

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 101[791 words]

Chapter 101

When she's done, I lay there panting. "Fuck that felt good," I say as she moves off the bed.

I open my eyes and look at her and what I see has me going rock hard all over again.

Her chest is covered in my cum.

Christina

I don't think I've ever felt this powerful. Sebastian, arguably one of the most in control, restrained men I've ever met, keeps losing control because of me. Now that the roles are reversed and I'm in charge, it's more apparent just how much he's struggling to maintain control. A man who was number one on the leaderboard, who was on the leaderboard for nearly two decades, has a lot of control. Just not with

1. me.

I watch his body respond when he sees my chest covered in his cum. He's instantly hard and his eyes go nearly black. Because this level of control feels so fucking heady, I swipe my finger through his cum and bring my finger to my mouth, sucking on it like I plan to suck on him in a few moments.

His growl is much louder than before, and his claws extend before he can get control of his wolf.

"Yum," I say. "I think I understand now how you can go can down-on me for hours. If I taste anything close to how you taste, I could feast on you all night long."

Chapter 101

I'm not a flirtatious woman. I'm not coy. I never have been. But something about Sebastian has me biting my lip. His eyes flash to my mouth so I make a point of licking my lip, getting the last of his taste that lingers there.

"I think I might be failing the massage portion of tonight," I say, running my hands over his legs.

"I feel pretty relaxed," he says, his deep voice rolling over my body like a caress.

I let my fingers trail over his legs and up to his stomach. His muscles quiver under my touch and he gasps.

“Are you going to let me taste you, Sebastian?”

“Please, goddess, yes,” he growls.

I smile. “Are you talking to the goddess, or are you using a pet name for me, Sebastian?” I purr as I wrap my hand around his hard length.

“Either works,” he says, his breathing becoming ragged.

“Tell me,” I say, leaning over running my tongue over the tip of his cock. It twitches against my tongue. “How do you like a woman to go down on you, Sebastian? Do you prefer to lay on the bed, to sit in a chair, or to stand while she kneels in front of you?”

His eyes are black as onyx now. “I like to stand.”

I smile, sucking the head of his cock into my mouth and swirling my tongue around a moment before standing up and reaching out a hand.

“Then come stand for me, Sebastian.”

He sits up, then looks at me.

Chapter 101

“Are you

. Christina. I don’t want you to feel...”

I put my fingers to his lips. “This is about giving YOU the best orgasm of your life. This isn’t about me. I’ve had a very good instructor on the value and benefits of giving someone the strongest orgasm they’ve had. I’d like to practice what I’ve learned on you tonight.”

He closes his eyes, trying to control his breathing before he stands. Before I can kneel in front of him, he slides his hand into my hair.

“Thank you.”

I smile at him. “You can thank me when I’m done.”

ever

“Thank you for giving this to me. Even if it’s not a good orgasm, which I know it will be, it still means a lot that you would do this for me.”

I slide my hands down his chest, to his stomach and then to his hard length. I watch him as I stroke him, wondering if he never asked his mate to go down on him like this. Maybe he didn’t like the idea of her on her knees for him, or maybe it made her uncomfortable, but he obviously likes the idea of it.

Holding him in my hands, and keeping my eyes on him, I slowly kneel in front of him. He growls again, a low, possessive growl as I suck the tip of his cock into my mouth.

“You look so fucking sexy with my cum on your chest and my cock in your mouth,” he growls.

I smile around his cock. The very reserved Sebastian likes to talk dirty. I’m good with that.

I realize that it’s true what they say about Alphas. Having never been with one and never wanting to see my brother naked, I wasn’t sure that the rumors were true. But as I slide him into my mouth, licking and sucking him. I realize that he is larger than the other men that I’ve been with, even the Betas.

Chapter 101

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 102[778 words]

Chapter 102

I move one hand to his hips, keeping the other wrapped around him and stroking him as I adjust to his size in my mouth. I feel his hand go into my hair and I look up to see him watching me. If possessiveness had a picture, it would be Sebastian right now.

“Fuck, Christina. I’m going to blow my fucking load in your mouth. You need to be prepared if that’s not what you want,” he says, his voice becoming raspier as he fights to maintain control.

I suck my way off of him, stroking him as I look at him. “I’ll say it again, Sebastian. This is about you. What would you like? Would you like to feel my throat swallowing around you as you come?”

His entire body tenses and shivers. “Fuck, yes.”

I flick my tongue over the tip of his cock. “Then that’s the orgasm I want to give you.”

I slide him back into my mouth and because he seems to want the connection, I keep my eyes on him. I slowly take him deeper and when he hits the back of my throat, I relax my muscles and slide him deeper, “Fuck!” he growls, the hand in my hair tightening as he struggles to maintain control.

When I take him all the way down, I press my face against his body, holding him there and growling low as I watch him.

His entire body jerks and he grits his teeth hard enough that I can hear

1. it.

I slide him out and take a breath, continuing to growl as I take him deep again, then pull out enough to breathe.

Chapter 102

When his body becomes so tense that I know he’s on the verge of exploding I move faster, my throat able to take him better now that he stretched it out.

“Christina!” he growls a moment before he thrusts into my throat roaring his release to the ceiling as his cock twitches, shooting his release down my throat.

I work my throat around him, swallowing everything that he’s giving

1. me.

“Oh fuck, oh fuck, oh fuck!” he begins chanting, his eyes returning to me as I hold him deep as long as I can.

When I slide him out of my throat, he’s still jerking his release, so I use my tongue to suck gently, encouraging him to give me every last drop, before I finally slide him out of my mouth.

I watch as his body goes slack, and his eyes roll closed. But rather than standing up, I start stroking him again.

“What are you doing?” he asks, his fingers now caressing my hair where he’d been gripping me so hard.

“You didn’t think we were done yet, did you?” I ask him.

His eyes open and he looks at me. “I don’t think I can come again so soon, Christina.”

“Really? Because you seem to come a lot when you’re going down on me.”

“Yeah, but I don’t ever come that hard,” he says. I smile as he starts getting hard again in my hand.

He just shakes his head and my smile grows.

“I’d like to try something different this time,” I tell him, leaning forward and gently sucking his tip, making his body jerk and his length harden faster.

“What’s that?” he asks, his voice already getting deep again.

“I want you to show me how you like to fuck a woman’s throat,” I say.

He frowns, watching me. “How do you propose I do that?” he asks.

“You take control. You slide in and out of my mouth and throat in the way that feels best to you. Show me what you like, Sebastian, so next time I can make it even better for you.”

He stares at me like I’ve grown another head. But his head, the one in my hands, has gone rock hard. He likes this idea.

“You would let me do that?” he whispers.

“I intend to ace this class, Sebastian. The only way I’m going to do that is if you tell me what you like and how you like it.”

I hold his gaze and slide him in my mouth, then pull him out again. “Show me,” I whisper.

I watch him as I slide him into my mouth again, waiting for him to take the lead. I move my hands to his hips, sliding my thumbs over his adonis belt while I wait.

His eyes are black again, but there’s something else behind it, something almost dangerous.

He gently takes my face in his hands and begins sliding himself slowly in and out of my mouth.

Chapter 100

I swirl my tongue around him, and he gasps. “Yes, just like that,” he says, continuing his slow movements, going a bit deeper each time. I swear it’s almost like he’s making love to my mouth.

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 103[796 words]

“I like to watch,” he says, panting as he holds my gaze.

When he hits the back of my throat, he slides a hand down to my throat.

“I like to feel myself in your throat,” he says, gasping as he slides himself all the way down, pressing his hips against my mouth as I continue to swirl my tongue around him.

“You feel so fucking good,” he says, his body shivering as he slides out of my throat again.

His motions remain slow for several more minutes and then as his body begins to tense, his movements come faster.

I begin humming, sending the vibrations through his cock as he fucks my throat.

“Fuck, Christina! Fuck!” he roars again as he thrusts deep, pressing his hips tightly against my face as I swallow his release.

“So. Fucking. Good!” he growls as his body jerks.

I hold myself against him as long as I can, then tap his hip, letting him he needs to release me.

know

“Sorry,” he pants, sliding out my throat. I suck in air, but again I gently lick and suck him until his aftershocks are done.

When he pulls out of my mouth, he drops to his knees in front of me.

“Fucking incredible,” he says, before taking my mouth if a very dominant, very possessive kiss.

Chapter 103

Sebastian

I wake up still buzzing from the fucking amazing orgasms that I had last night. It’s not that my mate never went down on me. But she didn’t like the idea of being on her knees in front of me. Something about me being an Alpha and her not being one made her feel subservient when she was on her knees in front of me. I never felt that way, but I didn’t want her to feel that way either, so we just avoided that position.

I'd been shocked when Christina had not only suggested it but seemed to enjoy the power that comes with it. She seemed to like watching as she got me off so fucking easily. To see such a strong, powerful, beautiful woman in front of me like that, my cock deep in her throat had made fireworks explode behind my eyes when I'd come.

That by itself would have been enough to say it was one of the best orgasms of my life. But she didn't stop there. She let me fuck her throat the way I wanted to. She gave the control to me and as an Alpha, I fucking love being in control. Christina gave me the opportunity to live out fantasies that I've never been able to live out before. I would never have put my hand around my mate's throat like I did with Christina. Even if she had been comfortable being on her knees, she wouldn't have liked it. Christina wasn't intimidated by the gesture at all. Instead, she fucking hummed, making the second orgasm even stronger than the first. Or I guess by then it was the third. No wonder she loses track. I can barely count to three when she's done with me.

Now, lying in bed, stroking my cock which has gone hard remembering last night, I feel the first twinges of guilt that I've felt since my mate passed away. I've been with other women since Suzanne passed, but it was never anything more than caring and sexual release. I was never mean, rude, or disrespectful to the women I've been with, but there was nothing more than mutual desire to find comfort in each other's arms. And never had any of those encounters come close to being as wonderful as what I'd had with Suzanne.

Being with Christina is different. I have feelings for her and so does my wolf. My orgasms with her shouldn't be better than the ones that I had with my mate, but I never came like that when my mate was going down on me. I could argue that it's because Christina is an Alpha or that she's working hard to pass her class. But deep down, I know what's going on. My feelings for her are impacting my response to her. And for the first time in my life, I feel like I'm cheating on my mate. Mentally, I know that Suzanne is gone, but I never expected to feel more with anyone than I did with my fated mate and now I'm not sure what to do with those feelings.

And those thoughts have me going limp in my hand. I sigh and get up, getting a shower and getting ready for the day. Today is Sunday, that last day before hell week starts. The second week is always the hardest for everyone. It's the week that we break the Alphas down so we can spend the rest of the time building them back up again into better, stronger Alphas.

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 104[764 words]

When I walk downstairs to get coffee, it's chaos. Not the usual chaos. Today, there's an undercurrent of frustration.

"What's going on?" I ask James as I walk in.

"Apparently Emma was on clean up duty last night and left the kitchen. "Apparently Emma was on a fucking mess. And not only the kitchen. It looks like she and whoever she was with had a party and most likely got drunk last night," James says, watching as all of the assistants are in the back helping to clean.

"Logan?" I ask him.

"That would be my guess," he says.

"Do you guys need any help?" I ask the assistants in the back.

"No. Like we told Alpha James, you'll just be in the way. Let us do this," Mia says from somewhere in the back where I can't see her.

"Because you don't fucking go to bed without doing your assigned tasks, Emma! Do I have to fucking stand over you to make sure you get your shit done?" Sylvie demands as she walks in, dragging a still half- asleep or more likely, hungover Emma behind her.

"No, Luna," she says.

"Obviously, I do! Now everyone is behind because you didn't pull your damn weight. This is your last warning, Emma. If it happens again, you're out. Honestly, I should kick you out now. Not having you here would make all of our lives easier. At least then shit would get done.

when it's supposed to and everyone else wouldn't have to pitch in to clean up all YOU!" she yells, dragging Emma into the kitchen.

There's a lot of banging and cursing. I watch while Mia, Christina, and Charlotte all walk out of the kitchen, looking behind them.

When Christina looks at me, her eyes widen like she's surprised that Sylvie is losing her shit like she is.

"Maybe we should just get rid of her. Josephine will be here next weekend, right?" I ask James quietly.

“Yeah. I’ll talk to Sylvie about it. It’s her call,”

“Alphas,” Christina says, handing both of us a cup of coffee.

“Thanks, Christina. You didn’t have to do that,” I say.

“I need to do something. I’ve never seen Sylvie that angry before.”

“Believe me, that woman has a temper,” James says. “Who is helping Haley with breakfast?”

“Laura and Alpha Ezra. Poor guy, it’s hard enough when you don’t know what you’re doing, but with all of that going on...” she cuts off as we hear a pan slamming against a counter and more cursing.

As the other Alphas come in, Christina moves beside me. My scent is strong on her this morning, probably because my cum was on her body. for so long before she washed it off last night. “How are you feeling this morning, Sebastian?”

ויה

I smile, taking a sip of coffee. “Fucking fantastic, thank you.”

She tries to hide her proud smile, but I still see it.

Chap 104

“We may have to switch for a bit, with me practicing on you. I started my period so I’m going to be a little too sensitive for a couple of days.”

“Gee, twist my arm,” I say, making her laugh. She has such a beautiful laugh.

“I’ll strive to be even better. That’s the goal, right? To be the best?” she asks.

I look at her and nod. Yeah, that is the goal, but how the hell am I going to deal with her being a better lover to me than my own mate was?

Since we have the morning free, I go over my plans for the week. I find James and talk to him about how we’re planning to push these Alphas to their breaking point. Tyler and Christina are easy; we’ll use their brothers. Noah seems to have issues trying to live up to his father's expectations, so we'll use that. According to James, he thinks Liam has father issues too, so we're going to push to exploit that this week. Ezra will be tough, but I think we'll break him by forcing him to realize he can't always be first and the best at everything. And Logan, well, Logan just gets beaten down until he realizes that arrogance doesn't make him better than anyone else.

Sebastian

After lunch, I follow the group outside for Sensory class. Because I'm becoming so attuned to her, I see Christina practically bouncing on her toes.

"What's got you all excited?" I ask her.

"I LOVE this class. It might be my favorite class."

"Now that hurts my feelings. I thought my Strength class was your favorite," I say, teasing her.

Chapter 104

"That class has become frustrating," she says.

"Have you worked through how i defeat the Beast yet?" I ask her.

"I have an idea about that which I intend to try out tomorrow."

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 105[789 words]

"Are you going to be okay, with your period and all?" I ask her. I'm not sure how it affects her, but my mate used to have cramps for a couple of days.

She shrugs. "I'm not going to let the others get ahead of me. I'll take something for the pain and push through."

"I'll tell you what, why don't we spend a little time with me massaging your stomach and your lower back tonight, wherever you have the most pain. Let's see if I can help alleviate your cramps and then you can practice on me," I tell her.

“Thanks, Sebastian. I don’t know if it will help, but I’m willing to try, especially since I’d like to be as pain free as possible tomorrow. I’m pretty sure Tyler will defeat the Beast this week, probably Ezra too. I need to keep up,” she says.

“I agree. And like I’ve said before, I’ll help you in any way I can.”

Because my heightened sense is scent, I watch Tyler and Noah as they catch the scents in the forest. I track them along with the young Alphas, but I also pay attention to Christina. James is pushing her and Ezra hard. They both figure out the animal he’s assigned for today before the other groups. Will is working with Liam and Logan, and Liam is actually doing better than I would have expected. It seems like something has clicked inside him and he’s taking this semester seriously now. I’ve noticed him distancing himself from Logan more and more, which is a good thing.

By the time dinner rolls around, I’m ready to give my tokens to Christina. Like me, I know she’ll be expecting them. I make sure James has the ten-point tokens because Christina has earned some.

After dinner, I wait and when it’s my turn, I hold Christina’s gaze as I walk over.

“Fucking fantastic orgasms,” I say, putting the ‘O’ coin I pulled out of storage just to give her along with two other tokens. The young Alphas all begin howling.

“James, Christina earned a 10-point coin for orgasm through touch alone and another one for orgasm through oral stimulation. And since I believe she’s the first to give her partner an orgasm, she would get the ten points for that as well.”

“Wait, we don’t have to wait until this week for the orgasms to count?” Haley asks.

I turn and look at her, seeing her face turning bright red.

“I didn’t know,” she says. “Tyler gave me my first orgasm two nights ago.” Her face looks like it’s about to burst into flames she’s so red.

“Was that solely through touch, Haley?” James asks her.

“Yes, Alpha. We were working ahead for this week.” I glance at Tyler who is smiling at Haley with a very possessive look on his face. I know the look well. I’m pretty sure I get it every time I know Christina is about to give me coins for making her come.

James turns to Christina. “Sorry, Christina. It looks like you weren’t first. Is there anyone else that had an orgasm before Haley?” he asks the assistants. When no one says anything, he continues. “Okay then, let’s give out some ten-pointers.

I turn back to Christina. “Damn. Sorry.”

Chapter 105

“Why? I still get twenty points tonight. Well, twenty-three actually,” she says sliding my coins closer to her and looking at them. She holds up the ‘O’ coin and raises an eyebrow.

“Any other partner would have one to give. Why should it be any different for me and you?”

“Well done, Alpha,” James says, walking over and handing two ten- point coins to Christina.

“And you as well, Alpha,” he says, walking over and giving two more to Tyler.

When everyone is done handing out coins, Haley finally giving Tyler her ‘O’ coin now that she knows it’s okay, James stands to address the group.

“Before we leave for tonight, I wanted to remind everyone that tomorrow starts week two of this semester. Week two is well known at the Academy as hell week. Anyone want to guess why that is?”

He looks around and when no one else answers, Christina finally does.

“Because it’s the week you’re going to break us down.”

“That’s right,” he says, looking at all of the Alphas. “This week, we will strip you of everything that makes you who you are and next week, we‘ 11 start building you back up into the Alphas you were meant to be. Good luck Alphas and remember, what doesn’t kill you makes you stronger. Dismissed.”

Christina says goodnight to the others, and I watch Ezra approach Charlotte. He’s very competitive, so I know it bothers him that Tyler and Christina are already earning coins for the sex class. If I’m right, he’ll be getting ten points tomorrow night at dinner.

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 106[816 words]

Chapter 106

I'm surprised to see both Liam and Logan approach Mia and Sylvie. I glance at James who is watching the exchange between Logan and Sylvie.

"Fifteen minutes, Sebastian?" Christina asks, pulling my attention to her.

"Yes," I tell her.

"I'd like to practice what I learned last night and maybe try a couple other things," she says.

"I'm open to whatever you'd like to try," I say, already feeling my dick getting hard. "But let's see if we can't make you more comfortable first, okay?"

"Okay, see you in fifteen," she says.

I head upstairs and get ready for Christina. I'm way too excited about seeing her and my dick is already aching to be in her mouth again. Since I'm going to massage her first, I put on a pair of shorts, and I plug in the heating pad I got from the infirmary earlier today.

When she knocks, I open the door, surprised to see her in a bathrobe. I step aside and let her in.

"So, I know you wanted to start massaging me tonight and I really appreciate that, especially since I see the heating pad and my back is practically weeping to lay on it, but before we do that, I wanted to know if this is something that will make tonight better," she says, dropping the bathrobe.

Chapter 106

I totally forget how to breathe and every blood cell in my body just. rushed to my fucking cock that feels like it's about to explode.

She's wearing a see-through, lace white matching bra and panty set. As I stand there gaping at her, she spins around slowly, and I growl when I see the thong, part of it is hidden in her ass cheeks. I have a very strong urge to find the missing thong using only my mouth and tongue.

When she's facing me again, she smiles, looking at my shorts.

"So, this is good?" she asks, tilting her head to the side. Her long, blonde hair slides over her shoulders with the movement making my body shiver.

"You're going to be the fucking death of me," I whisper.

"Maybe we should practice first," she says, slowly walking toward me, her hips swaying as she walks. "And you can massage me later."

She runs her hands over my chest, then slides them down, pushing my shorts over my erection and letting them fall to the floor. She takes me in her hands and bites her bottom lip as she watches my reaction to her.

“You are so fucking sexy,” I gasp.

“Did you want to come on my chest first? Or in my throat?” she purrs softly.

“I want to touch you, but I know you’re too sensitive” I say. “And whatever you decide, it will be fucking fast.”

She leans in, running her nose over my jaw to my ear. “I liked smelling your scent on me all day today. I think I’d like you to come on my chest again,” she whispers.

Chapter 106

145

My entire body jolts in pleasure and my mouth goes dry.

“Yes,” I say, my voice a raspy, growly version of what it normally is.

She smiles, then kneels in front of me, watching me as she licks the precum off my tip. Then she begins stroking me faster.

“Christina,” I growl, unable to look away from her.

“I can’t wait to taste you again, Sebastian,” she purrs and that’s all it takes to have me shooting off. This time, she opens her mouth, catching some of my cum before purring as she swallows it down.

“Fuck, Christina!” I roar. I think I might have had a second orgasm watching her or maybe I just fucking came longer than I ever have before.

I watch as my dick spits cum all over her chest, covering her in my release and scent.

When I finally come down, my entire body feels like my nerve endings are lit up. My body is tingling with the strength of my orgasm.

I feel fucking ruined, and I realize that Christina is quickly taking ownership of my orgasms, just as I’ve taken ownership of hers.

“Now, let’s see what I learned last night,” the little vixen says, before slowly sucking on my cock until I’m hard and ready for her again.

Christina

Once again, I love having this level of control. I love having the power to make this incredible man lose control for me.

It had been a guess on my part to wear the lingerie. But he said he likes to watch, and I assumed that meant he likes looking. I know he watched when his hand was around my throat, so it feels more like Sebastian likes to include all of his senses when he's having sex. I already know he likes smelling my arousal, I know he liked watching as I took him in my mouth, and I know he likes the way I stroke him. So, the first thing I've learned about how to please Sebastian is to include all of his senses in the encounter.

Chapter 10

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 107[755 words]

Chapter 107

Now, I want to see if I'm right about how he wants me to suck on him. He doesn't want hard and rough. He may at another time, but after last night, he wants me to use my mouth to make love to his cock, like I'm practically worshipping it.

The.

So that's what I do. I watch his face as I use my lips, tongue, and throat to worship his cock like it's the most precious thing in the world to I watch as his eyes turn black, as his mouth falls open as he gasps, and as his body starts to shiver so hard I'm afraid he won't be able to stand much longer.

"Christina." My name feels like a prayer, like he's begging me for something, pleading with me. His breathing becomes ragged, and I feel his body tighten. I start to move faster, but he takes my head in my hands.

"No, just like you were," he says, still sounding like he's begging.

I slow my pace again, and return to the slow, torturous love making that he wants.

When he comes, I don't change my movements, and it ends up prolonging his orgasm. I never look away and he doesn't either, watching me with an awe that makes me want to do this for him every night, all night long.

I swallow everything he gives me, licking and sucking him in that slow, loving way that he seems to crave. When I've finally drawn everything I can from him, I slide him out of my mouth.

His eyes fall closed and his entire body continues to shiver. It's an extreme response and I think about how he has cared for me after I've had the incredible orgasms he's given me. So, on instinct, I stand, wrapping my arms around him.

Chapter 107

11

He buries his head in my neck, still panting, his body still quivering, and he holds on to me like I'm a lifeline. And maybe at this moment, I

1. am.

I don't move and I don't say anything. I just hold him while he gets control of himself again. I don't know how long we stand there, but when he finally pulls back, I cup his face in my hands.

"Are you okay, Sebastian?" I ask him.

He looks at me. I swear there's conflict in his eyes.

"I... have no words for what that felt like."

"I understand that. I've been there with you too," I tell him gently. "Do you want to sit down?"

He nods and I wrap my arm around his waist, guiding him to the bed to sit.

"Can I get you some water?" I ask him.

"That would be good," he breathes, still looking like he's out of it. Now I'm not sure if this is a good thing or not. I know I've been out of it nearly every time we're together, but this is so unlike Sebastian. Maybe it's the after-effects of giving up control to someone else. To be so completely vulnerable to someone else.

That thought makes me realize just how much Sebastian must trust me. This would be very hard for anyone, but as an Alpha, it would be nearly impossible. He had to tell me to let go that second night before I finally did it. I've never been able to give up this level of control before him.

I sit beside him, handing him the water and kissing his shoulder. I rub my hand over his back in what I hope is a soothing gesture.

“Why don’t we skip the massage,” I tell him as he finishes the water.

“No. No, I want to do that for you,” he says, still not sounding like himself.

“Sebastian...

“Please, Christina. Let me do that for you.”

“Okay. Do you want more water“?”

He shakes his head and stands. I watch him, making sure he’s steady on his feet.

“Why don’t you lie down. I’ll put my shorts on,” he says, not looking at

1. mc.

“Okay,” I say to him.

I scoot back on the bed and lay on the heating pad. An involuntary moan escapes when I feel the heat soaking into my sore back.

Sebastian turns while pulling on his shorts. “Feel good?”

“Yes,” I tell him.

He grabs a towel and walks over, wiping his cum off my chest. My wolf pouts a little, but I know I’ll still smell like him tomorrow. I meant it when I said I liked smelling like him today.

“Thank you, for that,” he says.

Chapter 107

“You’re welcome,” I say softly. Something has shifted in Sebastian, but I’m not sure what it is. It’s like he’s resurrecting the walls that he’s worked so hard to pull down between us.

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 108[759 words]

Chapter 108

“I’m going to put my hands on you. I’m assuming I have your permission?” he asks.

“Yes,” I say, feeling a bit uncomfortable. The man literally just came in my mouth and now he’s asking if he can put his hands on me?

Something is off.

“Are you sure you’re okay, Sebastian?” I ask him.

“Yes. Still reeling a bit from that orgasm, I guess,” he says. The smile he gives me is forced. Part of me wants to tell him to forget about this but when he starts to carefully rub his hands over my stomach, I moan.

This time, his smile is more genuine. “Does that help?”

“Yes, it does,” I say.

He doesn’t rub my stomach too long. Just long enough that it feels better. He seems to know just how long is enough and not too much. Then he has me roll over and he begins rubbing my lower back. He takes longer here, going deeper into the areas where my back is aching.

The heating pad continues to loosen the muscles that are cramping and sore and by the time he’s done, I barely feel any cramps at all.

“Sebastian, that was incredible,” I tell him.

“Good. It feels like some of the tight muscles have relaxed. Take the heating pad. Use it tonight and hopefully tomorrow morning, you’ll feel up to showing me your plan for defeating the Beast.”

I stand, pulling my robe on.

“And how are you feeling. Sebastian?”

“I’m pretty sure I’m going to sleep like the dead tonight.” he says.

“I’ll see you in the morning then.” I say, getting the heating pad. “Sleep well. Sebastian.”

“You too. Christina.” he says, walking me to the door. “And make sure you get medical clearance before class in the morning.”

I walk to my room and when I look, he's there, watching me like he always does. I wave and he nods. before I step into my room, still feeling like something is off between us.

Christina

The next morning. I wake up feeling better than I did yesterday thanks to Sebastian's massage and the heating pad that I laid on most of the night.

The first thing I do is go to the infirmary and get an x-ray of my hip. The bruising is gone and I'm pretty sure that the bone is healed, but I know Sebastian won't let me ride the Beast today without the clearance.

Once I have it. I decide to go for a run to loosen up my muscles before breakfast and then I shower and get ready

When I walk into the dining hall, I see Sebastian and Alpha James talking quietly in the corner, away from everyone else. Whatever they are talking about must be private, so I don't bother them, going to get my coffee

Chapter 10

Since its Monday, breakfast is more formal and heartier, knowing we have Strength class again this morning.

"Ready for today?" Ezra asks, walking in and getting coffee.

"I am. How about you?" I ask him.

"I'm ready to win some points today," he says, grinning.

"Christina, did you get medical clearance?" Sebastian asks, walking over.

"I did. I'm good to go."

"Good. I'm excited to see what you've come up with today."

"You figured it out?" Tyler asks, walking up.

"I've figured out my own plan of how to defeat the Beast, yes," I tell him.

"Good for you!" he says, and I know he means it. "How about you?" he asks Ezra.

“Oh, I’m coming for you,” he says, and both of them laugh.

“I think we’ll have to draw straws this morning, Seb. Our young Alphas are getting close to defeating the Beast and first to complete gets ten points,” Alpha James says.

“First to complete in each form,” Sebastian clarifies. Damn, I hope Ezra doesn’t try for wolf form. That’s my plan and so far, no one has run the Beast in wolf form. I think the guys expect to be able to use their strength in human form to defeat the obstacles, but I’m more agile than most in wolf form and other than the fire, I’m feeling very confident today.

At breakfast, we draw straws for the Beast. Tyler gets first, then Noah, then me, Ezra, Liam, and finally Logan.

When we walk out to the field, the air feels almost electric with anticipation.

“Welcome to week two of Strength training, young Alphas. Last week,

This week, we’re going to exploit them. Before we start, Tyler, you’re up.” Sebastian we spent time getting to know your weaknesses. Last week, says.

“I challenge Alpha James, human form,” Tyler says.

Alpha James laughs, cracking his neck, and bouncing on his toes.

“You’re going down, kid,” Alpha James teases.

“We’ll see,” Tyler says as they walk to the starting line.

Chapter 109

“You’ve got this Tyler. Kick his ass,” I say to him.

“I plan on it,” he says as he focuses on the Beast.

“Ready? GO!”

) I shout, watching Tyler take off like a shot. He’s over the rolling pads. and on the ladder climb in less than a minute, Alpha James hot on his tail.

I tilt my head, using the time to practice for sensory class. I hear the arrows whizzing and the ‘thunk’ as they hit targets one after another. I smile. Neither man got hit by an arrow. Then it’s fire and I hear it whooshing as both men run through.

When they get to the ice, I hear Alpha James grunt, like he slipped, but he doesn’t fall. I don’t know what’s after that, I but hear the sound of something stretching and what sounds like large bodies swinging through the air, and then something smaller whistles as it flies through the air. I hear Tyler’s ‘YES’ as he gets through the challenge, and I realize he’s almost to the end.

I jog backward, looking up and I see him. The last challenge is in view for all of us, a vertical wall about twenty-five feet high. I watch as both. Tyler and Alpha James race hard for the wall and begin climbing. About halfway up, Alpha James slides and Tyler takes the lead.

“Come on, Tyler! Come on Tyler,” I say under my breath.

“He’s going to do it,” Ezra says excitedly.

Chapter 109

He fights his way up the last six feet and when he rolls over the top, we all begin to cheer. Tyler stands and howls his dominance over the Beast.

On instinct, I lift my head and howl back at him, hearing everyone around me do the same. He punches his fists into the air and when Alpha James makes it to the top, he pulls Tyler into a congratulatory hug.

I look at Ezra. “Starting the day off right!”

“No doubt, although the bastard gets the ten points for getting through the Beast first in human form,” he says then looks at me.

“You’re going in wolf form, aren’t you?”

“Damn, bad luck for me,” he says, knowing I’m going ahead of him.

“You can still defeat Alpha Daniel and get your points,” I tell him.

“Yeah, ten is better than none.

When Tyler gets back, we all congratulate him. Noah is up next, but he gets shot off at the arrows. Then it’s my turn.

Sebastian looks at me expectantly. “I challenge you, Sebastian. Wolf form.”

His smile grows and I hear Alpha James whistle. “First wolf of the semester,” he says.

“Come with me first,” he says to me, gesturing to Alpha Daniel as well.

“The Beast has modifications for the differences in our wolves. When someone wants to go in wolf form, you make the change here,” he shows us where the lever is and as soon as he pulls it, I hear the obstacle course begin to groan and shift. It makes sense, but mentally, I had prepared for the obstacles I knew and how I would defeat them in wolf form. Now, it’s going to be different.

Chapter 109

When we get back to the starting position, I strip and shift.

I hear a whistle behind me. “Damn, Christina. Your wolf is as gorgeous as you are.”

I turn and growl at Liam who raises his hands. “Not flirting, just stating the obvious.”

“He’s right, you do have gorgeous wolf, Christina,” Sebastian says, looking over my wolf form before stripping and shifting.

I look at the first challenge. The rolling pads haven’t changed. In this form though, I’ll only need to step on one pad.

As soon as Alpha Daniel calls the start, I’m racing up the incline and leaping over the pads. I feel them beginning to spin but my wolf is strong enough to push through. Next is the ladder climb. Rather than using a bar, it now seems that I’ll need to get my wolf to climb the bars. I leap and my front paws hit the bottom bar. I pull myself up, getting my back paws under me and then push my heavier body up, carefully climbing up the bars until I get to the top.

The rope bridge is the same, but when I look, the targets are lower, aimed at wolf height, not human height. I leap over the first, stomach crawl under the second and then duck and crawl my way through the rest of them. When I get to the next landing. I’m expecting the fire, but instead it’s the ice challenge, my nemesis.

The Alpha Train - Oh Good 110[749 words]

Sebastian barks at me. I don't need to hear the words to know that he's telling me to just do it. So, I do, realizing instantly that my claws digging into the ice make it easier for me to get across. I yip excitedly as I get to the next landing, but it cuts off when I see the fire. Shit, I need to be really fast so my wolf's fur doesn't catch on fire.

I race across as fast as I can, bracing myself for the final blast of fire. I can feel the heat of the flames and I'm pretty sure my fur is on fire, but as I run through the end of the challenge and onto the platform, I run through a spray of water, drenching my coat. I shake the water off and realize that this is why the ice came first. There's no way I could get across the ice feature while dripping water and the water is necessary to ensure we don't burn alive.

I look at the next challenge. It's a bar swing. One bar to get across to the next platform. If I leap on it, the momentum will make the swing push out and I'll fall. As I try to figure it out, Sebastian races up, leaps, grabbing his bar with his mouth before beginning to swing back and forth.

I don't wait to see if it works, I step back and race forward, grabbing the bar with my teeth and swinging hard, releasing when I'm just about to start the backward swing then looking for the landing. I hit it just right and take off for the next challenge. Behind me, I hear Sebastian scrambling to get on the landing. He must have almost missed it.

This challenge has targets again, and as I look at them, I see the holes are different, narrower than the arrows. I check the launchers and then leap, feeling something graze the fur on my stomach before I hear it sink into the target. I turn and look. A knife.

Chapter 116.

I turn back checking the next target and make my way across, carefully avoiding the knives. When I'm across, I realize there's only one challenge left. The wall.

I run as hard as I can and rather than leaping. I use my claws and the momentum to rush up as high as I can before I feel my paws beginning to slide. I scrape my claws, trying to find anything to grab onto as I hear Sebastian's wolf hit the wall beside mine. He's right behind me.

I hear his claws scrabbling on the wall, just like mine, but I find a spot and pull myself up, my back paws looking for some leverage. When I find it, I push up again and again until I get a paw over the top of the wall.

I can hear Sebastian beside me. I know he's almost to the top, but I refuse to be defeated today, not when I'm so close!

I use my strength and adrenaline and pull myself over the top and turn, seeing Sebastian pulling himself over right behind me.

I howl my excitement to the sky, hearing the answering howls of the others. Just as my howl cuts off, I feel Sebastian's strong arms slide around my wolf's neck.

"Well done, Christina. I knew you could do it."

Sebastian

I could hardly sleep last night. Yeah, I was more relaxed than I can remember being in a long time, physically. But mentally, I'm a wreck.

James noticed first thing when I walked into breakfast, and he pulled me aside.

"You look like shit," he said without preamble.

Chapter 110

I scrubbed my face with my hands, not knowing any better way to say it than to just come out with it.

"Have you ever felt like you were cheating Aimee with Sylvie?"

on

He looked at me a long moment. "Yeah. Or, rather, I used to. She and I talked about it at one point. We both felt like we were cheating on our dead mates, not that it makes any sense. They're not here, but they were our fated mates, our soulmates for life. Their lives just ended too soon, and we were left with this emptiness that we never thought anyone else could fill," he says.

"Until they do," I say.

"Until they do. What happened?"

I told him about sex with Christina. I didn't go into too much detail, just that I never thought it could feel better with anyone than it did with Suzanne, but with Christina ...
