so few Skills all the time.

But what exactly is this Farmer Elixir all about? Also the Earth Spirit Potions and the Spirit Tree Crystalized Branches... I feel like they're being given for a reason in specific.

[Divine Farmer's Elixir (A Grade)] x2

A Special Elixir that was made using the essence of a Divine Farmer, and all their abilities within. Such a precious Elixir will not even work to anybody but Farmers, and will enchant their abilities related to farming to a completely new level and awaken their hidden potential, growing even stronger as Farmers.

Huh, that doesn't explain much but I guess it's good. I might as well try it out and drink it. I quickly took it out of the Inventory and decided to drink them both out of curiosity... Their flavor was like that of a very tasty fruit juice made of many different fruits, also carrot too.

It was rather sweet, but not enough to make me uncomfortable even after chugging down a second one. Aquarina was curious what sort of concoction was I drinking though.

FLUOSH!

Suddenly, a green and golden aura covered my body momentarily, but nobody saw it at all. Was it invisible much like the System, somehow? And then...

[The [Agriculture: Lv10] Skill has Evolved into [Agricultural Arts: Lv1]!]

[The [Class]: [Farmer] has Ranked Up to [Master Farmer]!]

[The [Divine Fruit of Knowledge: Lv6] Skill has Leveled up to Lv8!]

[You have gained a large quantity of Nature and Life Runes!]

Once I drank the two Elixirs a lot changed... My Class was permanently "Ranked Up" and even my old Agriculture Skill permanently changed and even its Level was reset! I always thought the Skill Tree Skills were the closest to Skill Evolution, but I guess I was wrong.

"Congratulations Sylphy! Seems like we were finally able to figure out a way to improve your Skills into next tier ones through Skill Evolution, and to make things even better, your Class has finally Ranked Up!" Alice said happily.

"Wait, did you planned this with the Quest System?" I wondered, asking Alice through our usual telepathy conversations. Of course, nobody was hearing us talk.

"More or less, though we can't talk, I was working on a new way to help you Rank Up and permanently gain new Jobs, but it seems that she got a way to make this quicker through items, an Elixir was created. Though it was very powerful so you needed a lot of Causality Points to get it." Said Alice.

"Causality... Points?" I wondered.

"Ah, that is a numerical value of the energy we collect to create your items." Said Alice. "It is named Causality, a powerful and rich energy generated by the System User changing the Fate of other living beings. Even in the simplest of things as talking with someone, killing a monster, or anything, fate changes and the energy generated by this change in fate becomes a fuel to the System and its various divine powers. Ah, right, it is also a primary energy my creator feeds on, aside from the energy generated by souls transmigrating."

"T-That's one huge info dump..." I was shocked. "I guess... That's alright." I sighed. "Nonetheless, let's see what these upgrades are all about..."

[Agricultural Arts: Lv1]

Skill Proficiency: 0/5000

A signature Skill from the Master Farmer Class.

Grants the ability to detect the health of plants, their inner talents, capabilities, and species by just glancing at them, alongside the ability to enhance and control plants through the usage of Mana. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com It also allows for the ability to talk with plants, with forests, and several other types of nature, even animals themselves. It allows the ability to do many "arts" within the Agricultural Spectrum, from the plowing of the land to the enrichment of soil with [Land Plowing], to the growth and nourishment of plants with [Cultivation] and the growth and development of all farming animals with [Rearing].

[Land Plowing (1)]: The ability to naturally wield any Farmer-Class Tool and Weapon with 110% Mastery and the ability to plow any land, no matter how contaminated they are, into one that can eventually become rich in nutrients. Naturally, it also allows for the manipulation of soil to an extent. Enhances Land Richness and Nutrients by +110%. Enhances Manipulation Mastery over Soil by +50%.

[Cultivation (1)]: The ability that any Farmer-Class naturally has to plant all sorts of plants and boosting their Potential, Growth Speed, Health, and Magic Power all increase by an additional +110%, with a 10% Chance to create Spiritual Plants. Enhances Manipulation Mastery over Plants by +50%. Grants for the ability to create and modify plants using available materials.

[Rearing (1)]: The ability that any Farmer-Class naturally possess, which allows for the rearing of all sorts of Farm-type Animals and Monsters, enhancing their Growth Speed, Potential, Magic Power, and Health by an additional +110%. Additionally, Farm-type Animals and Monsters trust the user better and can evolve into stronger forms.

Level Bonus (1): Enhances the Skill's Agricultural Arts Effects by +110%. Nature, Earth, and Life Magic Spells Power and Effectiveness +50%. Grants Bonus Nature, Earth, and Life Runes with each Skill Level.

W-What in the world?! This is one hell of a Skill! Just how much does it boost my power? Now I can easily manipulate soil and earth and also plants and everything much, much easier?! And this also enhances my ability to tame animals and monsters! Though they need to be farm-type? Though I guess that doesn't matter if they can evolve into stronger forms as well.

Also Spiritual Plants?! So I have a tiny chance to turn plants I cultivate into some sort of spiritual plant I've never freaking seen ever before... Cool. I guess Agriculture did take a massive jump once it evolved, it's just insane!

And even more, I gain Runes when the Skill Levels Up?! Damn.

But that's not everything there is, the Master Farmer Class I had changed temporarily before has now become a permanent boost to my power, so let's see...

[Class]: [Master Farmer]

A Class that can only be acquired by the most talented of Farmers, who have dedicated decades of their lives to the art of agriculture and have reached a state of almost enlightenment, ascending into Master Farmers, capable not only to communicate with Nature like Druids, but to control plants and the soil itself. You're no longer just a Farmer, you've become a Force of Nature.

All of your Farming-related actions, magic and skills receive a +200% boost to their effectiveness. Allies within twenty meters around you Farming-related actions, skills, and magic receive a +75% boost to their effectiveness. Nature responds to you much better, and you can plant all sorts of plants much easier, enhancing their growth speed by +200. Farm-type Animals you raise receive a great bonus to their stats, skills, and growth speed of +150%. Additionally, Proficiency and Damage Dealt using Farming Tools is enhanced by +200%.

Once a Day, it is also possible to utilize the [Master Farmer's Domain] Ability, which creates a Domain as big as one kilometer around the user depending in the amount of Mana used, which lasts for 1 Hour and grants the ability to take over such territory's soil and nature, being able to control them all perfectly. Nature will also protect the user and their allies from harm. Nobody can penetrate your territory, nobody!

W-What in the world?! The bonuses are like double as better as the ones I got before?! And it even comes with a Special Ability! Advanced Classes are no joke, even the farmer one.

Chapter 705 Moving To The Next Quest

After looking at the damn Evolved Agriculture and then the Master Farmer Class, I felt slightly... overwhelmed. They were insanely powerful. Is it even allowed to have this much power? Ah, well, considering what they cover, I guess it is not even that OP, isn't it? But it still pretty amazing, especially the Class Ability!

Hehehe, I can't wait to use it against some baddie, or maybe I should save it if a crisis of some sort happens and we need immediate protection. A kilometer should more than easily cover the entire city, or almost the entire city, right?

Now, while we are at it, let's use the scroll right away.

FLASH!

The scroll which I saved in my dress's pocket glowed and disappeared in an instant, its powers flowed into my body.

Ding!

[You've used the [Farmer Class Skill Scroll (D Grade)]]!

[Please choose one of these Farmer Class Skills to Learn.]

[Agriculture]

[Fieldhand]

[Landtender]

pandasnovel.com [Reaper]

Huh? There's a Reaper Skill? Do Farmers even reap?

...Wait, they do. They reap fields though. Strange, the other Skills seem interesting.

Agriculture... I already have it. Fieldhand and Landtender probably have some passive ability, but I bet they enhance either growth of plants or enhancing soil richness or manipulation.

I am honestly interested in what the Reaper Skill could do, so let's go for that now!

Ding!

[You have selected the [Reaper] Skill!]

[You learned the [Reaper: Lv1] Skill!]

[Reaper: Lv1]

Skill Proficiency: 0/1000

You're used to being completely dug into your work and disappearing into the crops you harvest. Cuts you make are precise and carefully thought out to make the most of what you reap, and this has transferred over to your fighting style.

Enhances Damage Dealt against Monsters by +50%, you can now inflict [Bleeding] whenever you deal a successfully attack which makes wounds unable to properly recover and bleed constantly, decreasing a foe's HP steadily. If you use Farming Tools to fight, these effects are doubled.

Level Bonus (1): Enhances Damage Dealt against Monsters by +10%. Ignores Monster Defenses by -5%. Drains 50% of Damage Dealt against Monsters as Health and Stamina. If you use Farming Tools to fight, these effects are doubled.

Is this my first ever offensive weapon-related Skill?! It is not really a technique but more of a passive power, but it honestly suffices and works as one! And if I use Farming Tools as weapons these effects double? Interesting...I think you should take a look at

Though I cannot bring myself to abandon my sword. Maybe if I could somehow make Scarlet gain the ability to shapeshift into farming tools, maybe it could work? Though I won't take it so seriously.

Maybe just getting a Shovel instead and giving it a System might work... Nonetheless, with this I am finally done with the goodies I've acquired, and luckily, we've already arrived at our next destination.

"And here we are, this is the restaurant I wanted you guys to visit. It has recently gone through some changes due to the former chef passing away and leaving everything to their only son. The task says we need to help the son gather high quality ingredients and aid him in preparing the special dishes his father left behind..." I said while thinking about it. "It is like some sort of trial in this family, it seems."

"Ingredients? Then are we going to be forced to explore the outside world to find them?" Wondered Mist while feeling slightly worried.

"We'll see, I hope not. Well, we've gathered tons of ingredients and types of meats through our journey, so I doubt it'll be anything that we don't have already..." I said.

"Hmmm, though I wouldn't mind revisiting some places to get some fresh ingredients anyways..." Aquarina said.

"But if we do that we'll get grounded..." I sighed. "And I would prefer that not to happen while my grandmother is coming soon..."

"I could also go fetch ingredients for you then, young lady." Nephilim offered her help.

"Me too! And the other Familiars could also help. As long as it is not you guys, I think its fine, right?" Furoh considered.

"RIGHT! I guess we'll see if we truly need anything more." I said. "I am rather confident we've got a big assortment of ingredients already, from seafood to more."

Once we walked inside the restaurant, we found it filled with people. Everyone was eating all matter of dishes, but there was also a few people leaving slightly disappointed.

"Oh man they don't have seafood dishes yet?"

"Since the death of the last chef that the new chef seems to be struggling to get it right so he hasn't put them back in the menu, I've heard."

"Also there's a serious lack of ingredients since the dungeon where we got them was swarming with dangerous monsters not so long ago."

"Hah, dammit..."

The people was rather disappointed. This restaurant was rather famous for their pasta dishes, pizzas, and seafood dishes. If they don't begin serving seafood dishes soon, they may end up losing a big part of their original clients.

"Hmmm, the smell of food here's making my tummy rumble." Aquarina sighed. "Can we sit and order something while you take care of the task?"

"Aquarina come on, aren't you Sylphy's girlfriend? And you're just going to let her do it without you at her side?" Zack sighed.

"H-Hey I'm hungry!" Aquarina complained. "...But good point."

Aquarina gave up on her idea and ended staying at my side.

"I'll just hold back the hunger for a bit longer~"

"You don't really need to. Well, we should get this done quickly..."

We walked directly into the back of the restaurant and I entered the kitchen rather shamelessly. We saw several members of the family cooking, directed by the chef's son, who seemed very stressed as he was also, at the same time, trying to perfect his own dish.

"No, no, this isn't it! Ah, why did father had to die without telling us how exactly he made this special spice? And we are also missing in tons of seafood ingredients! Like this our restaurant is going to the ruin..."

"Erm, hello?"

"Huh? Who are you brats- Ah, young lady Sylph?!"

Chapter 706 The Young Chef's Tasks

The Young elf that greeted us was quite the handsome young man. Tall, slightly well-toned, with a pretty face and short blue hair. He acted rather expressive with his tone of voice and way of talking, which invited to be more friendly with him, despite being naturally rude at the same time, kind of like his father must have been, probably.

"You're the Young Chef of the Delightful Plate's Restaurant, Joseph Elcheffen?" I asked politely.

"Why yes, it is me young lady Sylph. I am surprised you've come through the kitchen to order food. Would it be too much of a pain to sit in the living room? We'll bring your food right away, of course." He said rather surprised.

"Ah... Well yeah we're hungry but that's not why we're here exactly. I've got a task from my mother, Faylen, she said I had to help you out on your restaurant." I said. "From getting ingredients to any other trouble that is halting you from producing the food everyone loves in Agarth... She also said it is prioritized to get this done as soon as possible because the queen, my grandma, is coming in two days."

"Oh my, and she would give such a monumental task to her little daughter?!" Joseph was rather shaken, but sighed and nodded. "Well, it is not like I have not heard about you or your friends before, you seem to be very capable, and you even have explored dungeons before, isn't it? Well, I suppose I can entrust you these tasks. As a reward, how about eating anything you want for free later?"

"Yes!" Aquarina was happy, a bit too happy.

"That's one good reward." Zack said. "Just don't regret it later, hehe."

"Not bad at all." Celeste nodded.

"Oway!" Mist said, raising her arms.

"Oohh, would it be okay?" Wondered Celica.

"Big sis I am hungry, the apple you gave me is not enough, so hurry..." Zephy said while half-bored.

"Okay, okay~ Joseph just go on, explain us what's happening and we'll try to find a solution right away. Just recently we solved three tasks by now."

"Interesting!" Joseph said. "Very well, come sit at my side. I'll bring you some snacks as well as something to drink, it'll be a long story."

Like that, we sat down around a table outside of the restaurant, on its backyard where the owner had a lot of plants and spices he was growing by himself.

"Primarily, as you can see, most of the spices had been drying out and none of them are giving as many herbs as before. That is why our usual mix of eleven spices are off and our food is not tasting as good as before. Merchants bring some of the ones we use but there are some very exotic spices my father brought from all around the world, which cannot be gotten very easily. As the first task out of the three I need, would it be possible for you kids to... somehow help the plants grow and revitalize themselves as soon as possible?" He wondered.

"Hmm, I see. That can be done." I nodded.

"The second task I need is to actually help me figure out... what exactly is this spice." He said, showing us a small bag with a red-colored mixture of many spices together. "I have been trying to find the exact combination but my father never told me the true recipe! Once this is over, we'll no longer serve our food with the same taste everyone loves..."

"Ooh, I see. That can be done too." I nodded once more.

"And lastly... We need seafood, tons, and tons of seafood. We used to get a steady supply from the adventures some weeks ago, but recently the Dungeon where we got them had begun to be swarming with much stronger monsters... So nobody is getting there aside from someone else, a party I heard about..." He sighed, giving us a massive list of ingredients. "Would it be possible for you to get them?"

"Sure! Also the party that went there were us." I laughed.

"EH?!"

[A New [Special Quest] Has Been Generated: [Complete the Three Tasks of the Young Chef Joseph!]

[After hearing what has happened to the young Joseph, it seems you need not to do just one Task, but three! To save the prestige of the most famous restaurant in the city and also to greet your grandmother with the most premium food you can, you must complete these quests in less than two days.]

[Completion Rewards: [700000 EXP] [400000 Shared EXP] [Greater Strengthening Elixir (C Grade)] x3 [Greater Skill Proficiency Potion (C Grade)] x3 [Greater Rune Potion (C Grade)] x3 [???] x1 [???] x1]

[Time Limit: 2 Days.]

Aaaand there it is! The quest is here.

"Y-You completed the dungeon there? I heard there was even a dragon!" Said Joseph.

"We are not lying..." Aquarina said. "We've stored a lot of what we reaped from inside of our inventory."

"Sylphy, tell Glutton to open his mouth." Said Zack.

"Alright! Glutton!"

"BAARF!"

Suddenly, Joseph jumped in horror as he saw the bag Sylphy was carrying turn into some sort of bag mimic monster and open its gigantic jaws, vomiting a gigantic pile of all sorts of seafood. Despite the slight saliva left behind, it was nothing than just some water to clean the ingredients wouldn't clean

"T-These are! W-Woah, you even got the Coral Tree Fruits, the nonpoisonous ones as well! And the Sharp Horned Fish! A-And the Walking Squids?! Ah, are those Scissor Crabs?! Oh my, a Giant Warrior Crab as well! W-With this we've got enough ingredients for more than a month, maybe two months!" Joseph freaked out. "I'll bring your payment right away! I'm buying everything!"

"W-Wait, this is free, it's part of the task and-" Everyone then looked at me with rather angered eyes.

"Hey Sylphy, we also hunted these..." Zack said.

"Yeah, shouldn't we get paid if you're selling them?" Celeste said.

?andasnovel.com "Yeah!" Mist said angrily.

"Hahaha, for once I agree that... it is not good to be always so generous." Aquarina said.

"And I agree as well! Counting everything... Hmm, it'll probably be two hundred thousand gold... or a bit more. I'm bringing everything right away!"

I guess we were going to make a rather huge capital...

Chapter 707 Completing Yet Another Quest

At the end, we were paid 285000 Gold for everything, which was a massive sum. Because I also sold most of what everyone had hunted too, we decided to just split it between everyone equally. That ended being 47500 for everyone, still an insane sum. With this I had more than enough to buy anything I ever wanted for the rest of the year if not even more years to come. Though I do plan on investing on it on something. I have considered making my own alchemy shop.

"Thank you so much for the ingredients!" Joseph was tremendously happy.

As he was storing everything inside the gigantic freezing chamber underground, which worked using Ice Magic to keep everything frozen and fresh at the same time, we moved to another task, helping these poor spices plants regrow.

Some of these used their seeds to be crushed and make spices like pepper, others were the leaves like oregano, some others were their fruits, such as the chilis. Nonetheless, with my new Agricultural Art Skill, this was a piece of cake.

Mist and everyone else also used Purify and Regrow Spells, combined with my Cultivation Ability within the Agricultural Arts Skill, Joseph saw a miracle happen.

FLAAAASH!

All plants were once more healthy, they began sprouting leaves, fruits, and seeds immediately. And I even added an extra by mixing some magic crystal dust with other rich nutrients from monster bones and bone marrow and put it on the soil, enchanting it even further with Soil Enhancement.

"And done, this should have this covered now." I nodded. "I added a little bonus and put some rich nutrients in the soil, I hope you can appreciate it."

"I doooo! This is perfect! Your magic is fantastic! I can't believe it is even possible to help plants grow this quickly and make them bear fruit so soon! I thought doing this made the plants die sooner, is it not true?" He wondered.

"Not anymore." I said. "My magic is specially tailored to work naturally, using the power of this Nature Spirit, Naturia."

"Foo! Nice to meet cha!" Naturia greeted him.

"I-I see... Nice to meet you too, dear." Joseph smiled back at her.

And now, the very last task before getting my quest completion goodies and eat something because everyone was starving, identify the spice combination.

"This spice... Let's see, I've got myself a special skill to check this." I said with a smile. "[Analyze]"

FLASH!

[The Item has been analyzed perfectly.]

[Elcheffen's Special Spice Mix (B Grade)]

A special Spice Mix that combines over twelve spices together to make every dish a delicious meal. It has been enchanted with Cooking Magic Spells for greater flavor. A delicious spice that goes especially well with seafood. If used to make food, the food created will have special magical effects that can temporarily increase the magical power of the one that consumes it.

Spices: Oregano, Pepper, Dried Chili, Alba Herb, Moonlight Flower, Earthen Seeds, Goblin Fruit Seeds, Archeba Oil, Dried Tyrant Tiger Blood, Sword-Horned Fish Bone Dust, Scissor Crab Shells, Coral Tree Fruit.

I wrote the spices and the details in a paper and showed them to Joseph.

"H-Huh? All these spices are things we already have... I think I even tried this mixture before!" Said Joseph. "Then why is mine not- Oh, Cooking Magic! Then father must have used the Spice Enhancement Spell, no?! By the gods! Was I such a clueless idiot?! For neglecting the usage of magic I have not realized my father's best spices were all made using special combinations between spices and magic... Oh father, I guess I was the stupid one trying to make things without magic. Our cooking, as elves, must use the spiritual essence of nature, magic, as he often said."

Joseph seemed to remember his father with a smile and a bit of melancholy.

"Hah... I miss him, he was grumpy, and was always scolding me and reprimanding me for everything. Sometimes I often wished he died... But after learning so much from him and everything, I've only grew to love him more, and now that he's finally gone, I can't... sometimes I just can't bear with it." Joseph sighed, as a few tears began flowing out of his eyes. "Hah, forgive me for crying..."

"N-No, its fine, I know it must have been hard." I sighed, giving Josepha a handkerchief.

"Young lady Sylphy, and everyone here, please make sure to appreciate your family, and especially your parents. Sometimes they might be grumpy and annoying... so annoying you kind of hate them, but they always mean no harm." Sighed Joseph. "They just want the best for us."

"Well I don't have parents so that doesn't apply to me..." Celeste said.

"Come on don't ruin the moment!" Mist said.

"Ahahaha, you girls are really funny." Joseph laughed. "Very well then, I'll make the spice like you said and see if it's really true!"

Joseph quickly went to make it, ten minutes later, he was back with a big grin on his face.

"I've perfected it! Father! I've done it! Hahaha, I can see now, you never revealed me the recipe because you wanted me to use the teachings you gave to me to figure it out myself, you annoying old man, even after death you're annoying me... Hahaha, I miss you." Joseph sighed. "Very well then, lady Sylph, I suppose all three tasks are complete! Thank you so much for helping me today. My day was filled with stress but now, I am just more than happy. Now, go sit down! I'll bring you an enormous feast! It's all on the house!"

"YAAAAY!"

All of my party celebrated, as we went to sit down and the plates of dishes kept coming one after the other. Everyone was smiling, eating, laughing, and the atmosphere became one of cheerfulness and soothing happiness. Spending time like this with friends sometimes made me think this was the meaning of life, to enjoy the little moments with everyone.

[You Have Completed The [Special Quest]: [Complete the Three Tasks of the Young Chef Joseph!]

Chapter 708 Many Rewards Related With Cooking

Once we were done dinning, we returned back home happily. Mostly everyone decided to go back to their own homes while Aquarina kept herself at my side alongside Zephy and Nephilim, she said she wanted to have a sleepover, and had already asked her parents, so I guess we'll cuddle together tonight. And on the way, I checked on the Quest Completion Notification.

Ding!

[You Have Completed The [Special Quest]: [Complete the Three Tasks of the Young Chef Joseph!]

[Incredible! Not only have you completed the Quest in less than a day, but you've done it all perfectly! With this, you've considerably raised your fame around the entire town of Agarthia, and aside from those you've helped, many people may begin to see you as someone competent and helpful. Now take your rewards and go rest!]

[You've Received Bonus Completion Rewards for completing the quest in less than 12 Hours!]

[You Received The Following Completion Rewards: [1400000 EXP] [800000 Shared EXP] [Greater Strengthening Elixir (B Grade)] x6 [Greater Skill Proficiency Potion (B Grade)] x6 [Greater Rune Potion (B Grade)] x6 [Joseph's Skill Scroll (D Grade)] x1 [Magical Cooking Pot (B Grade)] x1]

[Natura] [Ignatius] [Beelzebub] [Curse] [Furoh] [Glutton] [Sapphire] and [Scarlet] Levels have increased from Level 9 to Level 11!]

[Nephilim] Level has increased from Level 4 to Level 5!]

Nice, everyone got some more levels and I've got plenty of items! With this, my Inventory is once again full of new stuff. I should be happy, I haven't gotten this many saucy quests in a while... And they only pop up when I'm doing very special stuff, so I can guess they'll disappear once I go back to my normal daily life.

Seeing the reward, I got a new Scroll related to Joseph? So I can get one of his Abilities as a Skill! That's interesting... The other reward is a strange Magical Cooking Pot. I am guessing it is to cook tastier meals, right? I'll have to look into it once I have some free time, because Aquarina is not letting me go.

For now I should still learn the new Scroll's Skill, by merely holding it in my pocket, I can quickly "use" it, and make the scroll disappear and turn into a Skill, as easy as that.

Ding!

[You've used the [Joseph's Skill Scroll (D Grade)]]

[Please choose one of these Skills to Learn.]

[Loudspeaker]

[Shop Owner]

[Cooking]

Eh?! He only has three skills?! I guess he's much weaker than I expected. Well, all of his talent was about cooking, but come on, not even a single magic spell, mister Joseph?

Well, whatever's the case... these seem interesting. Loudspeaker is... about speaking loudly? Wow. And then there's the Shop Owner. I am guessing it gives bonuses when owning a business of some sort? And lastly, the plain ol' Cooking.

Shop Owner seems tempting, but right now I won't be having a shop until much later, when we find the two Heroes in this Continent, and I might as well get Cooking because I already got a magic cooking pot for it.

Ding!

[You've selected the [Cooking] Skill!]

[You've learned the [Cooking: Lv1] Skill!]

I think you should take a look at

[Cooking: Lv1]

Skill Proficiency: 0/1000

An essential Skill for all Chefs.

Grants the ability to cook ingredients into delicious food through mastery learned over time plus a fixed bonus into cooking inspiration, cooking style, and recipes learned or created based on the Skill Level.

Additionally, all Food Cooked using this Skill Tastes +100% more delicious, with an additional +15% with each Skill Level, and Cooked Food can Temporarily Buff Stats based on Ingredients Quality and Cooking Mastery by up to +10%, with an additional +5% with each Skill Level.

Level Bonus (1): 50% Chance for Cooked Meals to have Special Effects when Prepared with High Quality Ingredients. Temporary Stat Buff increases by +5%.

I finally have a Cooking Skill and it already comes with some insane powers! It can boost stats temporarily if prepared well?! That's some insane effects. And that 50% chance to grant Special Effects on top of that is even more insane already! Woah...

And if I combine it with this...

[Magical Cooking Pot (B Grade)]

A Special Pot crafted with Divine Power by the System itself. It is made of a very durable metal that can resist several grades of heat just fine and always makes tasty food. It has several unique abilities within itself, granting the power to improve upon the cooking of chefs. An ideal magical item that can even clean itself, it is ideal for anybody's path to the world of cuisine!

[Special Effects]: [Auto Cleaning] [Daily Random Soup Creation] [Enhance Flavors]

Wooow! It can even create soups?! And it cleans itself and can also enhance flavors! Nice, it is ideal. And if I give it a System Seed alongside the Alchemy Cauldron, wouldn't that give me some insanely unique Familiars? I think I can fit both in my soul, it has grown rather big after my latest powerup.

But for now I should hold back and do it later... Aquarina is watching. Though shouldn't I just reveal these powers to her anyways? I've been considering it, but it should be perfect in her birthday. It will happen after grandmother's visit. But maybe I should just give her a seed and be done with it? Hmm, but it would kill the surprise element.

"We've done a lot today, I am so tired..." Aquarina sighed.

"Me too!" Zephy complained. "Big sis can you carry me piggyback?"

"Sigh, fine~" I sighed, quickly carrying my little brother in piggyback style.

"Aww, I remember when you used to do this with me." Aquarina said with shiny eyes.

"Eh?! But aren't you two the same age?" Wondered Zephy.

"Yeah but Sylphy was always stronger than me back then, and she was also taller." Aquarina said with shiny eyes. "I remember those times rather tenderly. Though I guess you can't just piggyback me now..." She giggled.

"Well of course not, we're all grown up, hahaha." I laughed a bit. Those years went by so fast that I remember with more nostalgia than I would have ever expected.

Chapter 709 A Mother That Doesn't Want To Let Go

As we arrived back home, we decided to have dinner again with mom and dad. I didn't mind eating some more because my body metabolisms absorb nutrients very quickly... And Aquarina is the same. Except Zephy, he's still small so he was only eating a little pie.

"So I heard what you did today." My mother said with a smile. "It seems you've successfully resolved the pest problem in the farmlands and even made them regrow!"

"Yeah." I said while puffing my chest. "We even healed the soil and all! It was super easy to be honest. Though those moles were strangely big and malicious, they were glowing with a purple and black aura..."

"Well yeah, recently monsters are becoming more aggressive, the closer you get to the farther lands of the Wild Area of the continent, the stronger and more ferocious they become." My father explained. "Seems like some moles living there infiltrated our city and made a ruckus. Good thing you took care of it, dear. Well done, your papa's very proud of you! You've grown to become so strong, sometimes I feel like I should just let you go already, hahaha!"

"Let me go?" I wondered.

"No! There's no way I'll let her just go away! She's very young, Allan, stop talking nonsense!" My mother sighed. "She may be strong, but she's still very naïve in many things, and she still needs to learn high tiered magic in the academy, alongside many other things she has yet to learn completely."

"Yeah, yeah." My father sighed. "I never went to any academy or whatever so I guess I can't comment if they're good or not... And we can't waste the opportunity either."

"Indeed." My mother nodded.

"Honestly I would rather not go do a boring academy..." I sighed. "Also I bet there'll be more of my family there, right? They're just going to bully me."

"Well if that happens you bully them back and make them regret it." My father smiled. "Right, Aquarina?"

"Yeah we'll do that!" Aquarina said happily.

"No! If you make up troubles in the academy you might get expelled!" My mother facepalmed. "So... Agh, let's talk about this later. It is yet not the time for those troubles to come. For now, however, you deserve some praise. You resolved two very big problems. And now that the farmlands are healed and growing steadily thanks to your amazing magic abilities and your friends, we'll get crops quite soon."

"Honestly Sylphy's too powerful, how come she has so much Mana?" Zephy wondered. "It was thanks to that that we were able to grow the plants and all!"

"Hahaha, I don't have... infinite mana or something." I shrugged. "I am actually very tired after overusing it..."

"And aside from that, the other problem you solved was the restaurant, right?" My father wondered. "You did everything and ended saving that man's career."

"That restaurant is our most prestigious one as well. I am glad things have stabilized there. Mother will eat food from there and she absolutely loves seafood, so it is good to know she will be able to enjoy everything to her heart's content." Said my mother.

"Is grandma a glutton?" Wondered Zephy.

"Oh yes, despite how graceful she may look, my mother eats a lot." My mom sighed.

"That is not... something I expected from grandma..." I was surprised.

"Wait that graceful fairy you have as a grandma eats a lot?" Aquarina felt confused too.

"Hahaha, you will see. I can't believe she can keep such a good figure even after eating so much." My mother sighed. "So anyways, tomorrow you'll have your last task. It is related with the city walls and the guards there, I hope you can do your best, dear."

"Sure mom." I nodded confidently. "And after tomorrow, grandma's visiting, isn't it? I'm a bit nervous..."

"Don't be, she's very lax." My mom sighed. "Sometimes, so much she became quite the irresponsible mother."

"Hahaha, here we go again..." My father sighed.

"You know? She often never gave me the attention I needed, and whenever I talked to her about the books I studied, she often told me I should be doing more girly things! And whenever I tried to do them, she ignored me, and when-" Mom seemed to have a few issues with grandma. I can tell she wasn't the best mother out there, at least not bad I guess, but not good either.

"I am glad you've been doing the exact opposite, mommy." I said with a smile. "Because you're such a good mother, I've grown in the person I am now."

"S-Sylphy..." My mother suddenly felt touched, shedding a tear. "Is that so? Am I a good mother?"

"Yep!" I said. "You're a bit grumpy at times, but you're always worried about me and Zephy, and you show interest in what we like or want to learn, and you and dad always happily teach it to us!"

"Yeah!" Zephy said while eating his pie. "And mama makes very guud pies."

"That too." I nodded.

"Oh my..." My mother felt slightly embarrassed. "Back then, I honestly didn't know how I could handle being a mother, but I guess by doing my best and relying on your father and our friends, we've somehow managed to do it."

"It wasn't easy, well, raising Zephy was much easier than with Sylphy. Mostly because he was raised here in a peaceful place." My father said with a smile.

"Was it dangerous back then when big sis was little like me?" Wondered Zephy.

"Yeah, we were often attacked by big dragons, demon lords, and more." My mother said.

"Well, all of that just happened to you too in the dungeon..." My father facepalmed. "But anyways, something like that."

"It was always dangerous, but to be honest, kind of fun..." I sighed. "Maybe I am a bit crazy. Though, some memories are quite terrible too. Like that time we were attacked by a demon lord with Aquarina..."

"Oh yeah, that... L-Let's better not remember such a time..." Aquarina sighed. "Now we've grown strong enough that I think we would have smashed that ugly skeleton's skull to bits though!"

"Yep, I wish we could go back in time with this strength, we would have crushed that bastard!" I laughed.

"I-I don't think this is a good topic of conversation when eating dinner, girls..." My mother sighed.

Chapter 710 The Talk

"Sylphy I'm going to go take a shower!" Aquarina said.

"Sure, go ahead." I said. "I've gotta talk something with mom so don't wait for me."

"Oh, okay!" Aquarina quickly ran upstairs.

I walked to my mother's office as she greeted me there.

"Sylphy?" She wondered. "Is there something you need, dear?"

She was doing paperwork as usual, she often stays until very late. She has incredibly physical resilience as someone with a Physique of Tier 8, so I am not so worried about her. Nonetheless, I came here not to remind her to not do all-nighters.

"So, uuuhh... I want to talk something with you." I sighed, sitting in front of her. "I know I am like 13 right now and all, I am young, I know..."

My mother heard me attentively, feeling slightly confused why was I even talking about my age.

"But I... err, well... I am kind of... You know..." I sighed. "And me and Aquarina..."

"Oh..." My mother quickly realized what I was trying to say. "Go on."

"I... Well, since I was little that I've liked boys... and girls too." I sighed. "A-And Aquarina and I... Well, she might be a bit pushy at times but... Well, in my birthday she... confessed to me."

"I see..." My mom nodded. "You're so nervous over this, did you think I was going to get mad, dear?"

"I-I...! No, that's not it but... it's complicated." I sighed.

"It's not as much as you imagine." My mother sighed. "I wouldn't be a good mother if I didn't realized these little clues here and there as you grew up. It was always obvious you two girls also had feelings that weren't just friendship."

"Y-You did?!" I was honestly a bit surprised.

"Of course." My mother said, giving me a head pat. "My love, I know you much better than you think. I am your mother, that's my job."

"Right..." I sighed. "So... Well, Aquarina and I... Has Zephy not told you anything?"

"I promised him I wouldn't tell you he told me but... He did implied you two girls kissed." She laughed.

"Aaagh! That little rascal!" I cried, feeling frustrated.

"So? Is there anything else you need to know?" My mother wondered. "Something you want to ask me?"

"I... Well I do love her..." I sighed, admitting her to my own mother. "I... I love her not like a friend but... romantically. Like you love dad."

"I see." My mother smiled, while blushing a bit. "It is so cute to see you develop your feelings as you grow up, like a beautiful flower blossoming in spring. Dear, I am so happy your blossoming period is so sweet."

"E-Eh? Blossoming?" I asked, feeling slightly confused.

"We elves call our puberty as "blossoming"... " My mother said. "It is the period where we discover our sexuality, romantic feelings, we have crushes, and so on. Sometimes it is even the time when... well, I guess you're old enough to know. The time when we first have... well, sex."

"I see..." I nodded attentively. "Mom, did you...?"

"T-To tell you the truth... I didn't had a good blossoming period." My mother sighed. "I isolated myself, and never had friends, nor lovers... Your father was the first person that ever showed interest in someone so grumpy and closed like me. And he slowly opened my own heart, he made me blossom. I am glad you don't have to go through the same thins as your mother did, have a good blossoming, discover things with Aquarina, and love each other. It is what elves think is the best for our mental development until adulthood. Though... don't overdo it or you may end like your uncle."

"Dully noted." I nodded. I think you should take a look at BAAM!

Suddenly, the doors to the office opened.

"I heard you were talking about me so I have decided to boldly barge into the room!" My uncle, Arafunn said with a smile.

"Arafunn!" My mother said angrily. "Were you overhearing this conversation with my daughter?!"

"I-I just want to add a few things!" Arafunn sighed. "You're still too stiff with these types of things, Faylen..." My uncle facepalmed.

"Like what?" My mom sighed, crossing her arms.

"Well, you've not asked her sexuality at all! And you haven't said that you approve of her having a girlfriend either. Can't you get she's trying to tell you that?"

"E-Eh? Y-You're already girlfriends?" My mother was slightly surprised. "I-I thought you were just asking me before... that."

"W-We haven't done anything you think we've done... But Aquarina kind of already assumes we're' in a relationship and I also want to, so yes... w-we are."

"Oh my..." My mother said. "T-Then should we celebrate this? What do humans do when they have girlfriends? Some sort of party too, right?"

"No dear there are no parties, it is just normal things, we celebrate weddings though, but I guess that's not happening any time soon." My father suddenly barged into the room as well.

"Dad?! W-Were you overhearing things too?!" I asked.

"Everything, hahaha." He laughed. "And you have all my support! I've always knew you were into girls; I know that because my daughter always has good tastes. Women are really sexy, aren't they?"

"Yeah!" I said while raising my arms.

"T-That's not something normal to say to your daughter!" My mother reprimanded him.

"Hahaha, you two are hilarious." Arafunn laughed. "So anyways, Faylen, Allan? About the thing I just mentioned before?"

"Yeah?" I wondered.

"Sigh..." Both sighed at the same time, and then hugged me together.

"Of course you are allowed, Sylphy." My mother sighed. "Be happy, dear."

"No problem with me either! Enjoy your puberty." My father laughed.

Surprisingly, both were very open-minded. Maybe it is because we are a family that is always moving everywhere, and that had gone through so many hardships that it is not even possible to be close-minded anymore.

"So, if you ever feel like talking about these things, come to me any moment." My mother said with a thumbs up.

"Yep! Feel free." My father nodded. "In fact, I can give you some tips to conquer a girl's heart like I did with your mom."

"Really?" I wondered, feeling excited. My father was known as quite the gallantly mercenary before, so these tips might be useful.

"Allan don't teach our daughter your vulgar things!" My mother reprimanded him again.

Like that, things ended rather happily. I guess I am allowed to have a girlfriend now! Though I still need to know what Aquarina's parents think about this... It is never good to keep it a secret.
