

A Snake 71

Chapter 71: Declaring Sovereignty

"Don't talk nonsense, this is Immortal Liu, who has already transformed into Ying Long."

Yu Longting whispered in my ear.

I hurriedly corrected myself smartly, "Immortal Liu, hello, I misspoke just now, please forgive me."

Such... a grand Immortal Maiden.

Even her head seemed enveloped, I would believe it if you said she was a True Dragon.

What kind of... formidable presence has the Zhou Family provoked...

In the blink of an eye, the giant snake was gone.

Only a crater remained on the ground.

"How does Snake Lord have the time to come to such a place?" A delicate and soft voice came from the sofa nearby.

I looked towards the voice and saw a woman in green sitting there.

Her face appeared very young, yet her hair was completely white, giving her the look of a youthful elder.

Yu Longting led me to sit down opposite the woman, "I bring Madam here to visit Elder and also to ask a favor of you."

"Is this girl the Spiritual Girl? Fine beauty, well-matched." Immortal Liu wore a captivating smile, yet the smile did not reach her eyes, "Thinking of pleading for the Zhou Family? Do you know the people of the Zhou Family killed my grandson?"

Yu Longting, perhaps afraid I was nervous, casually rubbed my palm, "The entire Zhou Family is dead, I'm not pleading for anyone, and those who harmed your grandson deserved death."

"Snake Lord is still understanding as ever." Immortal Liu's slender waist rested on the armrest, clearly uncomfortable sitting, as she half leaned down enticingly, "Your Madam is not bad, she even tried to save my grandson, but unfortunately, she couldn't stand against those with cruel hearts."

I pointed at myself, somewhat surprised, "You really think I'm not bad? You don't dislike me?"

"What? You think I'm flattering your husband? Although he's the Snake Lord, I still speak my mind." Immortal Liu laughed lightly, her every frown and smile blooming like begonias, the epitome of blooming beauty.

I was completely flustered, almost charmed by a woman to the point of heart trembling, "Then... why did Zhou Ping still make a move on me?"

Yu Longting frowned in displeasure.

"You are the Spiritual Girl, having you offers many benefits; even a woman gouging your eyes out could inherit your powers." Immortal Liu was too seductive, she beckoned me with her finger coyly, and even gave an enticing wink, "Although Zhou Ping was controlled by my disciples, it's hard to guarantee some of them didn't covet you, and that's beyond control."

I felt I only comprehended half of what Immortal Liu said, my mind more occupied with her enchanting allure.

Is this the so-called...

Being charmed by beauty?

But Immortal Liu is female, a female!!

Yu Longting swiftly shifted his body to shield most of me from view, his eyes turning a fierce cyan, ominously declaring his authority.

Immortal Liu stroked her chin, showing a contemplative expression, "Having known you for so many years, I never knew, Snake Lord, that you were such a fiercely protective husband."

"Su Wan is inexperienced in cultivation; I have not seen such a Charm Technique, please show mercy," Yu Longting said flatly, but his aura was already dangerously tense.

Immortal Liu looked puzzled, "Ah? You haven't seen it? Your Charm Technique is said to be even more formidable than those of the Fox Clan, supposedly unrivaled... oh... you haven't used it on your Madam, have you... such a powerful art, yet not letting your own people enjoy..."

"Have you had enough? My patience is limited, stop talking about these useless things, let's discuss the main issue, I hope you can leave the Zhou Family as soon as possible," Yu Longting pinch his brow irritably, warningly said.
