

A Snake 33

Chapter 33: You know Granny Wu too?

"Cough~ actually, I'm a bit scared of this child." I coughed lightly, then carefully stole another glance at Yu Longting.

Not only scared of the child in my belly but also scared of the child's father.

Surprisingly, Yu Longting didn't criticize harshly, "Mmm, I understand."

I hung my head low and followed him.

Am I dreaming?

He isn't angry, so it seems he's quite reasonable.

"You need to adapt quickly, otherwise, what will you do when it's time to give birth?" Yu Longting lowered his gaze with a sly smile.

I suddenly felt weak all over, my calves cramping, "You... you... don't scare me..."

Let alone the scene of giving birth, I don't even want to think about what else he might be like inside my belly.

Other parents might get excited seeing their little baby on a sonogram during an ultrasound.

I think... I might cry in fear~

Yu Longting laughed even more mockingly, triumphantly, and actually scooped me up as I was too scared to walk.

We came to the entrance of that crude restroom, Uncle Jiang lying in a pool of blood at the door.

The place was so secluded that no one had passed by, and no one had rescued Uncle Jiang.

The blood on Uncle Jiang's forehead had almost scabbed over.

His complexion was very pale, which made me a bit panicky.

"Uncle Jiang, it seems... it seems not good." I was extremely tense.

Yu Longting put me down, bent down, and placed three long fingers on Uncle Jiang's pulse, "Mmm, he's lost too much blood, his heart pulse is very faint."

I was terribly panicked, took out my cellphone tremblingly and dialed for an ambulance.

A hand, as polished as white jade, covered my cellphone screen, "This place is too remote, by the time the ambulance arrives, it will be too late to save him."

"You have a way, right?" I had already decided that I would agree instantly to any condition he presented, "If you have a way, I'll do anything, I don't want Uncle Jiang to die."

Yu Longting stared at me, pinched my face, "You are really different from other members of the Su Family, you are heading down this path to meet Granny Wu, right?"

"You know about Granny Wu too?" I nodded at him, "My mom said that to inherit the Life and Death Embroidery of the Su Family, I need to find Granny Wu, but why suddenly mention her?"

"I will accompany you to see Granny Wu, once we're there with Granny Wu, he can be saved." No sooner had Yu Longting's words fallen when a sedan drove up from not far away.

I thought that the car was just passing by, I never expected it to stop next to us.

From the car stepped out a young man dressed like a Taoist, who respectfully got down and called out:
"Lord Snake Lord, Lady of the Snake Lord."

The young Taoist lifted the unconscious Uncle Jiang into the car, placing him in the front passenger seat and fastened the seatbelt.

Yu Longting held the car door open, beckoning me to get in, "Get in the car."

"Oh," I got into the car feeling uneasy, completely baffled by everything.

A snake with a car and even subordinates.

It seems I was truly too ignorant.

I felt very uncomfortable in the car, and he seemed to sense it.

He reached out, holding my hand.

The touch felt exactly like that of the white snake I had touched in my dream.

I got even more nervous, my entire body breaking out in goosebumps.

As we were almost there, I suddenly remembered an important matter, "I don't know if Granny Wu is a good person, I heard He Youfei mention her."

"Oh? Let's hear it." Yu Longting's hand naturally rested on my waist, caressing my belly.

I think he just wanted to feel his child, I didn't dare object and whispered timidly, "He Youfei personally said that Granny Wu called me a Spiritual Girl, a snake-bearing Spiritual Girl!"

It was because of what Granny Wu said, that He Youfei had bullied me! I don't know if pleading with Granny Wu would truly save Uncle Jiang...