Chapter 231

KESKA: The next two days, I drilled with the archery team, my team, I made sure they all knew where they were supposed to go, the best and fastest route to get there, and keep the panic to a minimum. Dutch and Trever worked with us as well, we were going to be ready no matter when, no matter what. We didn't have long to wait, that night the alarm went off. The border had been breached in several places considering the alarm went off three more times. Dutch, Mackie, Trever, and myself were upstairs and downstairs helping to get the noncombatants into the safe rooms in the Pack house. I gave Liam my arrows, and he had his as well. "It's up to you to keep them calm and safe," I told him. He nodded at me, and I closed them in. Then we headed outside to help get others to the public safe rooms, and safe areas, I had at least one if not two archers with every group with the same instructions. Make every shot count if the door gets breached. Then we got into the fight. I went to check on my team to see that they were in place, and they didn't disappoint me, they were all there in their spots. I left Mackie with them. Dutch shifted and stayed as well, just as a fighting ground force. Then the next thing I know fighting had broken out all around. I shifted into Corla, and Trever shifted into Havoc. The attackers had set some buildings on fire, adding to the chaos. We ran to put them out before the buildings were too damaged. As we were moving about the grounds every Stone Claw member we smelled, Corla turned them into instant Ice or ash. We saw Frank was in trouble with 3 wolves surrounding him. We phased to him and Corla bit one turning it into an ice statue. A head butt to another one was hard enough to send him rolling face first into the dirt. That gave Frank the time he needed to dispatch the one that was right in front of him. He was now ready for the other one when he got back up. He looked at me strangely, "It's me Frank, Kes, and this is Corla, I know this is a crazy time to bring this up, but take note of their scent, they are all Stone Claw, if you come across others and they don't seem to be in the fight, remember they were forced into this and they may not want to fight, give them the option to hide in the shadows around the bigger buildings." I linked him, he nodded. We heard a cry for help through the link, it sounded like Pete. He was over closer to the school, so we headed that way. We found ourselves surrounded, Havoc had 4 wolves around him, and I had 3 surrounding me. Every last one of them smelled of Stone Claw. All of them were fair game. They circled us testing our defenses, the first one lunged. Corla connected with his paw with a swipe of her own and knocked him off balance. The second one lunged, Corla spun and kicked out with her back feet and sent him flying. The third waited and kept circling. The other two came back and we were surrounded again. Than Corla went into a low crouch and waited, she stayed still. All three lunged at the same time and Corla phased us out, they all crashed Jinto each other. It looked like a Three Stooges Comedy Act. Then she spun and bit the closest one in the shoulder, turning it to ice. We spun back the other way, and she bit the second one turning it to ash. The third got a full dose of poison. We looked to see where Havoc was. He had taken the head off one of the wolves. Another lay at his feet with its lower jaw tore off. He had thrown the third so hard against the building its head was smashed in. He had one opponent left. Just as it lunged Havoc ducked, extended his claws and tore the wolf's underside open. Then we were off again to go help Pete. He was surrounded when we got to him. Corla dodged and bit a Stone Claw member turning them to ashes mid swipe. Havoc had picked up another and through it into the trees. We heard a loud thud. We worked our way to Pete, but when we got to him he was in bad shape. I looked at Havoc, he came picked up Pete's wolf and we headed straight to the hospital with him. After making sure that Pete was looked after we got back into the fight. Whenever we came across other Pack smells, Corla asked them if they were forced to be here and did, they want to fight, depending on their answers, she would either bite them with her poison or she told them to go hide in the deepest shadows they could find and stay put. I could see the wonder and curiosity in their eyes, a wolf that talked. Stone Claw started more fires. We had to fight our way to each one, but we got them put out. I heard screams coming from where I had the archers, so I headed back that way. I could smell blood, but it wasn't from any of ours, thank the goddess. One of the archers had put an arrow through the eye of one of the invaders. By mornings sun rise it was over. Those of Stone Claw that had invaded were either captured or dead, and word had spread to some of the others, that if they didn't want to fight to hide. So that cut down on the amount of actual fighting, and since Stone Claw didn't take the time to initiate everyone when they overtook them, they lost control of their advantage of numbers fast. But with the dawn, also came Our Pack, and the grounds were littered with ice statues and piles of ashes. Where Corla helped with putting out fires, and defending the Pack, and those seething, reeling, and screaming in pain from a full dose of her poison.

DRAKE: Once morning came and the fighting had died down, I walked the grounds, we lost several warriors, but not as many as I initially would have thought, it helped adding the trade training program, and the obstacle course. I know that we didn't have much time to work with ether one, but it proved to be invaluable. I see the statues, damn! Why couldn't she have stayed in the safe room with everybody else! And then I started to notice the ash piles as well, and I was hearing screams from several directions, i went to investigate what and why, to my surprise, I found Stone Claw members writhing in pain, but 1 couldn't see what was causing it. I linked the Dr. "We have some Stone Claw people out here in severe pain, can you come check them?" "On my way, but Pete need a transfusion from you if we are going to keep him." "I will return with you after you come check on some of the Stone Claw Pack." I close the link and wait for him to get to me. It takes about 3 minutes, and he shows up, he checks the woman warrior over and notices the bite mark on the back side of her thigh. "Corla." Is all he says. "Can we save her?" I asked.

DRAKE: "Possibly, but we need to get her to the hospital now." I link a couple of our warriors to help get her to the hospital, the Doc and I follow. "Where do I need to go to help Pete out?" "Please follow the nurse she will get you set up." I follow the nurse into a quiet, somewhat darkened room, I can see the monitors and hear the beeping. "Is he going to be alright?" I asked the nurse. "He should be able to make a full recovery with your transfusion." She says. I nod. My mind going back over the battle, it felt I don't know, off somehow, like, not everyone was involved, I don't know, I just can't put my finger on it. Or maybe another wave will hit, when they think we let our guard down, or something. I need to check in with James, and Wyatt, they took off to the borders.

JAMES I went to the North border. The fighting was intense for all of 30-40 minutes, then they all just stopped, knelt, and put their hands up. It was strange to say the least, I walked over to the one that looked to be in charge of this group. "Surrendering?" I asked him "Yes, this is not my Pack, or our Pack to fight for, or with, we had to make a show of it, so that they would think we were helping them, in order to save our families, but we don't want this fight." He says to me. I nod my understanding. "Can you help pick out who is from what Packs, and we will do our best to make sure that you get home." I tell him. "Ha would that that were possible, when they came for my Pack, they left nothing behind, there is no home to go back to. And I think you will find it to be the same with most of us." Again, I nod in understanding. I link Wyatt, as he went to the West border. "How is it going, need any help?" "No, it's the strangest thing, after about 30-40 minutes, they all just stopped, and kneeled and put their hands up." "Same here, but we have to remember, that Stone Claw destroyed and devastated several small Packs to get here, you wouldn't want to fight for them either, if it were you." I said. "Yeah, your right there." "Ok, let's get them to the Pack house and go from there, to figure this shit out." "Roger that." I close the link. "Ok, here's what we are going to do, you will follow my warrior Chris over there, we are going to get you all back to the Pack house and sort all this out, but if any of you fall out of line, my men won't hesitate to kill any one of you. Is that clear?" "YES SIR" "Ok let's go, Chris head back." I call out. And we all start to walk back to the Pack house.

WYATT: Lexi and I both headed to the West border, she followed me, as she still needs to be initiated into the Pack, even though I did mark and mate her, we still have to go through the proper ceremony. Once the fighting stopped and they just knelt, I was a bit confused, not going to lie, but after getting James's link it makes sense, I wouldn't want to fight for those bastards either. So, after determining who was in charge of the group in front of me, we got them organized and headed back to the Pack house. When we got back, I was in shock, Ice statues dotted the yard and ash piles dotted other places. I linked James. "Dude, are you back yet?" "Yes." "Are you seeing this?" "Yes." "What the hell happened? What are all these ice statues?" "I have no clue; I'm in the dark as much as you are." I direct my group over to the east side of the pack house, where James also had his group, there were about 200 wolves between both groups. I walked over to James. "Watch them, I'm going to go find Mitchell and see if he knows anything." He tells me. I nod.

JAMES: Instead of walking all over the compound in search of Mitch I link him. "Mitch where are you?" "Down by the Barracks." "Do you know what the hell happened around here? What are all these ice statues, and ash piles?" "Yes, I know, but I think it is best that you hear it from your dad." "Ok, and where is he?" "I believe he went to the hospital, to help save Pete." "He should be back around here soon." "By the way, both Wyatt and I have about 200 refugees, I'm not going to call them prisoners of war, unless they prove themselves to be." "Where are you?" "Up on the East side of the Pack house." "On my way." I close the link, and head back over to where Wyatt is watching, and having our guys administer first aid to the group in front of us. "Did you find out anything?" Wyatt asked "No, Mitch is on his way here, he says he knows, but said I would need to hear it from dad." I tell him. "Where is the Alpha?" "At the hospital helping to save Pete." He nods.

KESKA: With: the fighting over, I went to the Pack house safe room to check on the house staff, Lissa, Liam, and mom, to see how they fared. I gave the special knock, so he knew not to shoot me. Liam met me at the door, bow still in hand. "Hey little bro, how is everyone?" "All's well, no one got close, we're all good." I nod at him and give him a hug, even though I have blood all over me. "Hey! OOOH! Yuck! Wait is any of that yours?" "OOPs sorry, no none of it is mine." "Was it really bad?" "Well, it wasn't pretty, as far as bad, I don't know, I don't know how many we may have lost." I tell him. "Is it safe to come out now?" "Yes, I believe it is. I am going to go get cleaned up." I tell him. "Ok, me too now, thanks to you." "Yeah, but you love me." "Yeah, your right I do."

MACKIE: We had a good advantage of height for the entire battle, and whenever anyone came into our area, if they went straight for the shadows of the buildings, we left them be, but if they were sniffing around, or showing signs of being too aggressive, we dispatched them. Every so often I would here the whispers float up to me, "did the red wolf send you?" "Did the red wolf help you?" I found it interesting, but I had to shush them, because we couldn't chance someone hearing them. But with every new wolf that showed up the questions got asked, but at least they were staying as quiet as they could. Sun rise came, and I could see the statutes, and ash piles from where I was, lying flat on the roof top. I caught sight of my brother coming from the west border and it looked like he had about 50 to 100 wolves with him. I gave a "foxy" whistle as he moved them past us. He just shook his head. I watched as the Pack started to emerge from hiding, not hearing the sounds of battle any longer, as I was climbing down, I caught some of the reactions of the Pack to what they were seeing and not understanding it. I have a bad feeling about this.

Chapter 233

PACK MEMBERS: "What is all this?" "What caused all these statues?" "Not just the statues, these ash piles?" "Is any of ours hurt?" "Did we lose any to the ice, or the ashes?" "Where's the Alpha?"

DRAKE: "I'm right here, I can assure you that none of our people succumbed to the ice, or ashes. Every statue and ash pile is a Stone Claw invader." "But who caused all this?" one pack member called out. "We will investigate." I told the Pack. "Please return to your homes, when I have more information, I will share it with all of you, I promise." I told them. "Yes Alpha." They responded and returned to their homes. I need to talk to Kes and find out what she was thinking.

TREVER: I stayed with Kes through the fight, watching how she moved and how she handled herself, she didn't panic, like most untrained fighters would have, I know she has her aikido training to draw from, but still, she didn't panic. TREVER: I need to send word back home, to take out Stone Claw for good, they attacked with no provocation, and while both Dutch and I were here, that is an attack on the royal house, and you don't get to walk away from that. After I showered and got dressed, I grabbed my phone and sent a text to Barrett.

From Trever: Just wanted to let you know that Stone Claw attacked last night.

From Barrett: Are you ok

From Trever: Yes, we are all good, not sure how many we may have lost haven't Talked to the Alpha yet.

From Barrett: We will deal with Stone Claw. Our way.

From Trever: Figured you would.

From Barrett: How are the girls

From Trever: They are great. Kes and Mackie have been working with Some of the orphan kids with archery and she put them on Roof tops and in trees to help they did great.

From Barrett: Sounds good can't wait to hear the full story. I will get people On the Stone Claw issue right away so I have to let you go.

From Trever: I will send a full report back soon. Bye.

From Barrett: Bye.

TREVER: I hang up. I am starving, I need to find Kes, Dutch, and Mackie and go get food. "Is everybody ready? I'm starving." I call out "coming." I get several answers. Once we are all together, I lead the way down to the dining area. The breakfast was a simple affair this morning, scrambled eggs, toast, bacon, sausage, and juices, straight forward, nothing fancy, but after everything I'm just grateful I don't have to cook my own.

MACKIE: "When we were getting the kids back to the orphanage, the Pack were coming out and they were scared and skittish of the statues and ash piles you left in your wake last night." I whispered to Kes. "It'll be ok." She signs to me. "I don't know?" I sign back. "Well, I will deal with it if and when it happens. She answers back. I nod my head, and we eat our breakfast.

JAMES: I can't wait any longer. I grab Wyatt and head to dad's office, I knock. "Come." I open the door and walk in with Wyatt behind me. "Dad, did you see all those ice statues, and ash piles?" "Yes, James I did." "Who or What caused them?" "Your sister." He dead pans "WHAT?" I was shocked. "How could Kes do that?" "You are asking the wrong question, son, it's not how, it's why. She should have been in the safe room with the rest of the noncombatants. Not out being in the middle of the fight." He says. "You knew?" "Yes, I knew. I have known ever since she got Corla, remember the whole stabbing issue?" I nod. "Corla did the same to Brent and Ronnie, so more to the point, it was Corla." "But still, it begs the question, how?" "She is a hybrid, as you know, she controls both fire and water, and what you've seen out there, is her forms of attack, along with a poison, according to the doc, and your grandmother Lilly." I am stunned, I don't know what to say. I look at Wyatt and see that he is just as stunned as I am. "I don't think the Pack is going to accept this." I say aloud. "I know, I just need to figure out how to tell them, without them turning on her." "Goddess this sucks!" "Yes." Dad says. "And speaking of Brent and Ronnie, what are we going to do with Kirk and Rodney? They have been down in the cells now for a while, too much longer and they will think that we have forgotten them." I say. "Yes, I need to figure a just punishment for them. I just might have Corla do it. Considering she was the one they tried to hurt." "This could be a test to see if she can control her bites, if she can give them the full dose of her poison, which would be fitting for them, let them suffer, until they die." "James that is not the sign of a good Alpha, they are not rogues, they are Pack members, yes, they broke Pack rules, but we don't torture our own like that. It has to be quick, I'm not saying painless, but quick." He tells me. I nod my understanding. "Ok, but we still need to deal with them." He nods. And we leave.

DRAKE: After James and Wyatt left my office, I got a link from Frank. "Alpha, we have another wolf that is in severe pain, he's closer to the school, he smells of Stone Claw and has an aura about him, I think he may be ranked." "Get him to the hospital and ask doc to do his best to save him." "Yes Alpha." I really need to talk to Keska. Goddess what was she thinking, and now that the pack has seen what she can do, I don't think they will allow her to stay, unless she can control it, and I don't think she can. I go in search of my mate; I find her in her office. "Carla dear we need to talk about Kes." "What about her?" "Have you been outside yet? Or even looked outside?" "No, I haven't been able to bring myself to look yet, do you know how many we lost yet?" "No, I haven't got that report, but I need you to come with me." I lead her to a window that looks out over the Pack grounds. "WHAT ARE THOSE?" "That is what our daughter does." I tell her. "Her bite causes the Ice statues, and the ash piles, plus her poison." "Oh Drake! They won't let her stay! Not if she can't control it." "I know. I just don't know quite how to handle it, without the Pack turning on her." "Do you think if we have her voluntary leave, they won't be too harsh on her?" "Maybe, but the question is where? I am not going to just send her away willy-nilly!" "We can ask Mother, she might be able to help." I nod.

I watched as we were driving away to go park 234

[1,224 words]

Chapter 234

CARLA: I link my mother. "Mother?" "Yes dear." "Oh, thank the goddess." "I am fine dear; they tried to burn the cottages, but Corla put the fires out before they could really catch hold." "Mother we have a problematic dilemma." "Oh?" "Yes, it concerns Keska. Can you come to the Pack house please." "Yes dear." I close the link. "Mother is on her way." I tell Drake and he nods his head.

LILLY: I have a feeling I know what is coming, especially after walking up to the Pack house, going around the statues, and ash piles. I know the Pack is scared of what, or rather who cause them. I know, and I will talk with her, and we will go to see her grandfather's people in Canada, where she will get the training she needs, but whether or not we return here, will be up to her, and how the pack treats her. But somehow, I doubt we will be back. But right now, I need to go see Drake and Carla, to see if my assumption is correct. I was right. I will need to talk to Kes. It will be less of a blow coming from me than from them. Their relationship is already strained, and I have a feeling this just might break it completely. It's too bad to because things were starting to get better between her and Drake, but after this, I don't know if it can be fixed. The one I feel sorry for is Helios, he is going to miss his pup, and he is going to be so pissed at Drake for missing so much of her life, and now he is going to miss even more.

PETE: I wake up in the hospital, my mate is here, I can feel her through the bond, and I can smell her sweet scent of wildflowers and strawberries. I remember being surrounded by Stone Claw invaders; I did my best to fight back but there were just too many. I thought I was going to die. I remember seeing a red wolf just before I passed out. It was weird, it looked like it had like a shimmery watery outline around it. I must have been seeing things, but whoever it was I owe them and the Alpha my life. "How did I get here?" I asked my mate. "I believe the prince brought you in." she says softly. I nod, even though I don't remember seeing him. "What about the red wolf?" I asked. "I don't know about any red wolf love." She answered. "Please get the dr. for me." she nods and steps out of the room to go get the dr.

1. DR. GRANT: I was doing my rounds, when Pete's mate found me and said he wanted to see me. "Doc, I need to know, was I seeing things? Or do we have a red wolf in the Pack?" he asked the minute I stepped into the room. "No Pete you were not seeing things, but with everything that went on, I don't know if she'll be here much longer. I don't think the Pack will let her stay." "Who is it?" "Keska." "Why wouldn't they let her stay? With everything that Jessie put her through!" "Yes, but the Pack doesn't know that, and they will deem her dangerous. She caused the ice statues, and the ash piles, and some of the Stone Claw Pack members she poisoned. That is why." "That sucks. I need to thank her." "You need to rest for a couple of days, when they brought you in, you were almost dead. Don't push things." I tell him. "I know, but I still need to thank her, otherwise I would be dead, not almost dead." "I will link her, to get her here, so you can talk to her, but then you rest!" "Yes, doc and thanks." I nod at him and link Kes. "Kes, if you're not busy, Pete would like to see you, and Corla." "Corla?" "Yes, he was asking about the red wolf." "Ok, I will be there shortly." I close the link. "She will be here shortly, until then, rest." He nods at

me,

KESKA: "Hey guys, Pete's awake and he is asking to see me. (and Corla) I sign to them. (Why Corla?) Trever signs back. "I have no idea." I say aloud. "Ok, I guess, if he wants to see you, we should go." Trever states. We all get up and head to the hospital. When we get there, I go in search of the Dr. "Dr., Grant is there some where I can shift?" "Come with me, you can use my office." I grab Mackie's hand, and we follow him to his office. Once I have shifted, I watch as Mackie folds my clothes and brings them with her. ("We are ready Dr. What room is he in? I will just phase us there.") Doc tells Corla what room he is in. "Corla, let Trever, Dutch and I go in first, we don't want to scare him." Mackie says. We nod at her words. "I will link you when we have prepared him." Again, we nod. She leaves the room with my clothes and heads back to the guys and goes to Pete's room.

MACKIE: "Let's go." I say reaching the guys. "Dutch, please stay out and guard the door, Corla is going to Phase into the room. We don't want to scare or startle anyone." I ask him through the link. He just smiles at me and nods. I swear he loves it when I link him. Reaching Pete's room, I knock and peak in. "Hey, mind if I come in?" I asked him. "Sure, but I was hoping to see Keska." He says. "You will, I promise. But I need both you and your mate to stay calm, you will get to meet Corla first. She has her own unusual way of making an entrance." I tell him. "Okayyy?" he says drawing out the word. "You'll be fine, but it can be a bit startling." I tell him. He nods and reaches his hand out to his mate. "We are ready." He says. I link her. "Ready."

KESKA/CORLA: When we get Mackie's link we phase right into his room, it is less than 6 feet from the Dr. office, but it is up a floor. ("You wished to see me?") Corla asked him. Even though Mackie had warned him, he still jumped, and his mate squealed. Pete calmed her, but it was still a bit harsh on the ears. "i wasn't seeing things, you are real." ("Yes, I am real.") "You talk!?" ("Yes, I can speak.") "I'm sorry, I must sound like an idiot, but how is it that I didn't know about you? I mean, I knew that Keska had her wolf, but not about you." ("You didn't ask.") ("Corla! Be nice.") ["well, he didn't, or he would have known." she says to me. Pete chuckles "Sassy." ["Maybe."] He chuckles again. "May I see Keska? I would like to thank her." ("You just did.") ("Corla!") I scold her again. "May I touch you?" Pete's mate asked. As an answer Corla walks over to her. She reaches out her hand and runs it over her fur.

Chapter 235

KESKA/CORLA: "Oh, my goddess you are so soft." She says. We nod. ("Ok Corla, time to shift back, I am sure he needs to rest.") I tell her, ["ok."] "Mackie, please take my clothes into the bathroom, I will shift back in there." "Ok," Mackie takes my clothes into the bathroom for me, and I go in and shift back, redress and come out. "Sorry Pete, she can be a bit sassy as you said." "It's ok. I like her." He chuckles. "We should let you rest now though." He looks at Trever. "I guess I have you to thank as well, but I don't remember seeing you." He says to Trever. "Don't worry about it, Havoc picked you up and carried you here. You had already passed out." Trever tells him. "Well thank you." "Now get some rest, I don't want the Doc getting mad at me for not letting you rest." I say to him. And he nods. We I leave.

JAMES: I am just pacing back and forth in my room. I am in shock that dad knew this the whole time. And didn't think that it was important to tell me about my sister? I can see why Kes, and he have problems. I wish I could do something about what is coming, but I don't know what to do. We can't just force the Pack to except things as they are, they will want assurances.

assurances, and I don't know if we can give them any. I don't want to lose my sister, especially when we were just starting to reconnect. "Hey, you in this state?" Janica asked me. "I just found out that Kes is responsible for the statues, and ashes, but she also made sure that we didn't lose buildings either, but the Pack won't weigh one against the other. I'm afraid they will say she is a danger." "We can argue for her." "I don't think it will matter. Goddess Janica, I don't want to lose her, I was just starting to get her back, from all the bullshit with Jessie. I don't know what to do." I tell her. "We'll figure something out." She says. "I need to go for a run with her." I say she nods. I link Kes. "Hey little sis, where are you?" "Just leaving the hospital. Why?" "Hospital! Are you hurt!?" "No, just visiting Pete, he wanted to know about the red wolf." "What?" "He must have just got a glimpse of Corla before he passed out, and thought he was seeing things." "Ok, but speaking of Corla, Phestus would like to go for a run with his sister, if your open for it." "Sure, I guess, where do you want to meet?" "Behind the Pack house, and we will head towards the cabin." "Ok, see you in a bit." I close the link. I just want to cry for her and us, I don't care, if that makes me a hypocrite or not. I'm scared. "I am going to meet her in the back of the Pack house." I tell Janica. "Do you want me to come with you?" I nod. "Yes please." I whisper. She nods her head and just wraps her arms around me. I take in her scent, and it helps to calm me.

KESKA: That was strange, not going to lie. "What is it love?" Trever asked. "James, he and Phestus want to go for a run." I tell him. "Do you want me to come with?" "Thank you, but there was something in his tone, I think he just wants some alone time with his sister." I tell him. He nods at me. We will be in the game room with Liam waiting for you." "Huh?" "He gets anxious too, and the best way to take his mind off the scary stuff is to occupy him with games." I nod my understanding. I head to the back of the Pack house to meet up with James. When I get there, I see Janica with him. He just walks over to me and engulfs me in a hug. "Let's go." We head to the tree line undress and shift. We take off and head towards the cabin at the north border. The whole way there, Phestus lets us lead, that alone has me worried, as an Alpha wolf he would be the one to lead. "Ok big brother spill." "Kes, I'm scared, I don't think the Pack is going to accept you and Corla, especially after seeing what she did to Stone Claw." "She helped save them, and she cause any real damage." "I know. But I don't think that will matter, they were scared when they saw everything, they even thought that dad might have been put out the fires before they could one of them." "He is still Alpha; we would never do that!" "I know that, and with time I am sure that they would to, but..." "Yeah, it's what could happen in the meantime, and if anything, bad were to happen then I would get the blame. Just like Jessie all over again, only on a larger scale.” “I don’t want to lose you. I am just getting you back.” Corla stops dead in her tracks. Phestus almost runs right into her. “We are family, you didn’t reject me, so you won’t lose me. Even if the Pack won’t except us. You will never lose me.” I look at him, and he has tears in his eyes. Corla just licks his face. (“I love you, big brother.”} she says out loud. He just nods his big wolf head. Janica’s wolf comes up to nuzzle him. He puts his head into her neck takes in her scent. And then we take off again towards the cabin..

LIAM: After breakfast, I head out to survey the damage done, and I’m not seeing much. But I am seeing ice statues, and ash piles dotting the landscape. What the heck caused all this? I then noticed where a few buildings were scorched. But it wasn’t super bad or anything, so that’s a plus. I wonder where Kes, Mackie and the guys are, and if they know about this yet? I head over to the orphanage; I want to check and make sure they are all ok. After checking in with them, I link Kes. “Hey, where are you?” “On a run with our big brother.” “Did you see the statues and ash piles?” “Yes, little brother, I know all about them, because Corla caused them.” “Wait, what?” “Those are Corla’s forms of attack.” “Wow, cool. Can I smash them?” “What?” “Yeah, smash them.” “You will need to ask father.” “Ok.” I close the link with Kes and open one with dad. “Dad, can I smash the ice statues?” “What?” “Yeah, you know, s-m-a-s-h t-h-e s-t- a-t-u-e-s” “Yes Liam, I know what you meant. You do realize that they were once living beings?” “Yes, I know, but they shouldn’t have attacked us, so they got what they deserved, I just want to smash them, to drive the point home.” “Yes, fine!” “Cool. Thanks dad.” “Welcome.” I close the link and baseball bat and start swinging.

TREVER: I took a walk while I waited for Kes to get back, and I see Liam with a bat in hand. “Hey little brother, what are you up to with that.” I asked him, pointing to the bat. “Smashing the statues.” “Why?” “Well, we can’t just leave them standing around all over the place, if they get smashed it won’t take as long for them to melt. That is if they will melt.” “I’m sure they will, they are ice after all.” “Yeah, true, but we don’t know for sure, do we? I mean this is the first time anything like this has happened, right? So how do we really know?” “You’re right, I guess we really don’t know. I love how your mind works sometimes.” I just smile at him. “Mind if I help?” “Sure, I will go get you another bat." And he dropped the one he had and took off. About two minutes later he came back with another bat and handed it to me. We both proceeded to smash the statues.

MITCHELL: With all the refugee's/prisoners of war that we had, I had the warriors vacate the barracks and take up residents in the Pack house, so we could house everyone, I set guards on them as well until we could figure out what to do with them. During the transition, I overheard some of them talking. "Did the red wolf help you?" "Did the red wolf send you to safety?" "Did you hear she could actually talk." "I never seen a red wolf before wonder where she came from." And then there were the questions, and comments of "What are talking about, what red wolf?" "There is no such thing as a red wolf, you must have been seeing things." But no matter where they were on the spectrum, they were curious to know who, or what about the red wolf. I had my suspicions, but I linked the Alpha to be sure. "Alpha?" "Yes Mitchell?" "Is Keska's wolf red by chance?" "Yes, Mitchell she is, her name is Corla." "Ok Thank you." "Is there a reason?" "Yes, some of the refugees/POW's are talking about a red wolf." "What are they saying?" "Nothing bad, just if she helped them, that she talks, and then those that don't believe it, at all." "Well, it's all true, she is red, and she does speak, she can be quite sassy." "Good to know. Thank you, "Welcome," I close the link. One of the younger people called out to me. "Hey? Excuse us, Alpha." but you would know if there is a red wolf in your pack, right?" "Yes, we have a red wolf, and yes, she can talk, I haven't had the pleasure of actually talking to her myself yet. But she is real." I say out loud to those that are close enough to hear me. "Not everyone is privy to her, so not everyone will know about her." I also tell them. "Why? I mean why doesn't everyone know about her?" "She had some bad things happen to her, and she got her wolf early. So no, not everyone is privy to her. The fact that you have seen her, or even spoken to her, puts you in a very select group of people." I say to them and continue to get them settled.

LILLY: I wait until after dinner to talk to Kes about what is coming down the pipeline so to speak. "I don't know when Drake will make the announcement, but I want you to be ready, the Pack may be ok with it, but just in case they are not, I want you to be gracious, volunteer to leave on your own, I will come with you, we will go to your grandfather's colony, in Canada. There you will get the training that these idiots would demand. I know that's not what you want to hear, my sweet girl but it is the best solution to the problem." I tell her. "Yeah, even Mackie said as much at breakfast. I actually don't mind; I would like to get to meet Papa Rickard's side of the family." "That's my girl." "What about Mackie though? Can she come too?" "I will make sure that she can." "Ok, and the guys?" "If they want." Then she just smiles and nods.

DRAKE: I don't know when or how I am going to make the announcement about Keska and Corla to the Pack, but I will start it with the explanation and execution of Kirk and Rodney. They have been sitting in the dungeon and taking up space long enough. Then hopefully the Pack won't be so harsh on Kes, and maybe even give her some sympathy, when I make that announcement. I will call a Pack wide meeting tomorrow after lunch. Goddess, I hate this. I don't know if I will ever be able to win her trust back now.

TREVER: I know somethings' up, I just don't know what, but I can feel the tension in the air. It's putting Havoc on edge, and that is never a good thing. I need to find Kes, her scent helps to calm him, and me. I see her talking to Lilly, so I make my way over to where they are. "What's going on? I can feel the tension in the air, and it's growing." "The Pack is anxious about who or what caused the statues and ash piles." Kes tell me. "Is that going to be a problem?" "Nana, James, and father think it will be." "Then we'll go to the royal Pack." "Thank you, Trever but if the same thing happens there, it will start all over again. I know that they are right about one thing, I do need to have training, and the only place that can help me with that is Papa Rickard's people." Kes tells me. "And just where are they?" "In Canada. Nana says that we will go there, and I will train, and then I will decide what to do after that." "Ok love, just know that I am with you all the way, no matter what." I say to her. She kisses me. Wait, she just took the initiative, and she kissed me. I am ecstatic.

LISSA. Everything feels wrong, I don't know how to describe it other than it feels wrong. I go to find Liam. "Hey." "Hey, what's up Lissa?" "I don't know, but everything feel wrong." "It's the Pack, they are on edge because of the war, and because of what they saw right after the sounds of fighting stopped." "What was it they saw?" "Didn't you see the ice statues? And the ash piles?" "No. I was still too scared I haven't been outside at all today." "It's ok, but just think of it like this, they are feeling everything you are feeling, plus they are anxious about who or what made the statues and ashes. So, you are probably picking up on the energy of the Pack. But that isn't a bad thing, it just means that you will be a good luna when the time comes." He tells me.

LISSA: "If you think so, but I still don't like this feeling." "Come on, come with me." I nod and follow him; he leads me outside. "Look around." I walk around the grounds around the Pack house. Being outside helps calm me some. "I don't see anything." "That's because everything got cleaned up from the battel. And there is nothing scary to see any more." I nod at him. "Come." He leads me to a different area. "Look around." I do and I see some buildings that have burn marks on them. "What happened?" "The invaders tried to burn the place, but it got put out before it could really take hold. Again, nothing scary, all good. It's the other stuff that have them on edge like I said." "Where are they?" "What?" "The statues and ashes you talked about." "Trevor and I smashed as many as we could, and the ashes got taken into the woods and spread out there." "Do you know who or what caused them?" "Uh hu, I do." "Who was it?" "I can't tell, I promised, I love you, but please don't ask me to break that promise, I already broke one when I told you who Keska's mate was. I can't break this one." "Ok. I just really need a hug." He wrapped his arms around me. "I need you to promise me that you won't turn out to be like Mimi and Jessie." "I will try my hardest." "I also don't want you turning out like mom." "What's wrong with mom?" He makes a deep sigh. "I love mom, but she has a habit of not facing problems, like with Keska, and Jessie, if mom had been paying attention, do you think things would have gotten as bad as they did? I mean look what happened, Keska got stabbed, and it was Jessie's fault, but Mom chose to turn a blind eye, I mean so did dad, but I don't think it wouldn't have gotten as bad if mom would have just paid a little more attention." "Ok, I see what you mean. I will try, that is all I can do." "That is all I ask. I don't want to lose you to their arrogance and sense of self entitlement." I nod my head at him. We head back to the Pack house and go inside. "Let's have a game of whatever you want to play." He says. I pick my favorite video game, and now that Jessie isn't around, I can play it. He smiles and puts in the game, and we play head-to-head.

LIAM: I stayed and played whatever game took Lissa's fancy until bedtime, just to help ease her. I was feeling it a bit myself, but smashing the statues earlier, it helped to take the edge off a bit, I think. Plus, with them gone, they weren't staring the Pack members in the face.

DRAKE: With most of the Pack coming into the dining room for breakfast, I used the PA system to tell them to expect a Pack wide announcement at lunch, and that there would be a public execution, to follow lunch. I really don't want to do this, but I can't see a way around it. Not the execution, but the issue of the Kes being the one that caused the statues, and ashes. After the Pack hears the facts, I am hoping that they won't turn on her. I am struggling on what to tell the Pack, the best thing to do is be transparent with everything. I am at fault for a lot of this mess, but I will also have to through Jessie at them, and they will not be happy that she didn't get full punishment, I will tell them she was in the cells, which may help. We'll just have to wait and see.

KESKA: After hearing Father's announcement, I got nervous, the whole Pack was going to learn about Corla, I know Nana and I talked about it but, I am still nervous about it, what if they do turn on me, banish me from the Pack? This is the only home I've had, even though it hasn't been the greatest, it's still been home. But I guess if they do kick me out, we have a plan. I link Mackie. "Mackie, Nana said that if the Pack won't except us, we will go to Papa Rickard's people, she said that you and the guys can come with, let Dutch know, I will tell Trevor." "Will do, at least it will help that there is a plan in place, if it happens." "Yes." I close the link and look around for Trevor, I spot him in line for seconds. I walk over and stand next to him when he got his food, and we head back to the table. "Trevor, I believe, father is going to execute Kirk and Rodney for the part that they played in my stabbing.” I tell him. “Good, it’s about time something got done with them.” He says. I nod. “I just wonder what else he is going to be say.” I say to him. “I have a feeling that he is going to tell them about Corla, if they don’t except us, Nana says that we can go to Papa Rickard’s people. She says they can train me. I know that I do need to have it, so it won’t be so bad if the Pack doesn’t accept us. I just wanted you to know that there is a plan in place, so if the worst happens, I don’t want you tearing through the Pack.” I tell him. I watch as his eyes flash to Havoc’s. “Havoc, we will go to Papa’s people, and when my training is done, we will find somewhere else to go.” He huffs at me, and I kiss him. He nods his head, and gives control back to Trever. After he finishes eating, the four of us go find Liam and head to the range.

LILLY: The minute I hear Drake make the announcement I get on the phone and call the elder of my mates people. “Emory, I am going to need your help, one of Rickard’s grandchildren is a hybrid, she is a very unique wolf, she is red. But more to the point, she phases, her bite kills, and she will need training, the training that she will only be able to get from you, and your people.” “Lilly nice to hear from you, straight to the point as always I see. But yes of course bring her, we would all like to meet Rickard’s grandchild, we like to meet all of his grandchildren, but we will take what we can get.” “Thank you Emory, I am not sure when we will be leaving, but I will keep you informed.” I hang up.

Lil’Momma805

Your “punishment” was laughable. I hope the pack doesn’t turn against her but support her but she tells them she is going to go train more to help them even though she is gonna have her own pack one day

Lil Momma805

He needs to say that to his parents and the pack. They ALL saw how she was treated by them and said nothing about it

Chapter 238

DRAKE: After lunch I make the Pack wide announcement, "All Pack members are to report to the training field, in 10 minutes." Then close the link. I have Mitchell and Frank bring the prisoners up from the cells and brought to the training grounds. Once everyone is settled, I bring Keska with me to the middle of the field. I use my Alpha Aura just slightly to get everyone to calm and be silent. "I am going to address an issue that has been a while in the making. Most of you know that Keska was stabbed back in the late spring, early summer, that incident caused her to shift early, it was her wolf that caused the ice statues, and ash piles that many of you witnessed after the battle. But that brings us back to the stabbing, there were 7 individuals involved with what happened. My eldest daughter Jessie, her two friends, Dedi Jax, and Marla Quints, Kirk Anders, Rodney Barns, Brent Charter, and Ronnie Briginhall. Now Brent and Ronnie have already been dealt with by Keska's wolf. We are here today to pass judgment on Kirk and Rodney. As well as to give you the back story of what many of you saw. I want you all to know that Jessie, Marla, and Dedi did spend time in the cells for their part in what happened, they did not get off Scott free, and they have found their mates, and have left the Pack. Keska will shift so that you can see her wolf." I turn to Kes and nod my head to her. Trever, Dutch, Mitch, and Frank and Pete step forward place themselves in a circle around her with their backs to her so she can shift. Once she has shifted she nuzzles Trever, and he steps aside so she can step out in front of me. The others turn to see her as well. Frank, Pete, and Mitch all reach out a hand to touch her. She turns her head to look at them as they do. ("I am glad to see you up and about Pete.") She says to him. A collective gasp goes through those that are close enough to hear her. "Thank you, Corla." ("Hello Frank.") "Hello to you Corla." ["I have yet to be formally introduced to you Mitchell, but hello, I am Corla." "It is nice to meet you Corla." "Corla is a hybrid, she takes after her Grandfather Rickard Colter, some of you may remember him. He was a Phase elemental; he was able to change his physical self into the elements. Corla cannot change herself into the elements, but she can control the elements of both fire, and water, and because of that we were lucky that we didn't lose any buildings to the fires that Stone Claw set. The ice statues, and the ash piles were her way of defending herself while she helped defend the Pack." They were silent for a few minutes. I was hopeful. But then the questions started. "Can she control her bite." "You say that it is her defense, but what if she ends up in a fight, against one of us, can she control it." They ask over and over, can she control it? "I don't know if she can, she hasn't been with us that long, just over a month, we don't know what her powers are, what her full capabilities are." "If she can't control them she can't stay, she is too dangerous." "We are sorry that the bad things happened, but if she can't control her powers, she is too dangerous she can't stay." I hear over and over. I hate them right now, but there is nothing I can do, except take my frustrations out on the two prisoners. ("I will go, none of you need worry.") Came Corla's voice loud and clear, so that those that hadn't heard her before heard her now. And again, there was a collective gasp from those that hadn't heard her before. I walk over to where a couple of other guards was holding Kirk and Rodney. "I Alpha Drake Sutter find you Kirk and Rodney guilty of false reporting of a rogue attack, in order to do bodily harm, and attempted kidnapping. Do you have anything to say?" "It was all Jessie's idea, her plan." They both say. "Yes, and what has got you in this mess is the fact that you didn't do the right thing and report it to the right people, had you of done that, you would not be here today." "Yes Alpha." They say dejectedly. I reach my hand forward and take their hearts one after the other. The guys surround Keska again so she can change back and redress. I then dismiss everyone.

LIAM: How could they, after everything, she saved them, and what do they do? They turn their backs on her. I just don't get it. Well, if she has to leave I am going with her. I don't care what mom and dad say. I will leave with her. I can finish school wherever she goes. Hell, she'll have to finish school wherever she goes.

DRAKE: After the executions I go get cleaned up. Well, the Pack knows now, about both Jessie, and Corla, I don't know how they feel about any of it, except that Keska and Corla are too dangerous. I shake my head. I head down to the barracks I need to keep myself busy or else I am going to lose it. I set up a table and I have the POW/refugees brought out one by one to get their names, and packs, and if there is anyone that we might be able to contact for them. Though out the process many asked about the red wolf, and was she really real. I finally had it with their questions about her, I linked her. "Kes, can you have Corla come to the barracks? Please, they want to know if she is real, and if she can talk." "Yes father I will come." I close the link. 5 minutes later, Corla comes into the barracks. ("I understand that several of you are unsure of the fact that I am real, well here I am, and yes I am talking, and yes I am a red wolf. Is there anything else that you would like to know of or about me?") I sit at the table and watch their reactions to her. I just smile to myself. "Can we touch you?" I hear several ask her. ("I will allow it, but be mindful, and once you have touched me please move to the back so the others that are curious may come forward to also take a turn.") She said to them. It took about 30 minutes for those that wanted to touch her to come forward and touch her.

Her father didn't give the stats in the fight. He should have said that because of her they minimal casualties and wounded. And also what the total number of her kills were. That he was proud to say she helped save the pack.

DRAKE: Corla stayed for about the next 30-40 minutes, while I continued to take down their names, and if there was anyone that we could contact for them. After Corla left, Mitchell came and sat down next to me to help process people through a little quicker, "It's sad that the Pack won't just except her." Mitchell said at one point. "I know, but there is nothing that can be done, I can't force them." I say. After hearing that conversation, a lot of them said they would go with the red wolf, that they would follow the red wolf. Processing them took the rest of the day.

LILLY: I went in search of Keska, and when I couldn't locate her I linked her. "Kes, dear I want you to start packing, we will leave in a couple days when you have turned in your notice to the restaurant, and to your Aikido master. Let the others know what the plan is so they can also be ready to go." "Ok Nana I will let them know." I close the link and go home to inform Stephen that we will be moving to Rickard's People's area up in Canada, and to start the packing process.

KESKA: I tell the guys what Nana said, and that I will need to start packing. "I am not going to tell you that you have to come with me." I say to them. "But I am asking you to come with," "Are you kidding me! hell no I'm not staying, my parents could care less about me anyway, I coming with you!" Mackie says. "Wherever you go princess I go." Trevor says. "Where my girl goes I go." Says Dutch. "Thank you. Then I guess we all need to start packing, and Trevor, Dutch you will have to let your parents, and the royal pack know where you are going to be." I say to them. And they nod.

LIAM: I go to dad's office, looking for him after the executions, but he wasn't there. I go to mom's office to see if I could find her. I knock on the door and wait. I hear her call out. "Come." I walk in and close the door behind me. "Do you know where Kes will be going?" I asked her. "Yes Liam, she will be going to spend some time with Papa Rickard's people, they will be able to help her control her powers." "I want to go with her." "Why?" "Because I want to be with her." "Liam she will be getting trained, and then she will come home, it's not like she will be gone forever." "I don't care; I want to go with her." "You still have school, and your training." "I can go to school wherever Kes goes, she still has school too." "When your father is done with the refugees we will discuss this." She tell me. "Fine, I will wait, but I'm not changing my mind." I told her.

LILLY: I call a wolf-owned moving company to be on premises in two days, I figure that that should be enough time for all of us to be ready. I know the girls don't really have much, their clothes, and their bedroom items, laptops, phones, the car, but not a whole house, so it shouldn't be too bad.

KESKA: I call master Cho and let him know that both Mackie and I wouldn't be in classes anymore, Then I grabbed Mackie and the guys, got the car and we headed to the restaurant to let them know that we needed to quit our positions, and that we were sorry for the short notice, but it was a family emergency. I know it wasn't the truth, but to tell them the truth would expose us, and we can't do that, so family emergency it is. When we got back we all started to get things packed up, the guys came to help, we first got Mackie's room packed up, there wasn't much left, because she had been staying with the guys in their suite. Then my room, I figured I would leave the beds, and just get a new one, the two twin beds wouldn't fit both Trevor and I anyway.

BARRETT: When I got word about the war/battel not really sure it could be classified as a war, I sent a quarter of our whole force down to finish off Stone Claw. I also contacted Alpha Drake to see how things were there. I told him I was sending a couple of vehicles his way for Trevor and Dutch. And that I was going to finish Stone Claw. He told me that he had around 200 refugees, that Stone Claw had forced to fight, and that they turned themselves over for protection. He told me that some of them said Stone Claw were holding the families of some of them. I told him that we were going to finish Stone Claw, and when we were done, there would be no more Stone Claw. I made arrangements with him that once everything was secure we bring in the refugees to get their family and other Pack members if they were still there. He thanked me. I told my men to try to keep the casualties to a minimum, as Stone Claw had prisoners of the families from the Packs that they took over. I told our men that Stone Claw had attacked Blue Crescent without provocation, and that the youngest Prince and third born Gamma Dutch were present at the Pack when the attack took place, as they had both found their mates and stayed with them there for a while. Our men are both fierce and loyal, and when they heard the one of their princes' was put in danger because of Stone Claw all they wanted was to annihilate Stone Ciaw. I decided to send Marsh as well.

DRAKE: I got Barrett's call just after dinner. Once I was done on the phone with him, I was hit with Liam's request to go with Keska. I almost instantly refused him but with everything else that I had screwed up lately I have to consider it. Do I want to let him go? No, I do not, but I also don't need him being pissed at me, and mopping and giving push back on everything I would tell him to do either. Not that he would do it every time but just enough to be annoying and push the boundaries. I know that he wouldn't do it Lilly, so I think I will let him go with them, plus, he will be able to get to know who his grandfather was. The next morning, I told Liam he could go, but if he caused any trouble he was coming back immediately. I was back down at the barracks after that to talk with the refugees. "Some of you have stated that Stone Claw have your families as hostages, I need to know their names, and a physical description of everyone they are holding. The Royal Pack is going to be sending troops to take them out completely. I need to get this information to them so that we can save your families." I tell them. So, it was another day spent with them, taking breaks just for meals, and getting the information I needed to pass on to Prince Barrett.

LIAM: I am ecstatic after dad tell me I can go. I go to find Kes. "I can go! I can go!" I tell her as I jump at her. She just catches me. "Liam!" "I can go, dad said yes!" "Ok, little brother, ok. Then I guess we better get you packed up as well." "Yes." And we head to my room to start packing up my stuff. I know that I can't take everything, and I am going to miss not having my gaming system, but I can send for it, if I have the space for it. This is going to be so great!"

KESKA: I link Nana. "Nana, father said that Liam could come with us, is that going to be ok?" "I am sure it will be just fine dear. I will call the Elder and let him know that we will have one more than expected with us." "Thank you Nana." "Welcome dear." I close the link and continue to help get Liam packed. I feel the push of a link, so I open it. "Where are you love?" I hear Trevor in my head. "In Liam's room, Father told him he could come with us, so I am helping him pack and making sure he doesn't try to take the hole house with him." Trevor chuckles "Would you like some help?" "Sure." "I'll be there in a minute." I close the link. A minute later there is a knock-on Liam's door. "Who is it?" Liam asked "Trevor." "Come." Trevor comes into the room bringing Mackie and Dutch with him. "We've come to help get you packed squirt." "Hey, I'm not a squirt." Trevor just grins. Between all of us we get Liam packed up and ready to go tomorrow.

SETH: I know that Keska will be leaving, and Mackie will be going with her, I am going as well, I don't care if they say no, I will follow them, I need to prove that I am sorry, and that I want to make up for everything. So, I am packing up my things and loading my truck, my parents aren't thrilled that I am leaving but I don't care. I am going with them.

LILLY: I call Emory. "As far as I know, there will be 7 of us, we will be leaving tomorrow morning, and you will get to meet 2 of Rickard's grandchildren, as the youngest one will also be coming along, he doesn't trust that his sister will be ok with out him." I chuckle. "I will make sure that we have space for a dozen then." "We don't need that much space." "Lilly it has been my experience in situations like this that more people come, because of the same reason you just mentioned, rather it is friends, or other family members, it happens." "Ok, but I honestly don't think you need to have that much space for us." "Well, it will be ready any way just in case." "Very well, be seeing you soon. Bye." "Bye."

KESKA: Moving day. I am a little anxious, I can't eat much. My stomach is in knots, this has always been my home, even though it hasn't always been the greatest, it has always been home. I know that I will miss some things about it, but I can't say that I will miss everything. "Liam have you told Betsey that you're leaving with us?" "Oh crap! No." "Then you need to do that, and do it now. Let her know that she will be the one to take care of the seniors, from here on out." "I will." I watch as he takes off in the direction of Betsey's home.
