

A Snake 88

Chapter 88: Knock the skulls off those old immortals

Wei Yao burst out of the restroom, holding a pair of trousers that weren't put on properly, "Dad, what nonsense are you talking about?"

"Uncle, please sit down." I helped the middle-aged uncle to sit properly, and with my head turned to Wei Yao said, "Wei Yao, you go wait in the restroom, and I will speak to uncle properly."

Although I understand Wei Yao's feelings.

He was way too impulsive, rushing out without being properly dressed.

"I'll leave my dad to you." Wei Yao said, embarrassed, and went back into the restroom.

It took Chen Decheng more than ten minutes to arrive.

He went to the 24-hour convenience store at the entrance of the hospital and bought a pair of disposable underwear.

After Wei Yao had changed, he emerged from the restroom with a sullen face.

He looked as if he was ready to take someone down with him at any moment.

Chen Decheng asked me worriedly, "What should we do now?"

"Of course we go find that despicable old couple and flip their damn skulls open," Wei Yao said impulsively.

I glanced at Wei Yao and said, "I think since Wei Yao has taken off the 'Borrowed Life Underwear,' the person on the other end who borrowed life must be lacking life force and will definitely be more anxious than us. They will surely come to us first."

"Cough cough cough cough cough—" A string of a woman's coughing sounds erupted, leaving everyone puzzled and searching.

The middle-aged woman on the hospital bed coughed while she removed her oxygen mask, "So stuffy, why am I... lying on a hospital bed..."

"Mom, you're awake? You finally woke up. Is there anywhere on your body that feels uncomfortable?" Wei Yao rushed to the woman's bedside and asked with concern.

The woman looked puzzled, "Young man, who are you, why are you calling me mom?"

Immediately after, the woman looked at her husband in the room with shock.

The middle-aged uncle sighed and said solemnly, "Mei Xue, he is Junsheng, the Junsheng who got lost when he was ten years old!!"

"What? Junsheng... he... how did he come back?" Mei Xue was too excited and fainted.

The middle-aged uncle quickly pressed her acupoint to revive her.

Mei Xue, once excited, was frantically searching for her son, holding her son's hand and babbling, "My dear son, how did you find us? Where have you been all these years? Why didn't you come back to find mom and dad... "

Despite Wei Yao being a hot-headed guy, he was simply a well-behaved child in front of his mom, Mei Xue.

So obedient it was almost unbelievable.

He knelt by the bed, letting Mei Xue stroke his hair.

He only told Mei Xue that he accidentally got lost and then hit his head, losing his memory, before being taken in by someone else.

He didn't dare tell his mother that he had been maliciously adopted to borrow life force, losing ten years of his lifespan.

Seeing that Mei Xue was almost recovered, I asked her to take off the Blood Splendor Robe.

Then a series of exclamations erupted in the ward.

Mei Xue had been so severely injured that she was almost on the verge of dying from heart failure.

Yet at this moment, there wasn't even a scar on her body.

I too felt extremely embarrassed as just moments before, the ward was in utter chaos.

I had forgotten to have the patient take off the Blood Splendor Robe earlier, and now, not a single scar remained on her body.

If a doctor were to come check now, they'd surely be scared to death.

Wei Yao made a phone call, instructing his assistant to handle the discharge procedures for Mei Xue.

I made a decision on the spot and said to Chen Decheng, "This incident with Wei Yao probably has a manipulator behind it. Boss, you should head back first to avoid getting involved. I'll follow Wei Yao."

"Little Witch, are you not afraid of getting dragged into this?" Wei Yao, having calmed down, began to casually assume a carefree attitude again and even gave me a nickname.

After recovering from his sadness, Wei Yao's father, Ou Zongren, finally showcased a father's authority and glared at Wei Yao, "Junsheng, that's no way to talk to the Master. She's kindly trying to help us."
