

A Snake 98

Chapter 98: Haven't seen me in so long, don't you miss me?

"Okay, I'll take you to see a doctor," Yu Longting's tone deepened.

"I'm a little scared," I confided softly.

Xuan Fanyin looked so wicked.

Could there be some virus on his rat?

"It'll be fine; even if it's not, your husband will cure you," Yu Longting's gentle and clear words were very comforting.

I nodded and unconsciously fell asleep in his embrace.

I was only woken up by Yu Longting when we arrived at the hospital for the blood test.

The results of the blood test would take about two hours.

The emergency room at the hospital re-bandaged the bite wound.

After bandaging the wound.

I sat beside Yu Longting, quietly waiting.

Seeing that the report showed no immediate problems, I breathed a sigh of relief.

But the doctor also said.

There are so many viruses on rodents.

Some have a latent period, and he told me to come back for a recheck after a while.

"There are lots of people in the hospital, I can walk on my own," I said to Yu Longting.

Yu Longting stayed by my side, supporting me as I hobbled along with gauze on my foot, "We've been together long enough to not be shy. Passersby who see you being carried will only envy your husband's strength."

Me: "..."

Why does this guy always rev his engine without warning!!

Indeed, what the books say is true, it's in the nature of snakes!

At the hospital's entrance, by the roadside, a car slowly stopped.

Beichen, wearing a Taoist robe, got out of the car, "Snake Lord, Lady of the Snake Lord."

Just as I was about to get into the car.

Beichen suddenly said, "Snake Lord, you're injured?"

"Nosy," Yu Longting said with slight annoyance.

Beichen bowed his head, not daring to speak any further.

After I got into the car, I asked quietly, "You're injured? Where are you hurt?"

"It's just a minor injury, no big deal," Yu Longting wrapped his arm around my waist and touched my belly with his fingertips.

I looked at him, "Don't hide it from me, I want to know."

"I fought toe-to-toe with the Snake Dragon in the North Sea, how could I not get hurt?" Yu Longting spoke casually as he leaned in and ground his lips against mine heavily, "Pity me."

My eyes stung, "Not only me, Dumpling will pity you, too."

"Dumpling? That little rascal only has you in his heart; he wouldn't care about me." Yu Longting said this, yet he lay down and pressed his ear against my belly to listen.

My face turned red. Was he listening for the baby to move?

But I was so afraid other sounds from my belly might also be heard, especially since I was a bit hungry now.

Tense all over, I cleared my throat, "It's the Snake Kid, isn't it?"

"Mmm... Madam is absolutely correct..." Yu Longting laughed.

I couldn't laugh, "You got hurt fighting the Snake Dragon because your cultivation was impaired. It definitely wouldn't have happened before."

"So what? Just a bunch of little snakes, I can easily thrash them," he lifted his head with an air of defiant pride.

That expression was as if to say, you little girl dare to doubt my strength?

I knew he was powerful, but he was indeed injured, and it was all to fulfill Immortal Liu's request, "Can... can I see your injury?"

"Here in the car? Aren't you afraid that Beichen would see? Remember, I belong to only you," Yu Longting said as he twined around me, his body seemingly boneless as it entangled me like a vine.

My cheeks burned like fire, "But I really want to see. Where are we going? Are we going to Wei Yao's place to pick up Yu Rongling? Once we're in the bedroom with no one around, you can show me, right?"

"Nonsense, why would we bother with that mutt in the middle of the night? We're going to a hotel. Haven't you missed me after all these days?"

The car stopped, and Yu Longting carried me out of the vehicle.
