

A Snake 54

Chapter 54: Missing You, Missing You So Much

"Get your snake away from me!" As soon as I reached the third floor, I whispered furiously at Yu Longting.

Yu Longting raised my hands above my head and pinned them against the wall as he kissed my lips, "Let me kiss you enough first."

"Someone... will see," I murmured, my back pressed against the wall, passively accepting his engulfing kisses, my body uncontrollably softening.

"I didn't see anything, carry on, carry on." Xiao Li's exclamation reached my ears.

I saw her dart past behind Yu Longting, running downstairs, all the while wailing, "Oh my God, dog murder! What's wrong with being single, to be tortured like this..."

"Oops, we really got caught, but luckily they all know I'm your boyfriend," Yu Longting said with a teasing smile, pecking my chin with gentle nips while flicking his wrist with the other hand.

The Black Snake shot out from the leg of my pants and coiled around his fair wrist.

In the blink of an eye, it climbed up and disappeared into his short sleeves.

There was nothing I could do about him, so I sighed, "Why did you even dress like this to come here?"

He was dressed like an ordinary person, without any air of superiority.

Suddenly, it felt as if he had done it on purpose, wanting to blend into my life.

"I missed you, missed you a lot," Yu Longting murmured into my ear, "Feels like... it's been a long time since I saw you."

My heart fluttered slightly, as if a current had passed through, "Has it been a week since we last met?"

Ever since he revealed his secret crush on me in front of Liu Hongluan.

Like a Goblin unsealed, he no longer avoided or hid his feelings for me, becoming all the more gentle and patient.

This guy... what exactly is he up to?

Yu Longting replied, "Yeah, because I needed to hide and heal."

"Is your injury better now?"

"Do you care?"

"Yes."

"It's slowly healing."

I breathed a sigh of relief.

Yu Longting picked me up in his arms.

I looked around anxiously, "In broad daylight, you're not going to..."

Yu Longting: "What do you think?"

"Can't you not be so dirty?" I complained inwardly.

At least wait until nightfall.

Yu Longting carried me into the bathroom, "It's your thoughts that are dirty, seeing dirt where there is none."

"??" I was puzzled.

Perhaps I really wronged him?

Was I the one being too sensitive, and he didn't mean it that way after all...

"I'm going to wash your hair," Yu Longting said as he set me down.

He also placed the red plastic bag he had been carrying since we left the restaurant on the glass counter in front of us.

He poured water into my basin.

He had been carrying that bag since we left the restaurant.

What could be inside? A charm? A snake? Or something else?

Curiosity got the better of me, and I peeped inside.

Conditioner and shampoo.

The things he had been carrying all this time turned out to be such ordinary daily necessities?

Afterward, Yu Longting had me sit down and truly started washing my hair, "Using soap will make your hair too dry."

"Do you like girls with soft hair?" I felt a sense of dizziness when his slender fingers massaged my scalp.

He wasn't a terrifying ghost python, but an extremely thoughtful boyfriend of the century.

"I just can't bear to see your hair too dry," Yu Longting said as he applied conditioner to the ends of my hair, gently rubbing it in.

My little heart trembled at his words, "Oh."

This guy was definitely seducing me!!

His skills at sweet-talking were top-notch; I was almost taken in.

The warm water from the shower washed over my head as Yu Longting added, "I will have to leave for a while, about one or two months."
