

THE STARS ARE ORIGINALLY A PAIR - NEW YEAR'S EVE DINNER

After returning home, An Guo Ting immediately went to the kitchen to work, while Guan Ya Xin was packing up today's spoils, An Xingyue leaned back on the sofa, eyes dazed, seemingly wondering why they had spent the day out shopping, and most importantly: they actually got to spend New Year's Eve with her this year, which was never expected.

No matter how An Xingyue is torn, An Guo Ting is now cooking his baby daughter's favorite dishes, this opportunity is rare, after all, there is really too little time for the family to eat together.

When Guan Yaxin packed up her things and came out, she saw An Xingyue leaning on the sofa and looking down at her phone, slowly walked to her side and sat down, wanting to chat but there seemed to be no suitable reason.

An Xingyue is now looking at the chat records of their groups, because today are outside, she did not look at the phone, so do not know that the bad guys in the group chat so much.

The main thing is that Su Zhiqing and Mo Zhicheng said they just returned to South City today, and then also bought gifts for everyone, after the start of the school year can be given to everyone, and then that pile of people in the owl, simply is the absolute.

Obviously everyone is not short of money, but in some respects is very stingy, do not know also think they are poor dead.

An Xingyue saw Zhou Junxing fancy want gifts, simply refresh her three views, after all, when she was in Kyoto, night Xiu Chen took her into his circle, and then there are other people in the time, Zhou Junxing but behaved very reserved, which like the group that way, actually fancy want gifts, shameless, hum.

An Xingyue through Kyoto this time, kind of know how different they are compared to in school.

But even if the group is making a lot of noise, but she actually did not see the night Xiu Chen's speech, she did not speak because she was out all day and was not available, what about Ah Chen?

Although it is said that he is unruly and high-cold, but it is all external, to their own people quite good, but today Zhou Junxing @ him quite a few times, but he did not come out.

This way, An Xingyue suddenly found that today's big brother did not say Happy New Year to her, nor did he invite her to video chat, is there no time yet?

When An Xingyue was speculating, An Guo Ting started to bring out the dishes and the New Year's Eve dinner started.

Although An Xingyue doesn't see An's father, but for his level of cooking is still very recognized, so An Xingyue very enjoyable to finish this meal.

The big brother is a bit lonely, especially when the family reunion, he is alone in the house, eating takeout.

This is not only lonely anymore, but also a bit pathetic.

Night Xiu Chen lying on the sofa, clicked on the phone screen, then pressed it black again, so on and so forth, and finally clicked on the photo of his girlfriend, rubbing it with his fingertips.

The first thing I wanted to do was to go back to South City and spend New Year's Eve with her in the same city, but I was not satisfied.

I want to hug her properly, I want to hug her and say I miss her so much.

But she knew he was staying alone in South City for New Year's Eve will certainly hurt him, he did not want her to be sad.

Just go to her downstairs and sneak a look at her, OK.

Wait to react, he has the whole person standing in her downstairs, night Xiu Chen snickered, this feeling is really

An Xingyue at this time is in the living room with Mrs. An watching the Spring Festival dinner, and then from time to time look at the phone, after all, her little brother has not yet looked for her today ah.

"Yueyue can you go down and help dad buy something? Daddy is in a hurry." An Guo Ting came out from the study and looked at An Xingyue and said pleadingly.

An Xingyue looked at the neatly dressed, sort of handsome An dad, then glanced at the stupid Mrs. An, if she hadn't figured out what was going on, she was considered stupid.

"Okay, I'll go out for a while, you guys take your time." After saying that, An Xingyue took the keys and left.

It was the New Year's Eve, two people were actually going on a date, making her away, was it necessary?

They were going out anyway.

Hm.
