

A Glitched 881

Chapter 881 The Evil Gods' Hunger

Within the desolate, dark skies of the Demon Continent, the wills of many Evil Gods gathered, talking about what had just happened. A large piece of Lolth having disappeared was something most Gods easily felt, especially when everything happened just in the surface, and it wasn't a battle inside a Divine Realm.

"Lolth, just what happened to her?! Where is she right now?!"

"Her whereabouts are unknown, but she lost a good chunk of her soul and powers, she's going to be very weak now..."

"Who... did this?! Could it be a God from High Heaven? Or... maybe the Archdemons of our former world?"

"None of those..."

A voice everyone recognized, coming from the most infamous Evil God in the world resonated within the many God Wills speaking with one another.

All their presences quickly reached him, his presence was the strongest of them all, so powerful he rivaled the Chief Gods despite having been a Servant God before.

"God of Dungeons... You know who it was?"

"Of course I know." The presence said in a rather cynical tone. "Stop pretending to not know either, just because it was a mortal who did it doesn't mean you can just ignore the facts."

"But that's just not possible! Those mortals were made to serve us!"

"They're our slaves, beings we made inside of tubes and laboratories, how come... how is it possible that one could do such a thing?!"

"That's... it gotta be another reason! That mortal, whoever it is...!"

"I know who she is." The presence laughed. "After all, we got quite the history together. I've been trying to kill her since she was a toddler, and time and time again, I failed. Her powers just aren't of this world. She's... just like that other guy, a Reincarnated Soul from another world, gifted with a System."

"A-A System...!"

"Those legendary divine artifacts that the Gods of Transmigration can craft?!"

"A-Are you sure of this information, God of Dungeons?!"

"You may choose to believe me or not." Laughed the God of Dungeons. "God of Darkness, you've got quite the history with her, is it not?"

"T-Tch... That was merely... just a nibble! I didn't get attacked at all!"

The other Evil Gods quickly started mocking him...

"That nibble she did to you might had been what gave her that taste for god's souls. Wherever Lolth is now, she's very weakened. She just broke her alliance with me too, so you're all free to find her and eat her if you want to. She's quite the cockroach though, so she will not go down easily... Goodbye for now."

The God of Dungeons' Will quickly disappeared, as the other Evil Gods smiled maliciously within their Divine Realms. Unlike the Gods in the High Heavens, alliances here were always temporary, and their goals were selfish and not shared. They predated one another if the opportunity arose.

And there was no way they'll let Lolth, so weakened as of now, get to recover easily while exposing herself like she did now... To eat another god was one of the few easy ways to grow stronger, but it was a monumental task, as god were powerful entities, even when fighting against one another.

Usually, it wasn't worth the risk, but when opportunities like these arose, they simply had to take it.

"You said she's hiding in the Atlanta Continent's sky, isn't it?"

"He did say that..."

"I see..."

"Well, whoever finds her first will be quite fortunate..."

The Evil Gods Will gathering quickly broke, as they all moved their separate ways, across the skies within their Divine Realms, completely undetected by any mortal...

At the same time, above a ruined-looking dark castle, in the middle of a wasteland inside the Demon Continent, a young man with sharp red eyes and short dark purple hair glanced into the night sky.

The moonlight reflected itself into his eyes, as his pale white skin seemed to be slowly enjoying the night's delight.

A smile slowly curled on his lips, in front of the ruined castle, an enormous army of thousands of monsters rested, having defeated yet another enemy faction that denied him as their new ruler.

"Ahhh, what was that presence I just felt?" He wondered. "Such a delightful scream. Could it be... An Evil God dying? I do wonder... Was it them? The other one? The one that the God of Transmigration called a "Failure"... You're certainly not one, aren't you?"

Behind him stood several powerful Demons, their overwhelming auras seemed threatening, yet they all protected the young boy, with strong, loyal hearts.

"Don't you think, my friends?" He asked to his subordinates, with a charismatic, almost eccentric smile, filled with lust for power, insanity, and delight all mixed together. "I want to meet them so badly... I just can't wait~"

At the same time, within the Human Continent of Gallatea, in the depths of the Uegenne Holy Kingdom's Main Church Temple of the Twelve Gods.

Hundreds of priests and nuns kneeled in front of a single man, the pope, who sat down over a throne of gold, glancing at the statues of the Twelve Gods lined through their church.

A golden crystal ball in front of him revealed him the Will of the Gods, as his golden eyes opened, his old body seemed weak, but it was overflowing with tremendous magical power.

"We've received a new revelation from the Chief Gods... The Heroes have defeated an Evil Goddess!" He celebrated, the priests and priestesses celebrated as well. "However..."

His face filled with joy quickly changed into one with contempt, as he gently caressed the golden crystal ball, his eyes glowing bright gold.

"Those filthy elves that do not follow the religions completely... Dare steal our heroes and impart into them insane, maddening knowledge. The Gods are not pleased with this. They ask for a crusade, they ask for us to retrieve our Heroes! The new generations shall protect our Continent, our Holy Kingdom!"

A smile surged on his old lips, as he looked into the moonlight reflecting from the window.

"Yes... At long last, the heroes will be ours, and everything else they hold... It might take years, but they will be ours. The Gods are on our side!"

Chapter 882 Waking Up

(Sylphy's POV)

I remember my dreams barely, and briefly. But I could easily recall my own soul floating within an endless landscape of darkness, as I fought a gigantic spider chained by black chains.

The giant spider was much stronger than I was, but because it was chained, it could not fight back. Bit by bit, I took away her life away, until she ultimately succumbed.

"Y-You monster...! What... what are you?"

Those were the last words I remembered she said before completely perishing, her will disappearing, and all her body, her soul, her powers, fusing into my own soul.

And after that, it felt as if I slowly... grew.

My arms grew, my legs did as well, everything grew. It felt as if not only I was getting larger, but I was becoming one with the darkness of my surroundings, with nature, the sky...

This blissful feeling I felt, when I woke up, I could only recall it as just another dream.

But now that I think about... Ugh, was that Lolth's Soul?

I did eat a large chunk of it! It might had been almost half her divine soul that she used to descent and take over Arachne as her new vessel.

It was so weird, but I guess it's over now. I remember doing similar battles against Ignatius soul in the past when I was a toddler.

However, this time was different, defeating her meant her Will dying, so I only inherited her powers, and there was no Will remaining, nor becoming some sort of spirit.

Aw, what a sad twist, I would have loved an annoying former-goddess spider spirit!

Those chains... Well, they were perhaps my own Curse stopping her from retaliating against me. I guess because I ate her so directly, there wasn't any other option than slowly fully assimilating her.

And that feeling of "growth" must have been my soul, it finally evolved and forged itself a Psyche, something like a Physique but for Souls instead of the Physical Body.

"You're finally awake! Good morning! You slept a lot, you know?" Alice appeared at my side.

"Alice..." I yawned. "Ah, how long did I sleep?"

"Around two weeks!" Said Alice. "You were in coma, actually."

"...Eh?"

So that battle that felt like an eternity... I fought Lolth's soul for like a week and then took another week to completely assimilate her powers into my own soul?!

"Ugh... W-What happened after everything ended?" I asked, sighing.

"Very little, actually. You went back home, rested, and the reconstruction of the town has been going steadily. Everyone's worried about you though, your mom assured everyone you'll eventually wake up, and used magic to feed you nutrients while you slept." Said Alice. "But aside from that, everyone's been mostly relaxing, taking things slowly. A lot happened after all- Ah! Right, a lot of Anima people joined the town! They're getting along quite fine with the townspeople. Your mother had built them a lot of new homes quickly using Nature Magic. Lara and Luck are happy as well, finally taking a break, although a bit worried about you too."

"I see..." I smiled, feeling much better. "I guess it was all worth it! Man, I love happy endings."

"I really thought we were done for back then... But I guess you never stop amusing me, Sylphy- No, everyone, you're just amusing everyone now!" Laughed Alice.

"Well, I did what I could... But I'm glad that it worked, it was just a gamble though, I can't believe it... actually worked. Is Lolth dead?" I wondered.

"I'm not sure, they said that only half her soul descended, I'm guessing the other half's somewhere else, probably hiding because she's too weak to fight now." Alice analyzed the situation. "Ah, but let's leave that topic for later. There's a lot of System Notifications! Do you want to check them?"

"Sure." I nodded. "Let's see- Uwaah!"

With several dinging sounds whenever a system window materialized in front of me, I saw tons of them appear in front of my face, surprising me so much I ended falling back into the bed.

Ding! Ding! DING!

"S-So many things?! Woah... Even an SS Grade Spear?!"

I was so surprised over everything that it took me a while to process everything...

And right after that, the door opened and Aquarina appeared, her saddened face quickly changing into one of great happiness.

"Sylphy?! You're awake!"

Chapter 883 Playful Aquarina

As I was trying to process all the gains I got from the last battle, which put us against a literal goddess on the flesh, Aquarina entered my room, instantly bursting into tears and jumping over my body.

"Sylphyyyyyy...!"

She fell over me with a loud thud, if it wasn't because I had a strong physique she could have quite possibly broken a few bones, she's as tough as a rock herself!

"Ouch, Aquarina don't be so rough...!"

As I shrieked in pain, she quickly stopped hugging me desperately, apologizing while rubbing her face over mine.

"Sowwy... I was just very happy; you've been asleep for two weeks! You don't know how worried I've been!"

"I-It's okay, I understand... But calm down a bit." I sighed. "I'm fine, I was just a bit tired..."

"Still..." She sighed, as she started adorably rubbing her nose with mine. "Give me a few kisses at least, alright?"

"Fine, fine~" I giggled, caressing her long and white hair. "Thank you for taking care of me until I woke up."

She began lovingly kissing my entire face for a little while. She was really worried; I can tell by the intensity of her kisses.

"I missed these!" She held up her tears while cuddling with me in bed. "I gave you a few while you were asleep but it wasn't the same!"

"Is that so? Can you let me go now?" I wondered, trying to be freed from her strong Amazonian bear hug.

"Nuh-huh! We'll cuddle until I am satisfied!" She said with a playful giggle.

"Eeehh...?" I sighed, but at the end I left her have her way with me.

After around half an hour of kissing, hugging, and cuddling, she finally let go of me, as I started stretching. My body felt incredibly sore after being in a bed for two weeks.

"Ugh... So how's everyone so far?" I asked, while stretching, Aquarina was sitting on my bed while giving a rather adorable smile.

"They're alright! Luck and Lara had gotten a bit more used to the life in the city. And the Anima people we found had already been moved here, they got housings and all~" Aquarina yawned. "It has been a really peaceful life, if it wasn't because you've been sleeping for so long, things would have been as good as always. Sometimes... It makes me feel like all of those battles didn't even happen."

"I guess it is a well-deserved peace, we fought for so long, and at the end we finally managed to defeat all these threats..." I sighed. "Ugh, eating that goddess soul made me sleep for two weeks, probably."

"Wait, did you really eat her soul?! What sort of power is that?" Asked Aquarina. "I thought you just sealed it or something, that's what your parents said."

"I guess it sounds really crazy that way, huh?" I sighed. "I can't blame them if they cannot believe something like that. It is part of a Curse I inherited from Furoh. Do you remember why he couldn't transform back then? It was because he had a curse he had acquired, an inherited Curse from the Demon Continent."

"A curse?! And you decided to just get it yourself?" Aquarina was shocked.

"I know it sounds crazy, but it is a curse that has yet to even do anything bad to me, it has helped me absorb dark energies and souls, it was the key to defeat Lolth." I sighed, as I finished stretching, sweating all over. "It is a [Curse of the Demon King] or something, I modified it so it only gives me benefits now, hehe."

"T-That's hard to believe, honestly. But if it's you, it must be true..." Aquarina wondered. "After all, you're the one that gave me this crazy System Power that has allowed me to grow so fast already... I'm missing only a few more levels to Rank Up again, in fact!"

"Yeah, at this point its sometimes better to not think about it too deeply." I crossed my arms.

Well, I do know a lot about the curse, its origins, and the different forms it had taken, now that it has become a Familiar now, it is a sentient being and all... It is a much more complex existence.

Although he acts tough and "normal", Curse is something else, perhaps a power an Ancient Demon King created not just to get revenge on the Heroes, but perhaps an ability that might even damage the gods.

One of the many tools to create a powerful enough weapon to slay Gods, something no mortal has been able to do until now.

And even now, I can't really say I slain Lolth, she's still alive somewhere else, it's just that half her soul is now missing, she's probably too weak to even move.

"Well, glad things are moving forward and are fine. I'm relieved, honestly." I said. "I'll go take a bath before having breakfast! Hm, what hour is it now?"

"Oh, it's around eleven in the morning." Aquarina got up and hugged me tightly.

Then, slowly, she coquettishly whispered to my ears. "Let's take a bath together then~"

"Hm? Ah... Well, if you want to-"

But she wasn't done yet, slowly beginning to touch my legs, and spread her hands across my butt, gently grasping it! Sheesh, isn't this teenager a bit too eager now?

"A-Aquarina?" I asked nervously, feeling my heart racing.

"I was just thinking something~ Mom and dad are always touching each other. I've seen daddy touching mommy's butt a lot. I was wondering how it felt..." She giggled mischievously. "And yours is so plump, Sylphy~"

"Uwaah! Y-You're getting a bit ahead of yourself!" I quickly moved her hands away from my butt. "No touching! Don't be a perv now."

lightsnovel.com "Eeeh? But we are brides now, can't we touch a bit at least?" She pouted. "You also kind of liked it, you were blushing like a cute little pie."

"T-That's... Well... Ugh, let's just go take a bath first! We're too young to do that kind of stuff, and you know it." I said, reprimanding her.

"Geez, fine~ But still, let me wash your body at the very least~!" She followed me to the bathroom.

Chapter 884 Bath Time

We took a bath together to relax, I really needed it, to be honest. I know they were keeping me clean with magic but... It feels a bit yucky to be cleaned with a dry magic spell rather than with warm water and some good-smelling soap.

And Aquarina was eager to bath with me, happily rubbing my back, and tending me as if I couldn't do it myself, she even raised my arms and washed my armpits, and then my stomach and my chest... Especially my chest.

"Uwah! They've grown a bit more, haven't they?" She wondered, grabbing my breasts shamelessly.

"A bit..." I sighed, blushing a bit. "Hey, aren't you massaging them a bit too much now?"

"I'm just making sure to wash them thoroughly, don't get the wrong idea~" She said while playfully teasing my nipples.

"Oh yeah?" I sighed. "Okay, that's enough!" I quickly decided to wash her now.

"Uwaah~!" She gave a little cry as I washed her back very roughly, and then splashed a lot of cold water over her body.

SPLAAASH!

"There, cold water's good to lower body heat." I nodded, crossing my arms. "Do you feel less horny now?"

"Geez, did you had to do that?" She sighed. "I just wanted to massage my wife's breasts a bit more..."

"C-Come on now... Don't get sad. I-I guess you can do it a bit more if you really want to..." I sighed, giving up to her charms, and her adorable sad face. I couldn't fight her!

"T-Then~!"

She quickly started "washing" my chest and thighs, tightly grasping them while kissing me, her little tongue sucking on mine.

"Ahhh~ Sylphy, you're so cute..."

"Geez, am I that cute? I don't feel that I am that special for you to be so fascinated..."

"T-That's obviously wrong! You're the prettiest girl in the entire city- no, the world! I feel so lucky that I am your wife, I want to hug you and love you all my life, you know?"

"A-Aquarina... You're always saying these kind of things when I least expect them!"

"But it's the truth...!"

"O-Okay, I get it- Mmh~"

She started kissing me again without letting me speak any longer, her tongue getting even deeper into my mouth, her soft lips were killing me.

"Sometimes you overthink things a bit, you should just accept my praises and enjoy the moment~!"

"Hehh~? Is that so? It only feels like you're a perv~"

"P-Perv?" Aquarina blushed. "A-Ah, somehow, if you say it that way, it kind of makes it hot..."

She's really getting into her puberty much faster than I imagined! I'm restraining myself until we're young adults at least, but she's really eager to just experiment all sorts of things.

And I don't know how much I can resist her temptations... Ah, actually, I kind of already failed, she's been groping my body eagerly for a little while now, and we're even kissing passionately...

"Well, you're also the prettiest girl I've meet so far." I smiled, giving her a kiss in her forehead. "I love you."

I decided to battle her horniness with honest, innocent love, hugging her tightly and giving her my warmth.

"S-Sylphy... Am I really pretty? Sometimes I think I might be a bit too manly like mom..." Aquarina sighed.
"Not like it matters but..."

"You're not manly! Maybe a bit tomboyish, but aren't I?" I giggled. "You're perfect to me as you are! And you'll always be, no matter how much you decide to change. My Aquarina will always be my Aquarina!" I think you should take a look at lightsnovel.com

"Uwooh, Sylphyyyy!" She suddenly hugged me tightly, rubbing all my body with her hands.

W-Wait, this only had the opposite effect!

Once we were done bathing, I felt slightly exhausted... Aquarina couldn't stop kissing me, she even started kissing my armpits and licking my neck. She was really horny! She has become the horny beast.

lightsNovel.com However, after a while, she also got tired and I was finally freed from her clutches. Maybe Amazonian girls mature sexually a bit faster than humans.

I'm only half human and half elf, and I've heard elves mature sexually very slowly, so I guess I can't relate so much to her horniness right now. But I still feel things.

Though, my human genes are kicking in strong with this pair of breasts, I bet my father's sisters or her mother must have big ones too.

Hmm, thinking about it... Meeting my father side of the family would be interesting, I've heard a lot about his father, a Boss of a powerful Mercenary Guild.

Meeting my grandfather of my father's side would be fun, I bet he's nicer than the idiot of the elven kingdom that threatened me the moment I showed up!

"Sorry..."

Aquarina interrupted my line of thoughts by hugging me from behind and kissing my neck.

"Huh? Why?"

"I was a bit too horny... But you're so innocent and cute, sorry... My bad."

"E-Eh? Well, don't worry, come on now."

"I just... I wanted to try out new things with you to show you I loved you a lot. Maybe it was my own insecurities or something..."

I quickly moved to her side and faced her, kissing her.

"It's fine, it was a bit awkward, but I enjoyed it... a tiny bit!" I giggled. "I guess we do get like that at this age, huh... Well, as long as you understood. It's alright, it's not like I didn't consent to it."

"S-Sylphy..." She started crying on my chest.

"Geez, you're so sensitive today! Did you really miss me so much, sweetie?" I sighed, hugging her tightly.

"Yesh..." She cuddled her face on my chest.

"Don't worry, I won't go to sleep for weeks anymore. You'll have me all for yourself if you want to!" I smiled, slowly caressing her long and silky hair.

"Sniff, do I even deserve you?" She kept rubbing her face on my chest. "You're too nice~ You're the perfect girlfriend!"

"A-Ahahah, I don't think I'm that perfect. Don't I get a bit grumpy like mom sometimes?" I wondered.

"T-That's... well, I do like your grumpy side sometimes too." She said.

Is there even something she doesn't like about me...? She keeps saying she loves everything!

Chapter 885 Two New Skills

After the sentimental speech, I reunited with the rest of my family after two weeks of sleeping. Mom and dad were in tears, and Zephy too! This was the first time I've seen them all cry at the same time. They were really worried...

"You dumb little girl, why did you had to sacrifice yourself like that?! Don't ever do something like that again! I was so worried; you weren't waking up for two weeks and I couldn't do a single thing than just watch over you!" My mother cried, kissing my entire face. "I love you, my little babyyyy!"

"Y-Yeah, what she said! Don't be so reckless, you bratty girl!" My father was genuinely angry, although it was cute because he was saying it between tears. "I was so worried!"

"Big sishhh...!" Zephy was covering me on his snout and tears.

"I-It's alright, I'm here and I'm fine! I was just taking a really long nap, everything's alright..." I giggled a bit. "I'm happy you were so worried and concerned, thanks for taking care of me."

"Of course, that's what family is for!" My father rubbed his eyes filled with tears.

"We made sure to administrate you with nutrients, wash you, and all while you slept." My mother sighed. "Every day that passed we hoped for your wake... They felt like an eternity, each day..."

"Yeah..." Zephy cried. "Big sis' alright now, really?"

"I'm fine now." I smiled, kissing my brother's forehead. "You've been a good boy, I assume!"

"I've been a good boy!" Zephy nodded. "I've done my homework and... trained magic with mama, and sword with papa."

"Fufu, well done." I smiled. "Now let's talk while having breakfast, I am starving so much!"

"Alright! I've made you some pancakes already! I'll go cook some eggs and bacon, and how about an apple pie too? Ooh, maybe a pizza as well! Been a while since we've eaten one! How about it?" My mother got into her full chef mode, as two hands made of light magic flew towards the table bringing a big plate with pancakes, topped on syrup, whipped cream, and berries.

"Okay! Let's eat until we burst!" I celebrated. "Everyone, come out too! I bet you've been bored!" I summoned all my Familiars to enjoy the feast.

While we ate to our heart's contents with Aquarina, her parents joined the feast, and then Zack, Ninhursag, Luck, Lara, Celica, Celeste, and Mist! Even Mary and the other orphanage kids came to join us, at the end, we ended holding up a big party to celebrate my wake.

Even the guards and some of our friends we made in the city came to visit, the word of having woken up spread across the city, and people started celebrating it, as if it was that big of a deal... I think it wasn't but well, whatever.

And while enjoying a feast with everyone, I checked on my new Skills to see what they were all about, I'll leave the two spears for later, maybe I can disassemble them and fuse them together into an even stronger spear on another occasion, who knows.

[Void Wielding Arts: Lv1]

Skill Proficiency: 0/10000

The Ability to wield the Element of Void itself into a variety of ways, from provoking the slight distortion of space to piercing through hard defenses, or even negating elemental powers altogether. It can be quite dangerous to both the foe and the wielder, so proper usage and mastery is needed.

Passive Effect (1): Enhances Resistance against Void, Space, and Time Attribute Magic, Increases Void Attribute Magic Mastery, Conjunction Speed by +25%.

Active Effect (1): Allows for the ability to conjure Void Energy and shape it into different forms, imbue it into a target, or exude it as a powerful Aura. If used offensively, deals +50% Damage.

Level Bonus (1): Increases Void Attribute Runes in the user's Magic Circle by +1000. I think you should take a look at lightsnovel.com

Wow, this already sounds quite potent. Though, it feels like it will be a pain to master to the level where it will give an acceptable performance. And I fear I could end up getting my arm swallowed by the void or something... I'll need to do this very carefully.

lightsnovel.com

[Spider Queen Threads: Lv1]

Skill Proficiency: 0/10000

The Ability to create, wield, and shape powerful Spider Queen Threads, produced by the user's hands, right below the nails. Their Durability and Quality increases based on the Skill Level and the user's Magic Power Stat.

Passive Effect (1): Increases the Durability and Magic Resistance of created threads by +50%.

Active Effect (1): Allows for the ability to create powerful Spider Queen Threads and shape them into all kinds of forms. If used defensively, increases Thread's Defensive Power by +25%, if used offensively, increases Thread's Slicing Strength and Sharpness by +50%.

Level Bonus (1): Increases Mana Conductivity of Created Threads by +10%.

This one seems ideal to use it as fabric for the creation of new clothes or equipment! Though I have no idea how to properly wield it, I am quite alright at sewing though. I'll have to practice a lot as well.

It can also be used defensively or offensively... But I am not sure I'll need it that badly, seeing how I have a variety of other damage-dealing abilities, techniques, and skills available. Well, maybe it will eventually come in handy.

"Sylphy, Sylphy! Hey, Sylphy!" Lara was calling me from behind.

"Yes?" I wondered.

"All the Spirits are happy that you're back! They really like you!" She said with an adorable giggle, as I noticed hundreds of colorful spirits wandering around everywhere.

"I-I see!" I saw, feeling overwhelmed as the adorable little things started swarming my entire body. "Uwaaagh! Can you tell them to calm down a bit?"

"Hehehe, I can't." She laughed.

"Wait, can't you control them?!" I cried, as they started carrying me around.

"Nah, I can just ask for their help, and give them suggestions, but it's always up to them to do whatever they want to!" Lara smiled, her eyes glowing brightly. "The Spirits of the World are different than the ones you make a contract with, they obey nobody. At most, I can just talk to them so they understand what I'm saying!"

So... Lara is just such a sweet and innocent girl that the Spirits just genuinely love her...

Well, she's not a Saintess for nothing.

Chapter 886 Evolving Skills

After having partied all day yesterday, forgetting about all worries in the world and just genuinely enjoying the day without concerns, I woke up the next day in the morning, feeling slightly sleepy.

Alice was calling me for a while, quite eagerly so. "Sylphy, wake up! You should quickly learn some new Skills; a few Skill Trees have become available now. Afterwards, you should check your Dungeon, there's a new Floor Available!"

"Ugh, I know... But can't I just relax for a bit?" I sighed, cuddling on my bed. Aquarina was deeply asleep at my side.

"I guess you can... But didn't you said that I had to remind you whenever there was an opportunity for you to grow stronger?" Alice wondered. "Also, you know I've been just sitting here for two weeks, right? I feel like if I don't do something I will go insane!"

"Are you Systems like this?" I raised an eyebrow.

"K-Kind of... If we don't have something to work forwards to, we lose meaning to our lives." Alice sighed.
"We're workaholics by nature!"

"Yes, yes, I can tell!" I sighed, stretching my arms as I walked out of the bed and glanced through the window.

The sun was already rising, the beautiful blue skies, with a few clouds here and there decorated the beautiful city of Agarth. The people beginning their daily routine, walking across the streets, the children laughing as they played, the elderly smiling while giving breadcrumbs to small pigeons, and the soothing warm wind made me feel relaxed.

After such a huge crusade as the one we had, finally being back home to relax and act as idle as possible felt like a dream come true... Quite honestly, I wouldn't mind not fighting for a couple of years, just relaxing, and taking it easy, with friends and family.

I worked so hard to protect this city I've grown to love so much, I deserve a break, right?

"Sylphy..."

Alice looked a bit creepy behind me, her eyes glowing bright red.

"A-Alright, okay, I get it... Anyways, aside from that, what about your glitches? How are things regarding that?" I wondered.

"Oh, about that..." Alice said, sitting over my head. "I'm improving a bit every day. The glitches are just... impossible to delete at all, but I've been working on, instead of trying to fix them, than to stabilize my entire synopsis as a whole, and accept these failures as part of what I am, and also of what has made us so strong as well."

"Right, even if they were just mistakes, it has made a lot of things possible, things that normal systems can't do, like you said, right?" I wondered.

"Yeah, it honestly feels more like a benefit that I am glitched after the initial pain and agony has disappeared. Honestly I don't even feel any more pain for existing for years now! It feels like I was reborn." Alice giggled. "And it's all thanks to you, you were there with me since the beginning, cheering me up."

"Well, I did what I could, it isn't nothing impressive." I shrugged. "But I'm happy to see that you've recovered well, my dear friend."

"Friend? I thought I was like a sister to you already!" Alice crossed her arms.

"Well, little sis~" I laughed.

"Little sis?! I am older than you!" She pouted.

"Ain't no way I'll call you big sis..." I laughed even more. "Well, anyways, what Skills can I get?"

"Currently, Mana Disruption and Aqua have become Level 10, so you can get Skills from those two Skill Trees!" Said Alice.

"Alright, let's pick the other Mana Skill I guess." I said. "I need to reduce the exhaustion of overusing Mana as much as possible if I want to use my Infinite Mana to my heart's content."

Ding!

[You've learned the [Mana Manipulation: Lv1] Skill!]

[The Skill has been readjusted thanks to the Skill Compensation Effects!]

I think you should take a look at lightsnovel.com

[Mana Manipulation: Lv1]

Skill Proficiency: 0/1000

The ability to naturally wield Mana. Grants the ability to Manipulate Mana with even more mastery than merely Mana Usage. While activated, you can use your own mind to not only manipulate your own Mana, but even the Mana of our surroundings with even greater precision and control. Can be practiced continuously for better and more efficient results. A Mid-tier Mana Skill, right below Mana Mastery.

Level Bonus (1): Enhances the Manipulation over Mana by +10% -> +25%, Removes Exhaustion of Overusing Mana by -5% -> -15%, and Enhances Magic Spell Power by +5% -> +15%.

"Oh nice, the upgrade is really good! Tripling the normal effects?! That's crazy..."

"Yep! Now, choose your next Water Spell!"

[Available Skills for the [Aqua] Skill Tree]

[Water Magic: Illusory Mist]

[Water Magic: Water Spear]

"Illusory Mist is a good spell to create illusions, the mist can also decrease the foe's stats depending on the Spell Level. The latter is a straightforward fast, piercing water attribute spell that can deal a nice amount of damage, can easily overwhelm foes by casting a dozen of those at the same time." Alice gave me a quick explanation of the new Skills available.

"I see... I guess I'll go for the more unique Illusory Mist! Aquarina's already a Master of Water magic, and I could totally conjure those spears by myself easily as of now..." I said. "The Mist is more unique."

"Good choice!"

Ding!

[You learned the [Water Magic: Illusory Mist: Lv1] Skill!]

[Water Magic: Illusory Mist: Lv1]

Skill Proficiency: 0/2500

An Intermediate Level Water Attribute Magic Spell.

By spending a sizable quantity of Mana, it is possible to create a wide, expanding white Mist that can engulf a large portion of space, confusing foes and dulling their senses.

Active Effect (1): Conjure a large quantity of Mist around your surroundings and engulf foes within. It can cause Confusion or even Madness, depending on your mastery over Mana and the usage of this Spell. Decreases Foe's Defense, Resistance, and Agility by -20% while being inside the Mist. Duration: 15 Minutes. Cooldown: 60 Minutes.

Level Bonus (1): Enhances the Skill's Debuffs, Chances of Confusion on a Foe, and Conjunction Speed by +15%.

Alright, this one's not bad at all!

Chapter 887 Upgrading The Dungeon

"Alright, now that we're done with this..." I said, quickly channeling the power of my bracelet.
"[Dungeon Gate]"

FLUOOOSH!

A blue colored gate leading to my Dungeon opened, as I gave a last glance at Aquarina, she was still sleeping like she hadn't slept for a whole week.

"Alright, she's not waking up, let's get this done quickly."

I stepped inside my Dungeon with Alice, as we were greeted by the beautiful greenery of the First Floor. A large forest to the distance, a huge river, and a fountain with water constantly pouring out of it.

All the plants I had planted before had already grown a lot! The Divine Fruit of Knowledge Trees were already huge, all of them having grown as tall as five meters, and they had already created many fruits, dozens!

Some had already dropped and were being eaten by Horned Rabbits, I guess I can't take those anymore. Though I wonder if they'll have any effect on monsters.

Aside from that, the Spirit Leaf Herbs and Mana Fruits Bushes had also grown in large quantities, and big too! These were materials from Naturia, can't believe they grew into genuine plants.

If I were to spread these around the world, people would have fruits and leaves that can restore their health and mana widely available, and for free.

Maybe I could gift a few of these to some of the families of my city for starters, though I fear people might end up selling them and their seeds get stolen by someone else that comes to visit, and then they profit off my creation!

Well, if I fill all the world with them then they can no longer profit of something that's widely abundant though... Heh, well, that's a long-term plan.

The Spirit Tree Crystalized Branch already grew into a humongous size, over ten meters big, and it was a beautiful tree made of green crystals, overflowing with life attribute mana and spiritual energy.

[The [Dungeon System] greets their master!]

The little Dungeon System appeared in front of me, his cubic shape on all his glory.

"Hey, how are things going?"

[The [Dungeon System] says that the plants you've planted have grown bigger and are bearing tons of fruits!]

[They wonder if you're going to plant more?]

"Maybe! But for now, let's check that third floor... Let's see what I can make out of it." I said, rubbing my chin.

The Dungeon System Spirit nodded, quickly showing me a few System Windows with several options.

[The [Quest System] is intrigued about what you will choose.]

[The [Dungeon System] is just as intrigued!]

"Me too!" Alice said.

Ding!

[The [Dungeon System] is giving you three options!]

[What do you want the third Dungeon Floor to be?]

[Option 1: Cave Type Dungeon]

[Option 2: Sea Type Dungeon]

[Option 3: Volcanic Type Dungeon]

"Oh? Aside from the Cave Type Dungeon, I can't make more grasslands or labyrinth types?" I asked curiously.

[The [Dungeon System] explains that once a Dungeon Type is used for the Floor, it cannot be used again...]

[However, they're well aware that before, they had showed the Grassland Type Dungeon as an option for the second Floor, they apologize for that mistake.]

"Alright, alright, no problem... Now, let me see what these two new ones can do." I said, inspecting all the Dungeon Type Information.

Ding!

[Showcasing Dungeon Type Information...]

lightsNovel

[Option 1: Cave Type Dungeon]: [A cave-type dungeon, resembling a section of small, connected caves. Covered on stone, where ores of all types can grow naturally. Contains underground-type monsters. Specializes on ore production and mining, can produce some rare monsters, but not that unique.]

[Option 2: Sea Type Dungeon]: [A wide mass of water, with several small islands on top, that can harbor unique plants and life that only live on tropical islands. The depths of the water harbor different species of marine monsters and have a series of small underwater ruins. It can produce all sorts of seafood as long as you place them inside, islands can harbor unique species of trees and monsters.]

[Option 3: Volcanic Type Dungeon]: [An enormous landscape filled with volcanoes in constant eruption, lava constantly flowing everywhere, making it a deadly place, where the hardiest of creatures prevail. Has the ability to produce very strong fire and stone-type monsters that dwell in lava and caves, can also produce most types of ores, and rare metals. Plants won't grow here.]

"I see, I see... Interesting options, very interesting."

I inspected all the descriptions in detail, thinking about their pros and cons... But then I considered something outside of just that. What would my friends think? What would they like or prefer?

Certainly, they would love if we could take a nice vacation in the sea without having to actually go all the way there... And I've never seen the sea closely, even if it's a small "fake sea", I want it!

"I know what I want! The Sea Type Dungeon looks like a lot of fun!"

[The [Quest System] is disappointed, they wanted the Volcanic Type Dungeon!]

[The [Dungeon System] smiles, saying "A wise choice, Dungeon Master".]

Ding!

[Your Dungeon Dimension Third Floor has become a [Sea-type Dungeon]!]

[A wide ocean has emerged within the third dungeon, filling it up with salty water to the brim! Empty islands emerge as well, connecting with their stairs to the second floor.]

[Currently, there are no monsters nor animals, or plants. It is up to you to fill it with life.]

"Nice! There's a lot of sea monsters and animals that we catch in the Fishman King's Dungeon." I smiled.

"So let's quickly use the plants and animals that appear there!"

I moved to the third floor, being greeted by a beautiful oceanic sight, like nothing I've ever seen before! It made me feel in awe. Even the nice briny wind felt amazing.

The sound of the waves was so relaxing, and the bright sunlight on top of the skies was quite amazing to get on some swimsuit and take a dip in the warm waters, which were almost completely transparent!

"Woow! This place's sure pretty!"

Chapter 888 An Ocean Inside My Dungeon!

As I glanced at the beauty of the third floor of my Dungeon, I suddenly got a notification once more, showing me the new facilities for this Floor. Every time a new Floor opens, a new Facility Shop for that specific Floor opens up.

It was thanks to them that I was able to generate Monsters in each Floor, although I still brought some from the outside to add variety, they can help set the pillars for how the Floor will develop, they're also quite expensive, but I am filthy rich in terms of EXP right now.

[Dungeon Facility Shop (Level 3)]

[Available Items: 3/3]

[Fish Monster Reef (C Grade)] [Cost]: [4000 DE]

[Tropical Paradise Island (C Grade)] [Cost]: [5000 DE]

[Coral Golems Castle (C Grade)] [Cost]: [6000 DE]

[The [Dungeon System] says that each of these Facilities will aid for the growth of diversity and riches in this special third floor of the dungeon.]

"I can tell! They all look very interesting." I nodded. "The reef to add some fish, and a whole special island that's a tropical paradise doesn't sound bad at all, nor the Coral Golems Castle!"

"They're more expensive than I thought though! The prices had increased a lot, but it makes sense, the deeper a dungeon is, the stronger the monsters are, and also the better the rewards, isn't it?" I wondered.

"More or less." Alice nodded. "These facilities also seem to be of a much larger scale, this might be your largest Dungeon Floor so far!"

"I see... Well, let's exchange some EXP so I can have enough to buy everything. I won't get stingy now that I have so much."

Ding!

[You have exchanged 11.540.000 EXP!]

[You earned 11.540 Dungeon Energy Points.]

[You exchanged 15.000 Dungeon Energy Points.]

[You purchased [Fish Monster Reef (C Grade)] [Cost]: [4000 DE]!]

[You purchased [Tropical Paradise Island (C Grade)] [Cost]: [5000 DE]!]

[You purchased [Coral Golems Castle (C Grade)] [Cost]: [6000 DE]!]

[Please choose where to place the Dungeon Facilities.]

The three facilities emerged above the skies, their size tremendous, however, they looked rather phantasmal, semi-transparent, as if they were made of light and not matter.

"Ah, they're so big, if I don't place them well I'm gonna mess up big time..." I felt slightly worried.

"Don't worry, leave the placement to the Dungeon System instead." Alice comforted me.

The small Dungeon System flew to my side and nodded happily; he seemed rather excited about doing it himself! Huh, well, if he really wants to.lightsnovel

"Alright, you can do it, be careful!"

[The [Dungeon System] has gained temporary permission for the placement of Dungeon Facilities.]

The Dungeon System quickly got to work, lifting the gigantic Dungeon Facilities across the skies of the dungeon's third floor, and gently placing them across the entire sea.

The island landed in a safe, empty area of the sea, perfect so it wouldn't overlap with the other islands around and create its own isolated environment.

The reef was placed in front of me, where the waters were the warmest and where they had the highest concentration of nutrients, so the fish would grow healthy.

And the castle was placed into the south of the oceans, above a medium-sized island, the moment it was placed, the island changed immediately, its surroundings becoming a colorful Coral Forest.

The castle itself was really beautiful as well, made completely out of colorful corals carved into a rainbow-colored stony castle, I had to visit it!

"And done!" Alice said.

Ding!

[The Dungeon Facility [Fish Monster Reef (C Grade)] has been placed successfully, three different species of Fish-type Monsters have begun spawning. Your Mana is being constantly absorbed for their creation. Their population will slowly grow as they hunt one another and expand across the rest of the Sea-type Dungeon Floor.]

[The first [Blazing Tuna (Tier 3)] has been created.]

[The first [Torpedo Shark (Tier 4)] has been created.]

[The first [Lightning Sardine (Tier 2)] has been created.]

As I saw those notifications, I decided to take a quick dip into the water, taking all my clothes off, without worrying about somebody seeing me as the only ones here were me and my System.

SPLAAASH!

As I dove underwater, I saw a majestic and fascinating sight! Dozens of beautiful fishes started spawning across the waters, the beautiful reef already covered in a few corals that came included with them, and some mollusks and non-monster animals, such as tiny fish, worms, clams, and a crabs, making up the pillars of a small ecosystem.

The red-scaled Blazing Tunas moved rapidly, boiling the water around them as a method of self-defense, the Torpedo Sharks moved at incredible speeds, catching the Tunas, and devouring them fiercely. And lastly, the Lightning Sardines moved by huge schools, resembling beautiful lights across the ocean.

"It sure is wonderful!"

I quickly stepped out of the water, walking to the island I was standing on before through the shore and glanced into the distance, quickly flying into the skies to land on a huge island filled with life.

Ding!

[The Dungeon Facility [Tropical Paradise Island (C Grade)] has been placed successfully, all kinds of animals and plants endemic to the island have been created. Tropical fruits such as pomegranate, banana, coconut, and mango have started to grow. Animals such as monkeys, wolves, boars, crabs, and sea birds have spontaneously been born. No monsters have been introduced yet.]

It was really a tropical paradise! So much life everywhere! And it was mostly safe, as they were normal animals, not stronger than Tier 1 compared to Monsters. Though, I might later introduce more. I should go to the Fishman King's Dungeon for that.

I took out a fresh mango off a tree and gave it a bite, the delicious, sweet juice entered my mouth, making me feel refreshed. It was fantastic!

"Whew, this is incredible... I could easily help Agarthia deal with food problems with this! Oh, we could even sell them off as a unique product, no?" I wondered, exploring the big island.

And lastly, I set flight using my Dragon Wings into my last stop, the Coral Golem Castle!

Chapter 889 An Ever-Growing Dungeon

Ding!

[The Dungeon Facility [Coral Golems Castle (C Grade)] has been placed successfully above an Island. The Castle's surroundings have transformed into a [Magic Coral Forest], where valuable magical coral will grow and can be mined for materials. The interior of the Castle has shaped itself completely and has now begun to slowly form its Golem Guardians! The Coral Golem Guardian King is also slowly being formed out of the castle's own materials.]

As I received that message, I finished eating my mango as I threw out whatever was left into the island's floor, entering the castle by opening its huge coral-made doors, the first thing I saw was a beautiful, crystal-like interior, reflecting the light of the sun outside.

It looked like I had entered into a beautiful world of rainbows, it was almost mystical and majestic. This place would surely be loved by many, I could even make it my home.

"Oh, these must be the golems!" Alice said, quickly pointing at the other side of the corridor. "Come! It's in here!"

"Huh?" I quickly followed her while leaving a bit of water on each of my footsteps because I was still quite wet from taking a dip underwater.

And then, we reached a long corridor, where we could see strange, humanoid-like golems slowly being formed out of the walls. They looked like huge sets of colorful coral-made armor, unlike the Coral Golems of the Fishman King Dungeon.

"So here they are..." I said. "How long until they are created? They seem much more complex than the other monsters."

[The [Dungeon System] explains that because these Golems are very powerful, and this castle produces them constantly to protect it, they're part of the castle itself. After a few weeks, they might be born. Not only they need plenty of Mana, which you can supply easily, but the formation of tough coral takes time.]

"I-I see..." I nodded, suddenly taking out Sapphire. "Summon Golem."

I summoned the [Ice Golem Guardian] from Sapphire, who was formerly a Coral Golem that could summon a single huge coral golem.

"GRUOOH!"

The Ice Golem emerged instantly, exuding the power of a strong Tier 6 Monster. It was not bad at all, and now that the Skill Level was fairly High, I could summon two more!

"Comparing this guy with those, its clear this castle's golems are much larger though." I nodded, examining, and comparing golems. "Though, your kids are pretty strong too, Sapphire. I wonder if they could evolve again as you do?"

"I am surprised they didn't become something like Dark Golems or other things after you helped me evolve through all of that darkness I ended absorbing in a forced upgrade." Sapphire wondered. "Well, once I evolve for real with your help, maybe they'll get a new upgrade. Though a few of my skills have already evolved. Also, is it necessary to call them my kids, Master? They're just golems you'll dispose of eventually!"

"Hahaha, well, but it's kind of like you give birth to them, no?" I laughed. "But yeah, you're right, my bad~"

"That only makes it weirder!" Sapphire complained.

"What's so wrong with what she said, you grumpy shield?!" Scarlet started barking back at Sapphire. "Was getting all the spotlight you got in that huge fight made you get cocky or something? Don't get ahead of yourself!"

"Shut up Scarlet, you don't have the right to complain, also I'm sure you're just jealous." Sapphire laughed.

"What did you said?! I am not jealous, you stupid shield! You kept breaking so much that Master had to use all her upgrade stones on your useless ass!" Scarlet barked.

Sword and shield started floating in midair, clashing against one another while insulting each other. Their rivalry was quite something!

"Hey, please stop it already..." I facepalmed. "Both of you are getting swallowed by Glutton as punishment! Reflect about this inside his belly!"

"GRAAAWR! BAARF!"

Glutton happily munched both living weapons as he swallowed them whole, and then he went back into my Soul Scape.

"That'll teach them a good lesson about fighting between allies." I nodded, crossing my arms. "Anyways! I need a bath now, a warm one, today we could take a break and relax by checking on the Fishman King's Dungeon and get a bunch of new stuff for this dungeon floor! Oh, we could also check the Emerald Forest and introduce the trees over there on the first floor too!"

"That sounds like an excellent idea!" Alice nodded. "Let's go on a relaxing adventure to unwind a bit!"

Like that, I stepped outside of my Dungeon while looking at its Stats.

Ding!

[Your Dungeon EXP has increased by +15000 for placing three C Rank Facilities.]

[The many Facilities in your Dungeon are increasing the amount of Dungeon Energy produced naturally!]

[You gained +32 Dungeon Energy.]

[You gained +16 Dungeon Energy.]

[You gained +7 Dungeon Energy.]

lightsnovel [Available Dungeon Floors]:

Level 1: [Floor 1]: [Grassland-type Dungeon Floor]

Level 2: [Floor 2]: [Labyrinth-type Dungeon Floor]

Level 3: [Floor 3]: [Sea-type Dungeon Floor]

Oh, this is nicer than I thought! Thanks to the facilities, I got a lot of additional EXP! And also my Dungeon Energy is regenerating even quicker. Aside from purchasing things, this Dungeon Energy can be used to upgrade Facilities into higher Ranks, expand a Dungeon Floor's size, and add new types of monsters and plants.

"Looks good, let's wake up Aquarina now..." I stealthily jumped over her while she was sleeping in bed.

"Uwaaaah?! Sylphy?"

"Good morning sunshine! Let's go take a bath! It's a brand-new day outside!"

Chapter 890 Inviting Everyone Inside The Dungeon

After taking a bath with Aquarina, where her sleepiness was quickly replaced with her energetic, slightly horny morning self, we went down to have breakfast, where I called my friends to enjoy a meal with me and my family.

In there, we had a rather big talk with my family, explaining a bit about my powers to them, and also about the Dungeon, as everyone already kind of knew I could summon monsters out of it, and well, my friends had visited it themselves.

My parents already heard about it from my friends and had already kind of assumed I made it using my "unique abilities" that gave life to my weapons, so they took it surprisingly easy.

"Well, you've already given life to a sword, a shield, and even that dimensional bag, making a dungeon out of that dimensional crystal and your unique powers is not that far-fetched, but it's certainly a first." My mother sighed. "Your powers have advanced to incredible levels already; you have the potential to surpass the ancient Dimensional Archwizard that modified those Dungeons so we could use them safely back in the Human Continent."

"Oh, that guy!" My father laughed. "Well, at this point, acting surprised about the feats she performs would be annoying, we also had two weeks to think about that, and talk too, so we kind of already assumed you could do this once things calmed down. Quite honestly, I'm just happy you're alright, my little princess."

"Big sis! Big sis! Can we enter your dungeon?! I wanna see it!" Zephy was sitting over my thighs while jumping all the time adorably.

"Hehehe, okay~ If my adorable little brother insist, I can't say no." I giggled. "Do you want to check it, mom, dad?"

"Sure. Let's go." My dad seemed excited. "So how do we get there? Is there some sort of-"

"[Dungeon Gate]!" I opened a dimensional portal to the dungeon. "Come on! Through here!"

"T-This is amazing, she can conjure a Dimensional Portal with such ease..." My mother was amazed. "This girl... seriously, she's too incredible, what did we do to deserve such a genius?"

"At this point let's just go with the flow, hahaha!" My father laughed. "Questioning things too much will only make things more complicated, let's be happy our daughter can do these things... It means that this world has a bright future."

"Indeed..." My mother nodded with a smile, as everyone stepped into the Dungeon's first floor, a beautiful grassland and a huge forest at the distance greeted everyone's eyes.

"This is a dungeon?!" My father was shocked.

"I-It doesn't look at all like one..." Zephyr muttered.

"A World-type Dungeon?!" My Mother gasped, covering her mouth.

"World-type Dungeon?" Aquarina wondered curiously.

"I-It is the rarest of Dungeons, and the most dangerous out there. They're special Dungeons that modify the terrain and can create pocket worlds in each floor. The Dungeon that Arachne controlled was a pseudo-World-type Dungeon, only a few areas were modified like that, and only partially but... this is... a true World-type Dungeon." My mother said. "T-This is... Incredible, it feels like a completely different world altogether."

"From the air to the warmth of the sun, the clouds, the grass, the wind..." My father started laughing. "And that's without saying that it is completely isolated from the outside world, on its own pocket dimension!"

"Amazing, Sylphy, you can do such a thing..." My mother sighed, giving me a smile that seemed to tell me that she had already given up on questioning things. "Are you a goddess or something? Hahaha..."

"T-That's a bit of a stretch..." I muttered. "But anyways! Let's explore a bit more! You'll see how it is!"

I quickly led my friends and family across the Dungeon. We explored the Forest of Beasts, and then we went to see the Fountain, which constantly produced an endless quantity of water that flowed slowly, creating rivers across the grasslands.

A lake was already being formed from the rivers constantly pouring water into a certain low-height area of the grasslands, which might bring some new types of monsters in the future.

I also showed them my little farm, with the trees and plants I had been raising here, they had multiplied quite a lot as the seeds that fell off the fruits kept spreading further away thanks to the rabbits eating them and pooping the seeds farther.

"Mana Fruits, Spiritual Leaves, those Wisdom Apples or whatever they are called, these potatoes and the radishes too! And what is this beautiful tree?! I-it emanates such a brilliant spiritual energy... Don't tell me, Yggdrasil?!" My mother gasped.

"Nah, it's not that legendary tree that the Fairy Country protects." I laughed. "It is a mutated emerald tree from the emerald forest."

"I-I see." My mother slowly calmed down.

I couldn't tell her that it was actually an item created by the system... So I made up a little, yet believable lie. I hope she can forgive me.

We moved on to the second floor after a lot of exploration, the second floor was much more normal in comparison, as it reminded everyone of what a normal dungeon usually looked like.

"And this is the Labyrinth-type Floor, Spiders and Slimes dominate this area, and there's a few traps... Don't worry they don't work as long as I don't allow it." I smiled. "I may eventually let monsters enter my dungeon, so they fall into the traps. When my monsters or the dungeon kills monsters from the outside, the Dungeon grows slightly stronger."

"I see, so fascinating." My mother was already beginning to write things down in a book of hers. "This is the first time we have the opportunity to inspect the inner workings of a dungeon up to such an intricate and detailed way! I'm so proud my daughter's a Dungeon Master! Please, dear, tell me anything you know about the dungeon."

My mother was beginning to awaken her inner researcher heart, she used to be a researcher and alchemist in the Magician Tower after all, before being chosen as a Saint and joining my dad and the rest of the heroes.

"Hahaha, sure mom."
