TREVER: "Thanks for the update." "Not a problem, are you having fun being with your mate? And are you being have?" "Yes to both, big brother." "Good, I sent word home, to hopefully get more information on that war over 100 years ago, to see if we have anything that might help." "Ok." I close the link.

DRAKE: After I have finished breakfast I head back to my office, I see that I have had several faxes sent to me. After checking their content, I see that all of it pertains to Stone Claw and the war that was fought over 100 years ago. I link my Beta, Mitch, and James, to come to my office before I start the meetings with the other alphas. I only have to wait 5 minutes, and a knock come at my door. "Come." I call out. My door opens, and in come all three of them. "You wanted to see us alpha?" "I need the three of you to go through theses please, we need to find any pertinent information, quickly, see if there is anything on the communication marking, how long, or how far, or anything that the allied packs did that helped them win that war so long ago." I say to them and hand each of them a set of papers and a highlighter. We all got to work going over the information that was in those documents. I send a text to Alpha Craig, (Please come to my office ASAP.) I send him. It's another 5 minutes and there comes a knock on my door. "Come." I call out. Alpha Craig comes in. "What can I do for you Drake?" He asked. "I was thinking about what we talked about last night, and I was thinking that if you want you can leave before the dance tomorrow night or leave first thing Thursday morning." I tell him. "I will ask my people what they want, and let you know." He says. I nod. "What's going on here" he asked seeing the guys and the paperwork. When I came in this morning I found all these faxes and I have them combing through them for anything pertinent to us before I call the first meeting so that I can give a thorough update." I tell him. He nods. And then leaves my office. James comes up with the distance of the link, it will go out as far as 300 miles, but no more. Gregg finds that the mark will last for a month if it is not renewed. Mitch finds the tactics used by the allied packs from back then and he says he can work with it to make up with our own plan of attack if it should come down to it. "Good work, and thank you." I say to them. They nod and I get the first meeting under way.

KESKA: After I clean up from breakfast I sit down with the laptop and get to my project of reconfiguring the cabin, in order to make it more user friendly Jand bring it up to date as well. But I can only get so far, and I run into problems again, Mackie is going to hate me before this thing gets done right. I miss being able to run the obstacle course at Nana's. [Corla, do you think we can make one of our own out here?] [I don't see why not. All we have to do is go explore and find natural obstacles, like downed trees, and let's see if there are any other water sources around, up in this area.] I nod my head and head out to go do just that. I put Corla's senses to work sniffing out any water that might be within a mile of the cabin. We find one, but it is closer to the boarder than I would like, but it's there. I follow it back from where we find it to the path it takes through the woods to where it ends, only it goes beyond where I want to go, but there is a small shallow pool that it passes through, and there are several downed trees and exposed roots, so we can actually plot a course through it all and be able to keep up with our training in that sense. So, I run our course both backwards and forwards to get to know the lay of it, and know it's ins and outs. I also take my bow with me and shoot as I go, I will have to come back through to collect my arrows, and also make targets on the trees that I shot at, but it is good practice to shoot on the move. And that gives me an idea. I link Mackie. "Are you busy?" "Not at the moment, but I will be soon, I am up to throw shortly, so what's up?" "When I get back, we are going to have to work more on our shooting on the course, it will help us be better at trying to hit moving targets." I tell her. "Got it. I will let Nana in on the plan so she can be ready for it." "Thanks, and good luck." I tell her. "Thank you." I close the link.

LIAM: The first two people up to throw are new to me, both omegas from different packs. Gem from Dark Forest, and Larry from Black Waters. Usually with 501 you have to hit the bullseye, or a double to start, that's the way our board is set up as well, but we have it where you don't have to end with a bullseye or a double, it just makes it easier for the players. I make that announcement to each set of players as they take their places to throw. Gem advances. Round two Steve from Wolf Lake and John from Black Waters, I learned after they throw that John is Dedi's mate. John takes that win. Next is Jessie and Mike from Harvest Moon. Jessie takes the win. Then it's Connie from Ranier Lake and Mackie, Mackie takes that win easily. We get through half of the list by lunch, it's actually going quicker than I thought it would, but I can see that it's going to get real interesting after lunch, because Jessie and Mackie are going to be throwing against each other, I hope Mackie smokes her. But we will have to wait and see what happens.

MACKIE: I wait around and watch as the others throw, and I am they get through all the first rounds. I know I can beat her; the question is do I, I don't want her to cause a scene and through a tantrum, I link Dutch.

keeping track in my head as each pair throws, and I know I am going up against Jessie after "Please meet me in the garden." "Of course, love." I close the link, and head into the garden, Dutch and Trever come in shortly after I do. "What's up babe?" Dutch asked "I will be throwing against Jessie, I know I can beat her, and no that is not being cocky, but do I, I don't want her to cause a scene." I say to them. "Screw jessie, play to win." Dutch says, "Besides I want a rematch." "Ha, ha," I chuckle at him "You can have a rematch when ever you want one, sweets, I will still smoke you." I tell him. And I see his face light up. "You just call me sweets. Did you realize that?" "No." "Dose that mean you will let me win?" "No." "Ok, you two, but seriously Mackie, Dutch is right, play to win, if Jessie can't handle losing that's on her not on you to let her win to keep the peace." Trever says. "exactly.") Dutch throws in. "Ok." I say and we head back in, and I head to the kitchen to help with lunch prep. Goddess Tomorrow can't come soon enough, to get Jessie out of here.

ALPHA CRAIG: I call a quick Pack meeting of everyone that I brought here, and their new mates. "I am going to make this quick, as I know some of you have probably joined the darts tournament, I also know that some of you know that we have been dealing with a possible conflict. It's not a possible, it's a definite, my question to you all is do you want to stay for the dance tomorrow or leave after lunch today?" I put the question to them. There were a few questions, but most wanted to stay for the dance and leave the morning after. So, I made sure that everyone from my Pack was on the same page as far as that was concerned. I sent a text to Alpha Drake. (I have spoken to my Pack members, and members to be, they wish to stay for the dance tomorrow, and we will leave Thursday after breakfast.) (Understood.) He sent back.

DRAKE: I got through the meetings rather quickly, considering that we had some of the answers from the different documents that were sent from the different Pack's resources. I also reiterated to them to reach out to the smaller packs in their area to make sure that they were aware of what was happening and what to expect. Some of them also offered up a couple of volunteers to be marked so that their packs could stay in the loop with us, as it were, which is also a big help, that way we are only asking for volunteers from just a few others. I also tell Frank to let Burning Ember Pack in on what we found so they could be on the same page as well. We all break for lunch.

JAMES. I am looking around the marquee for Jessie, but I don't see her, so I link her. "Hey just wondering where you're at?" "In the game room watching the matches. Why?" "Because when we shift tonight, I am going in the direction of the lake, not north." "Don't want anyone getting to close to your love shack big brother?" "No! I don't, including you, so the lake got it?" "Yes big brother got it." I close the link. And go in search of my mate. "Here you are." I find her towards the back watching the dart tournament. "Yep, here I am, did you need something love?" "I was just curious if you were going to join the run tonight?" "I can, if you want me to." "I would love to have you join us; we will be headed in the direction of the lake." I tell her. "Jessie has already given me shit about not wanting anyone close to our "love shack" I use air quotes around Love Shack. Janica just laughs.

LIAM: Once lunch is over I send out text to our next set of players. I have Lissa check them in when they get to the score table. I have her check ID's and signatures, just so that we make sure that the person signing in is the same person that signed up, don't want anyone calling foul. We have John from High Crest Pack and Mike from Dark Moon Pack. John takes the win. Up next is Trever from Golden Sun, and Lisa from Black Crescent. Trever Takes the win. Next up is Lance from Cold Moon, and Steve from Moon Rise. Steve wins that one. Next is Dutch from Golden Sun, and Mary from Mid-Night Sky. Dutch wins hands down. Then our last match of the first round, is Monica from Wolf Lake, and Jim from Ranier Lake. Monica takes the win. And as I said this round is going to be the test of if Jessie can keep her shit together, because I know that Mackie can beat her. I just hope that she doesn't let Jessie win just keep the peace, Jessie need to be put in her place. I make the announcement that we are starting round

2 of the dart tournament. Up first is Gem, Dark Forest, vs. John Black Waters. Gem wins, next is Jessie and Mackie. I know this is going to be abattel. But Mackie wins. YES!! I can see that Jessie is pissed; I am about to link Dad but she shakes Mackie's hand and walks over to her friends. Then it's Marla's mate Rich from Harvest Moon to take on John from High Crest. Rich wins. Trever is up next going against Steve from Moon Rise. Trever wins, and last up is Dutch against Monica, Dutch wins. We will have this thing done before dinner, which is a good thing because James and Jessie will be shifting at midnight, I am going to be in my bed, asleep, hopefully anyways, I will let that go for the 18+ in the pack, I just want Jessie's mate to be here so that she can go with him/her whoever it might end up being, so she can leave, I want Kes back. I announce the next round for the tournament. It's Gem against Mackie for the first round, Mackie wins. Then it's Rick and Trever, we lose Trever on this one, and Dutch has to wait to see who wins between Mackie and Rick before he can throw again. Well, it comes down to Mackie and Dutch. And Mackie takes it all. Yes! I link Dad "We need the dart money, Mackie won." "Come up to the office and I will get it out." I close the link. "Dad says to head up to the office and he will get your money." I tell her. She nods.

DRAKE: "Excuse me gentlemen I have winnings to dole out." I say to the Alphas that are in the last meeting. They wanted to know, "Who won the darts?" "One of our own, Second born Gamma Mackinzie Dawson." I tell them. "Congrats." They tell me as I head to my office from the conference room. I open the door and leave it open so that Mackie, Liam, and alpha apparent Apollo from Dark Forest Pack can enter to witness the money exchange go to the winner of the dart tournament. "Was there any issues?" "Nope not a one." Liam says as Mackie counts the money. "Thank You Alpha." She says. I just nod and they leave my office, I notice it's about an hour or two before dinner, so it's a good time to wrap things up in the meeting as well. I head back to the conference room. "Is there any other questions?" I ask them. They all look around the room, as do I, all of them seem to be shaking their heads no. "Well then I do believe we are done, everyone has all the information, and we can go from there, once you all return to your packs and make your decision on who will make the best choice for the marking, we will be able to coordinate things as they progress with Stone Claw." I say and close out the meet with, "There will be a pack run at midnight, After James and Jessie shift for the first time." I tell them, "I will be making the same announcement at dinner so everyone will know and be on the same page. Until then go enjoy, relax, and have some fun." I say.

JESSIE: After the dart tournament was over I go make an announcement of my own. Walking out to the marquee and over to the mic. "The pool is open for anyone who wants to go swimming." I say and then go to my room to grab my suit and change in my room and then head back down to the pool. Several others are already there enjoying the warm water from the sun beating down on it. When I get there, I make the suggestion of having a water volleyball game. Most were open to it, and we got the teams picked. I watched as Dutch Trever and Mackie were all together. If Kes was Trever's mate he wasn't showing any signs of it. But Dutch on the other hand couldn't seem to leave Mackie alone, so that explains a lot, if Dutch is Mackie's, then with both pairs being best friends, they would all hang out together,

Chapter 183

JESSIE: Oops my bad, oh well. But I still wonder who his mate is, I know they said he found her, and she is underage, but who is she, is the question, not that it's any of my business, but curiosity and all. We stayed in the pool until it was time to get ready for dinner, everyone got out and went to their rooms to change and get cleaned up, and came back down to the evening meal.

LIAM: I link Kes. "Mackie won the darts tournament." "Good I'm glad, how was Jessie?" "Oh, she was pissed, but she didn't make a scene." "That's good, maybe she is learning after all." "I doubt it, but I just hope that after tonight she will be gone, and you can come back. Oh, and by the way, I am still going to insist on the blood oath, just so that you don't get to comfortable and think I fore got about it." "Liam, we have discussed this when you are 18." "Nope, when you come back, I don't care, and I'm not going to stop bugging you about it." "Are you going to stay up for the run tonight?" She asked changing the subject on me. I knew what she did and that's ok. "No. I'm going to leave that for the 18+ I am going to be in my bed hopefully fast asleep." "Have you done any practicing with the bow at all?" "No to that as well, I've been running the tournaments, and I even recruited Lissa to help with them, but I had to tell her a secret to get her to fully commit." "And what secret did you tell her?" "That Trever was your mate, and that Dutch was Mackie's mate. She will keep her mouth shut, so Jessie doesn't find out." "LIAM." "Ha ha ha." I laugh at her and close the link.

MACKIE: I head to the kitchen to help with dinner prep, after one game of the volleyball. The guys get out of the pool with me, and we all head to our perspective rooms to get cleaned up. I start to set out the warming plates and the cold containers in the marquee. I then go talk to Sarah. "After dinner is done tonight I will take the leftovers over to the orphanage." "Alright dear." "Thanks Sarah." "Welcome." I then continue to help with dinner prep, until it's time to serve, then I head into the marquee to check and make sure all the hot plates and warming dishes are in the right place. I duck back into the kitchen. "Sarah do you need me to help serve?" I asked her. "No dear, go out and eat with everyone else, we got the kitchen under control." She tell me. So, I head out to go find Dutch and Trever. “Hey guys, are you going to join the run tonight?” I ask them. “Nope, Barrett and Trent will be joining it, so Dutch and won’t have to, so we will head to the cabin when they make the announcement after dinner that everyone should take a rest as the run will happen at midnight.” Trever says. “After dinner tonight I am going to take the leftovers to the orphanage, so you can either come with or please wait for me.” “Of course we will come with you, love I’m not letting you go by yourself.” Dutch says to me. I just smile at him, and we all go get in line for the dinner service.

DRAKE: I watched the marquee fill with our guest and once most of them were settled after getting their dinner I go up to the mic. “excuse me, your attention please. There will be a pack run after midnight tonight, as that will be when James and Jessie will have their first shift, and will mark their 18th birthday, you all are welcome to join in the run, we will be headed down towards the lake for tonight’s run. Feel free to take a rest after dinner to be prepared for the run. Thank you.” I turn the mic off and return to my table.

Chapter 184

MACKIE: After dinner, I help collect the dishes and get them into the kitchen, both Dutch and Trever help. I gather the leftovers that Sarah has set aside for me to take to the orphanage, and head out. Both Dutch and Trever accompany me. Halfway there I hear my name being called. I look around and I see Seth standing in the shadows of a building. “What do you want Seth, and you might as well step out of the shadows.” I say. And hear a low growl coming from Dutch. I put my hand on his arm to calm him. “Do you know where Kes is? She’s not answering my calls.” “Maybe because you got a new number and never gave it to her, and we got new phones for her birthday, so she got a new number. Might have something to do with it.” I say to him. “She’s blocking me, too.” “No, it’s because she got sent to Burning Ember Pack, thanks to Jessie, so she isn’t even on Pack territory right now.” “When will she be back? I really need to talk to her.” “Why? Are you missing the alpha connection? You should have thought of that when you left us stranded that night at the dojo, because you were too busy screwing Jessie, or when you got Betsy bullied by Jessie in the first place, or when you decided it was cool to spray gravel at me, and where were you when she got stabbed? You never came to the Pack house to see her. These were your choices Seth no one’s but yours.

She had considered you a friend, but you back stabbed her and let her down, now you think you deserve another chance? How many do you think you should get?" I asked him as I crossed my arms in front of me. "I'm sorry, I really am, I just want to talk to her, I miss my friend, I miss her." "I will tell her that when I talk to her tonight. But I am not going to promise you anything." "When you talk to her tonight?" "Yes Seth, I call her at least twice a day, so I will be calling her tonight." "Ok. Thanks." He sounded so dejected, with his hands in his pockets and his head low as he walks away. "Who was that?" Dutch asked me. "I was about ready to tear him apart." "You and me both buddy." Trevor said. "Just someone we thought was our friend, until he decided that screwing Jessie was more important than his friends." I tell them. "Let's go, we have food to deliver." I say. And we continue to the orphanage.

LIAM: I miss Kes. I know she's at the cabin, and I want to go so bad. I am going to go ask dad if I can go tonight, since everyone will be going toward the Lake no one will be the wiser if I went to the cabin. I link him. "Dad, can I go to the cabin tonight please?" "Don't you want to see your brother and sister shift?" "Yes, but I can't go on the run, so I want to go to the cabin, no one is going to miss me at the end of the run, all their attention will be on James and Jessie to even notice that I'm not there, I can say that I'm going back to bed, and let others pass it on." "Fine, but don't get caught." "I will do my very best." I close the link. I then open one to Mackie. "I just want to let you know that dad said that I can come to the cabin tonight, after James and Jessie shift, I will leave when the run starts." "I will tell the guys, but you need to tell Kes, because I'm not going to get scolded because of you, you little twit." "Hey, I'm not a twit, Jessie is but I'm not." She just chuckles at me through the link. "Just tell Kes." And she closes the link on me. I scowl at her, even though she's not here to see it. I then open a link to Kes. "Hey, I asked dad to come stay with you for the night." "Liam." "What? I miss you, and I don't like the fact that you

LIAM: have to be there and not here, why dose Jessie get to always have her way with everything? "Because she's Jessie, and they let her get away with everything already, so it's a bit late to try and change it now." "Yeah, well I'm still coming tonight, so be ready for me, and don't try to kill me when I come in." "I won't try to kill you, you little rascal." "Ah but you love me." "Yes I do love you, but sometimes I could shake you.” “Oh well.” “Bye LIAM!” and she closed the link on me too. I scowl at her too, even though she can’t see it.

MACKIE: When we get back from the orphanage I go check in with Sarah. “Is everything done?” “Yes dear, go rest before the shift and run tonight” She tells me. I just nod at her. “Ok guys, what do you want to do, we have time before the shift happens at midnight, I know you said that you didn’t care about the run, but what about the shift?” I then open a link to Dutch “Open a link to Trever, I need to tell you both this.” “Ok, we are open, what’s up?” “Liam weaseled his way into coming to the cabin tonight, I told him he had to tell Kes, because I wasn’t going to get scolded by her for letting him come.” They both just smile and shake their heads. “I suppose we should wait till the shift happens, and then leave when the run starts.” “Agreed.” I nod my head and lead them up to their suit. Dutch pulls me in and closes the door. We set an alarm to go off at 11:30 so that we can be up and ready when the time comes for everybody to be downstairs. I open a link to Kes. “Just wanted you to have a heads up, Seth is being a whiney baby, he says he misses you, and wants his friend back. Have you been blocking him?” “No, at least not that I have felt, any links that have come through I have opened, just one more lie from him, because of everything he got caught up in the whole Jessie rejection issue? I don’t know, and we can’t just go accusing him of lying about trying to link me.” “Well just wanted you to have a heads up on that issue.” Thanks.” “We will be heading out after the shift happens.” “Make sure to bring Liam so he doesn’t get caught. The little shyster.” I laugh as I close the link, and go lay down next to Dutch.

JAMES: Like everyone else I head upstairs shortly after dinner, as I want to conserve as much energy as possible before we shift tonight. I grab Janica and head up to my room, making sure that Jessie see us going up. I don’t bother setting an alarm because I’m sure that my wolf will wake me when the time comes. Striping down I crawl into bed and pull Janica in with me. “As much as I want to ravish you, I want to conserve energy for the shift tonight.” “I understand, and it good that you do, because the first shift hurt like a bitch.” She tell me. I just nod and snuggle her in and fall asleep. It’s about 5 minutes to midnight when I hear a voice in my head. [Hey James, get up!] I come to shaking my head “What?” I actually say out loud. [Get up and get us outside now.] [Ok, ok I’m going, I’m going.] I shake Janica awake and then get up and just through on a pair of jogging shorts. [What’s your name?] I asked him. [Steel.] [Nice to meet you.] I head out and downstairs I hear others moving about as well and Jessie comes out shortly after me, followed by the rest of the family, except Kes, I feel bad that she isn’t here, but I know that after Jessie leaves, she and I will run together. [Yes, miss little sister, but it is better this way.] All of a sudden I fall to the ground I hear the snapping of bones both mine and Jessies. This is excruciating, Janica comes close and rubs circles on my back, to help ease some of the pain. I can feel the bones rearrange themselves and knit back together, but it is finally over, I am standing on four paws, I shake out my fur. I look in the direction of Jessie and see a large grey wolf with four white paws and black on the tips of her ears. I nuzzle her and she return it, I let out a loud howl and head off in the direction of the lake. Those that chose to do the run join in and off we go. We are on the run for about an hour and we head back. Once we get back I see some of the others that didn't join the run gathered to congratulate us. Before I could shift back we hear a loud growl and a big chocolate brown wolf with brown eyes, comes over and starts to rub his body all over Jessie's wolf Tavia, I learned her wolf's name from Steel.

JESSIE: I hit the ground, it hurt so bad, but I knew my mate was somewhere close, I could smell him. He smelled like all the warm spices that you would put in a pumpkin pie, or an apple pie, it made my mouth water, but I didn't know where he was, I just knew he was close. After what seemed to be hours, but it was only minutes I was standing on four paws I look down and see that I have white paws, I look at James and I see a big grey almost blueish wolf, he isn't quite as big as daddy's wolf but close, but I have never seen a wolf the color he is. Then we go for our run. We get back and I could see my mate, he smell so yummy, and he is headed right for me.

APOLLO: I have been fighting to control my wolf Allas since we got here, he has wanted to claim his mate since we drove onto the property, I knew she wasn't 18 yet as this party and ball were in honor of her and her brother, I wanted her to be able to feel the bond before I made my presents known, but Atlas wasn't having any of it anymore, and he wasn't going to wait any longer, when they came back from their run, he literally took control and shifted us to claim his mate, and he wasn't going to wait any longer. He marked her and I couldn't stop him, and then he showed his member to everyone present making sure that they all knew that he was going to mount her right then and there, and he did. [Atlas we have to wait to knot her.] I tell him. [Mine! I will If I wish.] [Do you really want to do that with everyone watching you?] I asked him [Fine I will wait to knot her, but make no mistake, I will be the one to knot her first, not you!] I just shake my head at his antics, crazy wolf. He pumps into her several times, till she whimpers at him, and to show his dominance to her and all present, that she is his, and then nips her jaw and the scruff of her neck as he dismounts her.

DRAKE: I am in shock as I watch as a big chocolate brown wolf walks up to Jessie's wolf and marks her right in front of us, he rubs his body all over her. Then without warning he mounts her, making sure that everyone present can see him sliding into her to mate her right there on the spot. He dominates her, like she is an omega instead of the alpha born she is. Wow, ouch. But he is her mate, than that is something they will have to deal with between themselves. It all happened so fast that I really couldn't get anybody to leave. I can see that some of them were enjoying the show as it were so to speak, the ones that knew Jessie for who she really was, were almost laughing. I tried to clear everyone and tried to get them to goback to their rooms, but no one was leaving until he dismounted her. And when he did, he herded her towards his place of residence while he was here.

TREVER: I hate seeing her with tears in her eyes like that. I just want to rip the pack to shreds, for letting Jessie get away with everything they have. I am almost tempted to take her now and head home with her. Her father be damned. But maybe things will get better after the dance tonight and Jessie leaves with whoever her mate might be.

KESKA: Trever and Dutch leave the cabin naked again, I think he does that just to see me blush, jerk, but an adorable jerk. I check my phone to see what time it is and figure I would send birthday greetings to James before he gets up, lazy bum. (Happy 18th big brother, hope you had a good run last night. You will have to let me know if Jessie found her mate.) I send the text and then refresh the laptop and see how the cabin plans looked after Mackie did her thing and got me unstuck. I really do hope that Jessie found her mate, I am looking forward to getting to work in the restaurant for the rest of the summer and getting back to my normal.

MACKIE: I am really starting to hate all this back-and-forth crap. Although I do like the scenery, I can't deny that. Being in Dutch's arms all night, and waking up with him, again nice. I just wish Jessie would hurry up and leave already. I want my friend back so we can just get on with our lives. The guys stop before they break the tree line and shift back, get dressed and we head into the Pack house, they go up to change, and I head into the kitchen. The energy is high. I overhear some of the omegas talking, seems Jessie's mate claimed her after all, and in a very umm yeah, ah no thank you way. I guess I'm glad I wasn't here to see that. Wait till Kes hears she is going to end up in a laughing fit equal to Liam's. I jump in and start helping with the breakfast clean up.

BARRETT: Trever and Dutch are going to absolutely laugh their asses off when they hear what happened last night, plus that also means that Jessie will be leaving soon, and Kes will be able to come back. And we will have to discuss what we are going to do as well, I know that I will have to return and so will Trent, but Trever might be able to stay, it will be up to mom and dad, as to whether he will get to stay or not. I still have to let them know that we all have found our mates, and they will be coming back with us, well except for Kes and Mackie, We will also have to discuss the issue of a possible/probable war with Stone Claw, and what that means, and what that might look like as well. I also need to get them up to speed on what was found in the different documents that the different packs sent. I know Trever isn't going to be thrilled but he will just have to deal with what was found. I spot both Trever and Dutch as they enter the marquee, and wave them over. "You missed a show little brother." I tell him. "What happened?" "Jessie's mate claimed her, and I mean claimed her, he marked her right on the spot after the run and then mounted and mated her right there in front of everyone.” “What? That’s insane.” “Be that as it may that is what happened, and everybody that saw it, were almost laughing.” “Good, probably everyone that knows Jessie’s true colors. I would have liked to have seen it though, but oh well, I enjoyed my time with my mate. Did anyone think to record it? I bet Kes would get a laugh out of it.” “I don’t know, none of us did, you’d have to ask around.” I tell him.

JESSIE: I am a bit mortified after what happened last night after the run, I don’t think I can face the pack after that. But what happened after we got back to his suite was amazing. I am glad that I didn’t wait though, or I wouldn’t be able to walk this morning if I would have. “I know that there is a dance tonight, but we have a bit of a distance to travel to get back to the Pack, and with all this talk of war, we need to get back and get you inducted as Luna as soon as possible, I know you want to stay but we can’t.” “What about my things?” “I will make arrangements with your father to get them shipped. What kind of vehicle do you have?” “I have several, an SUV, a sports car, off road truck.” “Pack what you can and load the truck and the SUV, the sports car won’t do you much good in our Pack, so you can leave it for your siblings, or have them sell it, whatever works better for you. But right now, you need to go and get cleaned up and pack what you can. I will meet you in the marquee for breakfast.” “Ok.” Somehow I have a feeling that I don’t dare argue with him. I get up, put on one of his shirts and head towards my room.

APOLLO: I know I may have come off as a bit harsh, but I can’t afford a spoiled brat for a Luna, and I get the feeling that, that is exactly what I got. She will learn quick enough that in our pack, we have to fight to survive, we are constantly battling rogues, so she will have to train every day as well, which I have a feeling again is something that she is not used to, but she will learn. We aren’t a real small pack, about 800 pack members, but do to our location, we are susceptible to rogue attacks. I did like seeing her in my shirt though, and I didn’t go easy on her last night either. At least she can handle that aspect of me. I grin thinking of last night. : I start to get my things together and start to repack my clothes to get ready for the trip home. One more thing that I am grateful for is the fact that we don't have to travel to another pack for her to get her belongings.

JESSIE: It sucks that we won't be staying for the dance, I just hope that I'm not going to some small hick pack. I link mom. "Mom I need some boxes, I have to pack some of my things because Apollo says we can't stay for the dance tonight, that we have to leave after breakfast." "I will get some of the omegas to get some for you dear, but is he sure that you can't stay?" "That is what he said, and I am not going to argue with him after what he did last night." "That is Jvery wise of you." I close the link and start to pack my suitcases with my clothes and personal items. I soon hear a knock on my bedroom door. "Come." I call out there are 3 omegas that come in carrying a couple boxes each. I point to my bed "Put them down there." I then grab one and start to pack some of my pictures and more of my clothes in them. I leave the nick knacks; I have a feeling that where I'm going they don't think to highly on such things. I link Marla and Dedi. "Hey, just wanted to wish both of you the best of luck, I won't be able to be here for the dance tonight, Apollo says we have a long drive ahead of us and with the possibility of a pending war he wants to get home and get me settled and inducted as Luna as soon as possible." "That sucks that we won't be able to have our last hurrah together." "I know, but at least you won't have to put up with Kes being there to stick her nose into things." "True that, but it just won't be the same without you either." "Well, you will just have to party for me, but I have to get back to packing, I will call you both later." I close the link and finish packing up my clothes and personal effects. Once I'm done I head into the shower and get cleaned up including washing my hair. I come out and dress in an old concert tee shirt and a pair of leggings, braid my hair and go down for breakfast.

Chapter 186

JANICA: "Well that was interesting." I say to James after he shifted back, and we headed back upstairs. "Yeah it was, but I wasn't going to get involved, especially if he is her mate. I just hope she can handle being dominated, instead of dominating, like she usually dose. I got a feeling that he isn't going to take too much of her bullshit." "It will serve her right, payback and all." "But unfortunately, she won't see it that way, because she still doesn't think she's done anything wrong." "Well either way, that will be something that will get talked about for a long time to come." I say as I just nod my head. And head into James's room with him.

LEXI: "Wow what a way to introduce yourself to your mate." I say to Wyatt. He just shakes his head. "That wasn't an introduction, that! was a show of dominance, and Jessie better understand that she doesn't get to get her way with him like she does around here." He says. I nod my head, and we go into the Gamma suite.

BARRETT: "That was quite a show." I said as we all headed back to our rooms. "That was crazy." Alisha said. "It serves Jessie right." Rachel says, "How so?" Trent asked. "Because she is always trying to dominate everything and everybody, so now it's her turn to be dominated, and I hope she learns from it." "I doubt that will happen, from everything that I have heard about her, she is never at fault it's always someone else's." "Well then I guess she will end up learning the hard way, He seems to be a very dominate wolf, and I don't think he will let her get away with trying to blame others for what she does, not to mention that's embarrassing." Rachel says. We all just chuckle, "Just wait till Trever hears what he missed." I say. And they laugh even more.

MACKIE: The alarm goes off at 11:30 and Trever, Dutch, and I get up and wait till we hear others moving about, it's 5 minutes to midnight. We all head out Jand downstairs, we find a place to stand out of the way, to be there for the shift. I see James shift into this big bluish grey wolf, I have never seen a wolf that color before, I wonder if it has something to do with their Papa. He is almost as big as the Alpha in wolf form, then I look at Jessie's wolf, she is all grey except for white paws and black at the tips of her ears, she is a pretty wolf, to bad her attitude doesn't match. Once James calls the for the run to start, I look around and spot Liam, he has a backpack on his shoulder, and he is starting to make his way towards the back of the crowd. I get the guys attention and point to him. They nod and we all head in his direction. "Hey." I whisper behind him, and he jumps. "Don't do that!" he whispers back to me, and I chuckle at him.

TREVER: The four of us make our way to the tree line, once inside Dutch and I strip and shift, Mackie packs our clothes in Liam's backpack with whatever he has in there and I pick up Liam and Dutch picks up Mackie and we make our way to the cabin. I can't wait, I miss my mate, I hope that Jessie's mate claims her soon, so that Kes can come back to the Pack house and things can get back to normal for her. Plus, I want to talk to Lilly about her mate, and just what he was, and what he could do.

CAMRON: Now that all the talks around the war and Stone claw are settled I can get back to some other business, I need to get with alpha Josh and see if his people got those samples, and if they have had time to test them. I send him a quick text asking him to meet with me after breakfast, so we can discuss the samples. I get a text back answering in the affirmative. "I have another meeting after breakfast with Alpha Josh. You're welcome to come if you wish." I tell my mate. "I would, the more I know about the businesses you have the better I will be able to assist you." "Thank you love." I say as I kiss the top of her head.

KESKA: It's about 7:30 in the morning, when I wake up in Trever's arms again, I could really get used to this, I probably won't be able to sleep alone after this ball is over, and he will have to go back to the Royal Pack. He again has me snuggled up tight to him so I can't get out without waking him up. "Hey, did you have a good time last night?" "Mmm. Shh, Sleep." I linked him. I just shake my head at him. I lay quiet in his arms for another half hour, but then I really needed to use the bathroom. "Trever, I need to get up." I whisper to him. He loosened his arms just enough so that I could shimmy out, I went to the bathroom did my business, washed my hands, and headed to the kitchen to start getting breakfast, I know that they will need to put in an appearance before breakfast is done. Especially Liam. Mackie joins me in the kitchen. "So how did last night go?" I asked her. "Went well, I was really kinda glad that Jessie was finally feeling some kind of pain." "Mackie!" "What! It's true, with everything she has gotten away with, the pain of her first shift was a great feeling of pay back." "Did her mate claim her?" "Don't know, he/she didn't before the run, who ever they may be might have after the run, but we left, so don't know." "Oh well. I will just send James a text and wish him a happy birthday." "Hey, what do you make of Seth? That was pretty weird yesterday." "Probably feeling sorry for himself, because it was Jessie's birthday, and he couldn't be with her." "Serves him right." I just nod. I heat up some ham and make up some scrambled eggs and Pan-fried potatoes, for their breakfast. The guys finally get up smelling the food and come into the kitchen area to eat. "Hey, did Mackie tell you she won the darts tournament?" Liam asked, "No she didn't, but you did earlier." "OH yeah." I turn to her. "Congratulations." "Thanks." "I hope that father and James keep their word and Jessie leaves tomorrow, that is if her mate claimed her. I want to come back, I miss being on the obstacle course, and I miss target practice. I miss Nana." I say as my eyes mist over. Trever just comes and puts his arms around me. I hold him back. "Oh, umm Mackie? Don't hate me but I need more help with the computer, for the design on the cabin." She just shakes her head at me but goes and gets the laptop and we work on the design for a short bit, but then I tell them they have to get going.

Chapter 189

STAR: I couldn't help myself, I just had to record what happened after the run, I already had my phone out because I wanted to get a picture of their wolves, but what happened after the run will have everybody talking for months, if not years and not in a good way. Oh well Jessie deserves it, after orchestrating the attack on Kes, and all the other shit she has pulled over the years. “Hey guys?” “What love.” “How soon do we need to be back to the Pack?” “We can stay a little bit longer if you wish, but not real long. Especially if we have to get ready for a war.” “I understand, I just want to be here when Kes comes back, she more than anyone needs to see what happened to Jessie last night, and I recorded it.” “What? Yes! That would go viral you know if we were to post it.” “That would be disrespectful to Alpha Apollo.” I tell them. And they both nod. “Yes, but it would teach Jessie a lesson she soon wouldn’t forget.” We all just chuckle at that. And head down to breakfast.

JAMES: I wake up to the most amazing smell of warm coco and chicory, and I feel tingles everywhere my body is in contact with Janica’s. I can’t help it I want to know if it feels the same with me buried deep in her tight pu.ssy, I slide in and yes it is amazing I can feel the tingles starting at the tip of my co.ck and run all the way through my body, I just move slowly in and out of her reveling in the tingles. “Mmm James.” “Yes, I know my love, I know, I just need to feel them being buried deep inside you. I am going to become so addicted to this feeling, I won’t be able to keep my hands off of you, or my di.ck in my pants this feels so amazing.” I say as I pull out again and just ease back in just taking the time to feel everything, nice and slow. “James don’t tease me, make me cu.m.” Janica says as she wraps her legs around my waist to pull me in deeper, and she raises her hips to meet my thrust. I can feel her walls start to clench me, I grab one of her legs and pull it up towards her shoulder so I can bury myself even deeper and feel her soft spot, her walls clench me even more. I pull out and now I can’t control myself, I slam back into her hitting her spot, again and again I slam into her. “Oh, goddess James, Yes! Yes!” “That’s it cu.m for me baby.” I tell her. I can feel my co.ck starting to swell inside her soft warm core, I drives me crazy I want more I keep pushing as deep as I can get inside her. “I’m cum.ing.” I can feel her release just as I hit my peak as well. I release ribbons of cu.m deep inside her and feel her pussy clench me like it doesn’t want to let me go. “Mmm You like having me buried in you, your pu.ssy doesn’t want to let go.” I say kissing her. “That’s because you feed it so well.” She says kissing me back. “We need to head down for breakfast.” I tell her. I see a flashing on my phone indicting that I have missed a message or a fall. I pick it up and see that Kes sent me a message, I open it and read her message, and smile. “What are you smiling at?” “Kes sent me a happy birthday.” I show Janica my phone to let her see. “That’s an improvement.” She says. And I nod my head as I roll over to get up and get the day started. Even though I just want to stay right where I am and stay buried in her all day, I know I can’t. We jump into the shower and then get dressed and head down for breakfast.

Chapter 190

STAR: I couldn't help myself, when I see the princes and Trever is with them, I head straight for their table. "Good morning, is it alright if we join you this morning? I have something that I believe that Trever might like to see." I say to them. They all nod in agreement. So, we pull up another table so that we can all fit. I look around and I don't see Jessie or her to cronies, so I pull out my phone and unlock it and hand it to prince Trever. "Just hit the play button." I whisper. He dose and I sit back and watch his face, scanning the marquee ever so often so as not to get caught by Jessie or her wanna-be possie. He just about choked on his laugh to keep it in. We all just smiled when we saw his reaction to what happened.

CAMRON: I noticed that the Cold Moon Alpha's and their mate were seated with the princes this morning, probably discussing what happened last night with Jessie. I spot Josh and his mate sitting towards the front of the marquee, but more towards the corner, I head in their direction. "Mind if we join you this morning. It will save us time later." "Of course, please." He says and waves his hand to the extra chairs. "Seems Jessie has made herself the talk of the marquee this morning." Josh says. "Indeed, she has always wanted to be like Amanda Sutter, I think she got her wish, just not in the way she would have liked." I said. "Did you actually see what happened at Adrian's ceremony?" He asked me. "No, I can't say that I did, I just know what transpired between Keska and 1." I tell him. "I remember that call well." He says, and smiles. I smile in return. "I will be back; I am going to get us some food." I say and get up to get in the food line. I get two plates and fill them with scrambled eggs, sausage, bacon, toast, and fruit. I head back to the table and hand one plate to my mate and retake my seat. "Have your people been able to get their testing done?" I asked him. "As a matter of fact, they have, and they believe that there is a lot that we could use your product for, other than just computer components." "Like what? I knew that it would be good for the computer chips." "Most definitely, but we also think that it will be better in hospital monitoring equipment, it will hold up better, and last longer." "I never thought about going into the medical aspect with it." "You should, it will make you even more money." "Can you handle the medical aspect as well as the computer chips?" "Yes, we can. We have a few contracts already in place with some of the human hospitals, so it won't be hard to get a demonstration in for them." Josh says. I nod.

JAMES: I usher Janica into the marquee and look around to see who all is here. I see Star with her mates, sitting with the princes and their mates, minus Kes, and Mackie. I see Josh and Camron sitting in a front corner, looking like they are discussing some business. I then see my mate's brother sitting with his mate, and I motion towards him to Janica. She heads in his direction. "Hey big brother." She says. "May we join you?" "Sure, I haven't had a chance to introduce you to my mate yet, you have been too busy with your own to pay too much attention to anyone else." Colton says good naturedly. "Hello Colton." I say holding out my hand to shake his. "James." He shakes my hand. "James, Janica this is Krystal, she is alpha born from Dark Forest Pack. Krystal, this is my sister and her mate, birthday boy James.” He introduces us with a wry chuckle. “Nice to finally get to meet you, Colton has told me a few stories about his sister.” “All good things I hope?” “Yes.” “It also seems we have something in common, James, that was my brother last night with your sister. Sorry for the show, but he has been fighting with Atlas since we got here, trying to keep him in check.” “Hey, no harm no foul.” I tell her. “Well, some here don’t seem to think the same way.” She says looking around the marquee at the whispering. “People will be people, they need something to gossip about, I’m just sorry it happens to be your brother, my sister likes to be the center of attention.” I tell her. She just nods. “If she is not careful, my brother will use it against her.” She says. “Well then that will teach her.” I say with a chuckle. Again, she nods. And I know that both Colton and Janica catch the underlying meaning of my words. I was not going to state what we knew out loud and possibly get Jessie rejected, considering she is Jessie’s mate’s sister.
