

A Glitched 811

Chapter 811 Luck's Incredible Potential! The Power Of [Beast Mimicry]!

I let Luck finally Rank Up, as I was able to see many System Notifications I didn't expect...

Ding!

[System Owner]: [Luck Blacktail] has gained authorization to Rank Up!]

[The [★] System has been unlocked! When Class and Subclass Rank Up, their Stars will increase, symbolizing their level of power and Rank! Your own Class and Subclass have been modified to show this change as well.]

[System Owner]: [Luck Blacktail] Class and Subclass have Ranked Up!]

[Class]: [Wild Fighter] -> [Wild Warrior: ★]

[Subclass]: [Creature Magician] -> [Beast Magician: ★]

[All Stats of [System Owner]: [Luck Blacktail] have increased greatly! New Skills have been learned! Old Skills have gained some Bonus Levels!]

[Level Cap has been increased! Max Level has been reset to 0!]

[His [Magic Circle] has grown to [Tier 2: Rank 8: Beast Master Rune Magic Circle]!]

[His [Physique] has grown to [Tier 3: Rank 1: Juvenile Beast King Physique]!]

Alongside all the new changes into the Class and Subclass Ranking System, which now had stars to symbolize rarity and strength, Luck's Physique rose to Tier 3, and changed from Beginner to Juvenile!

Coupled with that, he gained his self-regeneration ability while transformed into a permanent passive skill, and to make things even better, he attained a mysterious power...

"[Beast Mimicry]"

FLAAASH!

Luck's fierce eyes shone brightly, as he analyzed the entire body and composition of the Gray Fenrir, his entire body beginning to overflow with a different power than the golden tiger altogether.

"Huh? Beast Mimicry?" The Gray Fenrir wondered. "What even is that-"

"AWOOOOOO!"

Luck's fur changed into the gray color of the Gray Fenrir, his eyes turned bright red, and his fangs and claws became sharper and much bigger, as black tattoos grew on his exposed, brown skin.

FLUOOOOOSH!

"He's... mimicking the Fenrir?!" Asked my father.

"This power... it reminds me a bit of Furoh's ability, is it not, Sylphy?" Asked my uncle.

"Well, to an extent..." Said Furoh, appearing as a blue slime over my head. "But this is also... much different, and restricted, yet at the same time, perhaps stronger?!"

"This is an ability Elise never had..." Said my father.

"RAAAAAAAHHH!"

Luck leaped with the might and speed of the Gray Fenrir, reaching him in an instant! He swung his gigantic claws against him, unleashing explosive slashes of pure Beast Energy.

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

"Ungh?! You've become faster and- What?!" The Gray Fenrir took all hits head-on, quickly realizing that might not be a good idea anymore.

Not only his fur was cut, but he gained actual wounds, although they only looked like small scratches, he was... bleeding.

"Now you've done it, brat!" His face became furious, as he charged towards Luck.

CLAAAAASH!

Both clashed against one another, unleashing deadly shockwaves of pure Beast Energy everywhere. Their slashing attacks intercepted one another, as they sometimes hit the surrounding trees, cutting them down into pieces.

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLAAASH!

Both moved at incredibly fast speeds, clashing in midair and sending shockwaves of gray energy everywhere. The surroundings trembled; it was as if the Gray Fenrir was fighting an equal!

"T-This is incredible! His power increased so much!" The Fenrir was shocked. "That power he used... He's mimicking my own strength?! How is that even possible?!" "I think you should take a look at "ROOOOAAARRRR!!!" Luck roared, opening his jaws, and showing his sharp fangs, biting the Gray Fenrir's neck, and suddenly pushing him down into the floor!

"UNGH?! YOU DAMN BRAT!"

BAAAAAAMMMMM...!

The huge impact reached the ground, the grass was quickly cut down to pieces, the floor shattered into a huge crater with spiderweb-shaped cracks. Luck was biting the neck of the Fenrir, putting him down tightly!

"Nnngh... S-Such humiliation! You damn BRAT!!!" The Fenrir roared, not holding back anymore.

His entire body suddenly grew several times bigger, beginning to try to shake Luck away from his neck. His body grew up to twenty meters.

"Get off my damn neck!" He roared furiously.

"RAAAAHHH!!!" Luck obeyed, but quickly leaped over his head and then, started slashing it with his claws.

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

"ARGGH! MY EYES!" The Gray Fenrir grew restless. "You know what?! You've done it now!!!"

TRUUUUUMMM...!

An enormous shockwave of pure Mana and even a hint of Divinity surged from the Fenrir's body, throwing Luck away with tremendous might.

"Arrggh...!" Luck fell into the floor, quickly standing back up. He was going completely feral, his body constantly exuding more and more power.

Despite how normal the Skill sounded; it was much stronger than I imagined... And I realized that once I glanced at the specifics using my special Heavenly Eyes.

Ding!

[Luck] has activated the [Beast Mimicry: Lv1] Skill!]

[Luck] has mimicked the beast in front of him, the [Gray Fenrir (Tier 9)]!]

[For 5 Minutes, [Luck] will be able to use half of the target's Beast-related Skills, and 10% of their total Stats will be gained as bonuses.]

He's only copying 10% of the total Stats yet he got so strong?! I guess... it makes sense, that wolf is Tier 9 after all. Even if he's copying 10% of their power, it is enough to deal damage to him and even piss him off like this.

"I'LL END YOU! INSOLENT BRAT!" The Gray Fenrir roared, his claws gained a red aura of pure bloodlust. "ROOOAARRRRGH!"

Luck quickly copied the same technique, as his claws grew even larger, gaining a red and deadly, bloodlust aura, and then he charged against the wolf with all his might!

CLAAAAAASSSSH!!!

Their clash was as if two stars impacted one another, everyone watching was left speechless...

"This is... the true strength of the Hero of Wild Beasts." My father said in shock. "Amazing!"

"Not bad." Shade smiled.

"It is indeed impressive, but that's... not going to be enough." Uncle sighed.

TRUUUUMMMM...!

"RAAAARRGGH...!"

Luck resisted as much as he could, but ultimately, he could not fight any longer, the overwhelming prowess of the Gray Fenrir suppressed him, pushing him down into the ground.

BAAAAMMMM...!

"Ungh...! Argh... Urk..."

Luck fell unconscious almost immediately, as we ran to heal him up.

"Not bad..." The Gray Fenrir smiled, looking at Luck with new eyes.

Chapter 812 Qualified

After that battle, Luck was still alive, and we did our all to heal all his broken bones. I used a few powerful Elixirs on him, but he managed to get out of this without much of a scratch. It seemed the power he had used mimicking the Fenrir was destroying him from the inside... It is a risky power.

Nonetheless, he was completely knocked out, and slept through the entire day. We used this time to talk with the Fenrir (and heal him a bit too), while getting to know his pack and more.

"Honestly, I am amazed..." He said. "I really thought he was a good for nothing brat with not even an ounce of talent, but I guess I was wrong."

"You were too harsh on him." I sighed. "At the end, he even pushed you to your limits, didn't he?"

"Hmph! Of course not!" He said angrily. "He merely made me... use a bit more of my powers."

"But you used Magic, those claws you used were magic." My father pointed out. "You broke your promise. I can't believe you got so scared you forgot about it."

"E-Eh?! Agh... So you did realize..." The Gray Fenrir sighed. "That damn boy..."

"Why are you so zealous of needing him to be so strong?" Asked Aquarina. "I just don't get it. I doubt Elise was as strong as you when she was recruited! I don't know why are you asking so much out of Luck." She crossed her arms.

"Yeah, you're pretty mean." Zack agreed.

"T-That's..." The Gray Fenrir sighed. "Well, I guess it is fair to explain this but... I just... Elise was always a rather weak child."

"Eh? She was weak?" I wondered. "But wasn't she a hero?"

"She suffered from a weak physique, and her magic was much better than her physical strength..." Sighed Fenrir. "Nonetheless, we loved her for what she was. And always protected her and helped her in everything we could. But that... ended making her weaker when she grew up. We made her rely on magic and the support of friends, but the moment she couldn't rely on such things completely... She was..."

"So you're saying that because she wasn't strong physically and relied on magic, you want her successor to be much stronger so you don't... lose them?" I asked.

"That's... I guess it is like that..." The Gray Fenrir felt embarrassed. "Now that I think about it... It is rather stupid."

"Of course it is!" My uncle reprimanded the dog. "You're asking for unreasonable things out of the kid before he could even get any power! The sooner he gets the inheritance, the better! That way he can continue growing stronger with less risk instead!"

"T-That's... correct." Sighed the wolf. "Oi! Stop barking at me! You don't have the right!" He quickly changed his voice and character. I guess he realized he was getting scolded.

"Ungh..." Luck slowly woke up. "What is all the ruckus- Ah! Hey! The battle... D-Did I lose?!"

"Of course you did, dummy, there was no chance from the beginning." Celeste laughed. "But you did gave out a nice battle."

"T-That's... I see..." Luck sighed, feeling rather heartbroken. "So I lost... I guess I couldn't help it. But... I feel much stronger than before. I know it might be everyone's help, and Sylphy's too. But... I guess this battle helped in strengthening my resolve a bit more."

"..." The Gray Fenrir glanced at Luck; his eyes seemed to remember something very dear to him.

I wonder if he was seeing Elise through Luck...I think you should take a look at

"No, you qualified." He said. "I actually lost."

"E-Eh?" Luck felt surprised.

"You forced me to use Mana, and I felt... even if for a few seconds, afraid of your strength." Sighed the Gray Fenrir. "I ended breaking my promise, and I used Magic. You win, Luck."

"I-I won?!" Luck was left speechless. "B-But there's no way that's possible..."

"Shut up and accept the damn thing already!" The Gray Fenrir had little patience. "Be happy you did it, you damn brat!"

"O-Okay! Thank you very much!" Luck bowed his head.

Honestly, Luck was quite endearing sometimes.

"Well, now do as you promised and bring Luck to the inheritance!" Aquarina said. "Also we're going too to see what's there."

"Tch, fine, but you're staying outside. The inheritance is a special place where only I and the inheritor can enter. And only I can open. Follow me. Can you walk, kid?" Asked the Gray Fenrir.

"Y-Yeah, I can walk just fine- Ugh..." Luck groaned, as he fell to his knees. "A-Ahahah, just a bit of muscle strain..."

"Hah, you're such a weak brat." Sighed the Gray Fenrir, quickly grabbing him and putting him on his back with his jaws.

"Woah?! Is this fine?!" Luck felt surprised.

"You're so pathetic I can't help it! Now let's go." The Gray Fenrir barked back. Despite how he was acting, it was as clear as water that he had grown fond of our beast boy.

We walked across the vast and beautiful forests, until we arrived at rather surprising scene, a clearing covered by ancient, broken-down ruins. Much similar to the other ruins we've visited before. There was a few animals there, grazing around, even rather large bugs, which scared me for a bit, but weren't actually the Swarm.

"So the inheritance is in these ruins?" I wondered. "But how were you able to save her strength in here and seal it so only you can open it?"

"Elise was well versed in magic." Said the Gray Fenrir. "Much more than you imagine a "wild girl" to be, mostly thanks to the things she learned from the other magicians in your parent's group. She was able to combine her magic with the powers of these ruins... And fuel them anew, modifying them into a... vault, of sorts."

"I see..." Aquarina nodded. "That's really crazy. I wonder if we could ever do something like that ourselves..."

"Well, thinking about the stuff we suffered in that damn water dungeon ruins, I just don't want to have anything to do with these places for a while..." I sighed.

After all, I had yet to forget how those damn ancient gods controlled Aquarina's mind, and even wanted to use her as their vessel...

Chapter 813 Meeting The Previous Hero Of Wild Beasts

Although Sylphy and her friends had seen various Ruins by now, this was the first time Luck was seeing some by himself. He had been told about its origins, ruins that the Gods once used across the entire world when they walked among men, now left abandoned.

Some are said to hold many riches, while others have become nests for monsters, becoming dangerous dungeons. However, he had never heard of someone capable of controlling these ancient buildings and use them as vaults to save an inheritance.

"I still can't believe I got to inherit Elise's powers..." He sighed. "I-Is this really alright?"

"If you don't want it then I can take it for you." Sylphy laughed.

"E-Eh?!" Luck panicked.

"Enough, now let's go." The wolf said, glancing at the building and lifting his paw, touching the gate sealed with many runes. "[Gate, Open]"

FLAAAASH!

His Aura was imbued into the whole ruins, as the entire building started trembling, until the gates glowed with bright, golden runes, and opened.

Luck and the Fenrir stepped inside, leaving everyone behind as the gates closed in their backs...

"We're here, at long last, Elise..." The Gray Fenrir sighed, carrying Luck over his back.

He led him across a corridor, entering a large hall, where there was a few items lined over some furniture made of stone. And in the center of the hall, there was a big, yellow-gold crystal, overflowing with energy.

"We're here. This is Elise's inheritance." Said Fenrir.

Luck slowly stepped down from the hue beast, glancing around his surroundings, filled with wonder.

There was a certain air of mystique in this place, and he felt as if he wasn't just with Fenrir alone.

Somebody else, another being was with them.

"Just what exactly is an inheritance?" He wondered.

"It was designed by Elise so you could inherit part of her magic and might." The Gray Fenrir explained. "Although those items will make you much stronger, there's another thing, this crystal. She told me that when she died, and I were to find a worthy successor, that you had to touch it."

"I have to just touch it, right?" Wondered Luck.

"Yes, just touch it." Fenrir nodded.

"A-Alright..." Luck was slightly nervous but did as he was told.

His palm touched the spiraling golden crystal, as the crystal stopped moving, and floated soundlessly.

FLAAASH!

Luck's entire body was engulfed by a bright shine of golden light, as he felt his very consciousness being dragged inside the crystal.

When he opened his eyes, he found himself in what seemed to be... a beautiful forest.

The sky was blue, and in the background, Luck noticed enormous mountains.

He was standing in the middle of a grassy clearing.

And in front of him, there was a girl with brown skin, white tattoos resembling different animals across her body, and long brown hair made into a ponytail, with shiny golden eyes.

"Oh! Hey!" She greeted him. "Hello! How are you doing?"

"E-Eh? Huh?" Luck felt confused. "W-Where am I?! Ah! Who are you? Wait... Are you...?"

"Heh! Of course! I am Elise, the Heroine of Wild Beasts!" The girl puffed her chest proudly. "Fufu, you must be... Oh! You're my successor? After so many years it finally happened! And you're an Anima too?! Nice! I knew that an Anima would be much more fitting for this title than humans." "I think you should take a look at

"S-So you're really Elise..." Luck was surprised. "I-I am indeed an Anime, a black wolf Anima..."

"I can tell, you're so fluffy!" The girl started caressing his head and tail.

"H-Hey! Is this alright for a hero to do?!" Luck felt taken aback.

"Hehe, what's wrong? You're kind of adorable!" Laughed Elise.

Luck felt taken aback, he never thought the hero that these wolves respected so much, and that Sylphy and Aquarina's parents remembered so fondly was this childish!

But... how was she here anyways?

Wasn't she... dead?

"You're probably wondering how I'm here... Right?" She sighed. "Well, I kind of want to have a meeting with everyone else outside, so I'll call them here too. I know Fenrir's a bit grumpy and didn't let them in, but rules are made to be broken!"

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

Elise magically summoned a part of the consciousness of Sylphy, Aquarina, Allan, Shade, Arafunn, and everyone else, surprising them.

"Huh?! W-Where am I- Ah! This place... a forest?" Arafunn looked around.

"This is... Ugh, what is even this?" Allan wondered.

"T-This is... Elise?" Shade asked, his eyes filled with shock.

"Hello! Sorry but I wanted to bring you here for a bit... Don't worry, time here goes super-fast, so it'll be a split of a second outside." Elise smiled. "I wanted to meet you guys again! Ah... Faylen's not with you?"

"E-Elise, is it really you?!" Allan started crying. "H-How...?!"

"Is this an illusion?" Arafunn wondered, covering his mouth in surprise.

"This is not an illusion..." Shade said. "We are inside something, I think it is some sort of Pseudo Spiritual Realm- no, a Soul Scape?"

"Woah, is she Elise?!" Sylphy wondered.

"I-I got dragged here out of nowhere..." Aquarina felt confused.

"This is a weird place..." Mist said.

"Why us though?" Zack wondered.

"I-I'm scared..." Celica cried.

"Come on, it is just one of those times you get your soul dragged somewhere else." Celeste was somehow familiar to this...

"Hehehe, sorry for calling you out of the blue! But meeting just with Luck here wouldn't had been enough!" Elise giggled innocently. "I am... surprised! You two have grown so big!" She told to Allan and Shade. "Allan you've got a beard now?! It doesn't fit you! Hahaha! Oh? Shade you're even more handsome than before! And... you're smiling? That's new! Arafunn... You're the same."

"I guess." Arafunn giggled a bit.

"You even got two daughters?! Oh my gosh! They're the new heroes?" Elise approached Sylphy and Aquarina. "Hi!!!"

"H-Hello..." Aquarina said.

"So you're Elise!" Sylphy said. "It is nice to meet you!"

"Same! You're... Faylen's daughter! Without a doubt! Those ears already could tell me!" Elise giggled.

"Uwah, you're as cute as your mom! And you hold... that same gaze as well."

Chapter 814 Elise

Elise was fascinated with everyone, not only Luck. She talked with everyone and smiled and laughed. She noticed how Sylphy was Faylen's daughter, and how Aquarina was Nepheline's daughter as well.

"And you must be Nepheline's daughter, right? You're so pretty!" Elise giggled.

"ELISE!!!" Allan, Shade, and Arafunn couldn't contain themselves anymore, as they ran towards her and hugged her together.

"Uwaaaah?! H-Hey! Three men hugging a cute girl?! This is a bit embarrassing!" Elise blushed while being hugged by her old friends.

They couldn't contain themselves, as they started crying... Seeing a dear friend that had parted ways from them so tragically broke their hearts very dearly, the tragedy of her loss made them remember all the pain they went through, all the hopelessness, and more.

"I've missed you so much, Elise..." Arafunn sighed. "You don't know how sad we've been since you departed... I miss your cheerful and annoying personality!"

"H-Hey! Rude!" Elise pouted.

"It's really is you..." Allan cried. "I'm sorry, Elise... It is all my fault that you died... I was careless... I shouldn't had lowered my guard... If only... I..."

Sylphy was devastated by seeing her father crying so much. She felt his regret with each of his tears. Sometimes she would think of her overpowered father as someone that had long ago stopped being a mere human...

But when he saw him crying like this, devastated of his mistakes, and regretting his decisions, she remembered that he was still a normal human, a person much like her and everyone else.

And due to her empathy, she felt sad as well, feeling the same pain her father felt as he cried seeing the face of his old friend again.

"Geez, Allan, you're a mess! You're a big man now, stop crying, okay?" She sighed, caressing his head. "What will your daughter think of you?"

"A-Ah... Sorry... I..." Allan sighed.

"And it wasn't your fault either! It was... all my fault, I was the careless one! Hehe, oopsie." Elise giggled.

"T-That's all you've gotta said? At the very least get angrier at us..." Shade cried. "It was all..."

"It wasn't your fault! Stop it already!" Elise reprimanded them. "Stop self-loathing so much! Thinking everything is your fault will only put you even more low! And that's not something we need right now, isn't it?"

Elise smiled back at them, clearing a misunderstanding that had always been within their minds, lifting their hearts with a warm, beautiful smile.

"I've never held a single grudge against any of you. My death was my own fault. I would never hate you guys! You're... my family!" Elise smiled.

"Elise..." Allan was hugged by Sylphy, as she helped clean his tears.

"Dad, it's okay..." Sylphy smiled.

"Sylphy..." Allan felt even more emotional when he saw his daughter trying to cheer him up.

"Dad, stop crying, it's alright!" Aquarina smiled, doing the same with Shade.

"Aquinara..." Shade sighed.

"Geez, you two are sure crybabies!" Arafunn pretended he wasn't crying seconds ago.

"Oh?! There was much more people here than I thought! Luck, are these all your friends?!" Elise asked, looking at Zack and everyone else.

"Y-Yeah, they're all Sylphy's friends..." Luck nodded. "They rescued me and helped me a lot..."

"Wow! So cool! All of you have pretty well-developed Beast Auras too!" Elise presented herself to everyone.

"So you're the Hero of Wild Beasts!" Mist said.

"You're pretty." Celica smiled.

"Are you not bothered of us being demons?" Celeste asked bluntly.

"H-Hey! Why are you just pointing that out?!" Zack sighed.

"Hehehe, why would I?" Elise giggled. "What's wrong with that?"

"Huh... For being someone that went to slay the Demon King, I guess... you're like the others." Celeste assumed.

"I've never hated demons..." Elise sighed. "I only fought to live, and only defeated those that tried to harm us. But... I always fought for a better future where everyone could live together. I don't really know much about your backgrounds but, I have the feeling my fight worked, even if a little bit. You're here with the heroes' daughters as a party, right?"

"R-Right..." Celeste nodded.

"I'm glad! I hope we can get to an understanding, and even convince the next demon king! We should all get along and be good friends!" Elise said. "There's no need to fight, right?"

"Heh, you're so childish." Celeste giggled. "But... you're right, I wish more people just thought like you, dear. Including my own past self."

"Elise... How are you here?" Wondered Arafunn.

"Well, this is thanks to the crystal I found. It is named a Memoir Soul Crystal." Elise smiled. "It was a special devise the ancient gods used to store souls. When I died... A part of my soul, a small one, flew here, alongside my Soul Scape. And that's... What I am. I've been here, waiting for the moment someone would come. Once it is activated twice, the crystal will stop working. So we only have a few more minutes."

"Only a few more minutes?!" Allan asked. "But..."

"I see..." Shade sighed. "Calling us here must have shortened the time a lot."

"Ugh, Elise, did you really had to be so reckless?" Arafunn sighed.

"I just wanted to see everyone again... It's a pity Faylen and Nepheline aren't here, nor the witch.. or Gray, but I bet they're doing alright, right?" Elise smiled. "Is Gray alright?"

It was well known by the heroes that Elise had a crush on the Hero of Gray Soul, and that she was one of the few people he trusted the most, and who pushed him to change for the better.

Perhaps her lost... pushed Gray to the wrong side and had made him done the things he has done until now.

Should they lie to her, or tell her the truth?

"Everyone's alright." Allan smiled. "Don't worry, we're living happily together. Now we're on a small journey to save someone, but things are better than before!"

"..." Shade remained in silence.

"Y-Yeah! No worries. That rascal of Gray is... in the Demon Continent helping out other people." Arafunn smiled. Even though he was the one that fought him, he didn't wanted to admit the truth and break this adorable girl's heart.

"You're lying, right?" Elise sighed. "You can't hide the truth from me here, when you lie, I can tell because your soul glows red... Is Gray... doing bad things?"

Chapter 815 Farewell

"You're lying, right?" Elise sighed. "You can't hide the truth from me here, when you lie, I can tell because your soul glows red... Is Gray... doing bad things?"

Elise easily read through their lies, as Allan, Shade, and Arafunn sighed.

"Well, I guess we can't get through you as easily now, haha." Arafunn giggled.

"It's... Well..." Shade didn't know what to say.

"Yeah, I guess." Allan sighed. "Gray had decided to walk down a different path. He has done... bad things, I would even go as far as to say they're terrible. He had become someone... too extreme. He wants to create changes, but for that, he's trying to kill us. And also... to kill everyone we hold dear."

"..." Elise looked into the floor, completely devastated.

"I'm sorry..." Allan sighed. "We couldn't guide him, we... ended walking different paths."

"Instead of bringing him along, we left him to his own things." Shade said. "It is our fault..."

"Gray was... someone that needed you more than anybody." Arafunn smiled faintly. "Your lost... Probably drove him to the place he's now."

Elise clenched her fists tightly, frowning.

"T-That dummy! Always thinking the worst things ever! Always trying to think he's the only one that can make a change!" Elise got angry. "He promised me he would make a happier and more beautiful world... But now he's trying to harm innocents? What... has gotten into him? I wish he could be here, so I could slap him in the face!" She slowly started crying, tears flowing from her eyes.

"Elise..." Allan sighed. "I..."

"Gray..." Shade tried to say something, but he couldn't really come to anything.

"..." Arafunn didn't said a word.

"We'll save him." Suddenly, Sylphy's voice echoed from behind the three, her eyes overflowing with endless confidence.

The heroes were surprised.

"Right, Aquarina? Everyone?" Sylphy smiled.

"Of course!" Aquarina nodded. "We'll slap him as many times as we can and make him come back to his senses!"

"If he's someone so dear to you, Elise, I'll do my best to help him come back to his senses." Luck smiled.

"Yeah!" Zack nodded.

"I'll do what I can..." Mist said.

"I don't know what to do but I'll help somehow." Celeste nodded.

"He's someone... That reminds me of myself." Celeste sighed. "If I was able to change, then he can change too."

"You kids..." Allan sighed.

"I guess you stole the words out of our mouths." Shade laughed.

"I couldn't had said it better." Arafunn smiled.

Elise cleansed her tears and nodded.

"Yeah! You tell em'!" She said. "I want Gray to change for the better! You all, and you three too... You need to be there for him, okay? Please... help him come back to his senses. I know that still, deep down, Gray is asking for help. I can't be there for him anymore but I want you guys to be there for him instead."

"It'll be hard, he almost killed me..." Arafunn sighed. "Well, he actually could had but didn't..."

"He still has a speck of care for us." Shade said.

"Deep down, maybe he's regretting what he's doing, but he can't stop." Allan sighed. "Maybe he thinks that all these sacrifices are the only way..."

"We have to change this so he doesn't believe such stupid things." Sylphy said. "We'll help him snap out of his delusions."

"You have my word, Elise!" Luck said.

"Hehehe, thank you." Elise smiled. "Now, I only have a minute left so... Luck."

Elise flew towards Luck, caressing his head one last time. I think you should take a look at

"I wish we could had meet much longer... Maybe we could had been good friends." Elise giggled.

"You remind me a lot of Lara, so of course we would had been good friends." Luck smiled.

"Lara?" Elise wondered.

"She's... my best friend, Sheep Anima girl that is the Saint of Spirits, she was kidnaped by our enemy, a resentful demon..." Sighed Luck. "I am trying my best to grow strong enough I can rescue her."

"I see..." Elise nodded. "Lara must mean a lot to you, doesn't she? Do you love her?"

"I do... I love her more than anything." Luck nodded, admitting his love without shame. "I want to embrace her in a hug, and tell her how much I love her... How much I need her... I want to get there quickly, and rescue her... I miss her... I miss her so much..." Luck started crying. "I don't... want her to die. I don't want to lose her... I don't want to lose more people..."

"Luck..." Sylphy sighed, giving him a shoulder pat.

"It's fine." Elise smiled. "I'll make sure that such hopes become truth! I'll give you all the power I have left. Everything! It will be up to you how to master it and become even stronger than I once was, okay? I'll even leave you my Relic, the Shapeshifting Weapon: All Gaia. It can change shape depending in the beast magic you use! And many other things too... I'll be rooting for you, Luck! I know you'll do it! You can do it!"

Elise's body started to slowly turn into particles of light, and so the entire world around her, as they slowly flew inside of Luck's soul.

"Thank you for everything Elise..." Luck cried. "I'll make sure to rescue her! And I'll tell her about you! I am... forever grateful for everything you've done for me!"

"No problem!" Elise smiled one last time. "Ah... If you ever meet Gray... Please tell him that I love him. That I... loved him more than anything. And that I wish... we could had have a life together. That I wish we could had have a big family, with many children... And that... his smile is very beautiful!"

Luck felt surprised, but then nodded, as tears flowed from his golden eyes.

"Of course, Elise! I'll tell him all of that!" Luck memorized everything down to the very last word. "That guy's going to have to snap out of it! I'm sure of it!"

"Hehehe, thank you, Luck... Everyone, bye-bye~" Elise said, disappearing completely. "See ya in the other side! Oh! Allan! Tell Faylen I love her a lot too! That she's my best friend of all time!"

"I will!" Allan nodded. "See you, Elise..."

FLAAASH!

Fenrir who was watching the crystal slowly empty its golden light continued crying, feeling Elise's presence everywhere.

"Elise... Sniff..."

Suddenly, the golden presence wrapped around him, hugging him tightly.

Feeling the same feeling as Elise's hugs, Fenrir was shocked.

Memories of his childhood flashed through his eyes.

When he was a young pup, and his father, the previous Fenrir, was slain by wild miasmic monsters.

He felt sad, lonely, and hungry.

He thought he would die below the rain, hopelessly...

Yet a little girl found him, accompanied by many other beast guardians.

"Aww, you poor thing!" She cried, quickly holding him in her arms. "Let's get you to a warm place, I have some food too."

"Awoo..."

In that moment, he never left her... He accompanied her everywhere, always. He grew even stronger than his father, to protect his beloved master.

"Fenrir... Thank you for always sticking with me. Please... Take care of Luck for me, alright?"

Her voice echoed into his heart as she embraced him in a tight hug one last time.

"Elise..." He continued crying. "I-I will... I will!"

Her presence fully dissipated, as Fenrir glanced into the blue skies outside the ruins.

"I hope that wherever you are... It is a better place than this cruel world..."

Chapter 816 Elise's Inheritance

The moment they said their goodbyes to Elise, everyone suddenly woke up in their bodies, as if nothing had ever happened. They were still standing over like nothing. Although it felt like a few minutes, in the outside world it was merely three seconds.

"We're back..." Allan sighed. "Elise..."

"She's gone now..." Shade sighed. "But I hope she might end in a better place."

"Well, I have heard our Gods have no jurisdiction over the souls we have, actually..." Arafunn said.
"Perhaps, her soul is in somewhere else much better than now... Or perhaps, she could have even reincarnated. Who knows?"

"Hah... I just hope... That she can find a better closure, somewhere else..." Allan sighed.

"Dad, are you alright?" Sylph wondered.

"Oh yeah, I'm fine dear." Allan smiled, giving a head pat to his daughter.

"Now, where's that Luck?" Wondered Aquarina.

"We should go look for him, he's inside the building." Said Mist. "Let's go!"

As everyone moved towards the ruins, Luck suddenly fell to his knees the moment the inheritance finished. His entire body was overflowing with magical power, as the entire Soul Scape of Elise, alongside a large part of her powers, including Magic Circle Runes and Physique Runes flowed into his body!

FLAAAAASSSH!

"AARGGH...! U-UGH...!"

However, Luck wasn't able to take the complete inheritance. His entire body was in pain, too much power would make him explode into pieces without a proper, continuous growth.

"LUCK!"

The Gray Fenrir ran towards Luck, channeling his Magic Power and encompassing him with it. Fusing his Magic Aura with Luck's body, he quickly started to help him regulate all the power he gained.

"Elise told me about this before. If the inheritor wasn't capable of taking the entire power, I had to do this...! [Beast Magic]: [Divine Beast Seal]!"

FLUOOOSH!

All the Magic Circle Runes and Physique Runes suddenly gathered in the middle of Luck's chest, forming a magic seal in the shape of a roaring wolf tattoo.

"Ungh... Cough... Hahh..." Luck quickly felt more at ease. However, he had already absorbed a great deal of power, as much as he could possibly absorb as of now, and he felt his entire body growing much stronger.

Merely giving a glance at his stats, he realized they had improved greatly, and some of his skills even ended leveling up.

Among his changes, he gained more MP and Magic, which was fitting from the inheritance of a more magician-oriented hero of wild beasts like Elise. Above all, he also gained the new Skill [Hero of Wild Beast's Inheritance Seal], which most likely signified the inheritance's full power which was within him.

"Hahh... This new power... I feel like my Magic and Mana had increased by a lot. But my body feels much lighter- Ah! My Magic Circle ranked up!" He quickly realized. "Now both are finally the same Tier... Oof. I'm tired..."

"Hmph, it seems you've managed to hold it well, Elise was an incredible magician. The only that could surpass her was that elf woman." Said the Gray Fenrir. "Because of this, her inheritance is mostly magic power and mana. Which will complement you, as you used to have quite little before. However, I was right, you're still too weak to take on the full inheritance, as I feared."

"I can't take it all right away, huh?" Luck sighed. "What can I do to get it all?"

"Grow stronger. As you develop both magic circle and physique, the seal's power will naturally be slowly unlocked into the rest of your body, giving you great enhancements and an even faster growth." Said the Gray Fenrir. "You might even learn new Abilities and Magic Spells engraved in your magic circle!"

"Amazing... So this is the strength of Elise..." Luck was surprised.

While Elise was mostly a magician and tamer, Luck was focused on physical capabilities and strength. When both strengths focused together into a single body, this would probably create the strongest Hero of Wild Beasts.

And he knew that, but it wouldn't be a power he would be able to gain without hard work. And to avenge his brother, his village, and rescue Lara, he would need to keep working hard.

"If it wasn't for everyone else, I would have never been able to reach this far..." Luck suddenly started crying, falling to his knees. "I owe Sylphy and everyone else... so much..."

"..." The Gray Fenrir glanced at Luck with silence, yet he quickly walked towards his side and... kicked him.

BAAAM!

"Ouch! What the heck was that for?!" Luck roared angrily.

"Stop crying! Are you a baby or something?!" The Fenrir barked angrily. "Just get going! We don't have all day here, oi! Now help me grab these items, they're not all for you! Elise said to distribute some of these things to the new heroes, so help me out."

"O-Okay!" Luck nodded, feeling happy that he would be able to share these items with everyone, perhaps this could alleviate the tremendous feeling of gratitude he felt for everyone.

Once the ruins gates opened, Luck walked outside with a bag of treasures, noticing everyone rushing towards him.

"Everyone! The Fenrir said I can share the treasures!" Luck ran towards them.

RUMBLE!

However, the floor suddenly started to shake, as a hole opened in the floor.

And gigantic demonic insects emerged from within!

"Mind if I take those treasures for myself, young lad~?"

Chapter 817 Ambushed!

(Sylphy's POV)

After having meet Elise within that small time frame, we all woke up. The first thing we thought was to move to the ruins and meet with Luck, who should be walking out of it as of now. However, before we could even reach our goal, the entire ground around us trembled furiously.

The earth opened, as a huge hole appeared, and from within, dozens of giant demonic insectoid monsters were summoned! It was the same sight that had happened before. Were they tracking us this entire time?

But if that was the case, we would had realized where they were! Unless... They were somehow watching over us through other methods. Maybe with some sort of magic tool?

"Monsters?! No... those damn demonic bugs again?!" My father reacted as I expected, he was already quite fed up with their bullshit.

"This is already getting old; can't they just stop for a while?" Shade wondered.

"Give me a break..." Sighed uncle Arafunn.

RUMBLE!

And from within the swarm of monsters emerging from within the hole, a gigantic centipede-like insectoid demon appeared, it had a human-like torso with muscular arms and a big bug head.

"Mind if I take those treasures for myself, young lad~?" He glared directly at Luck, who was just meters away from us!

"Y-You damn bugs again!" Luck said, gritting his teeth in anger.

"Naturally so~! We've been watching you for a little while with our tamed bugs." Laughed the centipede demon, extending his arms as countless small bugs flew into his hands. "Isn't it amazing? You couldn't even tell!"

"If you retreat now, we won't hurt you." My father suddenly said. "We don't want more battle. Please, just stop."

"Huh? And who are you anyways?" The insect spoke, without recognizing the heroes. "I have only come to pick up the treasures that kid took! If any of you get in the way then... No, never mind, I'll kill you even if you don't get in the way! GYAHAAH!"

Wait, he doesn't know about the heroes? But how? Literally every single demon that is allied to the old demon lords know about them! Unless this guy... It is like all the other demons and were just recently born as monster demon hybrids?

"They don't know about us? Well, that's a relief yet it makes me strangely concerned..." My father said.

"Hm, I think I know why... Much like the other guys we've fought, they were born just recently, more than conventional demon tribes, they're artificially created monsters given some sort of intelligence. Though, I think they might lack most of it." My uncle sighed.

"This... Might probably mean that Arachne has little followers, and most of her forces have been created by her magic..." Shade analyzed.

"Enough of your chitter chatter! RAAAAHHH!!!"

Before we could even think about what was happening, he quickly moved. Swinging half of his long body against all of us. The hundreds of legs he had suddenly became as sharp as knives, slicing apart any surrounding tree.

SLAAAAAASSSH!

TRUUUUUUMMMM...!

The entire surroundings shook terribly, but we all managed to escape in time, jumping away from the destructive attacks. But it seemed that's exactly what he wanted. A dozen of bugs quickly surrounded Luck and the Fenrir.

"Now! Quickly tear them apart!" He ordered, while concentrating his attention towards us. His many legs beginning to crackle metallically, as his aura continued growing stronger. "While my powerful servants tear them to shreds, I'll take care of you lot!"

Ding!

[The [Demonic Insectoid Centipede: Centiphedius (Tier 8: Rank 5)] has exuded a powerful [Aura of Demonic Dominion]!]

[All of his Stats have temporarily increased by +100% until his Mana runs out.]

[Additionally, increases the Stats of servants by +50%.]

FLASH! I think you should take a look at

His tail suddenly opened a gigantic claw, and then with rapid swiftness, he pointed it towards us, unleashing a barrage of piercing attacks!

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH! CRAAASH!

At the same time, several magic circles appeared one after another around his body, summoning enormous spears made of darkness.

"[Abyssal Spear Rain]!"

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOM!

Each spear not only was really strong, easily piercing through most things, but once making contact with something, they even exploded!

However, my father, Shade, and Arafunn stepped forward before Aquarina, my friends, or I could do anything against him.

"You're really hurting my feelings for not knowing who I am..." Sighed my father.

"Well, it is better that way." Shade said.

"We gave you the opportunity to run, yet you choose to try to kill us. I think we are allowed to do as we please now, right?" Uncle Arafunn smiled.

"Huh?! You're unharmed?!" Centiphedius was shocked. "But I am a Tier 8 Rank 5 Demon! I am invincible!"

"Sorry but that makes you far from invincible." Laughed my father.

"Don't lower your guard though, Allan." Shade said.

"Hmm, you're certainly stronger than the others, but not as strong as the mosquito guy that attacked our city... And he still meet a terrible fate." Uncle Arafunn laughed.

FLASH! FLASH! FLASH!

All three of them jumped into battle. My father summoned his Soul Weapon, the Infernal Spiritual Sword he was always capable of summoning, swinging it vertically and horizontally, and unleashing slashing blows of pure explosive flames.

SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

BOOM! BOOM! BOOOM!

"AARGH...! UNGH...!"

The huge centipede quickly realized my father was serious business when his attacks quickly burned through his exoskeleton easily, and even started tearing down his legs one after another!

Meanwhile, Shade moved swiftly with both of his knives, his body overflowing with a Shadow and Abyssal Aura together, as he constantly transformed into shadows and reappeared behind the beast, raining countless slashing attacks against him, charged with deadly curses.

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

Centiphedius constantly tried to catch him while he was in midair, but in the last second, Shad always managed to become a mass of shadows and escape his grasp.

"RAAAARGGH! Y-YOU DAMN PESTS!" He roared in frustrating, only for him to be attacked even harder by a gigantic burst of spiraling, slicing winds coming from my uncle's flute, his magic relic.

"[Melody of Storms]!"

FLUOOOOOSSH!

"AAARGGH...!"

Chapter 818 Luck Overcome His Fears

While the arrival of a new high-ranking Demon Servant hell-bent on killing them all was shocking, Luck couldn't really process well what was happening before he was surrounded by a dozen of gigantic insectoid monsters. From the huge spiders that destroyed his village to huge crickets, praying mantises, and more. All of such beasts exuding an overwhelming aura, all of them being Tier 7 in strength!

"We're surrounded!" The Gray Fenrir groaned. "Oi, Luck! What's gotten into you?!"

"Ungh...!" Luck suddenly felt the traumas of what had happened on his village resurfacing within his heart. He felt as if his body was paralyzed, and his heart was beating faster and faster. He couldn't stop biting his lips in nervousness.

"T-Those bugs... They're here again?! Ungh..." Luck tried to move, but he was being way too slow.

"SHAAAAH!!!"

The closest monster to him moved, moving forwards rapidly through its many legs. In the shape of a huge, black and red colored praying mantis, the monster swung its gigantic scythes, cutting down trees on the way to cut Luck as well!

SLASH! SLASH! SLAAASH!

CRAAASH!

However, before Luck were to be sliced into pieces, the Gray Fenrir valiantly jumped in front of him, intercepting the attacks by coating his body with a red and black magic aura, boosting his attack power through the roof!

"GRAAAAARR!"

The Gray Fenrir ferociously bite through the huge scythes of the bug monster on his larger, stronger form, tearing the bug's arms apart, as green blood started oozing out of the wounds.

"GRYYYYEEHHH...!"

As the huge insect screamed in agony, the Gray Fenrir swiftly sliced its head off with his huge claws, making the insectoid behemoth fall to its demise over the floor.

BAAAM!

However, the insect's scream only made the rest of the Swarm angrier, their eyes glowing redder as a part of their group surrounded the Gray Fenrir, attacking him all at once!

Huge scorpions tried to cut him into pieces with their gigantic pincers, the spiders constantly threw their sticky silk to keep him in place, massive wasps tried to pierce his body with their stingers, and more praying mantises attempted to cut him down with their scythes!

CLASH! CLASH! CRAAASH!

The wolf valiantly fought them all at once, his mighty speed, magic, and attack power easily overpowering them all, yet he was rusty as he hadn't fought powerful foes in many years, growing partially tired.

"LUCK!"

And when he realized Luck was still standing still while dozens of bugs were about to tear him to shreds, he felt desperate, trying to run towards him.

"SNAP OUT OF IT! YOU BRAT!!!"

However, more bugs surrounded him, as he could only scream to the lost boy.

"SHIIEEEEH!"

The gigantic army of bugs surrounded him, their claws nearing closer...

"Ahhh...!" Luck suddenly panicked, falling into the floor.

FLAAASH!

BOOOOOOMMMM!!!

However, before they could reach him, a gigantic fireball landed on the floor right in front of him, spreading out flames that only consumed the foes in front of him. I think you should take a look at

"SHYAAAHH...!"

The many gigantic bugs stepped back in horror, groaning in agony and surprise.

"Phew, good thing we arrived in time." Sylphy and her friends appeared around Luck, as the young beast boy felt shaken.

"E-Everyone...!" He cried.

However, Sylphy quickly gave him a big slap on the face.

SLAP!

"Ouch! Argh! W-Why?!" He cried. Sylphy was tremendously strong, a slap from her was bound to hurt to the bone.

"What the heck are you doing, dumbass?!" Sylph lost her composure. "Stand up and fight! I know you might be traumatized because these damn things destroyed your village and even killed your brother, but for that very reason you should stand up and fight! Avenge them! What use are these powers Elise gave to you if you're going to pussy out like this?! I might as well have taken them on your stead!"

"T-That's... that's not right! I..." Luck gritted his teeth, quickly standing up. "I-I... I'm... sorry..."

"Don't be sorry and fight!" Aquarina complained, as the monsters quickly rushed towards them again.

"You're not alone on this! But that doesn't mean you should get all confident in that we'll solve all your problems either." Zack said.

"Luck! Do it for Lara!" Mist said.

"R-Right... Sorry...!" Luck quickly started imbuing more and more Mana into the rest of his body. "I was being stupid. I shouldn't have lost my focus like that...! Please, take these too!"

He quickly opened the bag he was protecting, giving everyone bracelets and rings imbued with beast magic power.

"These are...?" Aquarina asked.

"They're Beast Bracelets and Beast Rings, they virtually work the same, so you can only wear one at a time to receive their effects..." Luck pointed out. "They give you the ability to partially conjure Beast Magic, based in the Beast Aura you've already developed!"

"I see! That sounds interesting." Aquarina smiled, quickly wearing the bracelet. "I do remember that Ninhursag taught us and helped us attain Beast Auras so we could eventually learn Polymorph magic to an extent, but this isn't half-bad either!"

"Well, to an extent, our Draconification is already that." Sylphy smiled. "Now, Luck, you should wear the weapon she left behind, that's her divine relic."

"This one... It resembles a bracelet..." Luck quickly worn a golden bracelet, as it shone with divine light, turning into something resembling liquid gold, and started to shapeshift into enormous golden metallic claw-shaped gauntlets!

FLAAASH!

"W-Woah...!" Luck was shocked.

"That's the Divine Shapeshifting Relic: All Gaia!" Said Fenrir, landing in front of the kids covered on bug blood. "It is specifically designed for the Hero of Wild Beasts, whose fighting styles constantly change. It will transform depending on your fighting styles! However, this is the first time I see it transform into such huge claws! The weapon has a will of its own, but it appears to have recognized you as its new master right away, and has taken a fitting form!"

"A-Amazing!" Luck was shocked, feeling the powers of the divine relic coursing through his veins.

"SHYAAAAHHH!!!"

Dozens of gigantic insects kept rushing towards them, the fight had yet to be over.

"Alright then, Luck, I'm counting on you." Sylphy smiled. "Everyone, let's do this."

Chapter 819 New Bonus Stats!

After reuniting with Luck, saving his ass, and making him come back to his senses, he quickly shared out the treasures he acquired from Elise's inheritance. This included Divine Beast Bracelets and Rings, one for each one of us, which allowed us to conjure some Beast magic Spells based on our Beast Auras.

And just as that happened, Alice had just finished creating the last Harvest Familiar Seed after their Rank Up, and now I had 30 of both of each equipped in my 60 Slots.

That meant an amazing boost of +3000 to four stats at once!

Even with my bases stats being unchanged, now that I had +3k to Strength, Defense, Agility, and Luck, I felt much stronger, especially on the physical and speedy department. My body literally felt at least, ten times as strong.

I knew that thanks to my Physique, my stats should be much higher, but due to the glitch, they stay as that. However, thanks to these bonuses which can indeed change, I get an even further boost of STR. Allowing someone incapable of leveling up and raising my stats to finally attain a taste of what it feels like to increase stats like that.

Of course, I also got my armor...

"[Equip Armor]"

My Black Dragon Armor quickly materialized itself around my body, as it emerged out of my very inventory the moment I willed it, and with the simple game-like command (as Alice calls these), I was able to instantly equip it!

FLAAASH!

My body was instantly covered on a fierce-looking dark red colored armor, which once I imbued Mana into it, started overflowing with an even more powerful Blazing Draconic Aura, boosting my Fire Attribute Magic power through the roof.

And with my Holy Light Spirit Tiara and my Demonic Dragon Ring, I was able to attain even more stat bonuses. Something only possible if I make the equipment myself and imbue EXP or a special item into them, giving them the power of Stat buffs, which took effect whenever I imbued Mana into the equipment.

The ring I received wasn't bad either. The moment I equipped it, I felt my Magic Power rising by a considerable amount, and also, I felt as if my Beast Aura had become... unleashed. Freer, perhaps.

Ding!

[You have equipped the [Divine Beast Ring (A+++ Grade)]]

[Your Magic Power has risen considerably!]

[Your [Beast Aura] is roaring with a new power! You can now use some [Beast Magic] Spells, based on your [Beast Aura] natural abilities!]

"ROOOOAAARRR!"

My Blazing Draconic Aura from the armor mixed with my own, and that of the ring, and of course, my own Beast Aura, as a fearful and fierce red dragon emerged from within my magical aura, roaring ferociously. I think you should take a look at Flames flickered around my entire body, the mighty sun above the skies activated my Heavenly Sun's special ability [Sunshine] further increasing my stats, although it had yet to reach the peak, they would be certainly useful.

This time, I'll fight just using the passive Draconification I acquired from the Dragon King's Divine Protection.

"[Holy Crown of Light]!"

FLAAASH!

Suddenly, my tiara transformed, becoming a huge crown made of holy spiritual light, emanating a shining, sunlight shine.

Ding!

[You have activated the [Holy Light Spirit Soul Tiara (A+++ Grade)] Special Ability: [Holy Light Crown]!]

[A Powerful Aura of Holy Light, enhances the wielder's Holy Light, Spirit, and Life Magic Power and Effects by +20%, while healing allies within 50 meters of the user by 0.50% HP per second!]

FLUOOOSH!

A new light aura surged from my amazing Tiara, a creation I made combining several materials and items together into one. The Aura gave a last insurance for everyone's safety, giving them a passive health regeneration.

It is nothing too crazy though, as it cannot easily regenerate big wounds and lethal wounds, but it can regulate pain, blood lost, and lower exhaustion too.

"Amazing, that aura...!" Said Luck.

"Sylphy! I didn't knew you could do that!" Mist was shocked. "Can you teach me later?!"

"It is this item's effect, sorry." I laughed. "Though you'll support will still be appreciated, Mist! Let's do this!"

"Oway!" Mist nodded adorably, raising her staff. "[Holy Light Veil]! [Starlight Shine]!"

FLAAAAASH!

Veils of light covered our bodies, further increasing our health regeneration speed and also giving us a few buffs to boot. At the same time, she conjured a shining bright light, blinding the incoming bug monsters.

"SHYAAARRGGH...!"

The dozens of bugs suddenly stopped their relentless, charge, as I leaped forward and imbued my Draconic Blaze Aura into Scarlet, making her blade shine bright red.

"[Draconic Blade Arts]: [Infernal Dragon's Claws]!"

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! CRAASH! CRAASH! CRAAASH!

With each swing of my sword, the flames and aura combined into the shape of huge dragon claws that constantly dealt explosive, slashing damage against the huge Tier 7 monsters.

Back in the past, when I was much younger, I would had struggled to no end against such mighty monsters.

But now, it was much different.

"ROOOOAARRR!"

The roar of my dragon aura echoed with my attacks, as over five insectoid monsters were sliced into pieces, and exploded with my mighty flames.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOOMMM!!!

CLAAASH!

Their gigantic bodies falling into parts over the forest floor, the flames not even touching the plants, but constantly consuming their bodies.

I noticed how Luck was glancing at me in surprise.

"Come on Luck, don't lose focus! You've got more strength than ever before, concentrate! I've opened the way, now fight!"

"Right! [Divine Beast Transformation]!"

FLAAASH!

Luck's entire body gained even more power, as his Divine Beast Transformation was activated, his black fur becoming gold, with black stripes, as his beastly appearance became even more noticeable, his muscles grew up to three times their original size, and his tiger-like fangs were large and fierce.

"RAAAAHHH!"

Chapter 820 Luck's Powerful New Abilities

Upon his amazing new transformation, Luck swiftly charged into battle, leaping off the ground and reaching the nearest giant insect with his gigantic golden claws, coated by the liquid metal-like properties of the Shapeshifting Relic: All Gaia.

CLAAAASSSH!!!

With a single, overwhelming attack utilizing both of his gigantic claws at once, Luck torn through the insect's exoskeleton, the force of the impact pushing the cricket-like monster down into the ground.

BAAAAMM...!

"Huh?! T-This is my power?" Luck quickly realized.

"Don't you remember you once defeated one of these monsters by yourself? It was the one that took down your brother." Spoke the voice of the Golden Tiger. "You were always powerful, but lacked foundation and Mana to keep your transformation and powers ongoing... And with what you've developed, alongside this new weapon, it seems you can finally show off your true potential, brat."

"SHAAAAAH!"

The giant cricket wasn't done yet, as it quickly stood back up and attacked Luck with its gigantic mandibles, attempting to catch him and cut him into two halves.

CRAAAASSSH!

However, its powerful mandibles only bite through the ground, as Luck leaped away just in time, with amazing new reflexes.

"It feels like my body has become much lighter..." Luck was amazed.

Without the System, such a fast growth would have never been possible. I am beginning to understand the true purpose of this System now, even if that God that gave it to me didn't intend it to have such purpose.

And even when the other gods seem unaware of its existence... This System and my Mana, they might bring a rapid change in this world, and help the weak become much stronger faster than ever before.

"SHYAAAH!"

The giant insect quickly tried to catch Luck while in midair with its mandibles, leaping into the skies towards him.

However, Luck smiled defiantly, his eyes glowing gold with mighty divine beast energy, as he gathered Mana into his claws, and then...

"[Divine Claw Arts]: [Savage Beast Charge]!!!"

FLAAAASH!

His body glowed with the bright golden aura of the Golden Tiger Divine Beast Spirit, as he descended towards the bug's open mandibles, piercing through its mouth, towards the stomach, and then appearing all the way down, piercing the beast's abdomen.

CRAAAAAAASSSH!!!

Landing on the floor, he unleashed a powerful shockwave, which quickly hurt all other insects in the vicinity.

"GRYYYYEEHH...!"

Meanwhile, the gigantic cricket attacking him gave its last scream before dying on the spot, falling over the floor and creating a small tremor...

BAAAAMM...!

"I can finally take them down..." Luck smiled. "I DID IT! FINALLY! HAHAAHAAA!"

For some reason, despite the situation, Luck celebrated, laughed, and raised his arms in happiness. He knew that he would have never been able to reach this point without the help of so many good people that appeared on his life. I could tell on his grateful smile.

"I'll do it, Sylphy, everyone! I'll fight... I will no longer run away!"

Luck's eyes shone with a fiery gaze, as his entire body erupted with divine beast energy. His Aura shaping into the ferocious head of the Golden Tiger, roaring mightily.

"[Divine Beast Magic]: [Golden Tiger's Mighty Roar]!"

"ROOOOOAARRR!"

TRUUUUMMM...!

A gigantic shockwave of pure power surged from within this mighty roar, the surrounding bugs, which were now over twenty and that kept coming from the nearby hole, suddenly felt paralyzed!

Ding!

[System User: Luck] has utilized the [Golden Tiger's Mighty Roar] Divine Beast Magic Spell!

[All surrounding enemies will fall into a state of [Temporary Paralysis] and [Fear], having all their Stats lowered by -25% for the next 5 Minutes.]

"Amazing!" I had to praise him. "It seems that our Luck's no longer a pushover!"

"That's nice." Aquarina smiled. "He better start pulling his own weight!"

Aquaria ran alongside me, as we both rushed across many monsters at once, utilizing our weapons to slash them and pierce them apart. Most of these monsters were merely Tier 7 Rank 1, their sizes were big and mighty, but their amount of total power was laughable compared to the Miasmic Swamp Bosses.

"[Shadow Dagger Arts]: [Abyssal Knife Dance]!"

Aquarina imbued her entire body with her shadows, similarly to her father's fighting style, as she danced in midair, leaping from head-to-head while storms of shadows erupted from her spinning body. Her knives cutting down the monsters while she spun wondrously.

She was always so majestic when she took down foes...

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! CLAAASH!

"GRUOOOHH...!"

"GRYYYYEEH..."

"SHYAAAH...!"

Thanks to Luck's spell that paralyzed and weakened the monsters, Aquarina's attacks landed all the time, slaying more than just a couple of monsters! She cleared almost half of the surrounding monsters.

And she wasn't half done either...

"[Ocean Knife Arts]: [Oceanic Wave]!"

Aquarina hit the floor with all her might while swinging her two knives, now enchanted with her Heavenly Ocean Ruler Skill abilities, an eruption of oceanic water attribute aura surged from within, like an enormous, all-consuming wave, and it quickly took down several more monsters at once.

SPLAAAAAASSSSH!!!

The ocean wave wasn't just that though, highly pressurized and with countless knife-like ends, it not only crushed them to the ground, but covered them into slicing wounds until they ended being torn to shreds!

At the same time as she was doing that, I was covering the other area with my blazing attacks, burning, and slicing apart everything on my path. Any attacks directed at me were mostly easily blocked by my amazing new armor.

At this point, it was overkill.

"Phew... I guess we've cleared this area." Aquarina sighed in relief, cleaning her sweat, and smiling back at me. "Our parents are taking care of the Boss, should we go look for the crystal summoning these guys?"

"Crystal?" Wondered Luck, as he intercepted two monster attacks and then cut their heads down with his enormous claws.

"We'll explain the details later. But pretty much all these attacks happen because a special crystal helps them open a portal, usually named Dungeon Breaks, connecting to a dungeon where the monsters come out of it." Explained Zack, summoning storms, and lightning from his axe blows, devastating his surroundings.

"S-So that's how they just teleport here..." Luck was surprised. "Hm? I can smell something, a strong amount of mana and miasma. Down there... Follow me!"

Luck quickly decided to lead us to the Dimensional Crystal.
